19. Because your heart was tender and you have humbled yourself before the LORD, when you heard what I spoke against this place and against its people (that they should become a desolation and a curse, and have torn your clothes and wept before Me), I have heard you,” says the LORD.
20. “Behold, even so I will gather you to your fathers, and you shall be gathered to your grave in peace. And your eyes shall not see all the evil that I will bring upon this place.”’”

And they brought the king this word again.

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

1. Then the king sent a summons, and they gathered to him all the elders of Judah and of Jerusalem.
2. And the king went up into the house of the LORD. And all the men of Judah and all the people of Jerusalem with him, and the priests and the prophets, and all the people, from the small even to the great. And he read all the words of the book of the covenant which was found in the house of the LORD in their ears.
3. And the king stood by the pillar and made a covenant before the LORD to walk after the LORD and to keep His commandments and His testimonies and His statutes with all his heart and all his soul, to perform the words of this covenant which was written in this book. And all the people stood to the covenant.
4. And the king commanded Hilkiah the high priest, and the priests of the second order, and the doorkeepers, to bring forth out of the temple of the LORD all the vessels which were made for Baal, and for the grove, and for all the host of heaven. And he burned them outside Jerusalem in the fields of Kidron and carried the ashes of them to Bethel.
5. And he removed the idol-worshiping priests, whom the kings of Judah had ordained to burn incense in the high places in the cities of Judah, and in the places around Jerusalem. He also removed those who burned incense to Baal, to the sun, and to the moon, and to the planets, and to all the host of the heavens.
6. And he brought out the Asherah image from the house of the LORD outside Jerusalem to the brook Kidron, and burned it at the brook Kidron, and stamped it to powder, and threw the powder of it upon the graves of the children of the people.
7. And he broke down the houses of the sodomites, which were by the house of the LORD, where the women wove coverings for the grove.
8. And he brought all the priests out of the cities of Judah and defiled the high places where the priests had burned incense, from Geba to Beersheba. And he broke down the high places of the gates which were at the entrance of the gate of Joshua the governor of the city, which were on a man’s left hand at the gate of the city.
9. Nevertheless, the priests of the high places did not come up to the altar of the LORD in Jerusalem, but they ate of the unleavened bread among their brethren.
10. And he defiled Topheth, in the valley of the children of Hinnom, so that no man might make his son or his daughter to pass through the fire to Molech.
11. And he took away the horses which the kings of Judah had given to the sun, at the entering in of the house of the LORD, by the room of Nathan-Melech the officer, which was in the suburbs. And he burned the chariots of the sun with fire.
12. And the altars which were on the top of the upper room of Ahaz, which the kings of Judah had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of the LORD, the king ripped them down from there, and smashed them. And he threw the dust of them into the brook Kidron.
13. And the high places which were before Jerusalem on the right hand of the Mount of Corruption, which Solomon the king of Israel had built for Ashtoreth the abomination of the Sidonians, and for Chemosh the abomination of the Moabites, and for Milcom the abomination of the sons of Ammon, the king defiled.
14. And he broke the images in pieces, and cut down the groves, and filled their places with the bones of men.
15. Moreover the altar which was at Bethel, and the high place which Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who made Israel to sin, had made, both that altar and the high place he broke down, and burned the high place; he stamped it to powder, and burned the groves.
16. Then as Josiah turned, he observed the tombs which were there in the mountain. And he sent and took the bones out of the tombs, and burned them upon the altar and defiled it, according to the word of the Lord which the man of God had proclaimed, who had foretold these things.
17. And he said, “What monument is that which I see?” And the men of the city told him, “It is the grave of the man of God who came from Judah and proclaimed these very things which you have done against the altar of Bethel.”
18. And he said, “Let him alone; let no one move his bones.” And they let his bones alone, with the bones of the prophet who came out of Samaria.
19. And also all the houses of the high places in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to provoke the Lord to anger, Josiah took away, and did to them according to all the works that he had done in Bethel.
20. And upon the altars he killed all the priests of the high places which were there, and burned men’s bones upon them, and returned to Jerusalem.
21. And the king commanded all the people saying, “Prepare the Passover to the Lord your God as it is written in the book of the covenant.”
22. Surely there was not held such a Passover from the days of the judges who judged Israel, nor in all the days of the kings of Israel, nor of the kings of Judah.

23. But in the eighteenth year of King Josiah, this Passover was held to the Lord in Jerusalem.
24. And also Josiah put away those who work with familiar spirits, and the wizards, and the family gods, and the idols, and all the abominations which were seen in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, so that he might perform the words of the law which were written in the book which Hilkiah the priest found in the house of the Lord.
25. And there was no king like him before him, who turned to the Lord with all his heart and with all his soul, and with all his might, according to all the law of Moses. And after him none rose up like him.
26. Nevertheless the Lord did not turn from the heat of His great wrath, with which His anger was kindled against Judah because of all the provocations with which Manasseh had provoked Him.
27. And the Lord said, “I will also remove Judah out of My sight, as I have removed Israel, and will cast off this city Jerusalem which I have chosen, and the house of which I said, ‘My name shall be there.’ ”
28. And the rest of the acts of Josiah, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?
29. In his days Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt went up to the king of Assyria to the river Euphrates. And King Josiah went against him. And Pharaoh Necho killed him at Megiddo when he saw him.
30. And his servants carried his dead body in a chariot from Megiddo, and brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his own tomb. And the people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and anointed him, and made him king in his father’s place.
31. Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign. And he reigned three months in Jerusalem. And his mother’s name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.
32. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers had done.
33. And Pharaoh Necho put him in prison at Riblah in the land of Hamath so that he might not reign in Jerusalem. And he put the land under a tax of a hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold.

34. And Pharaoh Necho made Eliakim the son of Josiah king in place of Josiah his father and changed his name to Jehoiakim. And Pharaoh took Jehoahaz away. And he came to Egypt and died there.

35. And Jehoiakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharaoh. But he taxed the land to give the silver according to Pharaoh’s command. He exacted the silver and the gold from the people of the land, from each one according to his worth, to give it to Pharaoh Necho.

36. Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign. And he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother’s name was Zebudah, the daughter of Pedaiah of Rumah.

37. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his fathers had done.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

1. In his days Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up, and Jehoiakim became his servant three years. Then he turned and rebelled against him.

2. And the LORD sent against him troops of the Chaldees, and bands of the Syrians, and troops of the Moabites, and troops of the Ammonites. And He sent them against Judah to destroy it, according to the word of the LORD which He spoke by His servants the prophets.

3. Surely at the commandment of the LORD this came upon Judah to remove them out of His sight for the sins of Manasseh, according to all that he did;

4. And also for the innocent blood which he shed, for he filled Jerusalem with innocent blood which the LORD would not pardon.

5. And the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah?

6. And Jehoiakim slept with his fathers. And Jehoiachin his son reigned in his place.

7. And the king of Egypt did not come again out of his land any more, for the king of Babylon had taken all that belonged to the king of Egypt from the river of Egypt to the river Euphrates.

8. Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem three months. And his mother’s name was Nehushta, the daughter of Elizaphan of Jerusalem.

9. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father had done.

10. At that time the servants of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up against Jerusalem, and the city was besieged.

11. And Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came against the city, and his servants besieged it.

12. And Jehoiachin the king of Judah surrendered to the king of Babylon, he and his mother, and his servants, and his leaders, and his officers. And the king of Babylon took him captive in the eighth year of his reign.

13. And he carried out from there all the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king’s house, and cut in pieces all the vessels of gold which Solomon king of Israel had made in the temple of the LORD, as the LORD had said.

14. And he carried away all Jerusalem, and all the leaders, and all the mighty men of war, ten thousand captives, and all the craftsmen and smiths. None remained except the poorest sort of the people of the land.

15. And he carried away Jehovahch to Babylon, and the king’s mother, and the king’s wives, and his officers. And the mighty of the land he carried into captivity from Jerusalem to Babylon.

16. And the king of Babylon brought as captives to Babylon all the men of might, seven thousand of them, and a thousand craftsmen and smiths, all who were strong and fit for war.

17. And the king of Babylon made Mattaniah, Jehoiachin’s father’s brother, king in his place. And he changed his name to Zedekiah.

18. Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother’s name was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

19. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.

20. For it was through the anger of the LORD that Zedekiah happened to rebel. against the king of Babylon in Jerusalem and in Judah until God had put them out of His presence.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

1. Now it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came. He and all his army came against Jerusalem, and pitched against it, and built a siege mound all around it.
2. And the city was besieged until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.
3. On the ninth day of the fourth month, when famine was severe in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land,
4. Then the city was breached, and by night all the men of war fled by the way of the gate between two walls, which is by the king’s garden. And the Chaldeans were against the city all round. And the king went the way toward the plain.
5. And the army of the Chaldeans pursued the king and overtook him in the plains of Jericho. And all his army was scattered from him.
6. And they took the king and brought him up to the king of Babylon to Riblah.
7. And they gave judgment upon him.
8. And they killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and bound him with bronze chains and carried him to Babylon.
9. And in the fifth month, on the seventh day of the month (it was the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon) Nebuzaradan, the chief of the executioners, a servant of the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem.
10. And he burned the house of the LORD, and the king’s house, and all the houses of Jerusalem. And every great one’s house he burned with fire.
11. And all the army of the Chaldeans who were with the chief of the executioners broke down the walls of Jerusalem all around.
12. But the chief of the executioners left a few of the poor of the land to be vine-dressers and husbandmen.
13. And the bronze pillars in the house of the LORD, and the bases, and the bronze sea in the house of the LORD, the Chaldeans broke into pieces and carried the bronze to Babylon.
14. And the pots, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the spoons, and all the vessels of bronze with which they ministered, they also took away.
15. And the chief of the executioners took away the censers and the bowls that were all of solid gold, and all of solid silver;
16. Also the two pillars, the one sea, and the bases which Solomon had made for the house of the LORD. The bronze of all these vessels was without weight.
17. The height of the one pillar was eighteen cubits, and the capital upon it was bronze. And the height of the capital was three cubits. And the grating and the pomegranates upon the capital all around were all of bronze. And the second pillar had grating like these.
18. And the chief of the executioners took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three doorkeepers.
19. And he took out of the city a certain officer who was appointed over the men of war, and five men of those who were in the king’s presence, who were found in the city, and the chief scribe of the army (who called up the people of the land together), and sixty men of the people of the land found in the city.
20. And Nebuzaradan the chief of the executioners took these and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah.
21. And the king of Babylon struck them and killed them at Riblah in the land of Hamath. And he exiled Judah from its land.
22. And he made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, ruler over the people who remained in the land of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had left.
23. And all the commanders of the army, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah governor. And they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nathaniah, and Johanan the son of Careah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah the son of a Maachathite, they and their men.
24. And Gedaliah swore to them and to their men, "Do not fear to be the servants of the Chaldeans. Dwell in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you."
25. And it came to pass in the seventh month, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama of the seed of the kingdom, and ten men with him, came and struck Gedaliah, and he died, and also the Jews and the Chaldeans who were with him at Mizpah.
26. And all the people, both small and great, and the commanders of the armies, arose and came to Egypt, for they were afraid of the Chaldeans.

27. And it came to pass in the thirty-seventh year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, Evil-Merodach king of Babylon, in the year that he began to reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah out of prison.
28. And he spoke kindly to him and set his throne above the thrones of the kings who were with him in Babylon.
29. And he changed his prison clothes. And he always ate bread before him all the days of his life.
30. And his allowance was a regular allowance given him from the king, a daily ration for every day, all the days of his life.
1. The vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

2. Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth; for the LORD has spoken, “I have reared and brought up children, but they have rebelled against Me.

3. The ox knows his owner, and the donkey his master’s crib; but Israel does not know Me; My people do not understand.”

4. Ah, sinful nation, a people burdened with iniquity, a seed of evildoers, children who deal corruptly! They have forsaken the LORD; they have provoked the Holy One of Israel to anger; they have gone away backward.

5. Why should you be stricken any more? You will revolt more and more; the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint.

6. From the sole of the foot even to the top of the head there is no soundness in it; only wounds and bruises and putrefying sores; they have not been closed, nor bound up, nor soothed with ointment.

7. Your country is a desolation, your cities are burned with fire. Strangers devour your land right in your very presence, and it is wasted, as overthrown by strangers.

8. And the daughter of Zion is left as a booth in a vineyard, like a hut in a garden of cucumbers, like a besieged city.

9. Except the LORD of hosts had left us a very small remnant, we would have become like Gomorrah; we would have become like the multitude of Sodom, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.

10. Hear the Word of the LORD, rulers of Sodom; give ear to the law of our God, people of Gomorrah.

11. “To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices to Me?” says the LORD; “I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts; and I do not delight in the blood of bulls, or of lambs, or of he-goats.

12. When you come to appear before Me, who has required this at your hand, to trample My courts?

13. Bring no more vain sacrifices; incense is an abomination to Me—new moon and Sabbath, the calling of assemblies; I cannot endure iniquity along with the solemn assembly!

14. Your new moons and your appointed feasts My soul hates; they are a trouble to Me; I am weary to bear them.

15. And when you spread forth your hands, I will hide My eyes from you; yea, when you make many prayers, I will not hear; your hands are full of blood.

16. Wash yourselves, make yourselves clean; put away the evil of your doings from before My eyes; cease to do evil;

17. Learn to do good; seek judgment, reprove the oppressor. Judge the orphan, plead for the widow.

18. Come now, and let us reason together,” says the LORD. “Though your sins are as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they are red like crimson, they shall be like wool.

19. If you are willing and obedient, you shall eat the good of the land;

20. But if you refuse and rebel, you shall be devoured with the sword;” for the mouth of the LORD has spoken it.

21. How has the faithful city become a harlot? It was full of judgment; righteousness lodged in it—but now murderers.

22. Your silver has become dross, your wine mixed with water;

23. Your rulers are rebellious, and companions of thieves; everyone loves a bribe, and is pursuing rewards; they do not judge the orphan, nor does the cause of the widow come before them.

24. And the Lord, the Lord of Hosts, the Mighty One of Israel says, “Alas! I Myself will vent My wrath upon My foes, and avenge Myself of My enemies.

25. And I will turn back My hand upon you, and purge away your dross as with lye, and take away all your tin alloy.

26. And I will restore your judges as at the first, and your counselors as at the beginning; afterwards you shall be called The City of Righteousness, The Faithful City.”

27. Zion shall be redeemed with judgment, and those in her who repent with righteousness.

28. And the downfall of the transgressors and of the sinners shall be together; and those who forsake the LORD shall be consumed,
29. For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which you have desired, and you shall be confounded for the gardens which you have chosen,
30. For you shall be like an oak whose leaf fades, and like a garden that has no water.
31. And the strong shall be like a wick, and the maker of it as a spark, and they shall both burn together, and none shall put them out.

CHAPTER TWO

1. The word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.
2. And it shall come to pass, in the last days the mountain of the LORD'S house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow into it.
3. And many people shall go and say, “Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob. And He will teach us of His ways, and we will walk in His paths.” For out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the Word of the LORD from Jerusalem.
4. And He shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people; and they shall be taught by the Lord, and shall have a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.
5. O house of Jacob, come and let us walk in the light of the LORD.
6. For You have forsaken Your people, the house of Jacob, because they have become full of divinations from the east, and are fortunetellers like the Philistines. And they shake their hands with the children of strangers.
7. And their land is full of silver and gold. There is no end of their treasures and their land is full of horses; neither is there any end of their chariots.
8. And their land is full of idols; they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made.
9. And men will be brought low, and humbled—forgive them not.
10. Enter into the rock and hide in the dust for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of His majesty.
11. The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the pride of men shall be bowed down, and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.
12. For the day of the LORD of hosts shall be upon every proud and haughty one, and upon every exalted one; and they shall be brought low,
13. And it shall be upon all the high and lifted up cedars of Lebanon, and upon all the oaks of Bashan,
14. And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up,
15. And upon every high tower, and upon every fortified wall;
16. And upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant craft.
17. And the pride of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low; and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.
18. And the idols He shall utterly abolish.
19. And they shall go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth for fear of the LORD and for the glory of His majesty, when He arises to shake terribly the earth.
20. In that day a man shall cast his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made each one for himself to worship, to the moles and to the bats;
21. To go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks, for fear of the LORD and for the glory of His majesty, when He arises to shake terribly the earth.
22. Turn away yourselves from such a man, whose breath is in his nostrils; for in what is he to be esteemed?

CHAPTER THREE

1. For behold, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, takes away from Jerusalem and from Judah the stay and the staff, the whole stay of bread and the whole stay of water,
2. The man of might and the man of war, the judge and the prophet, the diviner and the ancient,
3. The captain of fifty, and the honorable man and the adviser, and the cunning charmer and the skillful enchanter.
4. “And I will give young lads to be their princes, and capricious children shall rule over them.
5. And the people shall be crushed, every man by another, and every man by his neighbor; the young shall rise up against the old, and the base against the honorable.”

6. When a man shall take hold of his brother of his father’s house, saying, “You have clothing, you be our ruler, and let this ruin be under your hand;”

7. In that day he shall swear, saying, “I will not be a healer; there is no bread nor a cloak in my house. You shall not make me a ruler of people.”

8. For Jerusalem is staggering and Judah has fallen because their tongue and their doings are against the LORD, to provoke the eyes of His glory.

9. The look of their faces witnesses against them; and they declare their sin like Sodom. They do not hide it! Woe to their soul! For they have rewarded evil to themselves.

10. “Say to the righteous that it shall be well with him; for they shall eat the fruit of their doings.

11. Woe to the wicked! For the evil doing of his hand will be given to him.

12. As for My people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. Oh, My people, those who lead you cause you to err and destroy the way of your paths.”

13. The LORD stands up to plead His case, and stands up to judge the people.

14. The LORD will enter into judgment with the elders of His people, and their kings: “For you have eaten up the vineyard; the spoil of the poor is in your houses.

15. What do you mean? You crush My people and grind the faces of the poor?” says the Lord, God of hosts.

16. And the LORD says, “Because the daughters of Zion are proud, and have walked with stretched out necks and ogling with their eyes, walking and mingling as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet;

17. Therefore the LORD will strike with a scab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and the LORD will uncover their secret parts.”

18. In that day the LORD will take away the beauty of ankle bracelets, and the headbands, and the crescents,

19. The pendants, and the bracelets, and the veils;

20. The headresses, and the leg ornaments, and the sashes, and the boxes of perfume, and the earrings;

21. The rings and nose jewels;

22. The festal apparel and the outer garments; and the mantles, and the purses;

23. The mirrors and the fine linen; and the turbans and the veils.

24. And there shall be, instead of fragrance, rottenness; and instead of a sash, a robe; and instead of well-set hair, baldness; and instead of a rich robe, a wrapping of sackcloth; and branding instead of beauty.

25. Your men shall fall by the sword, and your mighty in the war.

26. And her gates shall lament and mourn; and she shall sit deserted upon the ground.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. And in that day seven women shall take hold of one man, saying, “We will eat our own bread and wear our own clothing; only let us be called by your name. Take away our shame.”

2. In that day shall the Branch of the LORD be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the earth excellent and comely for those who are the survivors of Israel.

3. And it shall come to pass that he who is left in Zion, and he who remains in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even everyone who is written unto life in Jerusalem;

4. When the LORD shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from its midst by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning.

5. And the LORD will create over every dwelling place of Mount Zion, and over her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night; for over all the glory shall be a canopy.

6. And there shall be a tabernacle for shade by day from the heat, and for refuge, and for shelter from storm and rain.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. Now I will sing to my Beloved a song of my Beloved concerning His vineyard. My Beloved has a vineyard in a very fruitful hill.

2. And He dug it up, and cleared it of weeds; and it grew up and became fruitful; and it brought forth grapes.”
stones, and planted it with choice vines, and built a tower in its midst, and hewed out a wine vat in it; and He looked for it to produce grapes. But it produced worthless fruits.

3. “And now, O people of Jerusalem, and men of Judah, I ask you to judge between Me and My vineyard.

4. What more could have been done to My vineyard that I have not done in it? Who knows? I looked for it to yield grapes, but it yielded wild grapes.

5. And now I will tell you what I will do to My vineyard; I will take away its hedge, and it shall be consumed; and break down its wall, and it shall be trampled down;

6. And I will lay it waste; it shall not be pruned nor dug; but briers and thorns shall come up. And I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.”

7. For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah His pleasant plant; and He looked for justice, but behold, bloodshed; for righteousness, but behold, a cry of distress!

8. Woe to those who join house to house, that lay field to field, until there is no place left, and you are made to dwell alone in the midst of the land!

9. The LORD of hosts swore in my ears, “Truly, many houses shall be deserted, even great and fair, without inhabitant.

10. Yea, ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and the seed of a homer shall yield an ephah.”

11. Woe to those who rise up early in the morning to go after strong drink; who continue late into the night while wine inflames them!

12. And the lyre, and the harp, the drum, and pipe, and wine, are at their feasts; but they do not regard the work of the LORD. Yea, they do not see the work of His hands.

13. Therefore My people are gone into exile because they have no knowledge, and their honorable men are famished, and their multitude is dried up with thirst.

14. Therefore the grave has enlarged its appetite, and opened its mouth without limit; and down goes her glory and multitude and brawlers, and he who rejoices in her, shall go down into it.

15. And man is bowed down, and men are brought low, and the eyes of the lofty are humbled.

16. But the LORD of hosts is exalted in judgment, and God, the Holy One, is sanctified in righteousness.

17. Then shall the lambs feed in their own pasture, and the waste places of the fat ones shall strangers eat.

18. Woe to those who draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin with cart ropes;

19. Who say, “Let Him hurry and hasten His work, so that we may see it; and let the purpose of the Holy One of Israel draw near and come, so that we may know!”

20. Woe to those who call evil good and good evil; who put darkness for light and light for darkness; who put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter!

21. Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!

22. Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink:

23. Who justify the wicked for a bribe, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him!

24. Therefore as the fire devours the stubble, and the flame burns up the chaff; their root shall be like rottenness, and their blossoms shall go up like dust because they have cast away the law of the LORD of hosts, and despised the Word of the Holy One of Israel.

25. Therefore, the anger of the LORD is kindled against His people, and He has stretched out His hand against them, and has stricken them; and the hills trembled, and their dead bodies were as filth in the midst of the streets. In all this His anger is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still.

26. And He will lift up a banner to distant nations, and will whistle for them from the ends of the earth; and behold, they shall come with swift speed.

27. None shall be weary nor stumble among them; none shall slumber nor sleep; neither shall the waistcoat of their loins be loosened, nor the thong of their sandals be broken;

28. Whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent; their horses’ hoofs seem like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind.

29. Their roaring shall be like a lion; they shall roar like young lions; for, they shall roar and lay hold of the prey, and carry it away, and none shall deliver it.

30. And in that day they shall roar.
against them like the roaring of the sea; and if one looks to the land, behold darkness! Distress! And the light shall be darkened by its clouds.

CHAPTER SIX

1. In the year that King Uzziah died, I then saw the LORD sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and His train filled the temple.
2. Above it stood the seraphim; each one had six wings; with two he covered his face, and with two he covered his feet, and with two he flew.
3. And one cried to another, and said, “Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts; the whole earth is full of His glory.”
4. And the foundations of the threshold shook at the voice of the one who cried, and the house was filled with smoke.
5. Then I said, “Woe is me! For I am undone; for I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips; for my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts.”
6. Then one of the seraphim flew to me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with tongs from the altar.
7. And he laid it upon my mouth and said, “Lo, this has touched your lips; and your iniquity is taken away, and your sin atoned for.”
8. And I heard the voice of the LORD, saying, “Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?” Then I said, “Here am I; send me!”
9. And He said, “Go, and tell this people, ‘You hear indeed, but do not understand; and you see indeed, but do not perceive.’
10. Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their hearts, and return, and be healed.”
11. Then I said, “LORD, how long?” And He answered, “Until the cities are wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without a man, and the land is ruined—an utter desolation.
12. And until the LORD has removed men far away, and the desolation in the midst of the land is great.
13. But yet in it shall be a tenth, and it shall return and be consumed like the terebinth and like the oak being felled, yet its stump remains; so the holy seed shall be its stump.”

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. And it came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up toward Jerusalem to war against it, but could not overcome it.
2. And it was told to the house of David, saying, “Syria is allied with Ephraim.” And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the woods are moved by the wind.
3. Then the LORD said to Isaiah, “Go out now to meet Ahaz, you and Shear Jashub your son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool on the highway of the Fuller’s Field.
4. And say to him, ‘Be careful and keep calm. Do not fear, nor be timid of heart because of the two tails of these smoking firebrands or because of the fierce anger of Rezin and Syria, and of the son of Remaliah;
5. Because Syria, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah have plotted against you, saying,
6. “Let us go up against Judah and trouble it, and break her for ourselves, and set a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tabel.”
7. Thus says the Lord GOD, “It shall not stand, nor shall it come to pass,
8. For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within sixty-five years Ephraim shall be broken so that it shall not be a people.
9. And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah’s son. If you will not believe, surely you shall not be established.” ‘ ”
10. And the LORD spoke again to Ahaz, saying,
11. “Ask a sign of the LORD your God; ask it either in the depth, or in the height above.”
12. But Ahaz said, “I will not ask, nor will I tempt the LORD.”
13. And he said, “Hear now, O house of David; is it a small thing for you to weary men, but will you weary my God also?
14. Therefore, the LORD Himself shall give you a sign. Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bring forth a Son, and they shall call His name Immanuel.
15. Butter and honey He shall eat until He knows to refuse the evil and choose the good.
16. For before the Child shall know to refuse the evil and choose the good, the land whose two kings you are afraid of shall be forsaken.
17. The LORD shall bring upon you, and upon your people, and upon your father’s house, days that have not come since the days that Ephraim departed from Judah—even the king of Assyria.”
18. And it shall be, in that day the LORD shall shave with a razor—by those who hired are hired, namely, by them beyond the River, by the king of Assyria—the head, and the hair of the feet; and it shall also sweep away the beard.
19. And it shall come to pass, in that day a man shall keep alive a young cow and two sheep;
20. And it shall come to pass, from the plentiful supply of milk they shall give, he shall eat butter; for butter and honey shall everyone eat who is left in the land.
21. And it shall come to pass, in that day every place where there used to be a thousand vines, worth a thousand pieces of silver, it shall even be for briers and thorns.
22. With arrows and with the bow men shall come there because all the land shall become briers and thorns.
23. And all hills which were hoed with the hoe, you shall not come there for fear of briers and thorns; but it shall be for the sending out of the ox, and for the trimming of sheep.

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. And the LORD said to me, “Take a great scroll and write on it in ordinary letters with a man’s pen, ‘Make haste to plunder! Hasten to the prey!’
2. And I will take to Myself faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.”
3. And I went to the prophetess. And she conceived and bore a son. Then the LORD said to me, “Call his name Maher-shalal-Hash-baz.”
4. For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, ‘My father’ and ‘My mother,’ the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be taken away before the king of Assyria.”
5. The LORD spoke to me again saying,
6. “Because this people has refused the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin and Remaliah’s son;
7. Now therefore, behold, the LORD brings upon them the waters of the River, strong and many, even the king of Assyria, and all his glory. And he shall come up over all his channels and go over all his banks.
8. And he shall sweep through Judah, overflowing as he passes through; he shall reach even to the neck. And the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of your land, O Immanuel.
9. Make an uproar, O people, and be shattered in pieces! And give ear, all of you from the far countries of the earth. Gird yourselves and be broken. Gird yourselves and be broken!
10. Take counsel together, and it shall be frustrated. Speak a word, and it shall not stand; for God is with us.”
11. For thus the LORD spoke to me with a strong hand, and warned me against walking in the way of this people, saying,
12. “Do not say, ‘A conspiracy!’ to every thing of which this people says, ‘A conspiracy!’ And do not fear their fear, nor be afraid.
13. The LORD of hosts, Him shall you sanctify, and let Him be your fear, and let Him be your dread.
14. And He shall be a sanctuary for you—but for a stone of stumbling, and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, and for a trap and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.
15. And many among them shall stumble and fall and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.
16. Bind up the testimony, seal the law among My disciples.”
17. And I will wait upon the LORD, Who is hides His face from the house of Jacob; and I will trust in Him.

18. Behold, I and the children whom the LORD has given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from the LORD of hosts, Who dwells in Mount Zion.

19. And when they shall say to you, “Seek unto them that have familiar spirits and to wizards who peep and mutter”—but should not a people seek unto their God? Should the dead be sought on behalf of the living?

20. To the law and to the testimony! If they do not speak according to this Word, it is because there is no light in them.

21. And they shall pass through the land, hard pressed and hungry; and it shall come to pass, that when they shall be hungry, they shall rave and curse their king and their God, and look upward.

22. And they shall look to the land; and behold, trouble and darkness and gloom of anguish! And they shall be driven away into darkness.

CHAPTER NINE

1. Yet there will be no gloom for her who was in anguish, as in the former time. He afflicted the land of Zebulun, and the land of Naphtali; but in the latter time He will glorify the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

2. The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; they who dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them the light has shined.

3. You have multiplied the nation. You have increased their joy. They rejoice before You according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoice when they divide the spoil.

4. For You have broken the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his taskmaster, as in the day of Midian;

5. For every warrior’s boot used in battle, and every garment rolled in blood shall be burning fuel for the fire.

6. For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given; and the government shall be upon His shoulder; and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.

7. Of the increase of His government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and over His kingdom, to order it and to establish it with judgment and with righteousness from henceforth, even forever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will do this.

8. The LORD sent a word against Jacob, and it has fallen upon Israel.

9. And all the people shall know, Ephraim and the people of Samaria, saying in pride and arrogance of heart,

10. “The bricks have fallen down, but we will build with cut stones; the sycamores are cut down, but we will use cedars instead.”

11. And the LORD shall set up the foes of Rezin against him, and spur on his enemies;

12. The Syrians from the east and the Philistines from the west; and they shall devour Israel with an open mouth. For all this His anger is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still.

13. For the people do not turn to Him Who strikes them, nor do they seek the LORD of hosts.

14. And the LORD will cut off from Israel head and tail, branch and rush, in one day.

15. The elder and honorable, he is the head; and the prophet who teaches lies, he is the tail,

16. For the leaders of this people led them astray; and those who are led by them are swallowed up.

17. Therefore the LORD shall not rejoice over their young men, nor shall He have mercy on their orphans and widows; for everyone is ungodly and an evildoer, and every mouth speaks foolishness. In all this His anger is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still.

18. For wickedness burns like the fire; it shall devour the briers and thorns, and shall kindle in the thickets of the forest, and they shall roll upwards like the lifting up of smoke.

19. Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts is the land scorched, and the people shall be as the fuel for the fire; no man shall spare his brother.

20. And they shall snatch on the right hand and still be hungry; and they shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied. Every man shall eat the flesh of his own arm;

21. Manasseh on Ephraim; and Ephraim on Manasseh; and they together shall be against Judah. In all this His anger is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still.

CHAPTER TEN

1. “Woe to those who decree unrighteous edicts, and to those who issue oppressive decrees;
2. To turn aside the needy from judgment, and to steal the right from the poor of My people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the orphans!
3. And what will you do in the day of judgment and destruction, in the day of devastation which shall come from afar? To whom will you flee for help? And where will you leave your wealth?
4. They can do nothing but to cringe among the captives, or fall among the slain.
5. In all this His hand is not turned away, but His hand is stretched out still.
6. I will send him against an ungodly nation, and against the people of My wrath. I will command him to take the plunder, and to strip off the spoil, and to trample them like mud in the streets.
7. Yet he does not plan this, nor does his heart think so, for it is in his heart to destroy and cut off nations not a few;
8. For he says, ‘Are not my commanders all like kings?
10. As my hand has reached to the kingdoms of the idols—and their graven images are greater than Jerusalem’s and Samaria’s—
11. Shall I not do to Jerusalem and her idols as I have done to Samaria and her idols?’"
12. Therefore, it shall come to pass, when the Lord has finished all His work on Mount Zion and on Jerusalem, “I will punish the fruit of the arrogant heart of the king of Assyria and for the haughty look in his eyes.”
13. For he says, “By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom; for I am wise. And I have removed the bounds of the people, and have plundered their treasures, and I have put down the people like a strong man.
14. And my hand has found the riches of the people as a nest; and as one gathers eggs that are left, I have gathered all the earth; and there was none who moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.”
15. Shall the axe boast itself against him who chops with it? Shall the saw magnify itself against him who wields it? As if the rod itself could swing against those who lift it up! As if the staff should lift itself, as if it were not wood!
16. Therefore, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, shall send leanness among his fat ones; and under his glory He shall kindle a burning like the burning of a fire.
17. And the light of Israel shall be as a fire, and His Holy One as a flame; and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one day.
18. And it shall burn up the glory of his forest and of his fruitful field, both soul and body; and they shall be as when a sick one wastes away.
19. And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be so few, that a child might write them down.
20. And it shall come to pass in that day that the remnant of Israel, and those who have escaped of the house of Jacob, shall never again lean upon him who struck them; but lean upon the Lord Who is in truth, the Holy One of Israel.
21. A remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, to the Mighty God;
22. For though Your people Israel are like the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them shall return; a destruction is determined, overflowing with righteousness.
23. For the Lord God of hosts shall make a full end, as ordained, in the midst of all the earth.
24. Therefore thus says the Lord God of hosts, “O My people who dwell in Zion, do not fear Assyria. He shall strike you with a rod, and shall lift up his staff against you, as Egypt did;
25. For yet a little while, and the indignation shall cease, and My anger will be to their destruction.”
26. And the Lord of hosts shall stir up a scourge against him according to the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb; and as His rod was over the sea, so shall He lift it up after the manner of Egypt.
27. And it shall come to pass, in that day his burden shall be taken away from off your shoulder, and his yoke from off your neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of fatness.
28. He has come to Aiath, he has passed to Migron; at Michmash he has stored his baggage;
29. They have gone over the pass; they have bedded down at Geba; Ramah is afraid, Gibeah of Saul has fled.
30. Cry with a shrill voice, O daughter of heaps! Hearken O Laish! respond to her O poor Anathoth.
31. Madmenah wanders; the people of Gebim take refuge.
32. Yet he shall remain in Nob today; he shall shake his hand against the mount of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.
33. Behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, shall shake his hand; for the mountains shall retire, and the little ones shall take refuge.
34. And the L ORD shall set His hand, the second time, to recover the remnant of His people that remains, from Assyria and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Ethiopia, and from Persia, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the coasts of the sea.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. And there shall come forth a shoot out from the stump of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots.
2. And the Spirit of the L ORD shall rest upon Him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the L ORD.
3. And His delight shall be in the fear of the L ORD.
4. But with righteousness He shall judge the poor, and shall reprove with equity for the meek of the earth. And He shall strike the earth with the rod of His mouth, and with the breath of His lips He shall slay the wicked.
5. And righteousness shall be the girdle of His loins, and faithfulness the girdle of His reins.
6. Also the wolf shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid; and the calf and the cub lion and the fatling together; and a little child shall lead them.
7. And the cow and the bear shall feed; their young ones shall lie down together; and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.
8. And the suckling child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the viper’s den.
9. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all My holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the L ORD, as the waters cover the sea.
10. “And in that day there shall be the Root of Jesse standing as a banner for the people; to Him the nations shall seek; and His rest shall be glorious.”
11. And it shall come to pass in that day, the L ORD shall again set His hand, the second time, to recover the remnant of His people that remains, from Assyria and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Ethiopia, and from Persia, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the coasts of the sea.
12. And He shall lift up a banner for the nations, and shall gather the outcasts of Israel and gather together the scattered ones of Judah from the four corners of the earth.
13. And the envy of Ephraim shall depart, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off; Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not trouble Ephraim.
14. But they shall fly upon the shoulders of the Philistines to the west; they shall spoil the sons of the east together; they shall lay their hand upon Edom and Moab; and the children of Ammon shall obey them.
15. And the L ORD shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea; and with His scorching wind He shall shake His hand over the River, and shall strike it into seven streams, so that men can cross over in sandals.
16. And there shall be a highway for the remnant of His people, those left from Assyria; as it was to Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

CHAPTER TWELVE

1. And in that day you shall say, “I will give thanks to You O L ORD; though You were angry with me, Your anger is turned away, and You do comfort me.
2. Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust and not be afraid; for the L ORD God is my strength and my song; He has become my salvation.”
3. And with joy you shall draw water out of the wells of salvation.
4. And in that day you shall say, “Praise the L ORD! Call upon His name; declare His doings among the people, make mention that His name is exalted.
5. Sing to the LORD; for He has done gloriously; this is known in all the earth.
6. Cry out and shout, O inhabitant of Zion; for great is the Holy One of Israel in your midst.”

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. The burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz saw:
2. “Lift up a banner upon the high mountain, exalt the voice to them, wave the hand, so that they may go into the gates of the nobles.
3. I have commanded My holy ones, I have also called My mighty ones for My anger, even those who rejoice in My triumph.”
4. The noise of a multitude in the mountains, as of a great people; a tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations gathered together; the LORD of hosts gathers an army for the battle.
5. They come from a far country, from the end of heaven, the LORD and the Almighty.
6. Howl! For the day of the LORD is at hand; it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty.
7. Therefore, all hands shall be faint, and every man’s heart shall melt;
8. And they shall be afraid. Pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them. They shall be amazed at one another, their faces are like blazing fire.
9. Behold, the day of the LORD comes, and as sheep without a shepherd; each man shall look to his own people, and each one shall flee into his own land.
10. For the stars of the heavens and their constellations shall not give light; the sun shall be darkened in its going forth, and the moon shall not reflect its light.
11. “And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the tyrants.
12. I will make man more scarce than gold; even man more than the fine gold of Ophir.
13. Therefore, I will shake the heavens, and the earth shall move out of its place, in the wrath of the LORD of hosts, and in the day of His fierce anger.
14. And it shall be as a hunted gazelle, and as sheep without a shepherd; each man shall look to his own people, and each one shall flee into his own land.
15. Everyone who is found shall be thrust through; and everyone who is captured shall fall by the sword.
16. And their children shall be dashed to pieces before their eyes; their houses shall be plundered, and their wives raped.
17. Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, who shall not value silver; and they shall not delight in gold.
18. And their bows shall dash the young men to pieces; and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb; their eye shall not spare children.
19. And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the majestic beauty of the Chaldees, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrath.
20. It shall never be inhabited forever, nor shall people dwell in it from generation to generation; nor shall the Arabian pitch his tent there; nor shall the shepherds make their flocks to lie down there.
21. But the wild beasts of the desert shall lie there; and their houses shall be full of howling creatures; and ostriches shall dwell there, and he-goats shall dance there.
22. And hyenas shall cry in their towers, and jackals in their luxuriant palaces. Yea, her time is coming near, and her days shall not be prolonged.”

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

1. For the LORD will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel and set them in their own land; and the stranger shall be joined with them, and they shall cling to the house of Jacob.
2. And the people shall take them and bring them to their place; and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the LORD for servants and handmaids.
3. And they will take them captive whose captives they were, and rule over their oppressors.
4. And it shall come to pass in the day that the LORD shall give you rest from your sorrow, and from your fear, and from the hard bondage which was imposed on you,
5. You shall take up this song against the king of Babylon and say, “How the oppressor has ceased! How his fury has ceased!
5. The LORD has broken the staff of the wicked, the scepter of the rulers
6. Who struck people in wrath, with unceasing blows, ruling the nations in anger, with an unrelenting persecution.
7. All the earth is at rest and is quiet; they break out into singing.
8. Yea, the fir trees rejoice at you, the cedars of Lebanon, saying, ‘Since you have fallen, no woodcutter will come up against us.’
9. Hell from below is excited over you, to meet you at your coming. It stirs up the spirits of the dead for you, even all the chief ones of the earth. It has raised from their thrones all the kings of the nations.
10. All of them shall speak and say to you, ‘Have you become weak as we? Have you become like us?
11. Your pride is brought down to the grave, and the noise of your harps. The maggot is spread under you, and the worms cover you.’
12. How you are fallen from the heavens, O shining star, son of the morning! How you are cut down to the ground, you who made the earth to tremble; who weakened the nations!
13. For you have said in your heart, ‘I will ascend into the heavens, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God; I will also sit upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north.
14. I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the Most High.’
15. Yet you shall be brought down to the grave, to the sides of the pit.
16. Those who see you shall stare and watch you closely, saying, ‘Is this the man who made the earth to tremble; who shook kingdoms;
17. Who made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed its cities; who did not allow his prisoners to go free?’
18. All the kings of the nations, even all of them, lie in glory, every one in his own house.
19. But you are cast out of your grave like a hateful branch, and like the clothing of those who are slain, thrust through with a sword, that go down to the stones of the pit; like a dead body trampled under foot.
20. You shall not be joined with them in burial because you destroyed your land and killed your people; the seed of evildoers shall never be famous.
21. Prepare slaughter for his children because of the iniquity of their fathers, so that they do not rise, nor possess the land, nor fill the face of the world with cities.’
22. ‘For I will rise up against them,’ says the LORD of hosts, “and cut off from Babylon the name and remnant, and children, and grandchildren,” says the LORD.
23. “I will also make it a possession of the hedgehog, and pools of water; and I will sweep it with the broom of destruction,” says the LORD of hosts.
24. The LORD of hosts has sworn, saying, “Surely as I have thought, so it shall come to pass; and as I have purposed, so it shall stand;
25. That I will break Assyria in My land, and upon My mountains, and trample him under foot. Then his yoke shall be removed from them, and his burden shall be taken off their shoulders.
26. This is the purpose that is purposed upon all the earth; and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations,
27. For the LORD of hosts has purposed, and who shall reverse it? And His hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?”
28. This burden was in the year that king Ahaz died:
29. “Rejoice not, O Philistia, all of you, that the rod that struck you is broken, for a viper comes forth from the root of a cockatrice, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent.
30. And the firstborn of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety; and I will kill your root with famine, and he shall slay your survivors.
31. Howl, O gate! Cry, O city! Melt away O Philistia, all of you; for from the north a smoke comes, and there is no straggler in his ranks.”
32. What shall one then answer the messengers of the nation? That the LORD has founded Zion, and in her shall the afflicted of His people take refuge.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

1. The burden of Moab. Because in a night Ar of Moab is laid waste; it is brought to ruin; because in a night Kir of Moab is laid waste; it is brought to ruin.
2. One has gone up to the house, even to Dibon, the high places, to weep. Moab shall howl over Nebo, and over Medeba; baldness shall be on all their heads, every beard cut off.
3. In the streets they shall clothe themselves with sackcloth; on the tops of their houses, and in their streets, everyone shall howl, weeping bitterly.
4. And Heshbon shall cry out, and shall howl, weeping bitterly.
5. Therefore my heart shall cry out for Moab; his fugitives shall flee to Zoar, like a heifer of three years. He goes up the ascent to Luhith with weeping: for in the way of Horonaim they shall raise up a cry of destruction.
6. For the waters of Nimrim shall be desolate; for the grass has withered away and the vegetation fails, there is no green thing.
7. Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, shall they carry away over the Brook of the Willows.
8. For the cry has gone around the border of Moab, its howling even to Eglaim.
9. Therefore Moab shall howl; everyone of Moab shall howl. All of it shall howl for the sweet cakes of Kir Hareseth; surely they are stricken.
10. For Heshbon’s fields and the vine of Sibmah waste away. The lords of the nations have crushed its choice plants, they have come to Jazer, they wander in the wilderness; her branches are stretched out, they have crossed over the sea.
11. On account of this I will weep with the weeping of Jazer, the vine of Sibmah. I will water you with my tears, O Heshbon and Elealeh; for the battle shout has fallen on your fruit and on your harvest.
12. And gladness and joy are taken away out of the plentiful field; and in the vineyards there is no singing and no shouting. No one treads out wine in the presses; I have made their shouting to cease.
13. Therefore my heart shall mourn like a lyre for Moab, and my bowels for Kir Hareseth.
14. But now the LORD has spoken, saying, “Within three years, as the years of a hireling, and the glory of Moab shall be abased with all her great host and the remnant shall be very small and feeble.”

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

1. Send the lambs to the ruler of the land from the rock of the desert to the mount of the daughter of Zion,
2. For it shall be that as a wandering bird cast out of the nest, so shall the daughters of Moab be at the fords of Arnon.
3. “Take counsel, do judgment; make your shadow as the night in the midst of the noonday; hide the outcasts; do not betray the fugitive.
4. Let my outcasts dwell with you, Moab; be a shelter to them from the face of the destroyer; for the extortioner is at an end, the spoiler ceases, the oppressors are consumed out of the land.
5. And in mercy the throne shall be established; and he shall sit upon it in truth in the tabernacle of David, judging and seeking justice, and speeding the cause of righteousness.”

6. We have heard of the pride of Moab; very proud; even of his vanity, and his pride, and his rage; but his boasts shall not be so.
7. Therefore Moab shall howl; everyone of Moab shall howl. All of it shall howl for the sweet cakes of Kir Hareseth; surely they are stricken.
8. For Heshbon’s fields and the vine of Sibmah waste away. The lords of the nations have crushed its choice plants, they have come to Jazer, they wander in the wilderness; her branches are stretched out, they have crossed over the sea.
9. On account of this I will weep with the weeping of Jazer, the vine of Sibmah. I will water you with my tears, O Heshbon and Elealeh; for the battle shout has fallen on your fruit and on your harvest.
10. And gladness and joy are taken away out of the plentiful field; and in the vineyards there is no singing and no shouting. No one treads out wine in the presses; I have made their shouting to cease.
11. Therefore my heart shall mourn like a lyre for Moab, and my bowels for Kir Hareseth.
12. And it shall come to pass when it is seen that Moab is weary on the high place, he shall come to his sacred place to pray; but he shall not prevail.
13. This is the word that the LORD has spoken earlier concerning Moab.
14. But now the LORD has spoken, saying, “Within three years, as the years of a hireling, and the glory of Moab shall be abased with all her great host and the remnant shall be very small and feeble.”

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

1. The burden against Damascus: “Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a heap of ruins.
2. The cities of Aroer are forsaken; now they shall be for flocks; they shall lie down, and no one terrifies them.
3. And the fortress shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the rest of Syria. They shall be as the glory of the children of Israel,” says the LORD of hosts.
4. “And it shall come to pass in that day, the glory of Jacob shall be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh shall become lean.
5. And it shall be as the reaping of the harvest grain—with his arm one reaps the ears. And it shall be as he who gathers ears in the Valley of the Giants.
6. Yet a gleaning of grapes shall be left in it, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three ripe olives in the top of the uppermost branch, four or five in the branches of the fruitful tree,” says the LORD, God of Israel.
7. In that day a man shall look to his Maker, and his eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Israel.
8. And he shall not look to the altars, the work of his hands, nor respect that which his fingers have made, neither the groves or the images.
9. In that day his strong cities shall be like forsaken places in the forest, or like branches, which they left because of the children of Israel; and it will become a desolation.
10. Because you have forgotten the God of your salvation, and have not remembered the Rock of your strength, therefore you shall plant pleasant plants and shall sow it a fresh shoot.
11. In the day of your planting you fence it in; and in the morning you make your seed sprout. But the harvest shall be a heap of boughs in the day of grief and incurable pain.
12. Oh the uproar of many people, who roar like the roaring of the seas; and the rushing of nations who rush on like the rushing of mighty waters!
13. The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters; but He shall reouble them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased like the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like swirling dust before a gale.
14. At evening time, behold, terror! Before the morning, they are not! This is the lot of those who plunder us, and the lot of those who rob us.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

1. Woe to the land of whirring of wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia,
2. Which sends ambassadors by the sea, even in ships of papyrus upon the waters, saying, “Go, swift messengers, to a nation tall and smooth, to a terrifying people from their beginning onwards; a mighty and conquering nation, whose land the rivers have divided!”
3. All people of the world and dwellers upon the earth, you will see when a banner is lifted up on the peaks. And you will hear when the ram’s horn is blown,
4. For thus the LORD said to me, “I will take My rest, and I will look on from My dwelling place, like a clear heat in the sunshine, like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.”
5. For before the harvest, when the bud is perfect, and the sour grape is ripening in the flower, then He will cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks, and take away and cut down the branches.
6. They shall be left together for the birds of the mountains, and for the beasts of the earth; and the birds shall feed upon them all summer, and all the beasts of the earth all winter.
7. In that time shall a present be brought to the LORD of hosts—from a terrifying, tall and smooth people, and from a people terrible from their beginning, a mighty and conquering nation whose land the rivers have divided—to the place of the name of the LORD of hosts, Mount Zion.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

1. The burden against Egypt: Behold, the LORD rides upon a swift cloud and comes into Egypt. And the idols of Egypt shall tremble at His presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in its midst.
2. “And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians; and they shall fight each man against his brother, and each against his neighbor; city against city, kingdom against kingdom.
3. And the spirit of Egypt shall be demoralized in the midst of it, and I will bring his plans to nothing. And they shall seek to idols, and to the enchanters, and to the mediums, and to the familiar spirits.
4. And I will deliver Egypt into the hand of cruel lords; and a fierce king shall rule over them,” says the Lord, the LORD of hosts.
5. And the waters from the sea will dry up, and the river shall be parched and dry.
6. And rivers shall be fouled; the streams of Egypt will languish and dry up; the reed and the rush shall wither.
7. Bare places shall be at the Nile, by the mouth of the Nile, and everything sown by the Nile shall dry up, be driven away, and be no more.

8. The fishermen also shall mourn, and all who drop a hook into the Nile shall wail, and those who spread nets upon the waters shall languish.

9. And the workers in fine flax, and the weavers of white cloth shall be ashamed.

10. And her foundations shall be crushed, and all wage earners shall be grieved in soul.

11. Surely the princes of Zoan are utter fools; the advice of Pharaoh’s wisest advisors is stupid. How do you say to Pharaoh, “I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?”

12. Where are they? Where are your wise men? And let them tell you now, and let them know what the LORD of hosts has purposed against Egypt.

13. The rulers of Zoan have become fools, the rulers of Noph are deceived; they that are the chief of her tribes have caused Egypt to go astray.

14. The LORD has mixed a perverse spirit in its midst; and they have caused Egypt to go astray in all its work, like a drunkard staggers in his vomit.

15. And Egypt shall have no work that the head or tail, branch or rush, may do.

16. In that day Egypt shall be like women; and it shall be afraid and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the LORD of hosts, which He shakes over it.

17. And the land of Judah shall be a terror to Egypt; everyone who mentions it shall be afraid toward it because of the shaking of the hand of the LORD.

18. And Israel and Egypt shall say in that day, ‘Behold, this was our hope to which we fled for help, to be delivered from before the king of Assyria; and how shall we escape?’ ”

CHAPTER TWENTY

1. In the year that Tartan came to Ashdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him, and he fought against Ashdod and took it;

2. At that time the LORD spoke by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, “Go and take the sackcloth off your loins, and take your shoe off your foot.” And he did so, walking naked and barefoot.

3. And the LORD said, “Just as My servant Isaiah has walked naked and barefoot three years, for a sign and wonder upon Egypt and upon Ethiopia;

4. So shall the king of Assyria lead away Egypt’s prisoners, and the Ethiopian exiles, young and old, naked and barefoot, even with uncovered buttoks, to the shame of Egypt.

5. And they shall be afraid and ashamed of Ethiopia their hope, and of Egypt their glory.

6. And the inhabitants of the coastland shall say in that day, ‘Behold, this was our hope to which we fled for help, to be delivered from before the king of Assyria; and how shall we escape?’ ”

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

1. The burden against the Wilderness of the Sea: As tempests in the south pass, it comes from the desert, from a dreadful land.

2. A harsh vision is revealed to me; the deceiver deceives, and the plunderer plunders. Go up, O Elam; besiege, O
6. For thus the LORD has said to me, “Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he sees.”

7. And when he sees a chariot with a pair of horsemen, a chariot of a donkey, and a chariot of a camel, then let him listen, very attentively.

8. And he cried out as a lion, “My LORD, without ceasing, I stand upon the watchtower by day, and I am stationed at my post every night.

9. And, behold, here comes a chariot of a camel, then let him listen, very attentively.

10. O my threshing, and the grain of my bread, the altar of my God, and the place where my bread shall be cut down; for the LORD, God of hosts, the God of Israel, has spoken it.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO

1. The burden against the Valley of Vision. What ails you now, that you have gone up to the housetops?

2. O town full of commotion, O city of tumult and revelry that fills the noisy city, the raucous city. Your slain ones are not slain with the sword, nor dead in battle.

3. All your rulers fled together; they were bound without the bow; all who are found in you are bound together; they have fled afar off.

4. Therefore I said, “Look away from me; I will weep bitterly; do not hurry to comfort me because of the destruction of the daughter of my people.”

5. For it is a day of trouble, and of trembling down, and of perplexity by the Lord GOD of hosts in the Valley of Vision, breaking down the walls, and of crying to the mountain.

6. And Persia carried the quiver with chariots of men and horsemen, and Kir uncovered the shield.

7. And it came to pass, your choicest valleys were full of chariots; and the horsemen surely shall set themselves in order at the gate.

8. And he removed Judah’s covering, and you looked in that day to the armor of the house of the forest.

9. You have seen also the breaks in the city of David, that they are many; and you gathered the waters of the lower pool.

10. And you have counted the houses of Jerusalem, and you have broken down the houses to fortify the wall.

11. You also made a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool; but you have not looked to Him Who has done this, neither have you respect unto Him Who formed it long ago.

12. And on that day the Lord GOD of hosts called for weeping and mourning, and for baldness, and for girding with sackcloth.

13. Then, lo, joy and gladness, slaying oxen and killing sheep, eating flesh and drinking wine, saying, “Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die!”

14. And it was revealed in my ears by the Lord GOD of hosts, “Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you until you die,” says the Lord GOD of hosts.

15. Thus says the Lord GOD of hosts, “Go, go up to this treasurer, to Shebna who is over the house. Say,
16. ‘What do you have here? And whom do you have here, that you have carved out a tomb for yourself here, as one who cuts himself out a tomb on high, who cuts out a habitation for himself in a rock?
17. Behold, the LORD will carry you away with a mighty captivity, and will surely cover you.
18. He will roll you up like a ball and throw you into a large country. There the chariots of your glory shall be, the shame of your lord's house.
19. And I will drive you from your office, and you will be pulled down from your station.
20. And in that day it shall be, even I will call My servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah.
21. And I will clothe him with your robe, and will fasten your girdle on him, and I will give your government into his hand. And he shall be a father to the people of Jerusalem and to the house of Judah.
22. And the key of the house of David I will lay upon his shoulder; so he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open.
23. And I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place; and he shall be for a glorious throne to his father's house.
24. And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the posterity, all small vessels, from the vessels of cups, even to all the vessels of jars.
25. In that day,' says the LORD of hosts, 'the nail that is fastened in the sure place shall be removed, and be cut down, and fall. And the burden that was upon it shall be cut off. The LORD has spoken it.' ”

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

1. The burden against Tyre: Howl, you ships of Tarshish! For it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in. From the land of Chittim it is revealed to them.
2. Be still, inhabitants of the coast, you merchants of Sidon, who pass over the sea. They have filled you.
3. And by great waters, the seed of Shihor and the harvest of the river Nile was her revenue; and she was the mart of nations.
4. Be ashamed, O Sidon; for the sea has spoken, the strength of the sea, saying, ‘I have not travailed nor brought forth children. I have not nourished young men nor raised up virgins.”
5. As the report comes to Egypt, so they shall be grieved at the report of Tyre.
6. Pass over Tarshish. Howl, inhabitants of the coast!
7. Is this your joyous city whose origin is from antiquity, whose feet have taken her to settle in far-off lands.
8. Who has purposed this against Tyre, the bestower of crowns, whose merchants are princes, whose traders are the honorable of the earth?
9. The LORD of hosts has purposed it, to stain the pride of all glory and to bring into contempt all the honorable of the earth.
10. Pass through your land like a river, O daughter of Tarshish; there is no more power to restrain.
11. He stretched out His hand over the sea; He shook kingdoms. The LORD has made a decree against the merchant city, to destroy its strongholds.
12. And He said, “You shall rejoice no more, O oppressed one, virgin daughter of Sidon. Arise, pass over to Chittim; also there you shall have no rest.”
13. Behold the land of the Chaldeans! This is the people which was not. Assyria destined it for wild beasts who live in the desert. They set up their siege towers; they stripped its palaces. They made it a ruin.
14. Howl, ships of Tarshish! For your stronghold is laid waste.
15. And it shall come to pass in that day that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king. At the end of seventy years, it will be as in the song of a harlot to Tyre.
16. “Take a lyre, go about the city, O harlot who has been forgotten; make sweet melody, sing many songs so that you may be remembered.”
17. And it shall come to pass, after the end of seventy years the LORD will visit Tyre, and she shall return to her hire and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth.
18. And her goods and her wages shall be holiness to the LORD. It shall not be treasured nor laid up, for her goods shall be for those who dwell before the LORD, to eat enough, and for choice clothing.
CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

1. Behold, the LORD makes the earth empty and makes it waste, and turns it upside down, and scatters its inhabitants.
2. And as it is with the people, so it shall be with the priest; as with the slave, so with the master; as with the handmaid, so it is with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the creditor, so with the debtor.
3. The earth shall be completely laid waste, and utterly stripped; for the LORD has spoken this word.
4. The earth mourns and languishes; the world withers and languishes; the proud people of the earth wither.
5. And the earth is defiled under its people; because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, and have broken the everlasting covenant.
6. Therefore the curse has devoured the earth, and the earth is broken, yea broken down; the earth is crumbling, yea crumbling to pieces!
7. The new wine mourns, the vine withers, all the merry-hearted sigh.
8. The gladness of tambourines ceases, the noise of those who rejoice ends; the joy of the lyre ceases.
9. They shall not drink wine with a song; for joy is darkened, the mirth in the land has gone.
10. In the city, it is left a desolation, and the gate is stricken with destruction.
11. A crying for wine is in the streets; all joy is darkened, the mirth in the land has gone.
12. In the city, it is left a desolation, and the gate is stricken with destruction.
13. For so it is in the midst of the earth among the people, it shall be like the shaking of an olive tree and as gleanings among the people.
14. They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing for the majesty of the LORD, they shall cry aloud from the sea.
15. Therefore glorify the LORD in the city, the sons of the foreigner to be no city; it shall never be rebuilt.
16. From the ends of the earth we have heard songs, “Glory to the righteous.”
17. Dread and the pit, and the snare are upon you, O inhabitant of the earth.
18. And it shall be, he who flees from the sound of dread shall fall into the pit. And he who comes up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the snare, for the windows from on high are opened, and the foundations of the earth quake.
19. The earth is broken, yea broken down! The earth is crumbling, yea crumbling to pieces! The earth is tottering, yea tottering!
20. Like a drunkard the earth is staggering, yea staggering! And it rocks to and fro like a tree hut! And its transgressions are heavy upon it; and it shall fall and not rise again.
21. And it shall come to pass in that day, the LORD shall punish the host of the high ones that are on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth.
22. And they shall be gathered, as prisoners are gathered in a dungeon. And they shall be shut up in the prison, and after many days they shall be punished.
23. Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun shall be ashamed, for the LORD shall punish the host of the terrible ones.
24. Deceivers deceive one another, all the people of the earth are deceitful.
25. And in this mountain the LORD of hosts shall reign in Mount Zion, and gloriously before His elders.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

1. O LORD, You are my God; I will exalt You, I will praise Your name; for You have done wonderful things; Your counsels of old are faithfulness and truth.
2. For You have made a city a heap; a fortified city into a ruin; a citadel of foreigners to be no city; it shall never be rebuilt.
3. Therefore the strong people glorify You, the city of the terrible nations shall fear You.
4. For You are a stronghold to the poor, a stronghold to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is like a storm against the wall.
5. You shall bring down the noise of foreigners, as the heat in a dry place; even the heat with the shadow of a cloud. The shouting of the terrifying ones shall be brought low.
6. And in this mountain the LORD of hosts shall make a feast of fat things for all the people, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of refined wines on the lees.

7. And He will destroy in this mountain the face of the covering which covers all people, and the veil that is woven over all nations.

8. He will destroy death forever; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from all faces. And He shall take away from all the earth the rebuke of His people, for the Lord has spoken it.

9. And one shall say in that day, “Lo, this is our God. We have waited for Him, and He will save us. This is the Lord; we have waited for Him, we will be glad and rejoice in His salvation.”

10. For the hand of the Lord shall rest in this mountain, and Moab shall be trampled under Him, even as straw is trampled in the dung pit.

11. And He shall spread out His hands in the midst, as he who swims strokes to swim. But He shall bring down their pride together with the skills of their hands.

12. And the fortress of the high fort of your walls He will lay low, bring them down to the ground, even to the dust.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

1. In that day this song shall be sung in the land of Judah: “We have a strong city; He sets up salvation as our walls and banks.

2. Open the gates, so that the righteous nation shall enter in, one that is faithfully keeping truth.

3. You will keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on You; because he trusts in You.

4. Trust in the Lord forever; for God the Lord is the everlasting Rock.

5. For He brings down those who dwell on high; He lays low the lofty city; He lays it low, even to the ground; He brings it even to the dust.

6. The foot shall trample it, even the feet of the poor and the steps of the needy.”

7. The way of the just is uprightness; O Upright One, You make the path of the righteous level.

8. Yea, in the way of Your judgments, O Lord, we have waited for You; for Your name and for Your remembrance is the desire of our soul.

9. With my soul I desired You in the night; yea, with my spirit within me I will seek You earnestly; for when Your judgments are in the earth, the people of the world will learn righteousness.

10. Though favor is shown to the wicked, he will not learn righteousness; even in the land of uprightness he will deal unjustly, and will not behold the majesty of the Lord.

11. LORD, Your hand is lifted up, but they will not see; let them see the zeal you have for your people and be put to shame. Yea, the fire shall devour Your enemies.

12. LORD, You will ordain peace for us; for You also have accomplished all our works in us.

13. O Lord our God, other lords besides You have had the rule over us; but by You only will we make mention of Your name.

14. The dead, they shall not live; the deceased shall not rise. Therefore You have punished and destroyed them, and made all memory of them to perish.

15. You have increased the nation, O Lord, You have increased the nation; You are glorified; You have extended all the borders of the land.

16. LORD, in their trouble they have sought You; they poured out a prayer; Your chastening was upon them.

17. As a woman with child draws near to bear, she is in pain and cries out in her pangs; so have we been in Your sight, O Lord.

18. We conceived; we have been in pain, we gave birth to wind. We have not brought about any salvation in the earth; nor have the people of the world come to life.

19. Your dead ones shall live, together with my dead body they shall arise. Awake and sing, you who dwell in the dust; for your dew is as the dew of lights, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20. Come, my people, enter into your rooms and shut your doors around you; hide for a little moment, until the fury has passed by.

21. For behold, the Lord comes out of His place to punish the people of the earth for their iniquity; the earth also shall reveal her blood, and shall no more cover her dead.
CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN

1. In that day the LORD with His great and fierce and strong sword shall punish the sea monster, the darting serpent, the sea monster, that twisting serpent; and He shall kill the monster in the sea.

2. In that day sing to her, “A delightful vineyard.

3. I the LORD keep it; I will water it every moment; lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day.

4. Fury is not in Me; who would set the briers and thorns against Me in battle? I would step through it; I would burn it at once.

5. Or let them take hold of My strength, that he may make peace with Me; and he shall make peace with Me.”

6. He shall cause those who come from Jacob to take root; Israel shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit.

7. Has He stricken him, as He struck those who struck him? Is he slain according to the slaughter of those slain by Him?

8. By driving her away, You contended with her; by sending her away, You punished her. He removed her by His rough blast, in the day of the east wind.

9. By this therefore shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged; and this is all the fruit of taking away his sin; when he makes all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are beaten in pieces, the groves and sun pillars shall not stand up.

10. Yet the fortified city is desolate and the dwelling forsaken and left like a wilderness; there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down and eat up its branches.

11. When its branches are dried up, they shall be broken off; the women come and set them on fire; for it is a people of no understanding. Therefore their Maker will not have mercy upon them, and He Who formed them will not favor them.

12. And it shall come to pass, in that day the LORD shall thresh from the stream of the river Euphrates to the river of Egypt, and you shall be gathered one by one, O children of Israel.

13. And it shall come to pass, in that day a great ram’s horn shall be blown, and those perishing in the land of Assyria shall come, and the outcasts in the land of Egypt shall come and shall worship the LORD in the holy mountain at Jerusalem.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

1. Woe to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whose glorious beauty is a fading flower which is on the head of the fat valleys of those who are overcome with wine!

2. Behold, the LORD is a mighty and strong one, like a hailstorm, a destroying storm; like a flood of mighty waters overflowing, He casts them down to the earth with the hand.

3. The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim, shall be trampled under foot;

4. And the glorious beauty, on the head of the fat valley, shall be a fading flower, and as the first ripe fruit before summer; which the beholder of it swallows up while it is yet in his hand.

5. In that day the LORD of hosts shall be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, for the remnant of His people,

6. And for a spirit of judgment to him who sits in judgment, and for strength to those who turn back the battle at the gate.

7. But they also stagger through wine, and reel through strong drink. The priest and the prophet stagger through drink; they are confused by wine; they reel through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgment,

8. For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness; no place is clean.

9. “Whom shall He teach knowledge? And whom shall He make to understand doctrine? Those who are weaned from the milk and drawn from the breasts,

10. For precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, there a little;”

11. For with stammering lips and foreign tongue He will speak to this people.

12. To whom He said, “This is the rest He gives to the weary;” and “This is the refreshing,” yet they were not willing to hear.

13. So then the Word of the LORD was to them precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; here a little, there a little; that they might go, and fall backward, and be broken and snared and taken.

14. Therefore hear the Word of the Isaiah 28 - 29

1. “Woe to Ariel, to Ariel, the city where David dwelt! Add year to year; let your cycle of festivals go on. Yet I will distress Ariel, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow; and it shall be to me as Ariel.
2. And I will camp against you all around, and will lay siege against you with a mount, and I will set up siege works against you.
3. And you shall be brought down; you shall speak out of the ground, and your speech shall be low out of the dust, and your voice shall be like a spirit, out of the ground, and your speech shall whisper out of the dust.
4. Moreover the multitude of your enemies shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passes away; yea, it shall be at an instant, suddenly.
5. And you shall be visited by the Lord of hosts; for it is the time of visitaion.
6. You shall be visited by the Lord of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake and great noise, with storm and whirlwind, and the flame of devouring fire.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

1. “Woe to Ariel, to Ariel, the city where David dwelt! Add year to year; let your cycle of festivals go on. Yet I will distress Ariel, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow; and it shall be to me as Ariel.
2. And I will camp against you all around, and will lay siege against you with a mount, and I will set up siege works against you.
3. And you shall be brought down; you shall speak out of the ground, and your speech shall be low out of the dust, and your voice shall be like a spirit, out of the ground, and your speech shall whisper out of the dust.
4. Moreover the multitude of your enemies shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passes away; yea, it shall be at an instant, suddenly.
5. You shall be visited by the Lord of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake and great noise, with storm and whirlwind, and the flame of devouring fire.
7. And the multitude of all the nations who fight against Ariel, even all who fight against her and her stronghold, and who distress her, shall be like a dream of a night vision.
8. It shall even be as when a hungry one dreams, and behold, he eats, but he awakes and his soul is empty; or as when a thirsty man dreams, and behold, he drinks; but he awakes, and his soul is empty; or as when a weary man dreams, and behold, he awakes, and his soul is empty. So shall it be with the multitude of all the nations who fight against Mount Zion.”
9. Be stunned and amazed! Blind your eyes and be blind! They are drunk, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink.
10. For the Lord has poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and has closed your eyes; He has covered the prophets and your rulers, and the seers.

LORD, you scornful men who rule this people in Jerusalem.
15. Because you have said, “We have made a covenant with death, and we have made an agreement with the grave; when the overwhelming rod shall pass through, it shall not come to us; for we have made lies our refuge, and we have hidden ourselves under falsehood.”
16. Therefore, thus says the Lord God, “Behold, I place in Zion a Stone for a foundation, a tried Stone, a precious Cornerstone, a sure Foundation; he who believes shall not be ashamed.
17. Also I will make justice the line, and righteousness the plummet; and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place.
18. And your covenant with death shall be annulled, and your agreement with the grave shall not stand; when the overwhelming scourge shall pass through, then you shall be beaten down.”
19. As often as it passes through, it shall take you; for morning by morning it shall pass over, by day and by night; and it shall be only sheer terror to understand the message.
20. For the bed is shorter than one can stretch himself on, and the cover is narrower than one can wrap himself in;
21. For the Lord shall rise up as in Mount Perazim; He shall be angry as in the valley of Gibeon, so that He may do His work, His strange work; and bring to Mount Perazim; He shall be angry as in
22. Now therefore do not be mockers, lest His act, His strange act.
23. Give ear and hear my voice; hearken, and hear my speech.
24. Does the plowman plow all day to sow? Does he open and break the clods of his ground?
25. When he has made the face of it level, does he not cast out the dill and scatter the cummin? Does he not plant wheat in its place, barley in its plot, and rye in its field?
26. His God teaches and instructs him in the right way;
27. For the dill is not threshed with a threshing instrument, nor is a cart wheel turned upon cummin; but the dill is beaten out with a staff and the cummin with a rod.
28. Grain must be ground to make bread; so one does not go on threshing forever. Though he drives the wheels of his threshing cart over it, his wheels do not crush it.
29. This also comes forth from the Lord of hosts, wonderful is His counsel; and great is His wisdom.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

1. “Woe to Ariel, to Ariel, the city where David dwelt! Add year to year; let your cycle of festivals go on. Yet I will distress Ariel, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow; and it shall be to me as Ariel.
3. And I will camp against you all around, and will lay siege against you with a mount, and I will set up siege works against you.
4. And you shall be brought down; you shall speak out of the ground, and your speech shall be low out of the dust, and your voice shall be like a spirit, out of the ground, and your speech shall whisper out of the dust.
5. Moreover the multitude of your enemies shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passes away; yea, it shall be at an instant, suddenly.
6. You shall be visited by the Lord of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake and great noise, with storm and whirlwind, and the flame of devouring fire.
7. And the multitude of all the nations who fight against Ariel, even all who fight against her and her stronghold, and who distress her, shall be like a dream of a night vision.
8. It shall even be as when a hungry one dreams, and behold, he eats, but he awakes and his soul is empty; or as when a thirsty man dreams, and behold, he drinks; but he awakes, and his soul is empty. So shall it be with the multitude of all the nations who fight against Mount Zion.”
9. Be stunned and amazed! Blind your eyes and be blind! They are drunk, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink.
10. For the Lord has poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and has closed your eyes; He has covered the prophets and your rulers, and the seers.
And the vision of all has become to you like the words of a book that is sealed, which they give to one who is not learned saying, “Please read this,” and he says, “I cannot, for it is sealed.”

12. And the book is delivered to him who is not learned, saying, “Please read this,” and he says, “I am not learned.”

13. And the LORD said, “Because this people draws near Me with their mouth, and with their lips honor Me, but their worship of Me is made up of the traditions of men learned by rote, and their fear toward Me is taught by the commandments of men;

14. Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do again a marvelous work among this people, even a marvelous work and a wonder, for the wisdom of their wise ones shall perish, and the wisdom of their intelligent ones shall vanish.”

15. Woe to those who go deep to hide their purpose from the LORD! And their works are in the dark, and they say, “Who sees us? And who knows us?”

16. Surely, you have turned things upside down! Shall the potter be regarded as the potter’s clay; for shall the work say of him who made it, “He did not make me?” Or shall the thing formed say to him who formed it, “He had no understanding?”

17. Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be counted as a forest?

18. And in that day the deaf shall hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity and darkness.

19. And the meek shall increase their joy in the LORD, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel,

20. For the terrible one is brought to nothing, and the scorner is destroyed, and all that watch for iniquity are cut off;

21. Those who make a man a sinner with a word, and lay a trap for the reproof in the gate, and turn aside the just for a worthless thing;

22. Therefore thus says the LORD, Who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob, “Jacob shall not now be ashamed, nor shall his face now become pale.

23. But when he sees his children, the work of My hands, in his midst, they shall sanctify My name, and sanctify the Holy one of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel.

24 Those who erred in spirit shall come to understanding, and those who murmured shall learn instruction.”

CHAPTER THIRTY

1. “Woe to the rebellious children,” says the LORD, “who carry out a plan, but not of Me; and who form an alliance, but not of My Spirit, that they may add sin to sin;

2. Those who set out to go down to Egypt and have not asked at My mouth; to take refuge in the stronghold of Pharaoh and to seek shelter in the shadow of Egypt!

3. Therefore the strength of Pharaoh shall be your shame, and the shelter “of protection” in the shadow of Egypt shall be your curse,

4. For his rulers were at Zoan, and his ambassadors came to Hanes.

5. They were all ashamed of a people who could not profit them, nor be a help nor gain, but a shame and also a reproach.”

6. The burden concerning the beasts of the South. Through the land of trouble and woe, the lioness and the lion are from there; the viper, and the fiery flying serpent. They will carry their riches upon the shoulders of young donkeys, and their treasures upon the humps of camels, to a people that cannot profit;

7. For the Egyptians shall help in vain, and to no purpose: therefore I have called her Rahab, “Their strength is to do nothing.”

8. Now go, write it before them in a tablet, and note it in a book, so that it may be for the time to come forever and ever,

9. That this is a rebellious people, lying children. They are children who will not hear the law of the LORD;

10. Who say to the seers, “See not,” and to the prophets, “Do not prophesy to us right things, speak to us smooth things, prophesy illusions;

11. Go out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us.”

12. Therefore thus says the Holy One of Israel, “Because you have despised this word, and trust in oppression and perserverence, and rely on them;

13. Therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking comes suddenly, in an instant.
14. And He shall break it as the breaking of the potters’ vessel that is smashed in pieces. He shall not spare, so that there shall not be found in the fragments a shard to take fire from the hearth, or to take water out of the pit.”
15. For thus says the Lord GOD, the Holy
One of Israel, “In returning and rest you shall be saved; and in quietness and hope shall be your strength.” But you were not willing.
16. And you said, “No; for we will flee upon horses.” Therefore you shall flee.
And you said, “We will ride upon the swift;” therefore those who pursue you shall be swift.
17. One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one; at the rebuke of five you shall be swift; therefore those who pursue you shall be saved; and in quietness and hope shall be your strength.”
18. And therefore will the L ORD wait, upon a mountain, and as a sign on a hill.
Therefore you shall flee.
19. For, O people who dwell in Zion at Jerusalem, you shall weep no more; He shall heal the stroke of their wound.
20. And though the L ORD gives you the bread of adversity and the water of afflic-tion, yet your teachers shall not be removed into a corner any more, but your eyes shall see your teachers.
21. And your ears shall hear a word behind you, saying, “This is the way, walk in it,” when you turn to the right hand and when you turn to the left.
22. You shall also defile the covering of your graven images of silver, and the ornament of your molten images of gold.
You shall cast them away like a menstru-ous cloth. You shall say to it, “Get away.”
23. Then He shall give the rain for your seed, with which you sow the ground.
And the bread of the produce of the earth also shall be fat and plentiful. In that day your cattle shall feed in large pastures.
24. Also the oxen and the young donkeys that plow the ground shall eat clean fod-er, which has been winnowed with the shovel and with the fork.
25. And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers, streams of waters in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.
26. And the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the L ORD binds up the bruise of His people and heals the stroke of their wound.
27. Behold, the name of the L ORD comes from far, burning with His anger, and in thick uplifting of smoke; His lips are full of fury, and His tongue like a devouring fire.
28. And like an overflowing stream, His breath shall reach to the middle of the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity. And a bridle will be in the jaws of the people, causing them to go astray.
29. You shall have a song, as in the keeping of a holy feast night; and gladness of heart, as when one goes with a pipe to come into the mountain of the L ORD, to the Mighty One of Israel.
30. And the L ORD shall cause His glorious voice to be heard, and the bringing down of His arm shall be seen with raging anger and the flame of a devouring fire, a cloudburst and storm and hailstones, 31. For through the voice of the L ORD, the Assyrian shall be dismayed with the rod which with which He smote.
32. And in every place which the ordained staff shall pass, which the L ORD shall lay upon him, it shall be with tambourines★ and lyres; in battles of shaking He will fight with them,
33. For Tophet is ordained of old; yea, for the king it is prepared. He has made it deep and large. He makes it great with fire and wood. The breath of the L ORD kindles it, like a torrent of brimstone.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

1. Woe to those who go down to Egypt for help, and rely on horses and trust in chariots because they are many; and in horsemen because they are so very strong, but they do not look to the Holy One of Israel, nor do they seek the
L ORD!
2. Yet He also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back His words, but will arise against the house of evildoers and against the help of those who work lawlessness.

3. The Egyptians are men, and not God; and their horses are flesh, and not Spirit. When the LORD shall stretch out His hand, both he who helps shall stumble, and he who is helped shall fall down, and they shall all perish together.
4. For thus has the LORD spoken to me, “As the lion roars, even the young lion on his prey, though a multitude of shepherds are gathered against him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor fret himself because of their noise. So the LORD of hosts shall come down to fight on Mount Zion, and upon its hill.
5. As hovering birds, the LORD of hosts will defend Jerusalem; also defending, He will deliver it; and passing over He will rescue it.”
6. Turn to Him against Whom the children of Israel have deeply revolted.
7. For in that day every man shall reject his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your hands have made for yourselves—for sin.
8. “Then Assyria shall fall with the sword—not of a man; and the sword, not of mankind—and it shall devour him, for he shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall become tributary.
9. And his stronghold will fall by reason of terror and his rulers shall be afraid of the banner,” says the LORD, Whose fire is in Zion, and His furnace in Jerusalem.

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO
1. Behold, a king shall reign in righteousness, and rulers shall rule in justice.
2. And a man shall be as a hiding place from the wind, and a shelter from the tempestuous storm, like streams of water in a dry place, like the shadow of a great rock in a weary land.
3. And the eyes of those who see shall not be dim, and the ears of those who hear shall listen.
4. And the heart of the rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of those who stutter shall be ready to speak plainly.
5. For the vile will speak folly, and his heart will work iniquity, to practice hypocrisy and to speak error against the LORD, to make the soul of the hungry empty, and he will take away the drink of the thirsty.
7. Also the weapons of the vile are evil; he thinks of wicked ways to destroy the poor with lying words, even when the needy speaks right.
8. But the liberal thinks liberal things; and by liberal things he shall stand.
9. Rise up, you women who are at ease; hear my voice, careless daughters; listen to my speech.
10. After a year and some days you shall be troubled, comatose women; for the vintage shall fail, the gathering shall come as nothing at all.
11. Tremble, you women who are at ease; be troubled, careless ones; strip yourselves and make yourselves bare, and bind sackcloth upon your loins.
12. They shall smite upon their breasts, for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine.
13. For upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers; yea, even upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city.
14. Because the palace shall be deserted, the multitude of the city shall be forsaken; instead the mound and tower shall be for dens forever, a joy of wild donkeys, a pasture of flocks.
15. Until the Spirit is poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness becomes a fruitful field, and the fruitful field is thought to be a forest.
16. Then justice shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitful field.
17. And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the result of righteousness shall be quietness and confidence forever.
18. And my people shall dwell in a peaceable home, and in secure dwellings and quiet resting places.
19. The hail shall flatten the forest;★ the city shall be razed to the ground.★★
20. Blessed are you who sow beside all waters, who send out freely the feet of the ox and the donkey.

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE
1. Woe to the destroyer, and you who have not been destroyed; and to the treacherous one, for they have not dealt treacherously with you. When you stop destroying, you shall be destroyed. When you stop dealing treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with you.
2. O LORD, be gracious to us; we have waited for You; be their arm every morning; our salvation also in the time of trouble.
3. At the noise of the tumult the people fled; at the lifting up of Yourself the nations were scattered.
4. And your spoil shall be gathered as the stripping locust gathert; as the running to and fro of locusts they shall run upon them.
5. The LORD is exalted, for He dwells on high. He has filled Zion with justice and righteousness.
6. And wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of your times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the LORD is his treasure.
7. Behold, their mighty ones shall cry outside; the messengers of peace shall weep bitterly.
8. The highways lie waste, the traveler ceases. He has broken the covenant. He has despised the cities. He cared for no man.
9. The earth mourns and languishes. Lebanon is ashamed; Sharon withers away like a wilderness; Bashan and Carmel are shaking off their leaves.
10. “Now I will arise,” says the LORD; “Now I will be exalted, now I will lift up Myself. You shall conceive chaff, you shall bring out stubble; Your breath is like a fire that shall devour you.
11. And the people shall be like the burnings of lime; like thorns cut down, they shall be burned in the fire.
12. You who are far off, hear what I have done; and you who are near, acknowledge My might.”
13. The sinners in Zion are afraid; terror has seized the ungodly. “Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? Who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?”
14. He who walks-righteously and speaks uprightly; he who despises the gain of oppressions, who shakes his hands free from holding bribes, who stops his ear from hearing of blood, and shuts his eyes from looking upon evil;
15. He shall dwell on high; his refuge shall be the strongholds of rocks; bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure.
16. Your eyes shall see the king in his beauty; they shall behold the land that is very far off.
17. Your heart shall muse on the terror.
18. Where is the scribe? Where is the one who weighed? Where is the one who counted the towers?”
19. You shall no longer see a fierce people, a people of a deeper speech than you can understand; of a foreign tongue that no one understands.
20. Look upon Zion, the city of our holy gatherings; your eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet home, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down; not one of its stakes shall ever be removed, nor shall any of its cords be broken.
21. But there the glorious LORD will be to us a place of broad rivers and streams, in which no galley with oars shall go, nor shall a mighty ship pass by it.
22. For the LORD is our Judge, the LORD is our Lawgiver, the LORD is our King; He will save us.
23. Your ropes are loosened, they do not hold the base of the mast; they could not spread the sail. Then the prey of a great spoil shall be divided; the same take the prey.
24. And the inhabitant shall not say, “I am sick;” the people who dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR
1. Come near, you nations, to hear; and, you people, hearken; let the earth hear, and its fullness; the world, and its offspring.
2. For the anger of the LORD is upon all nations, and His fury upon all their armies. He has completely destroyed them, He has delivered them to the slaughter.
3. Also their dead shall be thrown out, and their stink shall come up out of their dead bodies, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood.
4. And all the host of the heavens shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled up like a scroll; and all their host shall fall down, as a leaf falls off from the vine, and as the falling fig from the fig tree.
5. “For My sword is bathed in the heavens. Behold, it shall come down upon Edom, and upon the people of My curse for judgment.
6. The sword of the LORD is filled with blood; it is made fat with fatness, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams; for the LORD has a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.
7. And the wild oxen shall come down with them, and the young bullocks with the bulls; and their land shall be soaked with blood, and their dust shall be greased with their fat;”
8. For it is the day of the LORD'S vengeance, the year to repay for the fighting against Zion.
9. And its streams shall be turned into pitch, and its dust to brimstone, and its land shall become burning pitch.
10. It shall not be put out night or day; its smoke shall go up forever. From generation to generation it shall lie waste; none passes through it forever and forever.
11. But the pelican and the bittern shall possess it; the owl also, and the raven, shall dwell in it. And He shall stretch out upon it the line of confusion, and the stones of emptiness.
12. As for her nobles, none shall be there to be called to the kingdom, and all her princes shall be nothing.
13. And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and thistles in its fortresses; and it shall be a home of jackals and a court for owls.
14. The wild beasts of the desert shall also meet with the howling beasts; and the shaggy goat shall cry to his fellow. The night creature also shall rest there, and find for herself a place of rest.
15. There the snake shall nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow; there shall the vultures also be gathered, every one with her mate.
16. Seek out of the book of the LORD, and read; not one of these will be missing, none shall lack its mate; for His mouth has commanded, and His Spirit has gathered them.
17. And He has cast the lot for them, and His hand has divided it to them by line; they shall possess it forever, from generation to generation they shall dwell in it.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE
1. The wilderness and the desert shall be glad and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose.
2. It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing; the glory of Lebanon shall be given to it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, they shall see the glory of the LORD and the majesty of our God.
3. Make the weak hands strong and make the feeble knees sure.
4. Say to those of a fearful heart, “Be strong, fear not; behold, your God will come with vengeance, with the full recompense of God. He will come and save you.”
5. Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped.
6. Then the lame shall leap like a deer, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing; for in the wilderness waters shall break out, and streams in the desert.
7. And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land shall become springs of water in the home of jackals, in its lair, it shall be a place for the reed and rush.
8. And a highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The Way of Holiness. The unclean shall not pass over it. But it will be for him who walks in that way, but fools, shall not err in it.
9. No lion shall be there, nor any beast of prey shall go up on it, they shall not be found there. But the redeemed shall walk there.
10. And the ransomed of the LORD shall return and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX
1. And it came to pass in the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fortified cities of Judah and took them.
2. And the king of Assyria sent the chief field commander from Lachish to Jerusalem, to King Hezekiah with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the Fuller’s Field.
3. Then Eliakim, Hilkiah’s son, who was over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and Asaph’s son Joah, the recorder, came out to him.
4. And the chief field commander said to them, “Say now to Hezekiah, 'Thus says the great king, the king of Assyria, 'What hope is this in which you trust?'
5. I say, 'You claim to have counsel and mastery for war, but they are only words.’ Now, in whom do you trust, that you rebel against me?
6. Lo, you trust in the staff of this broken reed, on Egypt; on which, if a man lean on it, it will go into his hand and pierce it. So is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who trust in him.
7. But if you say to me, ‘We trust in the LORD our God;’ is it not He Whose high places and altars Hezekiah has taken away, and said to Judah and Jerusalem, ‘You shall worship before this altar’?
8. Now then, please exchange pledges with my master the king of Assyria, and I will give you two thousand horses if you are able on your part to set riders upon them for you.
9. How then will you turn away the face of one commander of the least of my master’s servants, and put your trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?
10. Have I now come up without the LORD against this land to destroy it? The LORD said to me, ‘Go up against this land and destroy it. ’
11. And Eliakim and Shebna and Joah said to the chief field commander, “Please speak to your servants in Aramaic, for we understand it. But do not speak to us in the Jews’ language in the hearing of the people on the wall.”
12. But the chief field commander said, “Has my master sent me only to your master and to you to speak these words, and not to the men who sit upon the wall—who will yet eat their own dung and drink their own urine with you?”
13. Then the chief field commander stood and cried with a loud voice in the Jews’ language, and said, “Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.
14. Thus says the king, ‘Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, for he shall not be able to deliver you.
15. Nor let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, ‘The LORD will surely deliver us; this city shall not be delivered into the hands of the king of Assyria.’ ”
16. Do not hearken to Hezekiah; for thus says the king of Assyria, ‘Make peace with me and come out to me; and let everyone eat of his vine, and everyone of his fig tree, and everyone drink the waters of his own cistern,
17. Until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.
18. Let not Hezekiah mislead you, saying, ‘The LORD will deliver us.’ Has any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?
19. Where are the gods of Hamath and Arphad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? And when have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?
20. Who among all the gods of these lands have delivered their land out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?”
21. But they were silent and did not answer him a word, for the king’s command was, “Do not answer him.”
22. Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes torn and told him the words of the chief field commander.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN
1. And it came to pass when King Hezekiah heard, he tore his clothes and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD.
2. And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests covered with sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz.
3. And they said to him, “Thus says Hezekiah, ‘This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of blasphemy! For the children have come to the birth, but there is no strength to bring forth.
4. It may be that the LORD your God will hear the words of the chief field commander, whom his master the king of Assyria has sent to reproach the living God, and will reprove the words which the LORD your God has heard. Therefore, lift up your prayer for the remnant that is left.’ ”
5. So the servants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.
6. And Isaiah said to them, “Thus you shall say to your master, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Do not be afraid of the words which you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed Me.
7. Behold, I will put a spirit in him, and he shall hear a rumor and return to his own land. And I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.”’
8. So the chief field commander returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah, for he had heard that he had departed from Lachish.
9. And he heard concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, “He has come out to war against you.” And he heard and sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,
10. “Thus you shall say to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, ‘Do not let your God, in Whom you trust, deceive you, saying, “Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.”’
11. Behold, you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands by completely destroying them. And shall you be delivered?
12. Have the gods of the nations delivered those whom my fathers have destroyed: Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden who were in Telassar?
13. Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arphad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah?”
14. And Hezekiah received the letter from the courier’s hand, and read it. And Hezekiah went up into the house of the LORD and spread it before the LORD.
15. And Hezekiah prayed to the LORD, saying,
16. “O LORD of hosts, God of Israel, Who dwells between the cherubim, You are God, You alone of all the kingdoms of the earth. You have made the heavens and the earth.
17. Bow down Your ear, O LORD, and hear; open Your eyes, O LORD, and see; and hear all the words of Sennacherib which he has sent to mock the living God.
18. Truly, O LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the countries and their lands,
19. And have cast their gods into the fire, for they were no gods, but the work of men’s hands, wood and stone; so they have destroyed them.
20. And now, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, so that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that You are the LORD, You alone,”
21. And Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, “Thus says the LORD, God of Israel, ‘Because you have prayed to Me against Sennacherib king of Assyria,
22. This is the word which the LORD has spoken concerning him, “The virgin daughter of Zion has despised you and laughed you to scorn; the daughter of Jerusalem has shaken her head at you.
23. Whom have you mocked and blasphemed? And against Whom have you raised your voice and lifted up your eyes on high? Even against the Holy One of Israel.
24. By your servants you have mocked the LORD and have said, ‘By my many chariots I have come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon; and I will cut down the tall cedars of it, and its choice fir trees; and I will go to its greatest height, the finest of its forests.
25. I have dug and drunk water; and with the sole of my feet I have dried up all the streams of Egypt.’
26. Have you not heard from long ago how I made it? From ancient times, even how I have formed it? Now I have brought it to pass that you should lay waste fortified cities into ruinous heaps.
27. And their inhabitants were of little power—dismayed and ashamed. They were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the housetops, even grain blasted before it has risen.
28. But I know your dwelling place, and your going out, and your coming in, and your rage against Me.
29. Because of your raging against Me, and your arrogance has come up into My ears, therefore I will put My hook in your nose, and My bridle in your lips, and I will turn you back by the way which you came.”
30. And this shall be the sign to you: You shall eat self-sown grain this year; and the second year that which springs of the same; and in the third year you shall sow, and reap, and plant vineyards and eat the fruit of them.
31. The remnant that has escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward and bear fruit upward;
32. For out of Jerusalem shall go a remnant, and survivors out of Mount Zion; the zeal of the LORD of hosts shall perform this.
33. Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the king of Assyria, ‘He shall not come into this city nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with sword, nor cast a bank against it. 34. By the way that he came, by the same way he shall return, and shall not come into this city,’ says the LORD.

35. ‘For I will defend this city to save it, for My own sake and for My servant David’s sake.’ ”

36. Then the angel of the LORD went out and struck a hundred and eighty-five thousand in the camp of Assyria. And they rose early in the morning, and behold! They were all dead corpses.

37. And Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.

38. And it came to pass as he was worshiping in the house of Nisroch his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons struck him with the sword. And they escaped into the land of Ararat; and Esarhaddon his son reigned in his place.

CHAPTER THIRTY-EIGHT

1. In those days Hezekiah was sick to death. And Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, came to him and said to him, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Set your house in order, for you shall die and not live.’ ”

2. Then Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall, and prayed to the LORD,

3. And said, “Remember now, O LORD, I beseech You, how I have walked before You in truth and with a whole heart, and have done that which is good in Your sight.” And Hezekiah wept with a great weeping.

4. Then came the Word of the LORD to Isaiah, saying,

5. “Go and say to Hezekiah, ‘Thus says the LORD, the God of David your father, “I have heard your prayer, I have seen your tears; behold, I will add to your days fifteen years. And I will deliver you and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria. And I will defend this city. 7. And this shall be the sign to you from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that He has spoken: 8. Behold, I will bring again the shadow of the sun dial, which has gone down in the sun dial of Ahaz, ten degrees backward.”’ ” So the sun returned ten degrees, by which degrees it had gone down.

9. The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick and had recovered from his sickness:

10. I said in the cutting off of my days, “I shall go to the gates of the grave; I am deprived of the rest of my years.”

11. I said, “I shall not see the LORD, the LORD in the land of the living; I shall look upon man no longer with the people of the world.

12. My dwelling is plucked up and carried away from me like a shepherd’s tent; I have rolled up my life like a weaver; He will cut me off from the loom; from day even to night You will make an end of me.

13. I waited until morning, but, as a lion, so He breaks all my bones; from day even until night You make an end of me.

14. Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter; I did mourn as a dove: my eyes fail with looking upward: O LORD, I am oppressed; be a surety for me.

15. What shall I say? He has spoken to me, and He Himself has acted; I shall go softly all my years in the bitterness of my soul.

16. O LORD, by these things men live, and in all these is the life of my spirit; so You will recover me, and make me to live.

17. Behold, I had great bitterness for peace; but You have in love delivered my soul from the pit of corruption. You have cast all my sins behind Your back;

18. For the grave cannot praise You, death cannot rejoice in You; they who go down into the pit cannot hope for Your truth.

19. The living, the living, he shall praise You, as I do this day; the father shall make Your truth known to the children,

20. For the LORD will save me; and we will sing on the stringed instruments all the days of our life in the house of the LORD.”

21. And Isaiah had said, “Let them take a cake of figs and apply it as a poultice upon the boil, and he shall recover.”

22. And Hezekiah had said, “What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?”
CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE

1. At that time Merodach-Baladan, the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah; for he had heard that he had been sick, and had recovered.

2. And Hezekiah rejoiced over them, and let them see the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armor, and all that was found in his treasures. There was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdom that Hezekiah did not let them see.

3. Then Isaiah the prophet came to King Hezekiah, and said to him, "What did these men say? And where did they come from to you?" And Hezekiah said, "They have come from a far country to me, from Babylon."

4. Then he said, "What have they seen in your house?" And Hezekiah answered, "All that is in my house they have seen; there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shown them."

5. Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, "Hear the Word of the LORD of hosts.

6. 'Behold, the days come when all that is in your house, and that which your fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon. Nothing shall be left,' says the LORD.

7. 'And of your sons which shall issue from you, which you shall beget, they shall take away; and they shall be officials in the palace of the king of Babylon.'"

8. Then Hezekiah said to Isaiah, "Good is the word of the LORD which you have spoken." And he said, "For at least there shall be peace and truth in my days."

CHAPTER FORTY

2. "Speak comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned; for she has received of the LORD'S hand double for all her sins."

3. A voice is calling out in the wilderness, "Prepare the way of the LORD, make straight in the desert a highway for our God.

4. Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the crooked places shall be made straight, and the rough places plain; 5. And the glory of the LORD shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of the LORD has spoken.

6. A voice says, "Cry!" And he said, "What shall I cry?" "All flesh is grass, and all the beauty of it is as the flower of the field.

7. The grass withers, the flower fades because the breath of the LORD blows upon it; surely the people are grass.

8. The grass withers, the flower fades; but the Word of our God shall stand forever."

9. Go up for yourself on the high mountain; O you that bring good tidings to Zion. Lift up your voice with strength, O you who tell good tidings to Jerusalem; lift up, do not be afraid. Say to the cities of Judah, "Behold your God!"

10. Behold, the Lord GOD will come with a strong hand, and His arm shall rule for Him; behold, His reward is with Him, and His work before Him.

11. He shall feed His flock like a shepherd; He shall gather the lambs with His arm, and carry them in His bosom, and shall gently lead those with young.

12. Who has measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out the heavens with a span? And who has comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance?

13. Who has directed the Spirit of the LORD, and who was His counselor that he might instruct Him?

14. With whom did He take counsel, and who instructed Him and taught Him in the path of judgment, and taught Him knowledge, and made known the way of understanding to Him?

15. Behold, the nations are nothing; and they are counted by Him as less than nothing, and vanity.

16. And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts of it sufficient for a burnt offering.

17. All nations before Him are nothing; and they are counted by Him as less than nothing, and vanity.

18. To whom then will you compare
CHAPTER FORTY-ONE

1. “Listen to Me in silence, O isles; let the people renew their strength; let them come near; then let them speak; let us come near together for judgment.

2. Who raised up the righteous one from the east, at whose steps victory attends? Who gives the nations before him, and made him to rule over kings? His sword makes them as the dust, his bow as wind-blown stubble.

3. He pursued them; he passed on safely; even by the way that he had not gone with his feet.

4. Who has planned and done it, calling forth the generations from the beginning? ‘I, THE LORD, AM THE FIRST AND THE LAST; I AM HE.’ ”

5. The isles saw and feared; the ends of the earth were afraid, and drew near, and came.

6. They helped everyone his neighbor, and said to his brother, “Be of good courage.”

7. So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smooths with the hammer and him that strikes the anvil, saying of the soldering, “It is good;” and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.

8. “But you, Israel, are My servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham, My friend;

9. Whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called you from its uttermost parts. And I said to you, ‘You are My servant; I have chosen you, and have not cast you away.

10. Do not fear; for I am with you; be not dismayed; for I am your God. I will strengthen you; yea, I will help you; yea, I will uphold you with the right hand of My righteousness.’

11. Behold, all those who were angered against you shall be ashamed and confounded; they shall be as nothing. And those who strive against you shall perish.

12. You shall seek them, and shall not find them; men warring against you shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.

13. For I, the LORD your God, will hold your right hand, saying to you, ‘Do not fear; I will help you.’

14. Do not fear, you worm Jacob and men of Israel; I will help you,” says the LORD and your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel.
15. “Behold, I make you a new sharp threshing instrument, having teeth; you shall thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shall make the hills like chaff.
16. You shall winnow them, and the wind shall carry them away, and a tempest shall scatter them. And you shall rejoice in the LORD and shall glory in the Holy One of Israel.
17. The poor and needy seek water, and there is none; their tongue fails for thirst, I the LORD will hear them, I the God of Israel will not leave them.
18. I will open rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys; I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water.
19. I will plant the cedar in the wilderness, the acacia tree, and the myrtle, and the oil tree. I will set the fir tree in the desert, and the pine, and the box tree together;
20. So that they may see, and know, and understand together, that the hand of the LORD has done this, and consider, and understand together, that we may know that you are gods. Yea, do good, or do evil, so that we may be dismayed and see together.
21. Behold, you are of nothing, and your work is of nothing. He who chooses you is an abomination.
22. I have raised up one from the north, and he shall come from the rising of the sun; he will call upon My name. And he shall come upon princes as upon mortar, and as the potter tramples clay.
23. Who has declared from the beginning, that we may know? And beforetime, that we may say, ‘He is right’? Yea, no one declares; yea, no one proclaims; yea, no one hears your words.
24. I first said to Zion, ‘Behold! Behold them!’ And I gave to Jerusalem one who bears good news,
25. For I looked, and there was no man; and there was no counselor among them,
15. I will make waste the mountains and hills, and dry up all their plants. And I will make the rivers islands, and I will dry up the pools.
16. And I will bring the blind by a way they knew not; I will lead them in paths they have not known; I will make darkness light before them, and rugged places plain. I will do these things to them, and not forsake them.
17. They are turned back, they are greatly ashamed, those who trust in graven images and who say to the images, ‘You are our gods.’
18. Hear, you deaf ones; and you blind ones look to see.
19. Who is blind but My servant? Or is one look to see.
20. You see many things, but do not pay attention. Your ears are open, but no one hears.”

CHAPTER FORTY-THREE

1. But now thus says the LORD Who created you, O Jacob, and He Who formed you, O Israel; “Fear not, for I have redeemed you; I have called you by your name; you are Mine.
2. When you pass through the waters, I will be with you; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow you. When you walk through the fire, you shall not be burned; nor shall the flame kindle on you,
18. “Do not remember the former things, or consider the things of old.
19. Behold, I will do a new thing; now it shall sprout; shall you not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, rivers in the desert.
20. The beasts of the field shall honor
Me, the jackals and the ostriches; because I give waters in the wilderness, rivers in the desert, to give drink to My people, My chosen.
21. This people that I formed for Myself;
they shall declare My praise.
22. Yet you have not called upon Me, O
Jacob; much less have you troubled yourself about Me, O Israel.
23. You have not brought Me the lamb of you burnt offerings; nor have you honored Me with your sacrifices. I have not caused you to serve with a grain offering,
not remember your sins.
24. You have bought Me no sweet cane with money, nor have you filled Me with the fat of your sacrifices; but you have ored Me with your sacrifices. I have not honored Me with your iniquities.
25. I, even I, am He Who blots out your transgressions for My own sake, and will not remember your sins.
26. Put Me in remembrance; let us plead together; declare yourself, that you may be justified.
27. Your first father has sinned, and your teachers have transgressed against Me.
28. And I will profane the princes of the sanctuary, and will give Jacob to the curse, and Israel to reproaches.”

CHAPTER FORTY-FOUR

1. “Yet now hear, O Jacob My servant, and Israel whom I have chosen;
2. Thus says the LORD Who made you, and formed you from the womb, Who will help you, ‘Fear not, O Jacob My servant, and you, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen.
3. For I will pour water upon him who is thirsty, and streams upon the dry ground.
I will pour My Spirit upon your seed, and
My blessing upon your offspring;
4. And they shall spring up as among the grass, as willows by the watercourses.’
5. One shall say, ‘I am the LORD’S;’ and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob; and another shall write with his hand, ‘For the LORD,’ and be named by the name of Israel.

6. Thus says the LORD, the King of Israel, and His Redeemer even the LORD of hosts,
‘I AM THE FIRST, AND I AM THE LAST; and besides Me there is no God.
7. And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it and set it in order for Me, since I appointed the ancient people? And the things that are coming, and shall come, let them declare it to us.
8. Fear not, nor be afraid; have I not told you from that time; and have declared it?
So you are My witnesses. Is there a God besides Me? Yea, there is no other Rock;
I know not one.’ ”

9. Those who make a graven image are all of them vanity; and the things in which they delight shall not help; and they are their own witnesses. They do not see nor know, that they may be ashamed.
10. Who has formed a god, or melted a graven image that is profitable for anything?
11. Behold, all his companions shall be ashamed; and the craftsmen, they are men. Let them all come together, let them stand up, they shall dread; they shall be ashamed together.
12. The black smith fashions an axe. He works in the coals, and forms it with hammers, and works it with the strength of his arms. Then, he is hungry, and his strength fails; he drinks no water, and is weak.
13. The carpenter fashions wood, and stretches a line; he marks it out with a pencil; he shapes it with carving tools, and he marks it out with the compass, and makes it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man, to sit in the house.
14. He cuts down cedars, and takes cypress and oak, which he makes of the trees of the forest strong for himself; he plants a tree, and the rain makes it grow.
15. Then it shall be for a man to burn; for his shall take some of it and warm himself.
Yea, he kindles it and bakes bread; yea, he makes a god and worships it; he makes it a graven image and falls down to worship it.
16. He burns part of it in the fire; with part of it he eats flesh; he roasts a roast and is satisfied; yea, he warms himself, and says, “Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire.”
17. And with the rest of it he makes into a god, his graven image; he falls down to it and worships, and prays to it, and says, "Deliver me! For you are my god!"
18. They know not nor understand; for He has shut their eyes so that they cannot see; and their hearts so that they cannot understand.
19. And none thinks within his heart, nor is there knowledge nor understanding to say, "I have burned part of it in the fire; yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals of it; I have roasted flesh and eaten; and shall I make the rest of it an abomination? Shall I fall down to the stock of a tree?"
20. He feeds on ashes; a deceived heart has turned him aside, so that he cannot deliver his soul. Neither does he say, "Is this not a falsehood in my right hand?"
21. "Remember these, O Jacob and Israel; for you are My servant; I have formed you; you are My servant; O Israel, you shall not be forgotten by Me.
22. I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, Me. Israel, you shall not be forgotten by Me. I have turned them aside, so that he cannot prevail; and he says in his heart, 'I shall not be moved.'
23. Sing, O heavens; for the LORD has done it. Shout, O lower parts of the earth.
24. Thus says the LORD your Redeemer, and He Who formed you from the womb, "I am the LORD Who makes all things; Who stretches out the heavens alone; Who spreads abroad the earth by Himself in Israel.
25. Who brings to nothing the signs of the liars, and makes fools of diviners; Who turns the wise backward, and makes their knowledge foolish;
26. Who makes the word of His servant sure, and makes good the counsel of His messengers; Who says to Jerusalem, 'She shall have people;' and to the cities of Judah, 'You shall be built,' and I will raise up the waste places of it;
27. Who says to the deep, 'Be dry, and I will dry up your rivers;'
28. Who says of Cyrus, 'He is My shepherd, and shall do all My pleasure; even saying to Jerusalem, 'You shall be built;' and to the temple, 'Your foundation shall be laid.'

CHAPTER FORTY-FIVE
1. "Thus says the LORD to His anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have made strong in order to humble nations before him. And I will loosen the loins of kings, to open before him the two leaved doors; and the gates shall not be shut.
2. 'I will go before you, and make hills level. I will break in pieces the bronze gates, and cut the iron bars in two.
3. And I will give you the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that you may know that I am the LORD, Who calls you by your name, the God of Israel,
4. For Jacob My servant's sake and Israel My chosen, I have even called you by your name; I have named you, though you have not known Me,
5. I am the LORD, and there is none else. There is no God besides Me; I clothed you, though you have not known Me;
6. That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none besides Me. I am the LORD, and there is none else;
7. I form the light and create darkness; I make peace and create evil. I the LORD do all these things.'
8. Drop down from above, O heavens, and let the clouds pour down righteousness. Let the earth open, and let salvation bear fruit; and let righteousness spring up together. I the LORD have created it.
9. Woe to him who fights with the One who formed him, a potsherd among the potsherds of the earth! Shall the clay say to him who forms it, 'What are you making?' Or your work, 'He has no hands'?
10. Woe to him who says to his father, 'What are you begetting?' Or to the woman, 'What are you laboring over?'
11. Thus says the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and the One who formed him, "Ask Me of things that are to come concerning My sons, and concerning the work of My hands.
12. I have made the earth and created man upon it; I with My hands have stretched out the heavens; and all their host have I commanded.
13. I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will make straight all his ways; he shall build My city, and he shall let My captives go, not for price nor reward,' says the LORD of hosts.
14. Thus says the LORD, “The labor of Egypt, and merchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabaeans, men of stature, shall come to you, and they shall be yours. They shall follow you in chains; and they shall come over and they shall fall down to you. They shall plead to you, saying, ‘Surely God is in you; and none else, no other God.’”

15. Truly You are a God Who hides Yourself, O God of Israel, the Savior. They shall be ashamed and also confounded, all of them; they who are makers of idols shall go into confusion together.

16. But Israel shall be saved by the LORD with an everlasting salvation. You shall not be ashamed nor disgraced even into the ages of eternity.

17. For thus says the LORD the Creator of the heavens, He Himself is God, Who formed the earth and made it; He has established it. He created it not in vain, but formed it to be inhabited. “I am the LORD, and there is no other.

18. I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth. I did not say to the seed of Jacob, ‘Seek me in vain.’ I the LORD speak righteousness, I declare the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things which were not yet done, saying, ‘My counsel shall stand, and I will do all My pleasure;’

19. Calling a bird of prey from the east, the man of my counsel from a far country, Yea, I have spoken, and it shall stand, and it shall not move itself from its place. Yea, one shall cry unto it, yet it cannot answer, nor save him out of his trouble.

20. Remember this, and show yourselves men: bring it again to mind, O you transgressors.

21. Declare and bring near; yea, let them take counsel together. Who has declared this of old? Who has told it from ancient times? Have not I, the LORD? And there is no other God besides Me; a just God and a Savior; there is none besides Me.

22. Turn to Me, and be saved, all the ends of the earth; for I am God, and there is none else.

23. I have sworn by Myself, the word has gone out of My mouth in righteousness, and shall not turn back, that unto Me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear.”

24. One shall say, “Only in the LORD do I have righteousness and strength; even to Him shall men come. And they are ashamed, all who are angry against Him.”

25. In the LORD shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory.
CHAPTER FORTY-EIGHT

1. “Hear this, O house of Jacob, who are called by the name of Israel, and have come out of the waters of Judah; who swear by the name of the LORD and make mention of the God of Israel (but not in truth nor in righteousness):

2. For they call themselves after the holy city, and rest themselves on the God of Israel; the LORD of hosts is His name.

3. I have foretold the former things from ages ago; and they went out of My mouth; and I proclaimed them; I acted suddenly; and they came to pass,

4. Because I knew that you are obstinate, and your neck is an iron sinew and your brow bronze.

5. And I have even declared it to you ages ago. Before it came to pass I revealed it to you; lest you should say, ‘My idol has done these things, and my graven image, and my molten image, has commanded them.’

6. You have heard, see all this; and will you not declare it? I have shown you new things from this time, even hidden things, and you did not know them.

7. They are created now, and not ages ago; even before today you did not hear them; lest you should say, ‘Behold, I knew them.’

8. Yea, you did not hear; yea, you did not know; yea, from ages ago your ear was not opened; for I surely knew that you would deal very treacherously, and were called a transgressor from the womb.

9. For My name’s sake I will put off My anger, and for My praise I will hold it back for a while; lest I should destroy the remnant of My people.

10. Behold, I have refined you, but not as silver; I have chosen you in the furnace of affliction.

11. For My name’s sake I will not cut you off.

12. Stand now with your enchantments, and with the multitude of your sorceries, in which you have wearied yourself since your youth. Perhaps you will be able to profit; perhaps you may prevail.

13. You are exhausted by the multitude of your counsels; now let the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save you from these things that shall come upon you.

14. Behold, they shall be as stubble; the
My called; I AM HE; I AM THE FIRST, I ALSO AM THE LAST.
13. My hand also has laid the foundation of the earth, and My right hand has stretched out the heavens. When I call they stand up together.
14. Let all of you be gathered together and hear; who among them has declared these things? The LORD has loved him; He will do His pleasure on Babylon, and His arm shall be on the Chaldeans.
15. I, even I, have spoken; yea, I have called him; I brought him and he makes his way succeed.
16. Come near to Me, hear this: I have not spoken in secret from the beginning.
17. Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel, “I am the LORD your God Who teaches you to profit, and who leads you by the way that you should go.
18. Oh, that you had hearkened to My commandments! Then your peace would have been like a river, and your righteousness like the waves of the sea.
19. And your seed would have been like the sand, and the offspring of your loins like grains of sand; their name would not be cut off nor destroyed from before Me.”
20. Go out of Babylon; flee from the Chaldeans. Tell it with a voice of singing, let this be heard, let it go out to the end of the earth; say, “The LORD has beloved him; for the wicked.”
21. And they did not thirst when He led them through the deserts; He caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them; He cut open the rock also, and the waters gushed out.
22. “There is no peace,” says the LORD, “for the wicked.”

CHAPTER FORTY-NINE

1. “Listen, O isles, to Me; and hearken, you people from afar; the LORD has called Me from the womb; He has made mention of My name from My mother’s belly.
2. And He has made My mouth like a sharp sword; in the shadow of His hand He has hidden Me, and made Me a polished shaft. He has hidden Me in His quiver.
3. And said to Me, ‘You are My servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified.’
4. Then I said, ‘I have labored in vain; I have spent My strength for nothing, and in vain; yet surely justice is with the LORD, and My reward is with My God.’
5. And now, says the LORD—Who formed Me from the womb to be His servant, to bring Jacob again to Him, (though Israel is not gathered, yet I shall be glorious in the eyes of the LORD, and My God shall be My strength)—
6. He said, ‘It is but a little thing that You should be My servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to bring back the preserved ones of Israel; I will also give You for a light to the nations, to be My salvation to the end of the earth.’ ”
7. Thus says the LORD, the Redeemer of Israel, his Holy One, to Him Whom man despises, to Him Whom the nation hates, the Servant of rulers, “Kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship because of the LORD Who is faithful, the Holy One of Israel, and He shall choose You.”
8. Thus says the LORD, “In a favorable time I have answered You, and in a day of salvation I have helped You; and I will preserve You, and give You for a covenant of the people, to restore the earth, to cause them to inherit the wasted inheritances;
9. That You may say to the prisoners, ‘Go out!’ To those who are in darkness, ‘Show yourselves!’ They shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places.
10. They shall not hunger nor thirst; nor shall the heat nor sun strike them; for He Who has compassion on them shall lead them; even by the springs of water He shall guide them.
11. And I will make all My mountains into roads, and My highways shall be exalted.
12. Behold, these shall come from far; and, lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of Sinim.”
13. Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break out into singing, O mountains; for the LORD has comforted His people, and will have compassion upon His afflicted.
14. But Zion said, “The LORD has forsaken me, and my LORD has forgotten me.”
15. “Can a woman forget her suckling child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? Yea, they may forget, yet I will not forget you.
16. Behold, I have carved you upon the palms of My hands; your walls are forever before Me.
17. Your children shall make haste; those destroying you and ruining you shall go out from you.
18. Lift up your eyes all around and see; they all gather and come to you. As I live,” says the LORD, “You shall surely wear them as an ornament, and bind them on as a bride;
19. For your wastes and your desolate places, and your land has been destroyed, shall even now be too narrow to dwell there, and they who swallowed you up shall be far away.
20. The children of your bereavement shall say again in your ears, ‘The place is too strait for me; give a place to me that I may dwell.’
21. Then you shall say in your heart, ‘Who has begotten these for me, since I have lost my children, and am desolate, turned aside and an exile, and who has brought up these? Behold, I was left alone; these, where were they?’”
22. Thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I will lift up My hand to the Gentiles, and have set up My banner to the people; and they shall bring your sons in their bosom, and your daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.
23. And kings shall be your nursing fathers, and their queens your nursing mothers. They shall bow to you, with their faces to the earth, and lick up the dust of your feet; and you shall know that I am the LORD; for they shall not be ashamed who wait for Me.”
24. Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the captives of a tyrant be rescued?
25. But thus says the LORD, “Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the fierce ones shall be rescued, for I will contend with him who contends with you, and I will save your children.
26. And I will feed those who oppress you with their own flesh; and they shall be drunk with their own blood, as with sweet wine; and all flesh shall know that I the LORD am your Savior and your Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob.”

CHAPTER FIFTY

1. Thus says the LORD, “Where is your mother’s bill of divorce, with which I have put her away? Or to which of My creditors have I sold you? Behold, you yourselves were sold for your iniquities, and your mother is put away for your transgressions.
2. Therefore, when I came, why was no one there? When I called no one answered. Is My hand shortened at all so that it cannot redeem? Or have I no power to deliver? Behold, at My rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness; their fish stink because there is no water, and die for thirst.
3. I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.”
4. “The Lord GOD has given Me the tongue of the learned, to know to help the weary with a word. He awakens Me morning by morning, He awakens My ear to hear as one being taught.
5. The Lord GOD has opened My ear, and I made My tongue a sharpened sword; in the shadow of My mouth I hid My words, saying, ‘You have wearied Me with your lewdness, Yea, you have exhausted Me with your transgressions.’
6. I gave My back to the smiters, and My cheeks to them that plucked off the hair; I did not hide My face from shame and spitting.
7. For the Lord GOD will help Me; therefore I have not been disgraced. On account of this I have set My face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.
8. He is near who justifies Me; who will contend with Me? Let us stand together; who is My adversary? Let him come near Me.
9. Behold, the Lord GOD will help Me; who is he who shall condemn Me? Lo, they all shall grow old like a garment; the moth shall eat them.
10. Who among you fears the LORD, who relieth upon His God.
11. Behold, all you who kindle a fire, who gird yourselves with firebrands; walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks which you have kindled. This you shall have of My hand—you shall lie down in sorrow.”

CHAPTER FIFTY-ONE

1. “Hearken to Me, you who follow after righteousness, you who seek the LORD:
Look to the rock from which you were cut, and to the hole of the pit from which you were dug.
2. Look to Abraham your father, and to Sarah who bore you; for I called him alone, and blessed him, and made him many."
3. For the LORD shall comfort Zion; He will comfort all her waste places; and He will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the LORD. Joy and gladness shall be found in it, thanksgiving and the voice of melody.
4. “Hearken to Me, My people; and give ear to Me, O My nation; for instruction shall proceed from Me, and I will make My salvation as a light to the people.
5. My righteousness is near; My salvation shall be for generation to generation.”
6. Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath; for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall become old like a garment; and its inhabitants shall die in the same way. But My salvation shall be forever, and My righteousness shall not be abolished.
7. Hearken to Me, you who know righteousness, the people in whose heart is My law; do not fear the reproach of men, nor be afraid of their revilings;
8. For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool; but My righteousness shall be forever, and My salvation from generation to generation."
9. Awake! Awake! Put on strength, O arm of the LORD. Awake, as in the ancient days, in the generations of old. Was it not You Who cut Rahab into pieces, piercing the serpent?
10. Was it not You Who dried up the sea, the waters of the deep; Who made the depths of the sea a way for the redeemed to pass over?
11. Therefore the redeemed of the LORD shall return and come with singing into Zion; and everlasting joy shall be upon their head. Gladness and joy shall overtake them; sorrow and mourning shall flee away.
12. “I, even I, am He Who comforts you. Who are you, that you should be afraid of a man that shall die, or of the son of man who is made as grass?
13. And you forget the LORD your Maker, Who has stretched out the heavens and laid the foundations of the earth. And you dread continually, every day because of the fury of the oppressor, as if he were ready to destroy. And where is the fury of the oppressor?
14. The captive exile will soon be set free, he will not die in the dungeon nor will he lack his bread.
15. But I am the LORD your God, Who divided the sea, so that its waves roared (the LORD of hosts is His name).
16. And I have put My words in your mouth, and I have covered you in the shadow of My hand, that I may plant the heavens and lay the foundations of the earth, and say to Zion, ‘You are My people.’
17. Awake! Awake! Rise up, O Jerusalem, who drank the cup of His fury from the hand of the LORD; you have drunk of the cup of trembling to the dregs, and wrung them out.
18. There is no guide for her among all the sons she has borne; and none takes her by the hand of all the sons that she has brought up.
19. These two things have come to you, who shall be sorry for you? Desolation, and destruction, and the famine, and the sword. By whom shall I comfort you?
20. Your sons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets like a wild antelope in a net, filled with the fury of the LORD, the rebuke of your God.
21. Therefore now hear this, afflicted one, and drunken, but not with wine.
22. Thus says your Lord, the LORD, and your God Who defends His people, “Behold, I have taken the cup of trembling from your hand, even the dregs of the cup of My fury; you shall never drink of it again.
23. But I will put it into the hand of those who afflict you, who have said to your soul, ‘Bow down so that we may walk over you;’ and you laid your back like the ground, even like the street to those who walk over.”

CHAPTER FIFTY-TWO

1. Awake! Awake! Put on your strength, O Zion; put on your beautiful robes, O Jerusalem, the holy city, for never again shall come to you the uncircumcised and the unclean ones.
2. Shake yourself from the dust; rise up! Sit, Jerusalem! Free yourself from your neckbands, O captive daughter of Zion.
3. For thus says the LORD, “You were sold for nothing; and you shall be redeemed without money.”
4. For thus says the Lord GOD, “My people went down at first into Egypt to sojourn there; and the Assyrian oppressed them without cause.
5. Now therefore, what have I here,” says the LORD; “and without ceasing My name is blasphemed.
6. Therefore My people shall know My name, thus it shall be in that day, for I am He Who speaks; behold, it is I.”
7. How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him who brings good tidings, who publishes peace; who brings good news, who publishes salvation; who says to Zion, “Your God reigns!”
8. The voice of Your watchmen shall be to Zion, “Your God reigns!”
9. Break out, sing together, you waste places of Jerusalem; for the LORD has comforted His people; He has redeemed Jerusalem.
10. The LORD has bared His holy arm in Jerusalem.
11. Depart! Depart! Go out from there! Touch not the unclean. Go out of her midst; purify yourself, you who bear the vessels of the LORD;
12. For you shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight; for the LORD will go before you; and the God of Israel will be your rear guard.
13. Behold, My Servant shall rule well; He shall be exalted and exalted, and be very high.
14. Many were astonished at Him—for His body was so disfigured—even His form beyond that of the sons of men.
15. So shall He sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths because of Him; for they will see that which was not told to them; yea, what they had not heard, shall they consider.

CHAPTER FIFTY-THREE
1. Who has believed our report? And to whom is the arm of the LORD revealed?
2. For He shall grow up before Him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground; He has no form nor comeliness that we should look upon Him, nor beauty that we should desire Him.
3. He is despised and rejected of men; a Man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief; and we hid as it were our faces from Him, He was despised, and we esteemed Him not.
4. Surely He has borne our infirmities, and carried our sorrows; yet we esteemed Him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.
5. But He was wounded for our transgressions: He was crushed for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him; and with His stripes we ourselves are healed.
6. All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned each one to his own way; and the LORD has laid on Him the iniquity of us all.
7. He was oppressed, and He was afflicted; yet He opened not His mouth. He is brought as a lamb to the slaughter; and as a sheep before its shearsers is dumb, so He opened not His mouth.
8. By oppression and judgment He was taken away; and with His generation who did consider that He was cut off out of the land of the living; for the transgression of My people He was stricken.
9. And He made His grave with the wicked, and with the rich in His death; although He had done no violence, nor was any deceit in His mouth.
10. Yet the LORD willed to crush Him and He has put Him to grief: You shall make His life an offering for sin. He shall see of the travail of His soul; He shall prolong His days, and that the purpose of the LORD might prosper in His hand.
11. He shall see of the travail of His soul. He shall be fully satisfied. By His knowledge shall My righteous Servant justify many; and He shall bear their iniquities.
12. Therefore I will divide to Him a portion with the great, and He shall divide the spoil with the strong; because He has poured out His soul to death; and He was counted among the transgressors; and He bore the sin of many, and made intercession for transgressors.

CHAPTER FIFTY-FOUR

1. “Sing, O barren, you that never bore; break out into singing and shout, you who never travailed, for more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married woman,” says the LORD.
2. “Make the place of your tent larger, and let them stretch out the curtains of your dwellings. Do not spare, lengthen your cords and strengthen your stakes;
3. For you shall break out on the right hand and on the left. And your seed shall inherit the Gentiles, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.
4. Do not fear; for you shall not be ashamed, nor shall you be disgraced; for you shall not be humiliated; for you shall not remember the reproach of your widowhood any more.
5. For your Maker is your husband; the LORD of hosts is His name; and your Redeemer is the Holy One of Israel; the God of the whole earth shall He be called,
6. For the LORD has called you as a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit, and a wife of youth, when you were rejected,” says your God.
7. “For a little moment I forsook you; but with great compassions I will gather you.
8. In a little wrath I hid My face from you for a moment; but with everlasting kindness I will have compassion on you,” says the LORD your Redeemer.
9. “For this is as the waters of Noah to Me; for as I swore that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth, so I have sworn from being angry with you and from rebuking you:
10. For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but My kindness will abundantly pardon.
11. “O afflicted one, storm-tossed and not comforted, behold, I will lay your stones among colorful gems, and lay your foundations with sapphires.
12. And I will make your high towers of ruby, and your gates of carbuncles, and all your borders of pleasant stones.
13. And all your children shall be taught of the LORD; and great shall be the peace of your children.
14. In righteousness you shall be established; you shall be far from oppression;
for you shall not fear; and far from terror,
for it shall not come near you.
15. Behold, they may gather together against you, but not by Me; whoever shall gather against you, he shall fall for your sake.
16. Behold, I have created the smith who blows the coals in the fire, and who brings out a weapon for his work; and I have created the waster to destroy.
17. No weapon that is formed against you shall prevail; and every tongue that shall rise against you in judgment, you shall condemn. This is the inheritance of the servants of the LORD, and their righteousness is from Me,” says the LORD.

CHAPTER FIFTY-FIVE

1. “Ho, everyone who thirsts, come to the waters; and he who has no money, come, buy and eat. Yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.
2. Why do you spend money for what is not bread? And your labor for what is satisfies? Hearken diligently to Me, and
3. Bow down your ear, and come to Me; hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you,
4. Behold, I have given Him even the sure mercies of David.
5. Behold, you shall call a nation that you do not know; a nation that did not know you shall run to you because of the LORD your God, and for the Holy One of Israel; for He has glorified you.”
6. Seek the LORD while He may be found; call upon Him while He is near.
7. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return to the LORD, and He will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon.
8. “For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor your ways My ways,” says
the LORD.
9. “For as the heavens are higher than the
4. For thus says the LORD, “To the dry tree.”

1. Thus says the LORD, “Keep justice and everlasting signs speak, saying, “The LORD has utterly themselves to the LORD to serve Him, that shall not be cut off.

5. Even to them will I give within My house and within My walls a place and a name better than of sons and of daughters; I will give them an everlasting name than a name better than of sons and of daughters; I will give them an everlasting name.

13. Instead of the thorn, the fir tree shall come up; and it shall be instead of the myrtle tree shall come up; and it shall be.

12. For you shall go out with joy, and be led out with peace; the mountains and the hills shall break out before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.

13. Instead of the thorn, the fir tree shall come up; and instead of the brier, the myrtle tree shall come up; and it shall be to the LORD for a memorial, for an everlasting sign which shall not be cut off.”

CHAPTER FIFTY-SIX

1. Thus says the LORD, “Keep justice and do righteousness; for My salvation is near to come, and My righteousness to be revealed.

2. Blessed is the man who does this, and the son of man who keeps from profaning it; who keeps the Sabbath from profaning it; and keeps his hand from doing any evil.”

3. And do not let the son of the stranger, who has joined himself to the LORD, choose things that please Me, and take of My covenant; that shall not be cut off.

4. For thus says the LORD, “To the eunuchs who keep My Sabbaths, and choose things that please Me, and take hold of My covenant;

5. Even to them will I give within My house and within My walls a place and a name better than of sons and of daughters; I will give them an everlasting name that shall not be cut off.

6. Also the sons of the stranger, who join themselves to the LORD to serve Him, and to love the name of the LORD, to be His servants, everyone who keeps from profaning the Sabbath, and takes hold of My covenant;

7. Even them I will bring to My holy mountain, and make them joyful in My house of prayer. Their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon My altar; for My house shall be called a house of prayer for all people.”

8. The Lord GOD Who gathers the outcasts of Israel, says, “Yet I will gather still others of him beside those who are gathered unto him.”

9. All beasts of the field, yea, all the beasts in the forest come to devour.

10. His watchmen are blind; they are all ignorant; they are all dumb dogs who cannot bark, dreaming, lying down, loving to slumber.

11. Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough; and they are shepherds who cannot understand. They all look to their own way, every one for his gain, to his own end.

12. They say, “Come, let us take wine, and let us fill ourselves with strong drink; and tomorrow shall be like today, and much more abundant.”

CHAPTER FIFTY-SEVEN

1. The righteous perish, and no one lays it to heart, and merciful men are taken away; none considering that the righteous are taken away from the evil to come.

2. He shall enter into peace; they shall rest in their beds, each one who walked in his uprightness.

3. “But draw near here, you sons of the sorceress, you seed of the adulterer and the harlot.

4. Against whom are you making sport? Against whom do you make a wide mouth and draw out the tongue? Are you not children of transgression, a lying seed,

5. Being inflamed with idols under every green tree, killing the little children in the valleys under the clefts of the rocks?

6. Among the smooth stones of the stream is your portion; they, even they, are your lot; even to them you have poured a drink offering, you have offered a grain offering. Should I relent over these?

7. Upon a lofty and high mountain you have set your bed; even there you went up to offer sacrifice.

8. Also behind the doors and the posts you have set up your images; far from Me have you uncovered and ascended and enlarged your bed. You made a covenant with them; you loved their bed; you saw their hand beckoning you.
9. And you went to the king with ointment, and increased your perfumes, and sent your messengers far off, and lowered yourself even to the grave.
10. You are wearied with the greatness of your way. Did you not say, ‘There is no hope?’ You have found strength; therefore you were not faint.
11. And of whom have you been afraid or feared, that you have lied and have not remembered Me, nor laid your hand upon Me, nor feared, that you have lied and have not feared, that you have lied and have not feared?
12. I will declare your iniquity, and your works; for they shall not do you any good.
13. When you cry, let them that you have gathered deliver you; but the wind shall carry them all away. The wind will carry them off, a breath will blow them away; but he who puts his trust in Me shall possess the land, and shall inherit My holy mountain.”
14. And He shall say, “Cast up! Cast up! Prepare the way! Take the stumbling block out of the way of My people.”
15. For thus says the high and lofty One Who inhabits eternity; Whose name is Holy; “I dwell in the high and holy place, even with the one who is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones,
16. For I will not contend forever, nor will I always be angry; for the spirit of man would then fail before Me, and the souls which I have made,
17. For the iniquity of his covetousness I was angry and struck him; I hid Myself, and was angry, and he went on backsliding away from Me in the way of his own heart.
18. I have seen his ways, and will heal him. I will also lead him, and restore comfort to him and to his mourners.
19. I create the fruit of the lips; peace, peace, to him who is afar off, and to him who is near,” says the LORD, “and I will heal him.”
20. But the wicked are like the troubled sea, which cannot rest, and its waters cast up mire and dirt.
21. “There is no peace,” says my God, “for the wicked.”

CHAPTER FIFTY-EIGHT
1. “Cry aloud, do not spare, lift up your voice like a ram’s horn, and show My people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins.
2. Yet they seek Me daily, and seem eager to know My ways, as a nation that did righteousness, and one that did not forget the ordinance of their God. They ask of Me the ordinances of justice; they seem eager to draw near to God.
3. They say, ‘Why have we fasted, and You do not see? Why have we afflicted our soul and You take no knowledge?’ Behold, in the day of your fast you pursue your business and exploit all your workers.
4. Behold, you fast for strife and debate, and to strike with the fist of wickedness; you cannot fast as you do this day, and expect to make your voice to be heard on high.
5. Is this such a fast that I have chosen? A day for a man to afflict his soul? Is it to bow down his head like a bulrush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? Will you call this a fast and a day pleasing to the LORD?
6. Is not this, rather, the fast that I have chosen—to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed ones go free, and that you break every yoke?
7. Is it not to give of your bread to the hungry, and that you should bring home the wandering poor? When will you see the naked and cover him; and not hide yourself from your own flesh?
8. Then shall your light break out as the dawn, and your health shall spring out quickly; and your righteousness shall go before you; the glory of the LORD shall be your rear guard.
9. Then you shall call, and the LORD shall answer; you shall cry, and He shall say, ‘Here I am.’ If you take the yoke away from among you, the pointing of the finger, and speaking malice;
10. And if you draw out your soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall your light rise in darkness, and your gloom shall be as the noonday.
11. And the LORD shall always guide you and satisfy your soul in dry places, and make your bones fat; and you shall be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water whose waters fail not.
12. And those who come of you shall build the old ruins; you shall raise up the foundations of many generations; and you shall be called, The Repairer of the Breach, The Restorer of Paths to Dwell in.

13. If you turn your foot away from the Sabbath, from doing your own desires on My holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy of the LORD, honorable; and shall honor Him, not doing your own ways, nor pursuing your own desires, nor speaking your own words,

14. Then you shall delight yourself in the LORD; and I will cause you to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed you with the inheritance of Jacob your father, for the mouth of the LORD has spoken it.”

CHAPTER FIFTY-NINE

1. Behold, the LORD’s hand is not shortened that it cannot save, nor is His ear heavy that it cannot hear.

2. But your iniquities have come between you and your God, and your sins have hid His face from you, that He will not hear,

3. For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity; your lips have spoken lies, your tongue has muttered perverseness.

4. None calls for justice, nor does anyone plead for truth; they trust in vanity and speak lies. They conceive mischief and bring forth iniquity.

5. They hatch adders’ eggs and weave the spider’s web; he who eats their eggs dies, and that which is crushed breaks out into a viper.

6. Their webs shall not become clothing, nor shall they cover themselves with their works; their works are works of iniquity, and the acts of violence are in their hands.

7. Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood; their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; wasting and destruction are in their paths.

8. They have not known the way of peace, and there is no justice in their ways. They have made crooked paths for themselves; whoever goes therein shall not know peace.

9. Therefore justice is far from us; nor does righteousness overtake us. We wait for light, but behold, darkness; for brightness, but we walk in deep shadows.

10. We grope along the wall like the blind, and we grope as if we had no eyes. We stumble at noonday as in the night;

11. We all roar like bears, and mourn grievously like doves; we look for justice, but there is none, we look for salvation, yet it is far from us;

12. For our transgressions are multiplied before You, and our sins testify against us; for our transgressions are with us; and as for our iniquities, we know them;

13. In rebellion and denial of the LORD, and turning away from our God, talking perversity and revolt, conceiving and speaking from the heart words of falsehood.

14. And justice is driven backward, and righteousness stands afar off; for truth has fallen in the street, and uprightness cannot enter.

15. Yea, truth fails; and he who departs from evil makes himself a prey. And the LORD saw, and it was evil in His eyes that there was no justice.

16. And He saw that there was no man, and was astonished that there was no intercessor. Therefore His own arm brought salvation to Him; and His righteousness sustained Him.

17. For He put on righteousness like a breastplate, and a helmet of salvation upon His head. And He put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was covered with zeal like a cloak.

18. According to their deeds, accordingly He will repay; fury to His foes, deed for deed to His enemies. He will repay their deeds to the isles.

19. So they shall fear the name of the LORD from the west, and His glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the LORD shall make him flee.

20. “The Redeemer shall come to Zion, to those who turn from transgression in Jacob,” says the LORD.

21. “As for Me, this is My covenant with them,” says the LORD, “My Spirit that is upon you, and My words which I have put in your mouth, shall not depart out of your mouth, nor out of the mouth of your seed, nor out of the mouth of your seed’s seed,” says the LORD, “from now on and forever.”

CHAPTER SIXTY

1. Arise, shine; for your light has come, and the glory of the LORD has risen upon you,
2. For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people; but the LORD shall arise upon you, and His glory shall be seen upon you.
3. And the Gentiles shall come to your light, and kings to the brightness of your rising.
4. “Lift up your eyes all around, and see. All of them gather themselves together; they come to you. Your sons shall come from far, and your daughters shall be nursed at your side.
5. Then you shall see and become radiant, and your heart shall throb and swell for joy; because the abundance of the sea shall turn to you, the wealth of the Gentiles will come to you.
6. A host of camels shall cover you, the camels of Midian and Ephah. All of them from Sheba shall come; they shall bring gold and incense; and they shall proclaim the praises of the LORD.
7. All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together to you; the rams of Nebaioth minister to you. They shall come up with acceptance on My altar, and I will glorify the house of My glory.
8. Who are these who fly like a cloud, rising. They shall bring the news of the day of your birthday; in the day of your mourning shall you be called to the music of the harp.
9. Surely the isles shall wait for Me, and as the doves to their windows?
10. The glory of Lebanon will come to you, the fir tree, the pine tree, and the box tree together, to beautify the place of My sanctuary; and I will make the place of My feet glorious.
11. Therefore your gates will always be open; they will not be shut day nor night, that men may bring unto you the wealth of the Gentiles, and their kings in procession.
12. For the nation and kingdom that will not serve you will perish. Yes, those nations will be completely wasted.
13. The glory of Lebanon will come to you, the fir tree, the pine tree, and the box tree together, to beautify the place of My sanctuary; and I will make the place of My feet glorious.
14. Also the sons of your afflicters shall come bowing down to you; and all your despisers will bow down at the soles of your feet. And they will call you, ‘The city of the LORD, the Zion of the Holy One of Israel.’
15. Instead of being forsaken and hated, so that no one passes through, I will make you an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations.
16. You will also suck the milk of nations, and suck the breast of kings; and you shall know that I the LORD am your Savior and your Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob.
17. For bronze I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver; and for wood I will bring bronze, and for stones, iron. I will also make your overseers to be peace, and your rulers to be righteousness.
18. Violence will no more be heard in your land, neither wasting nor ruin within your borders; but you will call your walls Salvation, and your gates Praise.
19. The sun will no more be your light by day; nor the brightness of the moon withdraw; for the LORD will be to you for an everlasting light, and your God your glory.
20. Your sun will no more go down, nor your moon withdraw; for the LORD will be your everlasting light, and the days of your mourning shall be ended.
21. Your people also will all be righteous; they will inherit the land forever, the branch of My planting, the work of My hands, so that I may be glorified.
22. A smallest will become a thousand, and the least one a strong nation: I the LORD will hasten it in its time.”

CHAPTER SIXTY-ONE

1. “The Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon Me because the LORD has anointed Me to preach the Gospel to the poor; He has sent Me to bind up the broken hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to those who are bound;
2. To preach the acceptable year of the LORD and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all who mourn;
3. To appoint to those who mourn in Zion, giving to them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the mantle of praise for the spirit of heaviness; so that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that He might be glorified.”
4. And they will build the old wastes, they will raise up the desolations of former times. And they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations.

5. And strangers will stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the stranger will be your plowmen and your vinedressers.

6. But you shall be called the priests of the LORD; it will be said of you, “The ministers of our God;” you will eat the riches of the Gentiles, and you will boast in their glory.

7. For your shame you will have double; instead of dishonor they will rejoice in their portion; therefore in their own land they will possess double; everlasting joy will be theirs.

8. “For I the LORD love justice, I hate robbery for burnt offering; and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9. And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their offspring among the people; all who see them will acknowledge them, that they are the seed the LORD has blessed.”

10. I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul will be joyful in my God; for He has clothed me with the robes of salvation, He covered me with the robe of righteousness and all kings your glory; and as the garden causes that which is sown to grow; so the Lord GOD will cause righteousness and praise to grow before all the nations.

CHAPTER SIXTY-TWO

1. For Zion’s sake I will not be silent, and for Jerusalem’s sake I will not rest, until its righteousness goes out as brightness, and her salvation as a burning torch.

2. And the Gentiles will see your righteousness, and all kings your glory; and you will be called by a new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall name.

3. You also will be a crown of glory in the hand of the LORD, and a royal diadem in the hand of your God.

4. You will no more be called Forsaken; nor will your land any more be called Desolate; but you will be called My Delight is in Her, and your land, Married; for the LORD delights in you, and your land shall be married.

5. For as a young man marries a virgin, so will your sons marry you; and as the bridegroom rejoices over the bride, so will your God rejoice over you.

6. I have set watchmen upon your walls, O Jerusalem, every day and every night. They shall never be silent day or night; you who remember the LORD, do not be silent.

7. And give Him no rest until He establishes and makes Jerusalem a praise in the earth.

8. The LORD has sworn by His right hand, and by the arm of His strength, “Surely I will no more give your grain to be food for your enemies; and the sons of strangers will not drink your wine for which you have labored.

9. But those who have gathered it shall eat it and praise the LORD; and they who have collected it shall drink it in My holy courts.”

10. Go through, go through the gates; prepare the way of the people. Raise up! Raise up the highway; clear away the stones; lift up a banner for the people.

11. Behold, the LORD has sent a message to the end of the earth, “Tell the daughter of Zion, ‘Behold, your salvation comes. Behold, His reward is with Him, and His work before Him.’ ”

12. And they will call them, The Holy People, The Redeemed of the LORD; and you will be called, Sought Out, a city not forsaken.

CHAPTER SIXTY-THREE

1. Who is this that comes from Edom, in crimsoned garments from Bozrah, this One robed in glorious splendor, striving forward in the greatness of His strength? “I who speak in righteousness, mighty to save.”

2. Why is Your clothing red, and Your garments like one who treads in the winepress?

3. “I have trodden the winepress alone; and of the people there was no man with Me; for I will tread them in My anger and trample them in My fury; and their blood will be sprinkled upon My garments, and I stained all My clothing;

4. For the day of vengeance is in My heart, and the year of My redemption has come.

5. And I looked, and there was none to help; and I was astonished that there was no one to uphold; therefore My own arm brought salvation for Me; and My fury upheld Me.
6. And I will tread down the people in My anger, and make them drunk in My fury, and I will pour their lifeblood down to the earth.”
7. I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the LORD, the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD has bestowed on us, and the great good to the house of Israel by which He bestowed on them according to His mercies, and ac-according to the multitude of His lovingkindnesses.
8. For He said, “Surely they are My people, children that will not lie.” So He was their Savior.
9. In all their affliction He was afflicted, and the angel of His Presence saved them; in His love and in His compassion
He redeemed them; and He bore them, and carried them all the days of old.
10. But they rebelled, and troubled His Holy Spirit; therefore He was turned against them.
11. Then He remembered the days of old,
Moses and His people, saying, “Where is He Who brought them up out of the sea with the shepherd of His flock? Where is He Who set His Holy Spirit among them;
the Spirit of the LORD caused them to rest. So You led Your people, to make Himself an everlasting name;
12. Who led them through the deep, like a horse in the wilderness, so that they would not stumble?”
13. As a beast goes down into the valley,
the Spirit of the LORD caused them to rest. So You led Your people, to make Yourself a glorious name.
14. Look, we beseech you, all of us are men; our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away.
15. The house of our holiness and our priests’ sake, return the tribes of Your inheritance.
16. Your holy people have possessed it but a little while; our enemies have trampied Your sanctuary.
17. We have become as those over whom You never ruled, as those who were not called by Your name.

CHAPTER SIXTY-FOUR
1. Oh that You would rend the heavens and come down, that mountains might quake at Your presence,
2. As when the melting fire burns, the fire causes water to boil, to make Your name known to Your adversaries, that the nations may tremble at Your presence!
3. When You did awesome things which we did not look for, You came down, the mountains quaked at Your presence.
4. And from ancient times men have not heard, nor did they perceive, neither has the eye seen, a God besides you Who acts on behalf of those who wait for Him.
5. You meet him who rejoices and works righteousness, those who remembered You in Your ways. Behold, You were angry, for we sinned. We have continued in our sins a long time. How can we be saved?
6. But we are all as the unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags. And we all fade as a leaf; and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away.
7. And there is no one who calls upon Your name, who stirs up himself to take hold of You, for You have hidden Your face from us, and have consumed us away because of our iniquities.
8. But now, O LORD, You are our Father;
we are the clay, and You are our potter;
and we all are the work of Your hand.
9. Do not be grievously angry, O LORD, nor remember iniquity forever. Behold!
Look, we beseech you, all of us are Your people.
10. Your holy cities are a wilderness;
Zion is a wilderness, Jerusalem is a desolation.
11. The house of our holiness and our beauty, where our fathers praised You, is burned up with fire; and all our pleasant things are laid waste.
12. Will You restrain Yourself over these things, O LORD? Will You be silent and sorely afflict us?

CHAPTER SIXTY-FIVE

1. “I revealed Myself to those who asked not for Me; I am found by those who did not seek Me. I said, ‘Behold Me, behold Me,’ to a nation not called by My name.
2. I have spread out My hands all the day to a rebellious people who walk in the way that is not good, even after their own thoughts;
3. A people who without ceasing provoke Me to My face; who sacrifice in gardens, and burn incense upon the bricks;
4. A people who sit among the graves, and spend the night in the tombs, who eat swine’s flesh, and broth of vile things in their vessels;
5. Who say, ‘Keep to yourself, do not come near me; for I am holier than you.’ These are a smoke in My nostrils, a fire that burns all the day.
6. Behold, it is written before Me; I will not be silent, except I will repay; yea, I will repay into their bosom.
7. Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together,” says the LORD, “they that burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed Me upon the hills. And I will measure their former work into their bosom.”
8. Thus says the LORD, “As the new wine is found in the cluster, and wine is found in the cluster, and broth of vile things in their vessels;
9. Who say, ‘Keep to yourself, do not come near me; for I am holier than you.’ These are a smoke in My nostrils, a fire that burns all the day.
10. Behold, it is written before Me; I will not be silent, except I will repay; yea, I will repay into their bosom.
11. But you who forsake the L ORD, who choose for yourselves a surety of the earth, who abhor the L ORD’s judgment; who despise the word of the L ORD; who have not feared the L ORD nor searched for Me;
12. Therefore I will destine you to the sword; and you will all bow down to the slaughter; because I called and you did not answer; when I spoke, you did not hear but did evil before My eyes, and chose that in which I did not delight.”
13. Thus the Lord GOD says, “Behold, My servants will eat, but you will be hungrily. Behold, My servants will drink, but you will be thirsty. Behold, My servants will rejoice, but you will be ashamed.
14. Behold, My servants will sing for joy of heart, but you will cry for sorrow of heart, and will howl for vexation of spirit.
15. And you will leave your name for a curse to My elect; for the Lord GOD will slay you, and call His servants by another name.
16. He who blesses himself in the earth shall bless himself by the God of truth. And he who swears in the earth will swear by the God of truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hidden from My eyes.
17. For behold, I create new heavens and a new earth. And the former things will not be remembered, nor come to mind.
18. But be glad and rejoice forever in that which I create; for behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy.
19. I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and I will joy in My people; and the voice of weeping will no more be heard in her, nor the voice of crying.
20. There will not be an infant who lives but a few days, nor an old man that has not filled his days, for the child will die a hundred years old; but the sinner who is a hundred years old shall be accursed.
21. And they will build houses and live in them; and they will plant vineyards and eat their fruit.
22. They will not build, and another live in them; they will not plant, and another eat; for like the days of a tree are so will be the days of My people, and My elect will long enjoy the work of their hands.
23. They will not labor in vain, nor bring forth children for calamity. For they are the seed of the beloved of the L ORD, and their offspring with them.
24. And it shall come to pass, before they call, I will answer; and while they are still speaking, I will hear.
25. The wolf and the lamb will feed together, and the lion will eat straw like the ox; and dust will be the food of the serpent. They will not hurt nor destroy in all My holy mountain,” says the LORD.

CHAPTER SIXTY-SIX

1. Thus says the LORD, “The heaven is My throne, and the earth is My footstool.
Where, then, is the house that you build for Me? And where is the place of My rest? 2. For all these things My hand has made, and these things came to be,” says the LORD. “But to this one I will look, to him who is of a poor and contrite spirit and who trembles at My Word.

3. He who kills an ox is as if he killed a man; he who sacrifices a lamb is as if he broke a dog’s neck; he who offers a grain offering is as if he offered swine’s blood; he who burns incense is as if he blessed an idol. Yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delights in their abominations.

4. I also will choose their delusions, and I will bring their fears upon them because when I called, no one answered; when I spoke, they did not hear. But they did evil before My eyes and chose that in which I did not delight.”

5. Hear the Word of the LORD, you who tremble at His Word, “Your brethren who hated you, who cast you out for My name’s sake, said, ‘Let the LORD be glorified.’ But He will appear to your joy and they will be ashamed.”

6. A sound of noise from the city, a sound from the temple, the sound of the LORD repaying His enemies.

7. “Before she travailed, she gave birth; before her pain came, she delivered a man child.

8. Who has heard such a thing? Who has seen such things like these? Shall the earth be made to bring forth in one day? Or will a nation be born at once? For as soon as Zion travailed, she also gave birth to her children.

9. Will I bring to the birth, and not cause to be born?” says the LORD. “Shall I cause them to be born, and shut the womb?” says your God.

10. “Rejoice with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all who love her. Rejoice for joy with her, all who mourn for her;

11. That you may suck and be satisfied with her breasts of consolations; that you may milk out and be delights in the fullness of her glory.”

12. For thus says the LORD, “Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the wealth of the nations like a flowing stream. Then you will suck thereof, you will be carried upon her sides and be dandled upon her knees.

13. As one whom his mother comforts, so I will comfort you; and you will be comforted in Jerusalem.”

14. And you will see, and your heart will rejoice, and your bones will flourish like the grass. And the hand of the LORD will be known toward His servants, and His fury toward His enemies,

15. For behold, the LORD will come with fury toward His enemies, and with His chariots like a tempest, to render His anger with fury, and His rebuke with flames of fire,

16. For by fire and by His sword the LORD will execute judgment with all flesh; and the slain of the LORD will be many.

17. “Those who sanctify themselves, and purify themselves to go into the gardens, after the rites of Achad, eating swine’s flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse, will be cut off together,” says the LORD.

18. “For I know their works and their thoughts; it shall come to pass, that I will gather all the nations and tongues; and they will come and see My glory.

19. And I will set a sign among them, and I will send those who escape from them to the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, drawers of the bow; to Tubal, and Javan, to the far away isles that have not heard My fame, nor have seen My glory.

20. And they will declare My glory among the nations.

21. And they will bring all your brethren for an offering to the LORD out of all nations upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon camels, to My holy mountain Jerusalem,” says the LORD, “as the children of Israel bring an offering in a clean vessel into the house of the LORD.

22. And I will also take some of them for priests and for Levites,” says the LORD.

23. “For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before Me,” says the LORD, “so will your seed and your name remain.

24. And it shall come to pass, that from one month to another, and from one Sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before Me,” says the LORD.

25. “And they will go out and see the dead bodies of the men who have rebelled against Me; for their worm will not die, nor will their fire be put out; and they will be an object of abhorring unto all flesh.”
CHAPTER ONE

1. The words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests who were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin.
2. To whom the Word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign.
3. It also came in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, to the exiling of Jerusalem in the fifth month.
4. And it came to pass, the Word of the Lord came to me, saying,
5. “Before I formed you in the belly I knew you; and before you came forth out of the womb I consecrated you, and I ordained you a prophet to the nations.”
6. Then I said, “Alas, Lord God! Behold, I do not know how to speak; for I am a youth.”
7. But the Lord said to me, “Do not say, ‘I am a youth,’ for you shall go to all that I shall send you, and whatever I command you, you shall speak.
8. Do not be afraid of their faces; for I am with you to deliver you,” said the Lord.
9. And the Lord put forth His hand, and touched my mouth. And the Lord said to me, “Behold, I have put My words in your mouth.
10. See, I have this day set you over the nations and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant.”
11. And the Word of the Lord came to me, saying, “Jeremiah, what do you see?” And I said, “I see a rod of an almond tree.”
12. And the Lord said to me, “You have seen well; for I will watch over My Word to perform it.”
13. And the Word of the Lord came to me the second time, saying, “What do you see?” And I said, “I see a boiling pot; and its face is from the north.”
14. And the Lord said to me, “Out of the north the disaster will be set loose on all the inhabitants of the land.
15. For, behold, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north,” says the Lord. “And they shall come, and they shall each one set his throne at the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all its wall all around, and against all the cities of Judah.
16. And I will pronounce My judgments against them regarding all their wickedness in that they have forsaken Me, and burning incense to other gods, and worshipping the works of their own hands.
17. You therefore must gird up your loins, and arise, and speak to them all that I command you. Do not be dismayed at their faces, lest I confound you before them.
18. For, behold, I have made you a fortified city this day, and an iron pillar, and bronze walls against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against its rulers, against its priests, and against the people of the land.
19. And they shall fight against you; but they shall not overcome you. For I am with you,” says the Lord, “to deliver you.”

CHAPTER TWO

1. And the Word of the Lord came to me, saying,
2. “Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, ‘Thus says the Lord, “I remember you, the kindness of your youth, the love of your betrothals, when you went after Me in the wilderness, in a land not sown.
3. Israel was holiness to the Lord, and the firstfruits of His increase. All that devour him shall be held guilty; evil shall come on them,” says the Lord.’”
4. Hear the Word of the Lord, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.
5. Thus says the Lord, “What injustice have your fathers found in Me, that they have gone far from Me and have walked after vanity, and have become vain?
6. Nor did they say, ‘Where is the Lord Who brought us up out of the land of Egypt, Who led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of dry places, and of deep darkness, through a land that no man passed through, and where no man lived?
7. And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat its fruit and its goodness; but when you entered, you defiled My land and made My inheritance an abomination.
8. The priests did not say, ‘Where is the LORD?’ And they who handle the law did not know Me; the rulers also rebelled against Me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal and walked after things that do not profit.
9. Therefore I will contend with you,” says the LORD, “and against your children’s children I will contend.
10. For pass over the coasts of Kittim, and see; and send to Kedar, and carefully consider, and see if there has ever been such a thing as this.
11. Has a nation changed their gods who are yet no gods? But My people have changed their glory for that which does not profit.
12. Be amazed, O heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid; be utterly desolated,” says the LORD, “and against your children I will contend.
13. ‘For My people have committed two evils; they have forsaken Me, the Fountain of living waters, and hewn out cisterns for themselves, broken cisterns that cannot hold water.
14. Is Israel a servant? Or is he a servant of the house? Why has he become a prey?
15. The young lions roared against him; they gave their voice. And they made his land a waste; his cities are burned without inhabitant.
16. Also the sons of Noph and Tahpanhes have shaved the crown of your head. Have you not brought this on yourself, in that you have forsaken the LORD your God, when He led you by the way?
17. And now what profit is there in going the way of Egypt, to drink the waters of Sihor? Or what have you to do in the way of Assyria, to drink the waters of the River?
18. Your own evil shall correct you, and your backslidings shall reprove you; therefore know and see that it is an evil and bitter thing that you have forsaken the LORD your God, and that My fear is not in you,” says the Lord GOD of hosts.
19. For of old time you broke your yoke and tore up your bonds; and you said, ‘I will not serve,’ yea, upon every high hill and under every green tree you lay down like a harlot.
20. Yet I planted you a noble vine, wholly a true seed. How then have you turned into the degenerate shoots of an alien vine to Me?
21. For though you wash yourself with potash, and multiply soap for yourself, yet your iniquity is marked before Me,” declares the Lord GOD.
22. “How can you say, ‘I am not defiled; I have not gone after the Baalim’? See your way in the valley, know what you have done! You are a swift camel traversing its ways;
23. A wild donkey used to the wilderness; in the desire of her passion she sniffs at the wind; in her time of mating who can turn her away? All those who seek her will not weary themselves; in her month they will find her.
24. Withhold your foot from being unshod, and your throat from thirst. But you said, ‘There is no hope; no; for I have loved strangers, and after them I will go.’
25. As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed; they, their kings, their rulers, and their priests, and their prophets;
26. Saying to a tree, ‘You are my father,’ and to a stone, ‘You gave me birth.’ For they have turned their back to Me, and not their face; but in the time of their trouble they will say, ‘Arise and save us!’
27. But where are your gods that you have made for yourselves? Let them arise, if they can save you in the time of your trouble; for according to the number of your cities are your gods, O Judah.
28. Why will you contend with Me? You all have sinned against Me,” says the LORD.
29. “In vain I have stricken your children; they received no correction. Your own sword has devoured your prophets, like a destroying lion.
30. O generation, see the Word of the LORD. Have I been a wilderness to Israel, or a land of thick darkness? Why do My people say, ‘We roam freely; we will come no more to You’?
31. Can a virgin forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? Yet My people have forgotten Me days without number.
33. How you carefully plan your way to seek love. Therefore, even the wicked women you have taught your ways.
34. Also in your skirts is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents; though you did not catch them breaking in.
35. Yet, in spite of all these things you say, ‘Because I am innocent, surely His anger shall turn from me.’ Behold, I will pass judgment on you because you say, ‘I have not sinned.’
36. Why do you go about so much to change your way? You also shall be ashamed of Assyria.
37. Yes, you shall go out from this place, with your hands on your head. For the LORD has rejected those in whom you trust, and you will not prosper by them.”

CHAPTER THREE

1. “They say, ‘If a man puts away his wife, and she goes from him and will be for another man, will he return to her again?’ Would not then that land be greatly defiled? But you have played the harlot with many lovers; yet return to Me,” declares the LORD.
2. “Lift up your eyes to the high places, and see, where have you not been lain with? By the highways you have sat for them, like the Arabian in the wilderness; and you have defiled the land with your fornications and with your wickedness.
3. Therefore the showers have been withheld, and there has been no latter rain; and you refused to be ashamed.
4. Will you not from this time cry to Me, ‘My Father, help, this is how you talk, but you do not keep it to the end?’ Be- hold, I will pass judgment on you because you say, ‘I have not sinned.’
5. Will you not from this time cry to Me, ‘My Father, You are the guide of my youth?’
6. You ask, ‘Will He keep His anger forever? Will He keep it to the end?’ Behold, this is how you talk, but you do evil, and have had your way.”
7. The LORD said to me in the days of Josiah the king, “Have you seen that which backsliding Israel has done? She has gone up on every high mountain and under every green tree, and has played the harlot there.
8. And I said after she had done all these things, ‘She will return to Me!’ But she did not return. And her treacherous sister Judah saw it.
9. And I saw, when for all the causes for which backsliding Israel committed adultery, I sent her away and gave a bill of divorce to her, yet her treacherous sister Judah did not fear, but she went and played the harlot also.
10. And yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah has not turned to Me with her whole heart, but with deception,” says the LORD.
11. And the LORD said to me, “The backsliding Israel has justified herself more than treacherous Judah.
12. Go and cry these words toward the north, and say, ‘Return, O backsliding Israel,’ says the LORD; ‘and I will not cause My anger to fall on you; for I am merciful,’ says the LORD, ‘and I will not keep My anger forever.
13. Only acknowledge your iniquity, that you have transgressed against the LORD your God and have scattered your ways to strangers under every green tree, and you have not obeyed My voice,’ ” says the LORD.
14. “Turn, O backsliding children,” says the LORD; “for I am your husband; and I will take you one from a city, and two from a family, and I will bring you to Zion.
15. And I will give you shepherds according to My heart, who shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.
16. And it will be when you have multiplied and increased in the land, in those days,” says the LORD, “they shall say no more, ‘The ark of the covenant of the LORD!’ Nor shall it come to mind; nor shall they remember it; nor shall they visit it; nor shall it be made any more.
17. At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the LORD; and all nations shall be gathered to it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem. Nor shall they walk any more after the stubbornness of their evil heart.
18. In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I have given for an inheritance to your fathers.
19. But I said, ‘How shall I put you among the children, and give you a pleasant land, a beautiful inheritance among the hosts of nations? And I said, ‘You shall call Me, “My Father,” and shall not turn away from Me.’

20. Surely as a wife treacherously departs from her husband, so you have dealt treacherously with Me, O house of Israel,” says the LORD.

21. A voice was heard upon the high places weeping and supplications of the children of Israel; for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the LORD their God.

22. “Return, O backsliding children, and I will heal your backslidings.” “Behold, we come to You; for You are the LORD our God.

23. Truly, in vain is salvation hoped for from the high hills, from the multitude of mountains. Truly, in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel.

24. The shameful thing has eaten up the labor of our fathers from our youth, their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters.

25. We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covers us; for we have sinned against the LORD our God.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. “If you will return, O Israel,” says the LORD, “Return to Me. And if you will put away your abominations out of My sight, then you shall not be removed.

2. And will swear, ‘As the LORD lives,’ in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; then the nations shall bless themselves in Him, and in Him they shall glory.”

3. For thus says the LORD to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem, “Break up your fallow ground, and do not sow among thorns.

4. Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and take away the foreskins of your heart, men of Judah and people of Jerusalem; lest My fury come forth like fire, and burn so that none can put it out; because of the evil of your doings.”

5. Declare in Judah, and let it be heard in Jerusalem; and say, “Blow the ram’s horn in the land; cry, gather together, and say, ‘Gather yourselves and let us go into the fortified cities.’

6. Set up the banner toward Zion; flee for safety and do not wait; for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction.”

7. The lion has come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the nations has set out; he has left his place to make your land a waste. Your cities will fall into ruins without inhabitant.

8. Put on sackcloth for this, wail and howl; for the fierce anger of the LORD has not turned back from us.

9. “And it shall come to pass at that day,” says the LORD, “the king’s heart will perish, and the heart of the rulers; and the priests will be amazed, and the prophets will be astounded.”

10. Then I said, “Ah, Lord GOD! Surely You have greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, ‘You shall have peace,’ whereas a sword reaches to the soul.”

11. At that time it shall be said to this people and to Jerusalem, “A scorching wind blows from the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of My people, not to sift nor to cleanse.

12. But, a wind more powerful than these shall come from Me. Now also I will utter judgments against them.”

13. Behold, he shall come up like clouds, and his chariots like a tempest. His horses are swifter than eagles. Woe to us, for we are plundered!

14. O Jerusalem, cleanse your heart from evil so that you may be saved. How long shall your wicked thoughts lodge within you?

15. For a voice declares from Dan, and proclaims disaster from Mount Ephraim.

16. “Tell it to the nations: Behold! Proclaim against Jerusalem! Besiegers are going to come from a distant land; and they will set their voice against the cities of Judah.

17. Like watchmen of a field, they are against her all around; because she rebelled against Me,” says the LORD.

18. “Your way and your doings have brought these things upon you; this is your evil, how bitter it is! How it pierces into your heart.”

19. My bowels, my bowels! I write in pain. Ó walls of my heart! My heart is beating wildly within me; I cannot be silent because you have heard, Ó my soul, the sound of the ram’s horn, the alarm of war.
20. Destruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is laid waste. Suddenly my tents are laid waste, my curtains in a moment.
21. How long shall I see the banner of war, and hear the sound of the ram’s horn?
22. “For My people are foolish; they have not known Me; they are stupid children, and they have no understanding. They are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.”
23. I looked on the earth, and, lo, it was without form and void; and the heavens, they had no light.
24. I looked on the earth, and, lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens had fled.
25. I looked, and, lo, a wilderness, and all its cities were broken down before the face of the LORD, by His fierce anger.
26. The earth shall mourn for this, and the heavens above shall be black because it.
27. For thus has the LORD said, “The whole land shall be desolate, yet I will not make a full end.
28. The earth shall mourn for this, and all the cities were laid waste. Every city is abandoned, and not a man shall dwell in them.
29. Every city shall flee from the sound of the horsemen and bowmen. They shall go into thickets and climb up among the rocks. Every city is abandoned, and not a man shall dwell in them.
30. And you, O desolate one, what will you do? Though you dress with crimson, though you put on ornaments of gold, though you make your eyes large with paint, you shall make yourself beautiful in vain; your lovers will despise you; they will seek your life.
31. For I have heard a voice as of a woman in labor, the anguish as one bearing her first child, the voice of Zion’s daughter, gasping and spreading her hands, saying, “Woe to me now! For my life is given to the murderers.” ”

CHAPTER FIVE

1. “Run to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in her open places, if you can find a man, if there is one who does justice, who seeks the truth; and I will pardon her.
2. And though they say, ‘As the LORD lives,’ surely they swear falsely.”
3. O LORD, are not Your eyes on the truth? You have stricken them, but they have not grievèd; You have destroyed them, but they have refused to receive correction; they have made their faces harder than rock; they have refused to return.
4. Therefore I said, “Surely these are poor; they are foolish; for they do not know the way of the LORD, nor the judgment of their God.
5. I will go up for myself to the great men, and will speak to them; for they have known the way of the LORD and the judgment of their God.”
6. Therefore a lion out of the forest shall kill them, and a wolf of the deserts shall rob them; a leopard shall watch over their cities. Everyone who goes out from them shall be torn in pieces because their sins are many and their backslidings are multiplied.
7. “How shall I pardon you for this? Your children have forsaken Me, and have sworn by them that are not gods. When I had fed them to the full, then they committed adultery, and gathered themselves by troops in a harlot’s house.
8. They were like lusty, well-fed stallions in the morning; every one neighing after his neighbor’s wife.
9. Shall I not punish for these things?” says the LORD. “And shall not My soul be avenged on such a nation as this?
10. Go up upon her walls and destroy; but do not make a full end; take away her branches, for they are not the LORD’S.
11. For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very deceitfully against Me,” says the LORD.
12. They have lied against the LORD and said, “It is not He; neither shall evil come upon us; nor shall we see sword nor famine.
13. And the prophets shall become as wind, for the word is not in them; thus it shall be done to them.”
14. Therefore thus says the LORD God of hosts, “Because you have spoken this word, behold, I will make My words in your mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.
15. Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from afar, O house of Israel,” says the LORD. “It is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language you do not know, nor understand what they say.
16. Their quiver is as an open grave; they are all mighty men.
17. And they shall eat up your harvest and your bread, your sons and your daughters they shall eat up. They shall eat up your flocks and your herds; they shall eat up your vines and your fig trees. They shall beat down your fortified cities with the sword.
18. But even in those days,” says the LORD, “I will not make a complete end with you.
19. And it will be, when they shall ask, ‘Why does the LORD our God do all these things to us?’ Then you shall answer them, ‘Just as you have forsaken Me and served strange gods in your land, so you shall serve strangers in a land that is not yours.’”
20. “Declare this in the house of Jacob, and cry it in Judah, saying,
21. ‘Now hear this, O foolish people and without understanding; who have eyes and see not; who have ears and hear not;
22. Do you not fear Me?’ says the LORD. ‘Will you not tremble at My presence, and see not; who have ears and hear not; without understanding; who have eyes and see not, nor understand what they hear? Behold, you do not know, nor understand what these things mean.’
23. But this people has a revolting and a rebellious heart; they have revolted and are departed from Me.
24. And they do not say in their heart, “Let us now fear the LORD our God, Who gives both the former and the latter rain in its season; He reserves to us the appointed weeks of the harvest.”
25. Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withheld good things from you.
26. For among My people are found wicked ones; they lie in wait, as one who sets snares; they set a trap, they catch men.
27. Like a cage full of birds, so their houses are full of deceit; therefore they have become great and grown rich.
28. They have become fat, they have become sleek. Yea, they excel in evil deeds; they do not plead the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper; and they do not defend the right of the needy.
29. Shall I not punish for these things?’ says the LORD. ‘Shall not My soul be avenged on such a nation as this?
30. An astounding and horrible thing has happened in the land.
31. The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule by their means; and My people love to have it so, and what will you do at the end of it?’ ”

CHAPTER SIX

1. “O children of Benjamin, flee for safety out of the midst of Jerusalem. And blow the ram’s horn in Tekoa, and set up a signal-fire over Beth Haccerem; for evil appears out of the north, and great destruction comes.
2. I will destroy the daughter of Zion, the beautiful and tender one.
3. The shepherds with their flocks shall come to her; they shall pitch tents against her all around; they shall graze each one his portion.
4. “Prepare war against her; arise and let us go up at noon. Woe to us! For the day goes away, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out.
5. Arise, and let us go by night, and let us destroy her palaces.”
6. For thus has the LORD of hosts said, “Cut down trees and cast a mound against Jerusalem! She is the city to be punished; there is nothing but oppression in her midst.
7. As a fountain keeps fresh her waters, so she keeps fresh her evil; violence and spoil is heard in her; continually before Me are grief and wounds.
8. O Jerusalem, take warning, lest My soul depart from you; lest I make you desolate, a land without people.
9. Thus says the LORD of hosts, “They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel like a vine; pass your hand again as a grape gatherer over the branches.”
10. “To whom shall I speak, and give warning, that they may hear? Behold, their ears are not circumcised, and they cannot hearken. Behold, the Word of the LORD is to them a reproach; they have no delight in it.

11. Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD; I am weary with holding in; pour it out on the children in the street, and on the assembly of young men together. For even the husband with the wife shall be taken as well as the aged with fullness of days.

12. And their houses shall be turned over to others, together with their fields and wives; for I will stretch out My hand on the inhabitants of the land,” says the LORD.

13. “For everyone from the least of them even to the greatest of them is greedy for gain; and from the prophet even unto the priest everyone deals falsely.

14. They have also healed the hurt of the daughter of My people slightly, saying, ‘Peace, peace,’ when there is no peace.

15. Were they ashamed when they had heard the voice of the second? they despised My holy words; and they said, ‘With our hands we have not labored; nor do we see labor; nor have we hearkened to the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in His laws, which He set before us.’

16. Stand in the gate of the LORD’S house, and proclaim there this Word, and say, ‘Hearken to the sound of the ram’s horn.’ But they said, ‘We will not hearken.’

17. Therefore hear, you nations, and know, O congregation, what will happen to them.

18. Hear, O earth; behold, I will bring evil on this people, even the fruit of their thoughts because they have not hearkened to My words, nor to My law, but have rejected it.

19. To what purpose does frankincense come to Me from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? Your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet to Me.”

20. Therefore thus says the LORD, “Behold, I will lay stumbling blocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall upon them; the neighbor and his friend shall perish.”

21. Thus says the LORD, “Behold, a people comes from the north country, and a great nation shall be raised from the ends of the earth.

22. They shall lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel and have no mercy; their voice roars like the sea; and they ride on horses, arrayed in battle order like men for war against you, O daughter of Zion.”

23. We have heard the report of it; our hands become feeble; anguish has taken hold of us, and pain, like a woman in labor.

24. Do not go out into the field, nor walk by the way; for the sword of the enemy and fear are on every side.

25. O daughter of my people put on sackcloth, and wallow in ashes; make mourning for yourself, as for an only son, a most bitter lament; for the destroyer shall suddenly come on us.

27. ‘I have made you like an assayer, and an examiner among My people, that you may know and try their way.

28. They are all grievous revolters, walking in slanders; they are erect and iron; they are all corrupters.

29. The bellows blow fiercely, the lead is melted by the fire; the refiner melts in vain; for the wicked are not plucked away.

30. Rejected silver men call them because the LORD has rejected them.”

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. The Word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying, “Stand in the gate of the LORD’S house, and proclaim there this Word, and say, ‘Hear the Word of the LORD, all Judah, who enter in at these gates to worship the LORD.’ ”

2. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.

3. Do not trust in lying words, saying, ‘The temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD are these.’

4. For if you thoroughly amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.

5. If you do not oppress the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and do not shed innocent blood in this place, nor walk after other gods to your hurt;
7. Then I will cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, forever and ever.
8. Behold, you trust in lying words that cannot profit.
9. Will you steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense to Baal, and walk after other gods whom you do not know?
10. And then come and stand before Me in this house which is called by My name, and say, ‘We are delivered to do all these abominations’?
11. Has this house, which is called by My name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it,” says the LORD.
12. “But now go to My place which was in Shiloh, where I set My name at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of My people Israel.
13. And now because you have done all these works,” says the LORD, “and I spoke to you, rising up early and speaking, but you did not hear; and I called you, but you did not answer;
14. Therefore I will do to this house, which is called by My name, in which you trust, and to the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have done to Shiloh.
15. And I will cast you out of My sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, the whole seed of Ephraim.
16. Therefore do not pray for this people, nor lift up cry nor prayer for them, nor make intercession to Me; for I will not hear you.
17. Do you not see what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?
18. The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven and to pour out drink offerings to other gods, that they may provoke Me to anger.
19. Do they provoke Me to anger?” says the LORD. “Do they not provoke themselves, to the confusion of their own faces?”
20. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: “Behold, My anger and My fury shall be poured out on this place, on man, and on beast, and on the trees of the field, and on the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be put out.”

21. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices, and eat flesh.
22. For I did not speak to your fathers, or command them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices.
23. But this thing I commanded them, saying, ‘Obey My voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be My people; and walk in all the ways that I have commanded you, so that it may be well with you.’
24. But they did not obey, nor bow their ear, but walked in their own counsels, in the imagination of their evil heart, and went backward and not forward.
25. Since the day that your fathers came out of the land of Egypt until this day, I have even sent to you all My servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them,
26. Yet they did not hearken to Me, nor bow down their ear, but hardened their neck. They did worse than their fathers.
27. Thus you shall speak all these words to them, but they will not hearken to you; you shall also call to them, but they will not answer you.
28. But you shall say to them, ‘This is a nation which does not obey the voice of the LORD their God, nor receives correction; truth has perished, and is cut off from their mouth.
29. Cut off your hair and throw it away, and take up a lamentation on the high places. For the LORD has rejected and forsaken the generation of His wrath.’
30. For the children of Judah have done evil in My sight,” says the LORD. “They have set their abominations in the house which is called by My name, to pollute it.
31. They have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire; which I did not command them, nor did it even come into My mind.
32. Therefore, behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that it shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the son of Hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter. For they shall bury in Tophet, until there is no place left.
33. And the bodies of this people shall be food for the birds of the heavens, and for the beasts of the earth; and none shall frighten them away.

34. Then I will cause the voice of gladness to cease from the cities of Judah and from the streets of Jerusalem, and the voice of joy, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride. For the land shall be desolate."

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. “At that time,” says the LORD, “they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of its rulers, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the people of Jerusalem, out of their graves.

2. And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of the heavens, whom they have loved and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshiped. They shall not be gathered nor buried; they shall be as dung on the face of the earth.

3. And death shall be chosen rather than life by all the rest of those who remain of that evil family, who remain in all the places where I have driven them,” says the LORD of hosts.

4. “And you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD; ‘Shall they fall and not arise? Shall one turn away and not repent?

5. Why has this people of Jerusalem slid back by a never-ending backsliding? They hold fast to deceit; they refuse to repent.

6. I listened and heard, but they did not speak right; no man repented of his wickedness, saying, ‘What have I done?’ Everyone turned in their own courses, as the horse rushes into the battle.

7. Yea, the stork in heaven knows her appointed times; and the turtle and the crane and the swallow watch the time of their migration; but my people do not know the judgment of the LORD.

8. How do you say, ‘We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us’? Lo, certainly the lying pen of the scribes has written falsely.

9. The wise men are ashamed, they are terrified, and are captured. Lo, they have turned away from the Word of the LORD; and what wisdom is in them?

10. Therefore I will give their wives to others, and their fields to those who shall inherit them, for everyone from the least even to the greatest is given unto covetousness. From the prophet even to the priest everyone deals falsely.

11. For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of My people slightly, saying, ‘Peace, peace;’ when there is no peace.

12. Were they ashamed when they had committed an abomination? No, they were not at all ashamed, nor could they blush; therefore they shall fall among those who fall; in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down,” says the LORD.

13. “I will utterly consume them,” says the LORD; “there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the leaf shall fade; and the things that I have given them shall pass away from them.”

14. “Why do we sit still? Gather yourselves, and let us enter into the fortified cities, and let us perish there. For the LORD our God has doomed us and has given us poisonous water to drink because we have sinned against the LORD.

15. We looked for peace, but no good came; and for a time of health, but behold, trouble!

16. The snorting of his horses was heard from Dan; the whole land trembled at the sound of the neighing of his stallions. For they have come, and have devoured the land, and all that is in it; the city, and those who live in it.”

17. “For, behold, I will send serpents and vipers among you, which will not be charmed; and they shall bite you,” says the LORD.

18. When I would comfort myself against sorrow, even my heart is faint within me.

19. Behold the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people from a far country: “Is not the LORD in Zion? Is not her King in her?” “Why have they provoked Me with their graven images, with strange vanities?”

20. “The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.”

21. For the shattering of the daughter of my people have I been shaven (in heart). I mourn, dismay has taken hold of me.

22. Is there no balm in Gilead? Is there no physician there? Why then has the healing of the daughter of My people not come?
CHAPTER NINE

1. Oh, that my head were waters, and my eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!

2. Oh, that I had in the wilderness a lodging place for traveling men, that I might leave my people and go away from them! For they are all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.

3. “And they bend their tongues like their bow for lies. But they are not valiant for the truth on the earth; for they go from evil to evil, and they do not know Me,” says the LORD.

4. “Everyone beware of his neighbor, and do not trust any brother! For every brother will supplant his neighbor, and will walk with slanders.

5. And everyone will deceive his neighbor and will not speak the truth; they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and they weary themselves to commit iniquity.

6. Your dwelling is in the midst of deceit; through deceit they refuse to know Me,” says the LORD.

7. Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, “Behold, I will refine them and try them; for they are all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.

8. “And they bend their tongues like their bow for lies. But they are not valiant for the truth on the earth; for they go from evil to evil, and they do not know Me,” says the LORD.

13. And the LORD says, “Because they have forsaken My law which I set before them, and have not obeyed My voice, and have not walked in it,

14. But they have walked after the imagination of their own heart, and after the Baalim, which their fathers taught them.”

15. Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and make them drink poisonous water.

16. I will also scatter them among the nations, whom neither they nor their fathers have known. And I will send a sword after them until I have consumed them.”

17. Thus says the LORD of hosts, “Think carefully, and call for the mourning women, that they may come. And send for the wise women, that they may come; and let them make haste and take up a weeping for us, so that our eyes may run down with tears, and waters flow from our eyelids.

19. For a voice of weeping is heard out of Zion. ‘How are we plundered! We are greatly ashamed because we have forsaken the land, because they have cast down our dwellings.’ ”

20. Yet hear the Word of the LORD, O women, and let your ear receive the word of His mouth, and teach your daughters to weep, and each one teach her neighbor to mourn.

21. For death has come up into our windows, and has entered into our palaces, to cut off the children from the street and the young men from the town squares.

22. Speak, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Even the bodies of men shall fall as dung on the open field, and as the fallen grain after the reaper; and none shall gather them.’ ”

23. Thus says the LORD, “Do not let the wise man glory in his wisdom, nor let the mighty man glory in his might; do not let the rich man glory in his riches;

24. But let him who glories glory in this, that he understands and knows Me, that I am the LORD, exercising loving-kindness, justice, and righteousness, in the earth; for in these I delight,” says the LORD.

25. “Behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will punish all those who are circumcised only in the flesh.
CHAPTER TEN

1. Hear the word which the LORD speaks to you, O house of Israel.
2. Thus says the LORD, “Do not learn the way of the heathen, and do not be terrified at the signs of the heavens; for the nations are terrified at them.
3. For the customs of the people are vain; for one cuts a tree out of the forest with the axe, the work of the hands of the workman.
4. They adorn it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and hammers, so that it will not move.
5. They are upright as the palm tree, but cannot speak. They must surely be carried because they cannot walk. Do not be afraid of them; for they cannot do evil nor good, for it is not in them.
6. Therefore there is none like You, O LORD; You are great, and Your name is great in might.
7. Who would not fear You, O King of nations? For fear belongs to You because among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is none like You.
8. But they are altogether foolish and animal-like; the tree is a doctrine of vanities.
9. Silver beaten into plates is brought from Tarshish, and gold from Uphaz, the work of the workman, and of the hands of the goldsmith. Violet and purple are their clothing; they are all the work of skillful ones.
10. But the LORD is the true God, He is the living God, and the everlasting King. At His wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able to stand His fury.
11. Thus you shall say to them, “The gods who have not made the heavens and the earth, they shall perish from the earth and from under these heavens.”
12. He has made the earth by His power; He has established the world by His wisdom, and has stretched out the heavens by His judgment.
13. When He utters His voice, there is a noise of a multitude of waters in the heavens. “He causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth; He makes lightnings with rain, and brings forth the wind out of His treasures.”
14. Every man is stupid for lack of knowledge; every refiner is put to shame by the graven image; for his molten image is a lie, and there is no breath in them.
15. They are vanity, the work of delusion; in the time of their judgment they shall perish.
16. The Portion of Jacob is not like them; for He is the Maker of all things; and Israel is the tribe of His inheritance; the LORD of hosts is His name.
17. Gather up your bundle from the ground, you who live in the siege.
18. For thus says the LORD, “Behold, I will sling out the people of the land at this time, and will distress them, so that they may find Me.”
19. Woe to me because of my injury! My wound is grievous; but I said, “Truly this is a malady, and I must bear it.”
20. “My tabernacle is ravaged, and all my cords are broken; My sons went away from me, and they are not. There is none to stretch out My tabernacle any more, and to set up My curtains.
21. For the pastors have become stupid, and have not sought the LORD, therefore they shall not be blessed, and all their flocks shall be scattered.”
22. Behold, the noise of the rumor has come, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah a desolation, a den of jackals.
23. O LORD, I know that the way of man is not in himself; it is not in man who walks to direct his steps.
24. O LORD, correct me, but with judgment; not in Your anger, lest You bring me to nothing.
25. Pour out Your fury on the nations who do not know You, and on the families who do not call on Your name; for they have eaten up Jacob and have devoured him, and have destroyed him, and have made his dwelling desolate.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD saying,
2. “Hear the words of this covenant, and...
And say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD God of Israel, “Cursed is the man who does not obey the words of this covenant, 4. Which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, ‘Obey My voice and do according to all that I command you; so you shall be My people, and I will be your God;’ 5. So that I may fulfill the oath which I God’; shall be My people, and I will be your saying, ‘Obey My voice and do according to all that I command you; so you shall be My people, and I will be your God;’ 6. Then the LORD said to me, “Declare all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, ‘Hear the words of this covenant, and do them, 7. For I earnestly forewarned your fathers in the day I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even to this day, rising early and warning persistently, saying, “Obey My voice.” 8. Yet they did not obey nor bow down their ear, but walked each one in the imagination of his evil heart. So I will bring on them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do; but they did not do them.”’ 9. And the LORD said to me, “A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the people of Jerusalem. 10. They have turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, who refused to hear My words. And they went after other gods to serve them. The house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken My covenant which I made with their fathers.” 11. Thus says the LORD, “Behold, I will bring evil on them, which they shall not be able to escape; and though they shall cry to Me, I will not hear them. 12. Then shall the cities of Judah and the people of Jerusalem go and cry to the gods to whom they offer incense. But they shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble. 13. For according to the number of your cities are your gods, O Judah. And according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem you have set up altars to that shameful thing, altars to burn incense to Baal. 14. And you, do not pray for this people, nor lift up a cry or prayer for them. For I will not hear them when they call to Me in the time of their distress. 15. What has My beloved to do in My house, since she has committed lewdness with many? And the holy flesh has passed from you. When you do evil, then you rejoice. 16. The LORD called your name, a green olive tree, fair, with fine fruit. With the sound of a great storm He has set fire to it, and its branches are worthless. 17. For the LORD of hosts who planted you has spoken evil against you, for the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have done to themselves to provoke Me to anger by offering incense to Baal.” 18. And the LORD has given me knowledge of it, and I knew. Then You showed me their doings. 19. But I was like a docile lamb being brought to the slaughter. And I did not know that they had plotted devised plots against me, saying, “Let us destroy the tree with its fruit, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, so that his name may be remembered no more.” 20. But, O LORD of hosts Who judges righteously, Who tries the heart and the mind, let me see Your vengeance on them. For to You I have committed my cause. 21. “Therefore thus says the LORD of the men of Anathoth, who seek your life, saying, ‘Do not prophesy in the name of the LORD, that you do not die by our hand.’ 22. Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘Behold, I will punish them. The young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine; 23. And there shall be no remnant of them. For I will bring evil on the men of Anathoth, in the year of their judgment.’”

CHAPTER TWELVE

1. Righteous are You, O LORD, that I might plead with You; yet let me speak with You about Your judgments. Why does the way of the wicked prosper? Why are all they happy who deal treacherously?
2. You have planted them; yea, they take root. They grow, yea, they bring forth fruit. You are near in their mouth and far from their reins.

3. But You, O LORD, know me. You have seen me and tried my heart toward You. Pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and devote them for the day of slaughter.

4. How long shall the land mourn, and the grass of every field wither from the evil of those who dwell in it? The beasts and the birds have been destroyed because they said, “He shall not see our final end.”

5. “If you have run with footmen, and they wore you out, then how can you compete with horses? And if you feel secure in the land of peace, how then will you do in the thick brush of the Jordan?”

6. For even your brethren and the house of your father, even they have dealt treacherously with you. Yea, they have called aloud against you. Do not believe them, even if they speak good things to you.

7. I have forsaken My house; I have left My inheritance. I have given the dearly beloved of My soul into the hand of her enemies.

8. My inheritance is to Me as a lion in the forest; she cries out against Me; she is like a speckled bird to Me; the birds all around are against her. Go, gather all the beasts of the field, bring them to devour.

9. My inheritance is like a vineyard; they have trampled My portion under foot; they have made My pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

10. Many shepherds have destroyed My vineyard; they have trampled My portion under foot; they have made My pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

11. They have made it a desolation, it lays it to heart.

12. Destroyers have come on all the high places through the wilderness; for the sword of the LORD shall devour from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land. No flesh shall have peace.

13. They have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns. They wear themselves out, but they do not profit. And they shall be ashamed of their harvests because of the fierce anger of the LORD.”

14. Thus says the LORD, “Against all My evil neighbors who touch the inheritance which I have caused My people Israel to inherit—behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Judah from among them.

15. And it shall come to pass after I have plucked them out, I will return and have compassion on them, and will bring them again, each man to his inheritance and each man to his land.

16. And it shall come to pass if they will diligently learn the ways of My people, to swear by My name, ‘As the LORD lives;’ as they taught the people to swear by Baal; then they shall be built in the midst of My people.

17. But if they will not obey, I will utterly uproot and destroy that nation,” says the LORD.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. Thus says the LORD to me, “Go and buy for yourself a linen girdle, and put it on your loins, and do not put it in water.”

2. So I bought a girdle according to the word of the LORD, and put it on my loins.

3. And the Word of the LORD came to me a second time, saying,

4. “Take the girdle that you bought, and put it on your loins, and do not put it in water.”

5. So I went and hid it by the Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole in the rock.”

6. And it came to pass at the end of many days the LORD said to me, “Arise, go to the Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.”

7. Then I went to the Euphrates and dug, and took the girdle from the place where I had hidden it. And, behold, the girdle was spoiled; it was not good for anything.

8. Then I went to the Euphrates and dug, and took the girdle from there, which I commanded you to hide there.”

9. “Thus says the LORD, ‘In this way I will spoil the pride of Judah and the great pride of Jerusalem.”

10. This evil people, who refuse to hear My words, who walk in the stubbornness of their heart and walk after other gods to serve them and to worship them, shall even be like this girdle, which is good for nothing.

11. For as the girdle holds fast to the loins of a man, so I have caused the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah to cling to Me,’ says the LORD; ‘so that they might be to Me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory; but they would not hear.’

12. Therefore you will speak unto them this word, ‘Thus says the LORD God of Israel, “Every wineskin shall be filled with wine.”’ And they shall say to you, ‘Do we not surely know that every wineskin is filled with wine?’

13. Then you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Behold, I will fill all the people of this land, even the kings that sit on David’s throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people of Jerusalem, with drunkenness.

14. And I will smash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together,” says the LORD. “I will not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy, to keep them from their destruction.”’

15. Hear and give ear; do not be proud; for the LORD has spoken.

16. Give glory to the LORD your God, before He causes darkness, and before your feet stumble on the dark mountains, and, while you look for light, He turns it into the shadow of death, making it gross darkness.

17. But if you will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret places for your pride. And my eye shall weep sore and run down with tears because the LORD’s flock is carried away captive.

18. Say to the king and to the queen mother, “Humble yourselves, sit down; for your greatness shall come down, even the crown of your glory.”

19. The cities of the south have been shut up, and none shall open them; Judah has been exiled, all of it has been wholly exiled.

20. Lift up your eyes and behold those that come from the north. Where is the flock that was given to you, your beautiful flock?

21. What will you say when He shall set as head over you former friends whom you yourselves have trained against you? Shall not pangs of sorrow seize you, like a woman in travail?

22. And if you say in your heart, “Why do these things come upon me?” It is because of the greatness of your iniquity; your skirts are lifted up, and your heels suffer violence.

23. Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard its spots? Then you also may do good, who are accustomed to doing evil.

24. “Therefore I will scatter them as chaff driven away by the wind of the wilderness.

25. This is your lot, the portion I have measured out to you,” says the LORD, “because you have forgotten Me and trusted in falsehood.

26. Therefore I also have stripped off your skirts over your face, that your shame may appear.

27. I have seen your adulteries, and your neighings, the wickedness of your whoredoms, and your abominations on the hills in the fields. Woe to you, O Jerusalem! Will you not be made clean? When will it ever be?”

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

1. The Word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah concerning the matter of droughts.

2. “Judah mourns, and its gates languish. Her people are mourning on the ground, and the cry of Jerusalem goes up.

3. And their nobles have sent their little ones for the water; they came to the cisterns, and found no water. They returned with their vessels empty; they were ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads.

4. Because the ground was cracked, for there was no rain in the earth, the plowmen were ashamed; they covered their heads.

5. Yea, the doe also calved in the field and forsook it because there was no grass.

6. And the wild donkeys stood in the high places; they panted for air like jackals; their eyes failed because there was no grass.”

7. O LORD, though our iniquities testify against us, act for Your name’s sake; for our backslidings are many; we have sinned against You.

8. O the Hope of Israel, its Savior in time of trouble, why should You be as a stranger in the land, and as a traveler turning in to lodge for a night?

9. Why should You be as a man confused, as one mighty, but who cannot save? Yet You, O LORD, are in our midst, and we are called by Your name. Do not leave us!

10. Thus says the LORD to this people: “Even so they have loved to wander; they have not restrained their feet; therefore the LORD does not accept them. He will now remember their iniquity and visit their sins.”

11. Then the LORD said to me, “Do not pray for this people for good.

12. When they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and a grain offering, I will not accept them. But I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the plague.”

13. Then I said, “Ah, O Lord God! Behold, the prophets are saying to them, ‘You shall not see the sword, nor shall you have famine; but I will give you true peace in this place.’ ”

14. And the LORD said to me, “The prophets prophesy lies in My name: I did not send them, nor have I commanded them, nor did I speak to them. They prophesy to you a false vision and a worthless divination, and a thing of no value, and the deceit of their heart.

15. Therefore the LORD says this concerning the prophets who prophesy in My name, and I did not send them, yet they say, ‘Sword and famine shall not be in this land’—‘By sword and famine those prophets shall be consumed.

16. And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword; and they shall have none to bury them, neither them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters. For I will pour their own wickedness upon them.’

17. And you shall speak this word to them, ‘Let my eyes run down with tears night and day, and do not let them cease. For the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great wound, with a very grievous blow.

18. If I go out into the field, then I see those killed with the sword! And if I enter into the city, then, behold, the sicknesses of famine! Yes, both the prophet and the priest have gone up into a land that they do not know.’ ”

19. Have You utterly rejected Judah? Or has Your soul hated Zion? Why have You stricken us, and there is no healing for us? We looked for peace, but no good came; and for the time of healing, and behold, trouble!

20. We acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers; for we have sinned against You.

21. Do not abhor us for Your name’s sake, do not disgrace the throne of Your glory; remember, do not break Your covenant with us.

22. Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles who can make rain fall? Or can the heavens give showers? Is it not You, O LORD our God? Then we will wait for You; for You do all these things.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

1. Then the LORD said to me, “Though Moses and Samuel stood before Me, My soul could not be toward this people. Cast them out of My sight, and let them go out.

2. And it will be, if they say to you, ‘Where shall we go?’ Then you shall tell them, ‘Thus says the LORD, ‘Those who are for death, to death; and those for the sword, to the sword; and those for the famine, to the famine; and those for the captivity, to the captivity.’ ”

3. And I will appoint over them four kinds of destroyers,” says the LORD; “the sword to kill, and the dogs to tear, and the birds of the heavens and the beasts of the earth to devour and destroy.

4. And I will make them a horror to all kingdoms of the earth because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, for what he did in Jerusalem.

5. For who shall have pity on you, O Jerusalem? Or who shall weep over you? Or who shall turn aside to ask about your welfare?

6. You have forsaken Me,” says the LORD; “you have gone backward; therefore I will stretch out My hand against you, and destroy you; I am weary with repenting.

7. And I will winnow them with a winnowing fan in the gates of the land: I will bereave them of children; I will destroy My people, since they do not turn from their ways.

8. I have made their widows more numerous than the sand of the seas; I have brought upon them, against the mother of the young men, a destroyer at noonday; I have caused anguish and terror to fall on them suddenly.
9. “She who bore seven languishes; she has breathed out her life; her sun has gone down while it was yet day. She has been ashamed and humiliated; and I will deliver the rest of them to the sword before their enemies,” says the LORD.

10. Woe is me, my mother, that you have borne me, a man of strife and a man of contention. Truly I will cause the enemy to entreat you well in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.

11. The LORD said, “Truly it shall be well with your remnant. Truly I will cause the enemy to entreat you well in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.

12. Can one break iron, iron or bronze from the north?

13. Your wealth and your treasures I will give for spoil without price, but for all your sins, even in all your borders.

14. And I will make you pass with your enemies into a land which you do not know. For a fire has been kindled in My anger; it shall burn against you.”

15. O LORD, You know; remember me and visit me, and take vengeance for me on those who seek to hurt me. Do not make me away even in the slowness of Your anger; know that for Your sake I have suffered rebuke.

16. Your words were found, and I ate them; and Your Word was to me the joy and gladness of my heart; for I am called by Your name, O LORD God of hosts.

17. I did not sit in the circle of revelers, nor rejoice; I sat alone because of Your hand; for You have filled me with indignation.

18. Why has my pain been without end, and why is my wound incurable, refusing to be healed? Why have you become like a failing brook to Me?

19. Therefore thus says the LORD, “If you return, then I will bring you again; you shall stand before Me. And if you shall speak what is precious and not what is worthless, you shall be as My mouth. Let them turn to you, but you shall not turn to them.

20. And I will make you to this people a fortified wall of bronze; and they shall fight against you, but they shall not overcome you; for I am with you to save you and to deliver you,” says the LORD.

21. “And I will deliver you out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem you out of the hand of the evil ones.”

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

1. The Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2. “You shall not take a wife for yourself, nor shall you have sons or daughters in this place.”

3. For thus says the LORD concerning the sons and concerning the daughters who are born in this place, and concerning their mothers who bore them, and concerning their fathers who begot them in this land:

4. “They shall die grievous deaths of diseases; they shall not be mourned, nor shall they be buried. But they shall be as dung on the face of the earth. And they shall be destroyed by the sword and by famine; and their bodies shall be food for the birds of heaven and for the beasts of the earth.”

5. For thus says the LORD, “Do not enter into the house of mourning; do not go to weep nor moan over them. For I have taken away My peace from this people,” says the LORD, “even lovingkindness and mercies.

6. Both the great and the small shall die in this land. They shall not be buried, nor shall men mourn for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7. Nor shall anyone offer food to them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead. Nor shall anyone give them the cup of comfort to drink for their father or for their mother.

8. Also you shall not go into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drink.”

9. For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Behold, I will cause the voice of mirth to cease out of this place before your eyes, and in your days, the voice of gladness, and the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride.

10. And it shall come to pass, when you declare to this people all these words, and they shall say to you, ‘Why has the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? Or what is our iniquity, or what is our sin that we have committed against the LORD our God?’

11. Then you shall say to them, ‘Because your fathers have forsaken Me,’ says the LORD, ‘and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshiped them, and have forsaken Me, and have not kept My law.

12. And you have done worse than your fathers; for, behold, you walk each one after the stubbornness of his evil heart, without hearkening to Me;

13. Even I will cast you out of this land without hearkening to Me; after the stubbornness of his evil heart, your fathers; for, behold, you walk each one after the sternness of his evil heart.

14. Therefore, behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “and they will fish among your altars, and your high places, and your Asherim, and your incense, and your altars and their Asherim beside every high place, where the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt; and upon the horns of your altars; and upon the tablet of their heart which is engraved with a pen of iron, with the point of a diamond; it is carved upon the tablet of their heart and upon the horns of your altars;

2. While their children remember their altars and their Asherim beside every green tree on the high hills.

3. O My mountain in the field, I will give your wealth and all your treasures for spoil, and your high places because of sin, throughout all your borders.

4. And you, even of yourself, have let go of the inheritance which I gave you; and I will cause you to serve your enemies in a land which you do not know. For you have kindled a fire in My anger, which shall burn forever.”

5. Thus says the LORD, “Cursed is the man who trusts in man, and makes flesh his arm, and whose heart departs from the LORD.

6. For he shall be like a shrub in the desert, and shall not see when good comes. But he shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land that is not inhabited.

7. Blessed is the man who trusts in the LORD and whose hope is the LORD.

8. For he shall be like a tree planted by the waters; it sends out its roots by the river, and it shall not fear when the heat comes, but its foliage shall be green; and he is not worried in the year of drought, nor will it cease from yielding fruit.

9. The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked; who can know it?

10. I the LORD search the heart, I try the reins, even to give to each man according to his ways, according to the fruit of his doings.

11. As the quail that hatches eggs it has not laid; in the same way he who gets riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the middle of his days, and in his end he shall be a fool.”

12. A glorious high throne from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary.

13. O LORD, the Hope of Israel, all who forsake You shall be ashamed. “Those who depart from Me shall be written in the earth because they have forsaken the LORD, the Fountain of living waters.”

14. Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed, save me, and I shall be saved; for You are my praise.

15. Behold, they say to me, “Where is the Word of the LORD? Let it come now!”

16. As for me, I have not hurried away from being a shepherd to follow after You; nor have I desired the woeful day;
You surely know it. That which came out of my lips was manifest before You.
17. Do not be a terror to me; You are my refuge in the day of evil.
18. Let those who persecute me be ashamed, but do not let me be ashamed; let them be afraid, but do not let me be afraid. Bring upon them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction.
19. Thus the LORD said to me, “Go and stand in the gates of the children of the people, by which the kings of Judah come in, and by which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem.
20. And say to them, ‘Hear the Word of the LORD, kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the people of Jerusalem who enter in by these gates! Thus says the LORD, “Take heed to yourselves, and carry no burden on the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem.
21. Nor carry out a burden from your houses on the Sabbath day, nor do any work, but keep the Sabbath day holy, as I commanded your fathers.
22. But they did not obey, nor inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, so that they might not hear nor receive instruction.
23. And it shall be, if you diligently hearken to Me,” says the LORD, “to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the Sabbath day, but keep the Sabbath day holy, to do no work in it; to pluck it up and to pull it down, and to destroy it;
24. Then kings and rulers sitting on the throne of David shall enter into the gates of this city, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their rulers, the men of Judah, and the people of Jerusalem. And this city shall remain forever.
25. And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the south, bringing burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and grain offerings, and incense, and bringing sacrifices of praise to the house of the LORD.
26. But if you will not hearken to Me to keep the Sabbath day holy, and not to carry a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day; then I will kindle a fire in its gates, and it will devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it will not be put out.” ’ ”

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

1. The Word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,
2. “Arise and go down to the potter’s house, and there I will cause you to hear My words.”
3. Then I went down to the potter’s house, and, behold, he was working at his wheel.
4. And the vessel that he made of clay was ruined in the hand of the potter; so he made it again into another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.
5. Then the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
6. “O house of Israel, can I not do with you even as this potter?” says the LORD.
7. “Behold, as the clay is in the potter’s hands, so are you in My hand, O house of Israel.
8. If at any time I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck it up and to pull it down, and to destroy it;
9. And if at any time I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build it and to plant it;
10. If it does evil in My sight, that it not obey My voice, then I will repent of the evil that I thought to do to them.
11. “Now therefore, speak to the men of Judah, and to the people of Jerusalem, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Behold, I am forming evil against you, and devising a plan against you. Return now, each one from his evil way, and make your ways and your doings good.” ’ ”
12. And they said, “There is no hope; but we will walk after our own ways, and we will each one do according to the stubbornness of his evil heart.”
13. Therefore thus says the LORD, “Ask now among the nations; who has heard such things? The virgin of Israel has done a very horrible thing.
14. Does the snow of Lebanon fail from the rock of the field? Or shall the cold waters that come from another place cease to flow?
15. Because My people have forgotten Me, they have burned incense to vanity, and they have caused themselves to stumble in their ways from the ancient paths, to walk in by-paths, not on the highway.

16. To make their land desolate and a perpetual hissing. Everyone who passes by shall be astonished, and will shake his head.

17. I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy; I will show them My back, and not My face, in the day of their calamity.”

18. Then they said, “Come and let us plot schemes against Jeremiah. For the law shall not perish from the priest, nor wisdom from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come and let us strike him with the tongue, and let us not pay attention to any of his words.”

19. Give heed to me, O Lord, and hearken to what my accusers are saying against me.

20. Should evil be repaid for good? For they have dug a pit for my soul. Remember that I stood before You to do good; and You commanded nor spoke, nor did it come into My mind.

6. Therefore, behold, the days come, says the Lord, “that this place shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the son of Hinnom, but, The Valley of Slaughter.

7. And I will make the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem come to nothing in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hands of those who seek their lives. And I will give their dead bodies to be food for the birds of the heavens, and for the beasts of the earth.

8. And I will make this city a waste and a hissing. Everyone who passes by shall be astonished and shall hiss because of all its plagues.

9. And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their own sons and the flesh of their own daughters, and they shall each one eat the flesh of his friend in the siege and distress, with which their enemies and those who seek their lives shall afflict them.”

10. Then you shall break the jar before the eyes of the men who go with you, but let them be overthrown before You; deal with them in the time of Your anger.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

1. Thus says the Lord, “Go and get a potter’s earthen jar, and assemble some of the elders of the people and of the elders of the priests.

2. And go out to the valley of the son of Hinnom by the entry of Potsherd Gate. And there declare the words that I shall tell you.

3. And say, ‘Hear the Word of the Lord, O kings of Judah, and people of Jerusa-
14. Then Jeremiah came from Tophet, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy. And he stood in the court of the LORD’s house, and said to all the people,

15. “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all its towns all the evil that I have spoken against it because they have hardened their necks so that they might not hear My words.’”

CHAPTER TWENTY

1. When Pashhur the son of Immer the priest (he was chief officer in the house of the LORD) heard Jeremiah prophesying these things,

2. Then Pashhur struck Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the upper Benjamin Gate, which was by the house of the LORD.

3. And it came to pass on the next day, Pashhur brought Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then Jeremiah said to him, “The LORD has not called your name Pashhur, but Terror from All Around.

4. For thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I will make you a terror to yourself and to all your friends. And they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and your hand shall be withered; who will strip you of Judah, and he will exile them into Babylon, and kill them with the sword.

5. And I will give all the wealth of this city, and its produce, and all its precious things, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah, even I will give it into the hand of their enemies; who will strip them and take them, and bring them to Babylon.

6. And you, Pashhur, and all who dwell in your house, shall go into captivity. And you shall come to Babylon, and you shall die there, and shall be buried there; you and all your friends to whom you have prophesied lies.’”

7. O LORD, You have enticed me, and I was deceived. You are stronger than I, and You have prevailed. I am in derision all the day; everyone laughs at me.

8. For whenever I speak, I cry out, I cry violence and ruin; for the Word of the LORD has been a reproach and a cause of mocking to me all day.

9. But if I say, ‘I will not mention Him, nor speak in His name any more,” then His Word was in my heart like a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with holding it in, and I could not stop.

10. For I heard the mocking of many, “Terror is all around!” “Denounce! Yea, let us denounce him!” Every man of my peace is watching for my fall, saying, “Perhaps he will be lured away, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him.”

11. But the LORD is with me like a mighty, awesome One. Therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not overcome me. They shall be greatly ashamed; for they shall not be blessed. Their everlasting shame shall never be forgotten.

12. But, O LORD of hosts, who tries the righteous and sees the reins and the heart, let me see Your vengeance on them. For I have committed my cause to You.

13. Sing to the LORD, praise the LORD; for He has delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evildoers.

14. Cursed is the day in which I was born; let not the day in which my mother bore me be blessed.

15. Cursed is the man who brought news to my father, saying, “A man child is born to you;” making him very glad.

16. And let that man be as the cities which the LORD overthrew, and repented not; and let him hear the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noontide;

17. Because he did not kill me from the womb; or that my mother might have been my grave, and her womb always enlarged with me.

18. Why did I come forth from the womb to see labor and sorrow, that my days should be consumed in shame?

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

1. The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, when King Zedekiah sent to him Pashhur the son of Melchiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, saying,

2. “Please inquire of the LORD for us. For Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon is warring against us. Perhaps the LORD will deal with us according to all His wonderful works, that he may withdraw from us.”
3. Then Jeremiah said to them, “Thus shall you say to Zedekiah, 4. “Thus says the LORD, God of Israel, “Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, with which you fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans who besiege you outside the walls. And I will gather them together in the middle of this city. 5. And I Myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath. 6. And I will strike the people of this city, both man and beast. They shall die of a great plague. 7. And afterward,” says the LORD, “I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and those who are left in this city from the plague, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those who seek their life. And he shall strike them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare them, nor have pity, nor have mercy.” 8. And to this people you shall say, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Behold, I set before you the way of life and the way of death. 9. He who remains in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the plague. But he who goes out and surrenders to the Chaldeans who are all around you, he shall live, and his life shall be his prize. 10. For I have set My face against this city for evil, and not for good,” says the LORD. “It shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.” 11. And concerning the house of the king of Judah, say, ‘Hear the Word of the LORD. 12. O house of David, thus says the LORD, “Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver him who is robbed out of the hand of the oppressor, lest My fury go out like fire, and burn so that none can put it out because of the evil of your doings. 13. Behold, I am against you, O dweller of the valley, and rock of the plain,” says the LORD; “Those who say, ‘Who shall come down against us? Or who shall enter into our homes?’ 14. But I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings,” says the LORD; “and I will kindle a fire in the forest of it, and it shall devour all things around it.”’

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO

1. Thus says the LORD, “Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak this word there. 2. And say, ‘Hear the Word of the LORD, O king of Judah, who sits on the throne of David, you and your servants, and your people who enter in by these gates. 3. Thus says the LORD, “Execute judgment and righteousness, and deliver him who is robbed out of the oppressor’s hand. And do no wrong, do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, or the widow, nor shed innocent blood in this place. 4. For if you do this thing indeed, then there shall enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting on the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people. 5. But if you will not hear these words, I swear by Myself, says the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation.”’ 6. For thus says the LORD to the king of Judah’s house, “You are Gilead to Me, and the head of Lebanon. Yet surely I will make you a wilderness, cities which are not inhabited. 7. And I will prepare destroyers against you, each one with his weapons. And they shall cut down your choice cedars, and throw them into the fire. 8. And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say each one to his neighbor, ‘Why has the LORD done this to this great city?’ 9. Then they shall answer, ‘Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshiped other gods, and served them.’” 10. Weep not for the dead, nor moan for him; but weep bitterly for him who goes away; for he shall return no more, nor see his native country. 11. For thus says the LORD concerning Shalumm the son of Josiah king of Judah, who reigned in the place of Josiah his father, who went forth out of this place, “He shall not return here any more. 12. But he shall die in the place where... they have exiled him and shall see this land no more."
13. "Woe to him who builds his house by unrighteousness and his upper rooms without justice; who uses his neighbor’s service without pay, and he gives him naught for his work;
14. Who says, ‘I will build myself a great house and spacious rooms’—and cuts out windows for himself, and puts in a cedar ceiling, and paints it with vermilion.
15. Shall you reign because you surround yourself with cedar? Did not your father eat and drink, and do judgment and righteousness? Then it was well with him.
16. He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well with him. Was this not the way to know Me?” says the LORD.
17. “But your eyes and your heart are for nothing but for your own covetousness, and to shed innocent blood, and for cruelty, and to do violence.”
18. Therefore thus says the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, “They shall not mourn for him, saying, ‘Ah, my brother!’ or, ‘Ah, my sister!’ They shall not mourn for him, saying, ‘Ah, lord!’ or, ‘Ah, his splendor!’
19. He shall be buried with the burial of a donkey, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.”
20. “Go up to Lebanon, and cry. And lift up your voice in Bashan, and cry from Abarim, for all your lovers are destroyed.
21. I spoke to you in your prosperity; but you said, ‘I will not hear.’ This has been your way from your youth, for you have not obeyed My voice.
22. The wind shall eat up all your shepherds, and your lovers shall go into captivity; surely then you will be ashamed and humiliated for all your wickedness.
23. O inhabitant of Lebanon, nestled in the cedars, how you will groan when pangs come to you, the pain as of a woman giving birth!
24. As I live,” says the LORD, “though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet on My right hand, yet I would pull you out of there!
25. And I will give you into the hand of those who seek your life, and into the hand of those whose face you fear, even into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.
26. And I will cast you and your mother who bore you into another country where you were not born. And there you shall die.
27. But to the land to which they desire to return, there they shall not return.”
28. Is this man Coniah a despised broken jar? Is he a vessel in which there is no pleasure? Why are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into a land which they do not know?
29. O earth, earth, earth! Hear the Word of the LORD!
30. Thus says the LORD, “Write this man down as childless, a man who will not be blessed in his days. For no man of his seed shall be blessed, sitting on the throne of David and ruling any more in Judah.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

1. “Woe to the shepherds who destroy and scatter the sheep of My pasture,” says the LORD.
2. Therefore thus says the LORD, God of Israel, against the shepherds who feed My people, “You have scattered My flock, and have driven them away, and have not taken care of them. Behold, I will bring upon you the evil of your doings,” says the LORD.
3. “But I will gather the remnant of My flock out of all the countries where I have driven them, and will bring them again to their fold. And they shall be fruitful and multiply.
4. And I will set up shepherds over them who will feed them. And they shall fear no more, nor be afraid; nor shall they lack anything,” says the LORD.
5. “Behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will raise to David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall do justice and righteousness in the earth.
6. In His days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely. And this is His name by which He shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.
7. Therefore, behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that they shall no more say, ‘The LORD lives, Who brought the children of Israel up out of the land of Egypt;”
8. But, ‘The LORD lives, Who brought up and led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all countries where He had driven them.’ And they shall dwell in their own land.”

9. As for the prophets my heart within me is broken; all my bones shake. I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine has overcome because of the LORD and because of the words of His holiness.

10. For the land is full of adulterers. Because of swearing the land mourns; the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up, and their course is evil, and none returns from his evil; they are all of them like Sodom to Me, and her inhabitants like Gomorrah.

11. “For both prophet and priest are ungodly; yea, in My house I have found their evil,” says the LORD.

12. “So their way shall be to them as slippery ways in the darkness; they shall be driven on, and fall in their way; for I will bring evil on them, even the year of their judgment,” says the LORD.

13. “And I have seen repulsive things in the prophets of Samaria; they prophesied by Baal and caused My people Israel to go astray.

14. I have also seen in the prophets of Jerusalem a horrible thing; they commit adultery and walk in lies. They also strengthen the hands of evildoers, so that none returns from his evil; they are all of them like Sodom to Me, and her inhabitants like Gomorrah.

15. Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets, ‘Behold, I will feed them wormwood, and make them drink poisonous water; for from the prophets of Jerusalem ungodliness has gone forth into all the land.’”

16. Thus says the LORD of hosts, “Do not listen to the words of the prophets who prophesy to you. They make you vain; they speak a vision from their own heart, not out of the mouth of the LORD.

17. They still say to those who despise Me, ‘The LORD has said, ‘You shall have peace!’’ ” And they say to everyone who walks after the imagination of his own heart, ‘No evil shall come upon you!’ ”

18. For who has stood in the counsel of the LORD to see and hear His Word? Who has attended to His Word and heard it?

19. Behold, the tempest of the LORD has gone forth in fury, a whirling tempest. It shall fall grievously upon the head of the wicked.

20. The anger of the LORD shall not return, until He has executed and until He has performed the purposes of His heart; in the latter days you shall understand it perfectly.

21. “I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran; I have not spoken to them, yet they prophesied.

22. But if they had stood in My counsel and had caused My people to hear My words, then they would have turned them from their evil way and from the evil of their doings.

23. Am I a God Who is near,” says the LORD, “and not a God afar off?

24. Can anyone hide himself in secret places so that I shall not see him?” says the LORD. “Do I not fill the heavens and earth?” says the LORD.

25. “I have heard what the prophets said, who prophesy lies in My name, saying, ‘I have dreamed, I have dreamed.’

26. How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets who prophesy lies and who are prophets of the deceit of their own heart?

27. They scheme to cause My people to forget My name by their dreams which they tell, each one to his neighbor, as their fathers have forgotten My name for Baal.

28. The prophet who has a dream, let him tell a dream. And he who has My Word, let him speak My Word faithfully. What is the chaff to the wheat?” says the LORD.

29. “Is not My Word like a fire?” says the LORD; “and like a hammer that breaks the rock in pieces?

30. Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets who steal My words each one from his neighbor.

31. Behold, I am against the prophets who use their tongues and say, ‘He says,’ when I did not say.

32. Behold, I am against those who prophesy false dreams and tell them, and cause My people to go astray by their lies and by their wantonness. Yet I did not send them nor command them; therefore they shall not profit this people at all,” says the LORD.

33. “And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest, shall ask you, saying,
34. And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, who shall say, 'The oracle of the LORD, I will even punish that man and his house.'

35. Thus you shall say each one to his neighbor, and each one to his brother, “What has the LORD answered you? And what has the LORD spoken?”

36. And you shall mention the oracle of the LORD no more. For every man’s word becomes his own oracle; for you have perverted the words of the living God, of the LORD of hosts our God.

37. Thus you shall say to the prophet, “What has the LORD answered you? And what has the LORD spoken?”

38. But since you say, “The oracle of the LORD,” therefore thus says the LORD, “Because you say this word, ‘The oracle of the LORD’—after I have sent to you and sent them again and again; but you have not hearkened.

39. Therefore, behold, I, even I, will completely forget you, and I will forsake you and the city that I gave to you and your fathers, and cast you out of My presence.

40. And I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

1. The LORD showed me, and behold, two baskets of figs set before the temple of the LORD (after Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had exiled Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the rulers of Judah, with the craftsmen and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon);

2. One basket had very good figs, like the first ripe figs. And the other basket had very bad figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad.

3. Then the LORD said to me, “What do you see, Jeremiah?” And I said, “Figs; the good figs are very good, and the bad are very bad, so that they cannot be eaten, they are so bad.”

4. Again the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

5. “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘Like these good figs, so I will acknowledge the exiles of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans for their good.

6. For I will set My eyes on them for good, and I will bring them again to this land. And I will build them and not pull them down; and I will plant them and not pluck them up.

7. And I will give them a heart to know Me, that I am the LORD; and they shall be My people, and I will be their God. For they shall return to Me with their whole heart.

8. And like the bad figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so bad,’ surely thus says the LORD, ‘so I will deliver up Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his rulers, and the rest of Jerusalem who remain in this land, and those who dwell in the land of Egypt;’

9. And I will even make them a horror for evil to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places where I shall drive them.

10. And I will send the sword, the famine, and the plague among them until they are destroyed from the land that I gave to them and to their fathers.’”

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

1. The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah. It was the first year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon;

2. The word which Jeremiah the prophet spoke to all the people of Judah and to all the people of Jerusalem, saying,

3. “From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, even to this day, that is the twenty-third year, the Word of the LORD has come to me, and I have spoken to you, speaking again and again. But you have not hearkened.

4. And the LORD has sent to you all His servants the prophets, again and again and sending them again and again; but you have not hearkened.

5. And they all said, ‘Turn again now, each one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD has given to you and to your fathers forever and ever.’

6. And do not go after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and do not provoke Me to anger with the works of your hands; and I will do you no harm.’”

7. “Yet you have not hearkened to Me,” says the LORD, “so that you might provoke Me with the works of your hands, to your own hurt.

8. Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘Because you have not heard My words, Behold, I will send and take all the families of the north,’ says the LORD, ‘and Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, My servant; and will bring them against this land, and against its people, and against all these nations all around you. And I will completely destroy them, and make them a waste, and a hissing, and everlasting ruins.

10. And I will take away from them the voice of rejoicing and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones and the light of the candle.

11. And this whole land shall be a desolation and an astonishment. And these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

12. And it shall be, when seventy years are fulfilled I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, and the land of the Chaldeans,’ says the LORD, ‘for their iniquity, and I will make it an everlasting desolation.

13. And I will bring on that land all My words which I have spoken against it, all that is written in this book which Jeremiah has prophesied against all the nations.

14. For many nations and great kings shall make them slaves, also. And I will repay them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands.”

15. For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to me, “Take the wine cup of this wrath at My hand, and cause all the nations to whom I shall send you to drink it.

16. And they shall drink, and reel to and fro, and be crazed because of the sword that I will send among them.”

17. Then I took the cup at the LORD’S hand, and made all the nations drink, to whom the LORD had sent me.

18. Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and their kings, and their rulers, to make them a desolation and an astonishment, a hissing, and a curse, (as it is today),

19. Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and his servants, and his rulers, and all his people,

20. And all the mixed people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Gaza, and Ekron, and the rest of Ashdod;

21. Edom, and Moab, and the sons of Ammon,

22. And all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the isles beyond the sea,

23. Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that are in the uppermost corners.

24. And all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mixed people who dwell in the desert,

25. And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes,

26. And all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are on the face of the earth; and the king of Sheshach shall drink after them.

27. “Therefore you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Drink and be drunk, and vomit, and fall, and rise no more because of the sword which I will send among you.”’

28. And it shall come to pass if they refuse to take the cup at your hand to drink, then you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, “You shall certainly drink.

29. For, lo, I begin to bring evil on the city which is called by My name; and shall you go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished. For I will call for a sword on all the inhabitants of the earth,” says the LORD of hosts.’

30. And prophesy against them all these words, and say to them, “The LORD shall roar from on high, and utter His voice from His holy habitation. He shall mightily roar over His dwelling place. He shall give a shout, like those who tread out grapes, against all the people of the earth.

31. A noise shall come to the ends of the earth; and the king of Sheshach shall drink after them.

32. Thus says the LORD of hosts, “Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwind shall be stirred up from the farthest corners of the earth.

33. And the slain of the LORD shall be at that day from one end of the earth even to the other end of the earth; they shall not be mourned, nor gathered, nor buried. They shall be as dung on the ground.

34. Howl, you shepherds, and cry; and wallow yourselves in the ashes, you lords of the flock! For the days of your slaughter and of your scatterings are fulfilled; and you shall fall like a choice vessel.

35. And the shepherds shall have no way to flee, nor the lords of the flock to escape.

36. A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and a howling of the lords of the flock shall be heard; for the LORD has spoiled their pasture.

37. And the peaceful pastures are cut down because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

38. Like the lion, He has left His den; for their land is wasted because of the fierceness of the oppressing sword, and because of His fierce anger.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

1. In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, this word came from the LORD, saying,

2. “Thus says the LORD, ‘Stand in the court of the LORD’S house and speak to all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the LORD’S house, all the words that I command you to speak to them; do not keep back a word.

3. It may be that they will hearken, and each man turn from his evil way, that I may repent of the evil which I plan to do to them because of the evil of their doings.’

4. And you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD, “If you will not hearken to Me, to walk in My law which I have set before you, then I will make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.”’

5. To hearken to the words of My servants the prophets whom I have been sending to you again and again, but you have not hearkened;

6. Then I will make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.”’

7. So the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD.

8. Now it came to pass when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak to all the people, the priests and the prophets and all the people took him, saying, “You shall surely die!

9. Why have you prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, ‘This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be wasted, without inhabitant’?” And all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.

10. When the rulers of Judah heard these things, then they came up from the king’s house to the house of the LORD, and sat down in the entrance of the New Gate of the LORD’S house.

11. And the priests and the prophets spoke to the rulers and to all the people, saying, “Let a death sentence be for this man, for he has prophesied against this city, as you have heard with your ears.”

12. Then Jeremiah spoke to all the rulers and to all the people, saying, “The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that you have heard.

13. Therefore now make your ways and your doings good, and obey the voice of the LORD your God. And the LORD will repent of the evil that He has pronounced against you.

14. As for me, behold, I am in your hand. Do with me as seems good and right in your eyes.

15. But know for certain that if you put me to death you shall surely bring innocent blood on yourselves, and on this city, and on its inhabitants. For truly the LORD has sent me to you to speak all these words in your ears.”

16. Then the rulers and all the people said to the priests and to the prophets, “This man is not worthy to die; for he has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.”

17. Then some of the elders of the land rose up and spoke to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18. “Micah the Morasthite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and spoke to all the people of Judah, saying, “Thus says the LORD of hosts, “Zion shall be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house like the high places of a forest.””
19. Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah indeed put him to death? Did he not fear the LORD, and pray to the LORD, and the LORD repented of the evil which He had spoken against them? Thus we might bring great evil against ourselves.”
20. And there was also a man who prophesied in the name of the LORD, Urijah the son of Shemaiah of Kirjath Jearim, who prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah.
21. And when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the rulers, heard his words, the king tried to put him to death. But when Urijah heard it, he was afraid, and fled and went into Egypt.
22. And Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt; Elnathan the son of Achbor, and men with him into Egypt.
23. And they brought Urijah out of Egypt and brought him to Jehoiakim the king, who killed him with the sword and threw his dead body into the graves of the common people.
24. But the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN

1. In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2. “Thus says the LORD to me, ‘Make bonds and yokes for yourself, and put them on your neck.

3. And send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Sidon, by the hand of the messengers who came to Jerusalem to Zedekiah king of Judah.

4. And command them to say to their masters, “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Thus you shall say to your masters,

5. ‘I have made the earth, man, and the animals on the face of the earth by My great power and by My outstretched arm, and have given it to whom it seemed right to Me.

6. And now I have given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, My servant. And I have also given him the beast of the field to serve him.

7. And all nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son’s son, until the time of his own land comes. And then many nations and great kings shall enslave him.

8. And it shall be, the nation and kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation I will punish,” says the LORD, ‘with the sword and with the famine, and with the plague, until I have destroyed them by his hand.

9. Therefore, do not hearken to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreamers, nor to your enchanters, nor to your sorcerers, who speak to you, saying, “You shall not serve the king of Babylon.”

10. For they prophesy a lie to you, to remove you far from your land, and that I should drive you out and you should perish.

11. But the nations who bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him, those I will let remain in their own land,’ says the LORD. ‘And they shall work it and dwell in it.’”

12. I also spoke to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, “Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him, and you shall live.

13. Why will you die, you and your people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the plague, as the LORD has spoken against the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon?

14. Therefore do not hearken to the words of the prophets who speak to you, saying, ‘You shall not serve the king of Babylon.’ For they prophesy a lie to you.

15. For I have not sent them,” says the LORD; “yet they prophesy a lie in My name, that I might drive you out, and that you might perish, you and the prophets who prophesy to you.”

16. Also I spoke to the priests and to all the people, saying, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Do not hearken to the words of your prophets who prophesy to you, saying, “Behold, the vessels of the LORD’S house shall now shortly be brought again from Babylon.” For they prophesy a lie to you.
17. Do not hearken to them; serve the king of Babylon and live. For why should this city be laid waste?"

18. But if they are prophets, and if the Word of the LORD is with them, let them now pray to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, may not go to Babylon.

19. For thus says the LORD of hosts, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the rest of the vessels which remain in this city,

20. Which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon did not take when he exiled Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem;

21. Yea, thus says the LORD of hosts, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the LORD and in the house of the king of Judah and of Jerusalem,

22. “They shall be carried to Babylon, and they shall be there until the day that I remember them,” says the LORD. “Then I will bring them up and restore them to this place.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

1. And it came to pass in that same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month, Hananiah the son of Azur the prophet of Gibeon, spoke to me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying,

2. “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, ‘I have broken the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon.

3. Within two full years I will again bring into this place all the vessels of the LORD’s house, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place and carried them to Babylon.

4. And I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah who went into Babylon,’ says the LORD. ‘For I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.’

5. Then the prophet Jeremiah said to the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people who stood in the house of the LORD,

6. Even the prophet Jeremiah said, “Amen. May the LORD do so. May the LORD confirm your words which you have prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the LORD’S house, and all that is exiled from Babylon into this place.

7. Nevertheless hear now this word that I speak in your ears and in the ears of all the people:

8. The prophets who have been before me and before you of old prophesied against many countries and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of plague.

9. As for the prophet who prophesies of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then the prophet shall be known, that the LORD has truly sent him.”

10. Then Hananiah the prophet took the yoke from off the prophet Jeremiah’s neck and broke it.

11. And Hananiah spoke in the presence of all the people, saying, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Even so I will break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from the neck of all nations within the time of two full years.’ ” And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

12. Then the Word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, after Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying,

13. “Go and tell Hananiah, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD, ‘You have broken the yokes of wood, but you shall make for them yokes of iron.’

14. For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘I have put a yoke of iron on the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. And they shall serve him. And I have given him the beasts of the field also.’ ”

15. Then the prophet Jeremiah said to Hananiah the prophet, “Hear now, Hananiah. The LORD has not sent you, but you make this people to trust in a lie.

16. Therefore thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I will drive you from off the face of the earth. You shall die this year because you have taught rebellion against the LORD.’”

17. So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.
CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

1. And these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem to the rest of the elders of the exiles, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar exiled from Jerusalem to Babylon.

2. (After Jeconiah the king, and the queen mother, and the officials, the rulers of Judah and Jerusalem, and the craftsmen, and the smiths, had departed from Jerusalem.)

3. The letter was sent by the hand of Elahiah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah the king of Judah sent to Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, saying,

4. “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, to all the exiles whom I caused to be exiled from Jerusalem to Babylon,

5. ‘Build houses and live in them; and plant gardens and eat their fruit.

6. Take wives and beget sons and daughters. And take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, so that they may bear sons and daughters, that you may be multiplied there and not become few.

7. And seek the peace of the city where I have caused you to be exiled, and pray to the LORD for it. For in its peace you shall have peace.’ ”

8. “For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Do not let your prophets and your diviners in your midst deceive you, nor hearken to your dreams which you cause to be dreamed.

9. For they prophesy falsely to you in My name; I have not sent them,’ says the LORD.

10. “And you shall seek Me and find Me, when you search for Me with all your heart.

11. For I know the purposes which I am purposing for you,’ says the LORD; ‘purposes of peace and not of evil, to give you a future and a hope.

12. Then you shall call on Me, and you shall go and pray to Me, and I will hearken to you.

13. And you shall seek Me and find Me, when you search for Me with all your heart.

14. And I will be found by you,’ says the LORD; ‘and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places where I have driven you,’ says the LORD. ‘And I will bring you again into the place from where I caused you to be carried away captive.’ ”

15. “Because you have said, ‘The LORD has raised us up prophets in Babylon;’

16. Therefore thus says the LORD of the king who sits on the throne of David, and of all the people who dwell in this city, and of your brethren who have not gone out with you into captivity;

17. Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘Behold, I will send on them the sword, the famine, and the plague, and will make them like worthless figs which cannot be eaten because they are so rotten.

18. And I will pursue them with the sword, with the famine, and with the plague, and will make them an astonishment to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a curse, and a waste, and a hissing, and a reproach, among all the nations where I have driven them,

19. Because they have not hearkened to My words,’ says the LORD, ‘which I sent to them by My servants the prophets, again and again; but you would not hear,’ says the LORD.”

20. “Therefore hear the Word of the LORD, all you exiles, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon;

21. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, about Ahab the son of Kolaiah and of Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, who prophesy a lie to you in My name, ‘Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he shall kill them before your eyes.

22. And this curse shall be used because of them by all the exiles of Judah who are in Babylon, saying, “May the LORD make you like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire.”

23. Because they have committed vile deeds in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbors’ wives, and have spoken lying words in My name, which I have not commanded them; for I am He who knows and am a witness,’ says the LORD.”

24. “You shall also speak to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,
25. ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, “You have sent letters in your name to all the people who are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,
26. ‘The LORD has made you priest instead of Jehoiada the priest, to be officers in the house of the LORD, over every madman who prophesies, that you should put him into the stocks and into the collar.
27. Now therefore why have you not proved Jeremiah of Anathoth, who prophesies to you?
28. For this cause he sent to us in Babylon, saying, “This exile is long. Build houses and live in them, and plant gardens and eat their fruit.” ’
29. And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet.
30. And the Word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,
31. “Send to all the exiles, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite, “Because Shemaiah has prophesied to you, and I did not send him, and he caused you to trust in a lie.”
32. Therefore thus says the LORD, “Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite and his seed. He shall not have a man to dwell among this people; nor shall he behold the good which I shall do for My people,” says the LORD, “because he has taught rebellion against the LORD.’ ”

CHAPTER THIRTY

1. The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,
2. “Thus speaks the LORD God of Israel, saying, ‘Write all the words that I have spoken to you in a book.
3. For, lo, the days come,’ says the LORD, ‘that I will turn back the captivity of My people Israel and Judah,’ says the LORD. ‘And I will cause them to return to the land that I gave their fathers, and they shall possess it.’ ”
4. And these are the words that the LORD spoke concerning Israel and concerning Judah.
5. “For thus says the LORD, ‘We have heard a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace.
6. Ask now, and see whether a man is giving birth? Why do I see every man with his hands on his loins, like a woman in labor, and all faces are turned into paleness?
7. Alas! For that day is great, so that none is like it; it is even the time of Jacob’s trouble; but he shall be saved out of it.
8. For it shall be in that day,’ says the LORD of hosts, ‘I will break his yoke from your neck and will burst your bonds. And strangers shall no longer enslave him,
9. But they shall serve the LORD their God, and David their king, whom I will raise up to them.
10. And you, O My servant Jacob, do not fear,’ says the LORD. ‘Do not be terrified, O Israel. For lo, I will save you from afar, and your seed from the land of their captivity. And Jacob shall return, and shall be at rest, and be quiet, and none shall make him afraid.
11. For I am with you,’ says the LORD, ‘to save you. Though I make a full end of all nations where I have scattered you, yet I will not make a full end of you; but I will correct you in measure, and will not utterly destroy you.’
12. For thus says the LORD, ‘Your bruise is incurable, and your wound is grievous.
13. There is none to plead your cause; for your ulcer there can be no healing medicines for you.
14. All your lovers have forgotten you; they do not seek you. For I have wounded you with the punishment of a merciless enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one, for the greatness of your iniquity; because your sins are so many.
15. Why do you cry over your affliction? Your pain is incurable, for the greatness of your iniquity; because your sins are many, I have done these things to you.
16. So all those who devour you shall be devoured; and all your enemies, every one of them, shall go into captivity. And they who rob you shall be robbed, and all who strip you I will strip.
17. For I will give health back to you, and shall heal you of your wounds,’ says the LORD; “because they called you an outcast, saying, ‘This is Zion; no one cares for her.’ ”
18. Thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I turn back the captivity of Jacob’s tents, and will have mercy on his dwelling places. And the city shall be built on her ruins, and the palace shall remain in its own place.

19. And out of them shall come thanksgiving, and the voice of those who rejoice. And I will multiply them, and they shall not be few; I will also honor them, and they shall not be disdained.

20. Also their children shall be as they were before, and their congregation shall be established before Me, and I will punish all who oppress them.

21. And their ruler shall be of themselves, and their governor shall come from among them; and I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach Me. For who is this who pledged his heart to come near to Me?” says the LORD.

22. ‘And you shall be My people, and I will be your God.’ ”

23. Behold, the whirlwind of the LORD’S wrath goes forth, a sweeping whirlwind; it shall whirl on the head of the wicked.

24. The fierce anger of the LORD shall not return until He has done it, and until He has fulfilled the purposes of His heart. In the latter days you shall understand it.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

1. “At that time,” says the LORD, “I will be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be My people.”

2. Thus says the LORD, “The people who were left of the sword found grace in the wilderness; even Israel, when I will go to draw near, and he shall approach Me. For who is this who pledged his heart to come near to Me?” says the LORD.

3. ‘And you shall be My people, and I will be your God.’ ”

4. Again I will build you, and you shall be built, O virgin of Israel. You shall again put on your drums, and shall go forth in the dances of those who rejoice.

5. You shall yet plant vines on the mountains of Samaria; the planters shall plant, and shall eat them as common things.

6. For there shall be a day that the watchmen on Mount Ephraim shall cry, ‘Arise and let us go up to Zion to the LORD our God!’ ”

7. For thus says the LORD, “Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout among the chief of the nations. Cry out, give praise and say, ‘O LORD, save Your people, the remnant of Israel.’

8. Behold, I will bring them from the north country and gather them from the corners of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and she who is in labor with child, together; a great company shall return there.

9. They shall come with weeping, and with prayers I will lead them. I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters in a straight way; they shall not stumble in it, for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is My firstborn.”

10. “Hear the Word of the LORD, O nations, and declare it in the isles afar off. And say, ‘He who scattered Israel will gather him and keep him, as a shepherd keeps his flock.’

11. For the LORD has redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand of the one stronger than he.

12. Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together to the goodness of the LORD, for wheat, and for wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock and the herd. And their soul shall be as a watered garden; and they shall not pine away any more at all.

13. Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, both young men and old together; for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them and make them rejoice from their affliction.

14. And I will fill the soul of the priests with fatness, and My people shall be satisfied with My goodness,” says the LORD.

15. Thus says the LORD, “A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation and bitter weeping; Rachel weeping for her children; she refuses to be comforted for her children because they are not.”

16. Thus says the LORD, “Hold back your voice from weeping and your eyes from tears; for your work shall be rewarded,” says the LORD. “And they shall come again from the land of the enemy.

17. And there is hope for your future,” says the LORD, “that your children shall come again to their own border.

18. I have surely heard Ephraim mourning to himself, saying, ‘You have chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bull not broken in; turn me, and I shall be turned. For You are the LORD my God.
19. Surely after I was turned, I repented; and after I was taught, I struck on my thigh. I was ashamed, yea, I even blushed because I bore the disgrace of my youth.'

20. Is Ephraim My dear son? Is he a delightful child? For as often as I spoke against him, I earnestly remember him still. Therefore My heart yearns for him; I will surely have mercy on him,” says the LORD.

21. “Set up way marks, make sign posts for yourself. Set your heart toward the highway, even the way that you went. Return again, O virgin of Israel, return to these your cities.

22. How long will you go to and fro, O faithless daughter? For the LORD has created a new thing in the land; a woman shall court a man.’

23. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Again they shall speak this word in the land of Judah and in its cities, when I shall bring them back from their captivity: ‘The LORD bless you, O habitation of righteousness and mountain of holiness.’

24. And farmers, and those going forth with flocks, shall dwell in Judah itself, and in all the cities of it together.

25. For I have satiated the weary soul, and I have replenished every sorrowful soul.”

26. On this I awoke and looked up; and my sleep was sweet to me.

27. “Behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man and with the seed of animal.

28. And it shall come to pass, as I have watched over them to pluck up, and to break down, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to afflict; so I will watch over them to build, and to plant,” says the LORD.

29. “In those days they shall not say any more, ‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the teeth of the children are set on edge.’

30. But every man shall die for his own iniquity. Every man who eats the sour grapes, his teeth will be set on edge.

31. Behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah,
Then I knew that this was the Word of the LORD.  And Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the guard, which was in the king of Judah’s house.

3. For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, “Why do you prophesy, and say, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it,”’ says the LORD. “And though you fight with the Chaldeans, you shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him face to face, and see him eye to eye,

5. And he shall lead Zedekiah into Babylon, and there he shall be until I visit him,” says the LORD. “And though you fight with the Chaldeans, you shall not be blessed.”’

6. And Jeremiah said, “The Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

7. ‘Behold, Hanameel the son of Shallum your uncle shall come to you, saying, “Buy for yourself my field in Anathoth; for the right to redeem it is yours, to buy it.”’

8. So Hanameel my uncle’s son came to me in the court of the prison according to the Word of the LORD and said to me, “Please buy my field in Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin; for the right of inheritance is yours, and the right to redeem is yours. Buy it for yourself.”’

Then I knew that this was the Word of the LORD.

9. And I bought the field in Anathoth, of Hanameel my uncle’s son, and weighed him the silver, seventeen shekels of silver.

10. And I wrote it in the document, and sealed it, and called witnesses, and weighed the silver in the scales.

11. So I took the deed of the purchase, that which was sealed according to the terms and conditions and the open copy.

12. And I gave the document of the purchase to Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, before the eyes of Hanameel my uncle’s son, and before the eyes of the witnesses who wrote in the purchase deed, before all the Jews who sat in the court of the guard.

13. And I commanded Baruch before them, saying,

14. “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Take these documents, the purchase document, the one sealed and the unsealed document, and put them in an earthen vessel so that they may last for a long time.’

15. For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Houses and fields and vineyards shall be owned again in this land.’”

16. And after I gave the purchase deed to Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed to the LORD, saying,

17. “Ah, Lord GOD! You have made the heavens and the earth by Your great power and stretched out arm. Nothing is too great for You.

18. You show lovingkindness to thousands, and repay the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them. The great, the mighty God, the LORD of hosts, is His name,

19. Great in counsel and mighty in work; for Your eyes are open on all the ways of the sons of men, to give every one according to his ways and according to the fruit of his doings.

20. For You have set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day, and in Israel, and among men; and have made You a name, as at this day;

21. And have brought forth Your people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with great terror.

22. And You have given them this land, which You swore to their fathers to give them, ‘a land flowing with milk and honey.’

23. And they came in and possessed it, but they did not obey Your voice, nor did they walk in Your law. They have done nothing of all that You commanded them to do; therefore You have caused all this evil to come on them.

24. Behold, the siege mounds have come to the city to take it; and the city is given into the hands of the Chaldeans who fight against it because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the plague. And what You have spoken has come to pass; and, behold, You saw it.

25. And You have said to me, O LORD God, ‘Buy the field for money, and take witnesses;’ for the city is given into the hands of the Chaldeans.”

26. Then the Word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,

27. “Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh. Is there anything too hard for Me?

28. Therefore thus says the LORD, 'Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it.

29. And the Chaldeans who fight against this city shall come up and set this city on fire, and burn it with the houses on whose roofs they have offered incense to Baal, and poured out drink offerings to other gods, to provoke Me to anger.

30. For the children of Israel and the other gods, to provoke Me to anger. For the children of Judah have only done evil in My sight from their youth. For the children of Judah have only provoked Me to anger, and in My fury, and in great wrath, I have brought them again to this city, to defend the city—of which you say, 'It is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.'

31. 'They come to fight against the Chaldeans, yet those houses will be filled with the dead bodies of men whom I have slain in My anger and in My fury, and because of all their wickedness I have hidden My face from this city.

32. 'Behold, I will gather them out of all lands where I have driven them in the land of Benjamin, and in the cities of the south. For I will bring them again to this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

33. And they shall be My people, and I will be their God.

34. Men shall buy fields for silver, and deeds will be signed, sealed and witnessed in the land of Benjamin, and in the places around Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the valley, and in the cities of the south. For I will cause them to return from their captivity, to establish it; the LORD who formed it in order to bring His name, to cause Judah to sin.'

35. 'And now therefore, thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city—of which you say, 'It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the plague,'—

36. 'Behold, I will gather them out of all lands where I have driven them in My anger, and in My fury, and in great wrath. And I will bring them again to this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

37. And they shall not depart from Me, nor did it come into My mind that I would turn away from them, rather, to do them good. But I will put My fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from Me.

38. Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will truly plant them in this land with all My heart and all My whole soul.'

39. For thus says the LORD, 'As I have brought all this great evil on this people, so I will bring on them all the good that I have promised them.

40. And fields shall be bought in this land of which you say, "It is a desert without man or beast; it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans."

41. Men shall buy fields for silver, and deeds will be signed, sealed and witnessed in the land of Benjamin, and in the places around Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the valley, and in the cities of the south. For I will cause them to return from their captivity, says the LORD.'

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE

1. And the Word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the second time, while he was still shut up in the court of the guard, saying,

2. 'Thus says the LORD, the Maker of the earth, the LORD who formed it in order to establish it; the LORD is His name, 'Call to Me, and I will answer you, and show you great and inscrutable things which you do not know.'

4. And thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are torn down to defend against the siege mounds and against the sword:

5. 'They come to fight against the Chaldeans, yet those houses will be filled with the dead bodies of men whom I have slain in My anger and in My fury, and because of all their wickedness I have hidden My face from this city.
6. Behold, I will bring it health and healing, and I will heal them and will show them the riches of peace and truth.
7. And I will cause the return from captivity of Judah and the return from captivity of Israel, and will build them, as at the first.
8. And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity by which they have sinned against Me; and I will pardon all their iniquities by which they have sinned, and by which they have transgressed against Me.
9. And it shall be for Me a name of joy, a praise and an honor before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear of all the good that I do to them. And they shall fear and tremble for all the goodness and for all the peace that I bring to it.
10. Thus says the LORD, ‘Again there shall be heard in this place, which you say is a waste without man and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast;
11. The voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bride, the voice of the bridegroom in the cities of Judah and in the places around Jerusalem, and in the south, and in the land of Benjamin, in the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the valley, and in the cities of the south, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places around Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks pass again under the hands of him who tallies them,’ says the LORD.
12. Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘Again there shall be a home of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down.
13. In the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the valley, and in the cities of the south, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places around Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks pass again under the hands of him who tallies them,’ says the LORD.
14. ‘Behold, the days come,’ says the LORD, ‘that I will establish the good thing which I have promised to the house of Israel and to the house of Judah.
15. In those days, and at that time, I will cause the Branch of Righteousness to grow up to David. And He shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land.
16. In those days Judah shall be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely. And this is the name with which she shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.’
17. For thus says the LORD, ‘David shall never lack a man to sit on the throne of the house of Israel,
18. Nor shall the priests, the Levites, lack a man before Me to offer burnt offerings, and to kindle grain offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.’”
19. And the Word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,
20. “Thus says the LORD, ‘If you can break My covenant of the day and My covenant of the night, and that there should not be day and night at their appointed time,
21. Then also My covenant with David My servant may be broken, that he shall not have a son to reign on his throne, and My covenant with the Levites, the priests, My ministers.
22. As the host of the heavens cannot be numbered, nor the sand of the sea measured, so I will multiply the seed of David My servant and the Levites who minister to Me.’”
23. Moreover the Word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,
24. “Do you not consider what this people are saying, ‘The two families which the LORD has chosen, He has even cast them off’? So they have despised My people, that they should be no more a nation before them.
25. Thus says the LORD, ‘If My covenant is not with day and night, and if I have not given the ordinances of the heavens and the earth,
26. Then I will cast away the seed of Jacob, and David My servant, so that I will not take any of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. But I will bring them back from their captivity, and have mercy on them.’”

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR
1. The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth (because his hand rules) and all the people, fought against Jerusalem and against all its cities; saying,
2. “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘Go and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah and tell him, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

3. And you shall not escape out of his hand, but shall surely be captured and delivered into his hand. And your eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with you face to face, and you shall go to Babylon.’ ”

4. Yet hear the Word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah: Thus says the LORD of you, ‘You shall not die by the sword.

5. You shall die in peace; and as the burnings of spices for your fathers, the former kings which were before you, so they shall burn spices for you. And they will mourn you, saying, “Ah, lord!” For I have spoken the word, says the LORD.’ ”

6. Then Jeremiah the prophet spoke all these words to Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem,

7. When the king of Babylon’s army fought against Jerusalem and against all the remaining cities of Judah; against Lachish, and against Azekah; for only these fortified cities remained of the cities of Judah.

8. The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people at Jerusalem, to proclaim liberty to them,

9. That each man should let his male slave, and each man his female slave—iof a Hebrew man or a Hebrew woman—go free, that none should enslave a Jew, his brother among them.

10. And all the rulers obeyed, and all the people who had entered into the covenant allowed them to go free, each man his male slave, and each man his female slave, so that not any should be enslaved among them any more; and they obeyed and let them go.

11. But afterward they turned and took back the male slaves and the female slaves whom they had set free and enslaved them again as male slaves and female slaves.

12. So the Word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

13. “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘I made a covenant with your fa-
CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

1. The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying,
2. "Go to the house of the Rechabites and speak to them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of the chambers. And give them wine to drink."
3. Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brothers, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites.
4. And I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaliah, a man of God, which was near the chamber of the rulers, above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the door.
5. And I set pots full of wine, and cups, before the sons of the house of the Rechabites. And I said to them, "Drink wine!"
6. But they said, "We will drink no wine, for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, 'You shall drink no wine, you nor your sons forever."
7. "Nor shall you build houses, nor sow seed, nor plant a vineyard, nor have anything; but all your days you shall live in tents, so that you may live many days in the land where you are strangers.'
8. So we have obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he has commanded us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters;
9. Nor to build houses for us to live in. Nor do we have vineyard, nor field, nor seed.
10. But we have lived in tents, and have obeyed and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.
11. But it came to pass when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, we said, 'Come let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the Chaldean army, and for fear of the Syrian army.' So we are living at Jerusalem."
12. Then came the Word of the LORD to Jeremiah, saying,
13. "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, 'Behold, I will bring on Judah and on all the people of Jerusalem all the evil that I have spoken against them. Because I have spoken to them, but they have not hearkened; and I have called to them, but they have not answered.'"
14. And Jeremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, 'Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not lack a man to stand before Me forever.'"

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX

1. And it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,
2. "Take for yourself a scroll of a book, and write in it all the words that I have spoken to you against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day I spoke to you, from the days of Josiah, even to this day.
3. "It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I plan to do to them, that they may each man turn from his evil way, so that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin."

Rechab, which he commanded his sons not to drink wine, have been kept. For to this day they do not drink any, but obey their father’s commandment. Yet I have spoken to you, again and again, but you did not hearken to Me.
15. I have also sent to you all My servants the prophets, again and again, saying, ‘Return now each man from his evil way, and make your doings good, and do not go after other gods to serve them, and you shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers.’ But you have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened to Me.
16. Because the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have done the commandment of their father, which he commanded them; but this people has not hearkened to Me,
17. Therefore, thus says the LORD, God of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Behold, I will bring on Judah and on all the people of Jerusalem all the evil that I have spoken against them. Because I have spoken to them, but they have not hearkened; and I have called to them, but they have not answered.’ "
18. And Jeremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Because you have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and have kept all his precepts, and have done according to all that he has commanded you;
19. Therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not lack a man to stand before Me forever.’ "

4. Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah. And Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which He had spoken to him, on a roll of a book.
5. And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, “I am restricted. I cannot go into the house of the LORD.
6. Therefore you go, and read from the scroll which you have written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the LORD’S house on the day of fasting. And also you shall read them in the ears of all Judah who come out of their cities.
7. It may be they will present their prayer before the LORD, and will return, each one from his evil way. For great is the anger and the fury that the LORD has spoken against this people.”
8. And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading from the book, the words of the LORD in the LORD’S house.
9. And it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, in the ninth month, they called a fast before the LORD to all the people in Jerusalem, and to all the people who came from the cities of Judah to Jerusalem.
10. And Baruch read from the book, the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the room of Gemariah the son of Shaphan, in the higher court, at the entrance to the New Gate of the LORD’S house, in the ears of all the people.
11. When Michaiah, the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, heard all the words, they turned to one another in fear and said to Baruch, “We will surely tell the king of all these words.”
12. And the rulers said to Baruch, saying, “Tell us now, how did you write all these words at his mouth?”
13. Then Baruch answered them, “He spoke all these words to me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.”
14. And the king sent Jehudi to bring the roll. And he took it out of the room of Elishama the scribe, and told all the words in the ears of the king.
15. So the king sent Jehudi to bring the roll. And he took it out of the room of Elishama the scribe. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the rulers who stood beside the king.
16. And the king sat in the winter house in the ninth month; also with a fire burning in the hearth before him.
17. And it came to pass when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, he cut it with the scribe’s knife and threw it into the fire in the hearth, until all the scroll was burned up by the fire that was in the hearth.
18. Yet the king and all his servants who heard these words were not afraid, nor did they tear their garments.
19. But Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah had pleaded with the king that he should not burn the scroll, but he would not listen to them.
20. And the king commanded Jerahmeel the son of the king, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to seize Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet. But the LORD hid them.
21. And the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, after the king had burned the scroll and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, saying,
28. “Take for yourself another scroll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first scroll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah has burned.
29. And you shall say to Jehoiakim king of Judah, ‘Thus says the LORD, “You have burned this scroll, saying, ‘Why have you written in it, saying, ‘The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause man and beast to cease from there?’ ”
30. Therefore thus says the LORD concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah, “He shall have no one to sit on the throne of David. And his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.
31. And I will punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity. And I will bring on them, and on the people of Jerusalem, and on the men of Judah, all the evil that I have spoken against them;
but they did not hearken.”’
32. Then Jeremiah took another scroll and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah, who wrote in it from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire. And many words like them were added besides.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN
1. And King Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned instead of Coniah the son of Je-hoiaikim, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah.
2. But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, hearkened to the words of the LORD which He spoke by the prophet Jeremiah.
3. And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, “Pray now to the LORD our God for us.”
4. And Jeremiah came in and went out among the people, for they had not put him into prison.
5. And Pharaoh’s army had come out from Egypt. And when the Chaldeans who besieged Jerusalem heard news of them, they departed from Jerusalem.
6. Then the Word of the LORD came to the prophet Jeremiah, saying,
7. “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘You shall say this to the king of Judah, who sent you to Me to inquire of Me: “Behold, Pharaoh’s army, which has come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land.
8. And the Chaldeans shall come again and fight against this city, and capture it, and burn it with fire.”’
9. Thus says the LORD, “Do not deceive yourselves, saying, “The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us.” For they shall not de part.
10. For though you had stricken the whole army of the Chaldeans who fight against you, and there remained only wounded men among them, they would rise up, each man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.’ ”
11. And it came to pass when the army of Chaldeans had withdrawn from Jerusalem because of fear of Pharaoh’s army, 12. Then Jeremiah went out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to receive his portion there, in the midst of the people.
13. And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a commander of the guard named Irijah was there, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah. And he seized Jeremiah the prophet, saying, “You are falling away to the Chaldeans.” 14. Then Jeremiah said, “A lie! I am not falling away to the Chaldeans.” But he did not listen to him; so Irijah took Jeremiah and brought him to the rulers.
15. And the rulers were angry with Jeremiah, and struck him, and put him in prison, the house of Jonathan the scribe.
For they had made that the prison.
16. When Jeremiah had entered into the dungeon, and into the cells, then Jeremiah remained there many days.
17. And Zedekiah the king sent and took him out. And the king asked him secretly in his palace, and said, “Is there any word from the LORD?” And Jeremiah said, “There is. And He said, you shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon.”
18. And Jeremiah said to King Zedekiah, “How have I sinned against you, or against your servants, or against this people, that you have put me in prison?
19. Where now are your prophets who prophesied to you, saying, ‘The king of Babylon shall not come against you nor against this land’?
20. Therefore hear now, I pray you, O my lord the king; I beg you, let my petition come before you, do not cause me to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there.”

21. And Zedekiah the king commanded that they should put Jeremiah into the court of the prison, and that they should give him a piece of bread out of the bakers’ street daily, until all the bread in the city was gone. So Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAPTER THIRTY-EIGHT

1. And Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken to all the people, saying,

2. “Thus says the LORD, ‘He who remains in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the plague. But he who goes out to the Chaldeans shall live; for he shall have his life as a prize, and shall live.’

3. Thus says the LORD, ‘This city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babylon’s army, and he shall capture it.’ ”

4. And the princes said to the king, “We beseech you, let this man be put to death. For in this way he weakens the hands of the men of war who remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words to them. For this man does not seek the good of this people, but their ruin.”

5. Then Zedekiah the king said, “Behold, he is in your hand. For the king cannot do a thing against you.”

6. And they took Jeremiah and threw him into the pit of Malchiah the son of Hammelech, which was in the court of the prison. And they let Jeremiah down with ropes. And there was no water in the pit, only mire. So Jeremiah sank into the mire.

7. And Ebed-Melech the Ethiopian, of the officials in the king’s house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the pit (the king was then sitting in the gate of Benjamin),

8. Ebed-Melech went out of the king’s house and spoke to the king, saying,

9. “My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have thrown into the pit. And he is likely to die of hunger in the place where he is, for there is no more bread in the city.”

10. Then the king commanded Ebed-Melech the Ethiopian, saying, “Take thirty men with you from here, and lift Jeremiah the prophet up out of the pit before he dies.”

11. So Ebed-Melech took the men with him and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took worn out clothes and worn out rags from there, and let them down by ropes into the pit to Jeremiah.

12. And Ebed-Melech, the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah, “Now put the worn out clothes and rags under your armpits, under the ropes.” And Jeremiah did so.

13. So they drew up Jeremiah with ropes and took him up out of the pit. And Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

14. And Zedekiah the king sent and had Jeremiah the prophet brought to him, into the third gate in the house of the LORD. And the king said to Jeremiah, “I will ask you a thing. Do not hide anything from me.”

15. Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “If I declare it to you, will you not surely put me to death? And if I give you advice, you will not hearken to me.”

16. Zedekiah the king swore secretly to Jeremiah, saying, “As the LORD lives, Who made for us this soul, I will not put you to death, nor will I give you into the hand of these men who seek your life.”

17. Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “Thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘If you will surely surrender to the king of Babylon’s princes, then your soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire. And you shall live, and your house.

18. But if you will not surrender to the king of Babylon’s princes, then this city shall be given into the hands of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and you shall not escape out of their hand.’ ”

19. And Zedekiah the king said to Jeremiah, “I am afraid of the Jews who have fallen to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and lest they abuse me.”

20. But Jeremiah said, “They shall not deliver you. I beseech you, obey the voice of the LORD which I speak to you;
so it shall be well with you, and your soul shall live.
21. But if you refuse to go out, this is the word that the LORD has shown to me:
22. ‘And, behold, all the women who are left in the king of Judah’s house shall be brought out to the king of Babylon’s rulers, and they shall say, “Your trusted friends have misled you, and have prevailed against you. Your feet have sunk in the mire, and they have turned away.”
23. And they shall bring out all your wives and your children to the Chaldeans. And you shall not escape out of their hand, but shall be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon. And you shall cause this city to be burned with fire.’ ”
24. Then Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, “Let no man know of these words, and you shall not die.
25. But if the princes hear that I have talked with you, and they come to you and say to you, ‘Declare to us now what you have said to the king; do not hide it from us, and we will not put you to death; also what the king said to you;’
26. Then you shall say to them, ‘I presented my petition before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jona than’s house, to die there.’ ”
27. Then all the princes came to Jeremiah and asked him. And he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they quit speaking with him; for the matter was not known.
28. So Jeremiah stayed in the court of the prison until the day that Jerusalem was captured.

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE

1. And it came to pass when Jerusalem was taken, in the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army came against Jerusalem. And they besieged it.
2. In the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, a breach was made into the city.
3. And all the rulers of the king of Babylon came in and sat in the Middle Gate: Nergal-Sharezer, Samgar-Nebo, Sarshechim, the chief of the officers, Nergal-Sharezer, chief soothsayer, and all the rest of the rulers of the king of Babylon.
4. And it came to pass when Zedekiah, the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, then they fled, and went out from the city by night, by the way of the king’s garden, by the gate between the two walls. And he went toward the Arabah.
5. But the Chaldean army pursued them and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho. And they took him, and made him go up to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgment on him.
6. Then the king of Babylon killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes in Riblah. Also the king of Babylon killed all the princes of Judah.
7. And he put out Zedekiah’s eyes and bound him with chains, to carry him to Babylon.
8. And the Chaldeans burned the king’s house and the houses of the people, with fire, and broke down the walls of Jerusalem.
9. Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard exiled to Babylon the rest of the people who remained in the city, and those who fell away, who fell to him with the rest of the people that remained.
10. But Nebuzaradan, the Captain of the Guard, left some of the poor people, who had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields on that day.
11. And Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon gave command concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard, saying,
12. “Take him, and set your eyes on him, and do not do anything evil to him. But do with him even as he shall say to you.”
13. So Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard sent, and Nebu-Shasban chief of the officers, and Nergal-Sharezer, chief soothsayer, and all the king of Babylon’s rulers,
14. Even they sent and took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and entrusted him to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, to take him home. So he lived among the people.
15. And the Word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying,
16. “Go and speak to Ebed-Melech the Ethiopian, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Behold, I will bring My words on this city for evil and not for good. And they shall be done in that day before you.
17. But I will deliver you in that day,” says the LORD. “And you shall not be given into the hand of the men of whom you are afraid.
18. For I will surely deliver you, and you shall not fall by the sword, but your life shall be as a prize to you because you have put your trust in Me,” says the LORD.”

CHAPTER FORTY

1. This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after Nebuzaradan Captain of the Guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him, being bound in chains, among all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah, who were being exiled to Babylon.
2. And the Captain of the Guard took Jeremiah and said to him, “The LORD your God has spoken this evil against this place.
3. And the LORD has brought it just as
He said He would because they have sinned against the LORD and have not obeyed His voice, therefore this thing has come on you.
4. And now, behold, I set you free today from the chains on your hand. If it seems good to you to come with me into Babylon, come. And I will keep my eye on you. But if it seems wrong to you to come with me into Babylon, stay. Behold, all the land is before you. Wherever it seems good and pleasing for you to go, go there.
5. And before he was ready to depart, Nebuzaradan said, “Go back also to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon has made governor over the cities of Judah, and live with him among the people. Or go wherever it seems right to you to go.” So the Captain of the Guard gave him food and a gift, and let him go.
6. Then Jeremiah went to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam at Mizpah. And he lived with him among the people who were left in the land.
7. And when all the commanders of the forces who were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had entrusted to him men, and women, and children, and many of the poor of the land, of those who were not exiled to Babylon;
8. Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai of Netopha, and Jezaniah the son of a Maachathite, they and their men.
9. And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan swore to them and to their men, saying, “Do not fear to serve the Chaldeans. Live in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.
10. As for me, behold, I will live at Mizpah to represent you before them, who have come to us. But you go gather wine, and summer fruits, and oil, and put them in your vessels, and live in your cities that you have taken.”
11. Also when all the Jews in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan;
12. Then all the Jews returned out of all places where they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, to Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits in abundance.
13. And Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah.
14. And they said to him, “You certainly know that Baalis the king of the Ammon-ites has sent Ishmael the son of Netha-niah to kill you.” But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam did not believe them.
15. Then Johanan the son of Kareah spoke to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, “Please let me go. And I will kill Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know. Why should he kill you so that all the Jews who are gathered to you should be scattered, and the remnant in Judah perish?”
16. But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said to Johanan the son of Kareah, “You shall not do this thing. For you speak falsely of Ishmael.”

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE

1. And it came to pass in the seventh month, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah and the son of Elishama, of the royal seed, and the rulers of the king, and ten men with him, came to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah. And there they ate bread together in Mizpah.

2. Then Ishmael the son of Nethaniah arose, and the ten men who were with him, and struck Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and killed him whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land.

3. Ishmael also killed all the Jews who were with him, with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans who were found there, the men of war.

4. And it came to pass the second day after he had killed Gedaliah (and no one knew it),

5. Some men from Shechem came from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even eighty men, with their beards shaved, and their clothes torn, and having cut themselves, with offerings and incense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the LORD.

6. And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went out from Mizpah to meet them, weeping as he walked. And it came to pass as he met them, he said to them, “Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam.”

7. And it came to pass when they came into the middle of the city, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah killed them, he and the men with him, and they threw them into the middle of the pit.

8. But ten men were found among them who said to Ishmael, “Do not kill us, for we have treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey.” So he held back and did not kill them among their brothers.

9. And the pit in which Ishmael had thrown all the dead bodies of the men, whom he had killed because of Gedaliah, was the one which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel. And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with the slain.

10. Then Ishmael took captive all the rest of the people who were in Mizpah, even the king’s daughters and all the people who remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard had entrusted to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah took captive and left to go over to the Ammonites.

11. But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done,

12. Then they took all the men and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah. And they found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13. And it came to pass when all the people with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces with him, then they were glad.

14. So all the people that Ishmael had taken captive from Mizpah turned around and went back, and came to Johanan the son of Kareah.

15. But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16. Then Johanan the son of Kareah and all the commanders of the forces with him took all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after he had killed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. They took mighty men of war, and the women, and the children, and the officials, whom he had brought again from Gibeon.

17. And they departed and lived in the Geruth Chimham, which is near Bethlehem, in order to go to Egypt.

18. Because of the Chaldeans. For they were afraid of them because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor in the land.

CHAPTER FORTY-TWO

1. Then all the commanders of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaiah the son of Hoshahiah, and all the people from the least even to the greatest, came near.

2. And they said to Jeremiah the prophet, “We beseech you, let our supplication be pleasing to you, and pray for us to the LORD your God, even for all this remnant, (for we are left but a few out of many, as your eyes behold us.)

3. That the LORD your God may show us the way in which we may walk, and the thing that we may do.”
4. And Jeremiah the prophet said to them, “I have heard you. Behold, I will pray to the LORD your God according to your words; and it shall be, all the word the LORD shall answer, I will declare it to you. I will keep nothing back from you.”
5. And they said to Jeremiah, “Let the LORD be a true and faithful witness for us, and cause you to return to your own land; nor obey the voice of the LORD your God, to Whom we send you; so that he may have compassion on you and he will turn from his hand. Do not be afraid of the king of Babylon, whom you are afraid, Do not be afraid of him,’ says the LORD. ‘For I am with you to save you and to deliver you from his hand. And I will show compassion to you, from his hand. For I am with you to save you and to deliver you from his hand. And I will show compassion to you, from his hand.
6. Whether it is good, or whether it is evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to Whom we send you; so that he may have compassion on you and he will turn from his hand. Do not be afraid of the king of Babylon, whom you are afraid, Do not be afraid of him,’ says the LORD. ‘For I am with you to save you and to deliver you from his hand.
7. And it came to pass after ten days, the Word of the LORD came to Jeremiah.
8. And he called Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces, and all the people from the least even to the greatest.
9. And he said to them, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to Whom you sent me to present your petition before Him, ‘if you will still remain in this land, then I will build you and will not pull you down. And I will plant you and will not pluck you up. For I repent of the evil that I have done to you.
10. Do not be afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom you are afraid. Do not be afraid of him,’ says the LORD. ‘For I am with you to save you and to deliver you from his hand.
11. And I will show compassion to you, so that he may have compassion on you and cause you to return to your own land.’
12. But if you say, ‘We will not dwell in this land, nor obey the voice of the LORD your God,’
13. Saying, ‘No, but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, or hear the sound of the ram’s horn, or hunger for bread; and there we will dwell;’
14. Then now hear the Word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘If you surely set your faces to go into Egypt, and go to live there,
15. Then it will come to pass, the sword which you fear shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt. And the famine that you dread shall follow after you there in Egypt; and you shall die there.
16. So it shall be to all the men who set their faces to go into Egypt to live there. They shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the plague. And none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring on them.
17. For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘As My anger and My fury has been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall My fury be poured forth upon you when you shall enter into Egypt. And you shall be a curse, and a wonder, and a shame, and a reproach; and you shall see this place no more.’
18. The LORD has said concerning you, O remnant of Judah, ‘Do not go into Egypt.’ Know certainly that I have warned you this day.
19. For you dealt deceitfully against your souls when you sent me to the LORD your God, saying, ‘Pray for us to the LORD our God; and according to all that the LORD our God shall say, so declare to us, and we will do it.’
20. And I have declared it to you today; but you have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God, nor anything for which He has sent me to you.
21. And therefore know certainly that you shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the plague, in the place where you desire to go to live.”

CHAPTER FORTY-THREE

1. And it came to pass when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking to all the people all the words of the LORD their God, for which the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words,
2. Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, spoke then, saying to Jeremiah, “You speak falsely! The LORD our God has not sent you to say, ‘Do not go to Egypt to live there.’
3. But Baruch the son of Neriah is inciting against us, to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they might put us to death and to exile us to Babylon.”
4. So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces, and all the people, did not obey the voice of the LORD to live in the land of Judah.
5. But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the commanders of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah who had returned from all the nations (where they had been driven) to dwell in the land of Judah;
6. Men, and women, and children, and the king’s daughters, and every person that Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah.
7. So they came into the land of Egypt, for they did not obey the voice of the LORD. So they came to Tahpanhes.
8. And the Word of the LORD came to Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,
9. “Take great stones in your hand, and hide them in the clay in the brick-kiln which is at the entrance to Pharaoh’s house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah.
10. And say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, My servant, and will set his throne on these stones which I have hidden. And he shall spread his royal pavilion over them.
11. And when he comes, he shall strike the land of Egypt. And whoever is for death shall go to death; and whoever is for captivity, shall go into captivity; and whoever is for the sword, to the sword.
12. And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the leaders of Egypt. And he shall burn them and take them captive. And he shall adorn himself with the land of Egypt, like a shepherd puts on his robe; and he shall go out from there in peace.
13. He shall also break the obelisks of The House of the Sun which is in the land of Egypt; and the houses of the leaders of the Egyptians he shall burn with fire.”’ ”

CHAPTER FORTY-FOUR

1. The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews who live in the land of Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying,
2. “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘You have seen all the evil that I have brought on Jerusalem, and on all the cities of Judah. And, behold, today they are a desolation, and no one lives there,
3. Because of their evil which they have committed to provoke Me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, to serve other gods whom they knew not, they, you, nor your fathers.
4. But I sent to you all My servants the prophets, again and again, saying, “Oh, do not do this abominable thing which I hate!”
5. But they did not hearken, nor incline their ear to turn from their evil, and burn no incense to other gods.
6. Therefore My fury and My anger was poured out, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem. And they are wasted, desolate as at this day.’
7. Therefore now thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Why do you commit this great evil against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and babe, out of Judah, to leave you none to remain:
8. In that you provoke Me to wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense to other gods in the land of Egypt where you have gone to live, that you might cut yourselves off and that you might be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?
9. Have you forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?
10. They are not humbled to this day, nor have they feared, nor walked in My law, nor in My statutes which I have set before you and before your fathers.’
11. Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Behold, I will set My face against you for evil, and to cut off all Judah.
12. And I will take the remnant of Judah, who have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to live there; and they shall all be consumed, and fall in the land of Egypt. They shall be destroyed by the sword and by the famine. They shall die, from the least even to the greatest, by the sword and by the famine; and they shall be a curse, a wonder, and a shame, and a reproach.
13. For I will punish those who dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished
Jeremiah 44 - 45

Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the plague,
14. So that none of the remnant of Judah who has gone into the land of Egypt to live there shall escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Judah to which they have a desire to return to live there. For none shall return except those who escape.'

15. And all the men who knew that their wives had burned incense to other gods, and all the women who stood by, a great multitude, even all the people who lived in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah. And they said,
16. "As for the word that you have spoken to us in the name of the LORD, we will not hearken to you.
17. But we will certainly do whatever thing goes forth out of our own mouth, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings to her, as we have done, we, and our fathers, our kings, and our rulers, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem. For then we had plenty of food, and were well, and saw no evil.
18. But since we stopped burning incense to the queen of heaven and pouring out drink offerings to her, we have lacked all things, and have been devoured by the sword and by the famine.
19. And when we burned incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings to her, did we make our cakes to worship her, and pour out drink offerings to her without our men?"

20. And Jeremiah said to all the people, to the men and to the women, and to all the people who had given him that answer:
21. "The incense that you burned in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, you, and your fathers, your kings, and your rulers, and the people of the land; did not the LORD remember them? Did it not come into His mind?
22. Yea, so that the LORD could no longer hold back because of the evil of your doings because of the abominations which you have committed! So your land is a desolation, and a wonder, and a curse, without anyone in it, as it is today.
23. Because you have burned incense, and because you have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, nor walked in His law, nor in His statutes, nor in His testimonies, therefore this evil has happened to you, as at this day."

24. And Jeremiah said to all the people, and to all the women, "Hear the Word of the LORD, all Judah that is in the land of Egypt.
25. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, 'You and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hands, saying, "We will surely fulfil our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings to her." You will surely fulfil your vows and surely carry out your vows.'

26. Therefore hear the Word of the LORD, all Judah that lives in the land of Egypt. 'Behold, I have sworn by My great name,' says the LORD, 'that My name will no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, "As the Lord GOD lives."

27. Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good. And all the men of Judah in the land of Egypt shall be destroyed by the sword and by the famine, until there is an end of them.
28. Yet the small number that escapes the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah; and all the remnant of Judah (who have gone into the land of Egypt to live there) shall know whose word shall stand, Mine or theirs.

29. And this shall be the sign to you,' says the LORD, 'that I will punish you in this place so that you may know that My words shall surely stand against you for evil.'

30. Thus says the LORD, 'Behold, I am giving Pharaoh Hophra, king of Egypt, into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of those who seek his life, as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, his enemy that sought his life.'"

CHAPTER FORTY-FIVE

1. The word that Jeremiah the prophet spoke to Baruch the son of Neriah, when he had written these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying,
2. “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to you, O Baruch,”
3. “You said, ‘Woe is me now, for the LORD has added sorrow to my pain. I am weary with my groaning and I find no rest.’”
4. Thus you shall say to him, ‘The LORD says this, “Behold, what I have built I will break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up, even all the land.”
5. And do you seek great things for yourself? Do not seek them; for behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh,” says the LORD.

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX

1. The Word of the LORD which came to Jeremiah the prophet against the nations;
2. Against Egypt, against the army of Pharaoh Necho, king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, struck in the fourth year of Je-hoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah.
3. “Set in order the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle.
4. Harness the horses, and mount the steeds. Yea, stand with helmets, polish the spears; put on body armor.
5. Why have I seen that they are afraid, turned backward? And their mighty ones are beaten down and have fled for refuge, and they do not look back. Terror is all around,” says the LORD.
6. “Do not let the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape. They stumbled and fell in the north, by the side of the river Euphrates.
7. Who is this rising up like the Nile, like rivers of surging waters?
8. Egypt rises up like the Nile, and his waters surge about like the rivers. And he says, ‘I will go up and will cover the earth; I will destroy the city and its people.’
9. Come up, O horses; and rage, O chariots! And let the mighty men come forth; the Ethiopians and the Libyans who handle the shield, and the Lydians who handle and bend the bow.
10. For this is the day of the Lord GOD of hosts, a day of vengeance, that He may avenge Himself of His foes. And the sword shall devour, and it shall be filled and made drunk with their blood, for the Lord GOD of hosts has a sacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates.
11. Go up into Gilead and take balm, O virgin, the daughter of Egypt. In vain shall you use many medicines, for you shall not be cured.
12. The nations have heard of your shame, and your cry has filled the land. For the mighty man has stumbled against the mighty, and they have both fallen together.”
13. The word spoken by the LORD to Jeremiah the prophet, of the coming of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, to strike the land of Egypt.
14. “Declare it in Egypt, and cry it in Migdol, and make it heard in Noph and in Tahpanhes. Say, ‘Stand fast and get ready, the sword shall devour all around you.’
15. Why are your mighty valiant men swept away? They did not stand because the LORD has thrust them down.
16. He made many fall; yea, one fell on top of another. And they said, ‘Arise, and let us go again to our own people and to the land of our birth, away from the oppressing sword.’
17. They cried there, ‘Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a big noise; he let pass the appointed time.’
18. As I live,” says the King Whose name is the LORD of hosts, “Surely as Tabor is among the mountains, and as Carmel is by the sea, so he shall come.
19. O daughter dwelling in Egypt, get ready to go into captivity. For Noph shall be waste and desolate without inhabitant.
20. Egypt is a beautiful heifer, but a gaddfly from the north surely comes.
21. Also her hired ones are in her midst like calves of the stall; for they also have turned back, fleeing together. They did not stand because the day of their calamity had come on them, the time of their visitation.
22. Its sound is like that of a serpent as it goes, for they shall go in force and come against her with axes like woodcutters.
23. They shall cut down her forest,” says the LORD, “though it cannot be searched; because they are more numerous than the locusts and cannot be counted.
24. The daughter of Egypt shall be ashamed. She shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.”
25. The Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, swords of the LORD, how long will you cut yourself? 5. Baldness has come on Gaza. Ashkelon, the coastland of Caphtor, the Philistines, the rest of the remnant of their valley.

4. Moab is destroyed; her little ones have cried, and her partners mourn over her. For her people are taken away, none to help her; she is utterly ashamed of Bethel her hope.

13. And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel their hope.

14. How do you say, ‘We are mighty and strong men for war’?

15. Moab is plundered and men have come up to her cities. And his chosen young men have gone down to the slaughter,” says the King Whose name is the LORD of hosts.

16. “The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hurries fast.

17. All of you who are around him, mourn for him. And all of you who know his name, say, ‘How the strong scepter is broken, the glorious staff!’

18. O daughter who dwells in Dibon, come down from your glory and sit in thist. For the destroyer of Moab shall come upon you; he shall destroy your strongholds.

19. O dweller of Aroer, stand by the way and watch. Ask him who flees and her who escapes; say, ‘What is happening?’

20. Moab is put to shame, for it is broken down! How has Moab turned the back! How has Moab turned the palm away?

21. And judgment has come on the plain country; on Holon, and on Jahzah, and on Mephaath,

22. And on Dibon, and on Nebo, and on Beth Diblathaim,

23. And on Kirjathaim, and on Beth Gamul, and on Beth Meon,

24. And on Kerioth, and on Bozrah, and on all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near.

25. The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken,” says the LORD.

26. “Make him drunk, for he magnified himself against the LORD. Moab also shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be a mockery.

27. For was not Israel a mockery to you? Was he found among thieves? For as often as you speak of him, you shake your head in scorn.

28. O you who dwell in Moab, leave the cities and live in the rocks, and be like the dove making her nest in the sides of the mouth of the pit.

29. We have heard the pride of Moab (he is exceedingly proud), his loftiness, and his pride, and his arrogance, and his elevated heart.”

30. “I know his wrath,” says the LORD, “but it is futile; idle boasts accomplish nothing.

31. So I will wail for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab, and shall mourn for the men of Kir Heres.

32. O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for you with the weeping of Jazer. Your plants have gone over the sea; they reach to the sea of Jazer. A destroyer has fallen on your summer fruits and on your grape crop.

33. And joy and gladness is taken from the plentiful field, and from the land of Moab. And I have caused wine to fail from the winepresses; none shall tread the grapes with shouting; their shouting shall not be joyous shouting.

34. From the cry of Heshbon to Elealeh, and to Jahaz, they have uttered their voice, from Zoar to Horonaim, like a heifer three years old. For the waters of Nimrim also shall be desolate.

35. And, I will cause him who offers sacrifices in the high places to cease in Moab,” says the LORD, “and him who burns incense to his gods.

36. Therefore my heart shall sound for Moab like pipes, and my heart shall sound like pipes for the men of Kir Heres because the riches that he has gotten have perished.

37. For every head shall be bald, and every beard clipped. On all the hands shall be cuttings and on the loins sackcloth.

38. On all the housetops of Moab, and in its streets, there is weeping everywhere. For I have broken Moab like a vessel in which is no pleasure,” says the LORD.

39. “They shall howl, saying, ‘How is it broken down! How has Moab turned the back with shame!’ So Moab shall become a derision, and a dismay to all those around him.”

40. For thus says the LORD, “Behold, he shall fly like an eagle and shall spread his wings over Moab.

41. Kerioth is taken, and the strongholds are seized; and the mighty men’s hearts in Moab shall be at that day like the heart of a woman in her pangs.

42. And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people because he has magnified himself against the LORD.

43. Terror, and the pit and the snare, shall be on you, O Moabite,” says the LORD.

44. “He who flees from the terror shall fall into the pit; and he who goes up out of the pit shall be taken in the snare. For I will bring upon it, even upon Moab, the year of their judgment,” says the LORD.

45. “In the shadow of Heshbon, the fugitives stand without strength, and a flame out of the midst of Sihon, and... shall devour the foreheads of Moab and the noisy boasters.

46. Woe to you, O Moab! The people of Chemosh perish; for your sons are taken away into exile, and your daughters into captivity.

47. But I will turn back the captivity of Moab in the latter days,” says the LORD. Thus far is the judgment of Moab.

CHAPTER FORTY-NINE

1. Thus says the LORD to the sons of Ammon, “Has Israel no sons? Or has he no heir? Why does Malcam take possession of Gad, and his people dwell in his cities?

2. Therefore, behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard against Rabbah of the sons of Ammon. And it shall be a desolate heap of ruins, and her outlying villages shall be burned with fire. Then Israel shall drive out those who drove him out,” says the LORD.

3. “Wail, O Heshbon; Ai is spoiled! Cry, daughters of Rabbah; clothe yourselves with sackcloth, mourn, and run to and fro inside the walls! For Malcam shall go into exile; his priests and his rulers together.

4. Why do you glory in your valley, your flowing valleys, O backsliding daughter? She trusted in her treasures, saying, ‘Who shall come to attack me?’

5. Behold, I will bring a terror upon you,” says the Lord GOD of hosts, “from all those who are around you. And you shall be driven out, each man straight before him; and there shall be none to gather up the fugitives.

6. And afterward I will bring back the children of Ammon from exile,” says the LORD.

7. Thus says the LORD of hosts to Edom, “Is wisdom no more in Teman? Has counsel perished from the prudent? Has their wisdom vanished?

8. Flee, turn back, dwell in the depths, O people of Dedan. For I will bring the calamity of Esau on him in the time that I will punish him.

9. If the gatherers of grapes come to you, would they not leave some gleaning grapes? If thieves come by night, they will destroy only until they have enough.

10. But I have made Esau bare; I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself. His children are destroyed, and his brothers, and his neighbors, and he is no more.

11. Leave your fatherless children; I will keep them alive; and let your widows trust in Me.”

12. For thus says the LORD, “Behold, if those who do not deserve to drink the cup must drink it, why should you go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, but you shall surely drink.

13. For I have sworn by Myself,” says the LORD, “that Bozrah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse. And all its cities shall be perpetual wastes.”

14. I have heard a message from the LORD, and a herald is sent to the nations, saying, “Gather together and come against her, and rise up to the battle.

15. For lo, I will make you small among the nations, despised among men.

16. The terror you inspire and the pride of your heart have deceived you, O you who dwell in the clefts of the rock, who hold the height of the hill. Though you should make your nest as high as the eagle, I will bring you down from there,” says the LORD.

17. “Also Edom shall be a desolation. Everyone who goes by it shall be amazed and shall hiss at all its plagues.

18. As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and her neighbors,” says the LORD, “no man shall remain there, nor shall a son of man live in it.

19. Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the thicket of the Jordan against the home of the strong. But I will suddenly make him run away from her. And whoever is chosen, will I appoint over it? For who is like Me? And who will summon Me? And who is that shepherd who is able to stand against Me?

20. Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD which He has taken against Edom, and His purposes which He has purposed against the people of Teman: Surely the least of the flock shall drag them away. Surely He will make their pasture desolate because of them.

21. The earth quakes at the noise of their fall; the sound of her cry was heard at the Red Sea.

22. Behold, like an eagle he will soar and swoop down and spread his wings against Bozrah. And in that day the heart of the mighty men of Edom shall be like the heart of a woman in her pangs.
23. Concerning Damascus: Hamath and Arpad are put to shame, for they have heard evil reports. They are melted away; there is trouble in the sea; it cannot be quiet.
24. Damascus has become feeble; she has turned to flee, and trembling has taken her like a woman in labor.
25. How is the city of praise left unrepaired, the city of my joy!
26. So her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be silenced in that day,” says the LORD of hosts.
27. “And I will scatter them unto all winds, the multitude of their livestock a prey.
28. Thus says the LORD concerning Kedar, and concerning the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon shall strike, “Arise, go up to Kedar, and spoil the men of the east.
29. They shall take away their tents and their flocks. They shall take their camels and their camels to themselves. And they shall cry to them, ‘Fear is on every side.’
30. Flee, go far away, go deep to dwell; O people of Hazor,” says the LORD; “for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has taken counsel against you, and has plotted a plan against you.
31. Arise, go up to the nation that is at ease, who dwells securely,” says the LORD, “which has neither gates nor bars, which dwells alone.
32. And their camels shall be a prize, and the multitude of their livestock a prey. And I will scatter them unto all winds, those who are in the farthest corners. And I will bring their calamity from all sides of it,” says the LORD.
33. “And Hazor shall be a dwelling for jackals and a desolation forever. No man shall live there, nor any son of man dwell in it.”
34. The Word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet against Elam in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying,
35. “Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might.
36. And I will bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven upon Elam, and will scatter them toward all these winds. And there shall be no nation where the outcasts of Elam shall not come.
37. For I will cause Elam to be afraid before their enemies and before those who seek their life. And I will bring evil on them, even My fierce anger,” says the LORD. ‘And I will send the sword after them until I have destroyed them;
38. And I will set My throne in Elam, and will destroy the king and the princes from there,’ says the LORD.
39. ‘But it shall be in the latter days, I will bring back the exiles of Elam,’ says the LORD.”

CHAPTER FIFTY

1. The word that the LORD spoke against Babylon, against the land of the Chaldeans by Jeremiah the prophet.
2. “Declare among the nations, and cause them to hear, and lift up a banner. Cause them to hear, do not hide it; say, ‘Babylon is captured, Bel is ashamed, Merodach is broken in pieces; her images are shame, her idols are broken in pieces.’
3. For out of the north a nation comes up against her, which shall make her land a desert, and none shall dwell in it. They shall flee, they shall depart, both man and beast.
4. In those days, and at that time,” says the LORD, “the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah together, going and weeping. They shall go and seek the LORD their God.
5. They shall ask the way to Zion with their faces there, saying, ‘Come and let us join ourselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant never to be forgotten.’
6. My people have been lost sheep; their shepherds have caused them to go astray; they have turned them away on the mountains. They have gone from mountain to hill; they have forgotten their resting place.
7. All who have found them have devoured them. And their enemies said, ‘We are not guilty because they have sinned against the LORD, the habitation of righteousness, even the LORD, the hope of their fathers.’
8. Flee from the midst of Babylon, and go out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flocks.
9. For, lo, I am stirring up and bringing up against Babylon a company of great nations from a northern land. And they shall array themselves against her. She shall be captured there. Their arrows shall be as those of a skillful, mighty man; who does not return empty-handed.

10. And Chaldea shall be a prize; all who plunder her shall be satisfied,” says the LORD.

11. “Because you were glad, because you rejoiced, O destroyers of My inheritance; because you frolic about like a heifer in the grass, and neigh like mighty horses;

12. Your mother shall be deeply ashamed; she who bore you shall turn pale. Behold, the last of the nations shall be a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert.

13. Because of the wrath of the LORD it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate. Everyone who goes by Babylon shall be appalled and hiss at all her plagues.

14. Set yourselves in battle array against Babylon all around; all who bend the bow, shoot at her. Hold back no arrows, for she has sinned against the LORD.

15. Shout against her all around. She has given up her hand in defeat; her bulwarks have fallen, her walls have been thrown down; for it is the vengeance of the LORD, take vengeance upon her. Just as she has done, do to her.

16. Cut off the sower from Babylon, and the one who handles the sickle in the time of harvest. For fear of the pressing sword they shall turn, each one to his people; and they shall flee, each one to his own land.

17. Israel is as scattered sheep, driven away by lions. First the king of Assyria devoured him, and last this Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon crushed his bones.”

18. Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Behold, I will punish the king of Babylon and his land, as I have punished the king of Assyria.

19. And I will again bring Israel to his pasture, and he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied on Mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20. In those days, and at that time,” says the LORD, “the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and it shall not be found; and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found; for I will pardon those whom I leave as a remnant.

21. Go up against the land of Merathaim, even against it and against the people of Pekod. Slay and utterly destroy after them,” says the LORD, “and do according to all that I have commanded you.

22. A sound of battle is in the land, and great destruction.

23. How the hammer of the whole earth is cut asunder and broken! How Babylon has become a desolation among the nations!

24. I have laid a trap for you, and you are also captured, O Babylon, and you were unaware. You were found and also caught because you have fought against the LORD.

25. The LORD has opened His armory, and has brought forth the weapons of His fury. For this is a work of the Lord GOD of hosts in the land of the Chaldeans.

26. Come against her from the border; open her storehouses; cast her up as heaps, and destroy her completely. Let nothing of her be left.

27. Kill all her bulls; let them go down to the slaughter. Woe to them! For their day has come, the time of their punishment.

28. The voice of those who flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of His temple.

29. Call together the archers against Babylon. All you who bend a bow, camp against it all around; let none of them escape. Repay her according to her work; according to all that she has done, do to her. For she has been arrogant against the LORD, against the Holy One of Israel.

30. So her young men shall fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be silenced in that day,” says the LORD.

31. “Behold, I am against you, O arrogant one,” says the Lord GOD of hosts; “for your day has come, the time that I will punish you.

32. And the most arrogant shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up. And I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall burn up everything all around him.”

33. Thus says the LORD of hosts, “The children of Israel and the children of Judah were oppressed together. And all who captured them held them fast; they refused to let them go.
34. Their Redeemer is strong; The LORD of hosts, is His name. He shall thoroughly plead their cause, so that He may give rest to the land, but unrest to the people of Babylon.

35. A sword is upon the Chaldeans,” says the LORD, “and upon the people of Babylon, and upon her rulers, and upon her wise men.

36. A sword is upon the liars, and they shall become fools. A sword is upon her mighty men, and they shall be afraid.

37. A sword is upon her chariots, and upon all the mixed people in her midst; and they shall become as women. A sword is upon her treasuries, and they shall be robbed.

38. A drought is upon her waters; and they shall be dried up. For it is the land of idols, and they act insanely.

39. So the beasts of the desert shall dwell there with jackals. And the daughters of the ostrich shall dwell in her again. And the daughters of the desert shall be in her, from the east and from the west; they shall be desolate because of them.

40. As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah and their neighbors,” says the LORD, “no man shall live there; neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.

41. Behold, a people shall come from the north, even a great nation; and many kings shall be stirred up from the farthest parts of the earth.

42. They lay hold on a bow and spear; they are cruel and will not show mercy. Their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride on horses arrayed like a man for the battle against you, O daughter of Babylon.

43. The king of Babylon has heard the report of them, and his hands became feeble. Anguish took hold of him, and pangs like those of a woman in labor.

44. Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the thickets of the Jordan to the home of the strong. But I will make them suddenly run away from her. And whoever is chosen, will I appoint over her? For who is like Me? And will appoint Me the time? And who is that shepherd who will stand against Me?”

45. Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD that He has taken against Babylon; and His purposes which He has purposed against the land of the Chaldeans. Surely the least of the flock shall drag them away; surely He shall make their pasture desolate because of them.

46. At the sound of the capture of Babylon the earth quakes, and a cry is heard among the nations.

CHAPTER FIFTY-ONE

1. Thus says the LORD, “Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against those dwelling in the heart of My foes a destroying wind.

2. And I will send strangers to Babylon who will sift her and will empty her land. For in the day of trouble they shall be against her all around.

3. Do not let the archer bend his bow; nor lift himself up in his armor. And do not spare her young men; utterly destroy all her army.

4. Thus the dead shall fall in the land of the Chaldeans, those who are thrust through in her streets.

5. For neither Israel nor Judah has been forsaken by his God, by the LORD of hosts, though their land was filled with sin against the Holy One of Israel.”

6. Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and each man deliver his soul. Be not cut off in her iniquity, for this is the time of the LORD’S vengeance; He will give to her a just reward.

7. Babylon has been a golden cup in the LORD’S hand, which made all the earth drunk. The nations have drunk of her wine; therefore the nations rage.

8. Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed. Wail for her; take balm for her, pain, if perhaps she may be healed.

9. We would have healed Babylon, but she would not be healed. Forsake her and let us go, each one into his own country; for her judgment reaches to the heavens and is lifted up to the skies.

10. The LORD has brought forth our righteousness; come and let us declare in Zion the work of the LORD our God.

11. Sharpen the arrows; gather the shields; the LORD has raised up the spirit of the kings of the Medes. For His plan against Babylon is to destroy it; because it is the vengeance of the LORD, the vengeance of His temple.

12. Set up a banner against the walls of Babylon; make the watch strong; set up the watchmen; prepare the ambushes.
For the LORD has both planned and done that which He has spoken against the people of Babylon.
13. O you who live on many waters, rich in treasures, your end has come, and the measure of your covetousness.
14. The LORD of hosts has sworn by Himself, saying, “Surely I will fill you with men as with locusts; and they shall lift up a shout against you.”
15. He has made the earth by His power; He has established the world by His wisdom, and has stretched out the heavens by His understanding.
16. When He utters His voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens; He causes the mists to ascend from the ends of the earth. He makes lightning with rain and brings forth the wind out of His treasures.
17. Every man is stupid and without knowledge; every refiner is put to shame by graven idols. For his molded image is a lie, and there is no breath in them.
18. They are vanity, the work of delusion; in the time of their judgment they shall perish.
19. The Portion of Jacob is not like them; for He is the Maker of all things, and Israel is the rod of His inheritance. The LORD of hosts is His name.
20. “You are My battle axe and weapons of war; for with you I will shatter nations; and with you I will destroy kingdoms.
21. And with you I will shatter the horse and his rider; and with you I will shatter the chariot and his rider.
22. Also with you I will shatter man and woman; and with you I will shatter old and young; and with you I will shatter the young man and the maid.
23. I will also shatter the shepherd and his flock with you. And with you I will shatter the farmer and his yoke of oxen; and with you I will shatter heads and rulers.
24. And I will repay to Babylon, and all the people of Chaldea, all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight,” says the LORD.
25. “Behold, I am against you, O destroying mountain,” says the LORD, “who destroys all the earth. And I will stretch out My hand upon you and roll you down from the rocks, and will make you a burned mountain.
26. And they shall not take a stone from you for a corner, nor a stone for foundations; but you shall be a desolation forever,” says the LORD.
27. Set up a banner in the land; blow a ram’s horn among the nations; prepare the nations against her. Call the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz together against her; set a commander against her. Cause the horses to come up as the rough locusts.
28. Consecrate nations against her, with the kings of the Medes, her governors and all her rulers, and all the land of his kingdom.
29. And the land shall tremble and writhe. For every purpose of the LORD shall be done against Babylon, to make the land of Babylon a desolation without inhabitant.
30. The mighty men of Babylon have stopped fighting; they have remained in strongholds: their power has failed. They have become like women; they have burned her houses; her bars are broken.
31. A runner shall run to meet a runner, and a herald to a herald, to announce to the king of Babylon that his city is captured from one end to the other end;
32. And that the fords are stopped. And they have burned the reeds with fire, and the men of war are terrified.
33. For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floor; at the time it is trampled. Yet a little while, and the time of her harvest shall come for her.
34. Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon has devoured me; he has crushed me; he has made me an empty vessel. He has swallowed me up like a jackal; he has filled his belly with good things; he has thrown me out;
35. The violence done to me and to my flesh shall be on Babylon,” the dweller in Zion shall say. “And, my blood shall be upon the people of Chaldea,” Jerusalem shall say.
36. Therefore thus says the LORD, “Behold, I will plead your cause and take vengeance for you; and I will dry up her sea and make her springs dry.
37. And Babylon shall become desolate heaps, a home for jackals, an astonishment and a hissing, without an inhabitant.
38. They shall roar together like young lions; they shall growl like lions’ cubs.
39. When they are inflamed I will prepare their feast, and I will make them drunk so that they may rejoice and sleep a never-ending sleep, and never awaken,” says the LORD.
40. “I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with he-goats.
41. How Sheshach is captured! And how the praise of the whole earth is seized! How Babylon has become a horror among the nations!
42. The sea has come up over Babylon; she is covered with the multitude of its waves.
43. Her cities are a desolation, a dry land and a wilderness, a land in which no man dwells, nor does any son of man pass by it.
44. And I will punish Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which he has swallowed up. And the nations shall not flow together any more to him; yea, the wall of Babylon shall fall.
45. My people, go out of her midst; and let each man deliver his soul from the fierce anger of the LORD.
46. And let not your heart faint, nor fear the rumor that shall be heard in the land. A rumor shall come one year—and after that a rumor shall come in another year; and violence shall be in the land, ruler against ruler.
47. Therefore, behold, the days come that I will punish the idols of Babylon. And all her land shall be put to shame, and all her slain shall fall in her midst.
48. And the heavens and the earth and all that is in them shall shout for Babylon; for the destroyers shall come to her from the north,” says the LORD.
49. As Babylon has caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon the slain of all the earth shall fall.
50. You who have escaped the sword, go out; do not stand still. Remember the LORD afar off, and let Jerusalem come into your mind.
51. We are ashamed because we have heard reproach; shame has covered our faces, for foreigners have come into the holy places of the LORD’S house.
52. Wherefore, behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “that I will punish her idols, and through all her land the wounded shall groan.
53. Though Babylon should mount up to the heavens, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet destroyers shall come to her from Me,” says the LORD.
54. A sound of a cry comes from Babylon, and great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans.
55. For the LORD will destroy Babylon, and the great voice will perish out of her. And her waves will roar like great waters; the noise of their voice is given.
56. Because the destroyer has come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are captured. Every one of their bows is broken, for the LORD, God of vengeance, shall surely repay.
57. And I will make her rulers drunk, also her wise ones, her governors, and her rulers, and her mighty men. And they shall sleep a never-ending sleep and not awaken,” says the King, Whose name is the LORD of hosts.
58. Thus says the LORD of hosts, “The broad walls of Babylon shall be completely broken, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; and the people shall labor in vain, and nations shall weary themselves only for fire.”
59. The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah into Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. And Seraiah was an officer of peace.
60. So Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come on Babylon, all these words that are written against Babylon.
61. And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, “When you come to Babylon, see that you read all those words aloud.
62. Then you shall say, ‘O LORD, You have spoken against this place to cut it off, so that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be a desolation forever.’
63. And it shall be, when you have made an end of reading this book, you shall tie a stone to it and throw it into the middle of the Euphrates.
64. And you shall say, ‘In this way shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise from the evil that I will bring on her. And they shall be weary.’” Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.
CHAPTER FIFTY-TWO

1. Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.
2. And he did evil in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.
3. For it was because of the anger of the LORD that all this happened to Jerusalem and Judah, and in the end He cast them out from His presence and Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.
4. And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and pitched against it and built forts against it all around.
5. So the city was under attack until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.
6. And in the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was very grievous in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.
7. Then a breach was made into the city, and all the men of war fled and went forth out from the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden. (And the Chaldeans completely encircled the city.) And they went by the way of the plain.
8. But the army of the Chaldeans pursued the king and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho. And all his army was scattered from him.
9. And they took the king and carried him up to the king of Babylon, to Riblah, in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgments against him.
10. And the king of Babylon killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes. He also killed all the rulers of Judah in Riblah.
11. And he put out the eyes of Zedekiah. And the king of Babylon bound him in chains, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.
12. And in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, Nebuzaradan, Captain of the Guard, who served the king of Babylon, came into Jerusalem.
13. And he burned the house of the LORD, and the king's house. And he burned with fire all the houses of Jerusalem, and all the houses of the great men.
14. And all the army of the Chaldeans with the Captain of the Guard broke down all Jerusalem's walls all around.
15. And Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard exiled some of the poor of the people, and the rest of the people who remained in the city, and those who surrendered to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the multitude.
16. But Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard left some of the poor of the land for vinedressers and for farmers.
17. Also the Chaldeans broke the pillars of bronze that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases, and the bronze sea in the house of the LORD, and carried all the bronze from them to Babylon.
18. They also took away the pots, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the bowls, and the spoons, and all the vessels of bronze with which the priests ministered.
19. And the Captain of the Guard took away the basins, and the firepans, and the bowls, and the pots, and the lampstands, and the spoons, and the cups; what was gold, in gold; and what was silver, in silver.
20. The two pillars, one sea, and twelve bronze bulls that were under the bases, which King Solomon had made for the house of the LORD; the bronze of all these vessels was without weight.
21 And the pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits. And a line of twelve cubits went around it, and the thickness of it was four fingers. It was hollow.
22. And a capital of bronze was on it. And the height of one capital was five cubits, with the network and pomegranates on the capitals all around, all of bronze. The second pillar also, and the pomegranates, were like these.
23. And there were ninety-six pomegranates on a side; all the pomegranates on the network were a hundred all around.
24. And the Captain of the Guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three doorkeepers.
25. He also took out of the city an officer who was in charge of the men of war; and seven men from those who were near the king's person, who were found in the city; and the chief scribe of the commander of the army, who mustered the people of the land; and sixty men of the people of the land, who were found in the middle of the city.

26. And Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard took them and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah.

27. And the king of Babylon struck them and slaughtered them in Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was exiled out of their own land.

28. This is the people whom Nebuchadnezzar exiled: in the seventh year, three thousand and twenty-three Jews;

29. In the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar he exiled from Jerusalem eight hundred and thirty-two persons;

30. In the twenty-third year of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuzaradan the Captain of the Guard exiled seven hundred and forty-five persons of the Jews. All the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

31. And it came to pass in the thirty-seventh year of the exile of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the twenty-fifth of the month, Evil-Merodach king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him out from prison,

32. And spoke kindly to him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings who were with him in Babylon.

33. And he changed his prison garments, and he ate bread before him all the days of his life.

34. And his allowance, a continual allowance, was given him from the king of Babylon, a daily portion, until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

The Major Prophets

The Book of Ezekiel

CHAPTER ONE

1. And it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I was among the captives by the river Chebar, that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God.

2. On the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth year of King Jehoiachin's captivity,

3. The Word of the LORD came expressly unto Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar. And the hand of the LORD was upon him there.

4. And I looked, and behold, a windstorm came out of the north, a great cloud, with fire flashing forth continually—and a brightness all around, coming out of its midst, like the color of sparkling amber out of the midst of the fire.

5. Also out of its midst came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance; they had the likeness of a man.

6. And each had four faces, and each had four wings.

7. And their legs were straight; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot. And they sparkled like the color of burnished brass.

8. And the hands of a man extended from under their wings on their four sides; and as for their faces and wings of the four of them,

9. Their wings were joined one to the other. They did not turn in their going; each one went straight forward.

10. And the likeness of their faces was this: the face of a man, and the face of a lion, on the right side of the four of them; and the face of a bull on the left side of the four of them; and the face of an eagle toward the rear of the four of them.

11. Thus were their faces. And their wings were stretched upward; two wings of each one were joined to another; and two wings of each covered their bodies.

12. And each went straight forward. To where the spirit was to go, there they went without turning as they moved.

13. And the likeness of the living creatures was this: they looked like burning coals of fire; like the appearance of torches. It was continually circling among the living creatures. And the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14. And the living creatures kept running back and forth, like the appearance of a flash of lightning.

15. And as I looked at the living creatures, behold, one wheel was on the earth beside the living creatures, with its four faces.

16. The appearance of the wheels and their workmanship was the color of beryl, and the four of them had the same likeness. And their appearance and their workmanship was like a wheel inside of a wheel.

17. When they went, they went on their four sides; and they did not turn when they moved.

18. And their rims looked like this: they were high, they were even awesome. And their rims were full of eyes all around the four of them.

19. And when the living creatures moved the wheels moved with them; and when the living creatures were lifted from the earth, the wheels were lifted up with them.

20. Wherever the spirit was to go, there they went; for there the spirit was to go. And the wheels were lifted up along with them, for the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

21. In their going, these also went; and in their standing still, these also stood still. And in their lifting up from the earth, the wheels were also lifted up along with them. For the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

22. And there was a likeness over the heads of the living creatures—an expanse, like the color of awesome crystal stretched out over their heads from above.

23. And under the expanse their wings were straight, the one toward the other. Each one had two wings covering on this side, and each had two wings covering on that side of their bodies.

24. And I heard the sound of their wings, like the sound of great waters, like the voice of the Almighty, as they went their sound was like the sound of tumult, as the sound of an army. In their standing still, they let down their wings.

25. And there was a voice from the expanse which was over their heads, when they stood still, and they let down their wings.

26. And from above the expanse that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, like sapphire stone. And on the likeness of the throne was a likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it.

27. And I saw Him appearing as the color of a throne within it all around. From the likeness of His loins even upward, and from the likeness of His loins even downward, I saw Him, looking like fire, and there was brightness all around Him.

28. As the rainbow appears that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of His brightness all around. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. And I saw. And I fell on my face, and I heard a voice of One speaking.

CHAPTER TWO

1. And He said to me, "Son of man, stand on your feet, and I will speak to you."

2. And the Spirit entered into me when He spoke to me, and set me on my feet, so that I heard Him Who spoke to me.

3. And He said to me, "Son of man, I am sending you to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation, who have rebelled against Me; they and their fathers have transgressed against Me, even unto this very day.

4. For they are impudent children, and hard of heart. I am sending you to them; and you shall say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God.'

5. And they, whether they will hear or whether they will forbear—for they are a rebellious house—yet they shall know that there has been a prophet among them.

6. And you, son of man, do not be afraid of them, nor of their words, though defiers and despisers are with you, and you dwell among scorpions. Do not be afraid of their words, nor frightened by their faces, for they are a rebellious house.

7. And you shall speak My words to them, whether they will hear or whether they will forbear, for they are most rebellious.

8. But you, son of man, hear what I am saying to you. Do not be rebellious like... that rebellious house. Open your mouth and eat what I am giving you.”
9. And I looked, and behold! A hand was extended to me; and lo, a scroll of a book was in it.
10. And He spread it before me; and it was written on the front and on the back. And written on it were lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

CHAPTER THREE

1. And He said to me, “Son of man, eat what you find. Eat this scroll, and go speak to the house of Israel.”
2. So I opened my mouth, and He caused my belly to eat, and fill your belly with this scroll that I give you.”
3. And He said to me, “Son of man, cause your belly to eat, and fill your belly with this scroll that I give you.” Then I ate it; and in my mouth it was like honey for sweetness.
4. And He said to me, “Son of man, go! Go up to the house of Israel and speak to them with My words.
5. For you are not sent to a people of a strange speech and of a difficult language, but to the house of Israel;
6. Not to many people of a strange speech and of a difficult language, whose words you cannot understand. Surely, if I had sent you to them, they would have hearkened to you.
7. But the house of Israel will not be willing to hearken to you, for they will not be willing to hearken to Me; for all the house of Israel are of a hard forehead and a stubborn heart.
8. Behold, I have made your face strong against their faces and your forehead strong against their foreheads.
9. I have made your forehead as an adamant stone, harder than flint. Do not be afraid of them or dismayed by their faces, for they are a rebellious house.”
10. And He said to me, “Son of man, receive all My words which I shall speak to you. Receive them to your heart, and hear with your ears.
11. And go! Go to those of the captivity, to the children of your people, and speak to them, and tell them, ‘Thus says the Lord God;’ whether they will hear or whether they will forbear.”
12. And the Spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me a sound of a great rushing, saying, “Blessed be the glory of the LORD from His place.”
13. I also heard the sound of the wings of the living creatures touching one another, and the sound of the wheels along with them, and a sound of a great rushing.
14. So the Spirit lifted me up and took me away, and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit; but the hand of the LORD was strong upon me.
15. Then I came to the exiles at Tel Abib, who lived by the river Chebar. And I sat where they sat; and I also remained there astonished among them for seven days.
16. And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
17. “Son of man, I have made you a watchman to the house of Israel. Therefore hear the word from My mouth, and give them warning from Me.
18. When I say to the wicked, ‘You shall surely die;’ and you do not give him warning, nor speak to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked one shall die in his iniquity; but I will require his blood at your hand.
19. Yet if you warn the wicked, and he does not turn from his wickedness nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but you have delivered your soul.
20. And when the righteous turns from his righteousness and commits iniquity, and I lay a stumbling block before him, he shall die. Because you have not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he has done shall not be remembered; but his blood I will require at your hand.
21. But if you warn the righteous so that the righteous does not sin, and if he does not sin, he shall surely live because he is warned; also you have delivered your soul.
22. And the hand of the LORD was on me there. And He said to me, “Arise, go out into the plain, and I will talk with you there.”
23. Then I arose and went out into the plain; and, behold, the glory of the LORD stood there, like the glory which I saw by the river Chebar. And I fell on my face.
24. And the Spirit entered into me and set me on my feet; and spoke with me, and said to me, “Go, shut yourself inside your house!”
25. But you, O son of man, behold, they shall put cords upon you and shall bind you with them, and you shall not go out among them.

26. And I will make your tongue cling to the roof of your mouth, so that you shall be dumb and shall not be one who warns them. For they are a rebellious house.

27. But when I speak with you, I will open your mouth, and you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord God,’ He who hears, let him hear; and he who stops his ears, let him stop his ears; for they are a rebellious house.”

CHAPTER FOUR

1. “And you, son of man, take a tile to yourself, and lay it before you, and portray on it the city Jerusalem.

2. And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mound against it. Also set the camp against it, and set battering rams against it all around.

3. And take an iron griddle to yourself, and set it for a wall of iron between you and the city. And set your face toward it, and it shall be under attack. And you shall set a battle against it. This shall be a sign to the house of Israel.

4. Also lie on your left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel on it; according to the number of days that you shall lie on it, you shall bear their iniquity.

5. For I have laid on you the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days. So you shall bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.

6. And when you have fulfilled them, lie again on your right side, and you shall bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days; a day for a year; a day for a year, I have set it upon you.

7. And you shall set your face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and your arm shall be uncovered, and you shall prophesy against it.

8. And, behold, I will lay cords on you, and you shall not turn yourself from one side to another until you have ended the days of your siege.

9. Take also to yourself wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and spelt, and put them in one vessel, and make bread of them for yourself. According to the number of the days that you shall lie on your side, three hundred and ninety days, you shall eat of it.

10. And your food which you shall eat shall be by weight twenty shekels a day; from time to time you shall eat it.

11. You shall also drink water by measure, the sixth part of a hin. From time to time you shall drink.

12. And you shall eat it as barley cakes in their sight, and you shall bake it with the dung of the excrement of man.”

13. And the Lord said, “Even so shall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the nations, where I will drive them.”

14. Then I said, “Ah, Lord God! Behold, my soul has not been defiled. For from my youth up, even till now, I have not eaten of that which dies of itself, or is torn in pieces; neither did there come any unclean flesh into my mouth.”

15. Then He said to me, “Lo, I have given you cow’s dung for man’s dung, and you shall prepare your bread with it.”

16. And He said to me, “Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem. And they shall eat bread by weight, and with care. And they shall drink water by measure, and in silence.

17. So that they may lack bread and water, and be appalled with one another, and waste away for their iniquity.”

CHAPTER FIVE

1. “And you, son of man, take a sharp sword to yourself, take a barber’s razor also, and cause it to pass on your head and on your beard. Then take scales to weigh and divide the hair.

2. You shall burn a third part with fire in the middle of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled; and you shall take a third part and beat around it with a sword; and you shall scatter a third part in the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them.

3. Also you shall take a few of them in number, and tie them up in the hem of your garments.

4. Then take of them again, and throw them into the middle of the fire, and burn them in the fire; for a fire shall come forth into all the house of Israel.

5. Thus says the Lord God, ‘This is Jerusalem. I have set it in the midst of the nations.'
Behold, I, even I, the LORD have spoken it. I will execute judgments against you in nations which are all around you; for they have rejected My judgments and My laws; they have not walked in them.'

7. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Because you have multiplied disobedience more than the nations that are all around you, and have not walked in My laws, neither have kept My judgments, nor have done according to the judgments of the nations all around you.'

8. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD; ‘Behold, I, even I, am against you, and will carry out judgments in the sight of the nations.

9. And I will do in you that which I have not done, and the like of which I will never do again because of all your abominations.

10. Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in your midst, and the sons shall eat their fathers. And I will execute judgments in you, and I will scatter the whole remnant of you into all the winds.

11. Therefore, as I live,’ says the Lord God, ‘surely because you have defiled My sanctuary with all your detestable things, and with all your abominations, therefore I will also diminish you; neither shall My eye spare you, nor will I have any pity.

12. A third part of you shall die with the plague, and shall be consumed with the famine in your midst. And a third part shall fall by the sword all around you; and I will scatter a third part into all the winds, and I will draw out a sword after them.

13. Thus shall My anger be fulfilled, and I will cause My fury to rest upon them, and I will be comforted. And they shall know that I the LORD have spoken it in My zeal, when I have fulfilled My fury upon them.

14. And I will make you a desolation and a reproach among the nations that are all around you, in the sight of all who pass by.

15. So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, a chastening and an astonishment to the nations which are all around you, when I shall execute judgments against you in anger and in fury and in raging rebukes; I the LORD have spoken it.

16. When I shall send on them the evil arrows of famine, which shall be for their destruction, which I will send to destroy you; even I will increase the famine upon you, and break your staff of bread;

17. Yea, I will send upon you famine and evil beasts, and you will be bereaved. And pestilence and blood shall pass among you; and I shall bring a sword on you. I the LORD have spoken it.’”

CHAPTER SIX

1. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2. “Son of man, set your face toward the mountains of Israel and prophesy against them.

3. And say, ‘Mountains of Israel, hear the Word of the Lord God. Thus says the Lord GOD to the mountains, and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, “Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places.

4. And your altars shall be desolate, and your incense altars shall be broken. And I will make your slain fall before your idols.

5. And I will put the dead bodies of the children of Israel before their idols; and I will scatter your bones around your altars.

6. In all the places where you live, the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate; so that your altars may be made waste and become desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your incense altars may be cut down, and your works may be abolished.

7. And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and you shall know that I am the LORD.

8. Yet I will leave a remnant that may be left to you—some who escape the sword among the nations, when you are scattered throughout the countries.

9. And those of you who escape shall remember Me among the nations where they shall be exiled, how I have been grieved by their whoring heart which has departed from Me, and with their whoring eyes which go after their idols. And they shall loathe themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

10. And they shall know that I am the LORD, and that I have not said in vain that I would bring this evil upon them.”
11. Thus says the Lord GOD, “Strike with your hand and stamp with your foot, and say, ‘Alas, for all the evil abominations of the house of Israel! For they shall fall by the sword, and by the famine, and by the plague.
12. He who is afar off shall die of the plague; and he who is near shall fall by the sword; and he who remains and is under siege shall die by the famine. Thus I will fulfill My fury upon them.
13. Then you shall know that I am the Lord GOD, when their dead shall be among your ways, and will repay you for all your abominations.
14. And I will stretch out My hand on their idols.
15. Moreover the Word of the Lord came to me, saying,
16. “And also you, son of man, thus says the Lord God to the land of Israel, ‘An end! The end has come upon the four corners of the land.
17. Now the end has come upon you, and I will send My anger upon you and will judge you according to your ways, and will lay upon you all your abominations.
18. And My eye shall not spare you, neither will I have pity. But I will repay your ways upon you, and your abominations shall be in your midst; and you shall know that I am the Lord.’
19. Thus says the Lord God, ‘An evil: Behold, an unheard of evil has come!
20. An end has come, the end has come! It awakes against you; behold, it has come.
21. The encirclement of doom has come unto you, O dwellers of the land. The time has come, the day of tumult is near, and not a joyful shouting upon the mountains.
22. And I will soon pour out My fury upon you, and fulfill My anger upon you. And I will judge you according to your ways, and will repay you for all your abominations.

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. Moreover the Word of the Lord came to me, saying,
2. “And also you, son of man, thus says the Lord God to the land of Israel, ‘An end! The end has come upon the four corners of the land.
3. Now the end has come upon you, and I will send My anger upon you and will judge you according to your ways, and will lay upon you all your abominations.
4. And My eye shall not spare you, neither will I have pity. But I will repay your ways upon you, and your abominations shall be in your midst; and you shall know that I am the Lord.’
5. Thus says the Lord God, ‘An evil: Behold, an unheard of evil has come!
6. An end has come, the end has come! It awakes against you; behold, it has come.
7. The encirclement of doom has come unto you, O dwellers of the land. The time has come, the day of tumult is near, and not a joyful shouting upon the mountains.
8. And I will soon pour out My fury upon you, and fulfill My anger upon you. And I will judge you according to your ways, and will repay you for all your abominations.
9. And My eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity; I will repay you according to your ways and your abominations that are in your midst. And you shall know that I am the Lord who strikes.
10. Behold the day! Behold, it has come; the encirclement of doom has gone out; the rod has blossomed; arrogance has budded.
11. Violence has risen up into a rod of wickedness. None of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of any of their riches; nor shall there be waiting for them.
12. The time has come; the day has arrived. Let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn; for wrath is upon all her multitude.
13. For the seller shall not recover the thing he has sold as long as both of them live; for the vision to all her multitude shall not be reversed, neither shall any preserve his life because of the iniquity.
14. They have blown the trumpet, even to make all ready; but none goes to the battle, for My wrath is upon all her multitude.
15. The sword is without, and the plague and the famine within. He who is in the field shall die with the sword; and he who is in the city shall be devoured by famine and plague.
16. But if their fugitives shall escape, then they shall be like doves of the valleys on the mountains, all of them mourning, each one for his iniquity.
17. All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall go as weak as water.
18. They shall also gird on sackcloth, and trembling shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all heads.
19. They shall throw their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be an unclean thing. Their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the Lord. They shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels; because their iniquity has become a stumbling block for them.
20. And the beauty of His ornaments—which He set in majesty—they made of it the images of their abominations and of their hateful things; therefore I make it to them as an unclean thing.
21. And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prize, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they shall defile it.
22. I will also turn My face from them, and they shall pollute My secret place; and robbers shall enter into it and defile it.
23. Make a chain; for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence.
24. And I will bring the worst of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses. I will also make the pomp of the strong to cease; and their holy places shall be defiled.
25. Terror comes; and they shall seek peace, but there shall be none.
26. Disaster shall come upon disaster, and rumor shall be upon rumor. And they shall seek a vision from the prophet; but the law shall perish from the priest, and wisdom from the elders.
27. The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with despair; and the hands of the people of the land shall tremble. I will do to them according to their way, and according to their uncleanness I will judge them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.' }

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. And it was in the sixth year, in the sixth month, on the fifth day of the month, I was sitting in my house, and the elders of Judah were sitting before me. And the hand of the Lord God fell on me there.
2. And I looked, and behold! A likeness as the appearance of fire; from the appearance of His loins and downward, like fire. And from His loins and upward as the look of brightness, like the color of amber.
3. And He put out the form of a hand, and took me by a lock of my head. And the Spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heavens, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the opening of the inner gate facing north, where there was a seat of the image of jealousy, which provokes to jealousy.
4. And, behold! The glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the vision that I saw in the plain.
5. And He said to me, “Son of man, lift up your eyes now to the way of the north.” So I lifted up my eyes toward the way of the north, and behold, northward at the gate of the altar the image of jealousy was at the entrance.
6. And He said to me, “Son of man, do you see what they do; even the great abominations which the house of Israel is doing here, that I should go far off from My sanctuary? But turn again, and you shall see greater abominations.”
7. And He brought me to the opening of the court; and I looked, and behold, a hole in the wall.
8. And He said to me, “Son of man, dig in the wall now.” And I dug in the wall, and, behold, an opening.
9. And He said to me. “Go in and see the evil abominations that they do here.”
10. And I went in and saw. And behold, every kind of creeping thing, and hateful beast, and all the idols of the house of Israel, were carved on the wall all around.
11. And seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, and Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, standing in front of them, these were before them, and each man with his censer in his hand. And the sweet smelling cloud of incense was rising.
12. And He said to me, “Son of man, have you seen what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, each man in his room of idols? For they are saying, ‘The LORD does not see us; the LORD has forsaken the earth.’”
13. He also said to me, “You shall see greater abominations than these.”
14. And He brought me into the inner court of the Lord's house, and behold, at the opening of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar, were about twenty-five men with their backs toward the temple of the Lord and their faces toward the east; and they worshiped the sun toward the east.
15. And He said to me, “Have you seen this, O son of man? You shall see greater abominations than these.”
16. And He brought me into the inner court of the Lord's house, and behold, at the opening of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar, were about twenty-five men with their backs toward the temple of the Lord and their faces toward the east; and they worshiped the sun toward the east.
17. And He said to me, “Have you seen, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they do the hateful things which they do here? For they have filled the land with violence and have turned to provoke Me to anger still more.
And lo, they put the branch to their nose.
18. Therefore I will also deal with fury;
My eye shall not spare, nor will I have pity. And though they cry in My ears with a loud voice, I will not hear them.”

CHAPTER NINE

1. And He cried in my ears with a loud voice, saying, “Let the executioners of the city draw near, even each with his destroying weapon in his hand.”
2. And behold, six men came from the way of the Upper Gate which faces north, and each had his slaughter weapon in his hand. And one man among them was clothed with linen, and a writer’s inkhorn by his side. And they went in and stood beside the bronze altar.
3. And the glory of the God of Israel had gone up from the cherubim, where it had been, to the threshold of the temple. And He called to the man clothed in linen, with the writer’s inkhorn by his side.
4. And the LORD said to him, “Go through in the midst of the city, in the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark on the foreheads of the men who are groaning and are mourning because of all the abominations that are done in her midst.”
5. And He said to those in my hearing, “Go through the city after him, and slaughter. Let not your eye spare, nor have pity.
6. Fully destroy old men, young men and virgins, and little children and women.
But do not come near any man on whom is the mark. And begin at My sanctuary.”
And they began with the old men who were before the temple.
7. And He said to them, “Defile the temple, and fill the courts with the slain. Go out!” And they went out and slaughtered in the city.
8. And it came to pass as they were slay-ing them, and I was left alone, then I fell on my face and cried, and said, “Ah, Lord GOD! Will You destroy all the rem-ant of Israel in Your pouring out of Your fury on Jerusalem?”
9. And He said to me, “The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceedingly great, and the land is full of blood, and the city is full of perversity. For they say, ‘The LORD has forsaken the land; and, the LORD does not see.’
10. And even I, My eye shall not spare,

CHAPTER TEN

1. And I looked, and behold! In the expansion over the head of the cherubim appeared the form of a throne, like a saphire stone, above them.
2. And He spoke to the man clothed with linen, and said, “Go in among the wheels, under the cherubim, and fill your hands with coals of fire from between the cherubim, and scatter them upon the city.” And he went in, in front of me.
3. And the cherubim were standing on the right side of the house when the man went in; and the cloud filled the inner court.
4. And the glory of the LORD rose from the cherubim, over the threshold of the house. And the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD’S glory.
5. And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard over the outer court, as the voice of the Almighty God when He speaks.
6. And it came to pass when He had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, “Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubim;” then he went in and stood beside a wheel.
7. And one cherub stretched out his hand from between the cherubim to the fire between the cherubim, and he lifted it and put it into the hands of the one clothed with linen. And he took it and went out.
8. And the form of a man’s hand was seen under the wings of the cherubim.
9. And I looked, and behold, the four wheels were beside the cherubim, one wheel was by one cherub, and another wheel by one cherub; and the wheels looked like the color of a beryl stone.
10. And their appearance was as one, the four of them, as if the wheel were in the midst of the wheel.
11. When they went, they went on their four sides. They did not turn as they went, but in the direction the head was facing they followed. They did not turn as they went.
12. And their whole bodies, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes all around, even their wheels that the four of them had.

13. As for the wheels, it was called to them in my hearing, “O whirling wheel!”

14. And each one had four faces. The first face was the face of a cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15. And the cherubim rose up. This is the living creature that I saw by the river of Chebar.

16. And when the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them; and when the cherubim lifted their wings to soar from the earth, the wheels did not turn from beside them.

17. When they stood still, these stood still, and when they rose up, these lifted up. For the spirit of the living creatures was in them.

18. And the glory of the LORD went from the threshold of the temple, and stood over the cherubim.

19. And the cherubim lifted up their wings and rose up from the earth in my sight. When they went out, the wheels also were beside them. And they stood at the door of the eastern gate of the LORD’S house. And the glory of the God of Israel was over them from above.

20. These were the living creatures that I saw under the God of Israel by the river Chebar, and I knew that they were cherubim.

21. Four, even four faces belonged to each one; and four wings to each one. And the form of a man’s hands was under their wings.

22. And the form of their faces was the same as the faces that I saw by the river Chebar, even their appearance. They each went straight forward.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. And the Spirit lifted me up and brought me to the eastern gate of the LORD’S house, which faces eastward. And behold, twenty-five men were at the opening of the gate; among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people.

2. And He said to me, “Son of man, these are the men who plot evil and give wicked advice in this city;

3. Who say, ‘The time is not near to build houses; this city is the caldron, and we are the flesh.’

4. Therefore prophesy against them. Prophesy, O son of man!

5. And the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and said to me, “Speak, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Thus you have said, O house of Israel, for I Myself know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.

6. You have multiplied your slain in this city, and you have filled its streets with the slain.”

7. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Your slain whom you have laid in her midst, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron. But I will bring you out of her midst.

8. You have feared the sword, and I will bring a sword upon you,” says the Lord GOD.

9. “And I will bring you out of her midst, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you.

10. You shall fall by the sword. I will judge you unto the border of Israel, and you shall know that I am the LORD.

11. This city shall not be your caldron, nor shall you be the flesh in her midst. But I will judge you unto the border of Israel.

12. And you shall know that I am the LORD. For you have not walked in My statutes, nor have you executed My ordinances, but have done after the customs of the nations all around you.”

13. And it came to pass when I prophesied, Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. And I fell on my face and cried out with a loud voice, and said, “Ah, Lord GOD! Will You make a full end of the remnant of Israel?”

14. Again the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

15. “Son of man, your brethren, even your brethren, the men of your kindred, and all the house of Israel, of all that have heard the inhabitants of Jerusalem say to all of them, ‘Go far away from the LORD; this land is given to us for a possession.’

16. Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Though I have sent them far off among the nations, and though I scat-
And the glory of the LORD went up from me.

Therefore say, “Thus says the Lord GOD, “I will even gather you from the countries where they have gone.’”

And in the morning the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

“Son of man, you dwell in the midst of a rebellious house, who have eyes to see and see not. They have ears to hear and hear not, for they are a rebellious house.

Therefore, son of man, prepare for yourself vessels for exile, and go into exile by day in their sight. And you shall be exiled from your place to another place in their sight. It may be they will consider, though they are a rebellious house.

And you shall bring out your vessels, as vessels for exile, by day in their sight.

And you shall go out at evening in their sight, as those going into exile.

5. Dig through the wall in their sight, and carry your gear through it.

6. In their sight you shall carry it on your shoulders, carry it out in the dark. You shall cover your face so that you do not see the ground, for I have set you as a sign to the house of Israel.’

And I did as I was commanded. By day I brought out my vessel as a vessel for exile. And in the evening I dug by hand through the wall. I brought it out in the dark, and I carried it on my shoulder in their sight.

8. And in the morning the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

“Son of man, has not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said to you, ‘What are you doing?’

10. Say to them, “Thus says the Lord GOD, “This burden concerns the king in Jerusalem and all the house of Israel among them.’”

11. Say, ‘I am your sign: As I have done, so it shall be done to them. They shall go into exile, into captivity.’

12. And the prince who is among them shall carry burdens on his shoulder in the dark, and shall go out. They shall dig through the wall to carry them out. He shall hide his face so that he does not see the ground with his eye.

13. I will also spread My net upon him, and He shall be taken in My snare. And I will bring him to Babylon, the land of the Chaldeans. Yet he shall not see it, though he shall die there.

14. And I will scatter to every wind all who are around him to help him, and all his bands; and I will draw out the sword after them.

15. And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall scatter them among the nations and disperse them in the countries.

16. But I will leave a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the plague, so that they may declare all their abominations among the nations where they go. And they shall know that I am the LORD.”

17. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

“Son of man, eat your bread with quaking and drink your water with trembling and anxiety.
19. And say to the people of the land, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD to the people of Jerusalem and in the land of Israel, “They shall eat their bread with anxiety and drink their water with despair, so that her land may be desolate from all that is therein because of the violence of all those who dwell in it.

20. And the cities that have people shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate. And you shall know that I am the Lord GOD.’”

21. And the Word of the Lord GOD came to me, saying,

22. “Son of man, what is this proverb that you have concerning the land of Israel, saying: ‘The days are prolonged and every vision shall fail’?

23. Therefore tell them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel.”’ But say to them, “The days are at hand, and the fulfillment of every vision.

24. For there shall never again be any vain vision or flattering divination within the house of Israel.

25. For I, the Lord GOD, will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall be done. It shall no more be delayed; for in your days, O rebellious house, I will say the word and will do it,” says the Lord GOD.’

26. And the Word of the Lord GOD came to me, saying,

27. “Son of man, behold, the house of Israel says, ‘The vision that he sees is for many days to come, and he prophesies of the times that are far off.’

28. Therefore say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “There shall none of my words be delayed any more, but the word which I have spoken shall be done,” says the Lord GOD.’”

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. And the Word of the Lord GOD came to me, saying,

2. “Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel who prophesy. And say to those who prophesy out of their own hearts, ‘Hear the Word of the Lord:

3. Thus says the Lord GOD, “Woe to the foolish prophets who follow their own spirit and have seen nothing!

4. O Israel, your prophets are like the foxes in the ruins.

5. You have not gone up into the breach, nor built the wall for the house of Israel, that it might stand in the battle in the day of the Lord.

6. They have seen vanity and lying divination, saying, ‘The Lord says.’ And the Lord has not sent them; but they hoped to confirm their word.

7. Did you not see a vain vision, and speak a lying divination? When you say, ‘The Lord says;’ although I have not spoken.”

8. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Because you have spoken vanity and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you,” says the Lord GOD.

9. “And My hand shall be against the prophets who see vanity and who divine a lie. They shall not be in the assembly of My people, nor shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, nor shall they enter into the land of Israel. And you shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

10. Because, even because they have seduced My people, saying, ‘Peace;’ and there was no peace—and when anyone builds a weak wall they cover it with whitewash.

11. Say to those who cover it with whitewash, that it shall fall; there will be a flooding rain; and you, O great hailstones, shall fall, and a stormy wind will break forth.

12. And, behold, when the wall has fallen, shall it not be said to you, ‘Where is the whitewash with which you have covered it?’

13. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “I will cause a stormy wind to break forth in My fury. And there shall be a flooding rain in My anger, and hailstones in fury to destroy it.

14. And I will break down the wall that you have covered with whitewash, and bring it down to the ground; yea, I will expose its foundation. And it shall fall, and you shall be destroyed in her midst; and you shall know that I am the Lord.

15. And I will fulfill My wrath on the wall and on those who covered it with whitewash. And I will say to you, ‘The wall is no more;’ and, ‘Those who whitewashed it are no more—that is,

16. The prophets of Israel who prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and who see visions of peace for her, when there is no peace,' says the LORD.'

17. And likewise you, son of man, set your face against the daughters of your people, who prophesy out of their own hearts. And prophesy against them.

18. And say, 'Thus says the Lord GOD, “Woe to the women who sew magic charms on their sleeves, and make long veils for the head of every woman of stature, to hunt souls! Will you hunt down the lives of My people but preserve your own?

19. And you have profaned Me among My people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to kill the souls that should not die; and to save alive the souls that should not live, by your lying to My people who listen to lies.’

20. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I am against your armbands with which you are hunting the souls, as birds. And I will tear them from your arms, and I will set free the people whom you hunt as birds.

21. Also I will tear your long veils and deliver My people out of your hand, and they shall no more be in your hand to be hunted. And you shall know that I am the LORD.

22. Because with lies you have saddened the heart of the righteous, whom I have not made sad; and have made the hands of the wicked strong, so that he should not turn from his wicked way, that his life may be saved;

23. Therefore you shall see no more vanity, and you shall not divine any divination. And I will deliver My people out of your hands; and you shall know that I am the LORD.’”

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

1. And some of the elders of Israel came to me and sat before me.

2. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

3. “Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their hearts, and put the stumbling block of their iniquity before their faces. Should I at all be inquired of by them?

4. Therefore speak to them, and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Every man of the house of Israel who sets up his idols in his heart, and puts the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and comes to the prophet; I the LORD will answer him according to the multitude of his idols:

5. So that I may take the house of Israel in their own heart because they have deserted Me for their idols—all of them.”’

6. Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Repent and turn yourselves from your idols, and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7. For every one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger who lives in Israel, who separates himself from Me and sets up his idols in his heart, and puts the stumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and comes to a prophet to ask of him concerning Me; I the LORD will answer him Myself.

8. And I will set My face against that man, and I will make him for a sign and for a proverb. And I will cut him off from the midst of My people; and you shall know that I am the LORD.

9. And the prophet, if he is deceived, and he speaks a word, I the LORD have deceived that prophet. And I will stretch out My hand upon him and will destroy him from the midst of My people Israel.

10. And they shall bear the punishment of their iniquity; the punishment of the prophet shall be even as the punishment of him that seeks unto him.

11. So that the house of Israel may never again go astray from Me, nor be defiled again with all their transgressions, but that they may be My people, and I may be their God,” says the Lord GOD.’”

12. The Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

13. “Son of man, when a land sins against Me by trespassing grievously, and I stretch out My hand on it, and break the staff of its bread, and send famine on it, and will cut off man and beast from it,

14. And though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they should deliver only their own lives by their righteousness,” says the Lord GOD.

15. “If I cause wild beasts to come through the land, and they spoil it and it becomes desolate, so that no one may pass through because of the beasts.
16. Though these three men were in its midst, as I live," says the Lord GOD, "they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters. They only shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate.
17. Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, ‘Sword, go through the land;’ so that I cut off man and beast from it;
18. Though these three men were in it, as I live," says the Lord GOD, "they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves.
19. Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out My fury upon it in blood, to cut off man and beast from it;
20. Though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live," says the Lord GOD, "they shall deliver neither son nor daughter. They shall only deliver their own lives by their righteousness."

CHAPTER FIFTEEN
1. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2. “Son of man, how is the wood of the vine better than any other tree, or than a branch which is among the trees of the forest?
3. Shall wood be taken from it to do work? Or will men take from it for a peg to hang any vessel on it?
4. Behold, it is instead cast into the fire for fuel. The fire devours both its ends, and its middle is charred. Is it fit for any work?
5. Behold, when it was whole, it was not useful for work. How much less when the fire has devoured it, and it is charred? Shall it yet be made to work?
6. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, ‘As the vine is among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so I will give the people of Jerusalem, as fuel for the fire.
7. And I will set My face against them; they shall go out from the fire, yet the fire will still devour them. And you shall know that I am the Lord when I set My face against them.
8. And I will make the land desolate because they have committed a treacherous act,’ says the Lord GOD.”

CHAPTER SIXTEEN
1. Again the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2. “Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations.
3. And say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD to Jerusalem, “Your origin and your birth is of the land of Canaan. Your father was an Amorite, and your mother a Hittite.
4. And as for your birth, in the day you were born your navel cord was not cut, nor were you washed with water to cleanse you. And you were not salted, nor swaddled at all.
5. No eye pitied you, to do any of these for you, to have compassion on you. But you were thrown out into the open field because your life was despised in the day that you were born.
6. And when I passed by you and saw you squirming in your blood, I said to you in your blood, ‘Live!’ Yea, I said to you in your blood, ‘Live!’
7. I have caused you to multiply like the growth of the field, and you increased and grew up, and became exceedingly beautiful; Your breasts are formed, and your hair is grown, yet you were naked and bare.
8. And I passed by you and looked on you, and, behold, your time was the time of love. And I spread my skirt over you and covered your nakedness. And I swore to you and entered into a covenant with you,” says the Lord GOD. “And you became Mine.”
9. “And I washed you with water; I washed away your blood from you, and I anointed you with oil.
10. I also clothed you with embroidered work, and I shod you with leather sandals. And I wrapped you in fine linen, and I covered you with silk.
11. And I adorned you with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon your hands and a chain on your neck.
12. And I put a ring on your nose, and a chain on your neck.
13. And you were adorned with gold and silver; and your clothing was of fine linen and silk and embroidered work. You ate fine flour and honey and oil; and your apparel was of fine linen and leather work, and I shod you with leather sandals and adorned your high places with different colors, and played the harlot on them.
14. And your name went out among the nations because of your beauty; for it was perfect through My splendor, which I had put on you,” says the Lord GOD.
15. “But you trusted in your beauty, and played the harlot because of your name, and poured out your fornications on all who passed by—on any who would have it.
16. And you took from your clothes and adorned your high places with different colors, and played the harlot on them. Such things should not happen, nor should ever be!
17. And you have taken of your beautiful jewels of My gold and of My silver, which I had given you, and made images of men, and did commit whoredom with them.
18. And you took your embroidered dresses and covered them, and you have given to them My oil and My incense.
19. Also My food which I gave you, fine flour and oil and honey with which I fed you, you have given it to them for a sweet savour. And so it was,” says the Lord GOD.
20. “And you have taken your sons and your daughters, whom you have borne to Me, and you sacrificed them unto these images to be devoured. Is this, your whoredoms so small a matter?
21. You have slaughtered My children and delivered them up and caused them to pass through the fire.
22. And in all your hateful deeds and your whoredoms you have not remembered the days of your youth, when you were naked and bare, and squirming in your own blood.
23. ‘Woe, woe to you says the Lord GOD!’ For it came to pass after all your wickedness,
24. That you have also built yourself an eminent place, and you have made for yourself a high place in every square.
25. You have built your high place at the head of every crossroad, and have made your beauty to be despised, and have opened your feet to everyone who passed by, and have multiplied your whoredoms.
26. You have also whored with the Egyptians, your neighbors, great of flesh, and have multiplied your whoredoms to provoke Me to anger.
27. And, behold, therefore I have stretched out My hand over you, and diminished your allotted portion. And I gave you over to the will of those who hate you, the daughters of the Philistines, who are ashamed of your lewd way.
28. You have played the whore also with the Assyrians, because you were insatiable; yea, you played the whore also, and yet you could not be satisfied.
29. Moreover you have multiplied your whoredoms in the land of Canaan, to the Chaldate, and yet even in this you were not satisfied.
30. How weak is your heart,” says the Lord GOD, “since you do all these, the work of a woman, an imperious harlot;
31. In that you build your eminent place at the head of every crossroad, and make your high place in every square. Yet you have not been as a harlot, in that you scorched any payment to you from your lovers.
32. You adulteress wife, who takes strangers instead of her own husband!
33. To all whores men give gifts, but instead you give your gifts to all your lovers, and bribe them to come to you from all around, for your whoredoms.
34. And in you was the opposite from other women in your whoredoms, since no one whored after you, and in that you give payment, and payment is not given to you. Therefore you are contrary.
35. Therefore, O harlot, hear the Word of the Lord.
36. Thus says the Lord GOD, “Because your lewdness was poured out and your nakedness was bared in your whoredoms with your lovers, and because of all the idols of your abominations, and because of the blood of your children that you gave to them;
37. Behold, therefore I will gather all your lovers, with whom you have taken pleasure, even all whom you loved, with all whom you have hated; I will even gather them against you from all around, and will expose your nakedness to them, and they will see all your nakedness. 38. And I will judge you with the judgments of adulteresses, and as one who sheds blood. And I will bring upon you the blood of fury and jealousy. 39. And I will also give you into their hands, and they will tear down your eminent places, and will demolish your high places. They shall also strip you of your clothes, and shall take your beautiful jewels, and leave you naked and bare. 40. They shall also raise a company against you, and they shall stone you with stones, and thrust you through with their swords. 41. And they shall burn your houses with fire, and execute judgments on you in the sight of many women. And I will make you stop whoring; and also, you shall no longer hire lovers any more. 42. And I will satisfy My fury upon you, and My jealousy shall depart from you, and My sight of many women. And I will make you an object of reproach for all the nations that surround you. 43. Because you have not remembered the days of your youth, but have troubled Me in all these things; so, behold, I will also repay your own way upon your head,” says the Lord God. “And you shall no longer commit this wickedness above all your abominations. 44. Behold, all who use proverbs shall use this proverb against you, saying, ‘As is the mother, so is her daughter.’ 45. You are your mother’s daughter, who despises her husband and her sons. And you are the sister of your sisters, who despise their husbands and their sons. Your mother was a Hittite, and your father an Amorite. 46. And your older sister is Samaria, she and her daughters who dwell at your left hand. And your younger sister, who dwells at your right hand, is Sodom and her daughters. 47. Yet you have not only walked according to their ways, nor have only done according to their hateful deeds; but, as if it were a very little thing, you were even corrupted more than they were in all your ways. 48. As I live,” says the Lord God, “Neither Sodom your sister, nor her daughters, have done as you have done, you and your daughters. 49. Behold, this was the iniquity of your sister Sodom; pride, fullness of bread and abundance of idleness was in her and in her daughters. Nor did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy. 50. And they were haughty and did abominable things before Me, therefore I took them away as I saw fit. 51. Nor has Samaria sinned as much as half your sins; but you have multiplied your abominations more than they, and have justified your sisters in all your abominations which you have done. 52. You also, who have judged your sisters, will bear your own shame for your sins which you have committed—for you have been more abominable than they. By comparison they are more righteous than you! Yea, be ashamed and bear your disgrace, since you have made your sisters appear righteous. 53. And I shall bring them back from captivity, and the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and the captives of your captivity among them; 54. So that you may bear your shame, and blush in all that you have done, since you are a comfort to them. 55. And your sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, and you and your daughters shall return to your former estate. 56. For your sister Sodom was not mentioned by your mouth in the day of your pride, 57. Before your wickedness was uncovered, as at the time of your reproach for the daughters of Edom, and of all her neighbors, the daughters of the Philistines who hated you from all around. 58. You have borne your lewdness and your abominations,” says the Lord. 59. For thus says the Lord God, “I will even deal with you as you have done, in that you have despised the oath in breaking the covenant. 60. But I will remember My covenant with you in the days of your youth, and I will establish to you an everlasting covenant. 61. And you shall remember your ways and be ashamed, when you shall receive your sisters, your older and your younger. And I will give them to you for daughters, but not because of your covenant.
62. And I will establish My covenant with you; and you shall know that I am the LORD;
63. So that you may remember and be ashamed; and it will not be possible to open your mouth any more because of your shame; in that I make an atonement for you for all that you have done,” says the Lord GOD.’ ”

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

1. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2. “Son of man, put forth a riddle and speak a parable to the house of Israel.
3. And say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “A great eagle with great wings, long of pinion, full of feathers, who had different colors, came to Lebanon and took the highest branch of the cedar.
4. He plucked off the top of its young twigs and carried it into a land of traders. He set it in a city of merchants.
5. He also took of the seed of the land and planted it in a fruitful field. He placed it by abundant waters and set it as a willow tree.
6. And it grew and became a spreading low vine, whose branches turned toward him. But its roots remained under him. So it became a vine and brought out branches and shot out boughs.
7. There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers. And behold, this vine bent its roots toward him and shot out its branches toward him, from the beds where it was planted, that He might water it.
8. It was planted in a good soil by great majestic waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, to be a splendid vine.”
9. Say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Shall it prosper? Shall he not pull up its roots and cut off its fruit, and it withers? Even all its sprouting leaves shall wither, neither shall great power or much people be at hand when it is plucked up by its roots.
10. And behold, being planted, shall it prosper? Shall it not utterly wither when the east wind touches it? It shall wither in the furrows where it sprouted.” ’”

11. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
12. “Say now to the rebellious house, ‘Do you not know what these things mean?’ Tell them, ‘Behold, the king of Babylon has come to Jerusalem and has taken its king and its rulers, and brings them to himself to Babylon.
13. And he has taken of the king’s seed and has made a covenant with him, and has taken an oath from him. He has also taken the mighty of the land,
14. So that the kingdom might be low, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping his covenant it might stand.
15. But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, to give him horses and many people. Shall he be blessed? Shall he who does such things escape? Or shall he break the covenant and be delivered?
16. As I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘surely in the place of the king who made him king, whose oath he despised and whose covenant he broke, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die.
17. Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company help him in the war, when they cast up mounds and build siege forts to cut off many persons,
18. And he has despised the oath by breaking the covenant. And, behold, he had given his hand, and has done all these, he shall not escape.’ ”
19. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “As I live, surely My oath that he has despised, and My covenant that he has broken, I will even repay it upon his own head.
20. And I will spread My net upon him, and he shall be taken in My snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and I will judge him there for his sin which he has sinned against Me.
21. And all his fugitives with all his bands shall fall by the sword, and those who remain shall be scattered toward all winds. And you shall know that I the LORD have spoken it.”
22. Thus says the Lord GOD, “I, even I, will also take of the top of the highest cedar and will set it; I will crop off from the topmost of its young twigs a tender one, and will plant it on a high and lofty mountain.
23. In the mountain of the height of Israel, I will plant it. And it shall bring forsyth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a majestic cedar. And under it shall dwell birds of every kind; in the shadow of its branches they shall dwell.
24. And all the trees of the field shall know that I the LORD have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish. I the LORD have spoken it and have done it.”

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

1. The Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2. “What do you mean by this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying,
‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes and the children’s teeth are set on edge’?”
3. “As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “to you there is no longer any occasion to use this proverb in Israel.
4. Behold, all souls are Mine. As the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son, they are Mine. The soul that sins, it shall die.
5. But a man who is righteous and does that which is lawful and right,
6. And has not eaten on the mountains, nor has lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, nor has defiled his neighbor’s wife, nor has come near a menstruating woman,
7. And has not oppressed any man, but has given the debtor’s pledge back to him, has robbed none by violence, has given his bread to the hungry and has covered the naked with a garment;
8. He does not lend out at usury, nor has taken any increase, he has withdrawn his hand from iniquity, has executed true justice between man and man,
9. Has walked in My statutes, and has kept My ordinances to deal truly, he is righteous, he shall surely live,” says the Lord GOD.
10. “And if he beget a son who is a robber, who sheds blood, and who does the like of any one of these things—
11. And the father does not do any of these himself—but his son has even eaten on the mountains, and has defiled his neighbor’s wife;
12. Has oppressed the poor and needy; has committed robbery; has not given back the pledge; and has lifted up his eyes to the idols; has committed abomination;
13. Has loaned out at usury; and has taken increase—shall the son then live?
He shall not live! He has done all these abominations; he shall surely be put to death; his blood shall be upon him.
14. But, if a man begets a son who sees all his father’s sins which he has done, and fears, and does not do like him—
15. Who has not eaten on the mountains;
nor has lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel; has not defiled his neighbor’s wife;
16. Nor has oppressed any man; has not withheld the pledge; nor has committed robbery by violence; but has given his bread to the hungry; and has covered the naked with clothes;
17. Has withdrawn his hand from oppressing the poor; has not received usury nor increase; has done My ordinances; has walked in My statutes—he shall not die for the iniquity of his father; he shall surely live.
18. His father, because he extorted and robbed his brother by robbery, and did what is good among his people; lo, even he shall die in his iniquity.
bear the iniquity of the father?’ When the son has done that which is lawful and right, and has kept all My statutes, and has done them, he shall surely live.
20. The soul that sins, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, nor shall the father bear the iniquity of the son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.
21. But if the wicked will turn from all his sins which he has committed, and keep all My statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live;
he shall not die.
22. All his transgressions that he has done, they shall not be mentioned to him; in his righteousness that he has done he shall live.
23. “Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die?” says the Lord GOD.
“Is it not pleasing, instead, that he should turn from his ways and live?
24. But when the righteous turns from his righteousness and commits iniquity, does according to all the abominations that the wicked do, shall he live?
All his righteousness that he has done shall not be remembered; because of his trespass that he has trespassed, and because of his sin that he has sinned, because of them he shall die. 25. Yet you say, ‘The way of the LORD is not fair.’ Hear now, O house of Israel: Is not My way fair? Are not your ways unfair? 26. When a righteous one turns away from his righteousness and commits iniquity and dies because of it; for his iniquity that he has done, he shall die. 27. Again, when the wicked turns away from his wickedness that he has committed and does that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive. 28. Because he carefully considers, and turns away from all his sins that he has committed, he shall surely live; he shall not die. 29. Yet the house of Israel says, ‘The way of the LORD is not fair.’ O house of Israel: Is not My way fair? Are not your ways unfair? 30. Thus I will judge you, O house of Israel, each one of you according to his ways,” says the Lord GOD. “Repent, and turn yourselves and live.”

CHAPTER NINETEEN

1. “And take up a weeping for the princes of Israel. 2. And say, ‘What is your mother? A lioness. She lay down among lions; she reared her cubs among young lions. 3. And she brought up one of her cubs; it became a strong lion and learned to tear the prey, and devoured men. 4. The nations also heard of him. He was taken in their pit, and they brought him with hooks to the land of Egypt. 5. And when she saw that she had waited and that her hope was lost, she took another of her cubs and made him a strong lion. 6. And he went up and down among the lions; he became a young lion and learned to catch the prey, and devoured men. 7. And he knew desolate palaces, and he laid their cities waste, and the land and its fullness was desolated from the sound of his roaring. 8. And the nations set against him on every side from the provinces, and spread their net over him. He was taken in their pit. 9. And they put him in a cage with hooks, and brought him to the king of Babylon. They brought him in hunting nets, so that his voice should never again be heard on the mountains of Israel. 10. Your mother is like a vine in your blood, planted by the waters; she was fruitful and full of branches because of many waters. 11. And she had strong rods for the scepters of those who bore rule, and her stature was exalted among the thick branches; and it was seen in her height, with the multitude of her branches. 12. But she was plucked up in fury; she was thrown down to the ground, and the east wind dried up her fruit. Her strong rods were broken and withered; the fire burned them up. 13. And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty ground. 14. And fire has gone out from a rod of her branches, which has licked up her fruit so that there is no strong rod in her to be a scepter to rule.’ ” This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAPTER TWENTY

1. And it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that some of the elders of Israel came to ask of the LORD, and sat before me. 2. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying, 3. “Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD. “Have you come to inquire of Me? As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will not be inquired of by you.’ ” 4. Will you judge them, son of man, will you judge them? Cause them to know the abominations of their fathers. 5. And say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD; “In the day that I chose Israel, and lifted up My hand to the seed of the house of Jacob, and made Myself known to them in the land of Egypt; when I lifted up My hand to them, saying, ‘I am the LORD your God;

6. In the day that I lifted up My hand to them, to bring them out from the land of Egypt into a land that I had searched out for them, flowing with milk and honey, the glory of all lands—

16. Because they despised My judgments and walked not in My statutes; and they polluted My Sabbaths; for their heart went after their idols.

17. Nevertheless My eye spared them—from destroying them; nor did I make an end of them in the wilderness.

18. But I said to their children in the wilderness, ‘Do not walk in the statutes of your fathers, nor observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols.

19. I am the LORD your God. Walk in My statutes, and keep My ordinances, and do them,

20. And keep My Sabbaths holy; and they shall be a sign between Me and you, that you may know that I am the LORD your God.’

21. But the children rebelled against Me. They did not walk in My statutes, nor keep My ordinances to do them—the ordinances which, if a man do, he shall even live in them. And they polluted My Sabbaths, and I said, I would pour out My fury on them, to fulfill My anger against them in the wilderness.

22. Nevertheless I withdrew My hand and worked for My name’s sake, that it should not be polluted in the eyes of the heathen, in whose eyes I brought them out.

23. I also lifted up My hand to them in the wilderness, swearing that I would scatter them among the heathen and scatter them throughout the lands,

24. Because they had not done My ordinances, but had despised My statutes and had polluted My Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers’ idols.

25. Wherefore I also gave them over to their own statutes that were not good, and their own ordinances by which they could not live.

26. And I defiled them in their own gifts, in that they caused all that opened the womb to pass through the fire, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I am the LORD.”

27. Therefore, son of man, speak to the house of Israel and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Yet in this your fathers have blasphemed Me, in that they have acted treacherously against Me.

28. When I had brought them into the land which I lifted up My hand to give to them, then they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered their sacrifices there. And there they provoked Me with their offerings. There also they made their sweet savor, and poured out their drink offerings.

29. And I said to them, ‘What is the high place to which you go?’ And its name is called High Place to this day.’

30. Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Are you defiled in the same way as your fathers? And do you commit whoredoms after their abominations?

31. For when you offer your gifts, when you make your sons to pass through the fire, you defile yourselves with all your idols, even to this day. And shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will not be inquired of by you.

32. And what comes into your mind shall not come to pass at all—in that you say, ‘We will be like the heathen, like the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone.’

33. As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, I will reign over you.

34. And I will bring you out from the people, and I will gather you out of the lands in which you are scattered among them, with a mighty hand and with an outstretched arm and with fury poured out.

35. And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there I will enter into judgment with you face to face.

36. Just as I entered into judgment with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so I will enter into judgment with you,” says the Lord GOD.

37. “And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant.

38. And I will purge out from among you the rebels and those who transgress against Me. I will bring them out from the land where they reside, but they shall not enter into the land of Israel. And you shall know that I am the LORD.

39. As for you, O house of Israel,” thus says the Lord GOD, “Go everyone and serve his idols, but later, you will surely hearken to Me, and no longer profane My Holy name with your gifts and idols.

40. For in My holy mountain, in the mountain height of Israel,” says the Lord GOD, “there all the house of Israel, all of those in the land, shall serve Me. There will I receive them, and there will I ask for your offerings and the firstfruits of your offerings, with all your holy things.

41. I will receive you with your sweet savour when I bring you out from the people and gather you out of the lands into which you have been scattered among them. And I will be sanctified in you before the nations.

42. And you shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the land which I lifted up My hand to give to your fathers.

43. And there you shall remember your ways and all your doings in which you have been defiled. And you shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils which you have committed.

44. And you shall know that I am the LORD when I deal with you for My name’s sake, not according to your wicked ways nor according to your corrupt doings, O house of Israel,” says the Lord GOD.’”

45. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

46. “Son of man, set your face toward the south, and drop a word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the field in the south.

47. And say to the forest of the south, ‘Hear the Word of the LORD. Thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I will kindle a fire in you, and it shall burn up every green tree in you, and every dry tree among you. The blazing flame shall not be put out, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burned by it.

48. And all flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it. It shall not be put out.”’

49. And I said, “Ah, Lord GOD! They say of me, ‘Does he not speak in parables?’”

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

1. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2. “Son of man, set your face toward Jerusalem, and prophesy against the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel.

3. And say to the land of Israel, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Behold, I am against you, and will draw My sword out of its sheath and will cut off from you the righteous and the wicked.
4. Since I will cut off both the righteous and the wicked from you, therefore My sword shall be drawn from its sheath against all flesh from the south to the north.
5. Thus all flesh shall know that I, the LORD, have drawn out My sword from its sheath. It shall not be sheathed again.”
6. And therefore you, son of man, sigh with the breaking of your heart; and groan with bitterness before their eyes.
7. And it will be when they say to you, ‘Why do you sigh?’ You shall answer, ‘Because of the news that it is coming; and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees shall be weak as water.’ Behold, it comes, and it shall be done,” says the Lord GOD.
8. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
9. “Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus says the LORD. Say, ‘A sword, a sword is sharpened and also polished.
10. It is sharpened in order to make a slaughter; it is polished so that it may glitter. Or shall we make mirth against the rod of My son, despising every tree?
11. And He has given it to be polished, to be taken by the hand. The sword, it is sharpened, and it is polished, to give it into the hand of the slayer.’
12. Cry and howl, son of man; for it shall be upon My people; it shall be upon all the princes of Israel: terrors by reason of the sword shall be upon My people; therefore slap your thigh.
13. Because it is a trial, and what if the sword even despises the rod? It shall be no more,” says the Lord GOD.
14. “And you, son of man, prophesy and strike your hands together; and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the slain. It is the sword of great slaughter, closing in on them from every side;
15. So that their heart may melt, and many stumble at all their gates, I have given the threatening sword. Ah! It is made like lightning; it is wrapped up for the slaughter.
16. Sharpen yourself on the right! Set yourself on the left, wherever your edge is set.
17. And also I, even I, will strike My hands together, and I will cause My fury to rest. I the LORD have spoken it.’
18. The Word of the LORD came to me saying,
19. “And you, son of man, set for yourself two ways, for the sword of the king of Babylon to come. Both of them shall come out of one land. And make a sign at the head of the way to the city.
20. You shall make a way that the sword may enter into Rabbah of the Ammonites, and into Judah, into fortified Jerusalem.
21. For the king of Babylon shall stand at the parting of the way, at the head of the two highways, to practice divination. He shall shake arrows; he shall ask household idols; he shall look at the liver.
22. At his right hand shall be the divining for Jerusalem, to set battering rams, to open the mouth for the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to set battering rams against the gates, to pour out and to build a siege wall.
23. And it shall be to them a false divination in their eyes, those who have sworn solemn oaths. But He brings iniquity to remembrance, that they may be captured.
24. Therefore thus says the LORD God, ‘Because you have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, in that your sins are revealed in all your deeds; because you have been remembered, you shall be taken with the hand.
25. And you, O wicked and profane prince of Israel, whose day has come, whose iniquity shall have an end.
26. Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Remove the diadem, and take off the crown. This shall not be as it was. Exalt the low one, and abase the high one.
27. I will overturn, overturn, overturn it. Also this shall not be until the coming of Him whose right it is. And I will give it to Him.’
28. And you, son of man, prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach.’ Even say, ‘The sword, the sword is drawn, polished for slaughter to make an end, that it may be like lightning.’
29. While they see false visions for you, while they divine a lie to you, to lay you on the necks of the wicked that are to be slain, whose day has come in the time of final punishment.
30. Return it to its sheath. In the place where you were created, in the land of your origin, I will judge you.
31. And I will pour out My indignation on you; with the fire of My wrath I will blow against you, and give you into the hand of brutal men who are skillful to destroy.
32. You shall be for fuel to the fire. Your blood shall be in the midst of the land. You shall be remembered no more; for I the LORD have spoken it.’ ”

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO

1. Moreover the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2. “Now you, son of man, will you judge, will you judge the bloody city? And yes, you shall make her know all her abominations.
3. Then you shall say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “The city sheds blood in her midst that her time may come, and makes idols unto herself to defile herself’”
4. You are guilty by the blood that you have shed; and you have defiled yourself with your idols that you have made. And you have caused your days to draw near, and have come unto your years. Therefore I have made you a reproach to the nations, and a mocking to all countries.
5. Those who are near and those far from you shall mock against you, O infamous one and full of tumult.
6. Behold, the princes of Israel, every one and full of tumult.
7. In you they have despised both father and mother. In your midst they have dealt with the stranger by oppression. In you they oppressed the orphan and the widow.
8. You have despised My holy things, and have profaned My Sabbaths.
9. In you are men of slander who shed blood; and in you they eat on the mountains; in your midst they commit lewdness.
10. In you they have uncovered their fathers’ nakedness; in you they have humbled her who was unclean in her impurity.
11. And a man has committed abominations with his neighbor’s wife; and a man has lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law; and another has humbled his sister, his father’s daughter.
12. In you they have taken bribes to shed blood. You have taken usury and excessive increase, and you gained by extortion of your neighbors, and you have forgotten Me,” says the Lord GOD.
13. “Therefore behold, I have struck My hand against your dishonest gain which you have made, and at your blood which has been in your midst.
14. Can your heart stand, or can your hands be strong in the day that I shall deal with you? I the LORD have spoken it and I will do it.
15. And I will scatter you among the nations and disperse you in the countries, and will consume your uncleanness out of you.
16. And you will be profaned by your own selves in the sight of the heathen, and you shall know that I am the LORD.”’ ”
17. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
18. “Son of man, the house of Israel has become dross to Me. All of them are bronze, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the middle of the furnace; they are even the dross of silver.
19. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Because you have all become dross, behold, therefore I will gather you into the middle of Jerusalem.
20. As they gather silver, and bronze, and iron, and lead, and tin, into the middle of the furnace, to blow the fire on it to melt it, so I will gather you in My anger and in My fury, and I will cast you in and melt you.
21. And I will gather you and blow on you with the fire of My wrath, and you shall be melted in the midst of it.
22. As silver is melted in the furnace, so you shall be melted in the midst of it; and you shall know that I the LORD have poured out My fury upon you.’ ”
23. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
24. “Son of man, say to her, ‘You are a land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.’
25. There is a conspiracy of her prophets in her midst, like a roaring lion tearing the prey. They have devoured souls; they have taken the treasure and precious things; they have made many widows in her midst.
26. Her priests have done violence to My law and have profaned My holy things.
They have put no difference between the holy and the profane, and have not taught the difference between the unclean and the clean, and they have hidden their eyes from My Sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27. Her rulers in her midst are like wolves tearing the prey, to shed blood and to destroy souls, to get unjust gain.

28. And her prophets have covered themselves with whitewash, seeing false visions and divining lies unto them, saying, ‘Thus says the Lord God;’ when the LORD has not spoken.

29. The people of the land have used oppression and committed robbery, and they have troubled the poor and needy. Yea, they have oppressed the stranger wrongfully.

30. And I sought for a man among them who should build up a wall for the land, and stand in the breach before Me, so that I should not destroy it. But I did not find one.

31. Therefore I have poured out My fury on them. I have burned them up with the fire of My wrath. I have recompensed their own way upon their heads,” says the Lord God.

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

1. The Word of the LORD came again to me,
2. “Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother.
3. And they committed whoredoms in Egypt; they whored in their youth, their breasts were handled, and there their virgin nipples were fondled.
4. And their names were Oholah, the oldest, and Oholibah, her sister. And they were Mine, and they bore sons and daughters. And their names: Samaria is Oholah, and Jerusalem is Oholibah.
5. And Oholah whored when she was Mine. And she lusted after her lovers, her Assyrian neighbors.
6. They were clothed with purple, even their governors and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses.
7. Thus she bestowed her whoredoms on them, the choice sons of Assyria; with all of them, and with all whom she lusted after; she defiled herself with all their idols.
8. Neither did she leave her whoredoms brought from Egypt. For in her youth they lay with her, and they fondled her virgin nipples, and poured their lust upon her.
9. Therefore I have given her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Assyrians after whom she lusted.
10. They uncovered her nakedness. They took her sons and her daughters and killed her with the sword. And she became a byword among women, and they executed judgment on her.
11. And her sister Oholibah saw this, yet she was more corrupt in her lustfulness than she, and her whoredoms were greater than her sister’s whoredoms.
12. She lusted after the Assyrians her neighbors, their governors and rulers, clothed most gorgeously; horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men.
13. And I saw that she too was defiled—in the same way, both of them.
14. And she increased her whoredoms. And she saw men carved on the wall which were images of the Chaldeans engraved with vermillion.
15. Girded with belts on their loins, with flowing turbans on their heads, all of them looking like captains, like the sons of Babylon in Chaldea, the land of their birth.
16. And as soon as she saw them she lusted after them with her eyes, and sent messengers to them into Chaldea.
17. And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom. And when she was defiled by them, she turned herself from them in disgust.
18. So she uncovered her whoredoms and uncovered her nakedness; then My soul was alienated from her just as My soul was alienated from her sister.
19. Yet she multiplied her whoredoms to recall the days of her youth, in which she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.
20. And she lusted after her lovers, whose flesh is like the flesh of donkeys and whose issue is like the issue of horses.
21. Thus you longed for the wickedness of your youth, when the Egyptians fondled your nipples, for the sake of your youthful breasts.
22. Therefore, O Oholibah, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I will raise up your lovers against you, from whom your soul is alienated; and I will bring them against you from all around;

23. The Babylonians, and all the Chaldeans, Pekod, and Shoa, and Ko a, and all the Assyrians with them; all of them desirable young men, governors and rulers, all of them, great lords and renowned; all of them riding upon horses.

24. And they shall come against you with weapons, chariots, and wheels, and with an assembly of people; buckle and shield and helmet shall they set against you all around. And I will commit the judgment to them, and they shall judge you by their judgments.

25. And I will direct My jealous anger against you, and they shall deal with you in fury. They shall cut off your nose and your ears, and the survivors shall fall by the sword. They shall take away your sons and your daughters, and the rest of you shall be devoured by the fire.

26. They shall also strip you of your clothes and take away your beautiful jewels.

27. So I will make your wickedness to cease from you, and your whoredom from the land of Egypt. And you shall not lift up your eyes to them, nor shall you remember Egypt any more.’”

28. For thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I will give you into the hand of those who hate, into the hand of your enemies, the lewd women, Oholah and to Oholibah, the lewd women.

29. These things will be done to you because you have whored after the nations, and because you are defiled with their idols.

30. You have walked in the way of your sister; therefore I will give her cup into your hand.”

31. Thus says the Lord GOD, “You shall drink of your sister’s cup deep and large; you shall be laughed to scorn and mocked; for it contains much.

32. In drunkenness and sorrow you are filled, the cup of astonishment and desolation with the cup of your sister Samaria.

33. You shall even drink it and empty it. And you shall break it into pieces, and tear at your own breasts. For I have spoken it,” says the Lord GOD.

34. Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, “Because you have forgotten Me and cast Me behind your back, therefore you shall also bear your own lewdness and your adulteries.”

35. And the LORD said to me, “Son of man, will you judge Oholah and Oholibah, and declare to them their abominations.

36. And they have sent for men to come from far, to whom a messenger was sent. And lo, they came. You washed yourself for them, painted your eyes, and adorned yourself with ornaments.

37. That they have committed adultery, and blood is on their hands? And they have committed adultery with their idols and have also caused their sons whom they bore to Me to pass through the fire to them, to devour them.

38. And moreover they have also done this to Me: They have defiled My sanctuary the same day to profane it. And lo, they have done in the midst of My house.

39. And when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came into My sanctuary the same day to profane it. And lo, they came. You washed yourself for them, painted your eyes, and adorned yourself with ornaments.

40. And they have even sent for men to come from far, to whom a messenger was sent. And lo, they came. You washed yourself for them, painted your eyes, and adorned yourself with ornaments.

41. And sat on a stately bed with a table prepared before it, on which you set My incense and My oil.

42. And the sound of a carefree crowd was with her; and drunkards from the wilderness were brought with the men from the rabble of mankind; and they put bracelets on their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43. And I said about the one who was worn with adulteries, ‘Let them use her as a prostitute, for that is what she is.’

44. And they went in to her, as they go in to a woman of harlotry; so they went into Oholah and to Oholibah, the lewd women.

45. But righteous men shall judge them with the judgment of adulteresses, and the judgment of women who shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is on their hands.

46. For thus says the Lord God, ‘I will bring up a company against them, and give them over to terror and plunder.

47. And the company shall stone them with stones, and cut them down with their swords. They shall kill their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48. Thus I will cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught, not to go after your lewdness.

49. And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and you shall bear the sins of your idols. And you shall know that I am the Lord God.’ ”

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

1. And in the ninth year, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, the Word of the Lord came to me, saying,

2. “Son of man, write for yourself the name of the day, even of this same day;

3. And speak a parable to the rebellious against Jerusalem this same day.

4. Thus the Lord God said to me, saying,

5. Take the choice of the flock, and also pour water into it.

6. ‘Wherefore thus says the Lord God, “Woe to the bloody city, to the pot whose scum is in it, and whose scum has not gone out of it! Bring it out, piece by piece; without casting lots for them.”

7. For her blood is in her midst; she set it upon the top of a rock. She did not pour it on the ground, to cover it with dust.

8. That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance. I have set her blood on the top of a shining rock, that it should not be covered.”

9. Therefore thus says the Lord God, “Woe to the bloody city! I will even heap upon the pile for fire.

10. And heap on the wood, kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and mix in the spice, and let the bones be burned.

11. Then set it empty on its coals, so that its bronze may be hot and may glow, and that its uncleanness may be melted in it, that its scum of it may be burned away.

12. She has frustrated all efforts; her heave deposit has not been removed, not even by fire.

13. In your defilement is lewdness. Because I tried to purge you, but you would not be purged of your impurity, you shall not be purged from your defilement any more, until I have caused My fury to rest on you.

14. I the Lord have spoken it. It shall come to pass and I will do it. I will not hold back, nor will I spare, nor will I repent. According to your ways, and according to your doings, they shall judge you,” says the Lord God.

15. And the Word of the Lord came to me, saying,

16. “Son of man, behold, I take away from you the desire of your eyes with a stroke. Yet neither shall you mourn nor weep, nor shall your tears run down.

17. Groan but be silent; make no mourning for the dead; tie your turban on you, and put your sandals on your feet, and do not cover your lips, and do not eat the bread of men.”

18. So I spoke to the people in the morning. And in the evening my wife died, and I did in the morning as I was commanded.

19. And the people said to me, “Will you not tell us what these things mean to us, that you do so?”

20. And I answered them, “The Word of the Lord came to me, saying,

21. ‘Speak to the house of Israel. “Thus says the Lord God, ‘Behold, I will profane My sanctuary, the pride of your power, the delight of your eyes, and that in which your soul delights. And your sons and your daughters whom you have left shall fall by the sword.

22. And you shall do as I have done. You shall not cover your lips nor eat the bread of men.

23. And your turbans shall be on your heads, and your sandals on your feet. You shall not mourn nor weep; but you shall rot away for your iniquities and mourn to one another.

24. Thus Ezekiel is a sign to you. According to all that he has done, you shall do. And when this comes, you shall know that I am the Lord God.’ ”

25. ‘Also, son of man, will it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that on which they set their minds, their sons and their daughters.

26. That he who escapes in that day shall come to you to cause you to hear it with your ears?

27. In that day your mouth shall be open to him who has escaped, and you shall speak and be no more dumb. And you shall be a sign to them, and they shall know that I am the LORD.’ ”

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

1. The Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2. “Son of man, set your face against the Ammonites and prophesy against them.

3. And say to the Ammonites, ‘Hear the Word of the LORD. Thus says the LORD, “Because you said, ‘Aha,’ against My sanctuary when it was profaned, and against the land of Israel when it was desolate, and against the house of Judah when they went into captivity;

4. Therefore, behold, I will give you to the men of the east for a possession. And they shall set their camp sites among you. They shall eat your fruit, and they shall drink your milk.

5. And I will make Rabbah a pasture for camels, and the Ammonites a crouching place for flocks. And you shall know that I am the LORD.”

6. For thus says the Lord GOD, “Because you have clapped your hands and stamped the foot, and rejoiced in heart with all your spite against the land of Israel;

7. Behold, therefore I will stretch out My hand upon you, and will give you as a spoil to the heathen. And I will cut you off from the people, and I will cause you to perish out of the countries. I will destroy you, and you shall know that I am the LORD.’

8. Thus says the Lord GOD, “Because Moab and Seir say, ‘Behold, the house of Judah is like all the heathen;’

9. Therefore, behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from his cities, from his borders, the glory of the land, even Beth Jeshimoth, Baal Meon, and Kirjathaim.

10. To the men of the east with the Ammonites. And I will give them for a possession so that the Ammonites may not be remembered among the nations.

11. And I will execute judgments on Moab; and they shall know that I am the LORD.”

12. Thus says the Lord GOD, “Because Edom has dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and has greatly offended and revenged himself on them;”

13. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “I will also stretch out My hand on Edom, and will cut man and beast off from it; and I will make it a waste from Teman, even to Dedan they shall fall by the sword.

14. And I will lay My vengeance on Edom by the hand of My people Israel. And they shall do in Edom according to My anger and according to My fury. And they shall know My vengeance,” says the Lord GOD.

15. Thus says the Lord GOD, “Because the Philistines have taken vengeance; yes, have taken vengeance with spite in their heart, to destroy it with never ending hatred.”

16. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I will stretch out My hand on the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites, and will destroy the rest of the sea coast.

17. And I will execute great vengeance on them with rebukes; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall lay My vengeance upon them.””

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

1. And it came to pass in the eleventh year, on the first day of the month, the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2. “Son of man, because Tyre has said against Jerusalem, ‘Aha! She is shatterèd, that was the gate of the people, it has swung open to me; I shall be replenished; now that she is laid waste.’

3. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I am against you, O Tyre, and will cause many nations to come up against you, as the sea causes its waves to come up.

4. And they shall destroy the walls of Tyre and break down her towers. I will also scrape her dust from off her and make her like a bare rock.
5. It shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the middle of the sea. For I have spoken it,” says the Lord GOD. ‘And it shall become a spoil to the nations.
6. And her daughters who are in the field shall be killed by the sword; and they shall know that I am the LORD.’
7. For thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I shall be killed by the sword; and they shall say, “How are you destroyed, who dwelt in midst of the sea, the merchants of your people for many isles, thus says the Lord GOD to Tyre, a king of kings from the north, with horses and with chariots and with a company of horsemen, and many people.
8. He shall kill your daughters with the sword in the field. And he shall make siege walls against you, and build up a siege mound against you, and lift up the shield against you.
9. And he shall set engines of war against your walls, and with his axes he shall break down your towers.
10. Because of his many horses, their dust shall cover you. Your walls shall be broken down by his axes; and with his axes he shall break down your walls and make a pillage of your merchandise. And they shall lay your stones and your timbers and destroy your pleasant houses. And they shall trample all your streets. He shall kill your daughters with the sword, and the pillars of your strength shall go down to the ground.
11. With the hoofs of his horses he shall trample all your streets. He shall kill your people by the sword, and the pillars of your strength shall go down to the ground.
12. And they shall plunder your riches, and make a pilage of your merchandise. And they shall break down your walls and destroy your pleasant houses. And they shall lay your stones and your timber and your dust in the midst of the waters.
13. And I will cause the noise of your songs to cease; and the sound of your lyres shall be heard no more.
14. And I will make you like a bare rock. You shall be a place to spread nets on; you shall be built no more; for I the LORD have spoken,’ says the Lord GOD.
15. Thus says the Lord GOD to Tyre, ‘Shall not the isles shake at the sound of your fall, when the slain groan, when the slaughter is made in your midst?
16. And all the rulers of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and strip off their embroidered garments. They shall clothe themselves with trembling; they shall sit on the ground and tremble every moment, and be astonished at you.
17. And they shall take up a mourning for you, and say to you, “How are you destroyed who lived by the sea, the famous city which was strong in the sea, she and her people who caused their terror to be upon all who lived in it!
18. Now the isles shall tremble in the day of your fall; yea, the isles by the sea shall be troubled at your going.”
19. For thus says the Lord GOD, ‘When I shall make you a desolate city, like the cities that have no inhabitants; when I shall bring up the deep upon you, and great waters shall cover you;
20. Then I shall bring you down with those who go down into the pit, with the people of old, and shall set you in the low parts of the earth, in places ruined in days of old, with those who go down to the pit, so that you have no inhabitants (but I establish glory in the land of the living).
21. I will give you terrors, and you will be no more. Though you are sought, yet you shall never be found forever’ says the Lord GOD.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN

1. The Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2. “And you, son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyre.
3. And say to Tyre, ‘Who is situated at the entrance of the sea, a merchant of the people for many isles, thus says the Lord GOD, “O Tyre, you have said, ‘I am of perfect beauty.’
4. Your borders are in the midst of the seas, your builders have perfected your beauty.
5. They have made all your ships boards of fir trees of Senir; they have taken cedars from Lebanon to make masts for you.
6. They have made the oaks of Bashan your oars; they have made your deck, inlaid with ivory, of boxwood from the coasts of Chittim.
7. Your sail was of fine linen with embroidered work from Egypt, an ensign for you; violet and purple from the coasts of Elishah was your covering.
8. The residents of Sidon and Arvad were your seamen. Your wise ones, O
Tyre, were in you, they were your sailors.
9. The elders of Gebal and her wise men were with you, reinforcing your seams.
10. Persia and Lud and Put were in your army, your men of war. They hung the shield and helmet in you; they set your splendor.
11. The sons of Arvad and your army were on your walls all around, and warriors were in your towers. They hung their shields on your walls all around; they have made your beauty perfect.
12. Tarshish was your merchant because of the multitude of your wealth; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded for your wares.
13. Javan, Tubal, and Meshech were your merchants. They traded the persons of men and vessels of bronze for your goods.
14. From the house of Togarmah they gave horses and war-horses and mules in your fairs.
15. The sons of Dedan were your merchants; many isles were the traffic of your hand. They brought you as tribute tusks of ivory and ebony.
16. Syria was your merchant because of the multitude of your works; with emeralds, purple, and embroidered work, and fine linen, and coral, and rubies they gave you for your wares.
17. Judah and the land of Israel were your merchants with wheat from Minnith and Pannag, and honey, and oil, and balm, they traded for your goods.
18. Damascus was your merchant in the multitude of your goods, from the multitude of all riches, in the wine of Helbon, and white wool.
19. Dan and Javan also traded with yarn for your wares; smooth iron, cassia, and cane were among your goods.
20. Dedan was your merchant in precious clothes for chariots.
21. Arabia, and all the rulers of Kedar were traders with you, in lambs, and rams, and goats; in these they were your merchants.
22. The merchants of Sheba and Raamah were also your merchants, with the best of all the spices, and with every precious stone, and gold they gave for your wares.
23. Haran, and Canneh, and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Asshur, Chilmad were your merchants.
24. They were your merchants in gorgeous fabrics, in violet cloth, and embroidered work, and in carpets of many colors, with tightly bound cords, and cedars among your merchandise.
25. The ships of Tarshish carried your merchandise. And you were filled and made very glorious in the heart of the seas.
26. Your rowers have brought you out into the high seas; the east wind has wrecked you in the heart of the seas.
27. Your riches, and your wares, your goods, your seamen, and your sailors reinforcing your seams, and the traders of your goods, and all your men of war, who are in you, and all your company which is in your midst, shall fall into the heart of the seas in the day of your ruin.
28. At the sound of the cry of your pilots the countrysides will shake.
29. And all who handle the oar, the mariners, all the sailors of the sea, shall come down from their ships. They shall stand on the land,
30. And shall cause their voice to be heard against you, and shall cry bitterly, and shall throw dust on their heads. They shall wallow themselves in the ashes.
31. And they shall make themselves utterly bald for you, and gird them with sackcloth. And they shall weep for you with bitterness of soul, a bitter wailing.
32. And in their wailing they shall lift up a lamentation for you and lament over you, saying, ‘Who was like Tyre, who was fortified in the midst of the sea?
33. When your goods went out by the seas, you filled many people. With the multitude of your riches and your merchandise you enriched the kings of the earth.
34. Now that you are broken by the seas, in the depths of the waters, your merchandise and all your company in your midst have fallen.
35. All the inhabitants of the isles are astonished at you, and their kings are horribly terrified; their faces tremble.
36. The merchants among the people shall hiss at you; you have become terrors. And you will be no more forever.’
CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

1. The Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2. "Son of man, say to the prince of Tyre, "Thus says the LORD, "Because your heart is lifted up, and you have said, 'I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas;' yet you are a man and not God, though you set your heart as the heart of a god;
3. Behold, you are wiser than Daniel; there is no secret that they can hide from you!
4. With your wisdom and with your understanding you have made riches for yourselves, and have gotten gold and silver into your treasuries.
5. By your great wisdom and by your trade you have multiplied your riches, and your heart is lifted up because of your riches."
6. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, "Because you have set your heart as the heart of a god,
7. Behold, therefore I will bring strangers upon you, the most ruthless of the nations. And they shall draw their swords against the beauty of your wisdom, and they shall defile your brightness.
8. They shall bring you down to the pit, and you shall die the death of those slain in the midst of the seas.
9. Will you yet say before him who kills you, 'I am a god'? But you are a man, and not God, in the hand of him who kills you.
10. You shall die the death of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers. For I am God; every precious stone was your covering, the ruby, the topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the turquoise, and the emerald, and gold. The workmanship of your settings and of your sockets was prepared in you in the day that you were created.
11. You were the anointed cherub that covers, and I set you so; you were upon the holy mountain of God; you have walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.
12. You were perfect in your ways from the day that you were created, until iniquity was found in you.
13. By the multitude of your merchandise they have filled your midst with violence, and you have sinned. Therefore I will cast you as profane from the mountain of God, and I will destroy you, O covering cherub, from among the stones of fire.
14. Your heart was lifted up because of your beauty; you have corrupted your wisdom by reason of your brightness. I will cast you to the ground; I will lay you before kings, that they may behold you.
15. All who know you among the peoples shall be astonished at you; you became a terror, and you will not be any more."
16. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
17. "Son of man, set your face against Sidon, and prophesy against it.
18. And say, 'Thus says the LORD, "Behold, I am against you, O Sidon, and I will be glorified in your midst. And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have executed judgments in her and shall be sanctified in her.
19. For I will send a plague into her, and blood into her streets. And the wounded shall fall in her midst by the sword upon her on every side. And they shall know that I am the LORD.
20. And there shall be no more a pricking brier, or a painful thorn unto the house of Israel any more, from all who surround them, those who hate them. And they shall know that I am the LORD.
21. Thus says the LORD, "When I have gathered the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered, and have been sanctified in them in the sight of the nations, then they shall dwell in their land that I have given to My servant Jacob.
22. And they shall dwell safely in it, and shall build houses and plant vineyards. Yea, they shall dwell safely when I have executed judgments upon all those who despise them all around them; and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.’”’

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

1. In the tenth year, in the tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month, the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2. “Son of man, set your face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him and against all Egypt.
3. Speak and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I, even I, am against you, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon who lies in the midst of his rivers, who has said, ‘My river is mine, and I have made it.’”
4. But I will put hooks in your jaws, and I will cause the fish of your rivers to stick to your scales, and I will bring you up out of the midst of your rivers, and all the fish of your rivers shall stick to your scales.
5. And I will throw you into the wilderness, you and all the fish of your rivers. You shall fall on the open fields; you shall not be removed nor gathered. I have given you for food to the beasts of the field and to the birds of heaven.
6. And all the people of Egypt shall know that I am the LORD because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel.
7. When they took you by your hand, you broke and tore off all their shoulder. And when they leaned on you, you broke and made all their loins to be a stand.”
8. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I will bring a sword upon you, and cut off man and beast from you.
9. And the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste; and they shall know that I am the LORD because he has said, ‘The river is mine, and I have made it.’
10. Behold, therefore I am against you and against your rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt utterly waste, and desolate, from Migdol to Syene, even to the border of Ethiopia.
11. No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, and you shall not live in it forty years.
12. And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the midst of the desolate countries; and her cities shall be deserted forty years among the cities that are laid waste. And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will scatter them through the lands.”
13. Yet thus says the Lord GOD, “At the end of forty years I will gather the Egyptians from the people where they were scattered.
14. And I will bring back the captives of Egypt, and will cause them to return to the land of Pathros, into their homeland. And they shall be a lowly kingdom there.
15. It shall be the lowest of the kingdoms, and shall no more exalt itself above the nations. For I will make them so few, that they shall no more rule over the nations.
16. And it shall never again be the hope of the house of Israel, but will remind them of their iniquity when they turned to follow them. And they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.”’

17. And it came to pass in the twentieth-seventh year, in the first month, on the first day of the month, the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
18. “Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyre. Every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled. Yet neither he nor his army had any wages for Tyre, for the service that he had served against it.
19. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. And he shall carry off her wealth, and take her spoil, and seize her plunder. And it shall be the wages for his army.
20. I have given him the land of Egypt for his labor with which he served against it because they worked for Me,’ says the Lord GOD.
21. ‘In that day I will make a horn spring up to the house of Israel, and I will open your mouth to prophesy in their midst. And they shall know that I am the Lord.’”

CHAPTER THIRTY

1. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2. “Son of man, prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Howl, ‘Woe is the day!’”

638
3. For the day is near, even the day of the LORD is near, a day of clouds. It shall be the time of the nations.
4. And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and great pain shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt, and they shall take away her wealth, and her foundations shall be broken down.
5. Ethiopia, and Libya, and Lydia, and all the mixed people; and Chub, and the men of the land who are in covenant with them shall fall by the sword.
6. Thus says the LORD, “Those who uphold Egypt shall also fall, and the pride of her power shall come down. From Migdol to Syene they shall fall in it by the sword,” says the Lord GOD.
7. “And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are laid waste.
8. And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have set a fire in Egypt and when all her helpers shall be destroyed.
9. In that day messengers shall go out from Me in ships to terrify the confident Ethiopians, and anguish shall be upon them, as in the day of Egypt; for lo, it is coming.”
10. Thus says the Lord GOD, “I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon.
11. He and his people with them, the most ruthless of the nations, shall be brought to destroy the land. And they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.
12. And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked. And I will waste the land, and her fullness, by the hand of strangers. I the LORD have spoken.”
13. Thus says the Lord GOD, “I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause their images to cease out of Noph. And there shall no more be a prince of the land in Egypt; and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.
14. And I will make Pathros a ruin, and will set fire in Zoan, and will execute judgments in No.
15. And I will pour My fury upon Sin, the strength of Egypt. And I will cut off the multitude of No.
16. And I will set fire in Egypt; Sin shall be in great convulsion, and No shall be torn asunder, and Noph shall have daily woes.
17. The young men of Aven and of Pi Beseth shall fall by the sword; and these cities shall go into exile.
18. And at Tehaphnehes also the day shall be held back, when I shatter the yokes of Egypt there. And the pride of her strength shall cease in her; as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into exile.
19. Thus I will execute judgments in Egypt; and they shall know that I am the LORD.”
20. And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, on the seventh day of the month, the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
21. “Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt. And lo, it shall not be bound up to give healing, nor will a bandage be put on to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword.
22. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong one and the broken one. And I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.
23. And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will scatter them throughout the countries.
24. And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put My sword in his hand. But I will break Pharaoh’s arms, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of one who is mortally wounded.
25. But I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall. And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall put My sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it upon the land of Egypt.
26. And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and scatter them among the countries. And they shall know that I am the LORD.’

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

1. And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, on the first day of the month, the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2. “Son of man, speak unto Pharaoh king of Egypt and to his multitude, ‘To whom are you like in your greatness?

3. Behold, Assyria was like a cedar in Lebanon, with fair branches and forest shade, and of great height. And his top was among the thick boughs.

4. The waters made him great; the deep set him up on high with her rivers running all around his plants, and sent out her little channels to all the trees of the field.

5. Therefore his height was lifted up above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long because of the many waters, when he sent out its boughs.

6. All the birds of the heavens nested in his boughs, and under his branches all the beasts of the field bore their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations.

7. Thus he was beautiful in his greatness, in the length of his branches. For his root was by abundant waters.

8. The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him; the fir trees were not like his boughs, and the chestnut trees were not like his branches. Nor was any tree in the garden of God like him in his beauty.

9. I have made him beautiful by his many branches, so that all the trees of Eden in the garden of God envied him.

10. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Because you have exalted yourself up in stature, and he set his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height;

11. Therefore I have delivered him into the hand of the mighty one of the nations. He shall surely deal with him; I have expelled him for his wickedness.

12. And strangers have cut him off, the nations have expelled him for his wickedness. He shall surely deal with him; I will cast him down to the grave, and cause all the birds of the heavens to settle upon him, and I will let the beasts of the field faint because of him.

13. Upon his ruin shall all the birds of the heavens remain, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches.

14. To the end that none of all the trees by the waters shall exalt themselves in their height, nor set their top among the thick boughs, nor should their trees stand up fully in their height, even all that drink water. For all of them are given to death, to the lower parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with those who go down into the pit.’

15. Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘In the day when he went down to the grave, I caused a mourning. I covered the deep for him, and I held back its floods, and the great waters were held back. And I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, shall be comforted in the lower parts of the earth.

16. I made the nations shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to the grave with those who go down into the pit. And all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, shall be comforted in the lower parts of the earth.

17. They also went down into the grave with him to those who are slain with the sword, even his arm, who lived under his shadow in the midst of the nations.

18. To whom are you like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? Yet you shall be brought down with the trees of Eden to the lower parts of the earth. You shall lie in the midst of the uncircumcised with those slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude,’ says the Lord GOD.”

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO

1. And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, on the first day of the month, the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2. “Son of man, take up a lament for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say to him, ‘You did liken yourself unto a young lion of the nations, whereas you were like a sea monster. And you came out with your rivers, and churned the waters with your feet, and fouled their rivers.’

3. Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘I will therefore spread out My net over you with an assembly of many people; and they shall lift you up in My net.

4. And I will leave you upon the land; I will cast you upon the face of the field, and cause all the birds of the heavens to settle upon you, and I will let the beasts of all the whole earth gorge themselves on you.

5. And I will put your flesh on the mountains, and fill the valleys with your remains.

6. I will also water the land with your blood in which you swim, even to the mountains; and the ravines shall be full of you.
7. And when I put you out, I will cover the heaven and make its stars dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.
8. I will make all the bright lights of the heavens dark over you, and will set darkness upon your land,’ says the Lord GOD.
9. ‘I will also vex the hearts of many people, when I bring your destruction among the nations, among the countries which you have not known.
10. Yea, I will make many people appalled at you, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for you, when I shall brandish My sword before them; and they shall tremble at every moment, each man for his own life, in the day of your fall.’
11. For thus says the Lord GOD, ‘The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon you.
12. By the swords of the mighty, I will cause your multitude to fall, the terrible of the nations, all of them. And they shall spoil the pride of Egypt, and all its multitude shall be destroyed.
13. I will also destroy all its beasts from beside the abundant waters. Nor shall the foot of man stir them any more, nor shall the hoofs of beasts stir them.
14. And I will make their waters sink, and cause their rivers to run like oil,’ says the Lord GOD.
15. ‘When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the land is stripped of its fullness; when I shall strike all those who dwell in it, then they shall know that I am the LORD.
16. This is the lamentation with which they shall mourn her. The daughters of the nations shall mourn her: they shall mourn for her, for Egypt and for all her multitude,’ says the Lord GOD.”
17. It was also in the twelfth year, on the fifteenth day of the month, that the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
18. “Son of man, wait for the multitude of Egypt, and bring it down, her and the daughters of the majestic nations, to the lower parts of the earth, with those who go down into the pit.
19. ‘Whom do you surpass in beauty? Go down and be laid with the uncircumcised.’
20. They shall fall in the midst of those slain by the sword; she is delivered to the sword; they draw her down and all her multitudes.
21. The strong among the mighty shall speak of him out of the midst of the grave, with those who help him. ‘They have gone down, they lie uncircumcised, slain by the sword.’
22. Assyria is there and all her company. His graves are all around them; all of them are slain, fallen by the sword;
23. Their graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her company is all around her grave. All of them are slain, fallen by the sword, those who caused terror in the land of the living.
24. There is Elam and her multitude all around her grave. All of them are slain, fallen by the sword, who have gone down uncircumcised into the lower parts of the earth, who caused their terror in the land of the living. Yet they have borne their shame with those who go down to the pit.
25. They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude. Her graves are all around him; all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword; because their terror was spread throughout the land of the living, they have borne their shame with those who go down to the pit. He is put in the midst of the slain.
26. There is Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude. Her graves are all around him. All of them are uncircumcised, slain by the sword, because they spread their terror in the land of the living.
27. And they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, who have gone down to the grave with their weapons of war. And they have put their swords under their heads, but their sins are upon their bones, though they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.
28. Yea, you shall be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shall lie with those slain by the sword.
29. There is Edom, her kings, and all her princes, who with their might are laid by those slain by the sword. They shall be with the uncircumcised and with those who go down to the pit.
30. There are the princes of the north, all of them, and all the Sidonians, who have gone down with the slain, ashamed for all the terror, which they have caused;
and they lie uncircumcised with those who are slain by the sword, and bear their shame with those who go down to the pit.

31. Pharaoh shall see them and shall be comforted over all his multitude, even Pharaoh and all his army killed by the sword,” says the Lord GOD.

32. “For I had put My terror in the land of the living. And he shall be laid waste in the midst of the uncircumcised with those slain with the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude,” says the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE

1. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2. “Son of man, speak to the children of your people, and say to them, ‘When I bring the sword upon a land, and the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their watchman;

3. If, when he sees the sword come upon the land, he blows the ram’s horn and warns the people, he shall be on himself. But if he had taken warning, he would have delivered his life.

4. Then whoever hears the sound of the ram’s horn and does not take warning, if the sword does come and take him away, his blood shall be on his own head.

5. He heard the sound of the ram’s horn and did not take warning. His blood shall be on him alone. But if he had taken warning, he would have delivered his life.

6. But if the watchman sees the sword coming, and does not blow the ram’s horn and the people are not warned; if the sword comes and takes any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity. But I will require his blood at the watchman’s hand.’

7. And you, son of man, I have set you as watchman to the house of Israel. Therefore you shall hear the Word from My mouth, and warn them from Me.

8. When I say to the wicked, ‘O wicked one, you shall surely die;’ if you do not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked one shall die in his iniquity; but I will require his blood at your hand.

9. But, if you warn the wicked of his way, to turn from it; if he does not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity, but you have delivered your soul.

10. And you, son of man, speak to the house of Israel. Thus shall you speak, saying, ‘When our transgressions and our sins are on us, and we are wasting away in them, how then shall we live?’

11. Say to them, ‘As I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘I have no delight in the death of the wicked, except that the wicked turn from his way, and live. Turn you, turn you from your evil ways; for why will you die, O house of Israel?’

12. Therefore, son of man, say to the children of your people, ‘The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression. As for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall by it in the day he turns from his wickedness. Nor shall the righteous be able to live for his righteousness in the day that he sins.’

13. When I shall say to the righteous that he shall surely live; if he trusts in his own righteousness and commits iniquity, all his righteousnesses shall not be remembered; but for his iniquity that he has committed, he shall die for it.

14. Again, when I say to the wicked, ‘You shall surely die;’ if he turns from his sin and does that which is lawful and right;

15. If the wicked restores back the pledge, gives back again what he had robbed, walks in the statutes of life without committing iniquity, then he shall surely live; he shall not die.

16. None of his sins that he has committed shall be remembered against him. He has done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live.

17. Yet the children of your people say, ‘The way of the LORD is not fair.’ But as for them, it is their way that is not fair.

18. When the righteous turns from his righteousness and commits iniquity, he shall even die in it.

19. But if the wicked turns from his wickedness and does what is lawful and right, he shall live in it.

20. Yet you say, ‘The way of the LORD is not fair.’ O house of Israel, I will judge you, each one according to his ways.’

21. And it was in the twelfth year of our exile, in the tenth month, on the fifth day of the month, that one who escaped out of Jerusalem came to me, saying, “The city is taken.”

22. And the LORD’S hand was on me in the evening, before he who had escaped came. And He had opened my mouth when he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was dumb no more.
23. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
24. "Son of man, those who live in those wastes of the land of Israel are speaking, saying, 'Abraham was one, and he inherited the land. But we are many; the land is given to us for an inheritance.'
25. Wherefore say to them, 'Thus says the Lord GOD, "You eat meat with the blood, and lift up your eyes to your idols, and shed blood; and shall you possess the land?"
26. You stand upon your sword, you work abomination, every man defiling his neighbor’s wife. And shall you possess the land?"
27. Speak to them in this way, 'Thus says the Lord GOD, "As I live, surely those who are in the waste places shall fall by the sword, and I will give him who is in the open field to the beasts to be eaten, and those in the forts and in the caves shall die of the plague.
28. For I shall make the land most desolate, and the pride of her power shall cease. And the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, so that none shall pass through.
29. And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have made the land most desolate because of all their abominations which they have committed."
30. And you, son of man, the children of your people are still talking about you by the walls, and in the doors of the houses, and speaking to one another, each man to his brother, saying, 'I pray you, come and speak to one another, each man to his brother, saying, 'I pray you, come and hear what is the word which comes forth from the Lord.'
31. And they come to you as the people come, and they sit before you as My people, and they hear your words. But they will not do them. For with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goes after their covetousness.
32. And lo, you are to them as a singer of love songs with a beautiful voice, and able to play well on an instrument; for they hear your words, but they do not do them.
33. And when this comes to pass; (behold, it will come) then they shall know that a prophet has been among them."

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR

1. And the Word of the Lord came to me, saying,
2. "Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel. Prophesy and say to them, 'Thus says the Lord God to the shepherds, "Woe to the shepherds of Israel who feed themselves! Should not the shepherds feed the flocks?"
3. You eat the fat and clothe yourselves with the wool; you kill the fat ones, but you do not feed the flock.
4. You have not made the weak strong, nor have you healed the sick, nor have you bound up the broken. You have not brought again those that were driven away, nor have you sought that which was lost; but you have ruled them with force and with cruelty.
5. And they were scattered for lack of a shepherd. And they became food to all the beasts of the field when they were scattered.
6. My sheep wandered through all the mountains and upon every high hill. Yea, My flock was scattered upon all the face of the earth, and none searches nor sought for them."
7. Therefore, you shepherds, hear the Word of the Lord,
8. "As I live," says the Lord God, "surely because My flock became a prey, and My flock became food to every beast of the field because there was no shepherd, nor did My shepherds search for My flock, but the shepherds fed themselves and did not feed My flock."
9. Therefore, O shepherds, hear the Word of the Lord.
10. Thus says the Lord God, "Behold, I am against the shepherds, and I will require My flock at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the flock. Nor shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; for I will deliver My flock from their mouth that they may not be food for them."
11. For thus says the Lord God, "Behold, I Myself will search for My sheep and seek them out.
12. As a shepherd seeks out his flock in the day that he is among his scattered sheep, so I will seek out My sheep and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day.
13. And I will bring them out from among people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and in all the places of the land where people live.
14. I will feed them in a good pasture, and their fold shall be upon the high mountains of Israel. There shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture they shall feed upon the mountains of Israel.
15. I will feed My flock, and I will cause them to lie down,” says the Lord God.
16. “I will seek that which was lost, and will bring back that which was driven away, and will gather together that which was scattered abroad,
17. And you, My flock, thus says the Lord God, “Behold, I judge between lamb and lamb, between rams and he-goats.
18. Is it a small thing for you to have eaten up the good pasture, but must you foul the rest of it with your feet? And to have drunk of the clear waters, but must you foul the rest of your pastures with your feet? And to have trampled the rest of your pastures with your feet have fouled.”
19. And My flock, they eat what your feet have trampled, and they drink what your feet have fouled.”
20. Therefore thus says the Lord God to them, “Behold I Myself will even judge between the fat lamb and the lean lamb.
21. Because you have thrust with side and with shoulder, and with your horns have pushed all the weak until you have scattered them abroad,
22. Therefore I will save My flock, and they shall no more be a prey. And I will judge between lamb and lamb.
23. And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, My servant David. He shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.
24. And I the Lord will be their God, and My servant David will be a prince among them, I the Lord have spoken it.
25. And I will make a covenant of peace with them, and will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land. And they shall dwell safely in the wilderness and sleep in the woods.
26. And I will make them, and the places around My hill, a blessing; and I will bring down the shower in its season. There shall be showers of blessing.
27. And the tree of the field shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase. And they shall be safe in their land, and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I have broken the bands of their yoke, and have delivered them out of the hands of those who enslaved them.
28. And no more shall they be a prey to the nations, nor shall the beast of the land devour them. But they shall dwell safely, and none shall terrify them.
29. And I will raise up for them plantations of renown, and they shall never again be consumed by famine in the land, nor shall they bear the shame of the nations any more.
30. And they shall know that I, the Lord their God, am with them, and they, the house of Israel, are My people,” says the Lord God.’ ”
31. “And you My sheep, the sheep of My pasture, are men, and I am your God,” says the Lord God.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE
1. And the Word of the Lord came to me, saying,
2. “Son of man, set your face against Mount Seir and prophesy against it.
3. And say unto it, ‘Thus says the Lord God, “Behold, O Mount Seir, I am against you, and I will stretch out My hand against you, and I will make you a desolation and a waste.
4. I will raze your cities, and you shall be desolate, and you shall know that I am the Lord.
5. Because you have had a perpetual hatred, and have delivered the children of Israel unto the power of the sword at the time of their calamity, at the time of their final punishment.
6. Therefore, as I live,” says the Lord God, “I will prepare you for blood, and blood shall pursue you. Since you have not hated blood, even blood shall pursue you.
7. Thus I will make Mount Seir most desolate, and cut off from it the one passing through, and the one returning.
8. And I will fill his mountains with his slain. In your hills, and your valleys, and all your rivers, those slain with the sword shall fall in them.
9. I will make you a perpetual desolation forever, and your cities shall not be inhabited. And you shall know that I am the LORD.
10. Because you have said, ‘These two nations and these two lands shall be mine, and we shall possess it;’ yet the LORD was there;
11. Therefore, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will even do according to your anger and according to your envy which you have shown out of your hatred against them. And I will make Myself known among them when I have judged you.
12. And you shall know that I am the LORD. I have heard all your blasphemies which you have spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, ‘Because they are laid desolate, they are given to us to consume.’
13. So with your mouth you have boasted yourself against Me, and have multiplied your words against Me. I have heard them.”
14. Thus says the Lord GOD, “The whole earth rejoices when I shall make you a desolation.
15. As you rejoiced at the inheritance of the house of Israel because of its desolation, so I will do unto you. You shall be a possession to us.
16. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying.
17. ‘Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own ways and by their doings,
5. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Surely in the fire of My jealousy I have spoken against the rest of the nations, and against all Idumea, who have appointed My land to themselves for a possession with all joy of heart, with utter contempt, that they might drive them out and plunder them.”
6. So prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and say to the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I have spoken in My jealousy and in My fury because you have borne the shame of the nations.”
7. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “I have lifted up My hand; surely the nations around you shall bear their shame.
8. But you, O mountains of Israel, you shall put out your branches and yield your fruit to My people Israel; for they will soon return.
9. For, behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and you shall be tilled and sown.
10. And I will multiply men on you, all the house of Israel, all of it. And the cities shall have people, and the wastes shall be rebuilt.
11. And I will multiply men and beasts upon you, and they shall increase and be fruitful. And I will make you dwell after your old estates, and I will do better to you than at your beginnings. And you shall know that I am the LORD.
12. Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even My people Israel. And they shall possess you, and you shall be their inheritance, and shall no longer bereave them of their children.”
13. Thus says the Lord GOD, “Because they say to you, ‘You are a devourer of men, and you have been bereaved of your nations;’
14. Therefore you shall devour men no more, nor shall you bereave your nations any more,” says the Lord GOD.
15. “Nor will I allow you to hear the shame of the nations any more, nor shall you bear the reproach of the people any more, nor shall you cause your nations to stumble any more,” says the Lord GOD.”
16. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
17. “Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own ways and by their doings, even as the uncleanness of a woman’s impurity was their way before Me.
18. Therefore I poured My fury upon them because of the blood that they had shed upon the land, and for their idols by which they defiled it.
19. And I scattered them among the nations, and they were scattered throughout the countries. I judged them according to their ways and according to their doings.
20. And when they came unto the nations where they went, they even profaned My holy name in that it was said of them, ‘These are the people of the LORD, and they are gone out of His land.’
21. But I had pity for My holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations where they were exiled.
22. Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “I do not do this for your sake, O house of Israel, but for My holy name’s sake, which you have profaned among the nations where you went.
23. And I will sanctify My great name, which was profaned among the nations, which you have profaned in their midst.
And the nations shall know that I am the LORD,” says the Lord GOD, “when I shall be sanctified in you before their very eyes.
24. For I will take you from among the nations and gather you out of all countries, and will gather you into your own land.
25. And I will sprinkle clean waters upon you, and you shall be clean. I will cleanse you from all your filthiness and from your idols.
26. And I will give you a new heart, and I will put a new spirit within you. And I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh.
27. And I will put My Spirit within you and cause you to walk in My statutes, and you shall keep My ordinances and do them.
28. And you shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers. And you shall be My people, and I will be your God.
29. I will also save you from all your uncleannesses, and I will call for the grain, and will increase it, and will lay no famine upon you.
30. And I will multiply the fruits of the tree and the increase of the field, so that you shall never again receive the curse of famine among the nations.
31. And you shall remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations.
32. I do not do this for your sake,” says the Lord GOD, “be it known to you. Be ashamed and confounded for your ways,
O house of Israel.”
33. Thus says the Lord GOD, “In the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will also cause you to dwell in the cities, and the waste places shall be rebuilt.
34. And the waste land shall be tilled, instead of being desolate before all who pass by.
35. And they shall say, ‘This land that was desolate has become like the garden of Eden. And the wasted, desolate and ruined cities now are fenced and inhabited.’
36. And the nations that are left all around you shall know that I the LORD build the ruined places and planted that which was desolate. I the LORD have spoken it, and I will do it.”
37. Thus says the Lord GOD, “I will yet be sought by the house of Israel to act for them. I will increase them with men like a flock.
38. As a holy flock, as the flock of Jerusalem in her appointed feasts, so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men.
And they shall know that I am the LORD.”

CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN

1. The hand of the LORD was on me, and brought me by the Spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of a valley,
and it was full of bones.
2. And He made me walk among them all around. And behold, very many were in the open valley. And lo, they were dry.
3. And He said to me, “Son of man, can these bones live?” And I answered, “O
Lord GOD, You know.”
4. Again He said to me, “Prophesy to these bones, and say to them, ‘O dry bones, hear the Word of the LORD.
5. Thus says the Lord God to these bones, “Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and you shall live.

6. And I will lay sinews on you, and will bring up flesh on you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and you shall live. And you shall know that I am the Lord.”

7. So I prophesied as I was commanded. And as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold, a shaking! And the bones came together, a bone to its bone.

8. And as I watched, behold the sinews and the flesh came upon them, and the skin covered them above. But there was no breath in them.

9. And He said to me, “Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, ‘Our bones are dried and our hope is lost; we ourselves are completely cut off.’

10. Therefore prophesy and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord God, “Behold, O My people, I will open your graves and will bring you into the land of Israel. Behold, they say, ‘Our bones are dried and our hope is lost; we ourselves are completely cut off.’

11. And He said to me, “Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, ‘Our bones are dried and our hope is lost; we ourselves are completely cut off.’

12. Therefore prophesy and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord God, “Behold, O My people, I will open your graves and cause you to come up out of your graves, and will bring you into the land of Israel.

13. And you shall know that I am the Lord when I have opened your graves, O My people, and have brought you up out of your graves.

14. And I will put My Spirit in you, and you shall live, and I will place you in your own land. And you shall know that I the Lord have spoken it and have done it,” says the Lord.”

15. And the Word of the Lord came to me, saying,

16. “And you, son of man, take a stick and write on it, ‘For Judah and for his companions, the children of Israel.’ And take another stick and write on it, ‘For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and all the house of Israel, his companions.’

17. And join them to one another into one stick. And they shall become one in your hand.

18. And when the children of your people shall speak to you, saying, ‘Will you not declare to us what do you mean by these?’

19. Say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord God, “Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel, his companions, and I will put them with him, even with the stick of Judah, and will make them one stick, and they shall be one in My hand.” ’

20. And the sticks on which you write shall be in your hand before their eyes.

21. And say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord God, “Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the nations where they have gone, and will gather them on every side, and will bring them into their own land.

22. And I will make them one nation in the land on the mountains of Israel, and one king shall be king over them all. And they shall no longer be two nations, nor shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all.

23. Nor shall they be defiled with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with all of their transgressions. But I will save them out of all their dwelling places, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them. And they shall be to Me for a people, and I will be their God.

24. And David My servant shall be king over them. And there shall be one shepherd to all of them. And they shall walk in My ordinances and obey My laws, and do them.

25. And they shall dwell in the land that I have given to Jacob My servant, the land in which your fathers have dwelt. And they shall dwell in it, even they and their children, and their children’s children forever. And My servant David shall be their ruler forever.

26. Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them. It shall be an everlasting covenant with them. And I will place them, and multiply them, and will set My sanctuary in their midst forever.

27. And My tabernacle shall be with them. Yea, I will be their God, and they shall be My people.

28. And the nations shall know that I the Lord do sanctify Israel, when My sanctuary shall be in their midst forever.”’
CHAPTER THIRTY-EIGHT

1. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
2. “Son of man, set your face against Gog, the land of Magog, the chief ruler of Meshech and Tubal.
3. And you shall go up, coming like a cloud to cover the land, you and all your bands, and a mighty army.
4. And I will turn you back, and put hooks into your jaws, and I will bring you out, and all your army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed most gorgeously, a great assembly with buckler and shield, all of them swordsmen;
5. Persia, Ethiopia, and Libya with them, all of them with shield and helmet;
6. Gomer and all his bands; the house of Togarmah from the uttermost parts of the north, and all his bands; and many people with you.
7. Be prepared; yea, prepare for yourself, you and all your assembly that are assembled about you, and be a guard for them.
8. After many days you will be summoned. In the latter years you shall come into the land restored from war, gathered out of many people, on the mountains of Israel, which have always been waste. (But she has been brought out of the nations, and they shall dwell securely, all of them)
9. And you shall go up, coming like a storm. You shall be like a cloud to cover the land, you and all your bands, and many people with you.
10. Thus says the Lord GOD, “And it shall be in that day that things shall come into your heart, and you shall devise an evil plan.
11. And you shall say, ‘I will go up to the land of unwalled villages. I will go to those that are at rest, who dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and there are no bars nor gates to them,
12. In order to take a spoil, and to steal a prize; to turn your hand upon the desolate places that are now inhabited, and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations, who have gotten cattle and goods, who dwell in the midst of the land.’
13. Sheba and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, and all her villages, shall say to you, ‘Have you come to take a spoil?’
14. Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say to Gog, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “In that day when My people of Israel dwell securely, shall you not know it?”
15. And you shall come from your place out of the utmost parts of the north, you and many people with you, all of them riding on horses, a great company and a mighty army.
16. And you shall come up on My people Israel like a cloud, to cover the land. It shall be in the latter days, and I will bring you against My land, so that the nations may know Me when I shall be sanctified in you, O Gog, before their eyes.”
17. Thus says the Lord GOD, “Are you he of whom I have spoken in former days, by the hand of My servants the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days for many years that I would bring you against them?
18. And it shall come to pass at the same time, when Gog comes against the land of Israel,” says the Lord GOD, “My hot anger will be aroused.
19. For in My jealousy and in the fire of My wrath I have spoken, ‘Surely in that day there shall be a great quaking in the land of Israel,
20. So that the fish of the sea, and the birds of the heavens, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep on the earth, and all the men on the face of the earth, shall quake at My presence. And the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.’
21. And I will call for a sword against him upon all My mountains,” says the Lord GOD. “Each man’s sword shall be against his brother.
22. And I will judge him with pestilence and with blood. And I will rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon the many people with him, an overflowing shower, and great hailstones, fire and brimstone.
23. Thus I will magnify Myself and sanctify Myself. And I will have Myself known in the eyes of many nations, and they shall know that I am the LORD.”’
CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE

1. “Therefore, son of man, prophesy against Gog and say, ‘Thus says the Lord God, “Behold, I am against you, O Gog, the chief ruler of Meshech and Tubal. 2. And I will turn you about, and lead you on. And I will bring you up from the uttermost parts of the north, and I will bring you against the mountains of Israel. 3. And I will strike your bow out of your left hand, and will cause your arrows to fall out of your right hand. 4. You shall fall on the mountains of Israel, you and all your bands, and the people with you. I will give you for food to the birds of prey of every kind, and to the beasts of the field. 5. You shall fall upon the face of the open field, for I have spoken it,” says the Lord God. 6. “And I will send a fire on Magog, and on those who dwell in the isles. And they shall know that I am the Lord. 7. And I will make My holy name known in the midst of My people Israel. And I will not let them profane My holy name any more. Then the nations shall know that I am the Lord, the Holy One in Israel. 8. Behold, it is coming, and it shall be done,” says the Lord God. “This is the day of which I have spoken. 9. And the inhabitants of the cities of Israel shall go out and shall set on fire and burn the weapons, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the javelins, and the spears. And they shall burn them with fire seven years, 10. So that they shall take no wood out of the field, nor cut down any out of the forests; for they shall make fires of the weapons. And they shall plunder those who plundered them, and rob those who robbed them,” says the Lord God. 11. “And it will be in that day that I will give to Gog a burial place there in Israel—the valley of those who pass by, east of the sea. And it shall block off those who pass by. And there they shall bury Gog and all his multitude. And they shall call it, The Valley of the Multitude of Gog. 12. And the house of Israel shall bury them, to cleanse the land, seven months. 13. And all the people of the land shall bury them, and it shall be to them a day of renown, the day that I shall be glorified,” says the Lord God. 14. “And they shall employ men to continually search the land, burying those who remain on the face of the earth, to cleanse it. At the end of seven months they shall begin the search. 15. And as those who pass through the land, pass through, if any man sees a bone, then he shall set a sign beside it until the buriers have buried it in The Valley of the Multitude of Gog. 16. And also the name of the city there is Multitude. Thus they shall cleanse the land.” 17. “And you, son of man, thus says the Lord God, ‘Speak to the birds of every kind, and to every beast of the field, “Gather yourselves and come; gather yourselves from all around to My sacrifice that I sacrifice for you, a great sacrifice on the mountains of Israel, so that you may eat flesh and drink blood. 18. You shall eat the flesh of the mighty and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, lambs, goats, and bulls, all of them fatlings of Bashan. 19. And you shall eat fat until you are full, and drink blood until you are drunk, of My sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you. 20. And you shall be filled at My table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, all the men of war,”’ says the Lord God. 21. And I will set My glory among the nations, and all the nations shall see My judgments which I have executed, and My hand that I have laid on them. 22. So the house of Israel shall know that I am the Lord their God from that day forward. 23. And the nations shall know that the house of Israel was exiled for their iniquity. Because they were unfaithful to Me, therefore I hid My face from them and gave them into the hand of their enemies, and they all fell by the sword. 24. According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions I have done to them, and hid My face from them. 25. Therefore thus says the Lord God, ‘Now will I again bring back the captives of Jacob, and will have mercy upon the whole house of Israel, and will be jealous for My holy name;
26. After they have borne their shame and all their sins by which they have sinned against Me, when they dwell securely in their land and no one terrified them;

27. When I have brought them again from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies’ lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations;

28. Then they shall know that I am the LORD their God Who exiled them among the nations. But I have gathered them to their own land, and have not left any of them there.

29. Nor will I hide My face from them any more, for I have poured out My Spirit upon the house of Israel,’ says the Lord GOD.”

CHAPTER FORTY

1. In the twenty-fifth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after the city was stricken, in the same day the hand of the LORD was on me, and brought me there.

2. In the visions of God He brought me into the land of Israel, and made me rest on a very high mountain, upon which was a structure like a city on the south.

3. And He brought me there, and behold, a wall on the outside of all that you see to the house of Israel.”

4. And the man said to me, “Son of man, behold with your eyes and hear with your ears, and set your heart on all that I shall show you. For you are brought here so that I might show them to you. Declare all that you see to the house of Israel.”

5. And behold, a wall on the outside of the house all around, and in the man’s hand was a measuring reed, six cubits long, with a cubit and a span. And he measured the building’s breadth, one reed; and the height, one reed.

6. And he came to the gate which faced eastward, and went up its steps, and measured the threshold of the gate, one reed wide, even the one threshold, one reed wide.

7. And a guardroom was one reed long and one reed wide. And between the guardrooms were five cubits. And the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate facing the house, one reed.

8. He also measured the porch of the gateway inside, one reed.

9. And he measured the porch of the gateway, eight cubits; and its pillars, two cubits; also the porch of the gate faced the house.

10. And the gate rooms eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; each three of them had the same measure; and the pillars from one side and to the other had the same measure.

11. And he measured the breadth of the gate-opening, ten cubits. The length of the gate was thirteen cubits.

12. And the border in front of the guardrooms was one cubit on one side, and the space was one cubit on the other side. And the guardrooms were six cubits on one side and six cubits on the other side.

13. And he measured the gate of the guardroom from one end of the roof to the other end of the roof, twenty-five cubits wide, from door to door.

14. He also made the pillars sixty cubits, even to the court-pillar, from the gate all around.

15. And from the front of the entrance gate to the face of the porch of the inner gate was fifty cubits;

16. And latticed windows were to the guardrooms and to their pillars inside the gate all around. And so for the porches; and windows were all around facing inward; and upon each pillar were palm trees.

17. And he brought me into the outer court, and lo, there were chambers, and a pavement made for the court all around. Thirty rooms were fronted on the pavement.

18. And the pavement by the side of the gates was equal to the length of the gates; this was the lower pavement.

19. And he measured the breadth from the front of the lower gate to the front of the inner court on the outside, a hundred cubits eastward and northward.

20. And the gate which faces toward the north of the outer court, he measured its length and its breadth.

21. And its guardrooms were three on one side and three on the other side. And its pillars and its porches were according to the same measure of the first gate: Its length was fifty cubits, and its breadth, twenty-five cubits.
22. And their windows, and their porches, and their palm trees, were according to the measure of the gate facing the east. And they went up to it by seven steps; and its porches were in front of them.

23. And the gate of the inner court was across from the gate toward the north and toward the east. And he measured from gate to gate, a hundred cubits.

24. And he led me toward the south, and behold a gate facing south. And he measured its pillars and its porches according to these measures.

25. And there were windows in it and in its porches all around, like those windows. The length was fifty cubits, and the breadth, twenty-five cubits.

26. And seven steps were going up to it, and its arches were in front of them. And it had palm trees, one on one side and another on the other side, upon its pillars.

27. And there was a gate in the inner court southward. And he measured from gate to gate southward, a hundred cubits.

28. And he brought me to the inner court by the south gate. And he measured the south gate according to these measures.

29. And its rooms and its pillars and its arches according to these measures. And there were windows in it and in the arches all around. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide.

30. And the arches all around were twenty-five cubits long and five cubits wide.

31. And its arches were toward the outer court; and palm trees on its pillars. And its stairway had eight steps.

32. And he brought me into the inner court eastward. And he measured the gate according to these measures.

33. And its guardrooms, and its pillars, and its porches, were measured according to these measures. And there were windows in it and in its arches all around. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide.

34. And its arches were toward the outer court. And palm trees were on its pillars, from one side to the other side. And its stairway had eight steps.

35. And he brought me to the north gate, and measured it according to these measures;

36. Its rooms, its pillars, and its arches, and its windows all around. The length was fifty cubits, and the breadth twenty-five cubits.

37. And its pillars were faced toward the outer court. And palm trees were on its pillars, on one side and on the other side. And its stairway had eight steps.

38. And the chamber and its door was by the pillars of the gates, there they washed the burnt offering.

39. And in the porch of the gate were two tables on one side and two tables on the other side, for the slaughtering of the burnt offering and the sin offering and the trespass offering.

40. And to the side outside, as one goes up to the door of the gate northward were two tables; and on the other side at the porch of the gate were two tables.

41. Four tables were on one side, and four tables were on the other side of the gate: eight tables whereupon they slaughtered their sacrifices.

42. And the four tables for burnt offering were of cut stone, a cubit and a half long, and a cubit and a half wide, and one cubit high. They also laid on them the instruments with which they slaughtered the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

43. And the double hooks of one span were fastened in the house all around, and on the tables the flesh of the offering.

44. And outside the inner court were the chambers of the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate. And one faced south: one at the side of the east gate faced north.

45. And he said to me, “This chamber facing south is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the house.

46. And the chamber facing north is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the altar. They are the sons of Zadok among the sons of Levi, who come near the LORD to minister to Him.”

47. And he measured the court, a square, a hundred cubits long and a hundred cubits wide; and the altar was in front of the temple.

48. And he brought me to the porch of the temple and measured each pillar of the porch, five cubits on one side and five cubits on the other side. And the gate was three cubits wide on one side and three cubits on the other side.

49. The porch was twenty cubits long, and eleven cubits wide. And it was by the steps that it was ascended. And columns were by the pillars, one on one side and another on the other side.

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE

1. And he brought me to the temple and measured the pillars, six cubits wide on one side and six cubits wide on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.
2. And the breadth of the door was ten cubits; and the sides of the door, five cubits on one side, and five cubits on the other side. And he measured its length, forty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits.
3. And he went inside and measured the pillar of the door, two cubits; and the door was six cubits; and the breadth of the door, seven cubits.
4. And he measured its length, twenty cubits; and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple. And he said to me,
“This is the Holy of Holies.”
5. And he measured the wall of the temple, six cubits; and the width of each side room was four cubits, all around the temple on every side.
6. And the side chambers were thus: a side chamber was over a side chamber, three stories, and thirty chambers in each story. And entrances in the wall of the Temple for the side chambers all around, that they might be supported, but they were not supported by the wall of the temple.
7. The higher side chambers around the temple were wider than the lower chambers. The width of the side chambers as it went up from floor to floor increased.
The access from the lowest to the highest went through the middle floor.
8. I also saw the height of the temple all around. The foundations of the side rooms were a full reed, six large cubits each joining one another.
9. The width of the outside wall, which was for the side chambers outside, was five cubits, and space was left between the side chambers and the temple.
10. And between the chambers and the temple was the width of twenty cubits, circling all around the temple.
11. And the doors of the side chambers facing the open space had one door that opened northward and one door that opened southward. And the width of the opening was five cubits on each chamber all around.
12. And the building that was facing the courtyard at the end of the way of the west was seventy cubits wide. And the wall of the building was five cubits wide all around, and its length, ninety cubits.
13. And he measured the temple, a hundred cubits long. And the courtyard, and the building, and its wall, were a hundred cubits long.
14. And the width of the front of the temple and of the courtyard eastward was a hundred cubits.
15. And he measured the length of the building to the front of the courtyard which was behind it with the galleries on the one side and on the other side, was a hundred cubits, including the inner temple and the porches of the court,
16. The doorposts, and the latticed narrow windows, and the galleries all around, their three stories across from the door, were overlaid with wood panelings all around, and from the ground up to the windows; and the windows were covered.
17. To the area above the door, even to the inside of the temple, and outside, and on all the walls around inside and outside, by measure.
18. And it was made with cherubim and dark, and a palm tree was between cherub and cherub. And each cherub had two faces,
19. The face of a man was toward the dark on one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side. It was made throughout all the temple all around.
20. From the ground to the area above the door were cherubim and palm trees carved, and on the wall of the temple as well.
21. The temple doorposts were squared, as was the front of the Holy of Holies.
The appearance of one side was like the other side.
22. The altar of wood was three cubits high, and its length two cubits. And its corners, and its length, and its sides, were of wood. And he said to me, “This is the table that is before the LORD.”
23. And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors.
24. And the doors had two leaves each, two turning doors, two for the one door, and two for the other door.
25. And on them, on the temple doors, were carved cherubim and palm trees like those on the walls, and thick wood was on the face of the porch outside.
26. And latticed windows, and palm trees, were on one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch, and on the side chambers of the temple, and wooden canopies.

CHAPTER FORTY-TWO

1. And he brought me out into the outer court, the way northward. And he brought me into the chamber that was across from the outer courtyard and which was in front of the building to the north.
2. The length of a hundred cubits was in front of the north door, and the width was fifty cubits.
3. Across from the twenty cubits which belonged to the inner court, and across from the pavement which was for the outer court, gallery was upon gallery in three stories.
4. And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits width inside, a path of one cubit. And their doors faced north.
5. And the upper chambers were shorter; for the galleries used up more space than the lower and middle ones in the building.
6. For they were in three stories, but there were no columns to them like the columns of the courts. So the third story was made narrower than the lower and the middle stories from the ground upward.
7. And the wall that was outside near the chambers, toward the outer court on the front of the chambers, its length was fifty cubits.
8. For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits. And lo, in front of the temple was a hundred cubits.
9. And under these chambers was the entrance on the east side, as one goes into them from the outer court.
10. In the width of the wall of the court eastward, to the front of the separate area, and to the front of the building were chambers.
11. And the way in front of them looked like the chambers which were northward, as was their length, so was their width. And all their exits were as their patterns, and as their doors.
12. And by the doors of the chambers that faced southward was a door in the end of the pathway, even the pathway directly in front of the wall toward the east, as one enters them.
13. And he said to me, “The north chambers and the south chambers which are in front of the courtyard, they are holy chambers, where the priests shall eat, those who approach to the LORD shall eat the most holy things. There they shall lay the most holy things, and the grain offering, and the sin offering, and the guilt offering. For the place is holy.
14. When the priests enter, then they shall not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but they shall lay their clothes there in which they minister, for they are holy. And they shall put on other clothes, and shall approach that which is for the people.”
15. Now when he finished measuring the inner temple; he brought me out by the way of the gate whose view is toward the east, and measured it all around.
16. He measured the east side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds with the measuring reed, all around.
17. He measured the north side, five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.
18. He measured the south side, five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.
19. He turned to the west side, measuring five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.
20. He measured it by the four sides. It had a wall all around, five hundred long, and five hundred wide, to make a separation between the holy place and the common place.

CHAPTER FORTY-THREE

1. And he led me to the gate, the gate that faces eastward.
2. And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east. And His voice was like the sound of many waters. And the earth shined with His glory.
3. And it looked the same as the vision which I saw, even according to the vision which I saw when I came to destroy the city. And the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar. And I fell on my face.

4. And the glory of the LORD came into the temple by the way of the gate whose view is eastward.

5. And the Spirit took me up and brought me into the inner chamber. And behold, the glory of the LORD filled the temple. And standing by me was a Man.

7. And He said to me, “Son of man, the house of Israel shall no more defile the place of My throne, and the place of the soles of My feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the sons of Israel forever; neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, nor by the dead bodies of their kings in their high places.

8. When they set their threshold by My threshold, and their doorpost by My doorpost; and the wall between Me and them, they have even defiled My holy name by their abominations which they have done. And I have consumed them in My anger.

9. Now let them put away their whoredom, and the dead bodies of their kings from Me, and I will dwell in their midst forever.

10. You, son of man, show the house of Israel the temple, so that they may be ashamed of all that they have done, the form of the house, and its arrangement, and its exits, and its ordinances, and all its forms, and all its laws, make known to them. And write them before their eyes, so that they may observe all its form, and all its ordinances, and do them.

11. This is the law of the temple. On the top of the mountain is all its border, all around it is most holy. Behold, this is the law of the temple.

12. And these are the measures of the altar by the cubit. The cubit is a cubit and a span; even the base shall be a cubit, and the width a cubit, and its border by its edge all around shall be a span. And this is the upper part of the altar.

13. And from the base on the ground even to the lower ledge shall be two cubits, and the width one cubit. And from the smaller ledge even to the greater ledge shall be four cubits, and the width one cubit.

14. And from the altar hearth and upward shall be four horns.

15. And the altar hearth and upward shall be four horns, and from the altar hearth and upward shall be four horns.

16. And the altar hearth and upward shall be twelve cubits long, twelve wide, square in its four sides.

17. And the ledge shall be fourteen cubits long and fourteen wide in its four sides. And the border around it shall be half a cubit, and its base a cubit around. And its steps shall face eastward.”

18. And He said to me, “Son of man, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘These are the ordinances of the altar in the day of its being made to offer upon it burnt offerings, and to sprinkle blood upon it. And you shall give a young bull for a sin offering to the priests the Levites, who are of the seed of Zadok, who approach Me to minister to Me,’ says the Lord GOD.

20. And you shall take of its blood and put it on its four horns, and on the four corners of the ledge, and on the border all around. So you shall cleanse and purify it.

21. You shall also take the bull of the sin offering, and he shall burn it in the appointed place of the temple, outside the sanctuary.

22. And on the second day you shall offer a kid of the goats without blemish for a sin offering. And they shall cleanse the altar as they cleansed it with the bull.

23. And when you have finished cleansing it, you shall offer a young bull without blemish and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

24. And you shall offer them before the LORD, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering to the LORD.

25. Every day for seven days you shall prepare a goat for a sin offering. They also shall prepare a young bull, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish.

26. Seven days they shall purge the altar and purify it; and they shall consecrate themselves.

27. And when these days are expired, it shall be that on the eighth day, and forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings before the altar, and your peace offerings. And I will accept you,” says the Lord GOD.”
CHAPTER FORTY-FOUR

1. And he brought me back by the way of the gate of the outer sanctuary which looks eastward. And it was shut.
2. And the LORD said to me, “This gate shall be shut; it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it. Because the LORD, the God of Israel, has entered in by it, therefore it shall be shut.
3. It is for the prince; being a prince, he shall sit in it to eat bread before the LORD. He shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the same way.”
4. And he brought me by the way of the north gate before the house. And I looked, and, behold, the glory of the LORD filled the temple of the LORD. And I fell on my face.
5. And the LORD said to me, “Son of man, note carefully: see with your eyes, and hear with your ears all that I say to you concerning all the ordinances of the temple of the LORD, and all its laws. And mark well the entrance of the temple, with all the exits of the sanctuary.
6. And you shall say to the rebellious, to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “O house of Israel, let it be more than enough for you, of all your hateful deeds,
7. That you have brought strangers, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in My sanctuary, to profane it, even My house, when you offer My bread, the fat and the blood. And they have broken My covenant because of all your abominations.
8. And you have not kept the charge of My holy things, but you have set keepers of My charge in My sanctuary for themselves.”
9. Thus says the Lord GOD, “No son of an alien, uncircumcised of heart and uncircumcised of flesh, shall enter into My sanctuary, or any son of a stranger among the children of Israel.
10. But the Levites who have gone far away from Me, when Israel went astray; those who went astray from Me after their idols; they shall even bear their iniquity.
11. Yet they shall be ministers in My sanctuary, as overseers at the gates of the temple and ministering at the temple. They shall kill the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister to them.
12. Because they ministered to them before their idols, and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity, therefore I have lifted up My hand against them,” says the Lord GOD, “and they shall bear their iniquity.
13. And they shall not come near Me, to do the office of a priest to Me, nor to come near any of My holy things, in the most holy place; but they shall bear their shame and their abominations which they have committed.
14. But I will make them keepers of the charge of the temple for all its service, and for all that shall be done in it.
15. But the priests, the sons of Zadok, who kept the charge of My sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from Me, they shall come near Me to minister to Me, and they shall stand before Me to offer to Me the fat and the blood,” says the Lord GOD.
16. “They shall enter My sanctuary, and they shall come near My table, to minister to Me, and they shall keep My charge.
17. And it shall be, when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with bleached linen clothing. And no wool shall come on them while they serve in the gates of the inner court, and within the temple.
18. Turbans of bleached linen shall be on their heads, and they shall have bleached linen undergarmets on their loins. They shall not clothe themselves with anything that causes sweat.
19. And when they go out into the outer court, even into the outer court of the people, they shall put off their clothes in which they ministered, and lay them in the holy chambers. And they shall put on other clothes, so that they shall not sanctify the people with their own clothes.
20. Nor shall they shave their heads nor allow their hair to grow long; they shall only trim their heads.
21. And the priests shall not drink wine when they enter the inner court.
22. Nor shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her who is divorced. But they shall take virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow who had a priest before.
23. And they shall teach My people to discern between the holy and profane, and between the unclean and the clean.
24. And in a dispute they shall stand in judgment; and they shall judge it according to My judgments. And they shall keep My laws and My statutes in all My assemblies, and they shall keep My Sabbaths holy.
25. And he shall not come near any dead person to defile himself; but he may defile themselves for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister who has had no husband.
26. And after he is cleansed, they shall count seven days for him.
27. And in the day that he goes into the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering to the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary who come near to minister to the priests, it shall be for the ministers of the sanctuary.
28. And it shall be to them for an inheritance, says the Lord GOD.
29. They shall eat the grain offering, and the sin offering, and the guilt offering; and every dedicated thing in Israel shall be theirs.
30. And the first of all the firstfruits of all, and every offering of all, of every kind of your sacrifices, shall be the priest’s. You shall also give the priest the first of your dough, so that he may cause the blessing to rest in your house.
31. The priests shall not eat of anything that died of itself, or is torn, whether it is bird or animal.”

CHAPTER FORTY-FIVE
1. “And, when you shall divide the land by lot for inheritance, you shall offer an offering to the LORD, a holy portion of the land. The length shall be twenty-five thousand cubits long, and the width ten thousand. It shall be holy in all its borders all around.
2. Of this there shall be five hundred by five hundred cubits for the sanctuary, square all around; and fifty cubits around shall be for its open space.
3. And from this measure you shall measure the length of twenty-five thousand, and the width of ten thousand. And in it shall be the sanctuary and the most holy place.
4. It is the holy portion of the land for the priests, it shall be for the ministers of the sanctuary who come near to minister to the LORD. And it shall be a place for their houses and a holy place for the sanctuary.
5. And the twenty-five thousand cubits in length, and the ten thousand in width, shall also be for the Levites, the ministers of the house, for themselves for a possession, twenty rooms.
6. And you shall give the possession of the city, five thousand cubits wide, and twenty-five thousand long, besides the offering of the holy portion. It shall be for the whole house of Israel.
7. And a portion shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other side, of the holy district, and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy district, and to the front of the city’s possession, from the west side, westward, and from the east side, eastward. And the length shall be alongside one of the portions, from the west border to the east border.
8. It shall be for a land to him, for a possession in Israel; and My princes shall never again oppress My people. And they shall give the rest of the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.”
9. Thus says the Lord GOD, “Let it be sufficient for you, O princes of Israel. Remove violence and spoil, and do judgment and justice. Take away your demands on My people,” says the Lord GOD.
10. “You shall have a just balance, a just ephah and a just bath.
11. The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer. Its measure shall be according to the homer.
12. And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, twenty-five shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your mina.
13. This is the heave offering that you shall offer: the sixth of an ephah of an homer of wheat, and the sixth of an ephah of an homer of barley.
14. And as to the statute of oil, the bath of oil, you shall offer the tenth of a bath out of the cor, which is an homer of ten baths; for ten baths are an homer;
15. And one lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the watered pasture of Israel; for a grain offering, and for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, to make atonement for them,” says the Lord GOD.
16. “All the people of the land shall give this offering for the prince in Israel.

17. And it shall be the prince’s part to give burnt offerings and grain offerings and drink offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the Sabbaths, in all appointed feasts of the house of Israel. He shall prepare the sin offering and the grain offering and the burnt offering and the peace offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel.”

18. Thus says the Lord God, “In the first month, on the first day of the month, you shall take a bull without blemish, and cleanse the sanctuary.

19. And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering and put it on the doorposts of the temple, and on the four corners of the ledge of the altar, and on the gateposts of the inner court.

20. And so you shall do on the seventh day of the month for each man who goes astray, and for the simple. So you shall make atonement for the temple.

21. In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, you shall observe the Passover; for the festival of seven days unleavened bread shall be eaten.

22. And on that day the prince shall prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bull for a sin offering.

23. And the seven days of the feast of unleavened bread he shall prepare a burnt offering to the Lord, seven bulls and seven rams, without blemish, daily for the seven days, and a kid of the goats daily for a sin offering.

24. And he shall prepare a grain offering of an ephah for a bull, and an ephah for a ram, and a hin of oil for an ephah.

25. In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month, at the feast of tabernacles he shall prepare likewise for these seven days, according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the grain offering, and according to the oil.”

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX

1. ‘Thus says the Lord God, “The gate of the inner court that faces eastward shall be shut the six working days. But on the Sabbath it shall be opened, and in the day of the new moon it shall be opened.

2. And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate outside, and shall stand by the gatepost. And the priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate. And he shall go out, but the gate shall not be shut until the sunset.

3. And the people of the land shall worship at the door of that gate before the Lord on the Sabbaths and in the new moons.

4. And the burnt offering that the prince shall offer to the Lord on the Sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5. And the grain offering shall be an ephah for a ram, and the grain offering for the lambs as he shall be able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

6. And in the day of the new moon it shall be a bull without blemish, and six lambs, and a ram. They shall be without blemish.

7. And he shall prepare a grain offering, an ephah for a bull, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs as his hand shall be able to get, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

8. And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and by its way he shall go out.

9. But when the people of the land come before the Lord in the appointed feasts, he who enters by the way of the north gate to worship shall go out by the way of the south gate. And he who enters by the way of the south gate shall go out by the way of the north gate. He shall not return by the way of the gate by which he came in, but shall leave opposite it.

10. And the prince shall go in among them when they go in. And when they go out, he shall go out.

11. And at the feasts and in the appointed seasons, the grain offering shall be an ephah to a bull, and an ephah to a ram, and to the lambs as he is able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

12. And when the prince shall prepare a freewill burnt offering or peace offerings voluntarily to the Lord, one shall then open to him the gate that faces eastward, and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he did on the Sabbath day. And he shall go out. And after his going out, one shall shut the gate.

13. You shall daily prepare a burnt offering to the Lord, a lamb without blemish, a male of a year. Morning by morning you shall prepare it.
14. And you shall prepare a grain offering for it every morning, the sixth of an ephah, and the third of a hin of oil, to make the fine flour moist; a grain offering every day by an ordinance forever to the LORD.
15. So they shall prepare the lamb, and the grain offering, and the oil, every morning for a burnt offering continually.
16. ‘Thus says the Lord God, “If the prince gives a gift to any of his sons, the inheritance of it shall be his sons”—it shall be their possession by inheritance.
17. But if he gives a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to the year of liberty. Afterwards, it shall return to the prince, but his inheritance shall be his sons’ for them.
18. And the prince shall not take of the people’s inheritance, oppressing them out of their possession. But he shall give his sons their inheritance out of his own possession; so that My people may not be scattered, each man from his possession.” ’
19. And he brought me through the entry which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the priests, facing north. And behold, there was a place at the end of the chamber westward.
20. And he said to me, “This is the place where the priests shall boil the guilt offering and the sin offering, and where they shall bake the grain offering, so that they may not bring them out into the outer court to sanctify the people.”
21. And he led me out into the outer court and he made me pass by the four corners of the court. And behold, in every corner of the court there was an enclosed court.
22. In the four corners of the court were enclosed courts, forty cubits long and thirty wide, one measure to the four of them, being made in corners.
23. And a row of building stones was all around in them, all around the four of them. And boiling places were made under the rows all around.
24. And he said to me, “These are the places for those who boil, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.”

CHAPTER FORTY-SEVEN
1. And he led me again to the door of the house. And behold, water came out from under the threshold of the house eastward. For the front of the house is east, and the water came down from under the right side of the house, at the south side of the altar.
2. And he led me out by the way of the north gate, and led me around the way outside to the outer gate, by the way facing the east. And behold, water was running out of the right side.
3. When the man went out eastward, and a line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits. And he brought me through the water. The water was to the ankles.
4. And he measured a thousand cubits, and brought me through the water—the water was up to the knees. And he measured a thousand, and brought me through water to the loins.
5. And he measured a thousand; and there was a river which I was not able to pass; for the water had risen, water to swim in, a river that could not be passed. 6. And he said to me, “Son of man, have you seen this?” And he led me, and caused me to return to the bank of the river.
7. When I returned, then behold, on the bank of the river were very many trees, on one side and on the other.
8. And he said to me, “These waters go out toward the east country, and go down into the Arabah, and go into the sea. They are brought out into the sea, and its waters shall be healed.
9. And it shall be that every living creature which swarms in every place, there where the rivers go, every thing shall live. And there shall be very many fish because these waters shall come there. And they shall be healed. And all shall live where the river goes.
10. And it will be, the fishermen shall stand on it from En Gedi even to En Eglaim, a spreading place for nets shall be there. Their fish shall be according to their kinds, like the fish of the Great Sea, exceedingly many.
11. But its swamps and its marshes shall not be healed; they shall be given to salt.
12. And all trees for food shall go up by the river, on its bank on this side, and on that side. Its leaf shall not fade, nor its...
fruit fail. It will bear month by month because its waters come out from the sanctuary. And its fruit shall be for food, and its leaf for healing.”

13. Thus says the Lord GOD, “This shall be the border by which you shall inherit the land according to the twelve tribes of Israel. Joseph shall have two portions.

14. And you shall inherit it, each man like his brother, as I lifted up My hand to give to your fathers; even this land shall fall to you for an inheritance.

15. And this is the border of the land to the north side, from the Great Sea, the way of Hethlon, to the entrance of Zedad;

16. Hamath, Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath; Hazar Hatticon, which is by the border of Hauran.

17. And the border shall be from the sea to Hazar Enan, at the border of Damascus and the north, northward, even the border of Hamath. And this is the north side.

18. And you shall measure the east side from between Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Gilead, and the land of Israel, shall be the Jordan, from the border to the Eastern Sea. And this is the east side.

19. And the south side, southward from Tamar, to the waters of Meriboth Kadesh, the river to the Great Sea. And this is the south side, southward.

20. And the west side is the Great Sea from the border until one is beside the entrance of Hamath. This is the west side.

21. And you shall divide this land for yourselves by the tribes of Israel.

22. And it will be, you shall make it fall by lot for an inheritance to yourselves, and to the strangers who live among you, who shall beget children among you. And they shall be to you as native-born among the children of Israel. They shall be allotted an inheritance among the tribes of Israel.

23. And it shall be, in the tribe in which the stranger resides, there you shall give his inheritance,” says the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER FORTY-EIGHT

1. “And these are the names of the tribes.

From the north end, at the hand of the way of Hethlon to the entrance of Hamath, Hazar Enan, the border of Damascus, to the north border of Hamath.

4. And the border of Naphtali, from the east side to the west side, one part for Manasseh.

5. And by the border of Manasseh from the east side to the west side, one part for Ephraim.

6. And by the border of Ephraim, from the east side even to the west side, one part for Reuben.

7. And by the border of Reuben from the east side to the west side, one part for Judah.

8. And by the border of Judah, from the east side to the west side, shall be the heave offering which you shall offer: twenty-five thousand cubits wide and long, as one of the parts, from the east side to the west side. And the sanctuary shall be in its middle.

9. The heave offering that you shall offer to the LORD shall be twenty-five thousand cubits long, and ten thousand cubits wide.

10. And for these shall be the holy heave offering for the priests; northward, twenty-five thousand; and westward ten thousand wide; and eastward ten thousand wide, and southward twenty-five thousand long. And the sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the middle of it.

11. For the priests who are sanctified, of the sons of Zadok, who have kept My charge, who did not go astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

12. And the heave offering shall be theirs, from the heave offering of the land, the holiest of the holy places, by the border of the Levites.

13. And the Levites shall have alongside the border of the priests twenty-five thousand cubits long, and ten thousand wide. All the length shall be twenty-five thousand, and the width ten thousand.

14. And they shall not sell any of it, nor trade it, nor cause the firstfruits of the land to pass away. For it is holy to the LORD.
15. And the five thousand that are left in the width in front of the twenty-five thousand shall be common for the city, for dwelling and for open land. And the city shall be in its midst.

16. And these shall be its measures: the north side, four thousand and five hundred; and the south side, four thousand and five hundred; and on the east side, four thousand and five hundred; and the west side, four thousand and five hundred.

17. And the open land of the city shall be northward, two hundred and fifty, and southward, two hundred and fifty; and eastward, two hundred and fifty; and westward, two hundred and fifty.

18. And the remainder in length alongside the heave offering of the holy parts shall be ten thousand eastward and ten thousand westward. And it shall be alongside the heave offering of the holy part. And its produce shall be for food to those who serve the city.

19. And he who serves the city shall serve it out of all the tribes of Israel.

20. All the heave offering shall be twenty-five thousand by twenty-five thousand, four-square. You shall offer the holy heave offering to the possession of the city.

21. And the rest shall be for the prince, on this side, and on that side of the holy heave offering, and of the possession of the city, in the front of the twenty-five thousand of the heave offering to the east border, and westward in the front of the twenty-five thousand to the west border, alongside the lots for the prince. And it shall be the holy heave offering. And the sanctuary of the house shall be in her midst.

22. And to the prince shall be from the possessions of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, amidst that for the prince; between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.

23. And the rest of the tribes, from the east side to the west side, Benjamin, one part.

24. And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side to the west side, Simeon, one part.

25. And by the border of Simeon, from the east side to the west side, Issachar, one part.

26. And by the border of Issachar, from the east side to the west side, Zebulun, one part.

27. And by the border of Zebulun, from the east side to the west side, Gad, one part.

28. And by the border of Gad, at the south side, southward, the border shall be even from Tamar to the waters of Meribath Kadesh, and to the river toward the Great Sea.

29. This is the land which you shall divide by lot to the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their parts,” says the Lord GOD.

30. “And these are the exits of the city on the north side, four thousand and five hundred measures.

31. And the gates of the city shall be by the names of the tribes of Israel: three gates northward, one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, one gate of Levi.

32. And at the east side four thousand and five hundred, and three gates: and one gate of Joseph, one gate of Benjamin, one gate of Dan.

33. And the south side, four thousand and five hundred measures, and three gates: the gate of Simeon, one; the gate of Issachar, one; the gate of Zebulun, one.

34. The west side, four thousand and five hundred, their gates three: the gate of Gad, one; the gate of Asher, one; the gate of Naphtali, one.

35. All around it shall be eighteen thousand cubits. And the name of the city from that day shall be, The LORD is There.”
CHAPTER ONE

1. The Word of the LORD that came to Hosea, the son of Beeri, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.
2. The beginning of the Word of the LORD by Hosea. And the LORD said to Hosea, “Go, take to yourself a wife of whoredoms and children of whoredoms, for the land has utterly committed great whoredoms, departing from the LORD.”
3. So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, who conceived and bore him a son.
4. And the LORD said to him, “Call his name Jezreel, for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel on the house of Jehu, and will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease.
5. And it shall be, in that day I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.”
6. And she conceived again and bore a daughter. And God said to him, “Call her name Lo-Ruhamah, for I will no more have mercy on the house of Israel. But I will utterly take them away.
7. But I will have mercy on the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, nor by horses, nor by horsemen.”
8. And when she had weaned Lo-Ruhamah she conceived and bore a son.
9. And He said, “Call his name Lo-Ammi, for you are not My people, and I will not be your God.
10. Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered. And it shall be in the place where it was said to them, ‘You are not My people,’ there it shall be said to them, ‘You are the sons of the living God.’
11. Then the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and shall set over themselves one head, and they shall come up out of the land, for great shall be the day of Jezreel.”

CHAPTER TWO

1. “Say to your brethren, Ammi, and to your sisters, Ruhamah.
2. Contend! Contend with your mother, for she is not My wife, nor am I her husband. Let her therefore put away her whoredoms out of her sight, and her adulteries from between her breasts,
3. Lest I strip her naked and set her out as in the day that she was born; and lest I make her as the wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with thirst.
4. And I will not have mercy on her children, for they are the children of whoredoms,
5. For their mother has prostituted herself. She who conceived them has done shamefully, for she said, ‘I will go after my lovers who give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, my oil and my drink.’
6. Therefore behold, I will hedge your way with thorns, and make a wall, that she shall not find her paths.
7. And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them. She shall seek them, but shall not find them.
8. Then she shall say, ‘I will go and return to my first husband, for then it was better with me than now,’
9. For she did not know that I gave her grain, and wine, and oil, and multiplied her silver and gold, which they prepared for Baal.
10. So I will return and take away My grain in its time, and My wine in its season, and will recover My wool and My flax given to cover her nakedness.
11. And now I will uncover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of My hand.
12. I will also cause all her joy to cease, her feast days, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her appointed feasts.
13. And I will destroy her vines and her fig trees, of which she has said, ‘They are my rewards that my lovers have given me.’ And I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.
13. And I will visit on her the days of the Baalim, in which she burned incense to them, and she adorned herself with her nose rings and her jewels, and she went after her lovers and forgot Me,” says the LORD.

14. “Therefore, behold, I will lure her and bring her into the wilderness, and speak comfortably to her.

15. And I will give her vineyards to her from there, and the valley of Achor for a door of hope. And she shall sing there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

16. And it shall be in that day,” says the LORD, “you shall call Me Ishi, and shall no more call Me Baali.★ ★

17. For I will take away the names of the Baalim out of her mouth, and they will no more be remembered by their name.

18. And in that day I will make a covenant for them, with the beasts of the field, and with the birds of the heavens, and with the creeping things of the ground. And I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the earth, and will make them to lie down safely.

19. And I will betroth you to Me forever. Yea, I will betroth you to Me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in lovingkindness, and in mercies.

20. I will even betroth you to Me in faithfulness. And you shall know the LORD.

21. And it will be in that day that I will answer,” says the LORD, “I will answer the heavens, and they shall answer the earth,

22. And the earth shall answer with grain and wine and oil. And they shall answer Jezreel.

23. And I will sow her to Me in the earth. And I will have mercy on her that was shown no mercy. And I will say to her that was not My people, ‘You are My people.’ And they shall say, ‘You are my God.’”

CHAPTER THREE

1. And the LORD said to me, “Go again. Love a woman beloved by a friend, yet an adulteress, according to the love of the LORD toward the children of Israel, who turn to other gods, and love raisin cakes.”

2. So I bought her for fifteen pieces of silver, and for an homer of barley and a half homer of barley.

3. And I said to her, “You shall abide with me many days. You shall not play the harlot, nor be with any man. And I also will be for you,”

4. For the children of Israel shall live many days with no king, and no ruler, and with no sacrifice, and no pillars, and no ephod, or teraphim.

5. Afterward the children of Israel shall return and seek the LORD their God and David their king. And they shall fear the LORD and His goodness in the latter days.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. Hear the Word of the LORD, children of Israel, for the LORD has a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, “There is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land.

2. By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and the committing of adultery they break out; and blood touches blood.

3. Therefore shall the land mourn, and everyone who dwells in it shall languish, with the beasts of the field and with the birds of the heavens. Yes, the fish of the sea shall also be taken away.

4. Yet let no man strive, nor reprove another, for your people are as those who strive with the priest.

5. And you shall stumble in the day, and the prophet also shall stumble with you in the night, and I will destroy your mother.

6. My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge. Because you have rejected knowledge, I will also reject you from being as a priest to Me. Since you have forgotten the law of your God, I will also forget your children.

7. As they were increased, so they sinned against Me. I will change their glory into shame.

8. They eat up the sin of My people, and they set their heart on their iniquity.

9. And it has become, like people, like priest; and I will punish them for their ways, and reward them for their doings.

10. For they shall eat and not have enough. They shall commit whoredom and not increase because they have stopped taking heed to the LORD.

11. ’Whoredom and wine and new wine take away the heart.
12. My people seek advice from their wooden idols, and their rod declares to them, for the spirit of whoredoms has caused them to go astray, and they have gone awhoring away from under their God.

13. They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, under oaks and poplars and elms because its shade is good. So your daughters shall commit whoredom, and your brides shall commit adultery.

14. Will I not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, or your wives when they commit adultery? Even the men themselves go aside with whores, and they sacrifice with temple prostitutes. The people who do not understand shall fall.

15. Though you, Israel, play the harlot, yet do not let Judah become guilty. And do not come to Gilgal, nor go up to Beth Aven, nor swear, ‘As the LORD lives.’

16. For Israel slides back like a backsliding heifer. Now shall the LORD feed them as a lamb in a large place?

17. Ephraim is joined to idols; let him alone.

18. Their drink is sour; they have committed whoredom continually; her rulers dearly love dishonor.

19. The wind has bound her up in her wings, and they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.”

CHAPTER FIVE

1. “Hear this, O priests, and hearken, O house of Israel. And give ear, O house of the king, for judgment is toward you because you have been a snare for Mizpah and a net spread over Tabor.

2. And revolters have gone deep in slaughtering, and I chasten all of them.

3. I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hidden from me, for now, O Ephraim, you committed whoredom; and Israel is defiled.

4. Their doings will not allow them to turn to their God; for the spirit of whoredoms is in their midst, and they have not known the LORD.

5. And the pride of Israel testifies to his face. Therefore Israel and Ephraim shall fall in their iniquity; Judah also shall fall with them.

6. They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD; but they shall not find Him. He has withdrawn Himself from them.

7. They have acted treacherously against the LORD, for they have begotten strange children. Now, within a month invaders shall devour their land.

8. Blow the ram’s horn in Gibeah, and the silver trumpet in Ramah; cry aloud at Beth Aven, ‘Behind you, O Benjamin!’

9. Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke. Among the tribes of Israel I have made known that which shall surely be.

10. The rulers of Judah were like those who move a border; I will pour out My wrath upon them like water.

11. Ephraim is crushed and broken in judgment because he willingly walked after vanity.

12. Therefore I am as a moth to Ephraim, and to the house of Judah as rottenness.

13. When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then Ephraim went to the Assyrian and sent to King Contentious. Yet he could not heal you nor cure you of your wound.

14. For I will be to Ephraim as a lion, and as a strong lion to the house of Judah. I, even I, will tear and go away. I will take away, and none shall rescue him.

15. I will go; I will return to My place until they confess their guilt and seek My face; in their affliction they will seek Me earnestly.”

CHAPTER SIX

1. Come and let us return to the LORD, for He has torn, and He will heal us; He has smitten, and He will bind us up.

2. After two days He will revive us; in the third day He will raise us up, and we shall live in His sight.

3. Then we shall understand, if we follow on to know the LORD. His going out is as the early dew it goes away.

4. “O Ephraim, what shall I do to you? O Judah, what shall I do to you? For your goodness is like a morning cloud, and as the early dew it goes away.

5. So I have cut them down by the prophets; I have slain them by the words of My mouth. And the judgments against you are as the light that goes forth,

6. For I desire mercy and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.
7. But, like men, they have broken the covenant. They have acted like traitors against Me there.
8. Gilead is a city of troublemakers, and is polluted with blood.
9. And as troops of robbers wait for a man, the company of priests murder in the way of Shechem; for they committed wickedness.
10. I have seen a horrible thing in the house of Israel; the whoredom of Ephraim is there; Israel is defiled.
11. Also, O Judah, a harvest is appointed to you, when I reverse the captivity of My people.”

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. “When I would have healed Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim was uncovered, and the wickedness of Samaria, for they have worked falsehood. And the thief comes in, the troop of robbers plunders outside.
2. And they consider not within their hearts that I remember all their evil. Now their own doings have hemmed them in; they are before My face.
3. They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the rulers with their lies.
4. They are all adulterers, like an oven heated by the baker; he stops stirring, from kneading the dough, until it is leavened.
5. In the day of our king, the rulers have sickened themselves with the heat of wine. He stretches out his hand with scorners,
6. For they have made ready their hearts like an oven, while they lie in wait. Their baker sleeps at night; in the morning it burns like a flaming fire.
7. They are all hot as an oven, and devour their judges. All their kings have fallen; there is none among them who calls to Me.
8. Ephraim mixed himself among the people; Ephraim is a cake that is not turned.
9. Strangers have eaten up his strength, and he does not know. Yea, gray hairs are here and there on him, yet he knows it not.
10. And the pride of Israel testifies to his face. And they do not return to the LORD their God, nor seek Him in all this.
11. Ephraim also is like a silly dove without heart; they call to Egypt; they go to Assyria.
12. When they go, I will spread My net upon them; I will bring them down like the birds of heaven; I will chastise them, as their congregation has heard.
13. Woe to them, for they have fled from Me! Destruction unto them—because they have sinned against Me. Though I have redeemed them, yet they have spoken lies against Me.
14. And they have not cried to Me with their heart, when they howled on their beds; they gather themselves for grain and wine, and they rebel against Me.
15. Though I have bound and strengthened their arms, yet they think evil against Me.
16. They return, but not to the Most High. They are like a deceitful bow; their rulers shall fall by the sword from the rage of their tongue. This shall be their scorn in the land of Egypt.”

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. “Put a ram’s horn to your mouth. He comes like an eagle against the house of the LORD because they have transgressed My covenant and have rebelled against My law.
2. Israel shall cry to Me, ‘My God, we know You.’
3. Israel has thrown off good; the enemy shall pursue him.
4. They have set up kings, but not by Me; they have made princes, and I knew it not. They have made themselves idols with their silver and their gold, so that they may be cut off.
5. Your calf, O Samaria, has cast you off. My anger is kindled against them. How long shall they be incapable of innocence?
6. For from Israel it came also—the craftsman made it, but it is not God; for the calf of Samaria shall be broken into shivers.
7. For they sow to the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind. It has no stalk; the bud shall yield no meal; but if it does yield, strangers shall swallow it up.
8. Israel is swallowed up; now they shall be among the Gentiles as a vessel in which there is no pleasure;
9. For they have gone up to Assyria, a wild donkey alone by himself. Ephraim has hired lovers.
10. Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now I will gather them. And they shall sorrow in a little while under the burden of kings and princes.
11. Because Ephraim has multiplied altars to sin, altars shall be to him for sin.
12. I have written to him the great things of My law, but they were counted as a strange thing.
13. They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of My offerings, and eat it; but the LORD does not receive them. Now He will remember their iniquity and punish their sins. They shall return to Egypt.
14. For Israel has forgotten his Maker, and builds temples. And Judah has multiplied cities. But I will send a fire on his cities, and it shall burn up her palaces."

CHAPTER NINE

1. O Israel, rejoice not for joy, like the people, for you have gone whoring away from your God; you have loved a reward upon every grain floor.
2. The threshing floor and the winepress shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.
3. They shall not dwell in the LORD'S land; but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean things in Assyria.
4. They shall not pour wine to the LORD, nor shall they be pleasing to Him. Their sacrifices shall be like the bread of sorrows to them; all who eat of them shall be defiled, for their bread is for their appetite, it shall not come into the house of the LORD.
5. What will you do in the solemn day, and in the day of the feast of the LORD?
6. For lo, they have left because of destruction. Egypt shall gather them up; Memphis shall bury them. Nettles shall possess the desirable things of their silver; thorns shall be in their tents.
7. The days of her judgment have come; the days of vengeance have come; Israel shall know it. The prophet is a fool, the spiritual man is insane because of the multitude of your iniquity and your great hatred.
8. The watchman of Ephraim was with my God. The prophet is a fowler’s snare in all his ways, and enmity in the house of his God.
9. They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in days of Gibeon. Therefore He will remember their iniquity; He will punish them for their sins.
10. "I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness. I saw your fathers as the firstfruit in the fig tree at her first season. But they went to Baal Peor and set themselves apart to a shameful thing; and they became abominations, like the things they loved.
11. Ephraim is like a bird—their glory part from them! 12. Though they bring up their children, yet I will make them childless, without a man. Yea, woe also to them when I depart from them!
13. Ephraim, when I looked toward Tyre, was planted in a pleasant place. But Ephraim shall bring out his children to the murderer."
14. Give them, O LORD; what will You give? Give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts.
15. "All their wickedness is in Gilgal, for there I hated them. I will drive them out of My house for the wickedness of their doings. I will love them no more; all their rulers are revolters.
16. Ephraim is stricken; their root is dried up; they shall bear no fruit. Yea, though they bear, yet I will slay the beloved fruit of their womb."
17. My God shall cast them away because they did not hearken to Him. And they shall be wanderers among the nations.

CHAPTER TEN

1. Israel was a luxuriant vine, which produced fruit freely. According to the multitude of his fruit, he has increased the altars. Accordingly, they have made beautiful images after the goodness of his land.
2. Their heart is divided; now they shall be guilty. He shall break down their altars, and He shall spoil their images.
3. For now they shall say, "We have no king because we did not fear the LORD; what then should a king do to us?"
4. They have spoken words, swearing falsely in making a covenant. Thus judgment springs up like hemlock in the furrows of the field.

5. Because of the calves of Beth Aven, the people of Samaria shall fear, for its people shall mourn over it, as well as its idolatrous priests who rejoiced over it for its glory, because its glory has departed from it.

6. It shall also be carried to Assyria for a present to King Contentious. Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

7. As for Samaria, her king is cut off as a bough on the water.

8. Also the high places of Aven, the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed. The thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; and they shall say to the mountains, “Cover us,” and to the hills, “Fall on us.”

9. “O Israel, you have sinned from the days of Gibeah. There they stood; war upon the sons of violent deeds shall not overtake them in Gibeah.

10. When I desire, I shall chastise them; and the people shall be gathered against them, when they shall bind themselves to their two perversities.

11. And Ephraim is like a trained heifer, that loves to thresh, and I passed the yoke over her fair neck. I will make Ephraim to ride; Judah shall plow, and Jacob shall break his clods.”

12. Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground, for it is time to seek the L ORD, until He comes and rains righteousness on you.

13. You have plowed wickedness; you have reaped iniquity; you have eaten the fruit of lies because you trusted in your way, in the multitude of your mighty men.

14. Therefore a tumult shall arise among your people, and all your fortresses shall be spoiled, as the ruin of Beth Arbel by Shalman in the day of battle. The mother was dashed in pieces with her children.

15. Thus He does to you, Bethel, because of your great wickedness. In a morning the king of Israel shall be utterly cut off.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. “When Israel was a child, then I loved him and called My son out of Egypt.

2. The more they called them, the more they went from them. They continued to sacrifice to the Baalim, and burn incense to graven images.

3. I also taught Ephraim to walk; I took them on My arm. But they did not know that I healed them.

4. I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love; and I was to them as those who take off the yoke on their jaws, and I gently gave food to him.

5. He shall not return to the land of Egypt, but the Assyrian shall be his king because they refused to return to Me.

6. And the sword shall remain on his cities, and shall destroy his branches, and devour them because of their own counsels.

7. And My people are bent on backsliding from Me. Though they called to the Most High, none would at all exalt Him.

8. How shall I give you up, Ephraim? How shall I deliver you, Israel? How shall I set you like Admah? How shall I set you as Zeboiim? My heart is turned within Me; My compassions are kindled together.

9. I will not carry out the heat of My anger; I will not return to destroy Ephraim, for I am God and not man, the Holy One in your midst; and I will not enter into the city.

10. They shall walk after the L ORD; He shall roar like a lion. When He shall roar, then the children shall tremble from the west.

11. They shall tremble like a bird out of Egypt, and like a dove out of the land of Assyria. And I will place them in their houses,” says the L ORD.

12. “Ephraim circles around Me with lying, and the house of Israel with deceit. And Judah is still wayward toward God, and toward the Holy One, Who is faithful.”

CHAPTER TWELVE

1. “Ephraim feeds on wind and follows after the east wind. He daily multiplies lies and desolation. And they make a covenant with the Assyrians, and oil is carried into Egypt.

2. The L ORD also has a quarrel with Judah and will punish Jacob according to his ways; according to his doings He will repay him.

3. He took his brother by the heel in the womb, and by his strength he had power with God.
4. Yes, he wept and cried to Him, and he had struggled with the Angel and he prevailed. He found him in Bethel, and there he spoke with us.
5. Even the LORD God of hosts; the LORD is His name.
6. Therefore return to your God; keep mercy and judgment, and wait for your God continually.
7. “He is a merchant; the balances of deceit are in his hand; he loves to oppress.
8. And Ephraim said, ‘Yet I have become rich, I have found much wealth for myself. In all my labors they shall find in me no iniquity that is sin.’
9. And I the LORD, who have been your God from the land of Egypt, will yet make you to dwell in tents as in the days of the appointed feast.
10. I have also spoken by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions and have used parables by the hand of the prophets.”
11. Is there iniquity in Gilead? Surely they are altogether vanity; they sacrifice bulls in Gilgal. Yea, their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the fields.
12. And Jacob fled into the country of Syria, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep.
13. And by a prophet the LORD brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet he was kept.
14. Ephraim provoked Me to anger most bitterly; therefore his blood shall be cast upon him, and his Lord shall return his reproach unto him.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. When Ephraim spoke there was trembling. He exalted himself in Israel; but when he offended in Baal worship, he died.
2. And now they sin more and more, and have made themselves a molten image of their silver, and idols according to their own understanding, all of it the work of the craftsmen. They say of them, “Let the men who sacrifice kiss the calves.”
3. Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud and as the early dew that passes away, as the chaff storm driven from a threshing floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney.
4. “Yet I am the LORD your God from the land of Egypt, and you shall know no God but Me, for there is no Savior besides Me.
5. I have known you in the wilderness, in the land of great dryness.
6. When they were fed, they became full. They were filled and their heart was exalted. Therefore they have forgotten Me.
7. Therefore I will be as a lion to them; as a leopard by the way I will watch.
8. I will meet them like a bear that is bereaved of her cubs, and will tear open their chests. And there I will devour them like a lion—as the wild beast would tear them.
9. O Israel, you have destroyed yourself; but in Me is your help.
10. Where is your king now, that he may save you in all your cities; and your judges of whom you said, ‘Give me a king and princes’?
11. I gave you a king in My anger, and took him away in My wrath.
12. The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up; his sin is hidden.
13. The pains of a woman in travail shall come upon him. He is an unwise son; for he should not delay long at the time of the breaking forth of children.
14. I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death. O Death, where are your plagues? O Grave, I will be your destruction! And compassion shall be hidden from My eyes.”
15. Though he is fruitful among his brothers, an east wind shall come. The wind of the LORD shall come up from the wilderness, and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up. He shall plunder the treasure of all desirable vessels.
16. Samaria shall become desolate, for she has rebelled against her God. They shall fall by the sword. Their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their pregnant women shall be ripped up.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

1. O Israel, return to the LORD your God, for you have fallen because of your iniquity.
2. Take with you words, and return to the LORD. Say to Him, “Take away all our iniquity, and receive us graciously, that we may repay with the sacrifices of our lips.
3. Assyria shall not save us; we will not Hosea 14

1. The Word of the LORD that came to Joel, the son of Pethuel.
2. Hear this, you old men, and give ear, all you inhabitants of the land. Has this been in your days or even in the days of your fathers?
3. Tell your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.
4. That which the creeping locust has left, the swarming locust has eaten. And that which the swarming locust has left, the locust larvae has eaten. And that which the locust larvae has left, the destroying locust has eaten.
5. Awake, drunkards, and weep; and howl, all you drinkers of wine because of the new wine; for it is cut off from your mouth.
6. For a nation has come up on My land, strong and without number, whose teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he has the jaw teeth of a great lion.
7. He has laid My vine waste and splintered My fig tree. He has stripped it and cast it away; its branches are bared white.
8. Weep like a virgin clothed with sackcloth for the husband of her youth.
9. The grain offering and the drink offering are cut off from the house of the LORD; the priests, the LORD's ministers, mourn.
10. The field is wasted; the land mourns, for the grain is wasted. The new wine is dried up; the fresh oil is wasted away.
11. Be ashamed, O you husbandmen; howl, O you vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley; because the harvest of the field has perished.
12. The vine is dried up, and the fig tree is wasted away, the pomegranate and the palm tree, and the apple tree; all the trees of the field are dried up, for joy has withered away from the sons of men.
13. Gird yourselves and lament, you priests; howl, you ministers of the altar. Come, lie all night in sackcloth, you ministers of my God, for the grain offering and the drink offering are held back from the house of your God.
14. Sanctify a fast; call a solemn assembly; gather the elders and all the people unto the house of the LORD your God, and cry out to the LORD.
15. Alas for the day! For the day of the LORD is at hand, and it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty.
16. Is not the food cut off before our eyes, and joy and gladness from the house of our God?
17. The seed is rotten under their clods; the storage bins are desolate; the barns are broken down, for the grain has dried up.
18. How the beasts groan! The herds of cattle are troubled because they have no pasture. Yes, the flocks of sheep are devastated.
19. O LORD, to You will I cry; for the fire has burned up the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame has burned all the trees of the field.
20. The beasts of the field also cry to You; for the rivers of water are dried up, and the fire has burned up the pastures of the wilderness.

CHAPTER TWO

1. Blow the ram’s horn in Zion, and sound an alarm in My holy mountain!” Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble, for the day of the LORD comes, for it is near at hand—
2. A day of darkness and of gloominess, a day of clouds and of thick darkness. As the morning is spread across the mountains, so comes a great people and a mighty people; there has never been the like, nor shall there ever be again, even to the years of many generations.
3. A fire devours before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness—and the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness—and nothing shall escape them.
4. Their appearance is as the appearance of horses; and as war horses, so they run.
5. They shall leap with the noise of chariots on the tops of mountains, with the noise of horses; and as war horses, so they run.
6. In their presence the people shall greatly tremble; all faces shall grow pale.
7. They shall run like mighty men. They shall climb the wall like men of war, and they shall march each one in his path, and they shall not break their ranks.
8. And each one shall not crowd another; they go every one in his own path. And when they fall upon the sword, they shall not be wounded.
9. They shall run to and fro in the city; they shall run upon the wall; they shall climb up upon the houses; they shall enter in at the windows like a thief.
10. The earth shall quake before them; the heavens shall tremble. The sun and the moon shall grow dark, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.
11. And the LORD shall utter His voice before His army; for His camp is exceedingly great; for powerful is He who executes His Word, for the day of the LORD is great and very terrible; and who can endure it?

12. “Therefore even now,” says the LORD, “turn to Me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning.
13. Yes, rend your heart and not your garments, and return to the LORD your God: for He is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and He repents of the evil.
14. Who knows if He will return and repent and leave a blessing behind Him—a grain offering and a drink offering unto the LORD your God?”
15. Blow a ram’s horn in Zion, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly.
16. Gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the children and those who suck the breasts. Let the bridegroom go forth out of his chamber, and the bride out of her room.
17. Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, wail between the porch and the altar, and let them say, “Spare Your people, O LORD, and give not Your inheritance to shame, that the nations should rule over them. Why should they say among the people, ‘Where is their God?’ ”
18. Then the LORD will be jealous for His land and pity His people.
19. Yea, the LORD will answer and say to His people, “Behold, I will send you grain, and wine, and oil, and you shall be satisfied with them. And I will no more make you a curse among the nations.
20. But I will remove the northern army far off from you, and will drive him into a barren and deserted land, with his face toward the eastern sea and his back toward the western sea. And his stench shall come up, and his rotten odor shall come up because he has magnified his deeds.
21. Fear not, O land; be glad and rejoice, for the LORD will magnify his deeds.
22. Do not be afraid, beasts of the field; for the pastures of the wilderness grow green; for the tree bears its fruit, and the fig tree and the vine yield their strength.
23. Be glad then, children of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD your God, for He has given you the former rain in just measure, and He will cause the rain to come down for you, the former rain and the latter rain as before.
24. And the threshing floors shall be full of wheat, and the vats shall overflow with wine and oil.
25. And I will restore to you the years which the swarming locust has eaten, the locust larvae, and the destroying locust, and the cutting locust, My great army which I sent among you.

26. And you shall eat in plenty, and be satisfied, and praise the name of the LORD your God, who has dealt with you wondrously; and My people shall never again be ashamed.

27. And you shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the LORD your God, and there is none else; and My people shall never again be ashamed.

28. And afterward it shall be that I will pour out My Spirit upon all flesh. And your sons and your daughters shall prophesy; your old men shall dream dreams; your young men shall see visions.

29. And also I will pour out My Spirit upon all flesh. And your sons and your daughters shall prophesy; your old men shall dream dreams; your young men shall see visions.

30. And I will show wonders in the heavens and in the earth—blood and fire and pillars of smoke.

31. The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the coming of the great and awesome day of the LORD.

32. And it shall be that whoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be saved; for salvation shall be in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem, as the LORD has said, and among the remnant whom the LORD shall call.55

CHAPTER THREE

1. “For, behold, in those days and in that time—when I will bring back the exiles of Judah and Jerusalem—

2. I will also gather all nations and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat. And I will fight with them there for My people and for My inheritance Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and divided My land.

3. And they have cast lots for My people, and have given a boy for a prostitute, and sold a girl for wine, so that they might drink.

4. Yea, and what have you to do with Me, O Tyre and Sidon, and all the borders of Philistia? Will you give Me a reward? And if you reward Me, swiftly and speedily I will return your reward upon your own head,

5. Because you have taken My silver and My gold, and have carried My good treasures into your temples.

6. You have also sold the children of Judah and the children of Jerusalem to the children of the Greeks, that you might remove them far from their border.

7. Behold, I will raise them up out of the place where you have sold them, and will return your reward upon your own head.

8. And I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the Sabeans, to a people far off; for the LORD has spoken it.”

9. Proclaim this among the nations, “Prepare for war!” Wake up the mighty men, let all the men of war draw near; let them come up.

10. Beat your plowshares into swords, and your pruning hooks into spears. Let the weak say, “I am strong.”

11. Gather yourselves and come, all you nations, and gather yourselves together all around; cause Your mighty ones to come down there, O LORD.

12. Let the nations be awakened and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat; for there I will sit to judge all the nations all around.

13. Put in the sickle, for the harvest is ripe. Come, come down; for the press is full; the vats overflow—for their wickedness is great.

14. Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision; for the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision!

15. The sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.

16. The LORD shall also roar out of Zion and utter His voice from Jerusalem. And the heavens and the earth shall shake. But the LORD will be the hope of His people and the strength of the children of Israel.

17. “Then you shall know that I am the LORD your God dwelling in Zion, My holy mountain. And Jerusalem shall be a holy thing, and no stranger shall pass through her any more.

18. And it shall be, in that day the mountains shall drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall flow with waters; and a fountain shall come forth from the house of the LORD, and shall water the valley of Acacias.

CHAPTER ONE

1. The words of Amos, who was among the shepherds of Tekoa; the word which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

2. And he said, “The LORD will roar from Zion and utter His voice from Jerusalem; and the pastures of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall dry up.”

3. Thus says the LORD, “For three transgressions of Damascus, yea for four, I will not turn away its punishment; because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron.

4. But I will send a fire upon the house of Hazael, which shall devour the palaces of Ben-Hadad.

5. I will also break the gate bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the Valley of Aven, and from him who holds the scepter from the house of Eden. And the people of Syria shall go into captivity to Kir,” says the LORD.

6. Thus says the LORD, “For three transgressions of Gaza, yea for four, I will not turn away its punishment; because they deported the children of Judah as exiles to deliver them up to Edom.

7. But I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, which shall devour its palaces.

8. And I will cut off the people from Ashdod, and him who holds the scepter from Ashkelon, and I will turn My hand against Ekron. And the rest of the Philistines shall perish,” says the Lord GOD.

9. Thus says the LORD, “For three transgressions of Tyre, yea for four, I will not turn away its punishment. Because they delivered up the children of Judah as exiles to Edom, and did not remember the brotherly covenant.

10. But I will send a fire upon the wall of Tyre, which shall devour its palaces.”

11. Thus says the LORD, “For three transgressions of Edom, yea for four, I will not turn away its punishment. Because he pursued his brother with the sword, and cast off all mercy, and his anger raged perpetually, and he kept his wrath forever.

12. But I will send a fire upon Teman, which shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.

13. Thus says the LORD, “For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, yea for four, I will not turn away its punishment. Because they have ripped up the pregnant women of Gilead, to make their own border larger.

14. But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour its palaces with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind.

15. And their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together,” says the LORD.

CHAPTER TWO

1. Thus says the LORD, “For three transgressions of Moab, yea for four, I will not turn away its punishment; because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime.

2. But I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kerioth. And Moab shall die with great noise, with shouting, with the sound of a ram’s horn.

3. And I will cut off the judge from its midst, and will slay all its princes with him,” says the LORD.
4. Thus says the LORD, “For three transgressions of Judah, yea for four, I will not turn away its punishment; because they have despised the laws of the LORD, and have not kept His commandments. And their lies caused them to err, those after which their fathers walked.

5. But I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.”

6. Thus says the LORD, “For three transgressions of Israel, yea for four, I will not turn away its punishment; because they sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of sandals;

7. They trample the head of the poor into the dust of the earth, and turn aside the way of the meek. And a man and his father will go in to the same woman, to defile My holy name.

8. And beside every altar they lay themselves down upon garments taken in pledge, and they drink the wine of the condemned in the house of their god.

9. Yet I destroyed the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and whose strength was as the oaks; yet I destroyed his fruit from above and his roots from below.

10. Also I brought you up from the land of Egypt and led you forty years through the wilderness to possess the land of the Amorite.

11. And I raised up prophets from your sons and Nazarites from your young men. Is it not even so, O children of Israel?” says the LORD.

12. “But you gave the Nazarites wine to drink, and commanded the prophets, saying, ‘Do not prophesy.’

13. Behold, I will press you down, as a cart full of sheaves is pressed down. Therefore the flight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his power, nor shall the mighty deliver his life;

14. Nor shall he who handles the bow stand. And the swift-footed shall not deliver himself; neither shall he that rides the horse deliver himself.

15. And the stout-hearted among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day,” says the LORD.

CHAPTER THREE

1. Hear this word that the LORD has spoken against you, children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt, saying,

2. “You only have I known of all the families of the earth; therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities.

3. Can two walk together unless they be agreed?

4. Will a lion roar in the forest when he has no prey? Will a young lion cry out of his den if he has caught nothing?

5. Will a bird fall into a trap on the ground, when there is no bait for it? Will a trap spring up from the ground, and nothing at all be caught?

6. If a ram’s horn is blown in a city, will the people not also tremble? If there is a calamity in a city, has the LORD not also done it?

7. Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing unless He reveals His secret unto His servants the prophets.

8. The lion has roared—who will not fear? The Lord GOD has spoken—who can but prophesy?

9. Make it heard at the palaces of Ashdod, and the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, ‘Gather yourselves on the mountains of Samaria, and behold the great tumults in its midst, and the oppressed within it,

10. For they do not know to do right,’ says the LORD, ‘those who store up violence and robbery in their palaces.’

11. Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “An enemy! And he shall be all around the land; and he shall bring you down from your strength, and your palaces shall be plundered.”

12. Thus says the LORD, “As the shepherd takes two legs out of the mouth of the lion, or a piece of an ear, so shall the children of Israel be taken out—those who dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus on a couch.

13. Hear and testify in the house of Jacob,” says the Lord GOD, the God of hosts.

14. “For in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel on him, I will also visit the altars of Bethel. And the horns of the altar shall be cut off and shall fall to the ground.

15. And I will strike the winter house together with the summer house, and the houses of ivory shall perish. And the great houses shall be swept away,” says the LORD.
CHAPTER FOUR

1. Hear this word, cows of Bashan who are in the mountain of Samaria—who oppress the poor, who crush the needy, who say to their husbands, “Bring in wine that we may drink.”

2. The Lord GOD has sworn by His holiness, “Behold, the days shall come upon you when they will lift you up with meat hooks, and your posterity with fishhooks.

3. And you shall go out at the breaches in the walls, each woman straight before her. And you shall be cast off to Harmon,” says the LORD.

4. “Come to Bethel and transgress; to Gilgal and multiply transgressing at Gilgal. And bring your sacrifices for the morning, your tithes for three years; And offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving from that which is leavened, and cry out; call out the voluntary offerings, for so you love to do, O children of Israel!” says the Lord GOD.

5. “And I have also withheld the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest. And I caused rain to fall on one city and caused it not to rain on another city; one field was rained on, and the field on which it did not rain dried up.

6. So two or three cities wandered to one city to drink water, but they were not satisfied; yet you have not returned to Me,” says the LORD.

7. “And I have also withheld the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest. And I caused rain to fall on one city and caused it not to rain on another city; one field was rained on, and the field on which it did not rain dried up.

8. And I have stricken you with blasting and mildew. When your gardens and your vineyards, and your fig trees, and your olive trees increased, the creeping locust devoured them; yet you have not returned to Me,” says the LORD.

9. “I have stricken you with blasting and mildew. When your gardens and your vineyards, and your fig trees, and your olive trees increased, the creeping locust devoured them; yet you have not returned to Me,” says the LORD.

10. “I have sent the plague among you after the manner of Egypt; I have slain your young men with the sword, and have taken away your horses. And I have made the stench of your camps to come up into your nostrils; yet you have not returned to Me,” says the LORD.

11. “I have overthrown some among you as God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and you were like a firebrand plucked out of the burning; yet you have not returned to Me,” says the LORD.

12. “Therefore I will do this to you, 0 Israel; and because I will do this to you, prepare to meet your God, O Israel!”

13. For lo, He forms the mountains and creates the wind, and declares to man what his thought is. He who makes the morning darkness, and treads upon the high places of the earth—the LORD, the God of hosts, is His name.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. Hear this word which I take up against you, even a lamentation, O house of Israel.

2. The virgin of Israel has fallen; she shall rise no more; she lies forsaken on her land. There is none to raise her up.

3. For thus says the Lord GOD, “The city that went out by a thousand shall leave a hundred, and that which went out by a hundred shall have ten left in the house of Israel.”

4. For thus says the LORD to the house of Israel, “Seek Me, and you shall live.

5. But do not seek Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and do not pass to Beersheba; for Gilgal shall surely go into exile, and Bethel shall come to nothing.

6. Seek the LORD and you shall live, lest He break out like a fire on the house of Joseph and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel—

7. You who turn judgment to wormwood and leave off righteousness in the earth!

8. Seek Him Who created the Pleiades and Orion, and Who turned the deep darkness into the morning, and Him Who darkened the day into night. Seek Him Who calls for the waters of the sea, and pours them out on the face of the earth—the LORD is His name,

9. Who causes destruction to flash out against the strong, and destruction against the fortress.

10. They hate him who rebukes in the gate, and they despise him who speaks uprightly.

11. Therefore—because of your trampling upon the poor, and because you take tribute of grain from him—though you have built houses of carved stone, you shall not dwell in them; though you have planted desirable vineyards, you shall not drink wine from them,

12. For I know your many transgressions and your many sins. They afflict the just, they take a bribe, and they turn
Amos 5 - 7

1. The Lord GOD made me see this: And behold, He is forming locusts at the pruning of the L ORD God of hosts.

2. Pass over to Calneh, and see; and from there go to Hamath the great. Then go down to Gath of the Philistines. Are they better than these kingdoms, or is their border greater than your border?

3. You who put the evil day far away, and cause the seat of violence to come near;

4. Who lie upon beds of ivory, and those sprawling upon their couches, and eating lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall;

5. Who sing idle songs to the sound of the harp; and invent instruments of music for themselves, like David;

6. Who drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the best of oils—but do not grieve for the affliction of Joseph!

7. Therefore now they shall go into exile with the first of the exiles. And the feasting of those who recline themselves shall cease.

8. The Lord GOD has sworn by Himself—thus says the L ORD, the God of hosts, “I despise the glory of Jacob, and hate his palaces; and I will shut up the city and all its fullness.

9. And it shall be if ten men remain in one house, then they shall die.

10. And a dead man’s uncle shall take him up, and he who burns the bodies, to bring the bones out of the house, and shall say to him left in the recesses of the house, “Are any bodies still with you?” And he shall say, “No.” Then he shall say, “Hold your tongue, for no one shall mention the name of the L ORD.”

11. For, behold, the L ORD commands, and He will strike the great house into pieces, and the little house into cracks.

12. Shall horses run upon the rock? Will one plow there with oxen? For you have turned justice into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into hemlock—

13. You who rejoice over nothing, who say, “Have we not taken horns to ourselves by our own strength?”

14. “But behold, I will raise a nation up against you, O house of Israel,” says the L ORD, the God of hosts. “And they shall afflict you from the entrance to Hamath to the river of the Arabah.”

CHAPTER SIX

1. Woe to those at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, who are named chief of the nations. And the house of Israel came to them.
the beginning of the growth of the late grass—even behold, the late grass after the king's mowings.
2. And it came to pass that when they had made an end of eating the tender plant of the land, then I said, "O Lord GOD, forgive, I pray You. How can Jacob stand? For he is small."
3. The Lord GOD repented for this; "It shall not be," says the Lord GOD.
4. The Lord GOD made me see this: And behold, the Lord GOD was calling to contend by fire. And it consumed the great plant of the land; and the need of Israel shall be laid waste, and the holy places of Israel shall be desolate, and the land shall be divided by line. And you shall die in a desolate land; and Israel shall surely go into exile out of his land."

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. The Lord GOD made me see this: And behold, a basket of summer fruit!
2. And He said, "Amos, what do you see?" And I said, "A plumb line."
3. Then the Lord said, "Behold, I will set a plumb line in the midst of My people Israel. I will not again pass by them any more.
4. And the Lord said to me, "Amos, what do you see?" And I said, "A plumb line."
5. Then the Lord said to me, "Amos has plotted against you in the midst of the house of Jacob; the land is not able to bear all his words.
6. For thus Amos says, 'Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely go into exile out of his land.'
7. And Amaziah said to Amos, "O seer, go, flee for yourself into the land of Judah; and eat bread there, and prophesy there.
8. But do not prophesy again any more at Bethel; for it is the king's temple, and it is the king's royal house."
9. Then Amos answered and said to Amaziah, "I was no prophet, nor was I a prophet's son. But I was a shepherd and a gatherer of fruit from sycamore trees.
10. And the Lord took me from behind the flock, and the Lord said to me, 'Go, prophesy to My people Israel.'
11. Now therefore hear the Word of the Lord. You say, 'Do not prophesy against Israel, and do not drop words against the house of Isaac.'
12. Therefore thus says the Lord, 'Your wife shall be a harlot in the city, and your sons and your daughters shall fall by the sword, and your land shall be divided by line. And you shall die in a desolate land; and Israel shall surely go into exile out of his land.'

CHAPTER EIGHT
Lord GOD, “that I will send a famine in the land; not a famine of bread nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD.

12. And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the Word of the LORD, and shall not find it.

13. In that day the beautiful virgins and the young men shall faint for thirst.

14. Those who swear by the sin of Samaria and say, ‘As your God lives, O Dan,’ and, ‘As the way of Beersheba lives’—even they shall fall and never rise up again.”

CHAPTER NINE

1. I saw the LORD standing by the altar. And He said, “Strike the lintel of the door, so that the thresholds shall shake; and break them on the heads of all of them. And I will kill the last of them with the sword. Not one of them fleeing will get away, and not a fugitive of them will escape.

2. If they dig into the grave, there My hand shall take them. And if they go up to the heavens, I will bring them down from there.

3. And if they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out from there. And if they are hidden from My sight in the bottom of the sea, I will command the serpent there, and he shall bite them.

4. And if they go into captivity before their enemies, I will command the sword there, and it shall kill them; and I will set My eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.”

5. And the Lord GOD of hosts is He Who touches the land, and it shall melt, and all who dwell in it shall mourn. And all of it shall rise up like a flood, and sink down like the Nile of Egypt.

6. It is He Who builds His staircase in the heavens, and He has founded the heavens over the earth; He Who calls for the waters of the sea, and pours them out upon the face of the earth; the LORD is His name.

7. “Are you not like the children of the Ethiopians to Me, O children of Israel,” says the LORD? “Have I not brought Israel out of the land of Egypt—and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir?

8. Behold, the eyes of the LORD GOD are on the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from the face of the earth; except that I will not completely destroy the house of Jacob,” says the LORD.

9. “For lo, I will command, and I will shake the house of Israel among all the nations, as one shakes with a sieve, yet not a grain shall fall to the earth.

10. All the sinners of My people shall die by the sword, who say, ‘The evil shall not draw near, or confront us.’

11. In that day I will raise up the tabernacle of David that has fallen, and close up its breaches; and I will raise up its ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old;

12. So that they may possess the remnant of Edom, and of all the nations on whom My name is called,” says the LORD who is doing this.

13. “Behold, the days come,” says the LORD, “that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him who sows seed. And the mountains will drop sweet wine, and all the hills will flow with it.

14. And I will bring back the exiles of My people Israel, and they shall build the cities which are desolate, and they shall live in them. And they shall plant vineyards and drink their wine. They shall also make gardens and eat their fruit.

15. And I will plant them in their land, and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them,” says the LORD your God.
1. The vision of Obadiah. Thus says the Lord God concerning Edom—for we have heard a message from the Lord, and a messenger is sent among the nations saying, “Rise up, even let us rise up against her for battle.”
2. “Behold, I have given you to be small among the nations; you are greatly despised.
3. The pride of your heart has deceived you—you who dwell in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is up high, who says in his heart, ‘Who shall bring me down to the ground?’
4. Though you rise high like the eagle, and though you set your nest among the stars, I will bring you down from there,” says the Lord.
5. “If thieves came to you, if robbers by night (how you have been cut off!), would they not have stolen until they had enough? If the grape-gatherers came to you, would they not leave gleanings?
6. How are the things of Esau searched out! His hidden things are sought out!
7. All the men of your confederacy went with you only to the border; the men who were at peace with you have deceived you, and have defeated you. They are setting your bread as a snare under you; there is no understanding in them.
8. Shall I not in that day even destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understand ing out of the mount of Esau,” says the Lord?
9. “And your mighty ones, O Teman, shall be afraid, so that each man from the mount of Esau may be cut off by slaughter.
10. Shame shall cover you for the violence against your brother Jacob, and you shall be cut off forever.
11. On the day of your standing on the other side, on the day that the strangers were capturing his force, and foreigners entered his gates and cast lots for Jerusalem, even you were like one of them.
12. But you should not have looked on the day of your brother in the day of his disaster; nor should you have rejoiced over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction; nor should you have spoken arrogantly in the day of distress.
13. You should not have entered into the gate of My people in the day of their calamity; also, you should not have looked on their affliction in the day of their calamity. Nor should you have laid hands on their treasure in the day of their calamity.
14. Nor should you have stood on the crossroads to cut off those of his who escaped; nor should you have delivered up his survivors in the day of distress.
15. For the day of the Lord is near on all the nations; as you have done, it shall be done to you. Your reward shall return upon your own head.
16. For as you have drunk upon My holy mountain, so all the nations shall drink forever. Yes, they shall drink, and they shall swallow, and they shall be as though they had not existed.
17. But upon Mount Zion shall be deliverance; and there shall be holiness. And the house of Jacob shall possess their own possessions.
18. And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame. And the house of Esau shall be for stub ble. And they shall kindle in them and burn them up. And no survivor shall be of the house of Esau;” for the Lord has spoken it.
19. And those of the south shall possess the mountain of Esau and the low country of the Philistines. And they shall possess the fields of Ephraim and the fields of Samaria; and Benjamin shall possess Gilead.
20. And the exiles of this army shall go to the children of Israel who shall possess the land of the Canaanites to Zare phath; even the exiles of Jerusalem who are in Sepharad shall possess the cities of the south.
21. And deliverers shall go up into the mountain of Zion to judge the mountain of Esau; and the kingdom shall be the Lord’s.
The Prophet
Jonah

CHAPTER ONE

1. And the Word of the LORD came to Jonah the son of Amittai, saying,
2. “Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry against it; for their wickedness has come up before Me.”
3. But Jonah rose up to flee to Tarshish from the presence of the LORD. And he got down to Joppa. And he found a ship going to Tarshish. And he paid its fare, and went down into it, in order to go with them to Tarshish, away from the presence of the LORD.
4. But the LORD hurled a great wind upon the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship threatened to break up.
5. Then the seamen were afraid, and each man cried to his god. And they threw out the wares that were in the ship, into the sea in order to lighten it. But Jonah had gone down into the hold of the ship; and he lay there, and was fast asleep.
6. So the chief of the seaman came to him and said to him, “Why are you sleeping, O sound sleeper? Arise, call upon your God! It may be that your God will notice us, and we will not perish.”
7. And they said, “Come and let us cast lots, so that we may know who has caused this evil to come upon us.” And they cast lots, and the lot fell on Jonah.
8. Then they said to him, “Please tell us, for what reason this evil has come upon us. What is your business? And where do you come from? Where are you?
And of what people are you?”
9. And he said to them, “I am a Hebrew; and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, Who has made the sea and the dry land.”
10. Then the men were afraid with a great fear. And they said to him, “What is this you have done?” For the men knew that he was fleeing from the prestence of the LORD because he had told them.
11. Then they said to him, “What shall we do to you, that the sea may be calm to us?” For the sea was raging and growing more tempestuous.
12. And he said to them, “Pick me up and throw me out into the sea. And the sea shall be calm to you; for I know that this great storm has come on you for my sake.”
13. But the men rowed hard to bring it to the land; but they could not, for the sea grew more tempestuous against them.
14. And they cried to the LORD and said,
“We beg You, O LORD, we beg You, let us not perish for this man’s life, and do not lay upon us innocent blood, for You,
O LORD, have done as it pleased You.”
15. And they lifted Jonah up and threw him out into the sea; and the sea ceased from its raging.
16. Then the men feared the LORD excessingly, and offered a sacrifice to the LORD, and vowed vows.
17. And the LORD had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah. And Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

CHAPTER TWO

1. And Jonah prayed to the LORD his God out of the fish’s belly,
2. And he said, “I cried to the LORD by reason of mine affliction. And He answered me. Out of the belly of the unseen I cried for help, and You heard my voice,
3. For You cast me into the depths of the seas, and the current surrounded me. All Your billows and Your waves passed over me.
4. Then I said, ‘I am cast off from Your eyes, yet I will look again toward Your holy temple.’
5. The waters encompassed me, even to the soul; the depth closed around me; the seaweed was wrapped about my head.
6. I went down to the bottoms of the mountains; the earth with her bars closed around me forever; yet You have brought up my life from the ruin, O LORD my God.
7. When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD; and my prayer came to You, into Your holy temple.
8. They who take heed to lying vanities forsake their own mercy;
9. But I will sacrifice to You with the voice of thanksgiving; I will fulfill that which I have vowed. Salvation belongs to the LORD!”

10. And the LORD spoke to the fish, and it vomited Jonah out on the dry land.

CHAPTER THREE

1. And the Word of the LORD came to Jonah the second time, saying,
2. “Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry out to it the proclamation that I am declaring to you.”
3. And Jonah arose and went to Nineveh, according to the Word of the LORD. And Nineveh was a very great city of three days’ journey across.
4. And Jonah began to enter into the city a day’s journey, and he cried and said, “Yet forty days and Nineveh shall be overthrown!”
5. And the people of Nineveh believed God. And they proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them,
6. For word came to the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne. And he laid aside his robe from him, and covered himself with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.
7. And he caused it to be proclaimed and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his great ones, saying, “Do not let man or beast, herd or flock taste anything; do not let them feed, nor drink water.
8. But let man and animal be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily to God. And let them each one turn from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.
9. Who knows? God may repent, and He may have pity and turn away from His fierce anger, so that we do not perish.”
10. And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way. And God repented of the evil that He had said He would do to them, and He did not do it.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. But Jonah was exceedingly displeased, and it kindled anger in him.
2. And he prayed to the LORD and said, “Please, O LORD, was this not my saying when I was still in my land? Therefore on account of this I fled to Tarshish, for I knew that You are a gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and One Who repents of the evil.
3. And now, O LORD, I beseech You, take my life from me, for better is my death than my life.”
4. And the LORD said, “Is your anger rightly kindled in you?”
5. And Jonah went out of the city and sat on the east of the city. And he made himself a booth there and sat under it in the shade, until he might see what would happen to the city.
6. And the LORD God prepared a plant, and it grew up over Jonah, to be shade over his head, in order to deliver him from his misery. So Jonah rejoiced with great joy over the plant.
7. But God also prepared a worm as the morning dawned the next day. And it attacked the plant, and it withered.
8. And it came to pass when the sun rose, God ordained a scorching east wind. And the sun beat on the head of Jonah, so that he fainted. And he asked for his life to die. And he said, “Better is my death than my life.”
9. And God said to Jonah, “Is it right for your anger to be kindled over the plant?” And he said, “My anger is rightly kindled, even to death.”
10. And the LORD said, “You have had pity on the plant, for which you had not labored, nor made it grow, which came up overnight, and also perished in a night.
11. And should I not spare Nineveh, that great city, in which are more than a hundred and twenty thousand men who do not know between their right and their left hand, besides much livestock?”
CHAPTER ONE

1. The Word of the LORD that came to Micah the Morasthite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

2. Hear, all you people! Hearken, O earth, and all its fullness. And let the Lord God be witness against you, even the Lord from His holy temple,

3. For behold, the LORD is coming out of His place, and will come down and tread on the high places of the earth.

4. And the mountains shall melt under Him, and the valleys shall split open, as wax before the fire, and as waters that are poured down a steep place.

5. All this is for the transgression of Jacob, and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? Is it not Samaria? And what are the high places of Judah? Are they not Jerusalem?

6. “And I will make Samaria as a heap of ruins in the field, and as planting places for a vineyard; and I will hurl down her stones into the valley, and I will uncover her foundations.

7. And all her graven images shall be smashed to pieces, and all her gifts shall be burned with the fire, and I will destroy all her idols, for she gathered them as the hire of a harlot, and they shall return as the hire of a harlot.”

8. Therefore I will wail and howl; I will go stripped and naked; I will make a wailing like jackals, and mourn like the ostrich,

9. For her wounds are not curable; for it has come to Judah; it has reached to the gate of My people, even to Jerusalem.

10. Do not declare it in Gath; weep not at all; in the house of Leaphrah roll yourself in the dust.

11. Pass over to them, O inhabitant of Shaphir, in the nakedness of your shame. The inhabitant of Zaanan has not gone out; the mourning of Beth Ezel shall take from you its protection, 12. For the inhabitant of Maroth waited carefully for good, but instead evil came down from the LORD to the gate of Jerusalem.

13. O inhabitant of Lachish, bind the chariot to the stallion—she was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion—for the transgressions of Israel were found in you.

14. Therefore you shall give parting gifts to Moresheth Gath; the houses of Achzib are for a lying thing to the kings of Israel.

15. Yet I will bring an heir to you, O inhabitant of Mareshah. The glory of Israel shall come to Adullam.

16. Make your baldness large like the eagle; for they go into exile from you.

CHAPTER TWO

1. Woe to those who plot wickedness and prepare evil on their beds! When the morning is light they practice it because it is in the power of their hand.

2. And they covet and seize fields, and houses, and take them away. And they oppress a man and his household, even a man and his inheritance.

3. Therefore thus says the LORD, “Behold, against this family I am plotting an evil from which you shall not remove your necks; nor shall you go proudly, for it is an evil time.

4. In that day one shall take up a parable against you and mourn a bitter lamentation, saying, ‘We shall be completely laid waste. He has exchanged the portion of my people. How He has removed it from me! To the apostate He has divided our fields.’ ”

5. Therefore there shall not be for you anyone casting a line by lot in the congregation of the LORD.

6. “Do not prophesy,” they say to those who prophesy. They say, “Do not prophesy about these things, for we shall not be made ashamed.”

7. O you that are named the house of Jacob, “Is the Spirit of the LORD limited, are these His doings? Do not My words do good to him who walks uprightly?

8. Even recently, My people have risen up like an enemy; you strip off a cloak along with an outer robe from those who trustingly pass by you, as those returning from war.
9. You have thrown the women of My people out from their pleasant houses; from their young children you have taken away My majesty forever.
10. Arise and depart! For this is not your rest because it is polluted, it shall destroy you, even with a grievous destruction.

11. If a man, walking in lying spirit and deceit, says, “I will prophesy unto you of wine and of strong drink,” he shall even be the prophet for this people.
12. I will surely gather all of you, O Jacob; I will surely gather the remnant of Israel. I will put them together like the sheep of Bozrah, like the flock in the midst of their fold. They shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men.
13. The one breaking through has come up before them; they have broken up, and have passed through the gate, and have gone out of it. And their king shall pass before them, and the LORD at the head of them.”

CHAPTER THREE

1. And I said, “Hear, I pray you, O heads of Jacob and magistrates of the house of Israel. Is it not for you to know justice?
2. You who hate the good and love the evil; who tear the skin off My people and strip the flesh from their bones;
3. Who also eat the flesh of My people, and tear their skin off them—and break their bones and chop them into pieces, like meat for the pot, and like flesh for the caldron.”
4. Then they shall cry to the LORD, but He will not answer them. He will even hide His face from them at that time, as they have done evil in their doings.
5. Thus says the LORD concerning the prophets who mislead the people, who bite with their teeth and cry, “Peace!”—and even prepare war against those who do not put something in their mouths;
6. “Therefore night shall be to you without a vision; and darkness and not divination. And the sun shall go down over the prophets, and the day shall be darkness over them.
7. And the seers shall be ashamed, and the diviners confounded; yea, they shall all cover their mouths, for there is no answer from God.”
8. But truly I am full of power by the Spirit of the LORD, and of judgment, and of might, to declare to Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin.
9. Hear this, I pray you, you heads of the house of Jacob, and magistrates of the house of Israel, who hate judgment and pervert all equity.
10. They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.
11. Her heads judge for a bribe, and her priests teach for pay, and her prophets divine for silver, yet they will lean on the LORD and say, “Is not the LORD among us? No evil can come on us!”
12. Therefore, on account of you, Zion shall be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the temple as high places of the forest.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. But it shall be in the last days that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow unto it.
2. And many nations shall come and say, “Come and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob. And He will teach us of His ways, and we will walk in His paths”—for the law shall go forth out of Zion, and the Word of the LORD from Jerusalem.
3. And He shall judge among many people, and will rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks. Nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore.
4. But they shall sit each one under his own vine and under his own fig tree; and no one shall make them afraid; for the mouth of the LORD of hosts has spoken,
5. For all people will walk, each one in the name of his god; and we will walk in the name of the LORD our God forever and ever.
6. “In that day,” says the LORD, “I will gather the lame, and I will gather the exiled ones, and those that I have afflicted.
7. And I will make the lame into a remnant, and she who was cast off into a mighty nation; and the LORD shall reign over them in Mount Zion from henceforth, even forever.
8. And you, O tower of the flock, the stronghold of the daughter of Zion, unto you it shall come, even the dominion of your former kingdom shall return to the daughter of Jerusalem.”

10. Be in pain and deliver, daughter of Zion, like a woman giving birth, for now you shall go out from the city, and you shall dwell in the field; and you shall go to Babylon. There you shall be delivered; there the LORD shall redeem you from the hand of your enemies.

11. Now also many nations are gathered against you, who say, “Let her be defiled, and let our eyes look upon Zion.”

12. But they do not know the thoughts of the LORD, nor do they understand His counsel, for He has gathered them like the sheaves to the threshing floor.

13. “Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion; for I will make your horn iron, and I will make your hoofs bronze; and you shall crush in pieces many people. And I will consecrate their gain to the LORD, and their wealth to the Lord of the whole earth.”

CHAPTER FIVE

1. Now gather yourself in troops, daughter of troops; one has laid a siege against us; they shall strike the judge of Israel with a rod on the cheek.

2. “And you, Bethlehem Ephratah, you being least among the thousands of Judah, out of you He shall come forth to Me, that is to become Ruler in Israel. He Whose goings forth have been from of old, from the days of eternity.”

3. Therefore He will give them over until the time that she who is in travail has given birth; then the rest of His brethren shall return to the children of Israel.

4. And He shall stand and feed in the majesty of the name of the LORD His God. And they shall live, for now He shall be great to the ends of the earth.

5. And this One shall be our peace. When the Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall walk in our palaces, then we shall raise against him seven shepherds and eight anointed ones from among men.

6. And they shall waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod at her own entrances. And thus He shall deliver us from Assyria when he comes into our land, and when he treads within our border.

7. And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many people, as dew from the LORD, as showers on grass, which does not wait for man, nor wait for the sons of men.

8. And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, in the midst of many people, like a lion among the beasts of the forest, like a young lion among the flocks of sheep, who, if he goes through, both tramples and tears in pieces, and none can deliver.

9. Your hand shall be high above your adversaries, and all your enemies shall be cut off.

10. “And it shall be in that day,” says the LORD, “I will cut off your horses out of your midst, and I will destroy your chariots. And I will cut off the cities of your land, and throw down all your strongholds.

11. And I will cut off witchcrafts out of your hand, and there shall not be fortune-tellers among you.

12. I will also cut off your graven images, and your sacred pillars out of the midst of you; and you shall never again worship the work of your hands.

13. I will pluck your groves out of the midst of you; thus I will destroy your cities.

14. And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the heathen, such as they have never heard.”

CHAPTER SIX

1. Hear now what the LORD says, “Arise, contend with the mountains and let the hills hear your voice.

2. O mountains, hear the LORD’S controversy; and you, strong foundations of the earth, for the LORD has a controversy with His people, and He will plead His case with Israel.

3. O My people, what have I done to you? And in what way have I made you weary? Testify against Me!

4. For I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed you out of the house of slaves; and I sent Moses, Aaron, and Miriam before you.
5. O My people, remember now what Balak king of Moab planned, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him from Shittim to Gilgal, so that you may know the righteousness of the LORD.”

6. With what shall I come before the LORD, to bow myself before God the Most High? Shall I come before Him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old?

7. Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, with ten thousands of rivers of oil? Shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my life?

8. He has shown you, O man, what is good. And what does the LORD require of you but to do justice and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God?

9. Hearken! The LORD cries unto the city, and it is wisdom to have regard for Your name. “Hear the rod and Him who has appointed it.

10. Are there yet treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure that is abominable?

11. Shall I count pure those with wicked measure that is abominable?

12. For her rich men are full of violence, and her inhabitants have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

13. Therefore I also have made you sick by striking you, making you desolate because of your sins.

14. You shall eat, but not be satisfied; and your hunger shall be in your midst. And you shall conceive, but shall not deliver; and that which you deliver I will give up to the sword.

15. You shall sow, but you shall not reap; you shall tread the olives, but you shall not anoint yourself with oil; and make sweet wine, but shall not drink wine.

16. For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of Ahab, and you walk in their counsels, so that I should make you a desolation and your inhabitants a hissing; therefore shall you bear the reproach of My people.”

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. Woe is me! For I am like the gatherings of summer fruits, like the grape gleanings of the vintage. There is no cluster to eat; but my soul desires the first-ripe fruit.

2. The good man has perished from the earth, and there is none upright among men, for they all lie in wait for blood; each one hunts his brother with a net.

3. They use both hands diligently to do evil. The ruler asks for a bribe, and the judge for a reward; and the great man speaks the evil desire of his soul. Thus they weave it together.

4. The best of them is like a briar; the most upright is sharper than a hedge of thorns. The day of your watchmen and your punishment comes; now they shall be confused.

5. Put no trust in a friend; put no hope in a guide; keep the door of your mouth from her who lies in your bosom.

6. For the son dishonors the father; the daughter rises up against her mother, the daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law. A man’s enemies are the men of his own household.

7. Therefore I will look to the LORD; I will wait for the God of my salvation. My God will hear me!

8. Rejoice not against me, O my enemy; for if I fall, I shall arise; for if I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light to me.

9. I will bear the indignation of the LORD because I have sinned against Him, until He pleads my cause and executes judgment for me. He will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold His righteousness.

10. Then my enemy shall see it; and shame shall cover her who said to me, “Where is the LORD your God?” My eyes shall behold her; now she shall be trampled like the mud of the streets.

11. In the day that your walls are to be built, in that day the decree shall go far and wide.

12. In that day people shall come even to you from Assyria, and from the fortified cities, and from the fortress even to the river, and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.

13. But the land shall be wasted because of those who dwell in it, for the fruit of their doings.

14. Feed your people with your rod, the flock of your inheritance, who dwell alone in the woods, in the midst of Carmel; let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old.
Micah 7
15. “According to the days of your coming out of the land of Egypt I will show to them marvelous things.”
16. The nations shall see and be ashamed at all their might; they shall lay their hand on their mouths; their ears shall be deaf.
17. They shall lick the dust like a snake; they shall move out of their holes like worms of the earth. They shall be afraid of the LORD our God, and shall fear because of You.
18. Who is a God like You, Who pardons iniquity and passes over the transgression of the remnant of His heritage? He does not keep His anger forever because He delights in mercy.
19. He will turn again; He will have compassion upon us. He will subdue our iniquities. Yea, You will cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.
20. You will perform the truth to Jacob, and mercy to Abraham, which You have sworn to our fathers from the days of old.

The Prophet
Nahum

CHAPTER ONE
1. The burden against Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.
2. God is jealous, and an avenging LORD; the LORD is avenging and full of wrath. The LORD takes vengeance against His foes, and He keeps wrath against His enemies.
3. The LORD is slow to anger, and great in power. And He does not by any means acquit the wicked. The LORD has His way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of His feet.
4. He rebukes the sea and makes it dry, and dries up all the rivers; Bashan languishes and Carmel and the flower of Lebanon withers.
5. The mountains quake from Him, and the hills melt, and the earth is decimated at His presence, yea the world and all who dwell in it.
6. Who can stand before His fury? And who can stand up in the fierceness of His anger? His fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are broken asunder because of Him.
7. The LORD is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; and He knows those who trust in Him.
8. But with an overflowing flood He will make an utter end, and darkness shall pursue His enemies.
9. What do you imagine against the LORD? He will make an utter end of it; affliction shall not rise up the second time.
10. For as thorns are woven together, and as their drunkards are drunken, they shall be devoured like fully dry stubble.
11. One who devises evil against the LORD has come forth from you, a wicked counselor.
12. Thus says the LORD, “Though they be secure and likewise many, yet they shall be cut down, then he shall pass away. And though I have afflicted you, I will afflict you no more,
13. For now I will break his yoke off you, and will burst your bonds asunder.”
14. And the LORD has commanded concerning you, “Your name shall not be perpetuated any more; I will cut off the graven image and the molten image out of the house of your gods. I will make your grave; for you are worthless.”
15. Behold upon the mountains the feet of him who brings good news, who publishes peace! O Judah, keep your appointed feasts, fulfill your vows; for the wicked shall pass through you no more; he is completely cut off.

CHAPTER TWO
1. The destroying one has come up against you. Guard the rampart. Watch the way, make your loins strong, fortify your power mightily,

10. For as thorns are woven together, and as their drunkards are drunken, they shall be devoured like fully dry stubble.
11. One who devises evil against the LORD has come forth from you, a wicked counselor.
12. Thus says the LORD, “Though they be secure and likewise many, yet they shall be cut down, then he shall pass away. And though I have afflicted you, I will afflict you no more,
13. For now I will break his yoke off you, and will burst your bonds asunder.”
14. And the LORD has commanded concerning you, “Your name shall not be perpetuated any more; I will cut off the graven image and the molten image out of the house of your gods. I will make your grave; for you are worthless.”
15. Behold upon the mountains the feet of him who brings good news, who publishes peace! O Judah, keep your appointed feasts, fulfill your vows; for the wicked shall pass through you no more; he is completely cut off.
plunderers have plundered them, and have ravaged their vine branches.

3. The shields of his mighty ones are dyed red; the mighty men are in scarlet; the chariots flame like iron torches in the day of battle preparation. And the cypress spears are made to quiver.

4. The chariots race madly in the streets; they jostle against each other in the open squares. Their appearance is like torches; they run to and fro like lightning.

5. He shall remember his nobles; they shall stumble in their walking; they shall make haste to its wall, and the defense shall be prepared.

6. The gates of the rivers shall be opened, and the palace shall be helpless.

7. And the queen is uncovered and she is carried away. And her slave women are plundered, and the plunderers have plundered them, and have ravaged their vine branches.

8. But Nineveh from old is like a pool of water; yet they shall flee away. “Stand, Stand!” they shall cry, but none looks back.

9. Seize the silver; seize the gold; for there is no end to the treasures; rich with all precious vessels.

10. She is empty and void and waste; and the heart melts, and the knees tremble, and much pain is in all the loins; and all their faces gather blackness.

11. Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion and the lioness walked, and the lion’s cub, and no one made them afraid?

12. The lion tears in pieces enough for his cubs, and strangles for his lionesses, and fills his caves with prey, and his dens with torn flesh.

13. “Behold, I am against you,” says the LORD of hosts, “and I will consume her treasures; rich with all precious vessels.

14. Draw waters for the siege; fortify your strongholds; go into the clay, and make the brick mold strong.

15. There fire shall devour you; the sword shall cut you off; it shall eat you up like the locust. Make yourself as many as the larvae, multiply yourself like the locusts.

16. You have multiplied your merchants above the stars of heaven; the locust

CHAPTER THREE

1. Woe to the bloody city! It is steeped in lies, and full of plunder; the victim never departs.

2. The sound of a whip, and the noise of the rattling of a wheel, and of a galloping horse, and of a bounding chariot.

3. The horseman lifts up both the bright sword and the glittering spear. And many are slain, and there are masses of dead bodies, and no end of corpses; they stumble over the dead bodies.

4. Because of the multitude of the whores of the well-favored harlot, the mistress of witchcrafts who sells nations by her whoredoms, and families by her witchcrafts.

5. “Behold, I am against you,” says the LORD of hosts; “and I will lift your skirts over your face. And I will cause the nations to see your nakedness, and the kingdoms your shame.

6. And I will cast abominable filth upon you, and will make you vile, and will set you as a gazing stock.

7. And it shall be that all those who look upon you shall flee from you, and say, ‘Nineveh is laid waste; who will weep for her?’ From where shall I seek comforters for you?”

8. Are you better than No Amon, that dwelt among the Nile branches, that had waters all around her, whose rampart was the sea, the waters her wall?

9. Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, yea, without end. Put and Lubim were among your helpers.

10. Yet she went into exile; she went into captivity, and her young children also were dashed to pieces at the head of all the streets; and they cast lots for her honorables, and all her great men were bound in chains.

11. You also shall be drunken; you shall be hidden, you also shall seek protection from the enemy.

12. All your strongholds shall be like fig trees with the first fruits; if they are shaken, they shall even fall into the mouth of the eater.

13. Behold, your people in your midst are women. The gates of your land shall surely be opened to your enemies; the fire shall devour your bars.

14. Draw waters for the siege; fortify your strongholds; go into the clay, and tread the mortar; make the brick mold strong.

15. There fire shall devour you; the sword shall cut you off, it shall eat you up like the locust. Make yourself as many as the larvae, multiply yourself like the locusts.

16. You have multiplied your merchants above the stars of heaven; the locust larvae shall strip and fly away.
Nahum 3
17. Your rulers are like the locusts, and your officials are a swarm of locusts that camp in the hedges in the cold day; the sun rises, and they flee, and the place where they are is not known.
18. Your shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria. Your nobles are at rest in the dust; your people are scattered upon the mountains, and no one is gathering them.
19. There is no healing of your bruise; your wound is grievous; all who hear the news of you shall clap their hands over you; for upon whom has your wickedness not passed continually?

The Prophet
Habakkuk

CHAPTER ONE
1. The burden which Habakkuk the prophet saw.
2. O LORD, how long shall I cry and You will not hear? I cry out to You of violence, and You do not save!
3. Why do You show me wickedness, and trouble? For destruction and violence are before me; and there is strife, and contention rises up.
4. Therefore the law has become ineffective, and judgment does not always go forth, for the wicked entraps the righteous; therefore judgment goes forth perverted.
5. “Look among the nations, and behold and be amazed and stunned; for I will work a work in your days which you will not believe, not even if it is declared to you,
6. For lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, which shall march through the breadth of the land to possess dwelling places that are not their own.
7. They are terrible and fearful; their law and their majesty proceed from themselves.
8. Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves. And their horsemen shall spread themselves, and their horsemen shall come from afar. They shall fly like the vulture hurrying to devour.
9. “All of them shall come for violence; their faces are set sternly as the east wind;★ and they gather captives like the sand.
10. And they shall scoff at the kings, and the rulers shall be a scorn to them. They shall laugh at every stronghold, for they shall heap up dust and capture it.
11. Then he sweeps on like wind, and he transgresses and is guilty, crediting his power to his god.”
12. Are You not from everlasting, O LORD my God, my Holy One? We shall not die. O LORD, You have ordained them for judgment; and, my Rock, You have established them for correction.
13. You are of purer eyes than to behold evil, and cannot look upon iniquity. Why do You look upon those who deal treacherously? Will You be silent when the wicked swallows the man that is more righteous than he?
14. For You make man like the fish of the sea, like creeping things with no ruler over them.
15. He takes up all of them with the hook; he catches him with his net and gathers him with his dragnet; therefore he rejoices and exults.
16. Therefore he sacrifices to his net and burns incense to his dragnet; because by them his portion is fat and his food rich.
17. Shall he therefore empty his net, and shall he slay nations without pity?

CHAPTER TWO
1. I will stand on my watch and set myself on the tower, and will watch to see what He will say to me, and what I shall answer when I am reproved.
2. And the LORD answered me and said,  “Write the vision, and make it plain on the tablets, so that a man may read it swiftly,
3. For the vision is still for an appointed time, but it shall speak at the end, and it does not lie. Though it lingers, wait for it; because it will surely come. It will not delay.
4. Behold, his soul is puffed up, and is not upright; but the just shall live by his faith.
5. Yea also, because he transgresses by wine, he is a proud man and he is not content. He widens his desire like the grave, and he is like death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathers all nations to himself, and heaps to himself all the people.
6. Shall not all these lift up a parable against him, and a mocking riddle against him, and say, ‘Woe to him who increases what is not his! How long then, shall he heap up many pledges upon himself?'
7. Shall not your creditors who strike you rise up suddenly, and those who oppress you awake, and you become a prize to them?
8. Because you have stripped many nations, all the rest of the people shall strip you; because of men’s blood, and the violence of the land, of the city, and of all who dwell in it.
9. Woe to him who robs evil gain for his house, to set his nest on high, to be delivered from the power of evil!
10. You have devised ignominy to your house, to make an end of many people, and are sinning against your soul, 11. For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.
12. Woe to him who builds a town with blood, and establishes a city by iniquity!
13. Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts that the people labor for the fire; yea, and the nations weary themselves only for vanity?
14. For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.
15. Woe to him who gives his neighbor drink, mixing in your venom to make him drunk, that you may gaze upon their nakedness!
16. You are filled with shame instead of glory; drink also, and be seen as one uncircumcised! The cup of the LORD’s right hand shall turn upon you, and disgrace shall be your glory,
17. For the violence of Lebanon shall cover you, and the destruction of beasts shall terrify them because of the blood of man, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all those dwelling in it.
18. What does an image profit, for its maker has carved it; a molten image, and a teacher of lies? For does the maker trust in his work—which are but dumb idols?
19. Woe to him who says to the wood, ‘Awake!’ To a dumb stone, ‘Arise!’ Can it teach? Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver, yet no breath is in its midst.
20. But the LORD is in His holy temple;
let all the earth keep silence before Him.”

CHAPTER THREE

1. A prayer of Habakkuk the prophet concerning erring ones:
2. O LORD, I have heard the report about
You; I am afraid. O LORD, give new life to Your work in the midst of years; in the midst of the years make it known; in wrath remember compassion.
3. God comes from Teman, and the Holy
One from Mount Paran. Selah. His glory covers the heavens, and His praise fills the earth.
4. And His brightness is as the light; rays of power from His hand are His, and there is the hiding of His power.
5. A plague went before Him, and lightning went forth at His feet.
6. He stood and measured the earth; He looked and shook nations, and the everlasting mountains were shattered; the eternal hills bowed down. His ways are everlasting.
7. I saw the tents of Cushan under calamity; the curtains of the land of Midian trembled.
8. Was the L ORD displeased against rivers? Or was Your anger against the rivers? Or Your wrath against the sea, that You ride upon Your horses, upon Your chariots of victory?
9. You brandish Your naked bow according to the oaths of the arrows of Your word. Selah. You have cleaved the earth with rivers.
10. The mountains have seen You and they tremble. The overflowing water passed over; the deep uttered its voice and lifted up its hands on high.
11. The sun and moon stood still in their lofty dwellings. At the light of Your arrows they go, and at the shining of Your glittering spear.
12. You march through the land in indignation; You thresh nations in anger.
13. You went forth for the salvation of Your people, for salvation with Your anointed. You struck the head out of the house of the wicked, to lay bare the foundation even to the neck. Selah.
14. You pierced through the head of his warriors with his own shafts; they storm out as a whirlwind to scatter me; their rejoicing is to devour the meek secretly.
15. You trod upon the sea with Your horses, through the foaming of mighty waters.
16. I heard and my inward parts trembled; my lips quivered at the sound. Rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in myself that I should wait for the day of trouble; when he comes up against the people, that he invades.
17. Though the fig tree shall not blossom, and fruit shall not be on the vines; the labor of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no food. The flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls;
18. Yet I will rejoice in the L ORD, I will joy in the God of my salvation.
19. The L ORD God is my strength, and He will make my feet like deer’s feet, and He will make me to walk upon my high places. To the chief singer on my stringed instruments.

The Prophet
Zephaniah

CHAPTER ONE

1. The Word of the L ORD which came to Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hizkiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.
2. “I will utterly consume all things from the face of the earth,” says the L ORD.
3. “I will consume man and beast; I will consume the birds of the heavens, and the fish of the sea, and the stumbling blocks, with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the face of the earth,” says the L ORD.
4. “I will also stretch out My hand upon Judah and upon all the people of Jerusalem. And I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, the name of the idolatrous priests, with the priests,
5. And those worshiping the host of heaven upon the house tops, and those worshiping, swearing to the L ORD, also swearing by Milcom;
6. And those who have turned away from the L ORD, and who have not sought the L ORD, nor asked of Him.”
7. Be silent before the face of the L ORD GOD, for the day of the L ORD is at hand, for the L ORD has appointed a sacrifice; He has consecrated His guests.
8. “And it shall be in the day of the L ORD’S sacrifice, I will punish the rulers, and the king’s children, and all who are clothed in strange garments.
9. And in that day I will punish all those who leap over the threshold, who fill their masters’ houses with violence and deceit.
10. And it shall be in that day,” says the L ORD, “the sound of a cry from the Fish Gate, and a howling from the Second Quarter, and a great crashing from the hills.
11. Howl, people of Maktesh, for all the merchant people are cut down; all those who are laden with silver are cut off.
12. And it shall be in that time that I will search Jerusalem with lamps, and punish the men who are settled on their lees; who say in their heart, ‘The L ORD will not do good, nor will He do evil.’
13. And their goods shall become a prize and their houses a desolation. They shall also build houses, but not live in them, and they shall plant vineyards, but not drink their wine.”
14. The great day of the L ORD is near; it is near and comes swiftly, the sound of the day of the L ORD. The mighty man shall cry bitterly there.
15. That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of ruin and devastation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness,
16. A day of the ram’s horn and alarm against the fortified cities, and against the high towers.
17. “And I will bring distress on men, so that they shall walk as the blind because they have sinned against the LORD. And their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh as dung.”

CHAPTER TWO

1. Gather yourselves together, yea, gather together, O nation not desired—
2. Before the decree is brought forth, and the day passes like the chaff; before the fierce anger of the LORD comes upon you, before the day of the LORD’s anger comes upon you.
3. Seek the LORD, all you meek of the earth who have executed His judgment; seek righteousness; seek meekness. It may be that you shall be hidden in the day of the LORD’s anger,
4. For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation. They shall drive out Ashdod at noonday, and Ekron shall be rooted up.
5. Woe to the inhabitants of the sea coast, the nation of the Cherethites! The Word of the LORD is against you, Canaan, the land of the Philistines: “I will destroy you, so that no inhabitant survives.”
6. And the sea coast will be pastures, meadows of shepherds, and folds for flocks.
7. And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah; they shall feed on them. In the houses of Ashkelon they shall lie down in the evening, for the LORD their God shall visit them and return them from their exile.
8. “I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the curses of the children of Ammon, with which they have cursed against My people and have magnified themselves against their border.
9. Therefore, as I live,” says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “surely Moab shall be like Sodom, and the children of Ammon like Gomorrah; a possession of nettles, and salt pits, and a perpetual desolation. The remnant of My people shall plunder them, and the remnant of My people shall possess them.”
10. This shall be their lot in return for their pride because they have cursed and magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of hosts.
11. The LORD will be awesome against them; for He will make all the gods of the earth as nothing; then shall all the isles of the nations worship Him, each man from his own place.
12. “You Ethiopians also shall be slain by My sword.”
13. And He will stretch out His hand against the north and destroy Assyria, and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like a wilderness.
14. And flocks shall lie down in her midst, all the beasts of the nation; both the pelican and the bittern shall roost in the windows, desolation shall be at the threshold, for He will make bare the cedar wood.
15. This is the rejoicing city, dwelling confidently, who says in her heart, “I am, and there is none besides me.” How she has become a desolation, a resting place for animals! Everyone who passes by her shall hiss, and shall shake his fist.

CHAPTER THREE

1. Woe to her who is rebellious and defiled—to the tyrannical city!
2. She did not obey the voice; she did not receive correction. She did not trust in the LORD; she did not trust in My people, when they taught her to do good, when they warned her to do right.
3. Her priests within her are roaring lions; her judges evening wolves. They gnaw bones and leave nothing for the morning.
4. Her prophets are proud, men of deceit; her priests have defiled the sanctuary; they have done violence to the law.
5. The just LORD is in her midst; He will not act unrighteously. Every morning He brings His judgment to the light; He fails not; but the unrighteous knows no shame.
6. “I have cut off the nations; their towers are desolate. I made their streets waste, so that none passes by; their cities are laid waste, without a man, there is no inhabitant.

7. I said, ‘Surely you will fear Me; you will receive instruction’; then her dwelling shall not be cut off by all that I appointed for her. But they were more eager to do all their corrupt deeds.

8. Therefore wait for Me,” says the LORD, “until the day I arise as a witness; for My judgment is to gather the nations, for Me to assemble the kingdoms, to pour out upon them My indignation, all My hot anger, for all the earth shall be burned up with the fire of My jealous wrath;

9. For then I will give a pure language to the people, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve Him with one accord.

10. From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia, My worshipers, the daughter of My scattered ones, shall bring My offering.

11. In that day you shall not be ashamed for all your doings in which you have transgressed against Me; for then I will take away out of your midst those who rejoice in pride, and you shall never again be haughty in My holy mountain.

12. I will also leave in your midst an afflicted and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of the LORD.

13. The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity nor speak lies, and a deceitful tongue shall not be found in their mouth; for they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid.”

14. Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all your heart, O daughter of Jerusalem.

15. The LORD has turned away your judgments; He has cast out your enemy. The King of Israel, the LORD, is in your midst; you shall not fear evil any more.

16. In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, “Fear not! Do not let your hands be slack, O Zion.

17. The LORD your God is mighty in your midst; He will save; He will rejoice over you with joy; He will rest in His love; He rejoices over you with singing.”

18. “I will gather the ones who grieve over the appointed feasts, who are among you, and will lift the burden of reproach from her.

19. Behold, at that time I will deal with all those who afflict you. And I will save her who is lame, and gather her who was driven out. And I will give them praise and fame in all the land where they have been put to shame.

20. At that time I will bring you, even in the time that I gather you; for I will give you for a name and for a praise among all the people of the earth, when I turn back your captivity before your eyes,” says the LORD.
CHAPTER ONE

1. In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, on the first day of the month, the Word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high Priest, saying,

2. “Thus the LORD of hosts speaks, saying, ‘The time has not come, the time that the LORD’S house should be built.’ ”

3. Then came the Word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying,

4. “Is it time for you yourselves to dwell in your finished houses, and shall this My house lie waste?”

5. And now therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, “Consider your ways.

6. You have sown much, but bring in little; you eat, but you do not have enough; you drink, but you are not filled with drink; you dress, but no one is warm; and he who earns wages, earns wages to put into a bag with holes.”

7. Thus says the LORD of hosts, “Consider your ways.

8. Go up to the mountain and bring wood, and build this house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified,” says the LORD.

9. “You looked for much, and behold, it came to little! And when you brought it home, then I blew on it. Why?” says the LORD of hosts.

10. Therefore the heavens above you have held back the dew, and the earth has held back its fruit.

11. And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the grain, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground brings forth, and upon men, and upon livestock, and upon all the labor of your hands.”

12. Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him. And the people feared before the LORD.

13. Then Haggai, the LORD’S messenger, spoke the message of the LORD to the people, saying, “I am with you,” says the LORD.

14. And the LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people. And they came and worked on the house of the LORD of hosts, their God.

15. In the twenty-fourth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

CHAPTER TWO

1. In the seventh month, in the twenty-first day of the month, the Word of the LORD came by the prophet Haggai, saying,

2. “Now speak to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying,

3. ‘Who is left among you who saw this temple in her first glory? And how do you see it now? In comparison, is it not in your eyes as nothing?

4. Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel,’ says the LORD. ‘And be strong, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong all you people of the land,’ says the LORD, ‘and work; for I am with you,’ says the LORD of hosts.

5. ‘According to the word that I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt, so My Spirit remains among you. Do not fear.’

6. For thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘Once again—it is yet a little while—I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land.

7. And I will shake all the nations; and the desire of all nations shall come; and I will fill this house with glory,’ says the LORD of hosts.

8. ‘The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine,’ says the LORD of hosts.

9. ‘The glory of this latter temple shall be greater than that of the former,’ says the LORD of hosts. ‘And in this place I will give peace,’ says the LORD of hosts.”

10. In the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, saying,

11. “Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘Now ask the priests concerning the law, saying,

12. ‘If one carries holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and touches his skirt to bread, or boiled food, or wine, or oil, or any food, will it also become holy?’ ‘” And the priests answered and said, “No.”

13. Then Haggai said, “If one who is unclean by a dead body touches any of these, shall it also be unclean?” And the priests answered and said, “It shall be unclean.”

14. And Haggai answered and said, ‘‘So is this people, and so is this nation before Me,’ says the LORD. ‘And so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.

15. And now, I ask you, consider from this day and onward—from before the placing of a stone upon a stone in the temple of the LORD—

16. How that one came expecting a heap of twenty measures, and there were but ten; one came to the wine vat to draw off fifty measures from the winepress, and there were but twenty.

17. I struck you with blight and with mildew, and with hail, in all the labors of your hands; yet you did not return to Me,’ says the LORD.

18. ‘Now consider from this day and forward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, from the day that the foundation of the LORD’s temple was laid, consider this:

19. Is the seed still in the barn? Yea, as yet the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree have not brought forth. From this day forward I will bless you.’ ”

20. And a second time the Word of the LORD came to Haggai in the twenty-fourth day of the month, saying,

21. “Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, ‘I will shake the heavens and the earth."

22. And I will overthrow the throne of the kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations. And I will overthrow the chariots and their riders. And the horses and their riders shall come down, each one by the sword of his brother.

23. In that day,’ says the LORD of hosts, ‘I will take you, O Zerubbabel, My servant, the son of Shealtiel,’ says the LORD, ‘and will make you like a signet ring; for I have chosen you,’ says the LORD of hosts.”
The Prophet
Zechariah

CHAPTER ONE

1. In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, the Word of the LORD came to Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying,

2. “The LORD has been very angry with your fathers.

3. Therefore you say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, “Return to Me,” says the LORD of hosts, “and I will return to you,” says the LORD of hosts.

4. “Be not as your fathers, to whom the former prophets have proclaimed to them, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, “Turn now from your evil ways and your evil doings.” ’ But they did not hearken, nor attend to Me,” says the LORD.

5. “Your fathers, where are they? And the prophets, do they live forever?

6. But My words and My statutes which I commanded My servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? And they returned and said, ‘As the LORD of hosts planned to do to us, according to our ways and according to our doings, so He has done with us.’ ”

7. On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, it is the month Shebat, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying,

8. “I watched by night. And behold! A man riding on a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees in the ravine. And behind him were red, speckled and white horses.”

9. Then I said, “O my lord, what are these?” And the angel who talked with me said to me, “I will show you what these are.”

10. And the man who stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, “These are those whom the LORD has sent to walk to and fro through the earth.”

11. And they answered the angel of the LORD who stood among the myrtle trees, and said, “We have walked to and fro through the earth, and behold, all the earth sits still and is at peace.”

12. Then the angel of the LORD answered and said, “O LORD of hosts, how long will You not have mercy upon Jerusalem and upon the cities of Judah against which You have cursed these seventy years?”

13. And the LORD answered the angel who talked with me with good words and comforting words.

14. So the angel who talked with me said to me, “Cry aloud, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, “I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy. And with great anger I am angry at the heathen that are at ease—in that I was but a little angry, but they furthered the affliction.”’

15. Therefore thus says the LORD, “I have returned to Jerusalem with mercies. My house shall be built in it,” says the LORD of hosts. “And a line shall be stretched over Jerusalem.”

16. “Then I lifted up my eyes again and looked, and behold! four horns!”

17. And I said to the angel who talked with me, “What are these?” And he answered me, “These are the horns which have scattered Judah, so that no man lifted up his head. But these have come to terrify them, to throw down the horns of the nations who lifted up their horns over the land of Judah to scatter it.”

CHAPTER TWO

1. I lifted up my eyes again and looked, and behold! A man with a measuring line in his hand.

2. “Where are you going?” And he said to me, “To measure Jerusalem, to see what is its breadth and what is its length.”

3. And behold, the angel who talked with me went out, and another angel went out to meet him.
CHAPTER THREE

1. And He showed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to resist him.

2. And the LORD said to Satan, "May the LORD rebuke you, Satan! May even the LORD Who has chosen Jerusalem rebuke you! Is this not a brand plucked out of the fire?"

3. Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the angel.

4. And He answered and spoke to those who stood before him, saying, "Take the filthy garments from off him." And to him He said, "Behold, I have caused your iniquity to pass from you, and I will clothe you with ceremonial robes."

5. And I said, "Let them set a clean mitre on his head." And they set a clean mitre on his head and clothed him with garments. And the angel of the LORD stood by.

6. And the angel of the LORD charged Joshua, saying,

7. "Thus says the LORD of hosts, 'If you will walk in My ways, and if you will keep My charge, then you shall also judge My house, and shall also keep My courts, and I will give you places to walk among those who stand by.

8. Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, you and your fellows who sit before you; for they are men wondered at, for behold, I will bring forth My Servant the Branch!

9. For behold, the stone that I have set before Joshua: On one stone are seven eyes. Behold, I will engrave its engraving upon it,' says the LORD of hosts, 'and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

10. In that day,' says the LORD of hosts, 'you shall call, each man to his neighbor, to sit under the vine and under the fig tree.' "

CHAPTER FOUR

1. And the angel that talked with me came again and awakened me, as a man that is awakened out of his sleep.

2. And he said to me, "What do you see?" And I said, "I see, and behold, a lampstand, all of it gold, and a bowl on its top, and its seven lamps upon it, and seven pipes to the seven lamps on its top;

3. And two olive trees beside it, one on the right side of the bowl, and the other on the left side of it."

4. And I answered and spoke to the angel who talked with me, saying, "What are these, my lord?"

5. Then the angel who talked with me answered and said to me, "Do you know what these are?" And I said, "No, my lord."

6. Then he answered and spoke to me, saying, "This is the Word of the LORD to Zerubbabel, saying, 'Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit,' says the LORD of hosts.

7. 'Who are you, O great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you shall become a plain; and he shall bring forth the head stone with shoutings, “Grace! Grace unto it!”

8. And the Word of the LORD came to me, saying,
9. “The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house. His hands shall also finish it.” And you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you.
10. “For who has despised the day of small things? For they shall rejoice, and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel. These seven are the eyes of the LORD which run to and fro through the whole earth.”

11. And I answered and said to him, “What are these two olive trees on the right side of the lampstand and on its left side?”
12. And I answered again and said to him, “What are the two olive branches beside the two golden pipes, emptying the golden oil out of themselves?”
13. And he answered me and said, “Do you not know what these are?” And I said, “No, my lord.”
14. And he said, “These are the two anointed ones who stand by the LORD of the whole earth.”

CHAPTER FIVE

1. Then I again lifted up my eyes and looked. And behold! A flying scroll.
2. And he said to me, “What do you see?” And I answered, “I see a flying scroll; its length is twenty cubits, and its width ten cubits.”
3. And he said to me, “This is the curse that goes forth over the face of the whole earth; for everyone who steals shall be cut off according to it; and everyone who swears from now on shall be cut off according to it.”
4. “I will bring it forth,” says the LORD of hosts; “and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him who swears falsely by My name. And it shall remain in the midst of his house, and shall devour it, and its timber and its stones.”
5. Then the angel who talked with me went forth and said to me, “Now lift up your eyes and see what this is that goes forth.”
6. And I said, “What is it?” And he said, “This is the measuring container that goes forth.” And moreover he said, “This is the measuring container.”

7. And behold, a round lead cover was lifted up, and a woman was sitting upon the measuring container.
8. And he said, “This is wickedness.” And he threw her down into the midst of the measuring container. And he thrust down the round lead cover over its opening.
9. And I lifted up my eyes and looked, and behold, two women came out. And the wind was in their wings; for they had wings like the wings of a stork. And they lifted up the measuring container between the earth and the heavens.
10. And I said to the angel who talked with me, “Where are they going with the measuring container?”
11. And he said to me, “To build a house for it in the land of Shinar; and when it is prepared she shall be set there in her own place.”

CHAPTER SIX

1. And I turned and lifted up my eyes and looked. And behold! Four chariots were coming from between two mountains. And the mountains were mountains of bronze.
2. The first chariot had red horses; and the second chariot had black horses;
3. And in the third chariot had white horses; and in the fourth chariot had dappled horses and strong ones.
4. And I answered and said to the angel who talked with me, “What are these, my lord?”
5. And the angel answered and said to me, “These are the four spirits of the heavens who go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth.
6. The black horses in it go forth into the north country; and the white go forth after them; and the dappled go forth to a south country.”
7. And the strong ones went forth and were anxious to go, so that they might walk to and fro through the earth. And he said, “Go! Walk to and fro through the earth.” So they walked to and fro through the earth.
8. And He cried to me and spoke to me, saying, “Behold, these who go toward the north country have caused My Spirit to rest in the north country.”
9. And the Word of the LORD came to me saying,
10. “‘Take from Heldai, Tobijah, and Jedaiah, from the exiles who have come from Babylon; and in that same day you go and enter the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah.
11. And take silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them on the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest.
12. And speak to him, saying, ‘Thus speaks the LORD of hosts, saying, “Behold the Man whose name is The BRANCH! And He shall grow up out of His place, and He shall build the temple of the LORD.
13. Even He shall build the temple of the LORD; and He shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon His throne. And He shall be a priest upon His throne; and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.”’
14. And the crowns shall be for a memorial in the temple of the LORD to Helem and to Tobijah and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the son of Zephaniah.
15. And the ones who are far off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD.” And you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. And this shall come to pass, if you will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. And it came to pass in the fourth year of King Darius, the Word of the LORD came to Zechariah on the fourth day of the ninth month, in Chislev.
2. And Sherezer and Regem-Melech and his men had been sent to the house of God, to pray before the LORD,
3. And to speak to the priests who were in the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, “Should I weep in the fifth month and fast, separating myself, as I have done these many years?”
4. And came the Word of the LORD of hosts to me, saying,
5. “Speak to all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, ‘When you fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh months, even those seventy years, did you truly fast to Me, even to Me?’
6. And when you ate, and when you drank, did you not eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves?
7. Are not these the words which the LORD proclaimed by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and prospered, and her cities all around her, and the south and the plain were inhabited?”
8. And the Word of the LORD came to Zechariah, saying,
9. “Thus speaks the LORD of hosts, saying, ‘Judge true judgment, and show mercy and compassion every man to his brother.
10. And do not oppress the widow or the orphan, the stranger or the poor. And do not imagine evil in your heart, against your brother.’
11. But they refused to hearken, and turned a stubborn shoulder, and made heavy their ears against hearing.
12. And they made their hearts adamant stone against hearing the law and the words which the LORD of hosts has sent through His Spirit, by the former prophets. And therefore great wrath came from the LORD of hosts.
13. And it will be, as He called, and they did not hear, so when they called, and I did not hear,” says the LORD of hosts,
14. “But I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they did not know. And thus the land has been desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the pleasant land desolate.”

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. And the Word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,
2. “Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘I was jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with great fury.’
3. Thus says the LORD, ‘I have returned to Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth, and the mountain of the LORD of hosts, the holy mountain.’
4. Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘There shall yet be old men and old women sitting in the streets of Jerusalem, and each man with his staff in his hand because of their great age.
5. And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in its streets.’
6. Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘If it is
Zechariah 8 - 9

1. The burden of the Word of the LORD against the land of Hadrach, and its resting place, Damascus (when the eyes of man, and all the tribes of Israel, shall be toward the LORD);

2. And Hamath also borders on it; Tyre and Sidon, though they are very wise.

3. And Tyre shall build herself a stronghold, and shall heap up silver like the dust, and gold like the mud of the streets; and she shall be burned up with fire.

4. Behold, the LORD will cast her out, and He will strike her power in the sea, and He will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

5. Ashkelon shall see and be afraid; Gaza also shall see it and writhe in anguish; and she shall be burned up with fire.

6. “And a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

7. “And a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

8. And I will take away the blood from out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth. But the remnant, even they shall be for our God. And he shall be as a governor in Judah, and Ekron like a Jebusite.

9. ‘And I will camp around My house in the midst of Jerusalem. And they shall be My people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.’

10. For before these days there was no hire for man, nor was there hire for beast; and there was no peace to him from the adversary who went out or came in, for I did set all men every one against his neighbor.

11. But now I will not be to the remnant of this people as in the former days,” says the LORD of hosts,

12. ‘For they shall sow in peace; the vine shall give its fruit, and the ground shall give its increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.

13. And it shall come to pass, that as you were a curse among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, so I will save you, and you shall be a blessing. Do not fear, but let your hands be strong.’

14. For thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘As I thought to punish you when your fathers provoked Me to wrath,’ says the LORD of hosts, ‘and I did not repent;

15. So again I have thought in these days to do good to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. Fear not.

16. These are the things that you shall do. Each man speak the truth to his neighbor. Execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates.

17. And let no one imagine evil in your heart against his neighbor; and do not love a false oath, for all these are things that I hate,” says the LORD.”

18. And the Word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,

19. ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth month, and the fast of the seventh month, and the fast of the tenth month, shall be to the house of Judah for joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts. Therefore love truth and peace.’

20. Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come people and inhabitants of many cities.

21. And the residents of one shall go to another, saying, “Let us go at once to pray before the face of the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts; I will go also.”

22. And many people and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem and to pray before the face of the LORD.’

23. Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men, out of all languages of the nations, shall take hold, and will seize the skirt of a man, a Jew, saying, “We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.”’ ” them any more, for now I have seen with My eyes.
9. Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem; behold, your King comes to you. He is triumphant and victorious, yet meek and riding on a donkey, even on a colt, the foal of a donkey.
10. And I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem. And the battle bow shall be cut off, and He shall speak peace to the nations; and His dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from the River to the ends of the earth.
11. You also, by the blood of your covenant I have freed your prisoners out of the pit in which there is no water.
12. Turn to the stronghold, prisoners of hope; even today do I declare that I shall restore double to you,
13. For I bent Judah for me and I filled the bow with Ephraim, and I will raise up your sons, O Zion, against your sons, O Greece, and make you as the sword of a mighty man.”
14. And the LORD shall be seen over them, and His arrow shall go forth like the lightning; and the Lord GOD shall blow the ram’s horn, and shall go out with the whirlwinds from the south.
15. The LORD of hosts shall defend them; and they shall devour and subdue slingstones. And they shall drink and be boisterous, as through wine. And they shall be filled like a bowl, and like the corners of the altar.
16. And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the flock of His people; for they are as stones of a crown, lifted up as a banner over His land.
17. For how great is its goodness and how great its beauty! Grain shall make the young men flourish, and new wine the virgins.

CHAPTER TEN
1. Ask rain from the LORD in the time of the latter rain; the LORD Who makes storm clouds, and gives them showers of rain, and to every one vegetation in the field,
2. For the household idols speak lawlessness, and the diviners have seen a lie and have told false dreams. They comfort in vain; therefore they wandered like sheep;
3. “My anger was kindled against the shepherds, and I will punish the he-goats; for the LORD of hosts has visited His flock, the house of Judah, and has made them as His beautiful horse in battle.
4. Out of them came forth the cornerstone; out of them the tent peg; out of them the battle bow; out of them every master together.
5. And they shall be like mighty ones who trample down their enemies in the mud of the streets in the battle. And they shall fight because the LORD is with them, and they shall make the riders on horses ashamed.
6. And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will return to save them; for I have mercy upon them. And they shall be as though I had not cast them off; for I am the LORD their God, and I will answer them.
7. And Ephraim shall be like a mighty one, and their heart shall rejoice as through wine. And their children shall see and be glad; their heart shall rejoice in the LORD.
8. I will signal for them and gather them; for I have redeemed them. And they shall increase as they formerly increased.
9. And I will sow them among the people, and they shall remember Me in distant countries; and they shall live with their children and they shall return.
10. I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and I will gather them out of Assyria; and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; until no more room shall be found for them.
11. And they shall pass through the sea of affliction, and shall strike the waves of the sea; and all the depths of the Nile shall dry up. And the pride of Assyria shall be humbled, and the scepter of Egypt shall depart away.
12. And I will strengthen them in the LORD; and they shall walk up and down in His name,” says the LORD.

CHAPTER ELEVEN
1. Open your doors, O Lebanon, so that the fire may devour your cedars.
2. Howl, fir tree; for the cedar has fallen; because the majestic trees are devastated.
Howl, O oaks of Bashan; for the thick forest has come down.
3. There is the sound of the howling of the shepherds; for their glory is destroyed. There is the sound of the roaring of young lions; for the pride of Jordan is destroyed,
4. For thus says the LORD my God, “Feed the flock of the slaughter,
5. Those buying them slaughter them, and hold themselves not guilty. And those who sell them say, ‘Blessed be the LORD, for I am rich;’ and their shepherds do not pity them,
6. For I will no more pity the people of the land,” says the LORD; “but lo, I will deliver the men, each one into his neighbor’s hand and into his king’s hand. And they shall strike the land, and I will not deliver them out of their hand.”
7. And I fed the flock of slaughter, even the most miserable of the flock. And I took two staffs for myself; the one I called Grace, and the other I called Union. And I fed the flock.
8. I also cut off three shepherds in one month; and my soul loathed them, and their soul also abhorred me.
9. And I said, “I will not feed you; that which dies, let it die; and that which is to be cut off, let it be cut off. And those left, let them eat, every one the flesh of another.”
10. And I took my staff Grace, and broke it apart, to annul my covenant which I had made with all the people.
11. And it was annulled in that day; and so the poor of the flock who were watching me knew that it was the Word of the LORD.
12. And I said to them, “If it is good, give me my price; and if not, let it go.” So they weighed my price—thirty pieces of silver.
13. And the LORD said to me, “Throw it to the potter”—the princely price at which I was valued by them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver and threw them to the potter in the house of the LORD.
14. Then I broke my other staff Union apart, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.
15. And the LORD said to me, “Take to yourself yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd,
16. For lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land who will not care for those who are cut off, nor will he seek the young, nor will he heal that which is broken, nor will he feed that which stands. But he shall eat the flesh of the fat and break their hoofs in pieces.
17. Woe to the worthless shepherd who abandons the flock! The sword shall be on his arm and on his right eye; his arm shall be completely dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.”

CHAPTER TWELVE
1. The burden of the Word of the LORD for Israel. Thus says the LORD, who stretches forth the heavens, and lays the foundation of the earth, and forms the spirit of man within him,
2. “Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of trembling unto all the people all around, when they shall be in the siege both against Judah and against Jerusalem.
3. And in that day I will make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people. All who burden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the nations of the earth be gathered together against it.
4. In that day,” says the LORD, “I will strike every horse with terror, and his rider with madness. And I will open My eyes upon the house of Judah, and will strike every horse of the people with blindness.
5. And the governors of Judah shall say in their heart, ‘The people of Jerusalem shall be my strength in the LORD of hosts;’
6. In that day I will make the governors of Judah like a hearth of fire among the wood, and like a torch of fire among the sheaves. And they shall devour all the people all around, on the right hand and on the left hand. And Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her place, even in Jerusalem.
7. The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, so that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the people of Jerusalem may not be magnified above Judah.
8. In that day the LORD shall defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem. And it shall be, he who is feeble among them at that day shall be like David; and the house of David shall be like God, like the angel of the LORD before them.
9. And it shall be in that day that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.
10. And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the people of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplication. And they shall look upon Me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for Him, as one mourns for his only son, and shall be in bitterness over Him, as the bitterness over the firstborn.
11. In that day shall be a great mourning in Jerusalem, like the mourning of Hadad Rimmon in the valley of Megiddo.
12. And the land shall mourn, every family apart; the family of David apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart; the family of David apart, and their wives apart;
13. All the families who remain, every family apart and their wives apart.”

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. “In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David, and to the people of Jerusalem, to cleanse them from sin and for uncleanness.
2. And it shall be in that day,” says the LORD of hosts, “I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall be remembered no more. And also I will cause the lying prophets and the unclean spirits to pass out of the land.
3. And it shall be when any shall yet prophesy, his father and his mother who gave him birth shall thrust him through when he prophesies.
4. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed, each of his vision, when he prophesies.
5. But he shall say, ‘I am no prophet; I am a man, a tiller of the ground; for a man taught me to be a servant from my youth.’
6. And one shall say to him, ‘What are these wounds in your hands?’ Then he shall answer, ‘Those with which I was wounded in the house of those who love me.’ ”
7. “Awake, O sword, against My Shepherd, and against the Man who is My companion,” says the LORD of hosts. “Strike the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered. And I will turn My hand upon the little ones.
8. And it shall come to pass in all the land,” says the LORD, “two parts in it shall be cut off and die; but the third shall be left in it.
9. And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried. They shall call upon My name, and I will answer them; I will say, ‘It is My people;’ and they shall say, ‘The LORD is my God.’ ”

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

1. Behold, the day of the LORD comes, and your spoil shall be divided in your midst,
2. “For I will gather all nations to battle against Jerusalem; and the city shall be taken, and the houses plundered, and the women raped. And half of the city shall go into exile, and the rest of the people shall not be cut off from the city.”
3. And the LORD shall go out and fight against those nations, as when He fought in the day of battle.
4. And His feet shall stand in that day upon the Mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the Mount of Olives shall split in two, from the east and to the west, and make a very great valley. And half of the mountain shall move toward the north, and half of it toward the south.
5. “And you shall flee to the valley of My mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach to Azal. And you shall flee as you fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah.” And the LORD my God shall come, and all the saints with You.
6. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the light shall not be clear, nor dark.
7. And it will be one day which shall be known to the LORD, neither day nor night; but it shall come to pass that at evening time it shall be light.
8. And it shall be in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them shall go toward the eastern sea, and half of them toward the western sea. In summer and in winter it shall be.
9. And the LORD shall be King over all the earth; in that day there shall be one LORD, and His name shall be one.
10. All the land shall be turned as a plain from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem. And it shall be raised up and remain in its place, from Benjamin’s Gate to the place of the First Gate; to the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Hananeel to the king’s winepresses.
11. And they shall dwell in it, and there shall never again be any more utter destruction, but Jerusalem shall dwell safely.
12. And this shall be the plague with which the LORD will smite all the people who have fought against Jerusalem. Their flesh shall consume away while they stand on their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their sockets. And their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.
13. And it shall be in that day that a great panic from the LORD shall be among them. And they shall each one lay hold of his neighbor, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbor.
14. And Judah also shall fight at Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the nations all around shall be gathered—gold, and silver, and clothing in great abundance.
15. And likewise shall be the plague of the horse, the mule, the camel, and the donkey, and of all the beasts which shall be in these camps—it shall be as this plague.
16. And it shall come to pass that everyone who is left of all the nations which came up against Jerusalem shall even go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the Feast of Tabernacles.
17. And it shall be, whoever will not come up from all the families of the earth to Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, even upon them shall be no rain.
18. And if the family of Egypt that has no rain, does not come up to present themselves, this shall be the plague with which the LORD shall strike the nations that do not come up to keep the Feast of Tabernacles.
19. This shall be Egypt’s punishment, and the punishment of all the nations who do not come up to keep the Feast of Tabernacles.
20. In that day there shall be on the bells of the horses, “HOLINESS TO THE LORD.” And the pots in the LORD’S house shall be like the bowls before the altar.
21. Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holiness to the LORD of hosts. And all those who sacrifice shall come and take of them, and boil in them. And in that day there shall no longer be merchants in the house of the LORD of hosts.
CHAPTER ONE

1. The burden of the Word of the LORD to Israel by Malachi.
2. “I have loved you,” says the LORD. “But you say, ‘In what way do You love us?’ says the LORD. “Yet I loved Jacob.
3. And I hated Esau and made his mountains a desolation, and his inheritance to be for the jackals of the wilderness.”
4. If Edom says, “We are beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places,”—thus says the LORD of hosts, “They shall build, but I will throw down; and they shall be called the border of wickedness, and the people with whom the LORD is indignant forever.
5. And your eyes shall see, and you shall say, ‘The LORD will be magnified beyond the border of Israel.’
6. “A son honors his father, and a servant his master. If then I am a father, where is My honor? And if I am a master, where is My fear?”—says the LORD of hosts to you, “O priests who despise My name. And you say, ‘In what way do we defile Your name?’
7. You offer defiled bread upon My altar. And you say, ‘In what way do we defile You?’ In your saying, ‘The table of the LORD is contemptible.’
8. And if you offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil? And if you offer the lame and the sick, is it not evil? Offer it now to your governor. Will he be pleased with you, or accept your person?” says the LORD of hosts.
9. “And now entreat the favor of God, that He will be gracious unto you. This has been by your own hand—and now will He show regard for you?” says the LORD of hosts.
10. “Who is there among you who will even shut the temple doors or kindle a fire on My altar without being paid? I have no pleasure in you,” says the LORD of hosts. “I will not accept an offering from your hand.
11. For from the rising of the sun even to its going down, My name shall be great among the nations; and in every place incense shall be offered to My name, and a pure offering, for My name shall be great among the nations.”

CHAPTER TWO

1. “And now, O priests, this commandment is for you.
2. If you will not hear, and if you will not lay it to heart to give glory to My name,” says the LORD of hosts, “then I will send a curse upon you, and I will curse your sacrifices and offerings to the LORD a blemished one, for I am a great King.”
3. Behold, I will rebuke your seed; and I will spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your appointed feasts. And one shall carry you away with it.
4. And you shall know that I have sent this commandment to you, so that My covenant might be with Levi,” says the LORD of hosts.
5. “My covenant with him was one of life and peace, and I gave them to him forever; that he might fear Me, and he was in awe before My name.
6. The law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips. He walked with Me in peace and uprightness, and turned away many from iniquity.
7. For the priest’s lips should keep knowledge, and the people should seek the law at his mouth; for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.
8. But you have departed out of the way; you have caused many to stumble at the
15. And did He not make one wife, covering the altar of the LORD of hosts. Therefore guard your spirit, and do not act treacherously.
16. The LORD, the God of Israel, says, “I hate divorce—and the covering of violence with one’s garment,” says the LORD of hosts. “Therefore guard your spirit, and do not act treacherously.”
17. You have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet you say, “In what way have we wearied Him?” When you say, “Every evildoer is good in the eyes of the LORD, and He delights in them;” or, “Where is the God of judgment?”

CHAPTER THREE

1. “Behold, I will send My messenger, and he will prepare the way before Me. And the Lord, Whom you seek, shall suddenly come to His temple, even the Messenger of the covenant, in Whom you delight. Behold, He comes,” says the LORD of hosts.
2. “But who can endure the day of His coming? And who shall stand when He appears? For He is like a refiner’s fire, and like fuller’s soap.
3. And He shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver. And He shall purge the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.
4. Then the offering of Judah and Jerusalem shall be pleasing to the LORD, as in the days of old and as in former years.
5. And I will come near to you for judgment. And I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against those who swear falsely, and against those who extort from the hired laborer’s wages—and against those who turn away the widow, the orphans, and the stranger because they did not fear Me,” says the LORD of hosts.
6. “For I am the LORD, I change not. Therefore you sons of Jacob are not consumed.
7. From the days of your fathers, you have gone away from My statutes, and have not kept them. Return to Me, and I will return to you,” says the LORD of hosts. “But you say, ‘In what way shall we return?’
8. Will a man rob God? Yet you are robbing Me. But you say, ‘How have we robbed You?’ In tithes and offerings!
9. You are cursed with a curse. For you are robbing Me, even this whole nation.
10. Bring all the tithes into the treasure house, so that there may be food in My house, and prove Me now with this,” says the LORD of hosts, “to see if I will not surely open the windows of heaven for you, and pour out a blessing for you, until there is not enough room to receive it.
11. And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and it shall not destroy the fruit of your ground; nor shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field,” says the LORD of hosts.
12. “And all nations shall call you blessed; for you shall be a delightful land,” says the LORD of hosts.

13. “Your words have been all too strong against Me,” says the LORD. “Yet you say, ‘What have we spoken so strongly against You?’

14. You have said, ‘It is vain to serve God; and, what profit is it that we have kept His charge, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of hosts?

15. And now we are calling the arrogant blessed. Yea, they that work wickedness are built up, they even tempt God, and are delivered.’ ”

16. Then those fearing the LORD spoke together, each man to his neighbor. And the LORD listened and heard. And a book of remembrance was written before Him for those who feared the LORD, and for those who thought upon His name.

17. “And they shall be Mine,” says the LORD of hosts, “in the day that I will make up My own special jewels. And I will spare them as a man spares his own son who serves him.”

18. Then you shall return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between the one who serves God, and the one who does not serve Him.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. “For behold, the day is coming, burning like a consuming oven; and all the proud, and every doer of wickedness, shall be stubble. And the day that comes shall burn them up,” says the LORD of hosts, “and will leave them neither root nor branch.

2. But unto you who fear My name, the Sun of Righteousness shall arise, and healing will be in His wings. And you shall go out and grow up like calves of the stall.

3. And you shall trample the wicked, for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I am preparing,” says the LORD of hosts.

4. “Remember the law of Moses My servant, which I commanded to him in Horeb for all Israel, with the statutes and judgments.

5. Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the LORD.

6. And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the sons, and the heart of the sons to their fathers, lest I come and strike the earth with utter destruction.”

PSALM ONE

1. Blessed is the man who does not walk in the counsel of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornful.
2. But his delight is in the law of the LORD; and in His law does he meditate day and night.
3. And he shall be like a tree planted by the streams of water that brings forth its fruit in its season, and its leaf shall not wither, and all that he does shall prosper.
4. The wicked are not so, but they are like chaff which the wind drives away.
5. Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous;
6. For the LORD knows the way of the righteous, but the way of the wicked shall perish.

PSALM THREE

A Psalm of David, when he fled from his son Absalom.

1. O LORD, how my foes have increased! Many are the ones who rise up against me.
2. Many are saying of my soul, “There is no deliverance for him in God.”
3. But you, O LORD, are a shield about me, my glory, and the One Who lifts up my head.
4. I cried to the LORD with my voice, and He answered me out of His holy mountain.
5. Then He shall speak to them in His wrath, and in His fury He terrifies them.
6. “Yea, I have set My king upon Zion, My holy mountain.”
7. “I will declare the decree of the LORD. He has said to Me, ‘You are My Son; this day I have begotten You.’
8. Ask of Me, and I shall give the nations for Your inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for Your possession.
9. You shall break them with a rod of iron; You shall dash them in pieces like a potter’s vessel.’ ”
10. Now therefore be wise, O kings; be admonished, O judges of the earth.
11. Serve the LORD with fear and rejoice with trembling.
12. Kiss the Son, lest He be angry and you perish in the way, for His wrath can flame up in a moment. Blessed are all who take refuge in Him.

PSALM FOUR

To the Chief Musician, for stringed instruments. A Psalm of David.

1. Answer me when I call, O God of my righteousness. You gave me relief when I was in distress; be gracious to me, and hear my prayer.
2. O sons of men, how long will my glory be put to shame? How long will you love delusions and seek after lies?
3. But know that the LORD has set apart the godly for Himself. The LORD will hear when I call to Him.
4. Tremble, and sin not: commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still.
5. Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and put your trust in the LORD.
6. There are many who say, “Who will show us any good?” L ORD, lift up the light of Your countenance upon us.
7. You have put gladness in my heart.
more than when their grain and their wine increased.
8. I will both lie down in peace and sleep, for You alone, LORD, make me dwell in safety.

PSALM FIVE

To the Chief Musician, for flutes. A Psalm of David.

1. Give ear to my words, O LORD; consider my meditation.
2. Hearken to the voice of my cry, my King and my God, for to You do I pray.
3. My voice You shall hear in the morning, O LORD; in the morning I will direct my prayer to You, and I will look up,
4. For You are not a God that has pleasure in wickedness; nor shall evil dwell with You.
5. The boasters shall not stand in Your sight. You hate all workers of iniquity.
6. You shall destroy those who speak lies; the LORD abhors the bloody and deceitful man.
7. But I, in the abundance of Your lovingkindness, I will come into Your house; I will bow down in Your fear toward Your holy temple.
8. Lead me, O LORD, in Your righteousness because of my enemies; make Your way straight before my face,
9. For there is no truth in their mouth; their inward part is destruction; their throat is an open grave; they flatter with their tongue.
10. Hold them guilty, O God; let them fall by their own counsels; cast them out in the multitude of their transgressions, for they have rebelled against You.
11. But let all who put their trust in You rejoice; let them always shout for joy because You defend them. And let those who love Your name exult in You,
12. For You, O LORD, will bless the righteous; with favor You will surround him as with a shield.

PSALM SIX

To the Chief Musician, for eight-stringed instruments. A Psalm of David.

1. O LORD, rebuke me not in Your anger, nor chasten me in the heat of Your fury.
2. Be gracious unto me, O LORD, for I am weak; O LORD, heal me, for my bones are troubled.
3. My soul also is exceedingly troubled; but You, O LORD—how long?
4. Return, O LORD, return; deliver my soul; save me for Your mercy’s sake,
5. For in death there is no memory of You; in the grave who shall give You thanks?
6. I am weary in my groaning; all the night I make my bed to swim; I drench my couch with my tears.
7. My eye wastes away because of grief; it grows weak because of all my enemies.
8. Depart from me, all you workers of iniquity, for the LORD has heard the voice of my weeping.
9. The LORD has heard my supplication; the LORD will receive my prayer.
10. Let all my enemies be ashamed and greatly dismayed; let them turn back and be ashamed suddenly.

PSALM SEVEN

A song of David, which he sang to the LORD, concerning the words of Cush, the Benjamite.

1. O LORD my God, in You have I taken refuge; save me from all who pursue me and deliver me,
2. Lest he tear my soul like a lion, ripping it in pieces, and there is no one to deliver.
3. O LORD my God, if I have done this—if there is iniquity in my hands,
4. If I have rewarded evil to the one who was at peace with me, or if I have plundered my enemy without cause—
5. Then let the enemy pursue my soul and take it; yea, let him trample down my life upon the earth and lay my honor in the dust. Selah.
6. Arise, O LORD, in Your anger; lift up Yourself against the rage of my enemies, and awake for me at the judgment which You have commanded.
7. And let the congregation of the people surround You; and rule over them from on high.
8. The LORD shall judge the people; judge me, O LORD, according to my righteousness, and according to my integrity within me.
9. O let the evil of the wicked come to an end, but establish the righteous, for the righteous God tries the hearts and reins.
10. My shield is with God, who saves the upright in heart.

11. God is a righteous judge, and a God Who has indignation every day.

12. If he does not turn, He will whet His sword; He has bent His bow and made it ready.

13. Yea, He has also prepared for Himself weapons of death; He has made His arrows fiery shafts.

14. Behold, he labors with iniquity, and he has conceived mischief, and has brought forth falsehood.

15. He dug a pit and hollowed it out, and has fallen into the ditch which he made.

16. His mischief shall return upon his own head, and his violence shall come down upon his own crown.

17. I will give thanks to the LORD according to His righteousness, and will sing praise to the name of the LORD Most High.

PSALM EIGHT

To the Chief Musician, on the harp. A Psalm of David.

1. O LORD our Lord, how excellent is Your name in all the earth! You have set Your glory above the heavens!

2. Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings You have ordained strength because of Your adversaries, to silence the enemy and the avenger.

3. When I consider Your heavens, the work of Your fingers, the moon and the stars which You have ordained,

4. What is man that You are mindful of him, and the son of man that You care for him?

5. For You have made him a little lower than God and have crowned him with glory and honor.

6. You made him to have dominion over the works of Your hands; You have put all things under his feet:

7. All sheep and oxen, yea, and the beasts of the field;

8. The birds of heaven, the fish of the sea, and all that pass through the paths of the seas.

9. O LORD, our Lord, how excellent is Your name in all the earth!

PSALM NINE

To the Chief Musician. “To die for the Son.” A Psalm of David.

1. I will praise You, O LORD, with my whole heart; I will tell of all Your marvelous works.

2. I will be glad and rejoice in You; I will sing praise to Your name, O Most High.

3. When my enemies have turned back, they shall fall and perish before You.

4. For You have maintained my right and my cause; You sat upon the throne giving righteous judgment.

5. You have rebuked the nations; You have destroyed the wicked; You have blotted out their name forever and ever.

6. Endless ruin has overtaken the enemy, You have uprooted the cities, the memory of them has perished.

7. But the LORD shall endure forever; He has prepared His throne for judgment.

8. And He shall judge the world in righteousness; He shall govern the people with justice.

9. The LORD also will be a refuge for the oppressed, a refuge in times of trouble.

10. And those who know Your name will put their trust in You, for You, LORD, have not forsaken those who seek You.

11. Sing praises to the LORD, Who dwells in Zion; declare among the nations His deeds.

12. For He Who avenges blood remembers them; He forgets not the cry of the humble.

13. Have mercy upon me, O LORD; consider my trouble which I suffer from those who hate me, You who lift me up from the gates of death,

14. So that I may declare all Your praise in the gates of the daughter of Zion; I will rejoice in Your salvation.

15. The nations have sunk down in the grave that they made; their own foot is caught in the net which they hid.

16. The LORD has made Himself known. He has executed judgment; the wicked are snared in the work of their own hands. Selah.

17. The wicked shall be turned into the grave, and all the nations that forget God,

18. For the needy shall not always be forgotten; the expectation of the poor shall not perish forever.

19. Arise, O LORD; let not man prevail. Let the nations be judged in Your sight.

20. Put them in fear, O LORD, let the nations know that they are but men. Selah.
PSALM TEN

1. Why do You stand afar off, O LORD? Why do You hide Yourself in times of trouble?
2. The wicked in his pride pursues the poor; let them be taken in the schemes that they have imagined,
3. For the wicked boasts of his heart's desire, and blesses the covetous but despises the LORD.
4. Through the pride of his countenance the wicked will not seek God; in all his thoughts there is no place for God.
5. His ways prosper at all times. He is haughty, and Your judgments are far from him. As for all his enemies, he sneers at them.
6. He has said in his heart, “I shall not be moved; from generation to generation, I shall never be in adversity.”
7. His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and fraud; under his tongue are mischief and iniquity.
8. He sits in the hiding places of the villages; in the secret places he murders the innocent. His eyes are on the watch for the helpless.
9. He lies in wait secretly like a lion in his den. He lies in wait to catch the helpless; he catches the helpless and drags him off in his net.
10. He crouches and bows down, and the hapless fall into his mighty grasp.
11. He has said in his heart, “God has forgotten; He hides His face; He will never see!”
12. Arise, O LORD; O God, lift up Your hand; forget not the humble.
13. Why do the wicked spurn God? He has said in his heart, “You will not call into account.”
14. You have seen it, for You behold mischief and vexation to repay it with Your hand. The poor commits himself to You; You are the Helper of the fatherless.
15. Break the arm of the wicked and the evil one; seek out his wickedness until You find none.
16. The LORD is King forever and ever; the nations have perished out of His land.
17. LORD, You have heard the desire of the humble; You will prepare their heart, You will cause Your ear to hear,
18. To defend the fatherless and the oppressed, so that the man of the earth may no more oppress.

PSALM ELEVEN

To the Chief Musician.
A Psalm of David.

1. In the LORD I have taken refuge; how then can you say to me, “Flee like a bird to your mountain”?
2. For lo, the wicked bend their bow; they make ready their arrow on the string, so that they may secretly shoot at the upright in heart.
3. If the foundations are destroyed, what can the righteous do?
4. The LORD is in His holy temple; the LORD’S throne is in heaven. His eyes behold; His searching gaze tests the children of men.
5. The LORD tries the righteous, but His soul hates the wicked and the one who loves violence.
6. Upon the wicked He shall rain snares, fire and brimstone; and a scorching wind shall be the portion of their cup.
7. For the LORD is righteous, He loves righteousness; the upright will behold His face.

PSALM TWELVE

To the Chief Musician.
On an eight-stringed harp.
A Psalm of David.

1. Help, O LORD, for the godly man ceases; for the faithful disappear from among the children of men.
2. They speak falsehood each one with his neighbor; with flattering lips and a double heart they speak.
3. The LORD shall cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaks proud things,
4. Who have said, “With our tongue we shall prevail; our lips are our own; who is lord over us?”
5. “For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, I will now arise,” says the LORD. “I will set him in safety from him who puffs at him.”
6. The words of the LORD are pure words, like silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times.
7. You shall keep them, O LORD; You shall preserve them from this generation forever.
8. The wicked walk on every side when vileness is exalted among the sons of men.
PSALM THIRTEEN

_to the Chief Musician._
_A Psalm of David._

1. How long will You forget me, O LORD? Forever? How long will You hide Your face from me?
2. How long shall I take counsel in my heart, having sorrow in my heart daily? How long shall my enemy be exalted over me?
3. Consider and answer me, O LORD my God; enlighten my eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death,
4. Lest my enemy say, “I have overcome him,” and my foes rejoice when I am moved.
5. But as for me, I have trusted in Your mercy; my heart shall rejoice in Your salvation.
6. I will sing to the LORD because He has dealt bountifully with me.

PSALM FOURTEEN

_to the Chief Musician._
_A Psalm of David._

1. The fool has said in his heart, “There is no God!” They are corrupt; they have done abominable works, there is none who does good.
2. The LORD looks down from heaven upon the children of men to see if there are any who understand, who seek after God.
3. They have all turned aside, together they have become corrupt; there is none who does good, no, not even one.
4. Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge, those who devour My people as men eat bread and do not call upon the LORD?
5. There they are in great fear, for God is with the generation of the righteous.
6. You have put to shame the counsel of the poor; but the LORD is his refuge.
7. Oh, that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! When the LORD turns away the captivity of His people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

PSALM FIFTEEN

_A Psalm of David._

1. LORD, who shall dwell in Your tabernacle? Who shall dwell upon Your holy hill?
2. He who walks uprightly, and works righteousness, and speaks the truth in his heart;
3. He does not slander with his tongue, nor does evil to his neighbor, nor takes up a reproach against his neighbor;
4. In whose eyes a vile person is despised, but he honors those who fear the LORD; he who swears to his own hurt and does not change it;
5. He who has not put out his money at usury, nor has he taken a bribe against the innocent. He who does these things shall never be moved.

PSALM SIXTEEN

_A Secret Treasure of David._

1. Preserve me, O God, for in You do I take refuge.
2. I have said to the LORD, “You are my LORD; I have no goodness apart from You.”
3. As for the saints in the earth, “They are the excellent ones in whom is all my delight.”
4. Their sorrows shall be multiplied who run after another god. I will not pour out their drink offerings of blood; and I will not take their names upon my lips.
5. The LORD is the portion of my inheritance and of my cup; You shall uphold my lot.
6. The lines have fallen to me in pleasant places; yea, I have a beautiful inheritance.
7. I will bless the LORD Who has given me counsel; my heart also instructs me in the nights.
8. I have set the LORD always before me. Because He is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.
9. Therefore My heart is glad, and My glory rejoices; My flesh also shall rest in safety,
10. For You will not abandon My soul to the grave; neither will You allow Your Holy One to see corruption.
11. You will make known to Me the path of life; in Your presence is fullness of joy. At Your right hand are pleasures forevermore.

PSALM SEVENTEEN

_A Prayer of David._

1. Hear the right, O LORD; attend unto my cry; give ear unto my prayer, for it is not from lips of deceit.
Psalm 17

2. Let my judgment come forth from Your presence; let Your eyes behold things that are upright.
3. You have tried my heart; You have visited me in the night; You have tested me, and You shall find nothing; I have purposed that my mouth shall not transgress.
4. Concerning the works of men, by the words of Your lips, I have kept myself from the paths of the violent.
5. My steps have held fast to Your paths, my feet have not slipped.
6. I have called upon You, for You will answer me, O God; incline Your ear to me; hear my speech.
7. Show Your marvelous lovingkindness, O Savior of those seeking refuge in You; by Your right hand save them from those who rise up against them.
8. Keep me as the apple of Your eye; hide me under the shadow of Your wings from the face of the wicked who oppress me—my deadly enemies who encircle me.
9. They have closed their pitless hearts; with their mouth they speak proudly.
10. They are like a lion that longs to tear his prey, and like a young lion stalking in secret places.
11. Arise, O LORD, confront him, bring him down; deliver my soul from the wicked by Your sword,
12. From men by Your hand, O LORD, from men of the world whose portion is in this life, and whose belly You fill with Your treasure. They are full of children, and will leave their riches to their babes.
13. As for me, I will behold Your face in righteousness; I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with Your likeness.

Psalm 18

1. I love You, O LORD, my strength.
2. The LORD is my Rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my Rock in Whom I take refuge; He is my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower.
3. I will call on the LORD, Who is worthy to be praised, so shall I be saved from my enemies.

5. The cords of the grave hemmed me in, and the floods of ungodliness assailed me.
6. In my distress I called on the LORD, and I cried to my God; He heard my voice out of His temple, and my cry came before Him into His ears.
7. Then the earth shook and trembled; and the foundations also of the hills moved and were shaken because He was angry.
8. Smoke went up out of His nostrils, and fire out of His mouth devoured; coals flamed forth from Him.
9. And He bowed the heavens and came down, and thick darkness was under His feet.
10. And He bowed the heavens and came down, and thick darkness was under His feet.
11. He made darkness His secret place; His pavilion around Him was dark waters and thick clouds of the skies.
12. At the brightness before Him, His dark clouds passed through with hailstones and coals of fire.
13. The LORD also thundered in the heavens, and the Most High gave forth His voice with hailstones and coals of fire.
14. Yea, He sent out His arrows and scattered them; and He shot out lightnings and routed them.
15. Then the channels of waters were seen, and the foundations of the world were laid bare at Your rebuke, O LORD, at the blast of the breath of Your nostrils.
16. He sent from on high, He drew me out of many waters.
17. He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from those who hated me, for they were too strong for me.
18. They confronted me in the day of my calamity, but the LORD was my stay.
19. He brought me forth also into a large place; He delivered me because He delighted in me.
20. The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands He has repaid me.

4. Their line has gone out through all the earth and their words to the ends of the world. In them He has set a tabernacle for the sun,
5. Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoices as a strong man set to run a race,
6. Its going forth is from one end of heaven, and its circuit is to the other end. And there is nothing hidden from its heat.
7. The law of the LORD is perfect, restoring the soul; the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple.
8. The precepts of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart; the commandments of the LORD are pure, enlightening the eyes.

9. The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring forever; the judgments of the LORD are true and righteous altogether,
10. More to be desired than gold, yea, much fine gold; sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.
11. Moreover by them Your servant is warned; in keeping them there is great reward.
12. Who can understand his errors? Oh, cleanse me from my secret faults;
13. And keep back Your servant also from presumptuous sins; do not let them rule over me; then I shall be blameless, and I shall be innocent of great transgression.
14. Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Your sight, O LORD, my Rock and my Redeemer.

4. May He grant you according to your own heart and fulfill all your plans.
5. We will shout for joy in your victory, and in the name of our God we will set up banners. May the LORD fulfill all your prayers.

4. He asked life from You; You give to him length of days forever and ever.
5. His glory is great through Your salvation; honor and majesty You have laid upon him,
6. For You have made him most blessed forever; You made him exceedingly joyful with Your presence;
7. For the king trusts in the LORD and in the mercy of the Most High; he shall not be moved.
8. Your hand shall find all Your enemies; Your right hand shall find those who hate You.
9. You shall make them as a fiery oven in the time of Your anger; the LORD will swallow them up in His wrath, and the fire shall devour them.
10. Their offspring shall You destroy from the earth, and their descendents from among the sons of men;
11. For they intended evil against You; they imagined a wicked thing which they are not able to perform,

2. O my God, I cry in the daytime, but You do not answer; and in the night season, and am not silent.
3. Yet You are holy, O You enthroned upon the praises of Israel.
4. Our fathers trusted in You; they trusted, and You delivered them.
5. They cried to You and were delivered; they trusted in You and were not ashamed.
6. But I am a worm, and no man; a reproach of men and despised by the people.
7. All who see Me mock Me; they shoot out the lip; they shake the head, saying,
8. “He trusted on the LORD; let Him deliver Him; let Him rescue Him, since He delights in Him!”
9. For You are He who took Me out of the womb, causing Me to trust while on My mother’s breasts.
10. I was cast upon You from birth; You are My God from My mother’s womb.
11. Be not far from Me; for trouble is near, for there is none to help.
12. Many bulls have encircled around Me; strong bulls of Bashan have surrounded Me.
13. They opened wide their mouths at Me, like a ravening and a roaring lion.
14. I am poured out like water, and all My bones are out of joint; My heart is like wax; it is melted in the midst of My bowels.
15. My strength is dried up like a potsherd, and My tongue clings to My jaws; and You have pierced My hands and My feet; and You have brought Me into the dust of death.
16. Dogs have surrounded Me; a band of evildoers have encircled Me; they have pierced My hands and My feet; and You have brought Me into the dust of death.
17. I can count all My bones; they look and gloat over Me.
18. They divide My garments among them and cast lots upon My vesture.
19. But You, O LORD, be not far from them and cast lots upon My vesture.
20. They divide My garments among and gloat over Me.
21. Save Me from the lion’s mouth; yea, and from the wild ox’s horns. You have answered Me.
22. I will declare Your name to My brethren; in the midst of the congregation I will praise You.
23. You who fear the LORD, praise Him; all of you, the seed of Jacob, glorify Him; and stand in awe of Him all of you, the seed of Israel.
24. For He has not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted; and He has not hidden His face from him, but when he cried to Him, He heard.
25. From You comes my praise in the great congregation; I will pay my vows before those who fear Him.
26. The meek shall eat and be satisfied; those who seek the LORD shall praise Him; may your heart live forever.

27. All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn to the LORD; and all the families of the nations shall worship before You,
28. For the kingdom is the LORD’S and He rules over the nations.
29. All the rich of the earth shall eat and worship; all those who go down to the dust shall bow before Him; even he who cannot keep his own soul alive.

5. He shall receive the blessing from the LORD and righteousness from the God of his salvation.
6. This is the generation of those who seek Him, who seek Your face, O God of Jacob. Selah.
7. Lift up your heads, O you gates; and be lifted up, O you everlasting doors; that the King of glory may come in.
8. Who is this King of glory? The LORD strong and mighty, the LORD mighty in battle.
9. Lift up your heads, O you gates; lift them up, you everlasting doors; that the King of glory may come in.
10. Who is this King of glory? The LORD of hosts, He is the King of glory. Selah.

4. Show me Your ways, O LORD; teach me Your paths.
5. Lead me in Your truth and teach me, for You are the God of my salvation; on You do I wait all the day long.
6. Remember, O LORD, Your tender mercies and Your lovingkindness, for they have been of old.
7. Do not remember the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions; according to Your lovingkindness remember me for Your goodness’ sake, O LORD.

4. I have not sat with deceitful men, neither will I go in with hypocrites.
5. I have hated the congregation of evil-doers and will not sit with the wicked.
6. I will wash my hands in innocence; so I will go about Your altar, O LORD,
7. That I may cry out with the voice of thanksgiving and tell of all Your wonderful works.
8. LORD, I have loved the dwelling place of Your house, and the place where Your glory dwells.
9. Do not take away my soul with sinners, nor my life with bloody men,
10. In whose hands are evil devices, and their right hand is full of bribes.

1. The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The LORD is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?
2. When the wicked, my enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.
3. Though an army should encamp against me, my heart shall not be afraid; though war should rise against me, even then I will be confident.

4. One thing I have desired from the LORD, that I will seek after: that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the LORD and to inquire in His temple,

5. For in the time of trouble He shall hide me in His pavilion, in the secret place of His tabernacle He shall hide me; He shall set me upon a rock.

6. And now my head shall be lifted up above my enemies round about me; therefore I will offer sacrifices with shouts of joy in His tabernacle. I will sing; yea, I will sing praises unto the LORD.

7. Hear, O LORD, when I cry with my voice; and be gracious unto me and answer me.

8. When You said, “Seek My face,” my heart said to You, “Your face, O LORD, will I seek.”

10. Though my father and my mother forsake me, the LORD will take me up.

11. Teach me Your way, O LORD, and lead me in a level path because of my enemies.

3. Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity, who speak peace to their neighbors, yet evil is in their hearts.

4. Give them according to their deeds, and according to the wickedness of their practices, give them according to the work of their hands; give them what they deserve.

4. Sing praises to the Lord, O you saints of His, and give thanks to His holy name.

7. O Lord, by Your favor You have made my mountain to stand strong; You hid Your face, and I was troubled.
8. I cried to You, O Lord; and I made supplication to the Lord.

10. For my life is spent with grief and my years with sighing; my strength fails because of my iniquity, and my bones have wasted away.
11. Because of all my adversaries I have become a reproach, but especially among my neighbors, and a dread to my friends; those from outside who saw me fled from me.
12. I am forgotten as a dead man, out of mind; I am like a broken vessel,
13. For I have heard the whispering slander of many; terror is on every side; they plotted together against me, they planned to take away my life.

19. Oh, how great is Your goodness, which You have laid up for those who fear You, which You have prepared for those who take refuge in You before the sons of men!
20. You shall hide them in the secret place of Your presence from the plottings of men; You shall hide them in a shelter away from the strife of tongues.
21. Blessed is the Lord, for He has shown His wondrous lovingkindness in a besieged city,
22. For I said in my haste, “I am cut off from before Your eyes;” nevertheless You heard the voice of my supplications when I cried to You.

23. Stir up Yourself and awaken to my defense, even to my cause, my God and my Lord.
24. Judge me, O LORD my God, according to Your righteousness; and do not let them rejoice over me.
25. Do not let them say in their hearts, “Aha! We have our desire!” Do not let them say, “We have swallowed him up.”
26. May those who rejoice at my distress be altogether ashamed and humiliated; let them be clothed with shame and dishonor who magnify themselves against me.
27. Let those who delight in my vindication be jubilant and rejoice; and let them say without ceasing, “The LORD be magnified, Who delights in the peace of His servant.”
28. And my tongue shall speak of Your righteousness and of Your praise all the day long.

PSALM THIRTY-SIX

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, the servant of the LORD.

1. The wicked utters transgression in his heart. There is no fear of God before his eyes,
2. For he flatters himself in his own eyes until his iniquity is found to be hateful.
3. The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit; he has stopped acting wise and doing good.
4. He plots iniquity upon his bed; he sets himself in a way that is not good; he does not hate evil.
5. Your lovingkindness, O LORD, is in the heavens; Your faithfulness reaches to the skies.
6. Your righteousness is like the great mountains; Your judgments are like the great deep; O LORD, You preserve man and beast.
7. How precious is Your lovingkindness, O God! Therefore the children of men take refuge under the shadow of Your wings.
8. They shall be abundantly satisfied with the richness of Your house; and You shall make them drink of the river of Your pleasures,
9. For with You is the fountain of life; in Your light we shall see light.
10. O continue Your lovingkindness to those who know You, and Your righteousness to the upright in heart.
11. Do not let the foot of pride come against me, and do not let the hand of the wicked move me.
12. There the evildoers have fallen; they are cast down, and cannot rise.

PSALM THIRTY-SEVEN

A Psalm of David.

1. Do not fret yourself because of evildoers, and do not be envious against the workers of iniquity.
2. For they shall soon be cut down like the grass; and wither as the green herb.
3. Trust in the LORD, and do good; dwell in the land, and cherish faithfulness.
4. Delight yourself in the LORD, and He shall give you the desires of your heart.
5. Commit your way unto the LORD; trust also in Him, and He will bring it to pass.
6. And He shall bring forth your righteousness like the light, and your judgment like the noonday.
7. Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for Him; do not fret yourself because of him who prospers in his way; because of him who carries out wicked schemes.
8. Cease from anger, and forsake wrath; do not fret yourself, it leads only to evil;
9. For evildoers shall be cut off, but those who wait upon the LORD, they shall inherit the earth.
10. It is but a little while, and the wicked shall be no more; yea, you shall diligently consider his place, but he shall not be there.
11. But the meek shall inherit the earth and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.
12. The wicked plots against the righteous and gnashes against him with his teeth.
13. The LORD laughs at him, for He sees that his day is coming.
14. The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy, to kill those who walk uprightly.
15. Their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.
16. Better is the little that a righteous man has than the riches of many wicked.
17. For the arms of the wicked shall be broken, but the LORD upholds the righteous.
18. The LORD knows the days of the upright, and their inheritance shall be forever.
19. They shall not be ashamed in the time of evil, and in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.
20. But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the LORD shall be like the beauty of pastures—they are consumed, and like smoke they vanish.
21. The wicked borrows and does not pay again, but the righteous is gracious and gives,
22. For those blessed of Him shall inherit the earth; and those cursed of Him shall be cut off.
23. The steps of a good man are made firm by the LORD, and He delights in his way.
24. Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down, for the LORD upholds him with His hand.
25. I have been young, and now I am old; yet I have not seen the righteous forsaken or his children begging bread.
26. All the day long he deals graciously and lends, and his children are blessed.
27. Depart from evil and do good; and live forevermore.
28. For the LORD loves justice and does not forsake His saints; they are preserved forever, but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.
29. The righteous shall inherit the earth and dwell in it forever.
30. The mouth of the righteous speaks wisdom, and his tongue talks of justice.
31. The law of his God is in his heart; none of his steps shall slide.
32. The wicked watches the righteous and seeks to kill him.
33. The LORD will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him when he is judged.
34. Wait on the LORD and keep His way, and He shall exalt you to inherit the earth; when the wicked are cut off, you shall see it.
35. I have seen the ruthless wicked in great power and spreading himself like a luxuriant tree in its native soil.
36. Yet he passed away, and lo, he was no more; and I searched for him, but he could not be found.
37. Mark the blameless man and behold the upright one, for the end of that man is peace.
38. But the sinners shall be destroyed together; the prosperity of the wicked shall be cut off.
39. But the salvation of the righteous is from the LORD; He is their strength in the time of trouble.
40. And the LORD shall help them and deliver them; He shall deliver them from the wicked, and save them because they take refuge in Him.

PSALM THIRTY-EIGHT

A Psalm of David, to bring to remembrance.

1. O LORD, do not rebuke me in Your wrath; neither chasten me in Your fury,
2. For Your arrows stick fast in me, and Your hand presses heavily upon me.
3. There is no soundness in my flesh because of Your anger; nor rest in my bones because of my sin,
4. For my iniquities have gone over my head; like a heavy burden they are too heavy for me.
5. My wounds are putrefied and fester because of my foolishness.
6. I am troubled; I am bowed down heavily for me.
7. For my iniquities have gone over my head; like a heavy burden they are too heavy for me.
8. I am feeble and painfully broken; I groan because of the anguish of my heart.
9. My wounds are putrefied and fester because of my foolishness.
10. My heart pants; my strength fails me; and there is no soundness in my flesh.
11. My loved ones and My friends stand apart from My plague; and My neighbors stand far off.
12. And those who seek my life lay snares for me; and those who seek my hurt speak mischievous things, and plot deceptions all the day long.
13. But like a deaf one, I do not hear; and I am like a dumb one who opens not his mouth.
14. Thus I am as a man who hears not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs; and My neighbors stand far off.
15. For in You, O LORD, do I hope; You will answer, O LORD my God, 16. For I said, “Hear me, lest they rejoice over me; when my foot slips, they magnify themselves against me.”
17. For I am ready to fall, and my pain is always before me,
18. For I will confess my iniquity; I am full of anxiety because of my sin.
19. And my enemies are vigorous; they are strong; and those who hate me without reason are multiplied.
20. And those who render evil for good oppose me because I follow what is good.
21. Forsake me not, O LORD; O my God, be not far from me.
22. Make haste to help me, O LORD my salvation.

PSALM THIRTY-NINE
To the Chief Musician, to Jeduthun.
A Psalm of David.

1. I said, “I will take heed to my ways so that I do not sin with my tongue; I will keep my mouth with a bridle while the wicked are before me.”
2. I became dumb, keeping silent; I said nothing good, and yet my sorrow grew worse.
3. My heart was hot within me; while I was musing, the fire burned; then I spoke with my tongue:
4. “O LORD, make me to know my end and the measure of my days, what it is, that I may know how short lived I am.
5. Behold, You have made my days as a handbreadth, and the span of my days is as nothing before You. Surely every man at his best state is altogether vanity. Selah.
6. Surely every man walks about in a vain show! Surely they are in an uproar in vain. He heaps up riches and does not know who shall gather them.
7. And now, LORD, what do I wait for? My hope is in You.
8. Deliver me from all my transgressions; make me not the reproach of the fool.
9. I was dumb; I did not open my mouth because You have done it.
10. Remove Your stroke away from me; I am consumed by the blow of Your hand.
11. You correct a man for iniquity with rebukes, and You make his beauty to vanish away like a moth. Surely every man is vanity. Selah.
12. Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear to my cry. Do not be silent at my tears; for I am a stranger with You, a sojourner, as all my fathers were.
13. Look away from me, that I may recover strength before I depart and am no more.”

PSALM FORTY
To the Chief Musician.
A Psalm of David.

1. I waited patiently for the LORD, and He inclined unto me and heard my cry.
2. He brought me up also out of a horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon a rock, and established my steps.
3. And He has put a new song in my mouth, even praise to our God; many shall see and fear, and shall trust in the LORD.
4. Blessed is the man who makes the LORD his trust and does not respect the proud, nor those who turn aside to lies.
5. O LORD my God, many things You have done, Your wonderful works and Your thoughts which are toward us; there is none to compare unto You; if I could declare and speak of them, they would be more than can be told.
6. Sacrifice and offering You did not desire; My ears You have opened; burnt offering and sin offering You have not required.
7. Then I said, “Lo, I come; in the scroll of the book it is written of Me; I delight to do Your will, O My God; and Your law is within My heart.”
8. I have preached righteousness in the great congregation; lo, I have not kept back my lips, O LORD, You know.
9. I have not hidden Your righteousness within my heart; I have declared Your faithfulness and Your salvation; I have not hidden Your lovingkindness and Your truth from the great congregation.
10. I do not withhold Your tender mercies from me, O LORD; let Your lovingkindness and Your truth always preserve me,
11. For evils without number have encircled me; my iniquities have taken hold on me, so that I am not able to look up; they are more than the hairs of my head, and my heart fails me.
12. Be pleased, O LORD, to deliver me; O LORD, make haste to help me.
13. Let them be ashamed and confounded together, those who seek after my soul to destroy it; let them be driven backward and put to shame, those who delight in my hurt.
14. Let them be desolate as a reward for their shame, those who say to me, “Aha, aha!”
16. Let all those who seek You rejoice and be glad in You, and let the one who loves Your salvation always say, “Let the LORD be magnified.”

17. But I am poor and needy; may the LORD think upon me; You are my help and my deliverer; O my God, do not delay.

PSALM FORTY-ONE

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1. Blessed is he who considers the poor; the LORD will deliver him in time of trouble.
2. The LORD will watch over him and keep him alive; and he shall be blessed upon the earth; and You will not deliver him over to the will of his enemies.
3. The LORD will strengthen him upon his sickbed; You will sustain him in all his sickness.
4. I said, “LORD, be gracious unto me; heal my soul, for I have sinned against You.”
5. My enemies speak evil of me, saying, “When will he die, and his name perish?”
6. And if he comes to see me, he speaks falsehood; his heart gathers iniquity to itself; he goes out and speaks of it.
7. All who hate me whisper against me; they plot evil against me.
8. They say, “A wicked thing is poured out upon him, and he who lies down shall rise no more.”
9. Even a man, my close friend in whom I trusted, who ate of my bread, has lifted up his heel against me.
10. But You, O LORD, be gracious unto me and raise me up, so that I may repay them.
11. By this I know that You delight in me because my enemy does not triumph over me.
12. And as for me, You uphold me in my integrity; and You set me before Your face forever.
13. Blessed is the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting to everlasting. Amen and Amen!

BOOK TWO

PSALM FORTY-TWO

To the Chief Musician. A contemplation for the sons of Korah.

1. As the hart pants after the water brooks, so my soul pants after You, O God.
2. My soul thirsts for God, for the living God; when shall I come and appear before God?
3. My tears have been my food day and night, while they say to me all the day, “Where is your God?”
4. I remember these things, I pour out my soul within me; for I used to go along with the multitude; I led them to the house of God with the voice of joy and praise, a multitude keeping the feast.
5. Why are you cast down, O my soul, and moan within me? Hope in God, for I shall yet praise Him for the salvation of His countenance.
6. O my God, my soul is cast down within me; therefore I will remember You from the land of Jordan, and of the Hermos from Mount Mizar.
7. Deep calls unto deep at the noise of Your waterfalls; all Your waves and Your billows have gone over me.
8. The LORD will command His loving-kindness in the daytime, and in the night His song shall be with me, even a prayer to the God of my life.
9. I will say to God my Rock, “Why have You forgotten me? Why do I go mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?”
10. As with a crushing in my bones, my enemies taunt me while they say to me all day long, “Where is your God?”
11. Why are you cast down, O my soul? And why do you moan within me? Hope in God, for I shall yet praise Him, the salvation of my countenance, and my God.

PSALM FORTY-THREE

1. Vindicate me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation. Oh, deliver me from the deceitful and unjust man,
2. For You are the God of my strength; why do You cast me off? Why do I go mourning under the oppression of the enemy?
3. Oh, send out Your light and Your truth; let them lead me; let them bring me to Your holy mountain and to Your tabernacles.
4. Then I will go to the altar of God, to God my exceeding joy; yea, upon the lyre I will praise You, O God, my God.
5. Why are you cast down, O my soul? And why do you moan within me? Hope in God, for I shall yet praise Him, the salvation of my countenance, and my God.
PSALM FORTY-FOUR

To the Chief Musician.
A contemplation for the sons of Korah.

1. We have heard with our ears, O God; our fathers have told us the work which You did in their days, in the days of old.
2. You drove out the nations with Your hand and planted them; You did afflict the people and cast them out,
3. For not by their own sword did they possess the land, neither did their own arm save them; but it was Your right hand, and Your arm, and the light of Your countenance because You favored them.
4. You are my King, O God; command deliverance for Jacob.
5. Through You we will push back our enemies; through Your name we will trample those who rise up against us,
6. For I will not trust in my bow, neither shall my sword save me.
7. But You have saved us from our enemies and have put them to shame, those who hated us.
8. In God we boast all the day long and praise Your name forever. Selah.

PSALM FORTY-FIVE

To the Chief Musician, “Concerning the Lilies.” A contemplation for the sons of Korah. A Song of Loves.

1. My heart overflows with a goodly matter; I speak of my works to the King; my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.
2. You are more excellent than the children of men; grace is poured upon Your lips; therefore God has blessed You forever.
3. Gird Your sword upon Your thigh, O Mighty One, with Your glory and Your majesty.
4. And ride victoriously in Your majesty in behalf of truth and meekness and righteousness; and let Your right hand teach You awesome things.
5. Your arrows are sharp in the heart of the King’s enemies, whereby the people fall under You.
6. Your throne, O God, is forever and ever; a scepter of justice is the scepter of Your kingdom.
7. You love righteousness and hate wickedness; therefore God, Your God, has anointed You with the oil of gladness above Your fellows.
8. All Your garments smell of myrrh, and aloes and cassia, out of the ivory palaces, stringed instruments have made You glad.
9. Kings’ daughters are among Your honorable women; on Your right hand stands the queen in gold from Ophir.
10. Hearken, O daughter, and consider and incline your ear; and forget also your own people and your father’s house.
11. Then the King will greatly desire your beauty; for He is your Lord, so honor Him.
12. And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift; even the rich among the people shall entreat your favor.
13. The king’s daughter is all glorious within; her clothing is trimmed with gold.
14. She shall be brought to the King in embroidered garments; the virgins, her companions who follow after her, shall be brought to You.
15. They shall be led with joy and gladness; they shall enter into the King’s palace.
16. Your sons shall be in the place of your fathers; you will make them princes in all the land.
17. I will make Your name to be remembered in all generations; therefore the people shall praise You forever and ever.

PSALM FORTY-SIX

To the Chief Musician.
A Song for the sons of Korah.

1. God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.
2. Therefore we will not fear, though the earth should change and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea,
3. Though its waters roar and foam, though the mountains shake with the swelling of it. Selah.
4. There is a river whose streams make the city of God rejoice, the holy dwelling place of the Most High.
5. God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved; God shall help her at the approach of the morning.
6. The nations raged, the kingdoms were shaken; He uttered His voice, the earth melted.
7. The LORD of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.
8. Come, behold the works of the LORD of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.
9. Who makes wars to cease to the ends of the earth; He breaks the bow and cuts the spear in two; He burns the chariots in the fire.
10. “Be still, and know that I am God! I will be exalted among the nations, I will be exalted in the earth.”
11. The LORD of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.

PSALM FORTY-SEVEN

To the Chief Musician.
A Psalm for the sons of Korah.

1. Clap your hands, all you people; shout to God with the voice of triumph,
2. For the LORD Most High is awesome; He is a great King over all the earth.
3. He shall subdue the people under us and nations under our feet.
4. He shall choose our inheritance for us, the excellency of Jacob whom He loved. Selah.
5. God has gone up with a shout, the LORD with the sound of a horn.
6. Sing praises to God, sing praises; sing praises to our King, sing praises,
7. For God is King of all the earth; sing praises with understanding.
8. God reigns over the nations; God sits upon the throne of His holiness.
9. The rulers of the peoples are gathered together, the people of the God of Abraham for the shields of the earth are God’s; He is greatly exalted.

PSALM FORTY-EIGHT

A Song and Psalm for the sons of Korah.

1. Great is the LORD, and highly to be praised in the city of our God, in His holy mountain.
2. Beautiful in its loftiness, the joy of all the earth is Mount Zion on the sides of the north, the city of the great King.
3. God in her palace has shown Himself to be a fortress,
4. For lo, the kings assembled themselves; they advanced together.
5. They saw and so they marveled; they were troubled, and hurried away.
6. Fear took hold upon them there, and pain, like a woman in labor.
7. You break the ships of Tarshish with an east wind.
8. As we have heard, so we have seen in the city of the LORD of hosts, in the city of our God. God will establish it forever. Selah.
9. We have thought of Your lovingkindness, O God, in the midst of Your temple.
10. As is Your name, O God, so is Your praise to the ends of the earth. Your right hand is full of righteousness.
11. Let Mount Zion rejoice! Let the daughters of Judah shout for joy because of Your judgments!
12. Walk around Zion, and go all around her; count her towers;
13. Consider her ramparts, go through her palaces, so that you may tell it to the coming generation,
14. For this God is our God forever and ever; He will guide us even unto death.

PSALM FORTY-NINE

*To the Chief Musician.
A Psalm for the sons of Korah.*

1. Hear this, all you people; give ear, all inhabitants of the world:
2. Both low and high, rich and poor together.
3. My mouth shall speak of wisdom, and the thoughts of my heart shall be of understanding.
4. I will incline my ear to a parable; I will open my dark saying upon the lyre.
5. Why should I fear in the days of evil, when the iniquity of my supplanters surrounds me?
6. Those who trust in their wealth and in their many riches boast themselves.
7. No man can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him—
8. For the redemption of their soul is costly, and no payment is ever enough.
9. That he should live forever and never see corruption,
10. For he sees wise men die; likewise the fool and the brutish person perish together.
11. Their inward thought is that their houses shall go on forever, and their dwelling places to all generations; they call their lands after their own names.
12. Nevertheless man, though high in honor, does not remain; he is like the beasts that perish.
13. This is the way of the foolish, and of their followers who delight in their sayings. Selah.
14. Like sheep they are appointed to the grave; death shall be their shepherd and the upright shall have the rule over them in the morning; and their form shall decay in the grave far from their home.
15. But God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave, for He will receive me. Selah.
16. Be not afraid when one becomes rich, when the wealth of his house increases;
17. For when he dies he shall take nothing with him; his wealth shall not descend after him.
18. Though during his life he blessed his soul; yea, men will praise you when you do well to yourself.
19. He shall go to the generation of his fathers; they shall never see light.
20. A man in honor, but without understanding, is like the beasts; they shall perish.
16. But to the wicked God says, "What right have you to declare My statutes, and to take up My covenant in your mouth? 17. Yea, you hate to be taught, and you cast My words behind you. 18. When you saw a thief, then you were pleased to be with him, and you have taken part with adulterers. 19. You give your mouth to evil, and your tongue frames deceit. 20. You sit; you speak against your brother; you slander your own mother’s son.

21. These things you have done, and I have kept silence; you thought that I was like yourself, but I will rebuke you, and set them in order before your eyes. 22. Now consider this, you who forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.

23. Whoever offers praise glorifies Me; and he who sets his conduct aright, I will show him the salvation of God."

PSALM FIFTY-ONE

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, when Nathan the prophet came to him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba.

1. Have mercy upon me, O God, according to Your lovingkindness; according to the greatness of Your compassion, blot out my transgressions.
2. Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin, and my sin is ever before me.
3. For I acknowledge my transgressions, and my sin is ever before me.
4. Against You, You only, have I sinned, and done evil in Your sight, that You might be justified when You speak and be in the right when You judge.
5. Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me.
6. Behold, You desire truth in the inward parts; and in the hidden part You shall make me to know wisdom.
7. Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.
8. Make me to hear joy and gladness that the bones which You have broken may rejoice.
9. Hide Your face from my sins, and blot out all my iniquities.
10. Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me.

11. Cast me not away from Your presence, and take not Your Holy Spirit from me.
12. Restore to me the joy of Your salvation, and let Your free spirit uphold me.
13. Then I will teach transgressors Your ways, and sinners shall turn back to You.
14. Deliver me from the guilt of shedding blood, O God, O God of my salvation, then my tongue shall sing aloud of Your righteousness.
15. O LORD, open my lips, and my mouth shall declare Your praise, and he who sets his conduct aright, I will show him the salvation of God."

PSALM FIFTY-TWO

To the Chief Musician. A contemplation. A Psalm of David, when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, and said to him, “David has come to the house of Ahimelech.”

2. Your tongue devises destruction, like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.
3. You love evil more than good, and lying more than to speak righteousness. Selah.
4. You love all devouring words, O deceitful tongue.
5. God will likewise destroy you forever; He shall take you away, and pluck you out of your tent, and root you out of the land of the living. Selah.
6. And the righteous shall see, and fear, and shall laugh at him, saying.
7. “Behold, the man who did not make God his stronghold, but trusted in the abundance of his riches. He strengthened himself in his wickedness.”
8. But I am like a green olive tree in the house of God; I trust in the mercy of God forever and ever.
9. I will praise You forever because You have done it; and I will wait on Your name, for it is good in the presence of Your saints.

PSALM FIFTY-THREE

_To the Chief Musician on Mahalath._
_A contemplation._ _A Psalm of David._

1. The fool has said in his heart, “There is no God.” They are corrupt, and have worked out abominable wickedness; there is no one who does good.
2. God looked down from heaven upon the children of men to see if there were any who understand, who are seeking after God.
3. Every one has turned away; they have altogether become corrupt; no one is doing good, no, not even one.
4. Will the workers of iniquity never learn? They eat up my people as they eat bread; they have not called upon God.
5. There they were in great fear where no fear was, for God has scattered the bones of him who camps against you; you have put them to shame because God has rejected them.
6. Oh, that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! When God brings back His people out of exile, let Jacob rejoice and Israel be glad.

PSALM FIFTY-FOUR

_To the Chief Musician, on stringed instruments._ _A contemplation._ _A Psalm of David,_ when the Ziphites came and said to Saul, “Does not David hide himself among us?”

1. Save me, O God, by Your name, and vindicate me by Your might.
2. Hear my prayer, O God; give ear to the words of my mouth,
3. For strangers have risen up against me, and violent men seek after my soul; they have not set God before them. Selah.
4. Behold, God is my helper; the LORD is with those who uphold my soul.
5. He shall reward evil to my enemies. Destroy them in Your faithfulness.
6. I will freely sacrifice to You; I will praise Your name, O LORD, for it is good,
7. For He has delivered me out of all trouble, and my eye has seen its desire upon my enemies.

PSALM FIFTY-FIVE

_To the Chief Musician._ _For stringed instruments._ _A contemplation._ _A Psalm of David._

1. Give ear to my prayer, O God, and hide not Yourself from my supplication.
2. Attend to me, and answer me; I am distraught in my trouble and moan in my complaint.
3. Because of the voice of the enemy; because of the oppression of the wicked—for they cast mischief upon me, and in anger they hate me.
4. My heart is pained within me; and the terrors of death have fallen upon me.
5. Fear and trembling have come upon me, and horror has overwhelmed me.
6. And I said, “Oh, that I had wings like a dove! I would fly away and be at rest. 7. Lo, then I would wander far off; I would lodge in the wilderness. Selah.
8. I would hasten to a place of shelter from the windy storm and tempest.”
9. Destroy, O LORD, and divide their tongues; for I have seen violence and strife in the city.
10. They go around her upon her walls by day and night; and iniquity and mischief are in her midst.
11. Wickedness is in her midst; oppression and guile will not depart from her streets,
12. For it is not an enemy who reviled me—then I could have borne it. It is not one who hates me who magnified himself against me—or I would hide myself from him.
13. But it is you, a man my equal, my companion and my familiar friend.
14. We took sweet counsel together and walked into the house of God with the throng.
15. Let death take hold upon them, and let them go down alive into the grave; for evil is among them and in their dwellings,
16. As for me, I will call upon God, and the LORD will save me.
17. Evening and morning, and at noon, I will cry aloud in my distress; and He shall hear my voice.
18. He has redeemed my soul in peace from the battle that was against me, for there were many against me.
19. God shall hear and afflict them, even He who is enthroned of old. Selah. Those who never change their ways and have no fear of God.
20. He has put forth his hands against those who were at peace with him; he has broken his covenant.
21. The words of his mouth were smoother than butter, but war was in his heart; his words were softer than oil, yet they were drawn swords.
22. Cast your burden upon the LORD, and He will sustain you; He will never allow the righteous to be moved.
23. But You, O God, will bring them down into the pit of destruction; bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days but I will trust in You.

PSALM FIFTY-SIX

To the Chief Musician. “Concerning the silent dove—those far off.”
Of David, a secret treasure—when the Philistines took him in Gath.
1. Be gracious unto me, O God, for man would swallow me up; fighting all the day, he oppresses me.
2. Those who lie in wait for me would trample me, for many are those who proudly fight against me.
3. When I am afraid, I will trust in You.
4. In God—I will praise His word—in God I have put my trust; I will not be afraid. What can flesh do to me?
5. All day long they pervert my words; all their thoughts are against me for evil.
6. They stir up strife; they hide themselves; they watch my steps as they wait for my soul.
7. Because of iniquity cast them out. In Your anger cast down the people, O God.
8. You number my wanderings, O put my tears into Your bottle; are they not in Your book?
9. When I cry out to You, then my enemies will be turned back. This I know because God is for me.
10. In God—I will praise His word; in the LORD—I will praise His word.
11. In God I have put my trust; I will not be afraid. What can man do to me?
12. Your vows are upon me, O God; I will give thank offerings to You.
13. For You have delivered my soul from death. Have You not kept my feet from falling, so that I may walk before God in the light of the living?

PSALM FIFTY-SEVEN

To the Chief Musician. “Do not destroy.”
A secret treasure of David when he fled from Saul in the cave.
1. Be gracious unto me, O God, be gracious unto me; for my soul trusts in You; yea, in the shadow of Your wings I will make my refuge until these great troubles pass by.
2. I will cry to God Most High, to God who fulfills His purpose for me.
3. He shall send from heaven and save me; He rebukes him who would swallow me up. Selah. God shall send forth His mercy and His truth.
4. My soul is among lions; I lie among those who breathe out fire, the sons of men whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.
5. Be exalted, O God, above the heavens; let Your glory be above all the earth.
6. They have prepared a net for my steps; my soul is bowed down; they have dug a pit before me; into the midst of it they have fallen themselves. Selah.
7. My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed; I will sing and give praise.
8. Awake, my glory! Awake, harp and lyre! I myself will awake the dawn.
9. I will praise You, O Lord, among the people; I will sing of You among the nations,
10. For Your steadfast mercy is great even unto the heavens and Your truth to the clouds.
11. Be exalted above the heavens, O God; let Your glory be above all the earth.

PSALM FIFTY-EIGHT

To the Chief Musician. “Do not destroy.”
A secret treasure of David.
1. Do you indeed speak righteousness, O mighty lords? Do you judge uprightly, O sons of men?
2. Yea! In your heart you work wickedness; you weigh out the violence from your hands in the earth.
3. The wicked are estranged from the womb; they who speak lies go astray from birth.
4. Their venom is like the venom of a serpent; he stops his ear like the deaf adder,
5. Which will not listen to the charmer’s voice, though a skillful caster of spells.
6. O God, break their teeth in their mouth; shatter the fangs of the young lions, O LORD.
7. Let them melt away like waters which run off continually. When he aims his arrows, let them be as though they were cut off.
8. Let them be as a slug which is melting away; as a miscarriage of a woman, so they may never see the sun.
9. Before your pots can feel the thorns, He shall take them away as with a whirlwind—whether green or dry.
10. The righteous shall rejoice when he sees the vengeance; he shall bathe his footsteps in the blood of the wicked,
11. So that a man shall say, “Truly, there is a reward for the righteous; truly, there is a God Who is judging in the earth.”

PSALM FIFTY-NINE

To the Chief Musician. “Do not destroy.”

A secret treasure of David, when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him.

1. Deliver me from my enemies, O my God; defend me from those who rise up against me.
2. Deliver me from the workers of evil and save me from bloody men,
3. For behold, they lie in wait for my soul; the mighty are gathered against me—not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O LORD.
4. Without my fault they run and prepare themselves; awaken to help me, and look upon me.
5. And You therefore, O LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, awake to punish all the nations; show no mercy to any wicked traitors. Selah.
6. They return at evening; they snarl like a dog, and prowl about the city.
7. Behold, they bellow out with their mouths; swords are in their lips, for they say, “Who hears?”
8. But You, O LORD, shall laugh at them; You shall hold all the nations in derision.
9. Because of His strength will I wait for You, for God is my strong tower.
10. The God of my steadfast love shall go before me; God shall let me see my desire upon my enemies.
11. Do not kill them. lest my people forget; scatter them by Your power and bring them down, O LORD, our shield,
12. For the sin of their mouth and the word of their lips, let them even be taken in their pride, and for the cursing and lying which they speak.
13. Consume them in wrath; consume, so that they may be no more; and let them know that God rules in Jacob to the ends of the earth. Selah.
14. And at evening they shall return; they snarl like a dog, and prowl about the city.
15. They wander up and down for food, and growl if they are not satisfied.
16. But I will sing of Your power; yea, I will sing aloud of Your mercy in the morning; for You have been my fortress and refuge in the day of my trouble.
17. To You, O my Strength, I will sing; for God is my fortress and the God who shows me steadfast love.

PSALM SIXTY

2. You made the earth to tremble; You have split it open; heal the breaks of it, for it is shaking.
3. You have shown Your people hard things; You have made us to drink the wine of staggering.
4. You have given a banner to those who fear You that it may be displayed because of the truth. Selah.
5. Save with Your right hand and answer me, that Your beloved may be delivered.
6. God has spoken in His holiness: “I will rejoice; I will divide Shechem and measure out the valley of Succoth.
7. Gilead is Mine, and Manasseh is Mine; and Ephraim is the strength of My head; Judah is My scepter;
8. Moab is My washpot; upon Edom I will cast My shoe; over Philistia I shout in triumph.”
9. Who will bring me into the fortified city? Who will lead me into Edom?
10. Have not You, O God, cast us off? And was it not You, O God, Who did not go out with our armies?
11. O give us help against our foe, for vain is the help of man.
12. Through God we shall do great things, for it is He who shall tread down our enemies.

PSALM SIXTY-ONE

1. Hear my cry, O God; attend unto my prayer.
2. From the end of the earth I cry to You when my heart is overwhelmed; lead me to the Rock higher than me,
3. For You have been a shelter for me, a strong tower against the enemy.
4. I will dwell in Your tabernacle forever; I will take refuge in the hiding place of Your wings. Selah.
5. For You, O God, have heard my vows; You have given me the heritage of those who fear Your name.
6. May You add to the days of the king's life; may his years be as many generations.
7. May he abide before God forever; prepare mercy and truth to preserve him.
8. So I will sing praise to Your name forever, so that I may daily perform my vows.

PSALM SIXTY-TWO

A Psalm of David.

1. Only for God does my soul wait in silence; from Him comes my salvation.
2. He only is my Rock and my salvation; He is my fortress; I shall not be greatly moved.
3. How long will you imagine mischief against a man? You shall be slain, all of you; you shall be like a bowing wall and as a tottering fence.
4. They only consult to cast him down from his great height; they delight in lies; they bless with their mouth, but inwardly they curse. Selah.
5. My soul, wait in silence for God alone; for from Him comes my hope.
6. He only is my Rock and my salvation; He is my strong tower; I shall not be moved.
7. In God is my salvation and my glory, the Rock of my strength; my refuge is in God.
8. Trust in Him at all times, you people; pour out your heart before Him; God is a refuge for us. Selah.
9. Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie; when weighed in the balance, they are altogether lighter than vanity.
10. Trust not in oppression, and do not take pride in stolen goods; if riches increase, do not set your heart upon them.
11. God has spoken once; twice I have heard this: that power belongs to God.
12. Also to You, O LORD, belongs mercy; for You give to every man according to his work.

PSALM SIXTY-THREE

A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

1. O God, You are my God, earnestly I will seek You! My soul thirsts for You. My flesh longs for You, as in a dry and thirsty land where no water is,
2. To see Your power and Your glory—as I have seen You in the sanctuary.
3. Because Your lovingkindness is better than life, my lips shall praise You.
4. Thus I will bless You as long as I live; I will lift up my hands in Your name.
5. My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness; and my mouth shall praise You with joyful lips
6. When I remember You upon my bed and meditate on You in the night watches.
7. Because You have been my help, therefore in the shadow of Your wings I will rejoice.
8. My soul follows hard after You; Your right hand upholds me.
9. But those who seek my life to destroy it shall go into the depths of the earth.
10. They shall fall by the sword; they shall be a serving for jackals.
11. But the king shall rejoice in God; everyone who swears by Him shall glory, but the mouth of those who speak lies shall be stopped.

PSALM SIXTY-FOUR

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

1. Hear my voice, O God, in my complaint; preserve my life from fear of the enemy.
2. Hide me from the secret counsel of the wicked, from the rebellion of the workers of iniquity,
3. Who sharpen their tongue like a sword and bend their bows to shoot their arrows, even bitter words;
4. So that they may shoot at the blameless from concealment—suddenly they shoot at him, and fear not.
5. They encourage themselves in an evil plan; they talk of laying snares secretly; they say, “Who shall see them?”
6. They plot injustices, saying, “We have made a perfect plan.” For the inward thought and heart of man is cunning.
7. But God shall shoot at them with an arrow; suddenly they shall be wounded.
8. So they shall make their own tongue a stumbling block for themselves. Everyone seeing them shall shake the head.
9. And all men shall fear and shall declare the work of God, for they shall wisely consider His doing.
10. The righteous shall be glad in the LORD and shall take refuge in Him, and all the upright in heart shall glory.

9. You visit the earth and water it; You enrich it greatly; the river of God is full of water; You provide their grain, for in this way You have prepared it.
10. You water its ridges abundantly; You deepen its furrows; You make it soft with showers; You bless its growth.
11. You crown the year with Your goodness, and Your paths drop fatness.

9. He Who keeps us in life and does not allow our feet to slide,
10. For You have tested us, O God. You have refined us as silver is refined.
11. You have brought us into the net. You have laid affliction upon our loins.
12. You have caused men to ride over our head. We have gone through fire and through water, but You have brought us out to a place of abundance.
13. I will come into Your house with burnt offerings; I will pay You my vows, which my lips have uttered and my mouth has spoken when I was in trouble.
14. Which my lips have uttered and my mouth has spoken when I was in trouble.
15. I will offer to You burnt sacrifices of fatlings, with the incense of rams; I will offer bulls with goats. Selah.
16. Come and hear, all you who fear God, and I will declare what He has done for my soul.
17. I cried to Him with my mouth, and He was extolled with my tongue.
18. If I regard iniquity in my heart, the LORD will not hear me;
19. Surely God has heard; He has attended to the voice of my prayer.
20. Blessed be God Who has not turned away my prayer, nor His steadfast love from me.

PSALM SIXTY-EIGHT

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David. A Song.

1. Let God arise, let His enemies be scattered; also let those who hate Him flee before Him.

2. As smoke is driven away, so drive it away; as wax melts before the fire, so let the wicked perish in the presence of God.

3. But let the righteous be glad; let them rejoice before God. Yea, let them exceedingly rejoice.

4. Sing to God, sing praises to His name; extol Him who rides upon the clouds Whose name is the LORD, and rejoice before Him.

5. In His holy habitation God is the father of the fatherless and the judge of the widows.

6. God gives the lonely a home to dwell in; He brings out those who are bound with chains, but the rebellious dwell in a dry land.
were the maidens playing the timbrels.

26. O bless God in the congregations, even the Lord, You Who are from the fountain of Israel.

27. There is little Benjamin with their ruler, the leaders of Judah and their multitude, the leaders of Zebulun, and the leaders of Naphtali.

28. Your God has commanded your strength; O God, be strong in that which You have worked out for us,

29. Out of Your temple in Jerusalem, where kings shall bring presents to You.

30. Rebut the wild beasts of the reeds, the multitude of bulls, the calves of the people, trampling underfoot the pieces of silver. He scatters the people who delight in war.

34. Ascribe power to God: His majesty is over Israel, and His strength is in the clouds.

35. O God, You are awesome from Your clouds.

Psalms 68 - 69

1. Save me, O God, for the waters have come in upon my soul!
2. I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing; I have come into deep waters, where the floods overwhelm me.
3. I am weary with my crying; my throat is parched; my eyes fail while I wait for my God.
4. Those who hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of my head; those who would cut me off are mighty being wrongfully my enemies. Should I restore what I did not take away?
5. O God, You know my foolishness, and my sins are not hidden from You.
6. Do not let those who wait on You, O Lord God of hosts, be ashamed because of me; let not the ones who seek You be ashamed because of me, O God of Israel.

7. Because for Your sake I have borne reproach, shame has covered my face.
8. I have become a stranger to My brothers and an alien to My mother’s children.
9. For the zeal of Your house has eaten Me up, and the reproaches of those who reproached You have fallen upon Me.
10. When I wept in my soul with fasting, it became my reproach.
11. I also made sackcloth my clothing, and I became a proverb to them.
12. Those who sit in the gate speak about me; and I was the song of the drunkards.
13. But as for me, my prayer is to You, O LORD, in an acceptable time; O God, in the abundance of Your mercy answer me, in the truth of Your salvation.
14. Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink; let me be delivered from those who hate me and out of the deep waters.
15. Do not let the flood of waters overflow me, nor let the deep swallow me up, and let not the pit shut its mouth upon me.
16. Answer me, O LORD, for Your steadfast love is good; turn unto me according to the multitude of Your tender mercies.
17. And hide not Your face from Your servant, for I am in trouble; answer me speedily.
18. Draw near unto my soul and redeem it; deliver me because of my enemies.
19. You have known my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonor; my enemies are all before You.
20. Reproach has broken my heart, and I am full of heavi ness; and I looked for sympathy, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none.
21. They also gave Me gall for My food; and I became a proverb to them.
22. Let their table become a snare before them; and when they are at peace, let it become a trap.
23. Let their eyes be darkened, so that they do not see; and make their loins shake without ceasing.
24. Pour out Your indignation upon them, and let the fierceness of anger take hold of them.
25. Let their encampment be desolate; let none dwell in their tents.
26. For they persecute him whom You... have stricken, and they recount the grief of those You have wounded.
27. Add iniquity unto their iniquity, and let them not come into Your righteousness.
28. Let them be blotted out of the Book of Life and not be written with the righteous.
29. But I am poor and sorrowful; let Your salvation, O God, set me up on high.
30. I will praise the name of God with a song and will magnify Him with thanksgiving.
31. This also shall please the LORD better than a bullock that has horns and hoofs.
32. The humble shall see and be glad; and your heart shall live, you who seek God,
33. For the LORD hears the needy and does not despise His prisoners.
34. Let the heavens and earth praise Him, the seas, and everything that moves in them,
35. For God will save Zion, and will build the cities of Judah; so that they may dwell there and possess it.
36. And the seed of His servants shall inherit it, and those who love His name shall dwell in it.

PSALM SEVENTY

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, to bring to remembrance.
1. Make haste, O God, to deliver me; make haste to help me, O LORD.
2. Let them be ashamed and confounded, those who seek after my soul; let them be turned backward and put to confusion, those who desire my hurt.
3. Let them be turned back for a reward of their shame, those who say, “Aha, aha!”
4. Let all those who seek You rejoice and be glad in You; and let those who love Your salvation say without ending, “Let God be magnified.”
5. But I am poor and needy; make haste unto me, O God; You are my help and my deliverer; O LORD, wait no longer!

PSALM SEVENTY-ONE

1. In You, O LORD, have I taken refuge; let me never be put to shame.
2. Deliver me in Your righteousness and cause me to escape; incline Your ear unto me, and save me.
3. Be my strong Rock of refuge to which I may always go; You have commanded to save me; for You are my Rock and my Fortress.
4. Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and ruthless man,
5. For You are my hope, O Lord GOD, my trust from my youth.
6. By You I have been upheld from the womb; You are He who took me out of my mother’s belly; my praise always shall be of You.
7. I am like a wonder to many, but You are my strong refuge.
8. Let my mouth be filled with Your praise, with Your glory all the day.
9. Cast me not off in the time of old age; forsake me not when my strength fails,
10. For my enemies speak against me; and those who watch for my soul plot together,
11. Saying, “God has forsaken him; pursue and take him, for there is none to deliver him.”
12. O God, be not far from me; O my God, make haste to help me.
13. Let them be ashamed; let those who are enemies of my soul be consumed; let them be covered with reproach and dishonor, those who seek my hurt.
14. But I will hope without ceasing, and I will praise You more and more.
15. My mouth shall show forth Your righteousness and Your salvation all the day, for I do not know how many they are.
16. I will go in the strength of the Lord GOD; I will speak of Your righteousness, even of Yours alone.
17. O God, You have taught me from my youth; and until now I have declared Your wonderful works.
18. But now also when I am old and grayheaded, O God, do not forsake me until I have declared Your strength to this generation, and Your power to everyone who is to come.
19. And Your righteousness, O God, is very high, You Who have done great things. O God, who is like You?
20. You Who have shown me many and sore troubles—You will revive me again; You will bring me up again from the depths of the earth.
21. You will increase my greatness and surround and comfort me on every side.
22. I will also praise You with the harp for Your truth, O my God; I will sing praises unto you with the lyre, O Holy One of Israel.
23. My lips shall greatly rejoice when I sing to You, and my life, which You have redeemed.
24. My tongue also shall talk of Your righteousness all the day long, for those who seek my hurt are confounded; they are brought to shame.

PSALM SEVENTY-TWO

_A Psalm of Solomon._

1. Give the king Your judgments, O God, and Your righteousness to the king’s son; 2. That he may judge Your people in righteousness and Your poor with justice. 3. The mountains shall bring peace to the people, and the little hills, by righteousness. 4. He shall judge the poor of the people; He shall save the children of the needy and shall crush in pieces the oppressor. 5. They shall fear You as long as the sun and moon endure throughout all generations. 6. He shall come down like rain upon the mown grass, like showers that water the earth. 7. In His days the righteous shall flourish and abundance of peace until the moon be no more. 8. He shall also have the rule from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth. 9. Those who dwell in the wilderness shall bow before Him, and His enemies shall lick the dust. 10. The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents; the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts. 11. Yea, all kings shall prostrate themselves before Him; all nations shall serve Him. 12. For He shall deliver the needy when he cries, and the poor with the one who has no helper. 13. He shall have compassion upon the weak and needy, and shall save the lives of the needy. 14. He shall redeem their life from oppression and violence; and their blood shall be precious in His sight.

15. And he shall live, and to him shall be given the gold of Sheba, and they may pray continually for him; also daily he shall be praised. 16. May there be an abundance of grain in the earth upon the top of the mountains; may its fruit wave like Lebanon, and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth. 17. His name shall endure forever; His name shall be continued as long as the sun; and men shall be blessed in Him; all nations shall call Him blessed. 18. Blessed is the LORD God, the God of Israel, Who alone does wondrous things. 19. And blessed be His glorious name forever; and all the earth is filled with His glory! Amen and Amen.

20. The prayers of David the son of Jesse are ended.

BOOK THREE

(_PSALMS 73-89_)

PSALM SEVENTY-THREE

_A Psalm of Asaph._

1. Truly God is good to Israel, even to those who are pure of heart. 2. But as for me, my feet had almost stumbled; my steps had nearly slipped, 3. For I was envious at the arrogant when I saw the prosperity of the wicked, 4. For there are no pangs in their death, and their strength is firm. 5. They are not in trouble like other men; neither are they plagued like other men. 6. Therefore pride is as a chain about their neck. Violence covers them like a garment. 7. Their eyes stand out with fatness; they have more than the heart could wish for. 8. They scoff and speak with malice; in their arrogance they threaten oppression. 9. They set their mouth against the heavens, and their tongue walks through the earth.

10. Therefore waters of abundance are drunk by them. 11. And they say, “How does God know? And is there knowledge in the Most High?” 12. Behold, these are the wicked, who prosper in the world; they increase in riches. 13. Surely I have made my heart pure in vain and washed my hands in innocence,
14. For all the day long I have been plagued and chastened every morning.
15. If I say, “I will speak thus;” behold, I would have betrayed the generation of Your children.
16. When I thought to understand this, it was too painful for me
17. Until I went into the sanctuary of God; then I understood their end.
18. Surely You set them in slippery places; You cast them down into destruction.
19. How have they been brought into desolation, as in a moment! They are utterly consumed with terrors,
20. Like a dream when one awakens; so, O L ORD, when You awake, You shall despise their image,
21. For thus my heart was grieved and I was pricked in my reins.
22. So foolish was I, and ignorant; I was like a beast before You.
23. Nevertheless I am always with You; You have held me by my right hand.
24. You shall guide me with Your counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.
25. Whom have I in heaven but You? And besides You I desire none upon earth.
26. My flesh and my heart fail, but God is the rock of my heart and my portion forever,
27. For lo, those who are far from You shall perish; You have destroyed all who go awarring from You.
28. And me, it is good for me to draw near to God; I have made the L ORD God my refuge, that I may declare all Your works.

PSALM SEVENTY-FOUR

An Instruction of Asaph.

1. O God, why have You cast us off forever? Why does Your anger smoke against the sheep of Your pasture?
2. Remember Your congregation, which You have purchased of old, the rod of Your inheritance which You have redeemed; this Mount Zion in which You have dwelt.
3. Lift up Your feet unto the perpetual ruins; all this destruction the enemy has done in the sanctuary.
4. Your enemies roar in the midst of Your congregation; they set up their own banners for signs.
5. They seem like men who lifted up their axes against the thick trees.
6. With axes and hammers, they strike down all its carved idols at once.
7. They burned Your sanctuary to the ground; they defiled the dwelling place of Your name.
8. They said in their hearts, “Together let us rage against them;” they have burned up all God’s meeting places in the land.
9. We did not see our signs; there is no longer any prophet; neither is there among us any who knows how long.
10. O God, how long shall the adversary speak evil? Shall the enemy blaspheme Your name forever?
11. Why do You withdraw Your hand, even Your right hand? Draw it out of Your bosom and consume them,
12. For God is my King of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth,
13. You divide the sea by Your strength; You break the heads of the sea monsters in the waters.
14. You crushed the heads of leviathan in pieces, and gave him to be food to the people living in the wilderness.
15. You break open the fountain and the flood; You dry up mighty rivers.
16. The day is Yours, the night also is Yours; You have established the light and the sun.
17. You have set all the boundaries of the earth; You have made summer and winter.
18. Remember this—that the enemy has reproached, O L ORD, and the foolish people have blasphemed Your name.
19. O deliver not the life of Your turtle dove unto the wild beasts; forget not the lives of Your afflicted people forever.
20. Have respect unto the covenant; for the dark places of the earth are full of the houses of cruelty.
21. Oh, let not the oppressed ones return ashamed; let the poor and needy praise Your name.
22. Arise, O God, plead Your own cause; remember how the foolish man reproaches You daily.
23. Forget not the voice of Your enemies; the noise of those who rise up against You increases continually.
PSALM SEVENTY-FIVE

_A Psalm of Asaph. A Song._

1. Unto You, O God, we give thanks; to You we give thanks, for Your name is near, men tell of Your wonderful works.
2. “When I appoint the set time, I will judge uprightly.
3. When the earth and all its people are dissolved, I hold up its pillars. Selah.
4. I said to the arrogant, ‘Do not boast;’ and to the wicked, ‘Do not lift up the horn;
5. Do not lift up your horn on high; nor speak with a stiff neck.’ ”
6. For promotion comes neither from the east, nor from the west, nor from the south.
7. But God is judge; He puts down one and sets up another,
8. For in the hand of the LORD there is a cup full of foaming wine mixed with spices; and He pours out from it; but the dregs of it, all the wicked of the earth shall drain its dregs and drink them.
9. But I will declare forever; I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.
10. Surely the wrath of man shall praise You; the survivors of Your wrath are restrained.
11. Vow, and bring gifts to the LORD your God; let all that are around Him bring presents to Him Who ought to be feared.
12. He shall cut off the spirit in princes; He is awesome to the kings of the earth.

PSALM SEVENTY-SIX

_A Psalm of Asaph._

1. God is known in Judah; His name is great in Israel.
2. And His tabernacle is in Salem, and His dwelling place in Zion.
3. There He broke the fiery arrows of the bow, the shield, and the sword, and the battle. Selah.
4. You are resplendent with light, more majestic than the mountains of prey.
5. The stouthearted have been plundered; they slept their sleep; and none of the men of war can use his hands.
6. By Your rebuke, O God of Jacob, both the horse and the chariot are cast into a deep sleep.
7. You, even You, are to be feared, and who can stand in Your sight when once You are angry?
8. You cause judgment to be heard from heaven; the earth feared and was still
9. When God arose to judgment to save all the meek of the earth. Selah.
10. Surely the wrath of man shall praise You; the survivors of Your wrath are restrained.
11. I will remember the works of the LORD; surely I will remember Your wonders of old.
12. I will also meditate on all Your work, and talk of Your doings.
13. Your way, O God, is in holiness; who is so great a God as our God?
14. You are the God Who does wonders; You have declared Your strength among the people.
15. You have with Your arm redeemed Your people, the sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah.
16. The waters saw You, O God, the waters saw You; they were afraid; the
17. The clouds poured out water; the skies sent out a sound; Your arrows also flew here and there.
18. The voice of Your thunder was in the whirlwind; the lightnings lit up the world; the earth trembled and shook.
19. Your way is in the sea, and Your path in the great waters, and Your footsteps are not known.
20. You led Your people like a flock by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

PSALM SEVENTY-EIGHT
An instruction of Asaph.
1. Give ear, O my people, to my law; incline your ears to the words of my mouth.
2. I will open my mouth in a parable; I will speak dark sayings of old,
3. Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us.
4. We will not hide them from their children, showing to the generations to come the praises of the LORD, and His strength, and His wonderful works that He has done,
5. For He established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which He commanded our fathers, that they should teach them to their children;
6. So that the generation to come might know them, children which shall be born; and they shall arise and tell them to their children,
7. So that they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep His commandments;
8. And might not be like their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation that did not set their heart aright, and whose spirit was not faithful with God.
9. The children of Ephraim, armed shooters of bows, turned back in the day of battle.
10. They did not keep the covenant of God and refused to walk in His law.
11. And they forgot His works and His wonders which He had shown them.
12. He did marvelous things in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.
13. He divided the sea and caused them to pass through; and He made the waters to stand in a heap.
14. And in the daytime He led them with a cloud and all the night with a light of fire.
15. He split the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink, as from the great depths.
16. He brought streams also out of the rock and caused waters to run down like rivers.
17. Yet they continued to sin still more against Him by rebelling against the Most High in the wilderness.
18. And they tempted God in their heart by asking food for their lust.
19. Yea, they spoke against God; they said, “Can God set a table in the wilderness?
20. Behold, He struck the rock so that the waters gushed out, and the streams overflowed! Can He also give bread? Can He provide flesh for His people?”
21. Therefore the LORD heard and was furious; so a fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also came up against Israel.
22. Because they did not believe in God and did not trust in His salvation,
23. Though He had commanded the clouds from above, and had opened the doors of heaven;
24. And He had rained down manna upon them to eat, and gave them of the grain of heaven.
25. Man ate the food of angels; He sent them meat to the full.
26. He caused an east wind to blow in heaven, and by His power He brought in the south wind.
27. And He also rained flesh upon them like dust, and winged birds like the sand of the sea;
28. And He let them fall in the midst of their camp, all around their tents.
29. So they ate and were filled to the full, for He gave them that which they craved.
30. They were not turned away from their lust, but while their food was still in their mouths,
31. The wrath of God came upon them and killed the strongest of them, and struck down the chosen men of Israel.
32. For all this they still sinned and did not believe in His wonderful works.
33. Therefore He ended their days in vanity and their years in terror.
34. When He slew them, then they sought Him; and they turned back and sought after God earnestly.
35. And they remembered that God was their Rock, and the Most High God was their Redeemer.
36. Nevertheless they flattered Him with their mouths, and they lied to Him with their tongues,
37. For their heart was not steadfast with Him; neither were they faithful in His covenant.
38. But He, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity and did not destroy them; yea, many times He turned His anger away and did not stir up all His wrath,
39. For He remembered that they were but flesh, a wind that passes away and does not come again.
40. How often did they provoke Him in the wilderness and grieve Him in the desert!
41. And still again they tempted God, and limited the Holy One of Israel.
42. They did not remember His hand, nor the day when He delivered them from the enemy;
43. How He had wrought His signs in Egypt and His wonders in the fields of Zoan.
44. He turned their rivers into blood, so that they could not drink from their streams.
45. He sent different kinds of flies among them, which devoured them, and frogs, which destroyed them.
46. He also gave their crops to the stripping caterpillar, and their labor to the locust.
47. He destroyed their vines with hail, and their sycamore trees with sleet.
48. He gave up their livestock to the hail, and their sycamore trees with sleet.
49. He cast upon them the fierceness of His anger, wrath and fury and trouble, by sending evil angels among them.
50. He leveled a path for His anger; He did not save their soul from death, but gave their life over to the plague,
51. And struck all the firstborn in Egypt, the chief of their strength in the tabernacles of Ham;
52. But He made His own people to go forth like sheep and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.
53. And He led them on safely, so that they did not fear; but the sea overwhelmed their enemies.
54. And He brought them to the border of His holy land, to this mountain, which His right hand had bought.
55. He also drove out the nations before them, and divided them an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.
56. Yet they tempted and provoked the Most High God, and kept not His testimonies;
57. But they turned back and dealt treacherously like their fathers; they were turned aside like a deceiving bow,
58. For they provoked Him to anger with their high places, and moved Him to jealousy with their carved images.
59. When God heard, He was wroth and greatly abhorred Israel;
60. So that He forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh, the tent which He placed among men,
61. And delivered His strength into captivity, and His glory into the enemy’s hands.
62. He also gave His people over to the sword, and vented His wrath upon His inheritance.
63. The fire devoured their young men; and their maidens were not given in marriage.
64. Their priests fell by the sword; and their widows were not able to make a lamentation.
65. Then the LORD awakened like one out of sleep, like a mighty man recovering from wine.
66. And He drove His enemies backward; He put them to perpetual reproach.
67. And He rejected the tabernacle of Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:
68. But chose the tribe of Judah, the Mount Zion which He loved.
69. And He built His holy sanctuary like the heights of heaven, like the earth which He has founded forever.
70. He also chose David His servant, and took him from the sheepfolds;
71. From following the ewes great with young, He brought him to feed Jacob His people, and Israel His inheritance.
72. And He fed them according to the integrity of his heart, and guided them by the skillfulness of his hands.
Psalms 79 - 81

1. Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel; You Who lead Joseph like a flock; You Who dwell between the cherubim, shine forth.
2. Stir up Your strength before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh, and come, save us.
3. Restore us O God, and cause Your face to shine, and we shall be saved!

PSALM EIGHTY

To the Chief Musician.
1. Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel; You Who lead Joseph like a flock; You Who dwell between the cherubim, shine forth.
2. Stir up Your strength before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh, and come, save us.
3. Restore us O God, and cause Your face to shine, and we shall be saved!

PSALM EIGHTY-ONE

To the Chief Musician. On Gittith.
A Psalm of Asaph.
1. Sing aloud unto God our strength; shout for joy to the God of Jacob.
2. Take up a melody, and strike the drum, the pleasant lyre with the harp.
3. Blow the trumpet at the new moon,
Psalm 81

1. For this was a statute for Israel, a law of the God of Jacob.
2. This He ordained in Joseph for a testimony when He went forth against the land of Egypt; I heard a language that I understood not:
3. “I removed his shoulder from the burden; his hands were delivered from the pots.
4. You called in trouble, and I delivered you; I answered you in the secret place of thunder; I tested you at the waters of Meribah. Selah.
5. But My people would not hearken to Me, and Israel would have none of Me.
6. So I gave them up to the stubbornness of their own hearts; and they walked in their own conceits.
7. Oh, that My people had hearkened unto Me, and Israel had walked in My ways!
8. I would soon have subdued their enemies, and would have turned My hand against their adversaries.
9. And they also would have been fed with the finest of wheat; and with honey out of the rock I would have satisfied them.”

PSALM EIGHTY-TWO

1. God stands in the congregation of the mighty; He judges among the gods.
2. How long will you judge unjustly and respect the persons of the wicked? Selah.
3. Defend the poor and fatherless; do justice to the afflicted and needy.
4. Deliver the poor and needy; save them out of the hand of the wicked.
5. They do not know, neither do they understand; they walk on in darkness; all the foundations of the earth are shaken out of course.
6. I have said, “You are gods; and all of you are sons of the Most High.
7. But you shall die like men, and fall like one of the princes.”
8. Arise, O God, judge the earth, for You shall inherit all nations.

PSALM EIGHTY-THREE

1. Keep not silent, O God; do not be quiet, and do not be still, O God, for lo, Your enemies are in an uproar; and those who hate You have lifted up their head.
2. They take crafty counsel against Your people, and plot together against Your hidden ones.
3. They said, “Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation, so that the name Israel may be remembered no more.”
4. For with one heart they have plotted together; they have made a covenant against You—
5. The tabernacles of Edom, and the Ishmaelites; of Moab, and the Hagrites; of Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek; the Philistines with the people of Tyre; and Assyria has joined with them; they have helped the children of Lot. Selah.
6. Do to them as unto Midian, as unto Sisera, as unto Jabin at the brook Kishon who perished at En Dor; they became as dung for the earth.
7. Make their nobles like Oreb, and like Zeeb; yea, all their princes like Zebah, and like Zalmunna;
8. Who said, “Let us take for ourselves possession of the pastures of God.”
9. O my God, make them like the whirlwind dust, like the stubble before the wind.
10. As the fire burns a forest, and as the flame sets the mountains on fire,
11. So pursue them with Your tempest, and make them afraid with Your storm.
12. Let us take for ourselves possession of the pastures of God.”
13. O my God, make them like the whirling dust, like the stubble before the wind.
14. As the fire burns a forest, and as the flame sets the mountains on fire,
15. So pursue them with Your tempest, and make them afraid with Your storm.
16. Fill their faces with shame, that they may seek Your name, O Lord.
17. Let them be confounded and troubled forever; yea, let them be put to shame, and perish;
18. So that men may know that Your name alone is the Lord, that You alone are the Most High over all the earth.
PSALM EIGHTY-FOUR

To the Chief Musician. On Gittith. A Psalm for the sons of Korah.

1. How lovely are Your tabernacles, O LORD of hosts!
2. My soul longs, yea, even faints for the courts of the LORD; my heart and my flesh cry out for the living God.
3. Yea, even the sparrow has found a house, and the swallow a nest for herself where she may lay her young, even Your altars, O LORD of hosts, my King and my God.
4. Blessed are those who dwell in Your house; they will still be praising You. Selah.
5. Blessed is the man whose strength is in You; Your ways are in their hearts;
6. Who passing through the valley of weeping make it a place of springs; yea, the early rain also clothes it with blessings.
7. They go from strength to strength, every one of them appearing in Zion before God.
8. O LORD God of hosts, hear my prayer; give ear, O God of Jacob. Selah.
9. Behold, O God, our shield, and look upon the face of Your anointed,
10. For a day in Your courts is better than a thousand elsewhere. I would rather stand at the threshold of the house of my God than dwell in the tents of wickedness.
11. For the LORD God is a sun and shield; the LORD will give grace and glory; no good thing will He withhold from those who walk uprightly.
12. O LORD of hosts, blessed is the man who trusts in You.

PSALM EIGHTY-FIVE

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm for the sons of Korah.

1. O LORD, You have shown favor to Your land; You have brought back Jacob from exile.
2. You have forgiven the iniquity of Your people; You have covered all their sins, Selah.
3. You have taken away all Your wrath; You have turned from the fierceness of Your anger.
4. Restore us, O God of our salvation, and cause Your anger toward us to cease.
5. Will You be angry with us forever? Will You draw out Your anger to all generations?
6. Will You not give us life again, so that Your people may rejoice in You?
7. Show us Your mercy, O LORD, and grant us Your salvation.
8. I will hear what God the LORD will speak; for He will speak peace to His people, and to His saints, but let them not turn again to folly.
9. Surely His salvation is near to those who fear Him, so that glory may dwell in our land.
10. Mercy and truth have met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other.
11. Truth shall spring out of the earth, and righteousness shall look down from heaven.
12. Yea, the LORD shall give that which is good, and our land shall yield its increase.
13. Righteousness shall go before Him and shall set us in the way of His steps.

PSALM EIGHTY-SIX

A Prayer of David.

1. Bow down Your ear, O LORD, answer me, for I am poor and needy.
2. Preserve my soul, for I am holy; O You my God, save Your servant who trusts in You.
3. Be merciful to me, O LORD, for I cry unto You all day long.
4. Rejoice the soul of Your servant, for to You, O LORD, do I lift up my soul,
5. For You, LORD, are good and ready to forgive, and rich in mercy to all those who call upon You.
6. Give ear, O LORD, to my prayer, and attend to the voice of my supplications.
7. In the day of my trouble I will call upon You, for You will answer me.
8. Among the gods there is none like You, O LORD; neither are there any works like Your works.
9. All nations whom You have made shall come and worship before You, O LORD, and shall glorify Your name,
10. For You are great and do wonderful things; You alone are God.
11. Teach me Your way, O LORD; I will walk in Your truth; unite my heart to fear Your name.
12. I will praise You, O LORD my God, with all my heart, and I will glorify Your name forevermore, 13. For great is Your mercy toward me;
and You have delivered my soul from the depths of the grave.
14. O God, the proud have risen against me, and the company of violent men have sought after my life, and have not set You before them.
15. But You, O L ORD, are a God full of compassion, and gracious, slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love and truth.
16. Oh, turn to me, and have mercy upon me; give Your strength to Your servant and save the son of Your handmaid.
17. Show me a token for good, so that they who hate me may see and be ashamed because You, L ORD, have helped me and comforted me.

PSALM EIGHTY-SEVEN

A Psalm for the sons of Korah. A Song.
1. His foundation is in the holy mountains.
2. The L ORD loves the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob.
3. Glorious things are spoken of you, O city of God. Selah.
4. I will make mention of Rahab and Babylon to those who know me; behold, Philistia and Tyre, with Ethiopia; this man was born there.
5. And to Zion it shall be said, “This man and that man was born in her; and the Most High Himself shall establish her.”
6. The LORD shall count, in recording the people, that this man was born there. Selah.
7. Both the singers and the players of the instruments shall be there saying, “All my thoughts are in You!”

PSALM EIGHTY-EIGHT

1. O L ORD God of my salvation, I have cried day and night before You.
2. Let my prayer come before You; bow down Your ear to my cry,
3. For my soul is full of troubles, and my life draws near the grave.
4. I am counted with those who go down to the pit; I am like a feeble man with no strength;
5. Set apart among the dead, like the slain that lie in the grave, whom You remember no more; and they are cut off from Your hand.
6. You have laid me in the lowest pit, in darkness, in the deeps.
7. Your wrath lies hard upon me, and You have afflicted me with all Your waves. Selah.
8. You have put my acquaintance far away from me; You have made me an abomination to them. I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.
9. My eyes mourn because of affliction; O L ORD, daily I have called upon You; I have stretched out my hands to You.
10. Will You show wonders to the dead? Shall the dead rise and praise You? Selah.
11. Shall Your lovingkindness be declared in the grave? Or Your faithfulness in destruction?
12. Shall Your wonders be known in the dark, and Your righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?
13. But to You I have cried, O L ORD; and in the morning my prayer shall come before You.
14. O L ORD, why do You cast off my soul? Why do You hide Your face from me?
15. From my youth I have been afflicted and close to death; I have suffered Your terrors and am in despair.
16. Your fierce wrath goes over me; Your terrors have cut me off.
17. They surrounded me like waters all the day long; they have come together all around me.
18. You have taken lover and friend far from me, and my acquaintances into darkness.

PSALM EIGHTY-NINE

A Poem of Ethan the Ezrahite.
1. I will sing of the mercies of the L ORD forever; with my mouth I will make known Your faithfulness to all generations,
2. For I have said, “Your steadfast love shall be built up forever; You shall establish Your faithfulness in the heavens.”
3. “I have made a covenant with My chosen; I have sworn to David My servant!
4. “Your seed will I establish forever, and build up your throne to all generations.”” Selah.
5. And the heavens shall praise Your wonders, O L ORD, Your faithfulness also in the congregation of the saints,
6. For who in the heavens can be compared with the LORD? Who among the sons of the mighty is like the LORD? 7. God is greatly to be feared in the congregation of the saints and to be held in reverence by all who are round about Him. 8. O LORD God of hosts, who is mighty like you O LORD? And Your faithfulness is round about You. 9. You rule the raging of the sea; when its waves arise, You still them. 10. You have broken Rahab in pieces as one that is slain; You have scattered Your enemies with Your strong arm. 11. The heavens are Yours, the earth also is Yours; You have founded the world and all its fullness. 12. The north and the south, You have created them; Tabor and Hermon shall rejoice in Your name. 13. Your arm is an arm of might; Your hand is strong, and Your right hand is exalted. 14. Righteousness and justice are the foundation of Your throne; mercy and truth shall go before Your face. 15. Blessed are the people who know the joyful sound; they shall walk, O LORD, in the light of Your countenance. 16. In Your name they shall rejoice all the day; and in Your righteousness they shall be exalted, 17. For You are the glory of their strength; and in Your favor our horn is exalted, 18. For the LORD is our shield; yea, our King is the Holy One of Israel. 19. Then You spoke in a vision to Your godly ones, and You said, “I have laid help upon a mighty one; I have exalted a chosen one out of the people. 20. I have found David, My servant; with My holy oil I have anointed him. 21. My hand shall be established with him; My arm also shall strengthen him. 22. The enemy shall not extract from him, nor the son of wickedness afflict him. 23. And I will beat down his foes before his face and plague those who hate him. 24. But My faithfulness and My mercy shall be with him; and in My name his horn shall be exalted. 25. I will set his hand also in the sea and his right hand in the rivers. 26. He shall cry to Me, ‘My Father, You are my God, and the Rock of my salvation.’ 27. And I will make him My firstborn, higher than the kings of the earth. 28. I will keep My steadfast love for him forever, and My covenant shall stand fast with him. 29. Also, will I make his seed to endure forever, and his throne as the days of heaven. 30. If his children forsake My law and do not walk in My judgments, 31. If they profane My statutes and do not keep My commandments, 32. Then I will visit their transgression with the rod and their iniquity with stripes. 33. But I will not completely take My lovingkindness from him, nor will I allow My faithfulness to fail. 34. I will not break My covenant, nor change the thing that has gone out of My lips. 35. Once I have sworn by My holiness, I will not lie to David. 36. His seed shall endure forever, and his throne as the sun before Me. 37. It shall be established forever like the moon, and like a faithful witness in the heavens.” Selah.
49. O Lord, where are Your former loving-kindnesses which You swore to David in Your truth?
50. Remember, LORD, the reproach of Your servants, how I bear in my bosom the reproach of all the mighty people
51. With which Your enemies have reproached, O LORD; with which they have reproached the footsteps of Your anointed.
52. Blessed is the LORD forevermore. Amen and Amen.

BOOK FOUR
(Psalms 90-106)
PSALM NINETY

A Prayer of Moses, the man of God.

1. O Lord, You have been our dwelling place in all generations.
2. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever You had formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting You are God.
3. You turn man over to destruction, and say, "Return, you children of men."
4. For a thousand years in Your sight are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.
5. You carry them away as with a flood; in the evening it is cut down and dries up.
6. In the morning it sprouts and shoots up; in the evening it is cut down and dries up.
7. For we are consumed by Your anger, and by Your wrath we are troubled.
8. You have set our iniquities before You, and by Your wrath we are troubled.
9. For all our days pass away in Your sight.
10. The days of our years are threescore years, yet if by reason of strength they are fourscore years, yet their span is but trouble and sorrow, for it is soon cut off and we fly away.
11. Who knows the power of Your anger, and Your wrath according to the fear that is due to You?
12. So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts to wisdom.
13. Return, O Lord! How long? And show compassion to Your servants.
14. O satisfy us in the morning with Your mercy, so that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.
15. Make us glad according to the days wherein you have afflicted us, the years in which we have seen evil.
16. Let Your work appear unto Your servants and Your glory unto their children.
17. And let the graciousness of the Lord our God be upon us; and establish the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands, establish it.

PSALM NINETY-ONE

1. He who dwells in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.
2. I will say of the Lord, “He is my refuge and my fortress, my God, in Whom I will trust.”
3. Surely He will deliver you from the fowler’s trap and from the destroying pestilence.
4. He shall cover you with His feathers, and under His wings you shall take refuge. His truth shall be your shield and buckler.
5. You shall not be afraid of the terror by night, nor for the arrow that flies by day,
6. Nor for the plague that walks in darkness, nor for the destruction laying waste at noonday.
7. A thousand may fall at your side and ten thousand at your right hand; it shall not come near you.
8. Only with your eyes you shall behold and see the recompense of the wicked.
9. Because you have made the Lord, Who is my refuge, even the Most High, your habitation,
10. No evil shall befall you, nor shall any plague come near your dwelling.
11. For He shall give His angels charge over you to keep you in all your ways.
12. They shall bear you up in their hands, lest you dash your foot against a stone.
13. You shall tread upon the lion and asp; the young lion and the jackal you shall trample underfoot.
14. “Because he has set his love upon Me, therefore I will deliver him; I will set him on high because he has known My name.
15. He shall call upon Me, and I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honor him.
16. With long life I will satisfy him, and show him My salvation.”

2. To show forth Your lovingkindness in the morning and Your faithfulness every night.
3. Upon the instrument of ten strings, and upon the harp, with melody of music upon the lyre.
4. For You, LORD, have made me glad with Your work; I will exult in the works of Your hands.
5. O LORD, how great are Your works; of Your hands.
6. A brutish man does not know, nor does a fool understand this.
7. When the wicked spring forth as the grass, and when all the workers of iniquity blossom, it is that they shall be destroyed forever;
8. But You, O LORD, are on high forever.
9. They gush forth words; they speak arrogant things; all the workers of iniquity vaunt themselves.
10. They crush Your people, O LORD, and afflict Your inheritance.
11. The floods have lifted up, O LORD, the floods have lifted up their voices; the floods lift up their waves.
12. The LORD reigns; He is clothed with majesty; the LORD is clothed with strength.
13. Those that are planted in the house of the LORD shall flourish in the courts of our God.
14. They shall still bring forth fruit in old age; they shall be full of sap and very green.
15. To show that the LORD is upright; He is my Rock, and there is no unrighteousness in Him.

PSALM NINETY-FOUR

1. O LORD God to whom vengeance belongs, O God, to whom vengeance belongs, show Yourself.
2. Lift up Yourself, Judge of the earth; render recompense to the proud.

4. They gush forth words; they speak arrogant things; all the workers of iniquity vaunt themselves.
5. They crush Your people, O LORD, and afflict Your inheritance.
6. They kill the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherless.
7. Yet they say, "The LORD shall not see, nor shall the God of Jacob regard it."
8. Understand, you brutish ones among the people and you fools, when will you be wise?
9. He who planted the ear, shall He not hear? He who formed the eye, shall He not see?
10. He who chastens the nations, shall He not correct? He who teaches man knowledge, shall not He know?
11. The LORD knows the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.
12. Blessed is the man whom You chasten, O LORD to teach him out of Your law.
13. That You may give him rest from the days of trouble until the pit is dug for the wicked.
14. For the LORD will not cast off His people, nor will He forsake His inheritance.
15. But judgment shall return unto righteousness; and all the upright in heart shall follow it.
16. Who will rise up for me against the evildoers? Who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?
17. Unless the LORD had been my help, my soul had almost dwelt in silence.
18. When I said, "My foot slips," Your mercy, O LORD, held me up.
20. Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with You, even one who devises evil by decree?
21. They gather themselves against the soul of the righteous and condemn innocent blood.
22. But the LORD is my fortress, and my God is the Rock of my refuge.
23. And He will bring upon them their own iniquity, and He will cut them off in their evil. The LORD our God shall cut them off.

5. Sing to the LORD with the lyre, with the lyre, and the voice of a psalm.
6. With silver trumpets and sound of a ram’s horn make a joyful noise before the King, the LORD.
7. Let the sea roar, and the fullness of it, the world, and those who dwell in it.

5. For the LORD is good; His steadfast love is everlasting; and His faithfulness endures to all generations.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-ONE

A Psalm of David.

1. I will sing of mercy and justice; to You, O LORD, I will sing praise.
2. I will behave myself wisely in a blameless way. O when will You come unto me? I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.
3. I will set no wicked thing before my eyes. I have hated the work of those who turn aside; it shall not cleave to me.
4. A perverse heart shall be far from me; I will know no evil thing.
5. Whoever secretly slanders his neighbor, in secret I will cut him off; he who has a haughty look and a proud heart, I will not allow.
6. My eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, so that they may dwell with me; he who walks in a blameless way, he shall serve me.
7. He who works deceit shall not dwell within my house; he who tells lies shall not remain in my sight.
8. Every morning I will destroy all the wicked of the land, so that I may cut off all wicked doers from the city of the LORD.
PSALM ONE HUNDRED-TWO

A prayer of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed and pours out his complaint before the LORD.

1. O LORD, hear my prayer, and let my cry come to You.
2. Hide not Your face from me in the day of my trouble; incline Your ear to me; in the day I call, answer me quickly.
3. For my days go up like smoke, and my bones scorch like a firebrand.
4. My heart is stricken, and withered like grass, so that I forget to eat my bread.
5. Because of the voice of my groaning, my bones cleave to my flesh.
6. I am like a pelican of the wilderness; I am like an owl of the desert.
7. I watch, and am like a sparrow alone upon the housetop.
8. All the day my enemies revile me; in their rage against me, they make a curse of me:
9. For I have eaten ashes like bread, and have mixed my drink with weeping
10. Because of Your anger and Your wrath, for You have lifted me up and cast me down.
11. My days are like a shadow stretched out, and I wither like grass.
12. But You, O LORD, sit enthroned forever; and Your name is unto all generations.
13. As a father has compassion upon his children, so the LORD has compassion from us.
14. For Your servants take pleasure in the name of the LORD, and all the kings of the earth shall praise the LORD, and all the nations shall fear the name of the LORD, and all the kings of the earth shall esteem the glory of the LORD.
15. So the nations shall fear the name of the LORD, and all the kings of the earth shall esteem the glory of the LORD.
16. When the LORD shall build up Zion, He shall appear in His glory.
17. He will regard the prayer of the destitute and not despise their prayer.
18. This shall be written for the generation to come; and a people shall be created shall praise the LORD, who satisfies your desires with good things; your youth is renewed like the eagle's.
19. For He has looked down from the height of His sanctuary; from heaven the LORD beheld the earth.
20. To hear the groaning of the prisoner, to set free those who are appointed to death.
21. That men may declare the name of the LORD in Zion and His praise in Jerusalem.
14. For He knows our frame; He remembers that we are dust.
15. As for man, his days are as grass; as a flower of the field, so he flourishes, 16. For the wind passes over it, and it is gone; and its place shall know it no more.
17. But the steadfast love of the L ORD is from everlasting to everlasting upon those who fear Him, and His righteousness is unto children’s children, 18. To those who keep His covenant, and to those who remember His precepts to do them.
19. The L ORD has established His throne in the heavens; and His kingdom rules over all.
20. Bless the L ORD, O you His angels, mighty in strength, who do His commandments, hearkening unto the voice of His word.
21. Bless the L ORD, all you His hosts, ministers of His who do His pleasure.
22. Bless the L ORD, all His works in all places of His dominion. Bless the L ORD, O my soul!

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-FOUR

1. Bless the L ORD, O my soul! O L ORD my God, You are very great; You are clothed with honor and majesty,
2. Covering Yourself with light as with a garment, and stretching out the heavens like a curtain,
3. Who lays the beams of His upper chambers in the waters. He makes the clouds His chariot; He walks upon the wings of the wind;
4. He makes His angels spirits, His ministers a flaming fire.
5. He established the earth on its foundations; so that it should not be removed forever.
6. You covered it with the deep as with a garment; the waters stood above the mountains.
7. At Your rebuke they fled; at the voice of Your thunder they hastened away.
8. The mountains rose; the valleys sank down to the place that You had founded for them.
9. You have set a bound that they may not pass over, so that they might not return again to cover the earth.
10. He sends forth the springs into the valleys; they flow between the mountains.
11. They give drink to every beast of the field; the wild donkeys quench their thirst.
12. Beside them the birds of heaven will have their place of rest; they sing among the branches.
13. He waters the mountains from His upper chambers; the earth is full of the fruit of Your works.
14. He causes the grass to grow for the livestock, and herbs for the service of man, to bring forth food from the earth, 15. And wine that makes glad the heart of man, and oil that makes his face shine, and bread to strengthen the heart of man.
16. The trees of the L ORD are full of sap, the cedars of Lebanon which He has planted,
17. Where the birds make their nests; as for the stork, the fir trees are her home.
18. The high mountains are for the wild goats, and the rocks are a refuge for the badgers,
19. Who made the moon for the appointed times; the sun knows its going down.
20. You make darkness, and it is night in which all the beasts of the forest creep forth.
21. The young lions roar after their prey and seek their food from God.
22. The sun rises; they slink away and go to their dens to lie down.
23. Man goes out to his work and to his labor until the evening.
24. O L ORD, how many are Your works!
In wisdom You have made them all; the earth is full of Your creatures.
25. There is the great and wide sea in which are creatures without number, both small and great living things.
26. There the ships go and the leviathan, which You have made to play in it.
27. All of them wait upon You, that You may give them their food in due season.
28. You give it unto them, they gather it;
You open Your hand; they are satisfied with good.
29. You hide Your face, they are troubled; You take away their breath, they die and return to dust.
30. You send forth Your Spirit, they are created; and You renew the face of the earth.
31. May the glory of the L ORD endure forever; the L ORD shall rejoice in His works.

751
32. He looks upon the earth, and it trembles; He touches the hills, and they smoke.
33. I will sing to the LORD as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God while I have my being.
34. May my meditation to Him be pleasing; as for me I will rejoice in the LORD.
35. Let sinners cease from the earth, and let the wicked be no more. Bless the LORD, O my soul. Praise the LORD!

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-FIVE

2. Sing to Him, sing praises unto Him; among the people.
3. Glory in His holy name; let the heart talk of all His wonderful works.
4. Seek the LORD and His strength; seek of those who seek the LORD rejoice.
5. Remember His marvelous works which He has done, His wonders, and the judgments of His mouth.
6. O you seed of Abraham His servant, you children of Jacob His chosen.
7. He is the LORD our God; His judgments are in all the earth.
8. He has remembered His covenant forever, the word which He commanded to a thousand generations;
9. The covenant which He made with Abraham, and His oath to Isaac.
10. And He confirmed it to Jacob for a statute, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant,
11. Saying, “To you I will give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance,”
12. When they were but a few men in number; yea, very few, and strangers in it.
13. When they went from one nation to another, from one kingdom to another people,
14. He allowed no man to do them wrong; yea, He reproved kings for their sakes,
15. Saying, “Touch not My anointed, and do My prophets no harm.”
16. Moreover He called for a famine upon the land; He broke the whole staff of bread.
17. He sent a man before them, even Joseph, who was sold for a servant,
18. Whose feet they hurt with fetters; he was laid in iron,
19. Until the time that his word came to pass, when the Word of the LORD tested him.
20. The king sent and loosed him, even the ruler of the people, and let him go free.
21. He made him lord of his house and ruler of all his possessions,
22. To bind his princes at his pleasure and teach his elders wisdom.
23. Israel also came into Egypt, and Jacob resided in the land of Ham.
24. And He increased His people greatly and made them stronger than their enemies.
25. He turned their heart to hate His people, to deal craftily with His servants.
26. He sent Moses His servant, and Aaron whom He had chosen.
27. They showed His signs among them, and wonders in the land of Ham.
28. He sent darkness and made it dark, and they rebelled not against His word.
29. He turned their waters into blood and killed their fish.
30. Their land swarmed with frogs in abundance, even in the chambers of their kings.
31. He spoke, and there came swarms of flies and gnats in all their borders.
32. He gave them hail for rain and flaming fire in their land.
33. He struck their vines also and their fig trees, and broke the trees of their borders.
34. He spoke, and locusts came, and caterpillars without number;
35. And they ate up all the plants in their land, and ate the fruit of their ground.
36. He also struck all the firstborn in their land, the chief of all their strength.
37. He also brought them out with silver and gold; and there was not one feeble person among their tribes.
38. Egypt was glad when they departed, for the fear of them had fallen upon them.
39. He spread a cloud for a covering, and fire to give light in the night.
40. The people asked, and He brought quail, and satisfied them with the bread of heaven.
41. He opened the rock, and the waters gushed out; they ran in the dry places like a river,
42. For He remembered His holy word unto Abraham His servant.
43. And He brought forth His people with joy, and His chosen with singing, 44. And gave them the lands of the nations; and they inherited the labor of the people,
45. So that they might take heed to His statutes and keep His laws. Praise the LORD!

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-SIX
1. Praise the LORD! O give thanks to the LORD, for He is good, for His mercy endures forever.
2. Who can express the mighty acts of the LORD, or cause all His praise to be heard?
3. Blessed are those who keep judgment, and he who does righteousness at all times.
4. Remember me, O LORD, when You favor Your people; O visit me with Your salvation.
5. That I may see the prosperity of Your people, and keep His laws. Praise the LORD!
6. We have sinned with our fathers, we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.
7. Our fathers gave no thought to Your name's sake, to make His mighty power known.
8. Nevertheless He saved them for His name's sake, to make His mighty power known.
9. And He rebuked the Red Sea, and it was dried up; so He led them through the wilderness.
10. And He saved them from the hand of their enemies, and went awhoring after their gods, which they served their idols, which were a snare to them.
11. And He heard their cry, and saved them by His mighty power.
12. Then they believed His words; they sang His praise.
13. They soon forgot His works; they did not wait for His counsel.
14. But they lusted exceedingly in the wilderness and tempted God in the desert.
15. And He gave them what they asked, but sent a wasting disease among them.
16. And they were jealous of Moses in the camp and Aaron the holy priest of the LORD.
17. The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.
18. And a fire was kindled in their company; the flame burned up the wicked.
19. They made a calf in Horeb and worshiped the molten image.
20. Thus they exchanged their glory into the likeness of an ox that eats grass.
21. They forgot God their Savior, Who had done great things in Egypt,
22. Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and awesome things by the Red Sea.
23. And He said that He would destroy them, if Moses His chosen one had not stood before Him in the breach, to turn away His wrath, so that He should not destroy them.
24. And they despised the pleasant land; they did not believe His word.
25. But murmured in their tents, and did not hearken to the voice of the LORD.
26. Therefore He lifted up His hand against them to overthrow them in the wilderness,
27. To overthrow their seed also among the nations, and to scatter them in the lands.
28. And they joined themselves to Baal of Peor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead.
29. And provoked Him to anger with their doings; and the plague broke out upon them.
30. Then Phinehas stood and executed judgment, and so the plague was stayed.
31. And it was counted to him for righteousness unto all generations forevermore.
32. And they provoked Him at the waters of Peor, and ate the sacrifices of the idols of Canaan; and the land was polluted with blood.
33. Therefore the wrath of the LORD was kindled against His people, and He abhorred His own inheritance.
41. And He gave them into the hand of the nations; and those who hated them ruled over them.
42. And their enemies oppressed them, and they were brought into subjection under their hand.
43. Many times He delivered them, but they were rebellious in their counsel and sank low through their iniquities.
44. Nevertheless, He looked upon their affliction when He heard their cry;
45. And He remembered His covenant for them and repented, according to the multitude of His mercies.
46. He made them also to be pitied by all those who carried them captives.
47. And He brought them out of the hand of the enemy, whom He has redeemed from the hand of those who carried them captives.
48. Blessed is the LORD God of Israel from everlasting to everlasting; and let all the people say, “Amen.” Praise the LORD!

BOOK FIVE
(PSALMS 107-150)
PSALM ONE HUNDRED-SEVEN

1. O give thanks to the LORD, for He is good, for His steadfast love endures forever.
2. So let the redeemed of the LORD say, whom He has redeemed from the hand of the enemy,
3. And gathered them out of the lands, from the east, and from the west, from the north, and from the south.
4. They wandered in the wilderness, in a desert by the way; they found no city to dwell in.
5. Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.
6. Then they cried to the LORD in their distress, and He delivered them out of their troubles.
7. And He led them by a straight way, so that they might go to a city to dwell.
8. Let them praise the LORD for His goodness, and for His wonderful works to the children of man,
9. For He satisfies the thirsty soul and fills the hungry soul with good things.
10. Some sat in the darkness and in the shadow of death, being chained in affliction and iron
11. Because they rebelled against the words of God and despised the counsel of the Most High.
12. Therefore He humbled their heart with labor; they stumbled, and there was none to help.
13. Then they cried to the LORD in their distress, and He saved them out of their troubles.
14. He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and broke their bands asunder.
15. Let them praise the LORD for His goodness and for His wonderful works to the children of men!
16. For He has broken the gates of bronze and cut through the bars of iron.
17. Fools are afflicted because of their rebellion and because of their iniquities.
18. They themselves loathed all kinds of food, and they drew near the gates of death.
19. Then they cried unto the LORD in their distress, and He delivered them out of their troubles.
20. He sent His word and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions.
21. Let them praise the LORD for His goodness and for His wonderful works to the children of men!
22. And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare His works with rejoicing!
23. Those who go down to the sea in ships, who do business in great waters,
24. These see the works of the LORD and His wonders in the deep,
25. For He commanded and raised the stormy wind which lifted up the waves of the sea.
26. They mounted up to heaven, they went down again to the depths; their courage melted away because of the peril.
27. They reeled to and fro, and staggered like a drunken man, and were at their wits’ end.
28. And they cried to the LORD in their distress, and He delivered them out of their troubles.
29. He made the storm calm, so that its waves were still.
30. Then they were glad because they were quiet, and He led them to their desired haven.
31. Let them praise the LORD for His Psalm 108

A Psalm of David.

To the Chief Musician.

1. O God, of My praise, do not keep silent.
2. For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of the deceitful are opened against Me; they have spoken against Me with a lying tongue.
3. And they surrounded me with words of hatred, and fought against Me without cause.
4. In return for my love they are my adversaries, but I give myself unto prayer.
5. And they have rewarded me evil for good and hatred for my love.
6. Set a wicked man over him, and let an adversary stand at his right hand, and let strangers plunder the fruit of his labor.
7. When he is judged, let him be condemned; and let his prayer become sin.
8. Let his days be few; let another take his office.
9. Let his children be fatherless and his wife a widow.
10. Let there be none to give mercy to him, and let his posterity be cut off; and in the generation following, let their name be blotted out.
11. Let the creditor seize all that is his; and let his adversary stand at his right hand, and let his prayer become sin.
12. Let his children be fatherless and his wife a widow; let strangers plunder the fruit of his labor; let his days be few; let another take his office; let his adversary stand at his right hand, and let his prayer become sin; let the iniquity of his mother be blotted out.
13. Through God we shall do mighty things, for it is He who will tread down our enemies.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-EIGHT

A Song. A Psalm of David.

1. O God, my heart is fixed; I will sing and I will give praise, even with my glory.
2. Awake, harp and lyre; I will awake early.
3. I will praise You, O Lord, among the people; and I will sing praises to You among the nations.
4. For Your mercy is great above the heavens, and Your truth reaches unto the clouds.
5. Be exalted, O God, above the heavens, and Your glory above all the earth.
6. So that Your beloved may be delivered; save with Your right hand, and answer me.
7. God has spoken in His holiness: “I will rejoice, I will divide Shechem, and I will measure out the valley of Succoth.
8. Gilead is Mine; Manasseh is Mine and Ephraim is the strength of My head; Judah is My lawgiver.
9. Moab is My washpot; I will cast out My shoe over Edom; I will triumph over Philistia.”
10. Who will bring me into the strong city? Who will lead me into Edom?
11. O God, have You not cast us off? And, O God, will You not go out with our armies?
12. Give us help from trouble, for vain is the deliverance of man.
13. Through God we shall do mighty things, for it is He who will tread down our enemies.
that He may cut off their memory from the earth
16. Because he did not remember to show mercy, but persecuted the poor and needy man, and sought to kill the brokenhearted.
17. Yea, he loved cursing, so let it come unto him; he delighted not in blessing, so let it be far from him.
18. As he clothed himself with cursing, as with his robe, so let it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones.
19. Let it be to him as the robe which covers him, and for a girdle with which he is always clothed.
20. Let this be the reward of my foes from the Lord, and of them who speak evil against my soul.
21. But You, O God the Lord, deal kindly with me for Your name’s sake because Your mercy is good, deliver me,
22. For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.
23. As a shadow when it is stretched out, I am gone; I am shaken off like the locust.
24. My knees are weak from fasting, and my flesh has become gaunt.
25. And I also became a reproach to them when they looked upon Me; they shook their heads.
26. Help me, O Lord my God; save me according to Your steadfast love;
27. So that they may know that this is of Your hand; that You, Lord, have done it.
28. They will curse, but You will bless; when they arise, let them be ashamed; but let Your servant rejoice.
29. Let my accusers be clothed with confusion, and let them wrap themselves in their own shame, as with a cloak.
30. I will greatly praise the Lord with my mouth; yea, I will praise Him among the multitude,
31. For He shall stand at the right hand of the poor, to save him from those who condemn his soul.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-TWENTY-FIVE

A Song of degrees.
1. Those who trust in the LORD shall be like Mount Zion which cannot be removed, but remains forever.
2. As the mountains are all around Jerusalem, so the LORD is all around His people from this time forward and forever.
3. The rod of the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous, lest the righteous put forth their hands to iniquity.
4. Do good, O LORD, to those who are good, and to those who are upright in their hearts.
5. And as for those who turn aside unto their crooked ways, the LORD shall lead them away with the workers of iniquity; but peace shall be upon Israel.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-TWENTY-SIX

A Song of degrees.
1. When the LORD brought back the exiles, those who returned to Zion, we were like those who dream.
2. Then our mouth was filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing; then they said among the nations, “The LORD has done great things with them.”
3. The LORD did great things for us and we are glad.
4. Turn back our captivity, O LORD, as the streams in the south.
5. Those who sow in tears shall reap in joy.
6. He who goes forth and weeps, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come home with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-TWENTY-SEVEN

A Song of degrees for Solomon.
1. Unless the LORD builds the house, they labor in vain who build it; unless the LORD keeps the city, the watchman stays awake in vain.
2. It is vain for you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of toil; for He provides for His beloved even as they sleep.
3. Lo, children are the inheritance of the LORD; the fruit of the womb is a reward.
4. As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man, so are the children of one’s youth.
5. Happy is the man who has his quiver full of them; they shall not be ashamed, when they speak with their enemies in the gate.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-TWENTY-EIGHT

A Song of degrees.
1. Blessed is everyone who fears the LORD, who walks in His ways,
2. For you shall surely eat the labor of your hands; happy shall you be, and all is well with you.
3. Your wife shall be like a fruitful vine by the sides of your house; your children shall be like olive plants around your table.
4. Behold! So shall the man be blessed who fears the LORD.
5. The LORD shall bless you out of Zion, and you shall see the good of Jerusalem all the days of your life.
6. Yea, you shall see your children’s children. Peace be upon Israel.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-TWENTY-NINE

A Song of degrees.
1. “Many times they have afflicted me from my youth,” Israel may now say;
2. “Many times they have afflicted me from my youth; yet they have not prevailed over me.
3. The plowers plowed upon my back; they made their furrows long.”
4. The LORD is righteous; He cuts off the cords of the wicked.
5. Let them all be ashamed and turned backward, all those who hate Zion.
6. Let them be like the grass upon the housetops which withers away before it grows up,
7. With which the reaper does not fill his hand, nor the binder of sheaves his bosom.
8. Neither let those who pass by them say, “The blessing of the LORD be upon you; we bless you in the name of the LORD.”

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-THIRTY

A Song of degrees.
1. Out of the depths I have cried unto You, O LORD.
2. LORD, hearken unto my voice, and let Your ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications.
3. If You, LORD, should mark iniquities, O LORD, who shall stand?
4. But there is forgiveness with You, that You may be feared.
5. I wait for the LORD, my soul does wait, and in His word do I hope.
6. My soul waits for the LORD more than those who watch for the morning; I say, more than those who watch for the morning.
7. Let Israel hope in the LORD; for with the LORD there is mercy, and with Him is plentiful redemption.
8. And He shall redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-THIRTY-ONE

A Song of degrees; of David.
1. O LORD, my heart is not proud, nor my eyes lofty; nor do I involve myself in great affairs, nor in things too wondrous for me.
2. Surely I have calmed and have quieted my soul as a child weaned by its mother; my soul within me is like a child weaned.
3. Let Israel hope in the LORD from this time forward and forever.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-THIRTY-TWO

A Song of degrees.
1. O LORD, remember David and all his afflictions,
2. How he swore to the LORD; and he vowed unto the Mighty One of Jacob:
3. “Surely I will not come into the tabernacle of my house, nor go up into my bed;
4. I will not give sleep to my eyes, nor slumber to my eyelids.
5. Until I find out a place for the LORD, a habitation for the Mighty One of Jacob.”
6. Lo, we heard of it at Ephrathah; we found it in the fields of the woods.
7. Let us go unto His tabernacle; let us worship at His footstool.
8. Arise, O LORD, into Your rest; You and the ark of Your strength.
9. Let Your priests be clothed with righteousness, and let Your saints shout for joy.
10. For Your servant David’s sake, turn not away the face of Your anointed.
11. The LORD has sworn to David in truth; He will not turn from it: “Of the fruit of your body will I set upon the throne forever.”

12. If your children keep My covenant and My testimonies which I shall teach them, their sons shall also sit upon your throne forever.”
13. The LORD has chosen Zion; He has desired it for His habitation:
14. “This is My resting place forever; here I will dwell, for I have desired it.
15. I will abundantly bless her provision;
16. I will clothe her priests with salvation, and her saints shall shout aloud for joy.
17. There will I make the horn of David to bud; I have prepared a lamp for My anointed.
18. I will clothe his enemies with shame; upon himself shall his crown shine.”

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-THIRTY-THREE

A Song of degrees; of David.
1. Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!
2. It is like the precious ointment upon the head that ran down upon the beard, Aaron’s beard, that went down to the hem of his garments;
3. Like the dew of Hermon that descended upon the mountains of Zion, for there the LORD commanded the blessing, even life forevermore.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-THIRTY-FOUR

A Song of degrees.
1. Behold, bless the LORD, all you servants of the LORD who stand by night in the house of the LORD.
2. Lift up your hands in the sanctuary and bless the LORD.
3. May the LORD Who made the heavens and earth, bless you out of Zion.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-THIRTY-FIVE

1. O praise the LORD! O praise the name of the LORD; praise Him, O you servants of the LORD.
2. Those who stand in the house of the LORD, in the courts of the house of our God,
3. O praise the LORD; for the LORD is good; sing praises to His name, for it is pleasant,
4. For the LORD has chosen Jacob for Himself, and Israel for His own treasure,
5. For I know that the LORD is great, and our Lord is above all gods.
6. Whatever the LORD pleases, He does in the heavens and in earth, and in the seas and in all deep places.
7. He causes the vapors to rise from the end of the earth; He makes lightnings for the rain; He brings the wind out of His treasuries.
8. He who struck the firstborn of Egypt, both of man and animal;
9. Who sent signs and wonders into your midst, O Egypt, upon pharaoh and upon all his servants;
10. Who struck great nations and slew mighty kings,
11. Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan,
12. And gave their land as an inheritance, an inheritance to Israel His people.
13. Your name, O LORD, endures forever, and Your memorial, O LORD, throughout all generations,
14. For the LORD will judge His people, and He will have compassion upon His servants.
15. The idols of the nations are silver and gold, the work of men’s hands.
16. They have mouths, but they do not speak; they have eyes, but they do not see;
17. They have ears, but they do not hear, nor is there breath in their mouths.
18. Those who make them are like unto them, so also everyone who trusts in them.
19. Bless the LORD, O house of Israel; bless the LORD, O house of Aaron;
20. Bless the LORD, O house of Levi; you who fear the LORD, bless the LORD.
21. Blessed is the LORD out of Zion, Who dwells at Jerusalem. O praise you the LORD!
PSALM ONE HUNDRED-THIRTY-SIX

1. Oh, give thanks to the Lord, for He is good, for His mercy endures forever.
2. Oh, give thanks to the God of gods, for His mercy endures forever.
3. Oh, give thanks to the Lord of lords, for His mercy endures forever.
4. To Him Who alone does great wonders, for His mercy endures forever;
5. To Him Who by understanding made the heavens, for His mercy endures forever;
6. To Him Who stretched out the earth above the waters, for His mercy endures forever;
7. To Him Who made great lights, for His mercy endures forever;
8. The sun to rule by day, for His mercy endures forever;
9. The moon and stars to rule by night, for His mercy endures forever;
10. The firstborn, for His mercy endures forever;
11. And brought Israel out from among their enemies, for His mercy endures forever;
12. With a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, for His mercy endures forever;
13. To Him Who divided the Red Sea into parts, for His mercy endures forever;
14. And made Israel to pass through the midst of it, for His mercy endures forever;
15. But overthrew pharaoh and his army in the Red Sea, for His mercy endures forever;
16. To Him Who led His people through the wilderness, for His mercy endures forever;
17. To Him Who struck great kings, for His mercy endures forever;
18. And slew mighty kings, for His mercy endures forever;
19. Sihon king of the Amorites, for His mercy endures forever;
20. And Og the king of Bashan, for His mercy endures forever;
21. And gave their land for an inheritance, for His mercy endures forever;
22. Even an inheritance to Israel His servant, for His mercy endures forever;
23. Who remembered us in our low estate, for His mercy endures forever;
24. And has redeemed us from our enemies, for His mercy endures forever;
25. Who gives food to all flesh, for His mercy endures forever.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-THIRTY-SEVEN

1. By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down; yea, we wept when we remembered Zion.
2. We hung our lyres on the willows in the midst of it,
3. For there our captors demanded a song from us; and our tormentors demanded joy, saying, “Sing us one of the songs of Zion.”
4. How shall we sing the Lord’s song in a foreign land?
5. If I forget you, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget its cunning.
6. If I do not remember you, let my tongue cling to the roof of my mouth—if I do not set Jerusalem above my chief joy.
7. Remember, O Lord, concerning the sons of Edom in the day of Jerusalem, who said, “Raze it! Raze it! Even to its foundation!”
8. 0 daughter of Babylon, O you who are to be destroyed! Blessed is he who will repay to you your reward which you rewarded to us.
9. Happy shall he be who seizes and dashes your little ones against the rock.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-THIRTY-EIGHT

A Psalm of David.

1. I will praise You with my whole heart; before the gods I will sing praise to You. 2. I will worship toward Your holy temple, and praise Your name for Your lovingkindness, and for Your truth; for You have magnified above all—Your name and Your word.
3. In the day when I cried, You answered me and made me bold with strength in my soul.
4. All the kings of the earth shall praise You, O LORD, when they hear the words of Your mouth.
5. Yea, they shall sing in the ways of the LORD, for great is the glory of the LORD.
6. Though the LORD is high, yet He has respect to the lowly; but the haughty He knows afar off.
7. Though I walk in the midst of trouble,
You will revive me; You shall stretch forth Your hand against the wrath of my enemies, and Your right hand shall save me.

8. The LORD will perfect His work in me; Your steadfast love, O LORD, endures forever; do not forsake the work of Your own hands.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-THIRTY-NINE

To the Chief Musician.
A Psalm of David.

1. O LORD, You have searched me and have known me.
2. You know my sitting down and my rising up; You understand my thoughts afar off.
3. You measure my going about and my lying down, and are acquainted with all my ways,
4. For there is not a word on my tongue, but, lo, O LORD, You know it altogether.
5. You have enclosed me behind and in front, and laid Your hand upon me.
6. Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it.
7. Where shall I go from Your Spirit? Or where shall I flee from Your presence?
8. If I go up into heaven, You are there; if I make my bed in the grave, behold, You are there.
9. If I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the farthest parts of the sea,
10. Even there Your hand shall lead me, and Your right hand shall hold me.
11. If I say, "Surely the darkness shall cover me, and the light around me shall be night;"
12. Even the darkness does not hide from You, but the night shines as the day; as is the darkness, so is the light to You,
13. For You have possessed my reins; You have knit me together in my mother’s womb.
14. I will praise You, for I am awesomely and wonderfully made; Your works are marvelous and my soul knows it very well.
15. My substance was not hidden from You when I was made in secret and intricately formed in the lowest parts of the earth.
16. Your eyes did see my substance, yet being unformed; and in Your book all my members were written, which in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there were none of them.

17. How precious also are Your thoughts to me, O God! How great is the sum of them!
18. If I should count them, they are more than the sand; when I awake, I am still with You.
19. Surely You will slay the wicked, O God; therefore you bloody men, depart from me,
20. For they speak against You wickedly and Your enemies take Your name in vain.
21. O LORD, do I not hate those who hate You? And am I not grieved with those who rise up against You?
22. I hate them with perfect hatred; I count them my enemies.
23. Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me, and know my thoughts,
24. And see if any wicked way is in me; and lead me in the way everlasting.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-FOURTY

To the Chief Musician.
A Psalm of David.

1. Deliver me, O LORD, from the evil man; keep me from the violent man,
2. Those who devise evil things in their hearts; together they always stir up wars.
3. They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent; the poison of a viper is under their lips. Selah.
4. O LORD, keep me from the hands of the wicked; preserve me from the violent man who purposed to overthrow my steps.
5. The proud have hidden a snare and a trap for me; they have spread a net by the wayside; they have set traps for me. Selah.
6. I said to the LORD, “You are my God; O LORD, hear the voice of my supplications.
7. O Lord GOD, the strength of my salvation, You have covered my head in the day of battle.
8. O LORD, do not grant the desires of the wicked; do not further their wicked plots, lest they exalt themselves. Selah.
9. “As for the head of those who surround me, let the evil of their own lips cover them.
10. Let burning coals fall upon them; let them be cast into the fire, into deep pits, so that they do not rise up again.
11. Let not a slanderer be established in the earth; let calamity hunt down the violent man with thrust upon thrust."
12. I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted and the right of the poor.
13. Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto Your name; the upright shall dwell in Your presence.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-FOURTY-ONE

An Instructions of David.

A Prayer when he was in the cave.

1. O LORD, I cry to You; make haste unto You; give ear unto my voice when I call unto You.
2. Let my prayer be set forth before You as incense, and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice.
3. Set a guard, O LORD, to my mouth; keep watch over the door of my lips.
4. Let not my heart turn aside to any evil thing, to practice wicked works with men who work iniquity; and let me not eat of their delicacies.
5. Let the righteous strike me in kindness, and let him correct me; it is choice oil upon my head; let not my head refuse it, for still my prayer is also against their wickedness.
6. When their judges are overthrown in stony places, they shall hear my words; for they are sweet.
7. Our bones are scattered at the grave’s mouth, as when one cuts and splits wood upon the earth.
8. But my eyes are upon You, O Lord GOD; in You I take refuge, do not leave me destitute.
9. Keep me from the traps which they have laid for me, and from the snares of the workers of iniquity.
10. Let the wicked fall into their own nets together, while I escape.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-FOURTY-TWO

An Instruction of David.

A Prayer when he was in the cave.

1. I cried to the Lord with my voice; with my voice did I make my supplication unto the Lord.
2. I poured out my complaint before Him; I declared my trouble before Him.
3. When my spirit fainted within me, then You knew my path. In the way in which I walked they have secretly laid a snare for me.
4. Look to the right and see, no one is concerned for me; I have no way to flee; no man cares for my life.
5. I cried to You, O Lord; I said, “You are my refuge and my portion in the land of the living.
6. Hear my cry, for I am brought very low; deliver me from my persecutors, for they are stronger than I.
7. Bring my soul out of prison that I may praise Your name; the righteous shall gather around me, for You shall deal bountifully with me.”

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-FOURTY-THREE

An Instruction of David.

A Prayer when he was in the cave.

1. I cried to the Lord with my voice; with my voice did I make my supplication unto the Lord.
2. I poured out my complaint before Him; I declared my trouble before Him.
3. When my spirit fainted within me, then You knew my path. In the way in which I walked they have secretly laid a snare for me.

12. And in Your mercy cut off my enemies, and destroy all those who afflict my soul, for I am Your servant.

PSALM ONE HUNDRED-FOURTY-FOUR

A Psalm of David.
1. Blessed is the LORD my Rock, Who trains my hands for war, my fingers for battle.
2. He is my lovingkindness and my fortress, my high tower and my deliverer, my shield and He in Whom I take refuge, Who subdues my people under me.
3. O LORD, what is man that You take knowledge of him? Or the son of man, that You think of him?
4. Man is like a breath; his days are like a shadow that passes away.
5. Bow down Your heavens, O LORD, and come down; touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.
6. Cast forth lightning and scatter them; shoot out Your arrows and destroy them.
7. Send Your hand from above; rescue me and deliver me out of mighty waters, from the hand of foreigners
8. Because their mouth has spoken vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of lies.
9. I will sing a new song to You, O God; on a harp of ten strings I will sing praises to You.
10. It is You Who give salvation to kings, Who deliver David His servant from the hurtful sword.
11. Rescue me and deliver me from the hand of foreigners because their mouth has spoken deceit, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood,
12. So that our sons may be like plants grown up in their youth; and our daughters may be like corner stones, polished like a palace building;
13. And that our storehouses may be full, furnishing all kinds of produce; and our sheep may increase by thousands and ten thousands in our fields;
14. And that our oxen may labor; that there be no mishap and no loss and no outcry in our streets.
15. Blessed are the people who are so; blessed are the people whose God is the LORD.
PSALM ONE HUNDRED-FOURTY-SIX

1. O praise the LORD. Praise the LORD, O my soul.
2. While I live I will praise the LORD; I will sing praises unto my God while I have any being.
3. Do not put your trust in princes, nor in the son of man in whom there is no salvation.
4. His breath goes forth; he returns to the earth; in that very day his thoughts perish.
5. Happy is he who has the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the LORD his God.
6. Who made the heavens and earth, the sea and all that is in them; Who keeps them and for his help, whose hope is in the LORD his God,
7. Who makes grass to grow upon the mountains.
8. Who covers the heavens with clouds, and makes the waters run after the clouds.
9. He gives the beasts their food and to the young ravens which cry.

13. For He has made the bars of your gates strong; He has blessed your children within you.
14. He makes peace within your borders and fills you with the finest of the wheat.
15. He sends forth His commandment upon earth; His word runs very swiftly.
16. He gives snow like wool; He scatters the hoarfrost like ashes.
17. He casts forth His ice like crumbs. Who can stand before His cold?
18. He sends out His word and melts them; He causes His wind to blow, and the waters flow.
19. He declares His word unto Jacob, His statutes and His ordinances unto Israel.
20. He has not done so with any other nation; and as for his ordinances, they have not known them. O praise the LORD!

9. He gives the beasts their food and to the young ravens which cry.
10. He delights not in the strength of the horse; He takes no pleasure in the legs of a man.

19. He declares His word unto Jacob, His statutes and His ordinances unto Israel.
20. He has not done so with any other nation; and as for his ordinances, they have not known them. O praise the LORD!
12. Both young men and maidens, old men and children;
13. Let them praise the name of the LORD, for His name alone is exalted; His glory is above the earth and the heavens.
14. And He has also lifted up a horn for His people, praise for all His saints, even of the children of Israel, a people near to Him. O praise the LORD!

The Book of the

Proverbs*

CHAPTER ONE

1. The proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel:
2. To know wisdom and instruction; to perceive the words of understanding;
3. To receive the instruction of wisdom, righteousness, and judgment, and equity;
4. To give prudence to the simple, knowledge and discretion to the young man.
5. A wise man will hear and will increase learning, and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsel
6. To understand a proverb and its interpretation, the words of the wise, and their dark sayings.
7. The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge, but fools despise wisdom and instruction.
8. My son, hear the instruction of your father and forsake not the law of your mother,
9. For they shall be an ornament of grace to your head and chains of honor around your neck.
10. My son, if sinners entice you, do not consent.
11. If they say, “Come with us, let us lie in wait for blood; we will watch secretly for the innocent without cause;
12. Let us swallow them up alive as the grave, and whole, as those who go down into the pit;
13. We shall find all precious substance; we shall fill our houses with plunder;
14. Cast in your lot among us, and let us have one purse.”
15. My son, do not walk in the way with them! Keep back your foot from their path,

16. For their feet run to evil and make haste to shed blood.
17. Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird,
18. But they lie in wait for their own blood; they watch secretly for their own lives.
19. So are the ways of everyone who gets gain by violence, who takes away the life of its owners.
20. Wisdom cries outside; she utters her voice in the streets;
21. She cries in the chief place of gathering, in the openings of the gates; in the city she utters her words, saying,
22. “How long will you love simplicity, simple ones? And will scorners delight in their scorning? And will fools hate knowledge?
23. Turn back at my reproof; behold, I will pour out my spirit to you; I will make my words known to you.
24. Because I called, and you refused to hearken, I stretched out my hand, and no one paid attention;
25. But you have despised all my counsel and would have none of my reproof.
26. I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear comes;
27. When your calamity comes like a whirlwind, when trouble and pain come upon you,
28. Then they shall call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me.
29. Because they hated knowledge and did not choose the fear of the LORD, they would have none of my counsel; they despised my reproof.
30. Therefore they shall eat the fruit of their own way and be filled with their own devices.
31. For the waywardness of the simple shall slay them, and the complacency of fools destroys them.
32. But whoever hearkens to me shall dwell safely and shall be secure without fear of harm.”

CHAPTER TWO

1. My son, if you will receive my words and treasure up my commandments within you,
2. So that you incline your ear to wisdom and apply your heart to understanding;
3. Yea, if you cry after knowledge and lift up your voice for understanding;
4. If you seek her as silver and search for her as for hidden treasures,
5. Then you shall understand the fear of the LORD and find the knowledge of God.
6. For the LORD gives wisdom; out of His mouth comes knowledge and understanding.
7. He lays up sound wisdom for the righteous; He is a shield to those who walk uprightly.
8. He keeps the paths of right judgment and preserves the way of His saints.
9. Then you shall understand righteousness and judgment and equity, every good path.
10. Wisdom shall enter into your heart, and knowledge will be pleasing to your soul;
11. Discretion shall preserve you and, understanding shall keep you,
12. To deliver you from the way of the evil man, from the man who speaks wicked things,
13. Those who leave the paths of uprightness to walk in the ways of darkness,
14. Who rejoice to do evil and delight in the perversities of the wicked,
15. Whose ways are crooked, and are devious in their paths;
16. To deliver you from the wanton woman, even from the stranger who flatters with her words,
17. Who forsakes the guide of her youth and forgets the covenant of her God,
18. For her house sinks down to death, and her paths to the dead.
19. None that go unto her return again, nor do they take hold of the paths of life—
20. In order that you may walk in the way of good and keep the paths of the righteous.
21. For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it.
22. But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

CHAPTER THREE

1. My son, do not forget my law, but let your heart keep my commandments;
2. For they shall add length of days, and long life, and peace, to you.
3. Do not let mercy and truth forsake you; bind them around your neck; write them upon the tablet of your heart; 4. And so you shall find favor and good understanding in the sight of God and man. 5. Trust in the LORD with all your heart, and lean not to your own understanding. 6. In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct your paths. 7. Do not be wise in your own eyes; fear the LORD and depart from evil. 8. It shall be health to your navel and marrow to your bones. 9. Honor the LORD with your substance and with the firstfruits of all your increase; 10. And your barns shall be filled with plenty, and your presses shall burst with new wine. 11. My son, do not despise the chastening of the LORD, nor be weary of His correction; 12. For whom the LORD loves He corrects, even as a father corrects the son in whom he delights. 13. Blessed is the man who finds wisdom, and the man who gets understanding, 14. For the merchandise of it is better than the gain from silver, and its produce more than the gain of fine gold; 15. She is more precious than rubies; and all the things you can desire are not to be compared with her. 16. Length of days is in her right hand; and in her left hand, riches and honor. 17. Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace. 18. She is a tree of life to those who lay hold upon her; and happy is everyone who holds her fast. 19. The LORD has founded the earth by wisdom; by understanding He has established the heavens. 20. By His knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew. 21. My son, do not let them depart from your eyes; keep sound wisdom and discretion. 22. And they shall be life to your soul and grace to your neck. 23. Then you shall walk in your way safely, and your foot shall not stumble. 24. When you lie down, you shall not be afraid; yea, you shall lie down, and your sleep shall be sweet.

25. Have no fear of sudden disaster, nor of the desolation of the wicked when it comes; 26. For the LORD shall be your confidence and shall keep your foot from being taken. 27. Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due, when it is in the power of your hand to do it. 28. Do not say to your neighbor, “Go and come back again, and tomorrow I will give,” when you have it with you: 29. Do not plan evil against your neighbor since he dwells trustingly by you. 30. Do not strive with a man without cause if he has done you no harm. 31. Do not envy the oppressor, and choose none of his ways. 32. For the crooked man is an abomination to the LORD, but His secret is with the righteous. 33. The curse of the LORD is in the house of the wicked, but He blesses the home of the righteous. 34. Surely He scorns the scorners, but He gives grace to the lowly. 35. The wise shall inherit glory, but shame shall be the promotion of fools.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. O children, hear the instruction of a father, and be attentive in order to know understanding, 2. For I give you good doctrine; do not forsake my law, 3. For I was my father’s son, tender and beloved in the sight of my mother. 4. He also taught me, and said to me, “Let your heart hold fast my words; keep my commandments and live. 5. Get wisdom; get understanding; forget it not, nor turn away from the words of my mouth. 6. Do not forsake her, and she shall keep you; love her, and she shall preserve you. 7. Wisdom is the principal thing; get wisdom; and with all your getting get understanding. 8. Exalt her, and she shall promote you; she shall bring you honor when you embrace her. 9. She shall place upon your head a crown of grace; she shall bestow upon you a crown of glory.” 10. Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of your life shall be many.
11. I have taught you in the way of wisdom; I have led you in the right paths.
12. When you go, your steps shall not be hampered, and when you run, you shall not stumble.
13. Keep hold of instruction; do not let go; keep her, for she is your life.
14. Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not into the way of evil men.
15. Avoid it; do not go in it; turn from it, and pass on!
16. For they do not sleep except when they have done mischief; and their sleep is taken away unless they cause some to fall,
17. For they eat the bread of wickedness and drink the wine of violence.
18. But the path of the just is as shining light, that shines more and more to the perfect day.
19. The way of the wicked is as darkness; they know not at what they stumble.
20. My son, attend to my words; incline your ear to my sayings.
21. Let them not depart from your eyes; keep them in the midst of your heart,
22. For they are life to those who find them, and health to all their flesh.
23. Above all guard the door of your mind ★ with diligence, for out of it are the issues of life.
24. Put away from you a deceitful mouth, and devious lips put far from you.
25. Let your eyes look right on, and let your eyelids look straight before you.
26. Ponder the path of your feet, and all your ways will be established.
27. Do not turn to the right hand nor to the left; remove your foot from evil.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. My son, attend to my wisdom; bow your ear to my understanding;
2. That you may keep discretion, and that your lips may keep knowledge.
3. For the lips of a wanton woman drip as a honeycomb, and her mouth is smoother than oil;
4. But her end is as bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two-edged sword.
5. Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold on the grave.
6. She does not ponder the path of life; her ways are unstable—you cannot know them.
7. Now therefore hear me, O you children, and do not depart from the words of my mouth.
8. Remove your ways far from her, and do not come near the door of her house,
9. Lest you give your honor unto others and your years unto the cruel;
10. Lest strangers be filled with your wealth, and your labors be in the house of a stranger;
11. And you moan when your end comes, when your flesh and your body are consumed,
12. And say, “How I hated instruction, and my heart despised correction;
13. And I have not obeyed the voice of my teachers, nor inclined my ears to those who taught me!
14. I was almost in utter ruin in the midst of the congregation and assembly.”
15. Drink waters out of your own cistern and running waters out of your own well.
16. Let your fountains be dispersed abroad as rivers of waters in the streets.
17. Let them be only your own, and not strangers’ with you.
18. Let your fountain be blessed, and rejoice with the wife of your youth.
19. Let her be as the loving deer and pleasant doe, let her breasts satisfy you at all times, and be ravished always with her love.
20. For why will you, my son, be ravished with a strange woman, and embrace the bosom of a stranger?
21. For the ways of man are before the eyes of the LORD, and He ponders all his paths.
22. His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be held with the cords of his sins.
23. He shall die without instruction; and in the greatness of his folly he shall breathe his last.

CHAPTER SIX

1. My son, if you are surety for your friend, if you have struck your hands in a pledge with a stranger,
2. You are snared with the words of your mouth, and you are caught with the words of your mouth—
3. Then my son, do this now, and deliver yourself when you have come into the hand of your friend: go, humble yourself and make your friend sure.
4. Do not give sleep to your eyes or slumber to your eyelids.
5. Deliver yourself as a gazelle from the hunter’s hand, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.
6. Go to the ant, sluggard; consider her ways and be wise,
7. Who having no guide, overseer, or ruler,
8. Provides her food in the summer and gathers her food in the harvest.
9. How long will you sleep, O sluggard? When will you arise out of your sleep?
10. Yet, a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest;
11. So shall your poverty come as one who travels, and your want like an armed man.
12. A worthless person, a wicked man, walks with a perverse mouth,
13. Winking with his eyes, speaking with his feet, pointing with his fingers;
14. Perversity is in his heart; he is always planning mischief; he causes discord.
15. Therefore his calamity shall come suddenly; instantly he shall be broken without remedy.
16. These six things the LORD hates; yea, seven are an abomination unto Him:
17. A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood,
18. A heart that plots wicked imaginations, feet that are swift in running to evil,
19. A false witness who speaks lies, and he who sows discord among brethren.
20. My son, keep your father’s commandments, and do not forsake the instruction of your mother;
21. Bind them continually upon your heart; tie them around your neck.
22. When you go, they shall lead you; when you sleep, they shall keep you; and when you awake, they shall talk with you.
23. For the commandment is a lamp, and the law is light, and reproofs of instruction are the way of life
24. To keep you from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.
25. Do not lust after her beauty in your heart; nor let her seduce you with her eyelids
26. For by means of a harlot a man is vanquished to a piece of bread; and the adulteress will hunt for the precious life.
27. Can a man take fire to his bosom, and his clothes not be burned?
15. Therefore I came out to meet you, earnestly to seek your face, and I have found you.
16. I have decked my bed with coverings of tapestry, with fine linen of Egypt.
17. I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.
18. Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning; let us delight ourselves with caresses,
19. For my husband is not at home; he has gone on a long journey.
20. He has taken a bag of silver with him and will come home on the day of the full moon.”
21. With much alluring, seductive speech she caused him to yield; with the flattering of her lips she induced him.
22. He goes after her immediately, like an ox goes to the slaughter, or like a fool to the correction of the stocks
23. Until a dart strikes through his liver; as a bird hastens to the snare and does not know that it will cost him his life.
24. Hearken unto me now therefore, O you children, and attend to the words of my mouth.
25. Do not let your heart turn aside to her ways; do not go astray in her paths,
26. For she has cast down many wounded; yea, many strong men have been slain by her.
27. Her house is the way to the grave, going down to the chambers of death.

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. Does not wisdom call? And does not understanding put forth her voice?
2. She stands in the top of high places, by the place where the paths meet.
3. She cries in the gates, at the entrance of the city, at the doors:
4. “To you, O men, I call; and my voice is to the sons of men.
5. O you simple ones, understand wisdom; and, you fools, be of an understanding heart.
6. Hear; for I will speak of excellent things; and the opening of my lips shall be right things,
7. For my mouth shall speak truth; and wickedness is an abomination to my lips.
8. All the words of my mouth are in righteousness; there is nothing twisted or perverse in them.
9. They are all plain to him who under-Proverbs 8 - 10

CHAPTER NINE

1. Wisdom has built her house; she has carved out her seven pillars; 2. She has prepared her meat; she has mixed her wine; she has also furnished her table; 3. She has sent out her young women; she cries upon the highest places of the city, 4. “Whoever is simple, let him turn to understanding. 5. “Come, eat of my bread and drink of the wine I have mixed. 6. Forsake the foolish and live; and go in the way of understanding. 7. The one who rebukes a scorner gets shame to himself; and the one who rebukes a wicked one gets himself an insult. 8. Do not reprove a scorner, lest he hate you; give rebuke to a wise man, and he will love you. 9. Give instruction to a wise one, and he will love you. 10. The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom; and the knowledge of the holy is understanding. 11. For by me your days shall be multiplied, and the years of your life shall be increased. 12. If you are wise, you shall be wise for yourself; but if you scorn, you alone shall bear it.” 13. A foolish woman is clamorous; she is simple and knows nothing. 14. And she sits at the door of her house, on a seat in the high places of the city, 15. To call those who pass by, who are going straight on their ways:

CHAPTER TEN

1. The proverbs of Solomon. A wise son makes a glad father, but a foolish son is grief to his mother. 2. Treasures of wickedness profit nothing, but righteousness delivers from death. 3. The LORD will not allow the soul of the righteous to famish, but He thwarteth the desire of the wicked. 4. He who deals with a lazy hand becomes poor, but the hand of the diligent makes rich. 5. Wise ones store up knowledge, but the mouth of the foolish is near ruin. 15. The rich man’s wealth is his strong city; the destruction of the poor is their poverty. 16. The labor of the righteous tends to life; the fruit of the wicked tends to sin. 17. He who keeps instruction is in the earth; and my delight was with the sons of men.

32. And now therefore hearken unto me, O you children, for blessed are those who keep my ways.

33. Hear instruction, and be wise, and do not refuse it. 34. Blessed is the man who hears me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors, 35. For whoever finds me finds life and shall obtain favor from the LORD. 36. But he who sins against me wrongs his own soul; all who hate me love death.”

32. In the end it bites like an asp and stings like an adder.
33. Your eyes shall look upon strange things and your heart shall speak perverse things.
34. Yea, you shall be as one who lies down in the middle of the sea, or as one who lies upon the top of a mast,

20. For there shall not be a reward to the evil man; the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.
21. My son, fear the LORD and the king; and do not fellowship with those who are given to change;

31. And, behold, it was all grown over with thorns, and nettles had covered the face of it, and its stone wall was broken down.
32. Then I saw and considered it well; I looked upon it and I received instruction.
33. Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to lie down,
34. Then your poverty comes stalking, and your wants like an armed man.

22. For you shall heap coals of fire upon his head, and the LORD shall reward you.
23. As the north wind brings rain, so does an angry countenance a backbiting tongue.
24. It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop than to share a house with a contentious woman.
25. Like cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country.
26. A righteous man giving way before the wicked is like a troubled fountain and a corrupt spring.
27. It is not good to eat much honey; nor is it glory for men to seek their own glory.
28. He who has no rule over his own spirit is like a broken down city without a wall.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

1. As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest, so honor is not becoming for a fool.
2. As the bird by wandering, as the swallow by flying, so the curse without cause shall not come.
3. A whip for the horse, a bridle for the donkey, and a rod for the fool’s back.
4. Do not answer a fool according to his folly, lest you also be like him.
5. Answer a fool according to his folly, so that he may not be wise in his own conceit.
6. He who sends a message by the hand of a fool cuts off the feet and drinks down damage.
7. As the legs of the lame hang limp, so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
8. As he who ties a stone in a sling, so is he who gives honor to a fool.
9. As a thorn goes up into the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fools.
10. The great God who formed all things both rewards the fool and rewards transgressors.
11. As a dog returns to its vomit, so a fool returns to his own folly.
12. Do you see a man wise in his own conceit? There is more hope for a fool than for him.
13. The lazy one says, “There is a lion in the way; yea a lion is in the streets.”
14. As the door turns upon its hinges, so does the lazy man turn upon his bed.
15. The lazy man hides his hand in his bosom; it wears him out to bring it back to his mouth.
16. The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes than seven men who can give a reason.
17. He who passes by and meddles with strife not his own is like one who takes a dog by the ears,
18. Or like a madman who throws firebrands, arrows, and death.
19. So is the man who deceives his neighbor and says, “Am I not only joking?”
20. Where there is no wood, the fire goes out; and where there is no talebearer, the quarreling ceases.

21. As charcoal to burning embers, and wood is to fire, so is a contentious man to kindle strife.

22. The words of a talebearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.

23. Burning lips and a wicked heart are like a broken piece of pottery with silver dross.

24. He who hates and disguises it with his lips stores up deceit within himself.

25. When he makes his voice gracious, do not believe him, for seven hateful things are in his heart.

26. He whose hatred is covered by deceit, his wickedness shall be revealed before the congregation.

27. Whoever digs a pit shall fall into it; and he who rolls a stone, it shall turn back upon him.

28. A lying tongue hates those afflicted by it, and a flattering mouth works ruin.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN

1. Do not boast yourself of tomorrow, for you do not know what a day may bring forth.

2. Let another man praise you, and not your own mouth; a stranger, and not your own lips.

3. A stone is heavy, and sand is weighty; but a fool’s wrath is heavier than them both.

4. Wrath is cruel and anger is overwhelming, but who is able to stand before jealousy?

5. Open rebuke is better than secret love.

6. Faithful are the wounds of a friend, but the kisses of an enemy are deceitful.

7. The full soul loathes a honeycomb, but to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.

8. As a bird that wanders from her nest, so is a man who wanders from his place.

9. Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart; so does the sweetness of one’s friend by advice from the heart.

10. Your own friend, and your father’s friend, do not forsake them; nor go to your brother’s house in the day of your calamity; better is a neighbor that is near than a brother far off.

11. My son, be wise and make my heart glad, so that I may answer him who reproaches me.

12. A prudent man foresees the evil and hides himself, but the simple pass on and are punished.

13. Take the garment of him who is surety for a stranger, and hold it in pledge when he is surety for a strange woman.

14. He who blesses his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, it shall be counted a curse to him.

15. A never-ending dripping on a very rainy day and a contentious woman are alike.

16. Whoever restrains her restrains the wind and can control oil in his right hand.

17. As iron sharpens iron, so a man sharpens the countenance of his friend.

18. Whoever tends the fig tree shall eat its fruit, and he who guards his master shall be honored.

19. As in water, the face reflects itself, so the heart of man reflects the man.

20. The grave and destruction are never full, so the eyes of man are never satisfied.

21. As the refining pot for silver and the furnace for gold, so is a man tested by the praise given to him.

22. Though you pound a fool in a mortar with a pestle along with crushed wheat, yet his foolishness will not depart from him.

23. Be diligent to know the state of your flocks, and give attention to your herds.

24. For riches are not forever; nor does the crown endure to every generation.

25. When the hay is removed, and the tender grass is seen, and herbs of the mountains are gathered,

26. The lambs will be for your clothing, and the goats will be the price of a field.

27. And you shall have goats’ milk enough for your food, for the nourishment of your household, and sustenance for your maidservants.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

1. The wicked flee when no man pursues, but the righteous are bold as a lion.

2. Because of the transgression of a land, many are its rulers, but with a man of understanding and knowledge the state shall be prolonged.
3. A poor man who oppresses the poor is like a sweeping rain which leaves no food.
4. Those who forsake the law praise the wicked, but those who keep the law contend against them.
5. Evil men do not understand justice, but those who seek the LORD understand all things.
6. Better is the poor who walks in his uprightness than he who is perverse in his ways, though he is rich.
7. Whoever keeps the law is a wise son, but a companion of riotous men shames his father.
8. He who increases his wealth by interest and unjust gain, he shall gather it for him who will pity the poor.
9. He who turns away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be an abomination.
10. Whoever causes the righteous man to go astray in an evil way, he himself shall fall into his own pit, but the upright shall inherit good.
11. The rich man is wise in his own conceit, but the poor man who has understanding will find him out.
12. When the righteous triumph, there is great glory; but when the wicked arise, men hide themselves.
13. He who covers his sins shall not prosper, but whoever confesses and forsakes them shall have mercy.
14. Blessed is the man who fears always, but he who hardens his heart shall fall into mischief.
15. Like a roaring lion and a ranging bear, so is a wicked ruler over the helpless people.
16. A ruler lacking understanding is also a great oppressor; he who hates covetousness shall prolong his days.
17. A man who is laden with human blood, let him be a fugitive until the grave; do not let anyone help him.
18. Whoever walks uprightly shall be saved, but he who is perverse in his ways shall fall at once.
19. He who tills his land shall have plenty of bread, but he who pursues fantasies shall have poverty enough.
20. A faithful man shall overflow with blessings, but he who makes haste to be rich shall not be unpunished.
21. To have respect of persons is not good; yea, for a piece of bread a man will transgress.
22. He who hastens to be rich has an evil eye and does not know that poverty will come upon him.
23. He who rebukes a man shall afterwards find more favor than he who flatters with the tongue.
24. Whoever robs his father or his mother and says, “It is no sin,” he shall be a companion to a destroyer.
25. He who is of a proud heart stirs up strife, but he who puts his trust in the LORD shall be enriched.
26. He who trusts in his own heart is a fool; but whoever walks wisely, he shall be delivered.
27. He who gives to the poor shall not lack, but he who hides his eyes shall have many a curse.
28. When the wicked arise, a man hides himself; but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

1. A man who hardens his neck when reproved shall be suddenly broken—and that without remedy.
2. When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked rule, the people mourn.
3. Whoever loves wisdom rejoices his father, but a companion of harlots wastes his wealth.
4. The king establishes the land by justice, but he who takes bribes tears it down.
5. A man who flatters his neighbor spreads a net for his feet.
6. In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare, but the righteous sings and rejoices.
7. The righteous considers the plea of the poor; the wicked cares not to know it.
8. Scornful men bring a city into a snare, but the wise turn away wrath.
9. If a wise man contends with a foolish man, whether he rages or laughs, there is no rest.
10. The bloodthirsty hate the upright, but the just seeks his well-being.
11. A fool utters all his mind, but a wise one keeps it in until afterwards.
12. If a ruler hearkens to lies, all his servants are wicked.
13. The poor and the deceitful man meet
Proverbs 29 - 30

1. The words of Agur the son of Jakeh, even the prophecy: The man spoke to Ithiel, to Ithiel and Ucal, saying,
2. "Surely I am more like an animal than any man, and do not have the understanding of a man.
3. I have not learned wisdom, nor the knowledge of the holy.
4. Who has gone up to heaven and has come down? Who has gathered the wind in His fists? Who has bound the waters in His garments? Who has established all the ends of the earth? What is His name, and what is His Son's name, if you know?
5. Every word of God is pure; He is a shield to those who put their trust in Him.
6. Do not add to His words, lest He correct you and you be found a liar.
7. I have asked two things from You; do not deny them before I die:
8. Remove far from me vanity and a lying word; give me neither poverty or riches; feed me my portion of bread,
9. Lest I be full and deny You, and say, 'Who is the Lord?' Or lest I be poor, and steal, and violate the name of my God.
10. Do not slander a servant to his master, lest he curse you, and you be found guilty.
11. There is a generation that curses their father and does not bless their mother.
12. There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their own filthiness.
13. There is a generation, O how lofty are their eyes! And their eyelids are lifted up.
14. There is a generation whose teeth are like swords, and their jaw teeth like knives, to devour the poor from off the earth and the needy from among men.
15. The leech has two daughters, crying, 'Give, give!' Three things are never satisfied, yea, four things never say, 'Enough!'—
16. The grave, the barren womb, the earth not filled with water, and the fire have never said, 'Enough.'
17. The eye that mocks at his father and despises to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it.
18. Three things which are too wonderful for me, yea, four which I do not understand:
19. The way of an eagle in the air; the way of a snake on a rock; the way of a ship in the middle of the sea; and the way of a man with a maiden.
20. Such is the way of an adulterous woman: she eats, and wipes her mouth, and says, 'I have done no wickedness.'
21. For three things the earth is disquieted, and for four it is not able to bear up:
22. For a slave when he reigns; and a fool when he is filled with food;
23. For a hateful woman when she is married; and a servant girl that is heir to her mistress.
24. Four things are little on the earth, but they are exceedingly wise:
25. The ants are a creature not strong, yet they prepare their food in the summer;
26. The rock badgers are not mighty creatures, yet they make their houses in the rock;
27. The locusts have no king, yet they go forth all of them by bands;
28. You can catch a lizard with your hands, yet it is in king’s palaces.
29. There are three things which go well, yea, four that go stately in walking:
30. A lion is mighty among beasts and does not turn away for any;
31. A greyhound, a male goat also, and a king, against whom there is no rising up.
32. If you have done foolishly in exalting yourself, or if you have thought evil, lay your hand on your mouth.
33. Surely as the churning of milk brings forth butter, and the wringing of the nose brings forth blood, so the forcing of wrath brings forth strife.”

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

1. The words of King Lemuel, the prophecy which his mother taught him:
3. Do not give your strength unto women, nor your ways unto that which destroys kings.
4. It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, nor for princes strong drink,
5. Lest they drink, and forget the law, and pervert the rights of all of the afflicted.
6. Give strong drink to him who is perishing, and wine to those who are of heavy hearts.
7. Let him drink and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more.
8. Open your mouth for the dumb in the cause of all who are appointed to destruction.
9. Open your mouth, judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy.
10. Who can find a virtuous woman? For her value is far above rubies.
11. The heart of her husband trusts safely in her, so that he shall have no lack of gain.
12. She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life.
13. She seeks wool and flax, and works willingly with her hands.
14. She is like the merchants’ ships; she brings her food from afar.
15. She also rises while it is still night, and gives food to her household, and a portion to her young maidens.
16. She considers a field and buys it; with the fruit of her hands she plants a vineyard.
17. She binds her loins with strength and makes her arms strong.
18. She sees that her merchandise is good; her lamp does not go out by night.
19. She lays her hands to the distaff, and her hands hold the spindle.
20. She stretches out her hand to the poor; yea, she reaches forth her hands to the needy.
21. She is not afraid of the snow for her household for all her household are clothed with scarlet.
22. She makes herself coverings; her clothing is silk and purple.
23. Her husband is known in the gates, when he sits among the elders of the land.
24. She makes fine linen and sells it, and delivers girdles to the merchants.
25. Strength and dignity are her clothing, and she shall rejoice in time to come.
26. She opens her mouth with wisdom, and in her tongue is the law of kindness.
27. She looks well to the ways of her household, and does not eat the bread of idleness.
28. Her children rise up and call her blessed, her husband also, and he praises her:
29. ‘Many daughters have done nobly, but you excel them all.’
30. Favor is deceitful, and beauty is vain; but a woman who fears the LORD, she shall be praised.
31. Give her of the fruit of her hands, and let her own works praise her in the gates.”
The Book of

Job

CHAPTER ONE

1. There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job. And that man was blameless and upright, and one who feared God and turned aside from evil.
2. And there were born to him seven sons and three daughters.
3. And his possessions also were seven thousand sheep and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred female donkeys, and a very great household, so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the east.
4. And his sons went and feasted in their houses, each one on his day. And they sent and called for their three sisters to eat and to drink with them.
5. And when the days of feasting were concluded, Job sent and sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all. For Job said, “It may be that my sons have sinned and cursed God in their hearts.” Thus Job continually did so.
6. Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord. And Satan also came among them to present himself before the Lord.
7. And the Lord said to Satan, “From where do you come?” Then Satan answered the Lord and said, “From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.”
8. And the Lord said to Satan, “Have you considered My servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a blameless and upright man, one who fears God and turns away from evil?”
9. And Satan answered the Lord and said, “Does Job fear God for nothing? Have You not made a hedge around him, and around his house, and around all that he has on every side? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his possessions have increased in the land.
11. But put forth Your hand now, and touch all that he has, and he will curse You to Your face.”
12. And the Lord said to Satan, “Behold, all that he has is in your power. Only do not lay your hand upon him.” And Satan went forth from the presence of the Lord.
13. Now there was a day when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother’s house.
14. And there came a messenger to Job and said, “The oxen were plowing, and the donkeys feeding beside them.
15. And the Sabeans fell upon them, and took them away. Yea, they have killed the servants with the edge of the sword. And I only have escaped alone to tell you.”
16. While he was still speaking, there also came another and said, “The fire of God has fallen from the heavens and has burned up the sheep and the servants, and destroyed them. And I only have escaped alone to tell you.”
17. While he was still speaking, there also came another and said, “Your sons and your daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother’s house.
18. And, behold, a great wind came from the wilderness and struck the four corners of the house, and it fell upon the youths, and they are dead. And I only have escaped alone to tell you.”
19. And Job arose, and tore his robe, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground and worshiped.
20. And he said, “Naked came I out of my mother’s womb, and naked shall I return. The Lord gave, and the Lord has taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord.”
21. In all this Job did not sin, nor charge God foolishly.

CHAPTER TWO

1. And again it came to pass on a day that the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord. And Satan also came among them to present himself before the Lord.
2. And the Lord said to Satan, “From where do you come?” Then Satan answered the Lord and said, “From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.”
3. And the Lord said to Satan, “Have you considered My servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a blameless and upright man, one who fears God and turns away from evil?”
4. And Satan answered the Lord and said, “Does Job fear God for nothing? Have You not made a hedge around him, and around his house, and around all that he has on every side? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his possessions have increased in the land.
5. But put forth Your hand now, and touch all that he has, and he will curse You to Your face.”
6. And the Lord said to Satan, “Behold, all that he has is in your power. Only do not lay your hand upon him.” And Satan went forth from the presence of the Lord.
where do you come?” And Satan answered the LORD and said, “From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.”

3. And the LORD said unto Satan, “Have you considered My servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a blameless and an upright man, one who fears God and turns away from evil? And still he is holding fast to his integrity, although you moved Me against him to destroy him without cause.”

4. And Satan answered the LORD and said, “Skin for skin, yea, all that a man has he will give for his life.

5. But indeed put forth Your hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse You to Your face.”

6. And the LORD said to Satan, “Behold, he is in your hand, but spare his life.”

7. And Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD and struck Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot to the top of his head.

8. And he took a broken piece of pottery to scrape himself with. And he sat down among the ashes.

9. And his wife said to him, “Do you still hold to your integrity? Curse God and die!”

10. But he said to her, “You speak as one of the foolish women speak. What? Shall we not receive evil?” In all this Job did not sin with his lips.

11. Now when Job’s three friends heard of all this evil that had come upon him, and they each one came from his own place: Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite. For they had met together to come to mourn with him and to comfort him.

12. And when they lifted up their eyes afar off, and did not recognize him, they lifted up their voices and wept. And each tore his robe, and they threw dust upon their heads toward heaven.

13. And they sat down with him upon the ground seven days and seven nights. And no one spoke a word to him, for they saw that his grief was very great.

CHAPTER THREE

1. After this Job opened his mouth and cursed the day of his birth.

2. And Job spoke and said,
24. For my sighing comes instead of my food, and my groanings are poured out like the waters.
25. For the thing which I greatly feared has come upon me, and that which I was afraid of has come to me.
26. I was not in safety, I have no rest, neither was I quiet; yet trouble comes.”

CHAPTER FOUR

1. And Eliphaz the Temanite answered:
2. “Shall one try to speak a word with you, or will you grow weary? But who can hold back himself from speaking?
3. Behold, you have instructed many, and you have made the weak hands strong.
4. Your words have upheld him who was falling, and you have made strong the feeble knees.
5. But now it has come upon you, and you faint. It touches you, and you are troubled.
6. Is not your fear of God your confidence, and the uprightness of your ways your hope?
7. Remember now who ever perished being innocent? Or where were the righteous ever cut off?
8. Even as I have seen, the ones who plow iniquity and sow wickedness reap the same.
9. By the blast of God they perish, and by the breath of His nostrils they are destroyed.
10. The roar of the lion, and the voice of the fierce lion, and the teeth of the young lions, are broken.
11. The strong lion perishes for lack of prey, and the strong lion’s cubs are scattered abroad.
12. And a word was secretly brought to me, and my ear received a little of it.
13. In thoughts from the visions of the night, when deep sleep falls upon men,
14. Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made all my bones shake.
15. And a spirit passed before my face; the hair of my flesh stood up.
16. It stood still, but I could not tell the form of it. An image was before my eyes; there was silence; then I heard a voice saying,
17. ‘Shall mortal man be more just than God? Shall a man be more pure than his Maker?’
18. Behold, He puts no trust in His servants, and His angels He charges with folly!
19. How much less in those who live in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, who are crushed before the moth?
20. They are destroyed from morning till evening; they perish forever without anyone regarding it.
21. Does not their excellency which is within them go away? They die, but even without wisdom.’”

CHAPTER FIVE

1. “Call now, is there anyone who will answer you? And to which of the saints will you turn?
2. For wrath kills the fool, and envy slays the simple one.
3. I have seen the fool taking root, but suddenly I beheld his dwelling place cursed.
4. His children are far from safety, and they are crushed in the gate, nor is there any to deliver them.
5. Their harvest the hungry eats up, and takes it even out of the thorns; and the snare swallows up their wealth.
6. For affliction does not come forth from the dust, nor does trouble spring up out of the ground;
7. Yet man is born to trouble, as the sparks fly upward.
8. But as for me, I would seek to God, and to God I would commit my cause,
9. Who is doing great things, even beyond searching; marvelous things without number,
10. Who gives rain upon the earth and sends waters upon the field,
11. To set on high those who are low, so that those who mourn may be lifted up to safety;
12. He frustrates the devising of the crafty, so that their hands cannot achieve prosperity.
13. He takes the wise in their own craftiness; and the schemes of the cunning are carried headlong upon them.
14. They meet with darkness in the daytime, and grope at the noonday as in the night.
15. But He saves the poor from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the mighty.
16. So then there is hope for the weak, and iniquity shuts her mouth.
17. Behold, happy is the man whom God corrects. Therefore do not despise the chastening of the Almighty.

18. For He makes sore, and binds up; He wounds, and His hands make whole.

19. He will deliver you in six troubles; yea, in seven no evil shall touch you.

20. In famine He shall redeem you from death; and in war from the power of the sword.

21. You shall be hidden from the scourge of the tongue; neither shall you be afraid of destruction when it comes.

22. At destruction and famine you shall laugh; neither shall you be afraid of the beasts of the earth.

23. For you shall be in covenant with the stones of the field; and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with you.

24. And you shall know that your tabernacle is in peace; and you shall visit your habitation, and shall miss nothing.

25. And you shall know that your seed will be numerous, and your offspring as the grass of the earth.

26. You shall come to your grave in a full age, like a shock of grain comes in its season.

27. Behold this, we have searched it out; it is true. Hear it and know for yourself.”

CHAPTER SIX

1. And Job answered and said,
2. “Oh, that my grief were but weighed, and my calamity laid in the balances together!
3. For now it would be heavier than the sand of the sea; therefore my words have been rash.
4. For the arrows of the Almighty are within me, my spirit is drinking up their poison. The terrors of God do set themselves against me.
5. Does the wild donkey bray when he has grass? Or does the ox low over his fodder?
6. Can that which has no taste be eaten without salt? Or is there taste in the white of an egg?
7. My soul refuses to touch them; they are sickening food to me.
8. Oh, that I might have my desire, and that God would grant the thing that I long for!
CHAPTER SEVEN

1. “Is there not an appointed time to man upon earth? Are not his days also like the days of a hireling?
2. As a servant earnestly desires the shade, and as a hireling looks for his wages,
3. So I am made to possess months of vanity, and weary nights are appointed to me.
4. When I lie down, I say, ‘When shall I rise?’ But the night is long, and I am full of tossing to and fro until the dawning of the day.
5. My flesh is clothed with maggots and dusty scabs; my skin cracks open and runs with pus.
6. My days are swifter than a weaver’s shuttle, and are spent without hope.
7. O remember that my life is a breath; my eye shall no more see good.
8. The eye of him who has seen me shall be no more.
9. For we have searched out, and consider that which their fathers have searched out,
10. For please inquire of the former age, and consider that which their fathers have searched out,
11. Therefore I will not refrain my mouth; I will speak in the anguish of my spirit; I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.
12. Am I like the sea, or a whale, that I am made to possess months of vanity, and weary nights are appointed to me.
13. When I say, ‘My bed shall comfort me, my couch shall ease my complaint,’
14. Then You scare me with dreams, and terrify me with visions;
15. So that my soul chooses strangling, and death rather than my life.
16. I despise my life; I will not live forever; let me alone, for my days are vanity.
17. What is man, that You should magnify him, and that You should set Your heart on him,
18. And that You should visit him every morning, and try him every moment?
19. How long? Will You not look away from me, nor let me alone until I swallow down my spittle?
20. If I have sinned, what shall I do to You, O Watcher of men? Why have You set me as Your target, so that I am a burden to myself?
21. And why do You not pardon my transgression, and take away my iniquity? For now I shall sleep in the dust, and You shall seek me in the morning, but I shall not be.”

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. And Bildad the Shuhite answered and said,
2. “How long will you speak these things, since the words of your mouth are like a strong wind?
3. Does God pervert justice? Or does the Almighty pervert that which is right?
4. If your sons have sinned against Him, and if He has cast them away for their transgression,
5. If you would seek earnestly to God and make your supplication to the Almighty;
6. If you were pure and upright, surely now He would awake for you, and make the dwelling place of your righteousness prosperous.
7. And if your beginning was small, yet your end would greatly increase.
8. For please inquire of the former age, and consider that which their fathers have searched out,
9. For we are but of yesterday and know nothing, because our days on earth are a shadow.
10. Shall they not teach you, and speak words out of their heart?
11. Can the rush grow up without mire?
12. While it is yet in its greenness, and not cut down, it dries out before any other herb.
13. So are the paths of all who forget God; and the hope of the hypocrite shall perish.
14. His hope shall be cut off, and his trust shall be a spider’s web.
15. He shall lean on his house, but it shall not stand; he shall hold fast to it, but it shall not endure.
16. He is moist before the sun, and his branches shoot forth in his garden.
17. His roots are wrapped around the heap, and he sees the place of stones.
18. If he is destroyed from his place, then it shall deny him saying, ‘I have not seen you.’
19. Behold, this is the joy of his way, and out of the earth shall others grow.
20. Behold, God will not cast away the innocent, nor will He help the evildoers.
21. Until He fills your mouth with laughter, and your lips with rejoicing.
22. Those who hate you shall be clothed with shame; and the tent of the wicked shall come to nought.”

CHAPTER NINE
1. And Job answered and said,
2. “Truly I know it is so, but how can man be just with God?
3. If he desired to argue with Him, he cannot answer Him one time out of a thousand times.
4. He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength. Who has hardened himself against Him and has prospered;
5. He Who removes the mountains, and they know it not when He overturns them in His anger;
6. He Who shakes the earth out of its place, and the pillars of it tremble;
7. He commands the sun, and it does not rise; and seals up the stars;
8. He alone stretches out the heavens, and walks on the waves of the sea;
9. Who made the Bear, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the south;
10. Who is doing great things past finding out; yea, marvelous things without number?
11. Behold! He goes by me, and I do not see Him; He passes on also, but I do not perceive Him.
12. Behold, He takes away; who can turn Him back? Who will say to Him, ‘What are You doing?’
13. God will not withdraw His anger; the helpers of the proud are bowed beneath Him.
14. How much less shall I answer Him, and choose my words to reason with Him?
15. Whom, though I were righteous, yet I could not answer; I would make supplication to My Judge.
16. If I had called and He had answered me, yet I would not believe that He had listened to my voice;
17. For He breaks me with a tempest, and multiplies my wounds without cause;
18. He will not allow me to take my breath, but fills me with bitterness.
19. If I speak of strength, lo, He is mighty! And if of judgment, who shall set me a time to plead?
20. If I justify myself, my own mouth shall condemn me; though I am blameless, He shall declare me perverse.
21. Though I were blameless, yet I would not know myself. I would despise my life.
22. It is all one; therefore I said, ‘He is consuming the blameless and the wicked.’
23. If the scourge kills suddenly, He will mock at the calamity of the innocent.
24. The earth is given into the hand of the wicked; He covers the faces of its judges; if it is not He, then who is it?
25. Now my days are swifter than a runner; they flee away, they see no good.
26. They have passed away like the swift ships; like the eagle who swoops on the prey.
27. If I say, ‘I will forget my complaint, I will depart from my heaviness and be of good cheer,’
28. I am afraid of all my sorrows; I know that You will not hold me innocent.
29. I am afraid of all my sorrows; I know that You will not hold me innocent.
30. If I wash myself with snow water, and make my hands ever so clean,
31. Yet You will plunge me into the ditch and my own clothes shall despise me.
32. For He is not a man, as I am, that I should answer Him, that we should come together in court;
33. There is no umpire between us, who might lay his hand upon us both.
34. Let Him take His rod away from me, and let not His fear make me afraid;
35. Then would I speak and not fear Him; but it is not so with me.”

CHAPTER TEN
1. “My soul is weary of my life; I will give full vent to my complaint; I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.
2. I will say to God, ‘Do not condemn me; make me know why You contend with me.
3. Is it good to You that You should oppress, that You should despise the work of Your hands, and shine upon the counsel of the wicked?
4. Have You eyes of flesh? Or do You see as a man sees?
5. Are Your days like the days of man? Are Your years like man’s days,
6. That You seek out my iniquity, and search for my sin?
7. Although You know that I am not wicked, yet there is none who can deliver out of Your hand.
8. Your hands have made me and shaped me, together all around; yet You destroy me.
9. Remember, I beseech You, that You have formed me as the clay; and will You bring me into the dust again?
10. Have You not poured me out like milk, and curdled me like cheese?
11. You have clothed me with skin and flesh, and have fenced me with bones and sinews.
12. You have granted me life and favor, and Your providence has preserved my spirit.
13. And these things have You hidden in Your heart; I know that this was with You.
14. If I sin, then You mark me, and You will not acquit me from my iniquity.
15. If I am wicked, woe to me; and if I am righteous, I will not lift up my head, being filled with confusion—therefore look upon my affliction.
16. For if my head be lifted up, You will hunt me as a fierce lion; and again You will show Yourself awesome against me.
17. You renew Your witnesses against me, and increase Your anger upon me.
18. Why then have You brought me from the womb? Oh, that I had given up the spirit.
19. I should have been as though I had not been; I would have been carried from the womb to the grave.
20. Are not my days few? Withdraw then, and let me alone, that I may take a little comfort,
21. Before I go, and I do not return, even to the land of darkness and the shadow of death;
22. A land of obscurity, as the darkness itself and of the shadow of death, without any order, and where the light is as darkness.’”

CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. Then Zophar the Naamathite answered and said,
2. “Should not the multitude of words be answered? And should a man full of talk be justified?
3. Should your lies make men silent? And will you mock and no one make you ashamed?
4. For you have said, ‘My doctrine is pure, and I am clean in Your eyes.’
5. But oh, that God would speak, and open His lips against you,
6. And would tell you the secrets of His wisdom. For sound wisdom has two sides. Know therefore that God exacts from you less than your iniquity deserves.
7. Can you discover the depths of God? Can you discover the limits of the Almighty?
8. They are higher than the heights of the heavens! What can you do? It is deeper than the pit, what can you know?
9. The measure of it is longer than the earth, and broader than the sea.
10. If He passes through and imprisons, or convenes a court, then who can turn Him back?
11. For He knows vain men; and when He sees wickedness, will He not take note?
12. For vain man would be wise, though man is born like a wild donkey’s colt.
13. If you prepare your heart and stretch out your hands toward Him;
14. If iniquity is in your hand, put it far away, and do not let wickedness dwell in your tabernacles;
15. Surely then you shall lift up your face without spot; yea, you shall be steadfast and shall not fear;
16. For you shall forget your misery, and you shall remember it as waters that pass away.
17. And your life shall be brighter than the noonday; darkness shall be as the morning.
18. And you shall be safe, because there is hope; yea, you shall look around you, and you shall take your rest in safety.
19. You shall lie down, and none shall make you afraid. Yea, many shall seek your favor.
20. But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, and they shall have no escape, and their hope shall be like the giving up of the spirit.”

CHAPTER TWELVE

1. And Job answered and said,
2. “For truly you are no doubt the people, and wisdom will die with you.
3. But I have understanding as well as you; I am not inferior to you; yea, who does not know such things as these?
4. I am as one who is a laughingstock to my friends; a man who called upon God, and He answered him; the just, the innocent one is laughed to scorn;
5. Those who are at ease have contempt for misfortune; as it is ready for those whose feet slip.
6. The tabernacles of robbers prosper, and those who provoke God are secure, in whatever God brings into their hand.
7. But now ask the animals, and they shall teach you; and the birds of the air, and they shall tell you;
8. Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach you; and the fish of the sea shall declare it to you;
9. Who of all these does not know that the hand of the LORD has done this?
10. In whose hand is the soul of every living thing, and the breath of all flesh, even of mankind?
11. Does not the ear try words? And does not the mouth taste its food?
12. With the ancient is wisdom, and understanding in length of days.
13. With Him is wisdom and strength; He has counsel and understanding.
14. Behold, if He tears down, no one can rebuild; if He shuts in a man, no one can open.
15. Behold, He withholds the waters, and they dry up; also He sends them out, and they inundate the earth.
16. With Him is strength and sound wisdom; the deceived and the deceiver are His.
17. He leads counselors away stripped, and makes the judges fools.
18. He loosens the bonds of kings, and binds their loins with a girdle.
19. He leads princes away stripped, and overthrows the mighty.
20. He silences the lips of trusted ones, and takes away the understanding of the elders.
21. He pours contempt upon princes, and unties the belt of the mighty.
22. He uncovers deep things out of darkness, and brings the shadow of death to light.
23. He gives greatness to the nations, and destroys them. He enlarges the nations, and leads them away.
24. He takes away the heart of the chief of the people of the earth, and causes them to wander in a wilderness where there is no path.
25. They grope in the dark without light, and He makes them to stagger like a drunken man.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. “Lo, my eye has seen all this, my ear has heard and understood it.
2. What you know, I know also; I am not inferior to you.
3. Notwithstanding I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to argue my case before God.
4. But you are forgers of lies; you are all worthless physicians.
5. Oh, that you would stop speaking entirely! And it would be your wisdom.
6. Hear now my reasoning, and listen to the pleadings of my lips.
7. Would you speak wickedly for God, and talk deceitfully for Him?
8. Will you show partiality for Him, or will you contend for God?
9. Is it good that He should search you out? Or as one man mocks another, do you mock Him?
10. He will surely blame you, if you secretly show respect of persons.
11. Shall not His excellency make you afraid, and His dread fall upon you?
12. Your lofty sayings are like proverbs of ashes, your bulwarks are like defenses of clay.
13. Be quiet. Let me alone so that I may speak, and let come upon me what may.
14. Why do I take my flesh in my teeth and put my life in my hand?
15. Though He slay me, I will trust in Him; but I will maintain my own ways before Him.
16. He also is my salvation, for a hypocrite shall not come before Him.
17. Listen carefully to my words, and to my declarations with your ears.
18. Behold now, I have set my cause in order; I know that I shall be justified.
19. Can anyone bring charges against me? If so, I will be silent and die.
20. Only do not do two things to me; then I will not hide myself from You.
21. Withdraw Your hand far from me, and let not Your dread terrify me.
22. Then call, and I will answer; or let me speak, and You answer me.
23. How many are my iniquities and sins? Make me to know my transgression and my sin.

24. Why do You hide Your face, and reckon me as Your enemy?

25. Will You terrify a leaf driven to and fro? Will You pursue the dry stubble?

26. For You write bitter things against me, and make me to possess the sins of my youth.

27. You put my feet also in the stocks, and look closely to all my paths; You set a limit for the soles of my feet, and make me to possess the sins of my youth.

28. While I waste away like a rotten thing, like a garment that a moth has eaten.”

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

1. “Man born of woman is of few days, and full of trouble.

2. He comes forth like a flower, and withers; he also flees as a shadow, and does not stand.

3. And do You open Your eyes upon such a one, and bring me into judgment with You?

4. Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? No one!

5. For his days are fixed, the number of his months is with You, and You have set his limits so that he cannot pass;

6. Look away from him, so that he may rest until he shall finish his day, as a hireling.

7. For there is hope of a tree, if it is cut down, that it will sprout again, and its tender branch will not cease.

8. Though its root becomes old in the earth, and its stump dies in the ground, yet at the scent of water it will bud and bring forth branches like a plant.

9. But man dies and is cut off; and man expires, and where is he?

10. But man dies and is cut off; and man expires, and where is he?

11. Do You not watch over my sin? Make me to know my transgression and my sin.

12. O that You would grant me to wake, nor be awakened out of their sleep.

13. That you turn your spirit against God, and what do your eyes wink at, even a word dealing gently with you?

14. Why does your heart carry you away? And what do your eyes wink at, and let such words go out of your mouth?
14. What is man, that he should be clean? And what is he born of a woman that he should be righteous?
15. Behold, He puts no trust in His saints; yea, the heavens are not clean in His sight.
16. How much more abominable and filthy is man, who drinks iniquity like water?
17. I will show you; hear me; and what I have seen I will declare,
18. That which wise men have told, and have not hidden from their fathers;
19. To them alone the earth was given, and no stranger passed among them.
20. The wicked man labors in pain all his days, and numbered are the years stored up for the ruthless.
21. A dreadful sound of things is in his ears; while at peace the destroyer shall come upon him.
22. He does not believe that he shall return out of darkness, but he is destined for the sword.
23. He wanders for bread, saying, 'Where is it?' He knows that the day of darkness is ready at hand.
24. Trouble and anguish shall terrify him; they shall overpower him, as a king ready for the battle;
25. Because he stretches out his hand against God, and sets himself against the Almighty.
26. He runs at Him, with a stiff neck, with the thick layers of his shields,
27. Because he has covered his face with fatness; he has put fat on his loins.
28. And he lives in desolate cities, in houses where none are living, which are ready to become heaps.
29. He shall not be rich, nor shall his possessions continue, nor shall he spread out his possessions over the earth.
30. He shall not escape from darkness; the flame shall dry up his branches, and by the breath of His mouth he shall turn away.
31. Let not him who is deceived trust in vanity; for vanity shall be his reward.
32. It shall be accomplished before his time, and his branch shall not be green.
33. He shall shake off its unripe grape as the vine; and shall cast off his flower like the olive.
34. For the company of the ungodly shall be barren, and fire shall devour the tents of bribery.
35. They conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity, and their belly prepares deceit.”

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

1. And Job answered and said,
2. “I have heard many such things. Miserable comforters are you all!
3. Is there no end to windy words? Or what provokes you that you should answer?
4. I also could speak as you do; if your soul were in my soul’s place. I could heap up words against you, and shake my head at you.
5. But I would strengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips would assuage your grief.
6. Though I speak, my grief is not assuaged, and though I forbear speaking, in what way am I eased?
7. But now He has made me exhausted; You have made all my company desolate.
8. And You have shivered me up, for it is a witness against me: and my leanness rises up in me, and it is seen in my face,
9. His anger has torn and assailed me; He gnashes upon me with His teeth; my enemy sharpens his eyes at me;
10. They have gaped upon me with their mouth; and have scornfully beaten me on the cheek; they gather themselves together against me.
11. God has delivered me to the ungodly; and turned me over into the hands of the wicked.
12. I was at ease, but He has dashed me in pieces; yea, He has also seized me by my neck and shaken me to pieces and set me up for His mark.
13. His archers hem me in; He splits my reins asunder, and does not spare; He pours out my gall upon the ground.
14. He breaks me with breach upon breach; He runs upon me like a giant.
15. I have sewed sackcloth on my skin and laid my horn in the dust.
16. My face is reddened from weeping, and my head at you.
17. Though no injustice is in my hand, and also my prayer is pure.
18. Oh, earth, do not cover my blood, and let not my cry have a resting place.
19. Also now, behold, my witness is in heaven, and He who testifies of me is on high.
20. My friends scorn me; my eyes pour out tears to God.
21. Oh, that a man might plead with God, as a man pleads with his neighbor!
22. Only a few years will pass before I go on the journey of no return.”

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

1. “My spirit is broken, my days are extinct, the grave is ready for me.
2. Are not mockers with me? Yea, my eye gazes upon their insults.
3. Please lay down a pledge for me with Yourself; who is he who will strike hands with me?
4. For You have hidden their heart from understanding; therefore You shall not lift them up.
5. He who denounces his friend for flattery, even the eyes of his children shall fail.
6. He has made me also a byword of the people; and I have become one in whose face they spit.
7. My eyes also are dim from grief; and all my members are like a shadow.
8. Upright men shall be amazed at this, and the innocent shall stir himself up against the godless.
9. The righteous also shall hold on to his way, and he who has clean hands grows stronger and stronger.
10. And now all of them, go away, and come again; for I cannot find one wise man among you.
11. My days are past, my purposes are broken off, even the thoughts of my heart.
12. They change night into day; the light is short because of darkness.
13. If I wait for the grave as my home, I have made my bed in the darkness;
14. I have said to corruption, ‘You are my father;’ to the worm, ‘My mother and my sister!’
15. And where then is my hope? And as for my hope, who shall see it?
16. They shall go down to the bars of the pit, when we rest together in the dust.”

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

1. And Bildad the Shuhite answered and said,
2. “How long will it be until you make an end of words? Consider, and afterwards we will speak.
3. Why are we counted as beasts, or seem stupid in your sight?
4. O you who tears yourself in your anger; shall the earth be forsaken for you?
5. Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out, and the spark of his fire shall not shine.
6. The light shall be dark in his tabernacle, and his lamp shall be put out with him.
7. The steps of his strength shall be hobbled, and his own plans shall cast him down.
8. For he is thrown into a net by his own feet, and he walks into a trap.
9. The trap shall take him by the heel, and the snare shall lay hold on him.
10. The noose is laid for him in the ground, and a trap is set for him in the way.
11. Terrors shall make him afraid on every side, and shall chase him at every step.
12. His trouble shall be ravenous, and calamity shall be ready for his fall.
13. It shall devour the members of his body; yea, the firstborn of death consumes his strength.
14. His confidence shall be rooted out of his tabernacle, and he shall be brought to the king of terrors.
15. What is not his shall dwell in his tabernacle; brimstone shall be scattered on his habitation.
16. His roots shall be dried up from beneath, and his branch above shall wither.
17. His memory shall perish from the se", and he shall have no name abroad.
18. He shall be driven from light into darkness, and chased out of the world.
19. He shall have neither son nor kinsman among his people, nor any remaining in his dwellings.
20. Those who come after him shall be appalled at his day; as those who went before were seized with horror.
21. Surely these are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that has not known God.”

CHAPTER NINETEEN

1. And Job answered and said,
2. “How long will you torment my soul and break me in pieces with words?
3. These ten times you have blamed me; yet you are not ashamed that you have wronged me.

4. And if indeed I have erred, my error remains with me.

5. If indeed you magnify yourself against me, and plead my reproach against me, know now that God has overthrown me, and His net has closed upon me.

6. Behold, I cry out, ‘Violence!’ but I am not answered; I cry aloud, but there is no justice.

7. He has fenced up my way so that I cannot pass, and He has set darkness in my paths.

8. He has stripped me of my glory, and has taken the crown from my head.

9. He has broken me on every side, and I am gone, and He has uprooted my hope like a tree.

10. He has also kindled His wrath against me, and to Himself He counts me as His enemy.

11. His troops come together and cast up their way against me, and camp around my tent.

12. He has put my brethren far from me, and my acquaintances are wholly estranged from me.

13. My kinsfolk have failed, and my familiar friends have forgotten me.

14. Those who dwell in my house, and my maidservants, count me as a stranger; I am a foreigner in their sight.

15. Those who saw me shall say, ‘Where is he?’

16. He shall fly away like a dream, and shall not be found, yea, he shall be chased away like a vision of the night.

17. The eye which saw him, shall see him no more; yea, neither shall his place see him any longer.

18. Though wickedness is sweet in his mouth, though he hides it under his tongue;

19. Yet his food in his belly shall be turned and become the gall of asps within him.

20. Have pity on me! Have pity on me, my friends! For the hand of God has struck me.

21. Why do you persecute me, like God is doing, and are not satisfied with my flesh?

22. Oh, that my words were now written! Oh, that they were inscribed in a book!

23. For I know that my Redeemer lives, and that He shall stand upon the earth in the latter days;

24. And though worms destroy my skin and body, yet apart from my flesh shall I see God—

25. Whom I shall see for myself, and my eyes shall behold, and not another; though my heart be consumed within me.

26. For you ought to say, ‘How shall we persecute him?’ since the root of the matter is found in me.

27. Fear for yourselves because of the sword; for wrath brings the punishments of the sword, so that you may know there is a judgment.”

CHAPTER TWENTY

1. And Zophar the Naamathite answered and said,

2. “Therefore do my thoughts cause me to answer, even because of my inner turmoil.

3. That the triumphing of the wicked is short, and the joy of the hypocrite is for a moment?

4. Though his excellence mounts up to the heavens, and his head reaches to the clouds,

5. Those who dwell in my house, and my maidservants, count me as a stranger; I am a foreigner in their sight.

6. I called my servant, and he gave no answer; though I entreated him with my mouth.

7. My breath is abhorred by my wife, and I am loathsome to the children of my body.

8. Yea, even young children despise me; I arise, and they speak against me.

9. All my intimate friends abhor me, and those I have loved have turned against me.

10. My bone clings to my skin and to my flesh, and I have escaped with the skin of my teeth.

11. His children shall seek to please the poor, and his hands shall give back his wealth.

12. Though wickedness is sweet in his mouth, though he hides it under his tongue;

13. Though he desires it and will not let it go, but, keeps it still within his mouth;

14. Yet his food in his belly shall be turned and become the gall of asps within him.
15. He has swallowed riches, but he shall vomit them up again; God shall cast them out of his belly.
16. He shall suck the poison of asps; the viper’s tongue shall slay him.
17. He shall not see the rivers, the flowings of the brooks of honey and butter;
18. That which he labored for shall he give back, and shall not swallow it down: according to his possessions shall the restitution be, and he shall not rejoice in it.
19. For he has oppressed and forsaken the poor; and has violently seized a house which he did not build.
20. Surely he did not know rest in his heart; that in which he delights, he will not save anything.
21. There was nothing left for him to devour. Therefore, his prosperity shall not endure.
22. In the fullness of his sufficiency he shall be in trouble; every hand of the wicked shall come against him.
23. When he is filling his belly, God shall cast the fury of His wrath upon him, and He shall rain it upon him while he is eating.
24. If he shall flee from the iron weapon, a bow of bronze shall pierce him through.
25. It will be pulled and come out of his body, yea, the glittering sword comes out of his gall; terrors come upon him.
26. All darkness is laid up for his treasures; a fire not blown by man shall consume him; those left in his tabernacle shall be broken.
27. The heavens shall reveal his iniquity, and the earth shall rise up against him.
28. The increase of his house shall depart, and his goods shall flow away in the day of his wrath.
29. This is the portion of a wicked man from God, and his heritage decreed by God.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

1. And Job answered and said,
2. “‘Listen carefully to my speech, and let this be your comfort.
3. Allow me and I shall speak; and after I have spoken, mock on.
4. As for me, is my complaint to man? And why should my spirit not be troubled?
5. Look at me and be astonished, and lay your hand on your mouth.
6. Even when I remember, I am afraid, and trembling takes hold on my flesh.
7. Why do the wicked live? They grow old and yea, they become mighty in power.
8. Their children are established in their sight with them, and their offspring before their eyes.
9. Their houses are in peace, without fear; nor is the rod of God upon them.
10. Their bull mates and does not fail; their cow calves, and does not cast her calf.
11. They send forth their little ones like a flock, and their children dance.
12. They sing to the drum and lyre, and rejoice at the sound of the pipe.
13. They spend their days in prosperity, and peacefully they go down to the grave.
14. And they say to God, ‘Depart from us; for we do not desire the knowledge of Your ways; 15. What is the Almighty, that we should serve Him? And what profit should we have if we pray to Him?’
16. Behold, their prosperity is not in their hand; the counsel of the wicked is far from me.
17. How often is the lamp of the wicked put out, and their trouble comes upon them! He distributes destruction in His anger;
18. They are as stubble before the wind, and as chaff carried away in a windstorm.
19. It is said, ‘God lays up one’s iniquity for his children’—but let Him repay him that he may know it.
20. His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drink of the wrath of the Almighty.
21. For what pleasure does he have in his house after him, when the number of his months is cut off?
22. Shall any teach God knowledge, since He shall judge those who are high?
23. One dies in his full strength, being wholly at ease and quiet.
24. His pails are full of milk, his bones are moistened with marrow.
25. And another dies in the bitterness of his soul, and never eats with pleasure.
26. They lie down together in the dust, and the worms shall cover them.
27. Behold, I know your thoughts, and the plots which you wrongfully imagine against me.
28. For you say, 'Where is the house of the prince, and where are the dwelling places of the wicked?'
29. Did you not ask those who travel the road? And do you not know their signs,
30. That the evil man is preserved for the day of destruction? They shall be brought forth to the day of wrath.
31. Who shall confront him to his face? And who shall repay him for what he has done?
32. Yet he shall be brought to the grave, and watch shall be kept over his tomb.
33. And the clods of the valley shall be sweet to him and every man shall draw after him, as there is no numbering of those who have gone before him.
34. How then do you comfort me in vain; yea, your answers are full of falsehoods?"

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO
1. And Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,
2. "Can a man be profitable to God, or can a wise man be profitable to Him?
3. Is it any pleasure to the Almighty that you are righteous, or is it a gain to Him that you make your ways blameless?
4. Is it for your fear of Him that he reproves you, or that He enters into judgment with you?
5. Is not your wickedness great, and your iniquity without measure?
6. For you have taken a pledge from your brother for nothing, and stripped the naked of their clothing.
7. You have not given water to the weary to drink, and you have held back bread from the hungry.
8. But the earth belongs to the mighty man, and the honorable man lived in it.
9. You have sent widows away empty, and the arms of the fatherless have been broken.
10. Therefore snares are all around you, and sudden fear troubles you;
11. Or darkness, so that you cannot see; and a flood of waters covers you.
12. Is not God high in heaven? And behold the height of the stars, how high they are!
13. And you say, ‘What does God know? Can He judge through the dark cloud?
14. Clouds are a covering to Him, so that He does not see; and He walks on the circuit of heaven.'
15. Do you keep to the old way which wicked men have walked,
16. Who were cut down before their time, whose foundations were deluged by a flood?
17. Who said to God, ‘Depart from us! What can the Almighty do to them?’
18. Yet He filled their houses with good things; but the counsel of the wicked is far from me.
19. The righteous saw it, and were glad; and the innocent laughed them to scorn, saying,
20. ‘Truly our adversaries are cut down, and fire consumed their abundance.’
21. Now agree with Him, and be at peace, thereby good shall come to you.
22. Please receive the law from His mouth and lay up His words in your heart.
23. If you return to the Almighty, you shall be built up; you shall put away unrighteousness far from your tabernacles.
24. Then you shall lay up gold like dust, the gold of Ophir as the stones of the brooks.
25. Yea, the Almighty shall be your gold and you shall have plenty of silver.
26. For then you shall have your delight in the Almighty, and shall lift up your face to God.
27. You shall make your prayer to Him, and He shall hear you, and you shall pay your vows.
28. You shall also decree a thing, and it shall be fulfilled to you; and the light shall shine upon your ways.
29. When they cast you down, then you shall say, ‘A lifting up shall come!’ And He shall save the humble person.
30. He shall deliver even one who is not innocent, yea, you shall be delivered through the cleanness of your hands."

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE
1. And Job answered and said,
2. "Even today is my complaint bitter; my stroke is heavier than my groaning.
3. Oh, that I knew where I might find Him, that I might come even to His seat!
4. I would lay my cause before Him, and fill my mouth with arguments.
5. And you say, ‘What does God know? Can He judge through the dark cloud?
6. Clouds are a covering to Him, so that He does not see; and He walks on the circuit of heaven.'
6. Will He contend against me with His great power? No, surely He would give heed to me.

7. There the righteous might reason with Him; and I would be acquitted from my Judge forever.

8. Behold, I go forward, but He is not there; and backward, but I cannot see Him.

9. On the left hand, where He works, but I cannot behold Him. He turns to the right, but I cannot see Him.

10. But He knows the way that I take; when He has tried me, I shall come forth as gold.

11. My foot has held fast in His steps; I have kept His way, and have not turned aside;

12. Nor have I gone back from the commandment of His lips; I treasured up the words of His mouth more than my necessary food.

13. But He is of one mind, and who can turn Him? Yea, what He Himself desires, even that He does.

14. For He performs the thing that is appointed for me: and many such things are with Him.

15. Therefore I am terrified at His presence; when I consider, I am afraid of Him.

16. For God makes my heart weak, and the Almighty terrifies me;

17. Because I was not cut off by the darkness; nor by the thick darkness covering my face.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

1. “Since times are not laid up by the Almighty, why do those who know Him not see His days?

2. They remove the landmarks; they seize flocks and feed on them.

3. They drive away the donkey of the fatherless; they take the widow’s ox for a pledge.

4. They turn the needy out of the way; the poor of the earth hide themselves together.

5. Behold, like wild donkeys in the desert, they go forth to their work, rising early for a prey. The wilderness yields food for them and for their children.

6. They reap his fodder in the field; and they glean the vineyard of the wicked.

7. They lodge the naked without clothing, and they have no covering in the cold.

8. They are wet with the showers of the mountains, and embrace the rock for lack of shelter.

9. They pluck the fatherless from the breast, and take a pledge from the poor.

10. They cause him to go naked without clothing, and they take away the sheaves from the hungry.

11. They press out oil among the olive rows; and they tread their winepresses, and still suffer thirst.

12. Men groan from out of the city, and the soul of the wounded cries out for help; yet God does not charge foolishness to them.

13. They are of those who rebel against the light; they know not His ways, nor stay in His paths.

14. The murderer rising with the dawn kills the poor and needy, and in the night he is as a thief.

15. And the eye of the adulterer waits for the twilight, saying, ‘No eye will see me;’ and he disguises his face.

16. In the dark they dig through houses, they shut themselves up in the daytime; they do not know the light.

17. For the morning is to them as the shadow of death; for they know the terrors of the shadow of death.

18. He is swift upon the waters; their portion is cursed in the earth; he turns not by the way of the vineyards.

19. Drought and heat eat up the snow waters; so does the grave those who have sinned.

20. The womb shall forget him; the worm shall feed sweetly on him; he shall be remembered no more; and wickedness shall be broken like a tree.

21. He ill-treats the women who bear no children; and does not do good for the widow.

22. He drags away the mighty with his power; he rises up, and no one is sure of life.

23. He gives them security, and they are supported; yet His eyes are on their ways.

24. They are exalted for a little while, but are gone and brought low; they are taken out of the way as all others, and are cut off like the heads of grain.

25. And if it is not so, who will make me a liar, and make my speech worth nothing?”
CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

1. And Bildad the Shuhite answered and said,
2. “Dominion and fear are with Him; He makes peace in His high heaven.
3. Is there any number of His armies? And upon whom does not His light arise?
4. How then can man be justified with God? Or how can one who is born of a woman be clean?
5. Look even to the moon, and it shines not; yea, the stars are not pure in His sight;
6. How much less man who is a maggot, and the son of man, who is a worm?”

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

1. But Job answered and said,
2. “How have you helped the powerless, or saved the arm that has no strength?
3. How have you advised those who have no wisdom? How have you plentifully declared sound knowledge?
4. To whom have you spoken words? And whose spirit came from you?
5. The dead tremble beneath the waters, and those who dwell in them.
6. The grave is naked before Him, and destruction has no covering.
7. He stretches out the north over the empty space, and He hung the earth on nothing.
8. He binds up the waters in His thick clouds; and the cloud is not torn under them.
9. He covers the face of His throne, spreading His cloud upon it.
10. He has prescribed a limit upon the surface of the waters, and a boundary between light and darkness.
11. The pillars of the heavens tremble and are astonished at His rebuke.
12. He quiets the sea with His power, and by His understanding He shatters the storm.
13. By His Spirit He has made the heavens beautiful; His hand pierced the fleeing serpent.
14. Lo, these are only the outer fringes of His ways; but what a trifling whisper we hear about Him! And the thunder of His power who can understand?”
is gone; for it sweeps him out of his place.
22. For it will hurl at him, and will not spare; he will surely try to flee from its power.
23. Men shall clap their hands at him, and shall hiss him out of his place.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

1. “Surely there is a mine for the silver, and a place where they refine gold.
2. Iron is taken out of the earth, and men travel, in places forgotten by men’s feet; they hang and swing to and fro far away from men.
5. As to the earth, out of it comes bread; but from underneath it is turned up like fire.
6. Its stones are the place of sapphires; and it has dust of gold.
7. There is a path which no bird knows, nor the vulture’s eye has seen it;
8. And the proud beasts have not walked on it, nor the fierce lion passed by it.
9. He puts forth His hand on the flinty places; He overturns the mountains by the roots.
10. He cuts out rivers among the rocks; and *His eye sees every precious thing.
11. He holds back the streams from flowing;* and the hidden thing *He brings to light.
12. But where shall wisdom be found? And where is the place of understanding?
13. Man does not know the price of it; nor is it found in the land of the living.
14. The deep says, ‘It is not in me,’ and the sea says, ‘It is not in me.’
15. Pure gold cannot be given instead of it, nor silver be weighed as its price.
16. It cannot be valued against the gold of Ophir, or against precious onyx, or sapphire;
17. Gold and glass cannot equal it, nor can it be exchanged for the jewels of fine gold.
18. No mention shall be made of coral, or of crystal; and the price of wisdom is above rubies.
19. The topaz of Ethiopia cannot equal it; it cannot be valued against pure gold.
20. From where then does wisdom come, and where is the place of understanding?

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

1. And Job continued speaking, and said,
2. “Oh, that I were as in months past, as in the days when God watched over me;
3. When His lamp shined upon my head; and when I walked through darkness by His light;
4. As I was in the days of my youth, when the secret of God was upon my tabernacle;
5. When the Almighty was yet with me, and my children were around me;
6. When I washed my steps with butter, and the rock pressed out rivers of oil for me;
7. When I went out to the gate of the city; when I prepared my seat in the square!
8. The young men saw me and hid themselves; and the aged arose and stood up.
9. The rulers refrained from talking, and laid their hands on their mouths.
10. The noble’s voice was subdued, and their tongue clung to the roof of their mouth.
11. When the ear heard me then it blessed me. And when the eye saw me it gave witness to me.
12. For I delivered the poor who cried for help, and the fatherless who had none to help.
13. The blessing of him that was ready to perish came upon me; and I caused the widow’s heart to sing for joy.
14. I put on righteousness, and it clothed me; my justice was like a robe and a diadem.
15. Yea, it is hidden from the eyes of all living, and concealed from the birds of the heavens.
22. Destruction and death say, ‘We have heard the fame of it with our ears.’
23. God understands the way of it, and He knows its place.
24. For He looks to the end of the earth, and sees under the whole heavens;
25. He endowed the winds with weight, and gauged the waters by measure.
26. When He made a decree for the rain, and a path for the thunderstorm;
27. Then He saw it, and declared it; He prepared it, yea, and searched it out.
28. And to man He said, ‘Behold, the fear of the LORD, that is wisdom! And to depart from evil is understanding!’ ”
15. I was eyes to the blind and feet to the lame.
16. I was a father to the poor; and the cause which I did not know, I searched out.
17. I broke the fangs of the wicked, and plucked the prey out of his teeth.
18. Then I said, 'I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiply my days like the sand.'
19. My root was spread out to the waters, and the dew lay all night upon my branch.
20. My glory was fresh in me, and my bow was renewed in my hand.
21. They listened to me, and waited, and kept silent at my counsel.
22. After my words they did not speak again; and my speech dropped on them.
23. And they waited for me like the rain; and they opened their mouth wide as for the latter rain.
24. I smiled on them when they did not believe; and the light of my countenance they did not cast down.
25. I chose out their way, and sat as chief; and I lived like a king in the army, as one who comforts the mourners."

CHAPTER THIRTY

1. "But now those who are younger than I have me in derision, whose fathers I would have refused to put with the dogs of my flock.
2. Yea, what profit to me was the strength of their hands, for their vigor had perished from them?
3. They are dried up with want and famine; who fled into the wilderness, which was before desolate and waste,
4. Those plucking mallows by the bushes, and broom roots for their food.
5. They are driven forth from the midst of men; they shouted after them as a thief.
6. They dwell in the clefts of the valleys, in caves of the earth and in rocks.
7. They bray among the bushes; they huddle together under the nettles;
8. They were children of fools, yea, children of base men; they were scourged out of the land.
9. And now I am their song; yea, I am their byword.
10. They despise me, and they flee far from me; they do not spare spitting in my face.
11. Because He has loosed my cord and afflicted me, they have also cast off restraint before me.
12. On my right an insolent brood rises; they push away my feet and cast up against me the ways of their destruction.
13. They have broken down my path, they gain by my trouble without anyone helping them.
14. As through a wide breach they come; in the midst of ruin they roll themselves upon me.
15. Terrors have turned upon me; they pursue my soul like the wind; and my good passes away like a cloud.
16. And now my soul is poured out within me; the days of affliction have taken hold upon me.
17. My bones are pierced with pain in the night; and my gnawing pains give me no rest.
18. By the great force of my disease my garment is disfigured; it binds me about like the collar of my coat.
19. He has cast me into the mire, and I have become like dust and ashes.
20. I cried to You, and You did not answer me; I stood up, and You did not consider me.
21. You have become cruel to me; with Your mighty hand You oppose me.
22. You lift me up to the wind; You cause me to ride upon it; and You dissolve my substance.
23. For I know that You will bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all living.
24. Surely one will stretch out his hand from a ruinous heap, or in his calamity cry out for help.
25. Did I not weep for him who was in trouble; and was not my soul grieved for the poor?
26. When I looked for good, then evil came; and when I waited for light, then darkness came.
27. My bowels boiled, and did not rest; the days of trouble confront me.
28. I go in mourning without any comfort; I stood up and I cried out in the assembly.
29. I am a brother to jackals, and a companion to the ostrich.
30. My skin is black and falling from me, and my bones are burning with heat.
31. And my lyre has turned to mourning, and my pipe to the sound of weeping.”

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

1. “I made a covenant with my eyes; how then could I look upon a virgin?
2. For what is the portion from God above? And what is the inheritance of the Almighty from on high?
3. Is not destruction for the wicked, and calamity to the workers of iniquity?
4. Does He not see my ways, and count all my steps?
5. If I have walked with vanity, or if my foot has hurried to deceit,
6. Let me be weighed in an even balance so that God may know that I am blameless.
7. If my step has turned out of the way, or my heart has walked after my eyes, and if any spot has cleaved to my hands;
8. Then let me sow, and let another eat; and let my harvests be rooted out.
9. If my heart has been enticed by a woman, or I have laid wait at my neighbor’s door,
10. Then let my wife grind for another, and let others bow down upon her.
11. For that would be a heinous crime; yea, it would be an iniquity to be punished by the judges.
12. For it is a fire that devours to destruction, and it would root out all my increase.
13. If I despised the cause of my manservant or of my maidservant, when they complained against me;
14. What then shall I do when God rises up? And when He calls me to account, and when He rises up against me?
15. Did not He who made me in the womb make him also? And did not one fashion us in the womb?
16. If I have withheld the poor from their desire, or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail,
17. Or have eaten my morsel myself alone, and the fatherless has not eaten of it—
18. For from my youth he grew up with me, as with a father, and from infancy I guided her—
19. If I have seen any perish for lack of clothing, or there was no covering for the needy;
20. If his loins have not blessed me, and he warmed himself with the fleece of my sheep;
21. If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless when I watched over my help in the gate;
22. Then let my arm fall from the shoulder blade, and let my arm be broken from the elbow.
23. For calamity from God is a terror to me, and by reason of His majesty I could do nothing.
24. If I have made gold my hope, or have called fine gold my confidence;
25. If I rejoiced because my wealth was great, and because my hand had gotten much;
26. If I beheld the sun when it shined, or the moon walking in brightness,
27. And my heart has been secretly enticed, or my mouth has kissed my hand;
28. This also would be an iniquity for the judges to punish; for I would have lied to God who is above.
29. If I rejoiced at the destruction of him who hated me, or exulted myself when evil found him;
30. Verily I have not allowed my mouth to sin by wishing for a curse on his life;
31. If the men of my tabernacle did not write, and if my adversary had written.
32. The stranger did not sleep in the street, for I opened my doors to the traveler.
33. If I covered my transgressions like Adam, by hiding my iniquity in my bosom,
34. Then let me tremble before a great multitude, and be terrified by the scorn of families; and I will be silent and not go out the door.
35. Oh, that I had one to hear me! Behold, my desire is that the Almighty would answer me, and the indictment that my adversary had written.
36. Surely I would carry it on my shoulder, and bind it like a crown upon my head.
37. I would declare to Him the number of my steps; like a prince I would come before Him.
38. If my land cry against me, or its furrows weep together;
39. If I have eaten its strength without paying for it, or have caused its owners to lose their life,
40. Let thorns come forth instead of wheat, and weeds instead of barley.” The words of Job are ended.
CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO

1. And these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes.
2. Then was kindled the anger of Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram. His wrath burned against Job, because he had justified himself rather than God.
3. Also his wrath was kindled against his three friends, because they had found no answer and yet had condemned Job.
4. Now Elihu had waited to speak to Job, because they were older than he in days.
5. When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, then his wrath was kindled.
6. And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered and said, "I am young, and you are very old; therefore I was afraid, and dared not show you my opinion.
7. I said, 'The aged should speak, and the multitude of years should teach wisdom.'
8. But there is a spirit in man and the inspiration of the Almighty gives them understanding.
9. Great men are not always wise; neither do the aged understand justice.
10. Therefore I say, 'Hearken to me. I also will declare my opinion.'
11. Behold, I waited for your words; I listened to your reasons, while you searched out what to say.
12. Yea, I listened intently to you, and, behold, not one of you proved Job wrong nor answered his words,
13. Lest you should say, 'We have found out wisdom. God has vanquished him, not man.'
14. And he has not directed his words against me; and I will not answer him with your words.
15. They were amazed, and answered no more; words left them.
16. Shall I wait (because they do not speak, because they stand there and answer no more?)
17. I said, 'I also will answer my part; I also will declare my opinion.'
18. For I am full of the matter; the spirit within me constrains me.
19. Behold, my inner being is as wine which has no vent; it is ready to burst like new wineskins.

20. I will speak so that I may be refreshed; I will open my lips and answer.
21. Let me not, I pray you, accept any man's person, neither let me give flattering titles unto man.
22. For I do not know how to give flattering titles to any man, else my Maker would soon take me away.'

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE

1. "Wherefore, Job, please hear my speech, and hearken to all my words.
2. Behold, now I have opened my mouth, my tongue has spoken in my mouth,
3. My words shall be from the uprightness of my heart, and my lips will clearly speak knowledge.
4. The Spirit of God has made me, and the breath of the Almighty gives me life.
5. If you can, answer me; set yourself in order before me, stand up.
6. Behold, I am according to your wish in God's stead; I also am formed out of the clay.
7. Behold, my terror shall not make you afraid, and my burden shall not be heavy upon you.
8. Surely you have spoken in my ears, and I have heard the sound of your words, saying,
9. 'I am pure, without transgression; I am innocent, and there is no iniquity in me;
10. Behold, He finds occasions against me, He counts me as His enemy;
11. He puts my feet in the stocks; He marks all my paths.'
12. Behold, in this you are not right; I will answer you, for God is greater than man.
13. Why do you fight against Him? For He does not give account for any of His matters.
14. For God speaks once, yea, twice, yet man does not perceive it.
15. In a dream, a vision of the night, when deep sleep falls upon men; while they slumber upon the bed;
16. Then He opens the ear of men and seals their instruction,
17. So that He may turn man away from his own purpose, that He may keep man from pride.
18. He keeps back his soul from the pit, and his life from perishing by the sword.
19. He also chastened man with pain upon his bed, and with strong pain in his bones;
20. So that his life abhors bread, and his soul detests desirable food.
21. His flesh visibly consumes away; and his bones that were not seen stick out.
22. Yea, his soul draws near to the pit, and his life shall see the destroyers.
23. If there is a messenger for him, a mediator, one among a thousand, to vouch for man's uprightness,
24. Then He is gracious to him and says, 'Deliver him from going down to the pit; for I have found a ransom.'
25. His flesh shall be fresher than a child's; he shall return to the days of his youth;
26. He shall pray to God, and He will be gracious to him; and he shall see His face with joy, for He will restore to man his righteousness.
27. He will observe men, and if any says, 'I have sinned and perverted what is right; and it profited me nothing,'
28. He will rescue his soul from going down to the pit; for I have found a ransom.'
29. Lo, all these things God does twice, yea, three times with a man,
30. To bring back his soul from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.
31. Hear this, Job, hearken unto me; be silent and I will speak.
32. If you have anything to say, answer me; speak, for I desire to justify you.
33. If not, hearken unto me; be silent, and I will teach you wisdom.'

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR

1. And Elihu answered and said,
2. ‘Hear my words, O you wise men; and give ear to me, you who have knowledge;
3. For the ear tries words, as the palate tastes food.
4. Let us choose for ourselves what is right; let us know among ourselves what is good.
5. For Job has said, ‘I am righteous; but God has denied me justice;
6. Should I lie against my right? My wound cannot be cured; I am without transgression.’
7. What man is like Job, who drinks up scoriing like water;
8. Who goes in company with the workers of iniquity, and walks with wicked men?
9. For he has said, ‘It profits a man nothing when he delights himself in God.’
10. Therefore hearken to me, O you men of understanding; far be it from God to commit iniquity; and from the Almighty, that He should commit iniquity.
11. For the work of a man shall He render unto him, and cause every man to find according to his ways.
12. Yea, surely God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment.
13. Who has given Him charge over the earth? Or who has appointed Him over the whole world?
14. If He sets His heart on man, if He gathers to Himself his spirit and his breath,
15. All flesh shall perish together, and man shall return again to the dust.
16. If now you have understanding, hear this; hearken to the voice of my words.
17. Indeed, shall anyone who hates justice govern? And will you condemn Him who is most just and mighty?
18. Who says to a king, ‘O worthless one;’ and to nobles, ‘O ungodly ones’?
19. How much less to Him who does not respect the persons of princes, nor regard the rich more than the poor? For all of them are the work of His hands.
20. In a moment they die, and people are troubled at midnight and pass away; and the mighty shall be taken away without a hand.
21. For His eyes are on the ways of man, and He sees all his steps.
22. There is no darkness, nor shadow of death where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.
23. For He will not lay upon man more than right that he should enter into judgment with God.
24. He shall break in pieces mighty men without number, and set others in their place.
25. Therefore He knows their works, and He overturns them in the night, so that they are destroyed.
26. He strikes them as wicked men in the open sight of others,
27. Because they turned back from following Him, and they did not consider any of His ways;
28. So that they cause the cry of the poor to come to Him, for He hears the cry of the afflicted.
29. When He is quiet, who then can condemn? And when He hides His face, who then can behold Him? Whether it is done against a nation or against a man only; 30. That the godless man should not reign, that he should not ensnare the people. 31. For has any said to God, ‘I have borne chastisement; though I have not offended. 32. You teach me that which I have not seen; if I have done iniquity, I will do it no more’? 33. Shall His recompense be as you desire? For you have rejected it. For you must choose, and not I; therefore speak what you know. 34. Let men of understanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken unto me, 35. ‘Job has spoken without knowledge, and his words were without wisdom.’ 36. My desire is that Job may be tried without wisdom.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

1. And Elihu also proceeded and said, 2. “Do you think this to be right, you that say, ‘My righteousness is more than God’s’? 3. For you say, ‘What advantage will it be to You? What profit shall I have, more than if I had sinned?’ 4. I will answer your words, and your companions with you. 5. Look to the heavens, and see; and behold the clouds; they are higher than you. 6. If you sin, what do you do against Him? Or if your transgressions are multiplied, what do you do to Him? 7. If you are righteous, what do you give Him? Or what does He receive from your hand? 8. Your wickedness may hurt a man like yourself; and your righteousness may profit the son of man. 9. By reason of the multitude of oppressions they cry out; they cry out because of the powerful arm of the mighty. 10. But none says, ‘Where is God my Maker, Who gives songs in the night; 11. Who teaches us more than the animals of the earth, and makes us wiser than the birds of heaven?’

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX

1. Elihu also proceeded and said, 2. “Bear with me a little, and I will show you that I have yet to speak on God’s behalf. 3. I will fetch my knowledge from afar, and I will ascribe righteousness to my Maker. 4. For truly my words are not false; He who is perfect in knowledge is with you. 5. Behold, God is mighty, yet He does not despise any; He is mighty in strength of understanding. 6. He will not preserve the life of the wicked, but gives to the poor their right. 7. He withdraws not His eyes from the righteous, but they are like kings on the throne; yea, He establishes them forever, and they are exalted. 8. And if they are bound in chains, and are held in cords of affliction, 9. Then He shows them their work, and their transgressions, that they have behaved themselves arrogantly. 10. He also opens their ears to discipline, and commands that they return from iniquity. 11. If they obey and serve Him, they shall spend their days in prosperity, and their years in pleasures. 12. But if they do not obey, they shall perish by the sword, and they shall die without knowledge. 13. But the hypocrites in heart heap up wrath; they cry not for help when He binds them. 14. They die in youth, and their life ends among the depraved. 15. He delivers the poor in his affliction, and opens their ears by tribulation.
16. And He also would have removed you out of dire distress into a wide place without constraint; and the setting of your table is full with richness.
17. But you have fulfilled the judgment of the wicked; judgment and justice take hold of you;
18. For beware lest wrath entice you into scoffing; neither let the greatness of the ransom turn you aside.
19. Will He esteem your riches? No, not gold, nor all the forces of strength can keep you from distress.
20. Desire not the night, when people are cut off in their place.
21. Beware, do not turn to iniquity; for this you have chosen rather than affliction.
22. Behold, God is exalted in His power; who is a Teacher like Him?
23. Who has appointed Him His way; or who can say, ‘You have done wrong’?
24. Remember that you should exalt His work of which men have sung;
25. All men have seen it; man may see it afar off.
26. Behold, God is great, beyond our knowledge; the number of His years cannot be searched out.
27. For He draws up the drops of water; they distill into rain from the mist,
28. Which the clouds pour down and drop on man abundantly.
29. Also can any understand the spreading of the clouds, or the crashing thunder of His canopy?
30. Behold, He spreads His light upon it, and He covers the depths of the sea.
31. For by these He judges the people; He gives food in abundance.
32. He covers His hands with the lightning, and commands it to strike the mark;
33. Its thunder declares concerning it, and the livestock, concerning a storm that is coming.”

CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN

1. “My heart trembles at this also, and it leaps out of its place.
2. Listen carefully to the thunder of His voice, and the rumbling that comes out of His mouth.
3. He sends it out under the whole heaven, and His lightning to the ends of the earth.
4. After it a sound roars; He thunders with the voice of His majesty, and He will not hold them back when His voice is heard.
5. God thunders marvelously with His voice; He does great things, which we cannot comprehend.
6. For He says to the snow, ‘Fall on the earth;’ also to the shower of rain, and to the showers of His mighty rain.
7. He seals up the hand of every man, so that all men may know His work.
8. Then the beast goes into its lair, and remains in its dens.
9. Out of the south comes the whirlwind: and cold out of the north.
10. By the breath of God ice is given; and the expanse of waters is frozen tight.
11. Also He loads the clouds with moisture; He spreads abroad the clouds of His lightning.
12. And they are turned around by His guidance, so that they may do whatever He commands them upon the face of the whole earth.
13. Whether for correction, or for His land, or for mercy, He causes it to come.
14. Hearken to this, O Job; stand still, and consider the wonderful works of God.
15. Do you know how God directs them, and causes the lightning of His cloud to shine?
16. Do you know the balancing of the clouds, the wonderful works of Him who is perfect in knowledge?
17. You whose clothes are warm when the earth is still by the south wind?
18. Have you spread out the expanse of the sky with Him, which is strong as a molten mirror?
19. Teach us what we shall say to Him; for because of darkness we cannot order our speech.
20. Shall it be told Him that I speak? If a man speaks, surely he shall be swallowed up.
21. And now men cannot see the bright light in the skies, covered by the clouds; but the wind blows and clears them away.
22. As golden splendor comes out of the north, God is awesome in His majesty.
23. As for the Almighty, we cannot find Him out; He is exalted in power; and He does no violence to justice and abundant righteousness.
24. Therefore, men fear Him; He does not show partiality to any who are wise of heart.”

CHAPTER THIRTY-EIGHT

1. Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,
2. “Who is this that darkens counsel by words without knowledge?
3. Now gird up your loins like a man; for I will demand of you, and you shall answer Me.
4. Where were you when I laid the foundations of the earth? Declare it, if you have understanding!
5. Who has determined its measurements, if you know? Or who has stretched the line upon it?
6. On what are the foundations fastened to? Or who laid its cornerstone,
7. When the morning stars sang together and all the sons of God shouted for joy?
8. Or who shut up the sea with doors, when it broke forth as it came from the womb?
9. When I made the clouds its robe, and thick darkness a swaddling band for it,
10. And prescribed My limit on it, and here your proud waves shall stop.
11. And I said, ‘You shall come to here, but no further; and here your proud waves shall stop.’
12. Have you commanded the morning since your days began, and caused the dawn to know its place,
13. That it might take hold of the ends of the earth; that the wicked might be shaken out of it?
14. It is changed like clay under a seal; and they stand forth like a garment.
15. But from the wicked their light is withheld, and the uplifted arm is broken.
16. Have you entered into the springs of the sea? Or have you walked in search of the depths?
17. Have the gates of death been opened to you? Or have you seen the gates of the shadow of death?
18. Have you surveyed the breadth of the earth? Declare it, if you know it all!
19. Where is the way where light dwells? And as for darkness, where is the place thereof,
20. That you should take it to its boundary, and that you should know the paths to its home?
21. Do you know it, because you were then born? Or are the number of your days great?
22. Have you entered into the treasures of the snow? Or have you seen the treasures of the hail,
23. Which I have reserved for the time of trouble, against the day of battle and war?
24. By what way is the light distributed, and how does the east wind spread itself upon the earth?
25. Who has cut a channel for the overflowing of waters, or a pathway for the thunderbolts;
26. To cause rain to fall upon the earth where no man is, a wilderness and no man in it;
27. To satisfy the desolate and waste ground, and to cause the bud of the tender herb to spring forth?
28. Has the rain a father? Or who has brought forth the drops of dew?
29. Out of whose womb came the ice? And the frost of the heavens, who engendered it?
30. The waters are hard like stone, and the face of the deep is frozen.
31. Can you bind the bands of the Pleiades, or loosen the cords of Orion?
32. Can you bring the constellations in their season? Or can you guide the Bear with its sons?
33. Do you know the ordinances of the heavens? Can you set up their dominion on the earth?
34. Can you lift up your voice to the clouds, that so floods of waters may cover you?
35. Can you send lightnings, that they may go, and say to you, ‘Here we are’?
36. Who has put wisdom in the inward parts? Or who has given understanding to the mind?
37. Who can number the clouds by wisdom; or who can pour out the bottles of the heavens,
38. When the dust is melted into hardness, and the clods cling fast together?
39. Will you hunt the prey for the lion, or fill the appetite of the young lions,
40. When they crouch in dens, and sit in the cover of their hiding place?
41. Who provides food for the raven, when its young ones cry to God and wander about without food?”

818
CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE

1. “Do you know the time when the wild goats of the rock bring forth? Can you observe the calving of deer?
2. Can you number the months that they fulfill? Or do you know the time for when they give birth;
3. When they bow down and bring forth; and when they get rid of their birth pangs,
4. Their young ones are strong, they grow up in the open field; they go forth and do not return to them again.
5. Who has sent out the wild donkey free? Or who has loosed the bands of the swift donkey,
6. To whom I gave the wilderness for its home, and the salt land for its dwellings?
7. He scorns the tumult of the city; he does not hear the driver’s shouts.
8. The range of the mountains is his pasture, and he searches after every green thing.
9. Will the wild ox be willing to serve you, or spend the night by your feed trough?
10. Can you tie the wild ox in the furrow with rope? Or will he harrow the valleys for you?
11. Will you trust him because his strength is great? Or will you leave your labor to him?
12. Will you trust him, that he will bring home your seed and gather it to your threshing floor?
13. The wing of the ostrich beats joyously; though not like the stork’s pinions with its feathers.
14. For she leaves her eggs in the earth, and lets them warm in the dust,
15. And forgets that a foot may crush them, or that the beast of the field may break them.
16. She treats her young roughly, as if not hers; for her labor is vanity without fear;
17. Because God did not endow her with wisdom, and He has not imparted to her understanding.
18. At the time she lifts herself up high, she scorns the horse and its rider.
19. Have you given the horse strength? Have you clothed his neck with a quivering mane?
20. Can you make him leap like a locust? The glory of his snorting is terrifying.

21. He paws in the valley, and rejoices in his strength; he goes on to meet the clash of weapons.
22. He mocks at fear, and is not terrified; and he does not turn back from the sword.
23. The quiver rattles against him, the glittering spear and the shield.
24. He swallows the ground with fierceness and rage; and he does not stand still at the sound of the ram’s horn.
25. When the ram’s horn sounds, he says, ‘Aha!’ And he smells the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains, and the shouting.
26. Does the hawk soar by your wisdom? Will he spread his wings toward the south?
27. Does the eagle mount up at your command and make her nest on high?
28. She lives and abides on the rock, on the crag of the rock and the strong place.
29. From there she seeks food, and her eyes see it afar off.
30. And her young ones also suck up blood; and where the dead are, there she is.”

CHAPTER FORTY

1. And the LORD answered Job and said,
2. “Shall he who contends with the Almighty instruct Him? He who reproves God, let him answer it.”
3. And Job answered the LORD and said,
5. Once I have spoken; but I will not answer; yea, twice, but I will proceed no further.”
6. And the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,
7. “Gird up your loins now like a man. I will demand of you, and you declare unto Me.
8. Will you even annul My judgment? Will you condemn Me so that you may be righteous?
9. And have you an arm like God? Or can you thunder with a voice like His?
10. Deck yourself now with majesty and excellency, and array yourself with glory and beauty.
11. Cast abroad the rage of your wrath; and behold everyone who is proud, and abase him.
12. Look on everyone who is proud, and bring him low; and tread down the wicked in their place.
13. Hide them in the dust together; and bind their faces in darkness.
14. Then I will also confess to you that your own right hand can save you.
15. Now behold the behemoth, which I made along with you; he eats grass like an ox;
16. See, now, his strength is in his loins, and his force is in the muscles of his belly.
17. He moves his tail like a cedar; the sinews of his thighs are knit together.
18. His bones are like tubes of bronze; his ribs are like bars of iron.
19. He is the first of the ways of God; let his Maker bring His sword near.
20. For the mountains yield food for him, and all the beasts of the field play there.
21. He lies under the lotus trees, in the covert of the reed and the marsh.
22. The lotus trees cover him with their shadow; the willows of the brook surround him.
23. Behold, if a river overflows, he does not run away; he is confident even if Jordan swells up to his mouth.
24. Can anyone capture him when he is on watch, or pierce through his nose with a trap?"

CHAPTER FORTY-ONE

1. “Can you draw out the leviathan with a hook, or hold down his tongue with a cord?
2. Can you put a ring into his nose, or pierce his jaw with a gaff hook?
3. Will he multiply pleas for help to you? Will he speak soft words to you?
4. Will he make a covenant with you? Will you take him for a servant forever?
5. Will you play with him as with a bird? Or will you bind him for your maidens?
6. Shall traders bargain over him? Shall they divide him among the merchants?
7. Can you fill his skin with barbed irons, or his head with fishing spears?
8. Lay your hand on him, think of the battle; you will never do it again.
9. Behold, your expectation is vain; will you be laid low even at the sight of him?
10. None is so fierce as to dare to stir him up; who then is able to stand before Me?
11. Who has gone before Me that I should repay him? All that is in the heavens is Mine.
12. I will not keep silent concerning his limbs, or his mighty strength, or the grace of his frame.
13. Who can strip off his outer armor? Who can penetrate within his double jaws?
14. Who can open the doors to his face, with his terrible teeth all around?
15. The rows of scales are his pride, shut up with a closed seal;
16. One is so near to another that no air can come between them;
17. They are joined one to another, they stick together so that they cannot be separated.
18. His sneezings flash forth light, and his eyes are like the eyelids of the dawn.
19. Out of his mouth go burning torches, sparks of fire leap out.
20. Out of his nostrils goes smoke, as out of a boiling pot fired by reeds.
21. His breath kindles coals, and a flame goes out of his mouth.
22. In his neck resides strength, and terror dances before him.
23. The folds of his flesh are joined together, cast firm upon him; they cannot be moved.
24. His heart is cast hard as a stone, even cast hard as the lower millstone.
25. The mighty are afraid when he raises himself up; they are beside themselves because of his crashing.
26. If the sword is thrust at him, it will not hold firm, nor the spear, the dart, and the javelin.
27. He esteems iron as straw, bronze as rotten wood.
28. An arrow cannot make him flee; sling-stones are turned by him into stubble.
29. Clubs are counted as stubble; he laughs at the shaking of a javelin.
30. Clubs are counted as stubble; he laughs at the shaking of a javelin.
31. He makes the deep boil like a pot; he makes the sea like a seething mixture.
32. Behind him he leaves a shining wake; one would think the deep abyss to be gray-headed.
33. On earth there is nothing like him, who is made to be fearless.
34. He beholds every thing that is high; he is a king over all the children of pride.”
CHAPTER FORTY-TWO

1. And Job answered the LORD and said, 2. “I know that You can do all things, and that no thought can be withheld from You.
3. You asked, ‘Who is he who hides counsel without knowledge?’ Therefore I have spoken that which I did not understand; things too wonderful for me; yea, which I did not know.
4. Hear, I beseech You, and I will speak; You said, ‘I will ask of you, and you will declare to Me.’
5. I have heard of You by the hearing of the ear; but now my eye sees You.
6. Therefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes.”
7. And it came to pass after the LORD had spoken these words to Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite, “My wrath is kindled against you and your two friends. For you have not spoken of Me what is right, as My servant Job has.
8. And now therefore take to yourselves seven young bulls and seven rams, and go to My servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering. And My servant Job will pray for you. For him will I accept; lest I deal with you according to your foolishness, for you have not spoken of Me what is right, like My servant Job.”
9. And Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went and did according as the LORD commanded them. The LORD also accepted Job.
10. And the LORD lifted up the face of Job when he prayed for his friends. Also the LORD added double to Job all that had been his.
11. Then all his brothers came to him, and all his sisters, and all those who had known him before. And they ate bread with him in his house, and consoled him and comforted him over all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him. Each one also gave him a piece of money, and each one a ring of gold.
12. And the LORD blessed the latter days of Job more than the beginning. For he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand female donkeys.
13. He also had seven sons and three daughters.
14. And he called the name of the first, Jemimah; and the name of the second, Keziah; and the name of the third, Keren-Happuch.
15. And in all the land there were not found women as beautiful as the daughters of Job. And their father gave them inheritance among their brothers.
16. After this Job lived a hundred and forty years, and he saw his sons, and his sons’ sons, four generations.
17. And Job died, being old and full of days.
The Song of Solomon

CHAPTER ONE

1. The song of songs, which is Solomon's.
2. Let Him kiss me with the kisses of His mouth; for Your love is better than wine.
3. For Your ointments have a lovely fragrance; Your name is as ointment poured out; therefore the maidens love You.
4. Draw me, we will run after You. The King has brought me into his chambers; we will be glad and rejoice in You, we will praise Your love more than wine; the upright love You.
5. I am dark, but lovely, O daughters of Jerusalem, like the tents of Kedar, like the curtains of Solomon.
6. Do not look on me scornfully because I am dark, because the sun has tanned me. My mother's sons were angry with me; they made me the keeper of the vineyards; but my own vineyard I have not kept.
7. Tell me, You Whom my soul loves, where do You feed, where do You make Your flock to rest at noon? For why should I be as one who veils herself beside the flocks of Your companions?
8. If you know not, O most beautiful among women, follow in the footsteps of the flock; and feed your kids beside the shepherds' tents.
9. O My love, I have compared you to My mare among Pharaoh's chariots.
10. Your cheeks are beautiful with ornaments, your neck with strings of jewels.
11. We will make you ornaments of gold with studs of silver.
12. While the King is at his table, my perfume gives its fragrance.
13. My Beloved is to me like a bag of myrrh that lies between my breasts.
14. My Beloved is to me like a cluster of henna flowers in the vineyards of En Gedi.
15. Behold, you are beautiful, My love; behold, you are beautiful; you have doves' eyes.
16. Behold, You are beautiful, my Beloved, yea, pleasant. Also our bed is luxuriant.
17. The beams of our house are cedar, and our rafters are of fir.

CHAPTER TWO

1. I am the rose of Sharon, the lily of the valleys.
2. As the lily among thorns, so is My love among the daughters.
3. As the apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is my Beloved among the young men. I sat down under His shadow with great delight, and His fruit was sweet to my taste.
4. He brought me to the banqueting house, and His banner over me was love.
5. Sustain me with raisin cakes, comfort me with apples, for I am sick with love.
6. His left hand is under my head, and His right hand embraces me.
7. I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the gazelles, and by the does of the field, do not stir up or awake love until it pleases.
8. The voice of my Beloved! Behold, He comes leaping on the mountains, skipping on the hills.
9. My Beloved is like a gazelle or a young hart. Behold, He stands behind our wall, He looks in through the windows, peers through the lattice.
10. My Beloved spoke, and said to me, “Rise up, My love, My beautiful one, and come away.
11. For lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone.
12. The flowers appear on the earth; the time of singing has come, and the voice of the turtledove is heard in our land;
13. The fig tree puts forth her green figs, and the vines in blossom give forth their fragrance. Arise, My love, My beautiful one, and come away.
14. O My dove, in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, let Me see your face, let Me hear your voice; for your voice is sweet, and your countenance is beautiful.”
15. Catch us the foxes, the little foxes that spoil the vines; for our vines are in blossom.
16. My Beloved is mine, and I am His; He feeds among the lilies.
17. Until the day break and the shadows flee away, turn, my Beloved, and be like a gazelle, or a young stag, upon the mountains of spices.
CHAPTER THREE

1. By night on my bed I sought Him Whom my soul loved; I sought Him, but I did not find Him.
2. I will rise now and go about the city, in the streets and in the broad ways; I will seek Him Whom my soul loves. I sought Him, but I did not find Him.
3. The watchmen going about the city found me. I said, “Have you seen Him Whom my soul loves?”
4. But a little while after I passed from them, I found Him Whom my soul loves. I held Him and would not let Him go, until I had brought Him into my mother’s house, and into the room of her who conceived me.
5. I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the gazelles, and by the does of the field, do not stir up nor awake love until it pleases.
6. Who is this coming up out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, from all the merchant’s fragrant powders?
7. Behold his carriage, Solomon’s! Sixty mighty men are round about it, of Israel’s mighty men.
8. They all hold swords, being experts in war; each man has his sword on his thigh with his bow; they are mighty men.
9. King Solomon made himself a royal chariot of Lebanon’s trees.
10. He made its poles of silver, its back gold, its seat of purple, the inside of it was inlaid with love by the daughters of Jerusalem.
11. Go forth, O daughters of Zion, and gaze upon King Solomon with the crown with which his mother crowned him on his wedding day, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. Behold, you are beautiful, My love. Behold, you are beautiful; your eyes are like doves’ from behind your veil; your hair is like a flock of goats descending from Mount Gilead.
2. Your teeth are like a flock of shorn sheep, which came up from the washing; they all are paired and not one is missing among them.
3. Your lips are like a cord of scarlet, and your mouth is lovely; your cheeks are like halves of a pomegranate behind your veil.
4. Your neck is like the tower of David built with turrets, on which there hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of mighty men.
5. Your two breasts are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle, feeding among the lilies.
6. Until the day breaks, and the shadows flee away, I will go to the mountain of myrrh and to the hill of frankincense.
7. You are all fair, My love; no blemish is in you.
8. Come with Me from Lebanon, My bride; with Me from Lebanon. Look from the top of Amana, from the top of Shenir and Hermon, from the lions’ dens, from the mountains of the leopards.
9. You ravished My heart, My dearly beloved, My bride! How much better is your love than wine, and the smell of your ointments than all manner of spices!
10. How fair is your love, My dearly beloved, My bride! How much better is your love than wine, and the smell of your ointments than all manner of spices!
11. Your lips, My bride, drop sweetness like the honeycomb; honey and milk are under your tongue; and the scent of your garments is like the scent of Lebanon.
12. An enclosed garden is My dearly beloved, My bride; a spring shut up, a fountain sealed.
13. Your plants are an orchard of pomegranates, with pleasant fruits; with henna and spikenard,
14. Spikenard and saffron; calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense, myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices;
15. You are a fountain of gardens, a well of living waters, and flowing streams from Lebanon.
16. Awake, O north wind; and come, south wind; blow upon my garden, so that the spices of it may flow out. Let my Beloved come into His garden and eat His pleasant fruits.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. I have come into My garden, My dearly beloved, My bride; I have gathered My myrrh with My spice; I have eaten My honeycomb with My honey; I have drunk My wine with My milk. Eat, O friends; drink, yea, drink abundantly, O Beloved.
2. I sleep, but my heart is awake, Hark! My Beloved knocks, saying, “Open to Me, My dearly beloved, My love, My dove, My undefiled; for My head is filled with dew, My locks with the moisture of the night.”

3. I have put off my coat; how shall I put it on again? I have washed my feet; how shall I defile them?

4. My Beloved put in His hand by the latchet of the door, and my heart was thrilled within me for Him.

5. I rose up to open for my Beloved; and my hands dripped with myrrh, and my fingers flowing with myrrh on the handles of the lock.

6. I opened for my Beloved, but my Beloved had turned away and was gone. My soul failed me when He spoke; I called Him, but He did not answer me.

7. The watchmen who went about the city found me and struck me; they wounded me. The keepers of the wall took away my cloak from me.

8. I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if you find my Beloved, what will you tell Him? That I am sick with love.

9. What is your Beloved more than another beloved, O most beautiful among women? What is your Beloved more than another beloved, that you adjure us so?

10. My Beloved is shimmering and ruddy, preeminent above ten thousand.

11. His head is like refined gold; His locks are curly, black as a raven.

12. His eyes are like doves, beside streams of water, bathed in milk, and fitly set.

13. His cheeks are like a bed of spices, towers of sweet aromatic herbs. His lips are as lilies dripping with flowing myrrh.

14. His hands are like rods of gold set with beryl; His body is as polished ivory overlaid with sapphires.

15. His legs are like pillars of marble set on sockets of fine gold; His appearance is like Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.

16. His mouth is most sweet; yea, He is altogether lovely. This is my Beloved, and this is my Friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

CHAPTER SIX

1. Where has your Beloved gone, O most beautiful among women? Where has your Beloved turned aside, that we may seek Him along with you?

2. My Beloved has gone down to His garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens and to gather lilies.

3. I am my Beloved’s, and my Beloved is mine; He feeds among the lilies.

4. O My love, you are as beautiful as Tirzah, as lovely as Jerusalem, as awesome as an army with banners.

5. Turn away your eyes from Me, for they have overcome Me; your hair is like a flock of goats descending from Gilead.

6. Your teeth are like a flock of ewes which have come up from the washing; they all are paired and not one is missing among them.

7. Your temples behind your veil are like a pomegranate split open.

8. There are sixty queens, and eighty concubines, and virgins without number.

9. But My dove, My undefiled is one alone. She is the only one of her mother. She is the choice of her who bore her. The daughters saw her and blessed her; yea, the queens and the concubines saw her, and they praised her.

10. Who is she who appears like the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, awesome as an army with banners?

11. I went down into the garden of nuts to see the green plants of the valley, to see whether the vine flowered and the pomegranates had blossomed.

12. Before I was aware, my soul set me upon the chariots of my princely people.

13. Return, return, O Shulamite! Return, return, that we may look upon you. What will you see in the Shulamite—as it were a dance before two companies?

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. How beautiful are your feet in sandals, O prince’s daughter! The curves of your thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a skillful workman.

2. Your navel is like a round goblet, which never lacks mixed wine; your belly is like a heap of wheat set about with lilies.

3. Your two breasts are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle.

4. Your neck is like a tower of ivory; your eyes like pools in Heshbon, by the gate of Beth Rabbim; your nose is like...
the tower of Lebanon which looks toward Damascus.
5. Your head upon you is like Carmel, and the hair of your head like purple tapestry; the King is held captive in its tresses.
6. How beautiful and how pleasant you are, O love, for delights!
7. Your stature is like a palm tree, and your breasts are like clusters of grapes.
8. I said, “I will go up into the palm tree, I will take hold of its branches.” And please let your breasts be like clusters of the vine, and the smell of your countenance like apples;
9. And the roof of your mouth like the best wine. The wine glides down smoothly for my Beloved, moving gently over the lips of those who are sleeping.
10. I am my Beloved’s, and His desire is toward me.
11. Come, my Beloved, let us go out into the field; let us lodge in the villages.
12. Let us rise up early to the vineyards; let us see whether the vine has budded, whether the tender grape appears, and the pomegranates bud forth; there I will give You my love.
13. The mandrakes give a scent, and over our doors are all manner of pleasant fruits, new and old, which I have laid up for You, O my Beloved.

CHAPTER EIGHT
1. Oh that you were as my brother, who sucked my mother’s breasts? When I find You outside, I would kiss You; yea, none would despise me.
2. I would lead You, and bring You into my mother’s house. You would instruct me; I would cause You to drink spiced wine of the juice of my pomegranate.
3. His left hand would be under my head, and His right hand would embrace me.
4. I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, why should you stir up or awaken love until it pleases?
5. Who is this coming up from the wilderness, leaning on her Beloved? I awakened you under the apple tree; there your mother was in travail with you; there she was in travail and brought you forth.
6. Set me as a seal on Your heart, as a seal on Your arm; for love is as strong as death. Jealousy is cruel as the grave; its flashes are flashes of fire, a very flame of the LORD.
7. Many waters cannot quench love, nor can the rivers overflow it. If a man would give all the wealth of his house for love, it would be scorned.
8. We have a little sister, and she has no breasts; what shall we do for our sister in the day when she shall be spoken for?
9. If she is a wall, we will build upon her a turret of silver; and if she is a door, we will enclose her with boards of cedar.
10. I am a wall, and my breasts are like towers; thus I have become in His eyes as one finding peace.
11. Solomon had a vineyard in Baal Hamon; he let out the vineyard to keepers; everyone for its fruit was to bring a thousand pieces of silver.
12. My vineyard, which is mine, is before me; you, O Solomon, shall have the thousand, and for the keepers of its fruit, two hundred.
13. You who dwell in the gardens, the companions listen for your voice—cause Me to hear it!
14. Hurry, my Beloved, and be like a gazelle, or a young deer, the stag, on the mountains of spices.
The Book of
Ruth

CHAPTER ONE

1. Now it came to pass in the days when the judges ruled, that there was a famine in the land. And a certain man of Bethlehem in Judah went to live in the country of Moab, he and his wife and his two sons.

2. And the name of the man was Elimelech, and the name of his wife Naomi, and the names of his two sons Mahlon and Chilion, Ephrathites of Bethlehem in Judah. And they came to the fields of Moab and stayed there.

3. And Elimelech, Naomi's husband, died. And she was left, and her two sons. And they took wives for themselves of Moab, his law so that she might return from the country of Moab. For she had heard in the country of Moab how the LORD had visited His people in giving them bread.

4. And they lived there about ten years.

5. And Mahlon and Chilion also died, both of them. And the woman was left without her two sons and her husband.

6. Then she arose with her daughters-in-law that there was a famine in the land. And a certain man of Bethlehem in Judah. And they came to Bethlehem at the beginning of barley harvest.

7. And she went out of the place where she was, and her two daughters-in-law with her, and they went on the way to return to the land of Judah.

8. And Naomi said to her two daughters-in-law, “Go, return each one to your mother’s house. May the LORD deal kindly with you, as you have dealt with the dead and with me.

9. May the LORD grant you that you may find rest, each in the house of your husband.” Then she kissed them, and they lifted up their voices and wept.

10. And they said to her, “Surely we will return with you to your people.”

11. And Naomi said, “Turn again, my daughters. Why will you go with me? Are there yet sons in my womb, that they may be your husbands?

12. Turn again, my daughters, go. For I am too old to have a husband. If I should say, ‘I have hope,’ if I should have a husband also tonight, and should also bear sons.

13. Would you wait for them until they were grown? Would you shut yourselves up, and not have husbands until then? No, my daughters, for it makes me very sad for your sakes that the hand of the LORD has gone out against me.”

14. And they lifted up their voices and wept again. And Orpah kissed her mother-in-law. But Ruth clung to her.

15. And she said, “Behold, your sister-in-law has gone back to her people and to her gods. Return back with your sister-in-law.”

16. And Ruth said, “Do not beg me to leave you, to return from following after you. For where you go, I will go. Where you stay, I will stay. Your people shall be my people, and your God my God.

17. Where you die, I will die, and there I will be buried. May the LORD do so to me, and more also, if anything but death parts you and me.”

18. When she saw that she was determined to go with her, then she quit speaking to her.

19. And both of them went until they came to Bethlehem. And it came to pass, when they had come to Bethlehem, all the city was moved concerning them, and they said, “Is this Naomi?”

20. And she said to them, “Do not call me Naomi, call me Mara. For the Almighty has dealt very bitterly with me.

21. I went out full, and the LORD has testified against me, and the Almighty has afflicted me?”

22. So Naomi returned; and Ruth, the Moabitess, her daughter-in-law, was with her, returning out of the fields of Moab. And they came to Bethlehem at the beginning of barley harvest.

CHAPTER TWO

1. And Naomi had a kinsman of her husband’s, a mighty man of wealth, of the family of Elimelech. And his name was Boaz.

2. And Ruth the Moabitess said to Naomi, “Let me now go to the field and glean ears of grain after him in whose sight I shall find grace.” And she said to her, “Go, my daughter.”
3. And she went. And she came and gleaned in the field after the reapers. And she happened to come upon a part of the field of Boaz, who was of the kindred of Elimelech.
4. And behold, Boaz came from Bethlehem and said to the reapers, “The LORD be with you.” And they answered him, “The LORD bless you.”
5. And Boaz said to his servant who was set over the reapers, “Whose young woman is this?”
6. And the servant who was set over the reapers answered and said, “It is the young Moabite woman who came back with Naomi out of the country of Moab.
7. And she said, ‘Please let me glean and gather after the reapers among the sheaves.’ So she came, and has continued from the morning until now, although she rested a little in the house.”
8. And Boaz said to Ruth, “Will you not listen, my daughter? Do not go to glean in another field, neither go away from here, but stay here close by my maidens.
9. Let your eyes be on the field that they reap, and follow after them. Have I not commanded the young men that they shall not touch you? And when you are thirsty, go to the vessels and drink of that which the young men have drawn.”
10. Then she fell on her face and bowed herself to the ground, and said to him, “Why have I found grace in your eyes, that you should take notice of me, since I am a foreigner?”
11. And Boaz answered and said to her, “It has been fully shown to me all that you have done to your mother-in-law since the death of your husband, and you left your father and your mother and the land of your birth, and have come to a people whom you did not know before now.
12. May the LORD repay your work, and may a full reward be given you from the LORD God of Israel, under Whose wings you have come to seek refuge.”
13. Then she said, “Let me find favor in your sight, my lord, for you have comforted me: for you have spoken kindly to your handmaid, though I am not like one of your handmaidens.”
14. And Boaz said to her at mealtime, “Come here and eat of the bread and dip your bit in the vinegar.” And she sat beside the reapers. And he handed her roasted grain, and she ate and was satisfied, and left.
15. And when she had risen up to glean, Boaz commanded his young men saying, “Let her glean even among the sheaves, and do not rebuke her.
16. And also let fall some of the bundles on purpose for her, and leave them so that she may glean them, and do not rebuke her.”
17. And she gleaned in the field until the evening, and beat out what she had gleaned. And it was about an ephah of barley.
18. And she took it up and went into the city. And her mother-in-law saw what she had gleaned. And she brought it forth, and gave to her what she had left after she was satisfied.
19. And her mother-in-law said to her, “Where have you gleaned today? And where did you work? Blessed is he who took notice of you.” And she told her mother-in-law with whom she had worked, and said, “The man’s name with whom I worked today is Boaz.”
20. And Naomi said to her daughter-in-law, “Blessed is he of the LORD, Who has not left off His kindness to the living and to the dead.” And Naomi said to her, “The man is near of kin to us, he is one of our closest kinsmen.”
21. And Ruth the Moabitess said, “He said to me also, ‘You shall keep close by my young men whom I have working until they have ended all my harvest.’ ”
22. And Naomi said to her daughter-in-law Ruth, “Good, my daughter. You go out with his maidens so that others do not meet you in any other field.”
23. So she kept close by the maidens of Boaz to glean until the end of barley harvest and of wheat harvest. And she lived with her mother-in-law.

CHAPTER THREE

1. And her mother-in-law Naomi said to her, “My daughter, shall I not seek rest for you so that it may be well with you? 2. And now is not Boaz of our kindred, with whose maidens you worked? Behold, he winnows barley tonight in the threshing floor.
3. Therefore wash yourself, and anoint yourself, and put your clothing upon you, and go down to the threshing floor. But do not make yourself known to the man until he has finished eating and drinking.
4. And when he lies down, you mark the place where he lies, and you shall go in and uncover his feet and lie down. And he will tell you what you shall do.
5. And she said to her, “All that you say, I will do.”
6. And she went down to the threshing floor and did according to all that her mother-in-law had told her.
7. And when Boaz had eaten and had drunk, and his heart was merry, he went to lie down at the end of the heap of grain. And she came softly and uncovered his feet, and lay down.
8. And it came to pass at midnight, the man was startled and turned himself. And he said, “Do not make yourself known to the man where he lies, and you shall go in place where he lies, and you shall go in, and uncover his feet and lie down. And he will tell you what you shall do.”
9. And he said, “Who are you?” And she answered, “I am your handmaid Ruth. And you shall spread your skirt over your handmaid for you are a kinsman-redeemer.”
10. And he said, “Blessed be you of the LORD, my daughter. You have shown kindness in the end than at the beginning, in that you did not follow young men, whether poor or rich.
11. And now, my daughter, do not fear. I will do to you all that you ask. For all the men in the city of my people know that you are a woman of virtue.
12. And now it is true that I am your kinsman-redeemer. But there is also a kinsman nearer than I.
13. Stay tonight, and it shall be that in the morning if he will redeem you—good, he will redeem. But if he does not delight to redeem you, as the LORD lives, then I will redeem you. Lie down until the morning.”
14. And she lay at his feet until the morning. And she rose up before one could discern another. And he said, “Do not let it be known that a woman came to the floor.”
15. Also, he said, “Bring the shawl that is upon you, and hold it.” And when she held it, he measured six measures of barley and laid it on her. Then she went to the city.
16. And when she came to her mother-in-law, she said, “Is that you, my daughter?” And she told her all that the man had done to her.
17. And she said, “These six measures of barley he gave to me. For he said to me, ‘Do not go empty to your mother-in-law.’”
18. Then she said, “Sit still, my daughter, until you know how the matter will fall. For the man will not rest until he has concluded the matter today.”

CHAPTER FOUR

1. And Boaz went up to the gate and sat down there. And behold, the near kinsman of whom Boaz spoke came by. And he said to him, “Such a one! Turn aside, sit down here.” And he turned aside and sat down.
2. And he took ten men of the elders of the city and said, “Come sit down here.” And they sat down.
3. And he said to the near kinsman, “Naomi, who has come back from the country of Moab, sells a parcel of land which was our brother Elimelech’s.
4. And I thought to disclose it to you, saying, ‘Buy it before those who live here, and before the elders of my people. If you will redeem, redeem it. But if you will not redeem, tell me so that I may know. For there is none to redeem besides you—and I am after you.’” And he said, “I will redeem.”
5. And Boaz said, “In the day you buy the field from the hand of Naomi, you acquire Ruth of Moab, the wife of the field from the hand of Naomi.
6. And the kinsman said, “I cannot redeem for myself, lest I mar my own inheritance. You take my right of redemption to yourself, for I cannot redeem it.”
7. Now this was the custom in former times in Israel concerning redeeming and concerning exchanging, to confirm everything. A man took off his shoe and gave it to his neighbor. And this was a testimony in Israel.
8. Therefore the near kinsman said to Boaz, “Buy it for yourself.” So he drew off his shoe.
9. And Boaz said to the elders and all the people, “You are witnesses this day that I have bought all that was Elimelech’s, and all that was Chilion’s and Mahlon’s, from the hand of Naomi.
10. Moreover Ruth of Moab, the wife of Mahlon, I have acquired to be my wife, to raise up the name of the dead on his inheritance, so that the name of the dead may not be cut off from among his brothers and from the gate of his place. You are witnesses this day.”

11. And all the people in the gate, and the elders, said, “We are witnesses. May the LORD make the woman who has come into your house like Rachel and like Leah, for these two built the house of Israel. And may you do worthily in Ephratah, and be famous in Bethlehem.

12. And let your house be like the house of Pharez, whom Tamar bore to Judah, of the seed which the LORD shall give you of this young woman.”

13. And Boaz took Ruth, and she became his wife. And when he went in to her, the LORD enabled her to conceive. And she bore a son.

14. And the women said to Naomi, “Blessed be the LORD, who has not left you this day without a kinsman-redeemer, so that his name may be famous in Israel.

15. And he shall be to you as a restorer of life, and a nourisher of your old age. For your daughter-in-law who loves you has borne him, she who is better to you than seven sons.”

16. And Naomi took the child and laid it in her bosom, and became nurse to it.

17. And the women, her neighbors, gave him a name, saying, “There is a son born to Naomi.” And they called his name Obed. He is the father of Jesse, the father of David.

18. And these are the generations of Pharez. Pharez begat Hezron,

19. And Hezron begat Ram, and Ram begat Amminadab,

20. And Amminadab begat Nahshon, and Nahshon begat Salmon,

21. And Salmon begat Boaz, and Boaz begat Obed,

22. And Obed begat Jesse, and Jesse begat David.

Ruth 4

The Book of

Lamentations

CHAPTER ONE

1. How isolated sits the city that was full of people! She has become like a widow, once great among the nations, a noblewoman among the nations, but now has become a tribute payer.

2. She bitterly weeps in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks; among all her lovers, she has none to comfort her. All her friends have dealt treacherously with her; they became her enemies.

3. Judah has gone into captivity, under affliction and great slavery. She dwells among the nations; she finds no rest; all her pursuers have overtaken her between the narrow straits.

4. The roads of Zion mourn because no one comes to the appointed feasts. All her gates are deserted; her priests sigh; her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterness.

5. Her adversaries have become the head; her enemies prosper; for the LORD has afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions. Her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

6. And from the daughter of Zion all her majesty has departed. Her princes have become like bucks: they find no pasture, and they have fled without strength before the pursuer.

7. In the days of her affliction and her wandering, Jerusalem remembered all her desirable things that she had in the days of old. When her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and no one helped her, the adversaries saw her; they laughed at her annihilation.

8. Jerusalem has grievously sinned, therefore she has become filthy. All who honored her, despise her because they saw her nakedness; yea, she sighs and turns backward.

9. Her filthiness is in her skirts; she did not consider her future, therefore she has fallen astonishingly. She has no comforter. “Behold, O LORD, my affliction, for the enemy has magnified himself.”

10. The enemy has stretched out his hands upon all her precious things; for she has seen the nations enter into her sanctuary, whom You commanded that they should not enter into Your congregation.

11. All her people sigh; they seek bread. They have given their treasures for food to relieve the soul. “See, O LORD, and look upon me, for I have become vile.”

12. “Is it nothing to you, all you who pass by? Behold and see if there is any pain like my pain which is done to me, with which the LORD has afflicted me in the day of His fierce anger.

13. From on high He has sent fire into my bones and it prevailed against them. He has spread a net for my feet; He has turned me back; He has made me desolate and faint all the day.

14. The yoke of my transgressions is bound by His hand; they intertwine; they rise on my neck. He has made my strength to falter; the LORD has delivered me into their hands—those whom I cannot withstand.

15. The LORD has trampled all my mighty ones in my midst; He has called a gathering against me to crush my young men. The LORD has trodden the virgin daughter of Judah as in a winepress.

16. For these things I weep; my eyes, my bowels burn; my heart is wrung out with the exultation of my enemies, for I have grievously rebelled. In the streets the sword bereaves; in the house is the likeness of death.

21. They have heard that I sigh; there is none to comfort me. All my enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that You have done it. But You will bring the day that You have proclaimed, and they shall yet be like me.

22. Let all their wickedness come before You; and do to them as You have done to me for all my transgressions. For my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.”

CHAPTER TWO

1. How the LORD has covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in His anger! He cast down the beauty of Israel from the heavens to the earth and remembered not His footstool in the day of His anger.

2. The LORD unsparingly swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob. In His wrath He has thrown down the strongholds of the daughter of Judah; He has brought them down to the ground. He has defiled the kingdom and its rulers.

3. He has cut off all the horn of Israel in His fierce anger; He has drawn back His right hand from before the enemy, and He burned against Jacob like a flaming fire which devours all around.

4. He has bent His bow like an enemy, standing with His right hand like an adversary, and has slain all the pride of our eyes. In the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion, He poured out His fury like fire.

5. The LORD has become like an enemy; He has swallowed up Israel; He has destroyed all her palaces, and he has laid in ruins its stronghold. And He has multiplied mourning and lamentation in the daughter of Judah.

6. And He has violently taken away his tabernacle as if it were of a garden. He has destroyed His place of assembly. The LORD has caused the solemn feasts and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and He has despised the king and the priest in His fierce indignation.

7. The LORD has cast off His altar; He has abhorred His sanctuary; He has given up the walls of her palaces into the enemy’s hand. They made a noise in the house of the LORD, as a day of solemn feast.

8. The LORD purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion; He has stretched out a line; He has not withdrawn His hand from destroying, and He made the rampart and wall lament; they languish together.  9. Her gates have sunk into the ground; He has destroyed and broken her bars. Her kings and her rulers are among the nations. The law is no more; and her prophets also find no vision from the LORD.
10. The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground and are silent; they throw dust upon their heads; they gird on sackclothes. The virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.
11. My eyes fail with tears; my inward parts burn; my liver is poured on the ground. My days are vanished like a weaver; I loathe my life in my bowels.
12. They say to their mothers, “Where is grain and wine?” In their fainting they are like the wounded in the streets of the city, as their lives are poured out upon their mothers’ bosom.
13. What can I say to you? What thing shall I compare to you, O virgin daughter of Jerusalem? For your breach is great like the sea! Who can heal you?
14. Your prophets have seen false and foolish things for you, and they have not uncovered your iniquity, to turn away your captivity; but they have seen false oracles and delusions for you.
15. All who pass by clap their hands at you; they hiss and wag their heads at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying, “Is this the city which they called the perfection of beauty, the joy of the whole earth?”
16. All your enemies have opened their mouth wide against you; they hiss and gnash their teeth; they say, “We have swallowed her up. Certainly this is the day that we have longed for; now we have found it, we have seen it.”
17. The LORD has done what He has purposed; He has fulfilled His word which He commanded from the days of old. He has thrown down unsparingly. And He caused your enemy to rejoice over you; He has exalted the horn of your adversaries.
18. Their heart cried to the LORD. “O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a torrent day and night; give yourself no rest. Let not the apple of your eye cease.
19. Arise, cry out in the night. At the beginning of the watches, pour out your heart like water before the face of the LORD. Lift up your hands toward Him for the life of your children who are faint for hunger in the head of every street.”
20. “Behold, O LORD, and consider to whom You have done this. Shall the women eat their fruit, children of tender care? Shall the priest and the prophet be killed in the holy place of the LORD?
21. Young and old lie on the ground in the streets; my virgins and my young men have fallen by the sword. You have slain them in the day of Your anger; You have slaughtered them without mercy.
22. You have called as in a feast day the terrors all around me, and there was not one who escaped or survived in the day of the LORD’S anger. Those whom I have swaddled and brought up, my enemy has destroyed them.”

CHAPTER THREE

1. I am the man who has seen affliction by the rod of His wrath.
2. He has led me and made me go in darkness and not into light.
3. Surely He has turned, He has turned His hand against me again and again all day long.
4. He has wasted my flesh and my skin; He has broken my bones.
5. He has besieged me and has encircled me with bitterness and tribulation.
6. He has made me live in dark places, like those who have long been dead.
7. He has set a fence around me so that I cannot go out; He has made my chain heavy.
8. Also when I cry and shout, He shuts out my prayer.
9. He has blocked my ways with cut stone; He has made my paths crooked.
10. He was as a bear lying in wait for me, as a lion in secret places.
11. He has turned my ways aside and has torn me to pieces. He has made me desolate.
12. He has bent His bow and has set me as a mark for the arrow.
13. He has caused the arrows of His quiver to enter into my inward parts.
14. I was a mockery to all my people, their song all the day.
15. He has filled me with bitterness and has made me drunk with wormwood.
16. He has also broken my teeth with gravel stones; He has made me to wallow in ashes.
17. And my soul is removed far off from peace; I have forgotten happiness.
18. And I said, “My strength and my hope from the LORD are perished.”
19. Remember my affliction and my anguish, the wormwood and bitterness of gall.
20. My soul vividly remembers and is bowed down within me.
21. I recall this to my mind; therefore I have hope.
22. It is by the LORD’S mercies that we are not destroyed, because His compassions never fail.
23. They are new every morning; great is Your faithfulness.
24. “The LORD is my portion,” says my soul; “therefore I will hope in Him.”
25. The LORD is good to those who wait for Him, to the soul who seeks Him.
26. It is good that one should hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the LORD.
27. It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.
28. Let him sit alone and in silence because He laid it upon him.
29. He puts his mouth in the dust, if perhaps there may yet be hope.
30. Let him give his cheek to him who strikes him; let him be filled with reproach.
31. For the LORD will not cast off forever;
32. For though He causes grief, yet He will have compassion according to the multitude of His mercies.
33. For He does not afflict willingly, nor does He grieve the children of men;
34. To crush all the prisoners of the earth under his feet;
35. To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the Most High;
36. To subvert a man in his cause—of this the LORD does not approve.
37. Who is this who speaks, and it comes to pass, when the LORD does not ordain it?
38. From the mouth of the Most High does not the bad and the good proceed?
39. Wherefore does a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins?
40. Let us test and examine our ways, and return again to the LORD.
66. You will pursue them in anger and destroy them from under the heavens of the LORD.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. How the gold has become dim; the fine gold has changed! The stones of the sanctuary are poured out at the head of every street.
2. The precious sons of Zion are weighed against pure gold; how they are counted as earthen vessels, the work of a potter’s hands!
3. Even the jackals draw out the breast; they suckle their young ones. The daughter of my people has become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness.
4. The infant’s tongue cleaves to the roof of his mouth in thirst; the young children ask for bread; there is no one breaking it for them.
5. Those who ate delicacies are desolate in the streets; those reared in scarlet embrace dunghills.
6. For the punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the punishment of the sin of Sodom, that was overthrown as in a moment, with no hands to help her.
7. Her princes were purer than snow, whiter than milk; they were more ruddy in body than rubies, their polishing was of sapphire:
8. But now their appearance is blacker than soot; they are not recognized in the streets; their skin has shriveled upon their bones; it is dried up; it has become like a stick.
9. Better are the ones slain by the sword than the ones slain by hunger; for these pine away, stricken for want of the fruits of the field.
10. The hands of the women of compassion have boiled their own children; they became their food in the destruction of the daughter of my people.
11. The LORD has accomplished His fury: He has poured out His fierce anger, and has kindled a fire in Zion, and it has devoured its foundations.
12. The kings of the earth, and all the people of the world, would not have believed that the adversary and the enemy would go into Jerusalem’s gates.
13. For the sins of her prophets and the iniquities of her priests, that have shed the blood of the just in her midst,
14. They wandered blindly through the streets; they have polluted themselves with blood, so that men could not touch their clothes.
15. They cried to them, “Depart! Unclean! Depart! Depart! Touch not!” Indeed, they fled away and wandered; they said among the nations, “They will not continue to live there.”
16. The face of the LORD has scattered them; He will no longer watch over them; they did not respect the persons of the priests; they were not gracious to the elders.
17. As for us, our eyes fail, for our help is vain; in our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save.
18. They hunted our steps so that we cannot go in our streets; our end was near, our days were fulfilled, for our end has come.
19. Our persecutors were swifter than the eagles of heaven; they pursued us on the mountains, they lay in wait for us in the wilderness.
20. The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the LORD, was taken in their pits—of whom we said, “Under his shadow we shall live among the nations.”
21. Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom, who lives in the land of Ûz. The cup also shall pass through unto you; you shall be made drunken and stripped naked.
22. The punishment of your iniquity is fulfilled, O daughter of Zion; He will exile you no more. But He will punish you for your iniquity, O daughter of Edom; He will expose your sins.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. Remember, O LORD, what has come upon us; look down and see our reproach.
2. Our inheritance has been turned over to aliens, our houses to foreigners.
3. We are orphans and fatherless; to aliens, our houses to foreigners.
4. We have drunk our water for money; our wood comes for a price.
5. Our pursuers are at our necks; we grow weary; no rest is given to us.
6. We have given the hand to Egypt, to Assyria, to be satisfied with bread.
7. Our fathers have sinned and are not; we have borne their iniquities.
Lamentations 5

8. Slaves rule over us; there is none to deliver us out of their hand.
9. We bring in our bread at the risk of our lives, because of the sword of the wilderness.
10. Our skin is hot like an oven because of the burning heat of famine.
11. They raped the women in Zion, virgins in the cities of Judah.
12. Rulers were hanged by the hand; the faces of elders were not honored.
13. They took the young men to grind, and the children have stumbled under the loads of wood.
14. The elders have ceased from the gate, the young men from their music.
15. The joy of our heart has ceased; our dance has turned into mourning.
16. The crown has fallen from our head. Woe now to us! For we have sinned.
17. Our heart is faint for this; our eyes are dim for these things.
18. Because the mountain of Zion lies desolate, the foxes walk upon it.
19. You, O LORD, remain forever; Your throne is from generation to generation.
20. Why do You forget us forever and forsake us for so long a time?
21. Return us to You, O LORD, and we will return; renew our days as of old, unless You have utterly rejected us, and are exceedingly angry against us!

The Book of Ecclesiastes

CHAPTER ONE

1. The words of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.
2. “Vanity of vanities,” says the Preacher, “vanity of vanities! All is vanity.”
3. What profit does a man have in all his labor which he labors under the sun?
4. One generation passes away, and another generation comes; but the earth remains forever.
5. The sun also arises, and the sun goes down, and hurries to its place where it arose.
6. The wind goes toward the south, and it turns around to the north; it whirls around continually; and the wind returns on its circuits.
7. All the rivers run into the sea; yet the sea is not full; to the place from where the rivers come, there they return again.
8. All things are full of labor; man cannot utter it; the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.
9. That which has been is that which shall be; and that which has been done is that which shall be done; and there is nothing new under the sun.
10. Is there a thing of which it may be said, “See, this is new”? It has already been in days of old, which were before us.
11. There is no memory of former things, neither shall there be any remembrance of things that are to come by those who shall come afterwards.
12. I, the Preacher, was king over Israel in Jerusalem.
13. And I gave my heart to seek and search out by wisdom concerning all things that are done under the heavens. It is a grievous task God has given to the sons of men to be exercised by it.
14. I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and, behold, all is vanity and striving after wind.
15. What is crooked cannot be made straight; and what is lacking cannot be numbered.
16. I spoke within my own heart, saying, “Lo, I have become great and have gathered more wisdom than all that have been before me in Jerusalem; yea, my heart has experienced great wisdom and knowledge.”
17. And I gave my heart to know wisdom and to know madness and folly; I perceived that this also is striving after wind.
18. For in much wisdom is much grief; and he who increases knowledge increases sorrow.
CHAPTER TWO

1. I said in my heart, “Come now, I will test you with pleasure to find out what is good.” And behold, this also is vanity.
2. I said of laughter, “It is madness;” and of mirth, “What does it accomplish?”
3. I sought in my heart to give myself unto wine, yet conducting my heart with wisdom; and to lay hold on folly, until I might see what was good for the sons of men, what they should do under the heaven the few days of their life.
4. I made great works for myself; I built houses for myself; I planted vineyards for myself.
5. I made gardens and orchards for myself; I planted trees in them, of all kinds of fruit.
6. I made pools of water for myself, to irrigate groves of growing trees.
7. I bought men slaves and women servants, and I made pools of water for myself, to irrigate groves of growing trees.
8. I also gathered silver and gold to my self, and I planted trees in them, of all kinds of fruit.
9. So I was great and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem.
10. And whatever my eyes desired I did not keep from them; I did not withhold my heart from any pleasure; for my heart rejoiced in all my labor, and this was my portion of all my labor.
11. Then I looked on all the works that my hands had done, and on the labor that I had labored to do; and, behold, all is vanity and a striving after the wind; and there is no profit under the sun.
12. And I turned to behold wisdom, and madness, and folly; for what can the man do who comes after the king? Only that which has already been done.
13. Then I saw that wisdom excels folly, as far as light excels darkness.
14. The wise man’s eyes are in his head; but the fool walks in darkness; and I myself also perceived that one event happens to all of them.
15. Then I said in my heart, “As it happens to the fool, so it happens even to me; and why was I then more wise?” And I said in my heart that this also is vanity.
16. For there is no memory of the wise more than of the fool forever, since that which is now shall all be forgotten in the days to come. And how does the wise die? Even as the fool!
17. Therefore I hated life; because the work that is done under the sun is grievous to me; for all is vanity and a striving after wind.
18. Yea, I hated all my labor which I had done under the sun, because I must leave it to the man who shall be after me.
19. And who knows whether he shall be wise or a fool? Yet he shall have rule over all my labor in which I have labored, and have shown myself wise under the sun. This is also vanity.
20. And I turned to cause my heart to despair of all the labor which I had done under the sun.
21. For there is a man whose labor is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and with skill; yet to a man who has not labored in it, he shall leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil.
22. For what has man from all his labor, and from the striving of his heart, in which he has labored under the sun?
23. For all his days are sorrows, and his labor vexation; yea, so his heart does not take rest in the night. This is also vanity.
24. There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink and make his soul see good in his labor? This I also saw, that it was from the hand of God.
25. For who can eat, or who can enjoy it, more than I?
26. For God gives wisdom, and knowledge, and joy to a man who is good in His sight. But to the sinner He gives labor, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him who is good before God. This also is vanity and a striving after wind.

CHAPTER THREE

1. To everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under the heavens:
2. A time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up what is planted;
3. A time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up;
4. A time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance;
5. A time to throw away stones, and a time to gather stones together; a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from em-bracing;
6. A time to gain, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to throw away;
7. A time to tear, and a time to sew; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak;
8. A time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.
9. What profit does he have who works in that in which he labors?
10. I have seen the task which God has given to the sons of men to be exercised by it.
11. He has made everything beautiful in its time; He has also set eternity in their heart, so that no man can find out the work that God makes from the beginning to the end.
12. I know that nothing is better for them than to rejoice and to do good as long as they live.
13. And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labor, it is the gift of God.
14. I know that whatever God does, it shall be forever; nothing can be added to it, nor anything taken from it; and God does it so that men should fear before Him.
15. That which has been is now; and that which is to be has already been; and God requires an account of that which is past.
16. And again I saw under the sun the place of judgment, that wickedness was there; and in the place of righteousness, that wickedness was there.
17. I said in my heart, “God shall judge the righteous and the wicked; for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work.”
18. I said in my heart, “Concerning the matter of the sons of men, may God reveal to them, that they might see, that they themselves are but beasts.”
19. For that which happens to the sons of men also happens to beasts—even one thing happens to them. As the one dies, so dies the other; yea, they all have one breath; so that a man has no advantage over a beast; for all is vanity.
20. All go to one place; all are of the dust, and all return to dust again.
21. Who knows the spirit of man whether it goes upward, and the spirit of the beast whether it goes downward to the earth?
22. Therefore I perceive that there is nothing better that a man should do than to rejoice in his own works; for that is his portion; for who can bring him to see what shall be after him?

CHAPTER FOUR

1. So I returned, and considered all the oppressions that are done under the sun.
And behold the tears of the oppressed ones, and they had no comforter! And on the side of those who oppressed them there was power, but they had no comthor.
2. Wherefore I praised the dead who already have died, more than the living who are yet alive.
3. Yea, better than both is he who has not yet been, who has not seen the evil work that is done under the sun.
4. Again, I considered all labor, and every excellent work, that it is a rivalry between a man and his neighbor. This is also vanity and a striving after wind.
5. The fool folds his hands together, and devours his own flesh.
6. Better is a handful with quietness, than both the hands full with travail and striving after wind.
7. And I returned and saw vanity under the sun:
8. There is one alone, and there is not a second; yea, he has neither son nor brother; yet there is no end to all his la-bror; and his eyes are not satisfied with riches; neither does he say, “For whom do I labor and deprive my soul of pleasure?” This is also vanity. Yea, it is a grievous task.
9. Two are better than one, because they have a good reward for their labor.
10. For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow; but woe to him who is alone when he falls, for he does not have another to help him.
11. Again, if two lie together, then they have warmth; but how can one be warm alone?
12. And a man may prevail against him who is alone, yet two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.
13. A poor and a wise child is better than an old and foolish king, who knows not how to receive admonition any more.
14. For out of prison he comes to reign; although in his kingdom he was born poor.
15. I saw all the living who walk under the sun, that they were with the second child who shall stand up in his place.
16. There is no end of all the people, of all whom he did lead; they also who come afterward shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and a striving after wind.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. Guard your steps when you go to the house of God, and be more ready to hear than to give the sacrifice of fools. For they do not know that they are doing evil.
2. Do not be rash with your mouth, and do not let your heart be hasty to say a word before God. For God is in heaven, and you are on earth; therefore let your words be few.
3. For a dream comes through the multitude of business; and a fool’s voice is known by the multitude of words.
4. When you vow a vow to God, do not delay to pay it. For He has no pleasure in the multitude of words; and a fool’s voice is known by the multitude of business; and a fool’s voice is known by the multitude of words.
5. It is better that you should not vow, than that you should vow and not pay.
6. Do not allow your mouth to cause your flesh to sin; and do not say before the angel that it was an error. For why should God be angry at your voice and destroy the work of your hands?
7. For in the multitude of dreams and many words vanities abound; but fear God.
8. If you see the oppression of the poor, and the violent perverting of justice and righteousness in a province, do not marvel at the matter. For one official watches over another official, and there are higher officials over them.
9. Moreover, the profit of the land is for all; for even the king himself is served by the field.
10. He who loves silver shall not be satisfied with silver, and he who loves abundance shall not be satisfied with gain. This is also vanity.
11. When goods increase, those who eat them increase; then what profit is it to its owners, except to see them with their eyes?
12. The sleep of a laboring man is sweet, whether he eats little or much; but the abundance of the rich will not allow him to sleep.
13. There is a sore evil which I have seen under the sun, namely, riches kept by their owners to their own hurt.
14. But those riches perish through evil use. And he begets a son, and there is nothing in his hand.
15. As he came forth from his mother’s womb naked, he shall return to go as he came. And from his labor he may not carry anything away that may go in his hand.
16. And this also is a sore evil, that in everything, as he came, so shall he go; and what profit does he have who has labored for the wind?
17. Also all his days he eats in darkness, and he has much sorrow and wrath with his sickness.
18. Behold that which I have seen: It is good and right for one to eat and to drink, and to see good in all his labor that he labors for under the sun, and it lies heavy upon men: for he does not often consider the days of his life, because God keeps him occupied with gladness of his heart.

CHAPTER SIX

1. There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it lies heavy upon men:
2. A man to whom God has given riches, wealth, and honor, so that he lacks nothing of all that he desires for his life, yet God does not give him power to eat of it, but a stranger eats it. This is vanity, and it is an evil disease.
3. If a man beget a hundred children, and lives many years, so that the days of his years are many, but his life is not filled with good, and also that he has no burial; I say, a miscarriage is better than he.
4. For he comes in with vanity and goes out in darkness, and his name shall be covered with darkness.
5. Moreover he has not seen the sun, nor known anything. This one had more rest than the other.
6. Yea, even though he live a thousand years twice, yet he has enjoyed no good. Do not all go to one place?
7. All the labor of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled.
8. For what has the wise more than the fool? What gain has the poor who knows how to walk before the living?
9. Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire. This is also vanity and a striving after wind.
10. That which has been is named already, and it is known that he is man; and he is not able to contend with Him who is mightier than he.
11. For there are many things that increase vanity, but what advantage is that to man?
12. For who knows what is good for man in life, all the days of his vain life which he spends as a shadow? For who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sun?

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. A good name is better than precious ointment, and the day of death than the day of one’s birth.
2. It is better to go to the house of mourning than to go to the house of feasting; for that is the end of all men; and the living will lay it to his heart.
3. Sorrow is better than laughter; for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better.
4. The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning; but the heart of fools is in the house of pleasure.
5. It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise than for a man to hear the song of fools.
6. For as is the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool; this also is vanity.
7. Surely extortion deprives a wise man of reason, and a bribe corrupts the mind.
8. Better is the end of a thing than the beginning of it; the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.
9. Do not be hasty in your spirit to be angry; for anger rests in the bosom of fools.
10. Do not say, “Why was it that the former days were better than these?” For you do not ask wisely in regard to this.
11. Wisdom is good with an inheritance; Yea, a profit to those who see the sun.
12. For wisdom is a defense, even as money is a defense; but the excellency of knowledge is that wisdom which preserves the life of those who have it.
13. Consider the work of God; for who can make straight what He has made crooked?
14. In the day of prosperity be joyful, but in the day of adversity consider that God has made the one as well as the other, to the end that man should find nothing that will come after him.
15. All things I have seen in the days of my vanity; there is a just man who perishes in his righteousness, and there is a wicked one who prolongs life in his wickedness.
16. Do not be righteous over much, neither make yourself overly wise; why should you destroy yourself?
17. Do not be overly wicked, and do not be a fool; why should you die before your time?
18. It is good that you should take hold of this; yea, also from this do not withdraw your hand; for he who fears God shall come forth from them all.
19. Wisdom makes the wise stronger than ten mighty men who are in the city.
20. For there is not a righteous man on earth who does good and does not sin.
21. Also do not pay attention to every word that is spoken; lest you hear your servant curse you.
22. For your own heart knows that you yourself have also cursed others many times.
23. All this I have proved by wisdom; I said, “I will be wise;” but it was far from me.
24. That which is far off and exceedingly deep, who can find it out?
25. I set my heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and the reason of things, and to know the wickedness of folly, even of foolishness and madness;
26. And what I find more bitter than death is the woman whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands are like fetters. Whoever pleases God shall escape from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.
27. “Behold, this I have found,” says the
8. "counting one by one, to find out the sun,
28. Which my soul still sought, but I do not find: one man among a thousand I have found, but a woman among all these I have not found.
29. Lo, this only I have found, that God has made man to be upright, but they have sought out many devisings."

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. Who is as the wise? And who knows the interpretation of a matter? A man's wisdom makes his face to shine, and the boldness of his face shall be changed.
2. I counsel you, "Keep the king's word, and that in regard of the oath of God.
3. Do not be hasty to leave his presence. Do not take a stand in an evil thing, for he does whatever pleases him."
4. Because the word of a king is that which has power, who may say to him, "What are you doing?"
5. Whoever keeps the commandment shall feel no evil thing; and a wise man's heart discerns both time and judgment.
6. Because to every purpose there is time and judgment, therefore the misery of man is great.
7. For he does not know what shall be; for who can tell him when it shall be?
8. There is no man who has power over the wind to restrain the wind; nor power over the day of death; and there is no discharge from war; nor shall wickedness deliver those who are given to it.
9. All this I have seen, and I gave my heart to every work that is done under the sun. There is a time in which one man rules over another to his own hurt.
10. And so I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the holy place. And they were forgotten in the city where they had so done. This is also vanity.
11. Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil.
12. Though a sinner does evil a hundred times, and his days are prolonged, yet surely I know that it shall be well with those who fear God, who fear before Him.
13. But it shall not be well with the wicked, nor shall he prolong his days, which are as a shadow; because he does not fear before God.
14. There is a vanity which is done upon the earth: There are just men to whom it happens according to the work of the wicked; again, there are wicked ones to whom it happens according to the work of the righteous. I said that this also is vanity.
15. Then I commended pleasure, because a man has no better thing under the sun than to eat and to drink and to be merry; for that shall go with him in his labor through the days of his life which God gives him under the sun.
16. When I applied my heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth, for neither day nor night do men give sleep to their eyes,
17. Then I looked at all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun; because though a man labors to seek it out, yet he shall not find it. Yea, further, though a wise man thinks to know it, yet he shall not be able to find it.

CHAPTER NINE

1. For all this I took to heart, even to make all this clear, that the righteous and the wise and their works are in the hand of God. No man knows either love or hatred by all that is before them.
2. All things come alike to all; there is one event that happens to the righteous and to the wicked; to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean; to him who sacrifices, and to him who does not sacrifice. As is the good, so is the sinner. He who swears is as he who fears an oath.
3. This is an evil among all things that are done under the sun, that there is one event that happens to all. Yea, also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.
4. For whoever is among the living, there is hope; for a living dog is better than a dead lion.
5. For the living know that they shall die; but the dead do not know anything, nor do they have any more a reward; for their memory is forgotten.
6. Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy, is long ago perished; nor do they any longer have a portion forever in all that is done under the sun.

7. Go your way, eat your bread with joy, and drink your wine with a merry heart; for God now accepts your works.

8. Let your garments be always white; and let your head lack no ointment.

9. Live joyfully with the wife whom you love all the days of the life of your vanity, which He has given you under the sun, all the days of your vanity. For that is your portion in this life, and in your labor which you labor under the sun.

10. Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might; for there is no work, nor plan, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave where you go.

11. I returned and saw under the sun that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favor to men of skill; but time and chance happens to them all.

12. For man also does not know his time; and as the birds that are taken in an evil net, and as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, so are the sons of men snared in them.

13. This wisdom I have seen also under the sun, that it is an evil I have seen under the sun, like an error which comes from a despot’s presence;

14. The words of a wise man’s mouth are gracious; but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself.

15. Yea also, when a fool walks along the way his wisdom fails; and he says to all that he is a fool.

16. Woe to you, O land, when your king is a child and your princes eat in the morning.

17. Blessed are you, O land, when your king is the son of nobles, and your leaders eat at the set time, for strength, and not for drunkenness!

18. A feast is made for laughter, and wine makes merry; but money answers all things.

19. A man’s heart is at his right hand; but a fool’s heart at his left.

20. Do not curse a king, no, not even in your thought; and do not curse the rich in your bedroom; for a bird of the air shall carry the voice, and that which has wings shall tell the matter.
CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. Cast your bread upon the waters; for you shall find it after many days.
2. Give a share to seven, and also to eight; for you know not what evil shall be upon the earth.
3. If the clouds are full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth; and if the tree falls toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falls, there it shall be.
4. He who watches the wind shall not sow; and he who regards the clouds shall not reap.
5. As you do not know what is the way of the spirit, or how the bones grow in the pregnant woman’s womb; even so you do not know the works of God Who makes all.
6. In the morning sow your seed, and in the evening do not withhold your hand; for you do not know what shall be blessed, either this or that, or whether they both shall be fruitful in the same way.
7. And the light is sweet, and it is a pleasant thing for the eyes to behold the sun;
8. But if a man lives many years, and rejoices in them all; yet let him remember the days of darkness, for they shall be many. All that comes is vanity.
9. Rejoice, in your youth, O young man; and let your heart cheer you in the days of your youth, and walk in the ways of your heart, and in the sight of your eyes; but know that for all these things God will bring you into judgment.
10. Therefore remove vexation from your heart, and put away evil from your flesh; for youth and vigor are vanity.

CHAPTER TWELVE

1. Remember now your Creator in the days of your youth, before the evil days come, and the years of old age draw near, when you shall say, “I have no pleasure in them.”
CHAPTER ONE

1. Now it came to pass in the days of Ahasuerus (this is the Ahasuerus who reigned from India even to Ethiopia, over a hundred and twenty-seven provinces),
2. In those days, when King Ahasuerus sat upon the throne of his kingdom in Shushan the palace,
3. In the third year of his reign, he made a feast for all his princes and his servants; the army of Persia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces, were before him,
4. When he showed the riches of his glorious kingdom and the splendor of his excellent majesty many days—a hundred and eighty days.
5. And when these days had expired, the king made a feast for all the people who were present in Shushan the palace, both great and small, for seven days in the court of the garden of the king's palace.
6. White, green, and blue hangings were fastened with cords of fine linen and purple on silver rods and pillars of marble.
The couches were of gold and silver, on a pavement of red and white, and pearl, and black marble.
7. And they served them drinks in vessels of gold, the vessels being different from one another, and royal wine in abundance, according to the hand of the king.
8. And the drinking was according to the law, no one was compelled, for so the king had commanded every chief of his house that they should do according to every man's pleasure.
9. Also Vashti the queen made a feast for the women in the royal house which belonged to King Ahasuerus.
10. On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seven officers who served in the presence of Ahasuerus the king,
11. To bring Vashti the queen before the king with the royal crown, in order to show the people and the princes her beauty, for she was lovely to look upon.
12. But Queen Vashti refused to come at the king's command by his officers. And the king was very angry, and his anger burned within him.
13. And the king said to the wise men who knew the times (for so was the king's manner toward all who knew law and judgment;
14. And next to him were Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia and Media who saw the king's face, who sat first in the kingdom):
15. “What shall we do with Queen Vashti according to law, because she has not done the command of the King Ahasuerus by the officers?”
16. And Memucan answered before the king and princes, “Vashti the queen has not only done wrong to the king, but also to all the princes, and to all the people who are in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus.
17. For the deed of the queen shall go out to all women, so that their husbands shall be despised in their eyes, and it shall be reported that King Ahasuerus commanded to bring Vashti the queen before him, but she did not come.
18. And this day the princesses of Persia and Media shall say the same to all the king's princes who have heard of the deed of the queen. And there will be too much contempt and strife.
19. If it please the king, let there be a royal command from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, so that it may not be changed, that Vashti shall come no more before King Ahasuerus. And let the king give her royal state to another who is better than she is.
20. And when the king's decree which he shall make shall be published throughout all his empire (for it is great), all the wives shall give their husbands honor, both the great and small.”
21. And the saying pleased the king and the princes. And the king did according to the word of Memucan.
22. For he sent letters into all the king's provinces, into every province according to the writing of it, and to every people in their language, so that every man should bear rule in his own house, and it was published according to the language of every people.
CHAPTER TWO

1. After these things, when the wrath of King Ahasuerus had calmed down, he remembered Vashti and what she had done, and what was decreed against her.

2. And the king’s servants who served him said, “Let beautiful young virgins be sought for the king.

3. And let the king choose officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, so that they may gather together all the beautiful young virgins to Shushan the palace, to the house of the women, into the custody of Hegai the king’s officer, keeper of the women. And let their ointments be given.

4. And let the young woman who pleases the king be queen instead of Vashti.” And the thing pleased the king, and he did so.

5. Now in Shushan the palace there was a certain Jew whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjamite,

6. Who had been carried away from Jerusalem with the captivity which had been carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had carried away.

7. And he brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle’s daughter. For she had neither father nor mother, and the young woman was fair and beautiful, whom Mordecai, when her father and mother were dead, took for his own daughter.

8. And it came to pass when the king’s command and his order was heard, and when many young women had been gathered to Shushan the palace, into the hand of Hegai the king’s officer, Esther was also brought to the king’s house, into the custody of Hegai, keeper of the women.

9. And the young woman pleased him, and she received kindness from him. And he quickly gave to her beauty preparations and her portion—and seven young maidens who were fit to be given her, out of the king’s house. And he moved her and her servant women to the best place in the house of the women.

10. Esther had not revealed her people nor her kindred, for Mordecai had commanded her that she should not show it.

11. And Mordecai walked every day in front of the court of the women’s house in order to know how Esther did and what was to become of her.

12. Each young woman’s turn came to go in to King Ahasuerus, after she had been purified twelve months, according to the law of the women (for so the days of their anointing were done, six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odors, and with the perfumes of the women).

13. And in this way each young woman came to the king. Whatever she desired was given her to take with her out of the house of the women to the king’s house.

14. She went in the evening, and on the next day she returned to the second house of the women, into the hand of Shaashgaz, the king’s officer who kept the concubines. She did not come in to the king’s presence any more, unless the king delighted in her, and she was called by name.

15. And when Esther’s turn, the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai who had taken her for his daughter, had come to go in to the king, she asked nothing but what was chosen by Hegai the king’s officer, the keeper of the women. And Esther had favor in the sight of all who looked upon her.

16. So Esther was taken to King Ahasuerus into his royal house in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.

17. And the king loved Esther above all the women, and she rose in grace and favor in his sight more than all the virgins. And he set the royal crown upon her head, and made her queen instead of Vashti.

18. And the king made a great feast to all his princes and his servants, even Esther’s feast. And he ordered a rest day for the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the state of the king.

19. And when the virgins were gathered the second time, then Mordecai sat in the king’s gate.

20. Esther had not yet revealed her kindred nor her people, as Mordecai had commanded her. For Esther obeyed the command of Mordecai as she did when she was brought up by him.

21. In those days, while Mordecai sat in the king’s gate, two of the king’s officers, Bigthan and Teresh, of those who guarded the door, became angry and sought to lay hands on King Ahasuerus.
22. And the thing was known to Mordekai, who told Esther the queen. And Esther told the king about it in Mordekai’s name.

23. And when the matter was searched into, it was found out, and the two of them were hanged on a tree. And it was written in the book of the chronicles before the king.

CHAPTER THREE

1. After these things King Ahasuerus promoted Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and set his seat above all the princes who were with him.

2. And all the king’s servants in the king’s gate knelt down and paid honor to Haman, for the king had so commanded concerning him. But Mordecai did not bow down nor prostrate himself before him.

3. And the king’s servants in the king’s gate said to Mordecai, “Why do you transgress the king’s command?”

4. Now it came to pass when they spoke daily to him, and he did not hearken to them, they told Haman, to see if Mordecai’s words would stand. For he had told them that he was a Jew.

5. And when Haman saw that Mordecai did not kneel down nor pay honor to him, then Haman was full of wrath.

6. But it seemed contemptible to lay hands only on Mordecai, for they had revealed to him the people of Mordecai. So Haman sought to destroy all the Jews throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus—the people of Mordecai.

7. In the first month, that is, the month Nisan, in the twelfth year of King Ahasuerus, they cast Pur, that is the lot, before Haman, to see if Mordecai’s words would stand. For he had told them that he was a Jew.

8. And when Haman saw that Mordecai did not kneel down nor pay honor to him, then Haman was full of wrath.

9. And Haman said to King Ahasuerus, “There is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the people, in all the provinces of your kingdom. And their laws are different from those of all other people, neither do they keep the king’s laws. Therefore it is not in the king’s interest to allow them to live.

10. If it please the king, let it be written that they may be destroyed. And I will pay ten thousand talents of silver into the hands of those who have charge of the business, to bring it into the king’s treasuries.”

11. And the king said to Haman, “The silver is given to you, the people also, to do with them as seems good to you.”

12. Then the king’s scribes were called on the thirteenth day of the first month, and there was written according to all that Haman had commanded to the king’s lieutenants, and to the governors who were over every province, and to the rulers of every people of every province, according to the writing of it, and to every people according to their language. It was written in the name of King Ahasuerus and sealed with the king’s ring.

13. And the letters went out, being hurried by the king’s command, and the decree was given in Shushan the palace. And the king and Haman sat down to drink, but the city of Shushan was perplexed.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. When Mordecai understood all that was done, Mordecai tore his clothes and put on sackcloth with ashes and went out into the middle of the city, and cried with a loud and bitter cry.

2. And he even came before the king’s gate—but none might enter into the king’s gate clothed with sackcloth.

3. And in every province, wherever the king’s command and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and fasting, and weeping and wailing. And many lay in sackcloth and ashes.

4. And Esther’s servant women and her officers came and told her. And the queen was exceedingly grieved, and she sent clothing to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him. But he did not accept it.

5. And Esther called for Hathach, one of the king’s officers whom he had appointed to attend to her, and gave him a command to go to Mordecai to learn what this matter was and why it was.

6. And Hathach went out to Mordecai, to the street of the city in front of the king’s gate.

7. And Mordecai told him of all that had happened to him, and of the sum of the money which Haman had promised to pay to the king’s treasuries for the Jews in order to destroy them.

8. Also he gave him a copy of the writing of the decree which was given at Shushan to destroy them, to show it to Esther and to declare it to her, and to command her that she should go in to the king to make supplication to him, and to seek help for her people.

9. And Hathach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai.

10. Again Esther spoke to Hathach, and gave him a message for Mordecai:

11. “The king’s servants and the people of the king’s provinces know that whoever, whether man or woman, shall come to the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law of his: execution—except such to whom the king shall hold out the golden scepter so that he may live. But I have not been called to come in to the king these past thirty days.”

12. And they told Mordecai Esther’s words.

13. And Mordecai commanded them to answer Esther, “Do not think within yourself that you shall escape in the king’s house more than all the Jews.

14. For even if you are completely silent at this time, relief and deliverance shall arise to the Jews from another place, but you and your father’s house shall be destroyed. And who knows whether you have come to such a royal position for a time such as this?”

15. And Esther told them to return to Mordecai this answer:

16. “Go, gather together all the Jews who are present in Shushan, and fast for me, and do not eat nor drink three days, night or day. My maidservants and I will also fast in the same way. And so I will go in to the king, which is not according to the law. And if I perish, I perish.”

17. And Mordecai went his way and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. Now it came to pass on the third day, Esther put on royal clothing, and stood in the inner court of the king’s palace, across from the king’s hall. And the king sat upon his royal throne in the royal hall, facing the entrance of the hall.

2. And it was so that when the king saw Esther the queen standing in the court, she received favor in his sight. And the king held out to Esther the golden scepter in his hand. And Esther drew near and touched the top of the scepter.

3. And the king said to her, “What do you desire, Queen Esther? And what is your wish? It shall be given to you even to half of the kingdom.”

4. And Esther answered, “If it is good to the king, let the king and Haman come today to the banquet which I have prepared for him.”

5. And the king said, “Cause Haman to hurry so that he may do as Esther has said.” And the king and Haman came to the banquet which Esther had prepared.

6. And the king said to Esther at the banquet of wine, “What is your petition, that it shall be granted to you? And what is your request? It shall be performed even to half of the kingdom.”

7. And Esther answered and said, “As to my petition and my request, 8. If I have found favor in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition and to perform my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet which I shall prepare for them, and I will do tomorrow as the king has said.”

9. And Haman went forth that day joyful and with a glad heart. But when Haman saw Mordecai in the king’s gate, that he did not stand up nor move for him, he was full of fury against Mordecai.

10. But Haman refrained himself. And when he came home, he sent and called for his friends and Zeresh his wife.

11. And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and his many children, and all things to which the king had promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and servants of the king.

12. And Haman said, “Yea, Esther the queen let no other man but me come in with the king to the banquet that she had prepared. And also tomorrow I am invited to her banquet, with the king.

13. Yet all this fails to satisfy me as long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king’s gate.”

14. And Zeresh his wife and all his friends said to him, “Make a gallows, fifty cubits high, and tomorrow speak to the king that Mordecai may be hanged on it. Then go in merrily with the king to the banquet.” And the thing pleased Haman, and he caused the wooden gallows to be made.

CHAPTER SIX

1. On that very night the king could not sleep, and he commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles. And they were read before the king.

2. And it was found written that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king’s officers, the guards of the door who sought to lay hands on King Ahasuerus.

3. And the king said, “What honor and dignity has been done to Mordecai for this?” And the king’s servants who served him said, “Nothing has been done for him.”

4. And the king said, “Who is in the court?” And Haman had come into the outer court of the king’s palace to speak to the king to hang Mordecai on the gallows which he had prepared for him.

5. And the king’s servants said to him, “Behold, Haman stands in the court.” And the king said, “Let him come in.”

6. So Haman came in. And the king said to him, “What shall be done to the man whom the king delights to honor?” And Haman thought in his heart, “To whom would the king delight to do honor more than to myself?”

7. And Haman answered the king, “For the man whom the king delights to honor,

8. Let the royal clothing be brought, which the king wears, and the horse that the king rides upon, and the royal crown which is set upon his head.

9. And let this clothing and horse be delivered into the hand of one of the king’s most noble princes so that they may dress the man whom the king delights to honor, and bring him on horseback through the streets of the city, and proclaim before him, ‘This is what shall be done to the man whom the king delights to honor.’ ”

10. And the king said to Haman, “Make haste! Take the clothing and the horse, as you have said, and do so even to Mordecai the Jew, who sits at the king’s gate. Do not fail to do any of all the things you have spoken.”

11. And Haman took the clothing and the horse and dressed Mordecai, and brought him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him, “This is what shall be done to the man whom the king delights to honor!”

12. And Mordecai returned to the king’s gate. But Haman hurried to his house mourning, and having his head covered.

13. And Haman told Zeresh his wife and all his friends every thing that had happened to him. Then his wise men and Zeresh his wife said to him, “If Mordecai is of the seed of the Jews, before whom you have begun to fall, you shall not prevail against him but shall surely fall before him.”

14. And while they were still talking with him, the king’s officers came. And they hurried to bring Haman to the banquet which Esther had prepared.

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. So the king and Haman came to the banquet of Esther the queen.

2. And the king said again to Esther on the second day of the banquet of wine, “What is your petition, Queen Esther, that it may be granted you? And what is your request? And it shall be performed, even to the half of the kingdom.”

3. And Esther the queen answered and said, “If I have found favor in your sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request.

4. For we are sold, my people and I, to be destroyed, to be killed, and to perish. But if we had been sold for slave men and slave women, I would have held my tongue, because no such distress would justify disturbing the king.”
5. And King Ahasuerus answered and said to Esther the queen, “Who is he, and where is the one who dares presume in his heart to do so?”
6. And Esther said, “The man who is our adversary and enemy is this wicked Haman.” And Haman was terrified before the king and the queen.
7. And the king, arising from the banquet of wine, went into the palace garden. But Haman stood up to beg for his life from Esther the queen, for he saw that evil was determined against him by the king.
8. And the king returned out of the palace garden into the place of the banquet of wine. And Haman had fallen on the couch on which Esther was. And the king said, “Will he also force the queen before me in the house?” As the word went out of the king’s mouth, they covered Haman’s face.
9. And Harbonah, one of the officers, said before the king, “Also look! The gallows fifty cubits high which Haman made for Mordecai, who had spoken good for the king, stands at the house of Haman.” Then the king said, “Hang him on it!”
10. And they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. And the king’s wrath was assuaged.

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. On that day King Ahasuerus gave the house of Haman, the Jews’ enemy, to Esther the queen. And Mordecai came before the king, for Esther had told what he was to her.
2. And the king took off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it to Mordecai. And Esther set Mordecai over the house of Haman.
3. And Esther spoke yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and begged him with tears to put away the evil of Haman the Agagite, and his plot which he had devised against the Jews.
4. Then the king held out the golden scepter toward Esther. And Esther arose and stood before the king,
5. And said, “If it please the king, and if I have found favor in his sight, and if the thing seems right before the king, and if I am pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to reverse the letters (devised by Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite) which he wrote to destroy the Jews in all the king’s provinces.
6. For how can I bear to see the evil that shall come upon my people? Or how can I endure to see the slaughter of my kindred?”
7. And King Ahasuerus said to Esther the queen and to Mordecai the Jew, “Behold, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and they have hanged him on the gallows, because he laid his hand upon the Jews.
8. And you write for the Jews as it pleases you, in the king’s name, and seal it with the king’s ring. For the writing which is written in the king’s name and sealed with the king’s ring, no man may revoke.”
9. Then the king’s scribes were called at that time in the third month, the month Sivan, on the twenty-third day of it. And it was written according to all that Mordecai commanded to the Jews, and to the lieutenants and the governors and rulers of the provinces from India to Ethiopia, a hundred and twenty-seven provinces, to every province according to the writing of it, and to every people in their language, and to the Jews according to their writing and according to their language.
10. And he wrote in the name of King Ahasuerus and sealed it with the king’s ring. Then he sent letters by riders on horseback, riders on royal steeds, stallions, even sons of royal mares.
11. In these letters the king granted the Jews in every city to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, to destroy, to kill and to cause to perish all the power of the people and province who desired to attack them, little ones and women, and to plunder their property.
12. On one day in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar.
13. A copy of the writing for a command to be given in every province was announced to all people, even that the Jews should be ready against that day to avenge themselves on their enemies.
14. The couriers, riding on stallions and royal steeds, went out, being hurried and pressed on by the king’s command. And the order was given at Shushan the palace.

15. And Mordecai went out from the presence of the king in royal clothing of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple. And the city of Shushan rejoiced and was glad.

16. The Jews had light and gladness and joy and honor.

17. And in every province, and in every city where the king’s command and his order came, the Jews had joy and gladness, a feast and a good day. And many of the people of the land became Jews, for the fear of the Jews fell upon them.

CHAPTER NINE

1. And in the twelfth month, the month Adar, on the thirteenth day of the same, when the king’s command and his order came to be executed, in the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have power over them, it was turned to be the opposite, so that the Jews had rule over the ones who hated them.

2. The Jews gathered themselves in their cities throughout all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, in order to lay hands on any who sought their harm. And no man could withstand them, for the fear of them fell upon all people.

3. And all the rulers of the provinces, and the lieutenants and the governors and officers of the king helped the Jews, because the fear of Mordecai had fallen upon them.

4. For Mordecai was great in the house of the king, and his fame went throughout all the provinces. For this man Mordecai grew more and more powerful.

5. And the Jews struck all their enemies with the sword, and slaughter, and destruction; and did as they pleased to those who hated them.

6. And in Shushan the palace the Jews killed and destroyed five hundred men.

7. And also Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha,

8. And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9. And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridaai, and Vajezatha

10. Were killed—the ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews. But they did not lay their hands on the spoil.

11. On that day the number of those who were killed in Shushan the palace was brought before the king.

12. And the king said to Esther the queen, “The Jews have killed and destroyed five hundred men in Shushan the palace, and the ten sons of Haman. What have they done in the rest of the king’s provinces? And what is your petition, that it may be granted you? Or what further request do you have? And it shall be done.”

13. Then Esther said, “If it please the king, let it be granted to the Jews in Shushan to do tomorrow also according to this day’s decree, and let Haman’s ten sons be hanged on the gallows.”

14. And the king commanded it to be done. And the order was given at Shushan, and they hanged Haman’s ten sons.

15. For the Jews in Shushan gathered themselves on the fourteenth day also of the month Adar, and killed three hundred men at Shushan. But they did not lay their hands on the spoil.

16. But the rest of the Jews in the king’s provinces gathered themselves and stood for their lives, and had rest from their enemies, and killed seventy-five thousand of their foes. But they did not lay their hands on the spoil.

17. And on the thirteenth day of the month Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the same, they rested and made it a day of feasting and gladness.

18. But the Jews at Shushan gathered on the thirteenth and on the fourteenth. And on the fifteenth day of the same month, they rested and made it a day of feasting and gladness.

19. Therefore the Jews of the villages, who lived in the unwalled towns, made the fourteenth day of the month Adar a day of gladness and feasting, and a good day, and a day of sending portions to one another.

20. And Mordecai wrote these things, and sent letters to all the Jews in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, near and far,

21. To establish among them that they should keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, yearly,
Esther 9 - 10

22. As the days in which the Jews rested from their enemies, and the month which was turned to them from sorrow to joy, and from mourning into a good day, that they should make them days of feasting and joy, and of sending portions to one another, and gifts to the poor.
23. And the Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written to them,
24. Because Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had plotted against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast Pur, the lot, to finish them and to destroy them.
25. But when Esther came before the king, he commanded by letters that his wicked plot which he had devised against the Jews should return upon his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows.
26. So they called these days Purim, after the name of Pur. Therefore, for all the words of this letter, and which they had seen concerning this matter, and which had happened to them,
27. The Jews ordained, and took upon themselves and upon their seed, and upon all such as joined themselves to them, so as it should not fail, that they would keep these two days according to their writing, and according to their appointed time every year;
28. And that these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city and these days of Purim should not fail from among the Jews, nor the memorial of them perish from their seed.
29. And Esther the queen, the daughter of Abihail, with Mordecai the Jew, wrote with all authority to confirm this second letter of Purim.
30. And he sent the letters to all the Jews, to the hundred and twenty-seven provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus, with words of peace and truth,
31. In order to confirm these days of Purim in their set times, according as Mordecai the Jew and Esther the queen had ordered them, and as they had decreed for themselves and for their seed in the matters of the fastings and of their cry.
32. And the order of Esther confirmed these matters of Purim. And it was written in the book.

CHAPTER TEN

1. And King Ahasuerus laid a tax on the land and on the isles of the sea.
2. And all the acts of his power and of his might, and the declaration of the greatness of Mordecai, with which the king made him great, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia?
3. For Mordecai the Jew was second to King Ahasuerus and great among the Jews, and pleasing to the multitude of his brethren, seeking the welfare of his people and speaking peace to all his seed.
CHAPTER ONE

1. In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and besieged it.
2. And the LORD gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he carried into the land of Shinar to the house of his god. And he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god.
3. And the king spoke to Ashpenaz, the master of his officers, that he should bring some of the children of Israel, and of the king’s seed, and of the nobles;
4. Young men in whom was no blemish, but who were handsome and skillful in all wisdom; and who had knowledge and understanding, even those who were able to stand in the king’s palace; and that he was to teach them the writing and the language of the Chaldeans.
5. And the king appointed for them a daily portion of the king’s food, and of the wine which he drank, that they might be educated three years, so that at the end of that time they might stand before the king.
6. And among them were four of the sons of Judah: Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah,
7. To whom the chief of the officers gave new names. For he called Daniel, Belteshazzar; and Hananiah, Shadrach; and Mishael, Meshach; and Azariah, Abednego.
8. But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king’s food, nor with the wine which he drank. Therefore he asked permission of the chief of the officers that he might not defile himself.
9. And God had granted Daniel favor and compassion in the eyes of the chief of the officers.
10. And the chief of the officers said to Daniel, “I fear my lord the king, who has chosen your food and your drink. For why should he see your faces worse looking than the youths who are of your own age? Then you would make me endanger my head with the king.”
11. And Daniel said to Melzar the steward, whom the chief of the officers had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, in Aramaic, “O king, live forever. Tell your servants the dream, and we will reveal the meaning.”

5. The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, “The command from me is certain. If you will not make known to me the dream, with its meaning, you will be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill. But if you make known the dream and its meaning, you shall receive gifts and a present and great honor from me. Therefore reveal to me the dream and its interpretation.”

7. They answered again and said, “Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will reveal its interpretation.”

8. The king answered and said, “For I know that you surely want to gain time, because you see that the command from me is certain. But if you will not make the dream known to me, there is only one penalty for you, for together you have agreed to speak lying and deceiving words before me until the time has changed. Therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that you can reveal to me its interpretation.”

9. The Chaldeans answered before the king and said, “There is not a man on the earth who can reveal the king’s matter because no great and mighty king has ever asked such a thing from any magician, or astrologer or Chaldean.”

11. And it is an impossible thing that the king asks, and there is no other man who can reveal it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.”

12. For this cause the king became so angry and furious that he commanded all the wise men of Babylon to be destroyed. And the decree went out that the wise men should be killed. And they sought Daniel and his fellows to kill them as well.

14. Then Daniel answered with prudence and discretion to Arioch, the chief of the king’s executioners, who had gone forth to kill the wise men of Babylon.

15. He answered and said to Arioch, the king’s captain, “Why is the decree so hasty from the king?” Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.

16. Then Daniel went in and asked of the king that he would give him time, and that he would make known the meaning to the king.

17. Then Daniel went to his house and made the matter known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions.

18. That they might pray for the mercies of God in heaven concerning this secret, that Daniel and his companions should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

19. Then the secret was revealed to Daniel in a night vision. And Daniel blessed the God of heaven.

20. Daniel answered and said, “Blessed be the name of God forever and ever, for wisdom and might are His.

21. And He changes the times and the seasons; He removes kings and sets up kings. He gives wisdom to the wise and knowledge to those who have understanding.

22. He reveals the deep and secret things; He knows what is in the darkness, and the light dwells with Him.

23. I thank You, and praise You, O God of my fathers, Who has given me wisdom and might, and have now made known to me what we desired of You, for You have made known to us the king’s matter.”

24. Therefore Daniel went in to Arioch, whom the king had chosen to destroy the wise men of Babylon. He went and said this to him: “Do not destroy the wise men of Babylon. Bring me in before the king, and I will declare the interpretation to the king.”

25. Then Arioch quickly brought Daniel in before the king, and said this to him, “I have found a man of the captives of Judah who will make the interpretation known to the king.”

26. The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, “Are you able to make known to me the dream which I have seen and its interpretation?”

27. Daniel answered before the king and said, “The secret which the king has demanded cannot be shown to the king by the wise men, the enchanters, the astrologers or the magicians.

28. But there is a God in heaven Who reveals secrets and makes known to King Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Your dream and the visions of your head upon your bed are these:

29. As for you, O king, while upon your bed your thoughts came to you of what should come to pass hereafter. And He who reveals secrets makes known to you what shall come to pass.

30. But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living man, but so that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that you may know the thoughts of your heart.

31. You, O king, looked—and behold, a great image! That great image, whose brightness was surpassing, stood before you. And its form was awesome.

32. This image’s head was of fine gold; his breast and his arms were of silver; his belly and his thighs were of bronze;

33. His legs were of iron; his feet were part of iron and part of clay.

34. You watched until a stone was cut out without hands that struck the image upon its feet which were of iron and clay, and broke them in pieces.

35. Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold were broken in pieces together. And they became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors. And the wind carried them away, so that not a trace of them was found. And the stone that struck the image became a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

36. This is the dream. And we will tell the interpretation before the king.

37. You, O king, are a king of kings, for the God of heaven has given you a kingdom, power, and strength, and glory.

38. And wherever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field, and the birds of the heaven, He has given them into your hand, and has made you ruler over them all. You are this head of gold.

39. And after you shall arise another kingdom inferior to you, and another third kingdom of bronze, which shall rule over all the earth.

40. And the fourth kingdom shall be as strong as iron, forasmuch as iron breaks in pieces and beats down all things, and as the iron that crushes all these, shall it break in pieces and crush.

41. And whereas you saw the feet and toes, part of potters’ clay and part of iron, the kingdom shall be divided. But there shall be in it the strength of the iron, because you saw the iron mixed with miry clay.

42. And as the toes of the feet were part of iron and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong and partly broken.

43. And whereas you saw iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mix themselves with the seed of men. But they shall not cling to one another, even as iron does not combine with clay.

44. Now in the days of these kings, the God of heaven shall set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed. And the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever.

45. Because you saw that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold, the great God has made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter. And the dream is certain, and its interpretation is sure.”

46. Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face and worshiped Daniel, and he commanded to offer an offering and sweet incense to him.

47. The king answered Daniel and said, “It is true that your God is the God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, since you could reveal this secret.”

48. Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over all the province of Babylon, and chief of the prefects over all the wise men of Babylon.

49. And Daniel asked the king, and he appointed Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed -Nego over the affairs of the province of Babylon. But Daniel sat within the gate of the king.

CHAPTER THREE

1. Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was sixty cubits and its breadth six cubits. He set it up in the plain of Dura in the province of Babylon.

2. Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the satraps, the prefects, the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the judges, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

3. Then were gathered the satraps, the prefects, the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the judges, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces, to the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. And they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4. Then a herald cried aloud, “To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and languages,

5. At the time you hear the sound of the horn, the pipe, zither, the lyre, harp, bagpipe, and all kinds of music, you shall fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king has set up.

6. And whoever does not fall down and worship shall in the same hour be cast into the middle of a burning fiery furnace."

7. Therefore at that time, when all the people heard the sound of the horn, the pipe, zither, the lyre, harp, and all kinds of music, fell down and worshiped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

8. Then at that time certain Chaldeans came near and accused the Jews.

9. They spoke and said to King Nebuchadnezzar, “O king, live forever.

10. You, O king, have made a decree that every man who shall hear the sound of the horn, the pipe, zither, the lyre, harp, and the bagpipe, and all kinds of music shall fall down and worship the golden image.

11. And whoever does not fall down and worship, he should be thrown into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

12. There are certain Jews, whom you have set over the business of the province of Babylon; Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego. These men, O king, do not heed you. They do not serve your gods nor worship the golden image which you have set up.”

13. Then Nebuchadnezzar in rage and fury commanded them to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego. Then they brought these men before the king.

14. Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said to them, “Is it true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego that you do not serve my gods nor worship the golden image which I have set up?

15. Now if you are ready, at the time you hear the sound of the horn, the pipe, zither, the lyre, harp, and bagpipe, and all kinds of music fall down and worship the image which I have made. But if you do not worship immediately, you shall be thrown into the middle of a burning fiery furnace. And who is that god who shall deliver you out of my hand?”

16. Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego answered and said to the king, “O Nebuchadnezzar, we have no need to answer a word to you on this matter.

17. If that is the case, our God Whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and He will deliver us out of your hand, O king.

18. But if not, let it be known to you, O king, that we will not serve your gods nor worship the golden image which you have set up.”

19. Then Nebuchadnezzar was filled with wrath, and the expression of his face was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego. He spoke and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was usually heated.

20. And he commanded mighty men in his army to tie up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, and to throw them into the burning fiery furnace.

21. Then these men were tied up in their cloaks, their tunics, and their robes, and their other clothes, and were thrown into the middle of the burning fiery furnace.

22. Then because the king’s commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceedingly hot, the flame of the fire killed those men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego to throw them in.

23. And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24. Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was amazed. And he rose up in haste and spoke and said to his advisers, “Did we not throw three men bound into the midst of the fire?” They answered and said to the king, “True, O king.”

25. He answered and said, “Behold! I see four men loose, walking in the middle of the fire, and there is no harm done to them. And the form of the fourth is like a son of the gods.”

26. Then Nebuchadnezzar came near the opening of the burning fiery furnace. He answered and said, “Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, servants of the Most High God, come out and come here.” Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego came out of the middle of the fire.

27. And the satraps, the prefects, the governors, and the king’s advisers gathered together and saw these men on whose bodies the fire had no power—and the hair of their head was not singed, nor were their cloaks changed, nor had the smell of fire clung to them.

28. Nebuchadnezzar spoke and said, “Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego Who has sent His angel and has delivered His servants who trusted in Him, and has changed the king’s words, and has given back their bodies from the flame, so that they might not serve nor worship any god except their own God.

29. And a decree is given by me, that every people, nation, and language who speak anything amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego shall be cut in pieces, and his house shall be made a dunghill because there is no other God Who can deliver in this way.”

30. Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego in the province of Babylon.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. Nebuchadnezzar the king, to all people, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth: “Peace be multiplied to you.

2. It seemed good to me to declare the signs and wonders that the Most High God has done for me.

3. How great are His signs! And how mighty are His wonders! His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and His dominion is from generation to generation.”

4. I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at rest in my house and flourishing in my palace.

5. I saw a dream and it terrified me, and my thoughts upon my bed and the visions of my head alarmed me.

6. Therefore I made a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known to me the meaning of the dream.

7. Then the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers came in. And I told them the dream, but they could not make its interpretation known to me.

8. But at last Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods. And I told the dream before him, saying,

9. “O Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in you, and no secret causes you trouble, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen and its meaning.

10. Thus were the visions of my head upon my bed: I saw, and behold a tree in the midst of the earth, and its height was great.

11. The tree grew and was strong, and its height reached unto heaven; the sight of it reached to the end of all the earth.

12. Its leaves were beautiful, and its fruit plentiful, and in it was food for all. The animals of the field sought shade under it, and the birds of the heavens lived in its boughs, and all flesh was fed by it.

13. I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and behold, a watcher and a holy one came down from heaven.

14. He cried aloud and said this, ‘Cut down the tree, and cut off its branches; shake off its leaves and scatter its fruit. Let the animals get away from under it, and the birds from its branches.

15. Nevertheless, leave the stump of its roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and bronze, in the tender grass of the field. And let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the animals in the grass of the earth.

16. Let his heart be changed from a man’s and a beast’s heart be given to him. And let seven times pass over him.

17. This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones, so that the living may know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men, and gives it to whomever He will, and sets up over it the basest of men.’

18. This dream, I, King Nebuchadnezzar, have seen. Now you, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation because all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make the meaning known to me. But you are able, for the spirit of the holy gods is in you.”

19. Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was appalled for a while, and his thoughts alarmed him. The king spoke and said, “Belshazzar, do not let the dream or its meaning trouble you.”

Belshazzar answered and said, “My lord, the dream is to those who hate you, and the interpretation to your foes.

20. The tree that you saw, which became great and strong, whose height reached to the heaven, and the sight of it to all the earth,

21. Whose leaves were fair, and its fruit plentiful, and in it was food for all, under which the animals of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the birds of the heavens had their home—

22. It is you, O king, for you have become great and strong, for your greatness has grown and reached unto heaven, and your dominion to the end of the earth.

23. And as the king saw a watchman and a holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, ‘Cut the tree down and destroy it; yet leave the stump of the roots of it in the earth, even with a band of iron and bronze, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the animals of the field until seven times pass over him.’

24. This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the Most High, which has come upon my lord the king:

25. That you shall be driven from men, and your dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and you shall be made to eat grass like oxen. And you shall be wet with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over you until you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men and gives it to whomever He wills.”

26. And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots, your kingdom shall be sure to you after you shall have known that the heavens do rule.

27. Therefore, O king, let my advice be pleasing to you, and break off your sins by righteousness, and your iniquities by showing mercy to the poor, so there may be lengthening of your prosperity.”

28. All this came upon King Nebuchadnezzar.

29. At the end of twelve months he was walking on the roof of the royal palace of the kingdom of Babylon.

30. The king spoke and said, “Is this not great Babylon that I have built for a royal residence by the might of my power and for the glory of my majesty?”

31. While the word was yet in the king’s mouth, a voice fell from heaven, saying, “O King Nebuchadnezzar, to you it is spoken. The kingdom has departed from you.

32. And you shall be driven from men, and your dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field. You shall be made to eat grass like oxen, and seven times shall pass over you until you know that the Most High rules in the kingdom of men and gives it to whomever He wills.”

33. The same hour the thing was fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar. And he was driven from men, and ate grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the heavens until his hair had grown like eagles’ feathers, and his nails like birds’ claws.

34. And at the end of the days, I, Nebuchadnezzar, lifted up my eyes to heaven, and my understanding returned to me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honored Him Who lives forever, for His dominion is an everlasting dominion, and His kingdom is from generation to generation.

35. And all the inhabitants of the earth are counted as nothing; and He does according to His will in the host of heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth. And none can stay His hand, or say to Him, “What are You doing?”

36. At that time my reason returned to me. And the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and splendor returned to me. And my advisers and my lords sought me out, and I was established in my kingdom, and surpassing greatness was added to me.

37. Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and exalt and honor the King of heaven, for all His works are truth and His ways justice. And those who walk in pride He is able to abase.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords and drank wine before the thousand.

2. When tasting the wine, Belshazzar commanded to bring the vessels of gold and silver which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple in Jerusalem, that the king and his rulers, his wives and his concubines might drink from them.

3. Then they brought the vessels of gold that were taken out of the temple of the house of God in Jerusalem. And the king and his rulers, his wives and his concubines drank from them.

4. They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, and of bronze, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

5. At that moment fingers of a man’s hand appeared and wrote on the plaster of the wall of the king’s palace across from the lampstand. And the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.

6. Then the king’s countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the joints of his loins were loosened, and his knees knocked against one another.

7. The king cried aloud to bring in the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers. The king spoke and said to the wise men of Babylon, “Whoever shall read this writing, and declare to me its interpretation, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.”

8. Then all the king’s wise men came in. But they could not read the writing, nor make the interpretation known to the king.

9. Then King Belshazzar was greatly afraid, and his countenance changed, and his lords were perplexed.

10. The queen came into the banquet house because of the king’s words, and his nobles. And the queen spoke and said, “O king, live forever. Do not let your thoughts trouble you, nor let your countenance be changed.

11. There is a man in your kingdom in whom is the spirit of the holy gods. And in the days of your father there was found in him light and understanding and wisdom like the wisdom of the gods. And the King Nebuchadnezzar, your father the king, I say, your father appointed him master of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and astrologers,

12. Because a surpassing spirit, and knowledge and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and revealing of hard riddles, and the solving of difficult problems, were found in this Daniel, whom the king named Beltesbazzar. Now let Daniel be called, and he will reveal the interpretation.”

13. Then Daniel was brought in before the king. The king spoke and said to Daniel, “Are you Daniel who is of the exiled children of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah?

14. I have even heard of you, that the spirit of the gods is in you, and that light and understanding and surpassing wisdom are found in you.

15. And now the wise men and the enchanters have been brought in before me, that they might read this writing and make the interpretation known to me. But they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16. And I have heard of you that you can give interpretations and solve difficult problems. Now if you can read the writing and reveal its interpretation to me, you shall be clothed with purple and have a chain of gold around your neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.”

17. Then Daniel answered and said before the king, “Let your gifts be to yourself, and give your rewards to another. Yet, I will read the writing to the king and make the interpretation known to him.

18. O king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father a kingdom, and greatness and glory and majesty.

19. And for the greatness that He gave him, all people, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him. He slew whom he would, and whom he would he kept alive. And whom he would, he raised up; and whom he would, he put down.

20. But when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit became so proud that he behaved arrogantly, he was put down from his royal throne, and his glory was taken from him.

21. And he was driven from the sons of men. And his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild donkeys. He was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven until he knew that the Most High God rules in the kingdom of men, and that He appoints over it whomever He will.

22. And you his son, O Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart, though you knew all this.
23. But you have lifted up yourself against the Lord of heaven. And they have brought the vessels of His house before you; and you and your lords, your wives and your concubines have drunk wine from them. And you have praised the gods of silver, and gold, of bronze, iron, wood, and stone, which do not see, nor hear, nor know. And you have not glorified the God in Whose hand is your breath and all your ways.

24. Then the palm of the hand was sent from Him. And this writing was written. 25. And this is the writing that was inscribed: MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.

26. This is the interpretation of the thing. MENE: God has numbered your kingdom and brought it to an end. TEKEL: You are weighed in the balances and found wanting. PERES: Your kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians.”

29. Then Belshazzar commanded, and they clothed Daniel with purple and a golden chain around his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom. 30. On that night Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans was killed.

31. And Darius the Mede took the kingdom, being about sixty-two years old.

CHAPTER SIX

1. It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom a hundred and twenty satraps, that they might be over the whole kingdom. 2. And over them were three presidents (Daniel was one of them), so that these satraps might give account to them, and the king should not suffer loss.

3. Then this Daniel distinguished himself above the presidents and satraps because a surpassing spirit was in him. And the king was planning to set him over all the kingdom. 4. Then the presidents and rulers sought to find occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdom. But they could find no occasion or fault because he was faithful. Neither was there any error or fault found in him.

5. Then these men said, “We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel unless we find it against him concerning the law of his God.”

6. Then these presidents and rulers assembled to the king, and said this to him: “King Darius, live forever. 7. All the presidents of the kingdom, the prefects, and the satraps, and the officials and governors, have consulted together that the king establish a statute, and to make a strong decree, that whoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, except from you, O king, he shall be thrown into the den of lions.

8. Now, O king, establish the decree and sign the writing, so that it may not be changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians which cannot be revoked.”

9. Therefore King Darius signed the writing and the decree. 10. And when he had learned that the document was signed, Daniel went to his house. And his windows were open in his upper room toward Jerusalem; and he kneeled on his knees three times a day and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did before.

11. Then these men came by agreement and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. 12. Then they came near and spoke before the king concerning the king’s decree. “Have you not signed a decree that every man who shall ask a petition of any god or man within thirty days, except from you, O king, shall be thrown into the lions’ den?” The king answered and said, “The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be revoked.”

13. Then they answered and said before the king, “That Daniel, who is of the exiled children of Judah, has not respected you, O king, nor the decree that you have signed, but makes his prayer three times a day.”

14. Then the king, when he heard these words, was very much displeased with himself. And he set his heart on Daniel to deliver him. And he labored until sundown to deliver him. 15. Then these men met before the king and said to the king, “Know, O king, that the law of the Medes and Persians is that no decree or statute which the king establishes may be revoked.”

16. Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel and threw him into the lions’ den. The king spoke and said to Daniel, “Your God, Whom you serve continually, He will deliver you.”

17. And a stone was brought and laid on the mouth of the den. And the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords, that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel.

18. Then the king went to his palace and spent the night fasting. And instruments of music were not brought before him, and his sleep fled from him.

19. Then the king arose very early in the morning and hurried to the lions’ den.

20. And when he came near the den, he cried with a grieved voice to Daniel. The king spoke and said to Daniel, “O Daniel, servant of the living God, is your God Whom you serve continually able to deliver you from the lions?”

22. My God has sent His angel, and has shut the lions’ mouths, and they have not hurt me because before Him innocency was found in me. And also before you, O king, I have done no harm.”

23. Then the king was exceedingly glad for him and commanded that they should bring Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of injury was found on him because he trusted in his God.

24. And the king commanded, and they brought those men who had accused Daniel, and they threw them into the lions’ den—them, their sons, and their wives. And the lions overpowered them and broke all their bones in pieces before they even came to the bottom of the den.

25. Then King Darius wrote to all people, nations, and languages who dwell in all the earth: “Peace be multiplied to you.

26. I make a decree that, in all the dominion and realm to the end.

27. He delivers and rescues, and He works signs and wonders in the heavens and on earth, He Who has delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.”

28. And this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed. Then he wrote the dream and told the sum of the matters.

2. Daniel spoke and said, “In my vision by night I was looking, and behold, the four winds of the heavens were stirring up the Great Sea.

3. And four great beasts came up from the sea, different from one another.

4. The first was like a lion and had eagle’s wings. I watched until its wings were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth and made to stand on its feet like a man. And a man’s heart was given to it.

5. And behold another beast, a second, like a bear. And it raised itself up on one side, and it had three ribs in its mouth between its teeth. And this was said to it: ‘Arise, eat up much flesh.’

6. After this I saw, and lo, another beast, like a leopard, which had four wings of a bird on its back. The beast also had four heads and dominion was given to it.

7. After this I looked in the night visions, and behold, a fourth beast, frightening and terrifying, and exceedingly strong. And it had great iron teeth; it devoured and broke in pieces, and stamped the rest with its feet. And it was different from all the beasts before it; and it had ten horns.

8. As I was considering the horns, behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, before whom three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots. And behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things.

9. I watched until thrones were set in place, and the Ancient of Days sat, Whose raiment was white as snow, and the hair of His head like pure wool. His throne was like flames of fire, and its wheels like burning fire.

10. A stream of fire issued and came out from before Him. A thousand thousands ministered unto Him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before Him. The court sat and the books were opened.

11. Then I was looking because of the voice of the boastful words which the horn spoke. I watched until the beast was shall be different from all the others, exceedingly dreadful, whose teeth were of iron and his nails of brass; who devoured, broke in pieces, and stamped the rest with his feet;

20. And of the ten horns that were on his head, and of the other horn which came up, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth speaking very boastful things, whose appearance was greater than his fellows.

21. I watched, and that same horn made war with the saints and overcame them, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth speaking very boastful things, whose appearance was greater than his fellows.

22. Until the Ancient of Days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High, and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

23. Thus he said, 'The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be different from all the other kingdoms and shall devour the whole earth, and shall trample it and break it in pieces.

24. And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that shall arise. And another shall arise after them. And he shall be different from all the others, exceedingly dreadful, whose teeth were of iron and his nails of brass; who devoured, broke in pieces, and stamped the rest with his feet;

25. And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High, and think to change the set times and the laws. And they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and one-half time.

26. But the judgment shall sit, and his dominion shall be taken away to be consumed and to be destroyed unto the end.

27. And the kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High, Whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom. And all kingdoms shall serve and obey Him.'

28. Here is the end of the matter. As for me, Daniel, my thoughts troubled me greatly, and my countenance changed. But I kept the matter in my heart.”

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. In the third year of the reign of King Belshazzar a vision appeared to me—unto me, Daniel—after that which appeared to me at the first.

2. And I saw in the vision, and it came to pass when I looked, I was at Shushan the palace, which is in the province of Elam. And in the vision I looked, and I was by the river Ulai.

3. Then I lifted up my eyes, and looked. And behold, a ram stood before the river having two horns, and the two horns were high, but one was higher than the other, and the higher one came up last.

4. I saw the ram pushing westward and northward and southward, and no beast could stand before him, nor any that could deliver out of his hand. But he did according to his will and became great.

5. And as I was considering, behold, a he-goat came from the west, over the face of all the earth, and did not touch the ground. And the he-goat had a notable horn between his eyes.

6. And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had seen standing before the river, and ran at him in the fury of his power.

7. And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with anger against him, and struck the ram and shattered his two horns. And there was no power in the ram to stand before him. But he threw him down to the ground and stamped upon him. And none could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8. Then the he-goat became very great. And when he was strong, the great horn was broken. And in its place there came up the appearance of four horns toward the four winds of the heavens.

9. And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which became very great, toward the south and toward the east and toward the glorious land.

10. And it became great, even to the host of heaven. And it cast down some of the host and of the stars to the ground, and trampled upon them.

11. Yea, he magnified himself, even to the Prince of the host, and the daily sacrifice was taken away by him, and the place of His sanctuary was cast down.

12. And the host was given to it together with the daily sacrifice because of transgression, and it cast down the truth to the ground. And it practiced and prospered.

13. Then I heard a certain holy one speaking, and another holy one said to that certain one who spoke, “How long shall the vision last, concerning the daily sacrifice and the transgression that causes desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trampled under foot?”

14. And he said to me, “Unto two thousand, three hundred evenings and mornings. Then the sanctuary shall be cleansed.”

15. And it came to pass when I, even I, Daniel, had seen the vision and sought to understand it, then, behold, there stood before me one having the appearance of a man.

16. And I heard a man’s voice between the banks of Ulai, which called and said, “Gabriel, make this one understand the vision.”

17. So he came near where I stood. And when he came, I was terrified and fell upon my face. But he said to me, “Understand, O son of man, for the vision is for the time of the end.”

18. Now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep, my face toward the ground. But he touched me and set me upright.

19. And he said, “Behold, I will make you know what shall happen in the latter time of the indignation, because it belongs to the appointed time of the end.

20. The ram which you saw having two horns are the kings of Media and Persia.

21. And the shaggy goat is the king of Greece. And the great horn before his eyes is the first king.

22. Now that being broken, then four stood up in its place; four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not with its power.

23. And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors have come to the full, a king, fierce of countenance and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.

24. And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power. And he shall destroy marvelously, and shall prosper and do his own will, and destroy the mighty and the holy people.

25. And also through his cunning he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand. And he shall magnify himself in his heart, and in time of security shall destroy many. He also shall stand up against the Prince of princes. But he shall be broken without a human hand.

26. And the vision of the evening and the morning which was told is true. But you shall shut up the vision, for it belongs to many days to come.”

27. And I, Daniel, fainted, and was sick certain days. Afterward I rose up and did the king’s business. And I was astounded at the vision but did not understand it.

CHAPTER NINE

1. In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans,

2. In the first year of his reign, I, Daniel, understood by books the number of the years, which came according to the Word of the LORD to Jeremiah the prophet, that the desolation of Jerusalem would last seventy years.

3. And I set my face toward the LORD God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes.

4. And I prayed to the LORD my God and made my confession, and said, “O LORD, the great and awesome God, keeping the covenant and mercy to those who love
5. We have sinned and committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and we have rebelled, and have turned aside from Your commandments and from Your ordinances.

6. Neither have we hearkened unto Your servants the prophets, who spoke in Your name to our kings, our rulers, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7. O LORD, righteousness belongs to You, but to us confusion of face, as at this day to the men of Judah and to the people of Jerusalem, and to all Israel who are near and who are afar off, through all the countries where You have driven them because they dealt treacherously with You.

8. O Lord, confusion of face belongs to us, to our kings, to our rulers, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against You.

9. To the LORD our God belong mercies and forgivenesses even though we have rebelled against Him.

10. Neither have we obeyed the voice of the LORD our God to walk in His laws which He set before us by His servants the prophets.

11. Yea, all Israel has transgressed Your law, and have turned aside, so that they might not obey Your voice. Therefore the curse has been poured out upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against Him.

12. And He has confirmed His words and the oath that is written in the law of Moses, the servant of God, because we have sinned against Him.

13. As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil has come upon us. Yet we did not make our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities and understand Your truth.

14. Therefore, the LORD did not hesitate concerning the evil that He brought upon us, for the LORD our God is righteous in all His works which He does, but we did not obey His voice.

15. And now, O LORD our God, Who has brought Your people out from the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and has made a name for Yourself, as it is this day, we have sinned, we have done wickedly!

16. O LORD, I pray You, according to all Your righteousness, let Your anger and Your fury be turned away from Your city Jerusalem, Your holy mountain. Because of our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and Your people have become a reproach to all those who are around us.

17. And now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of Your servant, and His supplications, and cause Your face to shine upon Your sanctuary that is desolate for the LORD’S sake.

18. O my God, incline Your ear and hear. Open Your eyes and behold Your desolations, and the city which is called by Your name. For we do not present our supplications before You on account of our rightousnesses, but because of Your great mercies.

19. O LORD, hear; O LORD, forgive; O LORD, hearken and do. Do not delay, for Your own sake, O my God; for Your city and Your people are called by Your name.”

20. And while I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin, and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for the holy mountain of my God;

21. Yea, while I was speaking in prayer, even the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, came to me, about the time of the evening sacrifice.

22. And he made me to understand, and talked with me, and said, “O Daniel, I have now come forth to give you insight and understanding.

23. At the beginning of your supplications the word went forth, and I have come to declare it, for you are greatly beloved; therefore consider the word, and understand the vision:

24. Seventy weeks are decreed upon your people and upon your holy city to finish the transgression and to make an end of sin, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the Most Holy.

25. Know therefore and understand that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem, to Messiah the Prince, shall be seven weeks, and sixty-two weeks. It shall be... built again with streets and the wall, even in troublous times.
26. And after sixty-two weeks Messiah shall be cut off but not for Himself. And the people of the prince who shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary.
But his end shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined.
27. And he shall confirm a covenant with many for one week. And in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the offering to cease, and upon the wing of abominations shall come one who makes desolate even until the consummation. And the fully determined end which is decreed shall be poured out upon the desolator.”

CHAPTER TEN

1. In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a message was revealed to Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar.
And the message was true, but the time appointed was long. And he understood the message and had understanding of the vision.
2. In those days I, Daniel, was mourning three full weeks.
3. I ate no pleasant food, neither did flesh or wine enter my mouth, nor did I anoint myself at all, until three whole weeks were fulfilled.
4. And in the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is Tigris,
5. Then I lifted up my eyes and looked, and behold, a certain man was clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with fine gold of Uphaz.
6. His body also was like beryl, and his face looked like lightning. And his eyes were like lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet in color were like polished bronze, and the sound of his words like the sound of a multitude.
7. And I, Daniel, alone saw the vision.
Now the men who were with me did not see the vision, but a great dread fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.
8. Therefore I was left alone and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me. For my face turned deathly pale, and I retained no strength.
9. Yet I heard the sound of his words.

And when I heard the sound of his words, then I was in a deep sleep on my face, and my face was toward the ground.
10. And behold, a hand touched me, which set me trembling upon my knees and the palms of my hands.
11. And he said to me, “O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, give heed to the words that I speak to you and stand upright, for to you I am now sent.” And when he had spoken these words to me, I stood up trembling.
12. Then he said to me, “Do not fear, Daniel, for from the first day that you set your heart to understand and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard. And I have come because of your words.
13. But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me twenty-one days. Then lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me; for I had been there alone with the kings of Persia.
14. Now I have come to make you understand what shall happen to your people in the latter days, for the vision is yet for many days.”
15. And when he had spoken such words to me, I bowed my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.
16. And behold, one looking like the sons of men touched my lips. Then I opened my mouth and spoke and said to him who stood before me, “O lord, my sorrows have overwhelmed me because of the vision, and I have retained no strength.
17. For how can this servant of my lord talk with so great a one as my lord? For as for me, there now remains no strength in me, nor is there any breath left in me.”
18. Then again, one with the appearance of a man came and touched me, and he strengthened me,
19. And said, “O man greatly beloved, do not fear. Peace be unto you; be strong;
yea, be strong.” And when he had spoken to me, I was made stronger, and I said, “Let my lord speak, for you have strengthened me.”
20. Then he said, “Do you know why I come to you? And now I must return to fight with the prince of Persia. And when I go forth, lo, the prince of Greece shall come.
21. But I will show you that which is written in the Scripture of Truth. (And there is none who holds strongly with me against them, except Michael your prince.)

CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. “And I, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him.)
2. And now I will declare to you the truth. Behold, there shall yet stand up three more kings in Persia. And the fourth shall be far richer than all of them. And when he grows strong, through his riches, he shall stir up all against the kingdom of Greece.
3. And a mighty king shall stand up, one who shall rule with great dominion and do according to his will.
4. And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken and shall be divided toward the four winds of the heavens. But it shall not be given to his descendants, nor according to his dominion with which he ruled, for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others beside these.
5. And the king of the south shall be strong. And one of his princes, even he shall overcome him and have dominion. His kingdom shall be a great kingdom.
6. And after some years they shall join themselves together, for the king's daughter of the south shall come to the king of the north to make an alliance. But she shall not keep her position of power. Nor shall he stand, nor his authority. But she shall be given up—with those who brought her in, and he who begat her, and he who made her strong in these times.
7. But out of a branch of her roots one shall stand up in his place, who shall come against the army of the king of the north and shall enter into his stronghold. And he shall act against them and shall prevail.
8. And he shall also carry their gods captive with their molten images into Egypt, and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold. And he shall refrain from attacking the king of the north for some years.
9. So the king of the north shall come into the kingdom of the king of the south, but shall return into his own land.
10. But his sons shall mobilize and shall gather a multitude of great forces. And one of them shall certainly come and overflow, and pass through. And he will carry on and do battle, even to his fortress.
11. And the king of the south shall be in a rage and shall come out and fight with him, even with the king of the north who will raise a great multitude, but the multitude shall be given into his hand.
12. And the multitude shall be carried away, and his heart shall be lifted up. And he shall cast down tens of thousands, but he shall not prevail.
13. For the king of the north shall return and shall send out a multitude greater than the former, and at the end of some years shall come with a great army and with much equipment.
14. And in those times there shall stand up many against the king of the south. Also the violent among your people shall rise up to establish the vision, but they shall fall.
15. So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a siege mound, and take a fortified city. And the forces of the south shall not hold out, nor his chosen people, nor shall there be any strength to withstand.
16. But he who comes against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him. And he shall stand in the glorious land, with destructive power in his hand.
17. He also shall set his face to enter with the strength of all his kingdom, and shall make an agreement with him; so he shall do. And he shall give him the daughter of women to destroy the kingdom, but she shall not stand by his side, nor be for him.
18. After this he shall turn his face to the isles and shall capture many. But a prince shall put an end to his insolence; and will turn his insolence back upon him.
19. Then he shall turn his face to the fortresses of his own land. But he shall stumble and fall, and shall not be found.
20. Then shall stand up in his place one who will send out an exacter of taxes in the glory of the kingdom. But within a few days he shall be destroyed, not in anger nor in battle.
21. And a contemptible one shall stand up in his place, and they shall not give to him the majesty of the kingdom; but he will come in a time of peace and seize the kingdom by flatteries.
22. And the overflowing forces will be swept from before him, and they will be broken, and also the prince of the covenant.
23. And after the league is made with him he shall work deceitfully, for he shall come up and shall become strong with a small force.
24. He shall enter peaceably, even into the rich places of the realm. And he shall do what his fathers have not done, nor his fathers’ fathers. He shall distribute among them the prey, spoil and riches.
And he shall devise his plots against the strongholds, but only for a time.
25. And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army. And the king of the south shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not stand, for they shall devise plots against him.
26. Yea, those who eat his food shall destroy him, and his army shall be swept away. And many shall fall down slain.
27. And both these kings’ hearts shall be to do evil, and they shall speak lies to each other at the same table. But it shall not succeed, for still the end remains yet for the time appointed.
28. And he shall return to his land with great riches. And his heart shall be against the holy covenant. And he shall take action against it, and he shall return to his land.
29. At the time appointed he shall return and come against the south. But it shall not be in the latter time as it was in the former,
30. For the ships of Kittim shall come against him. And he shall be cowed and return, and have indignation against the holy covenant. And he shall do his pleasure; he shall even return and have regard to those who forsake the holy covenant.
31. And forces from him will stand up on his part, and they will profane the sanctuary, even the stronghold, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall set up the abomination that makes desolate.
32. And he will corrupt by flattery those who do evil against the covenant, but the people who know their God shall be strong and do exploits.
33. And those who are wise among the people shall cause many to understand; yet they shall fall by the sword, and by flame, by exile, and spoil, many days.
34. Now when they stumble, they shall be helped with a little help, but many will join themselves unto them with flatteries.
35. And some of those who understand shall fall, to refine and to purify them, and to make white, to the time of the end because it is yet even for the appointed time.
36. And the king shall do according to his will. And he shall exalt and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak astonishing things against the God of gods, and shall prosper until the indignation be accomplished, for that which is decreed shall be done.
37. He will not regard the gods of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god, for he shall magnify himself above all.
38. But in his place he shall honor the god of forces; and a god whom his fa-mothers did not know shall he honor with gold and silver, and with precious stones and costly things.
39. So he shall deal against the fortresses of the strongest with a strange god, whom he shall acknowledge; and shall increase with glory. He shall cause them to rule over many and shall divide the land for a price.
40. And at the time of the end, the king of the south shall push at him. And the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind with chariots and with horsemen and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries and shall overflow and sweep through.
41. He shall also enter into the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown. But these shall escape out of his hand: Edom and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon.
42. And he shall stretch out his hand also upon the countries. And the land of Egypt shall not escape.
43. But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt. And the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps.
44. But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall alarm him. Then he will go forth with great fury to destroy and to utterly annihilate many.

45. And he shall plant his royal tents between the seas in the glorious holy mountain. Yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.”

CHAPTER TWELVE

1. “And at that time Michael shall stand up, the great prince who stands for the children of your people. And there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even until that time. And at that time your people shall be delivered—every one who shall be found written in the book.

2. And many of those who sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.

3. And they who are wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they who turn many to righteousness shall shine as the stars forever and ever.

4. But you, O Daniel, shut up the words and seal the book, even to the time of the end. Many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5. Then I, Daniel, looked; and behold, there stood two others, the one on this side of the bank of the river, and the one on that side of the bank of the river.

6. And one said to the man clothed in linen who was above the waters of the river: “How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?”

7. And I heard the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand to heaven, and swore by Him who lives forever, saying, “It shall be for a time, times, and a half a time. And when the power of the holy people has been finally broken, all these things shall be finished.”

8. And I heard, but I did not understand. Then I said, “O my lord, what shall be the end of these things?”

9. And he said, “Go your way, Daniel, for the words are closed up and sealed until the time of the end.

10. Many shall be purified, and made white, and refined. But the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand, but the wise shall understand.

11. And from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abomination that causes desolation is set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days.

12. Blessed is he who waits and comes to the thousand three hundred and thirty-five days.

13. But you, go your way till the end be, for you shall rest and stand in your lot at the end of the days.”
CHAPTER ONE

1. Now in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, that the Word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might he fulfilled, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and put it also in writing, saying,

2. “Thus says Cyrus king of Persia, ‘The LORD God of heaven has given me all the kingdoms of the earth. And He has charged me to build Him a house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah.

3. Whoever there is among you of all His people, may his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the LORD God of Israel—He is the God Who is in Jerusalem.

4. And whoever remains in any place where he resides, let the men of his place help him with silver and with gold and with goods and with animals, besides the freewill offering for the house of God that is in Jerusalem.’ ”

5. And the chiefs of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests, and the Levites, even all whose spirit God had stirred up, arose to go up to build the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem.

6. And all those who were around them made their hands strong with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with animals, besides all that was willingly offered.

7. And Cyrus the king brought out the vessels of the house of the LORD, which Nebuchadnezzar had brought out of Jerusalem and had put in the house of his gods.

8. And all those Cyrus king of Persia brought out by the hand of Mithredath the treasurer and numbered them to Sheshbazzar, the prince of Judah.

9. And this is the number of them: thirty basins of gold, a thousand basins of silver, twenty-nine knives,

10. Thirty bowls of gold, four hundred and ten silver bowls of a second kind, and a thousand other vessels.

11. All the vessels of gold and of silver were five thousand and four hundred. All these Sheshbazzar brought up when the exiles went up from Babylon to Jerusalem.

CHAPTER TWO

1. And these are the children of the province who went up out of the captivity, of those who had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away to Babylon. And these came again to Jerusalem and Judah, each one to his city.

2. These are the ones who came with Zerubbabel: Jeshua, Nehemiah, Seraiah, Reelaiah, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispar, Bigvai, Rehum, Baanah. This is the number of the men of the people of the children of Israel:

3. The children of Parosh, two thousand one hundred and seventy-two.

4. The children of Shephatiah, three hundred and seventy-two.

5. The children of Arah, seven hundred and seventy-five.

6. The children of Pahath-Moab, of the sons of Jeshua and Joab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve.

7. The children of Elam, a thousand two hundred and fifty-four.

8. The children of Zattu, nine hundred and forty-five.

10. The children of Bani, six hundred and forty-two.

11. The children of Bebai, six hundred and twenty-three.

12. The children of Azgad, a thousand two hundred and twenty-two.

14. The children of Bigvai, two thousand and fifty-six.

15. The children of Adin, four hundred and fifty-four.

17. The children of Bezai, three hundred and twenty-three.

18. The children of Jorah, a hundred and twelve.

19. The children of Hashum, two hundred and twelve.

20. The children of Gibbar, ninety-five.

21. The children of Bethlehem, a hundred and twenty-three.
23. The men of Anathoth, a hundred and twenty-eight.

CHAPTER THREE

1. Now when the seventh month had come, and the children of Israel were in the cities, the people gathered themselves as one man to Jerusalem.

2. And Jeshua the son of Jozadak stood up, and his brethren the priests, and Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and his brethren. And they built the altar of the God of Israel in order to offer burnt offerings on it, as it is written in the law of Moses the man of God.

3. And they set the altar on its bases, for fear was upon them because of the people of those countries. And they offered burnt offerings upon it unto the LORD, the God of Israel, both of the new moons and of all the appointed feasts of the LORD that were consecrated, and of everyone who willingly offered a free-will offering to the LORD.

4. And they kept the Feast of Tabernacles, as it is written, and offered the daily burnt offerings by number, according to the ordinance, as the duty of every day required.

5. And afterward they offered the continual burnt offering, both of the new moons and of all the appointed feasts of the LORD that were consecrated, and of everyone who willingly offered a free-will offering to the LORD.

6. From the first day of the seventh month they began to offer burnt offerings to the LORD, but the foundation of the temple of the LORD was not yet laid.

7. They gave money also to the masons and to the carpenters. And they gave food and drink and oil to the people of Sidon and to the people of Tyre to bring cedar trees from Lebanon to the sea and on to Joppa, according to the grant which they had from Cyrus king of Persia.

8. And in the second year of their coming to the house of God at Jerusalem, in the second month, Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and the rest of their brethren the priests and the Levites, and all they who had come out of the captivity to Jerusalem; and appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, to oversee the work of the house of the LORD.

9. Then Jeshua stood up together with his sons and his brethren, Kadmiel and his sons, the sons of Judah, to oversee the workmen in the house of God: the sons of Henadad, with their sons and their brethren the Levites.

10. And when the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the LORD, they set the priests in their robes with silver trumpets, and the Levites, the sons of Asaph with cymbals, to praise the LORD, according to the ordinance of David king of Israel.

11. And they sang, praising and giving thanks to the LORD, “Because He is good, for His steadfast love endures forever toward Israel.” And all the people shouted with a great shout when they praised the LORD because the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid.

12. But many of the priests and Levites and chief of the fathers—ancient men who had seen the first house—when the foundation of this house was laid before their eyes, wept with a loud voice. And many shouted aloud for joy.

13. So that the people could not tell the noise of the shout of joy from the noise of the weeping of the people. For the people shouted with a loud shout, and the noise was heard afar off.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. And when the adversaries of Judah and Benjamin heard that the children of the exile were building the temple to the LORD God of Israel,

2. Then they came to Zerubbabel and to the chief of the fathers, and said to them, “Let us build with you, for we seek your God, even as you. And we have sacrificed to Him since the days of Esar-haddon king of Assyria, who brought us up here.”

3. But Zerubbabel, and Jeshua, and the rest of the chief of the fathers of Israel, said to them, “You have nothing to do with us to build a house unto our God. But we ourselves together will build unto the LORD God of Israel, as King Cyrus the king of Persia has commanded us.”

4. Then the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Judah, and troubled them in building.

5. And they hired counselors against them to frustrate their purpose all the days of Cyrus king of Persia, even until the reign of Darius king of Persia.

6. In the reign of Ahasuerus, in the beginning of his reign, they wrote an accusation against the people of Judah and Jerusalem.

7. And in the days of Artaxerxes, Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabel and the rest of their companions, wrote to Artaxerxes king of Persia. Now the letter was written in the Syrian tongue and interpreted in the Syrian tongue.

8. Rehum the chancellor and Shimshai the scribe wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king in this way.

9. Then wrote Rehum the chancellor and Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their companions, the judges, and the emissaries, the consuls, the officials, the Erechites, the Babylonians, Elamites of Susa,

10. And the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Osnappar brought over and set in the cities of Samaria, and in the rest of the province beyond the River—and now,

11. This is the copy of the letter which they sent to him, to Artaxerxes the king: “Your servants the men of the province beyond the River, and so now,

12. Let it be known to the king that the Jews who came up from you to us have come to Jerusalem, and are building the rebellious and the evil city, and have set up its walls, and have joined the foundations.

13. Let it be known to the king that if this city is built and the walls set up, then they will not pay toll, taxes, or custom, and you shall endanger the revenue of the kings.

14. Now because we have eaten the salt of the palace, and it was not right for us to see the king’s dishonor, therefore we have sent and notified the king,

15. So that search may be made in the book of the records of your fathers, and you shall find in the book of the records, and shall know that this city is a rebellious city, hurtful to kings and provinces, and that they have incited sedition in it in the past, for which cause that city was destroyed.

16. We notify the king that if this city is built and the walls of it set up, then you shall have no portion beyond the River.”

17. The king sent an answer to Rehum the chancellor, and to Shimshai the scribe, and to the rest of their companions who dwell in Samaria, and to the rest beyond the River: “Peace! And now,

18. The letter which you sent to us has been plainly read before me.

19. And I decreed, and search has been made, and it is found that this city has risen up against kings in the past, and rebellion and revolt have been made in it.

20. There have been mighty kings also over Jerusalem, who have ruled over all the country beyond the River. And toll, taxes, and custom were paid to them.

21. Now make a decree to cause these men to cease, and that this city be not built until the decree shall be given from me.

22. And take heed that you do not fail to do this. Why should damage increase to the hurt of the kings?”

23. And when the copy of King Artaxerxes’ letter was read before Rehum, and Shimshai the scribe, and their companions, they hurried to Jerusalem unto the Jews, and made them cease by force and power.

24. Then the work of the house of God at Jerusalem ceased. So it ceased to the second year of the reign of Darius king of Persia.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. Then the prophets, Haggai the prophet, and Zechariah the son of Iddo, prophesied to the Jews in Judah and Jerusalem in the name of the God of Israel, Who was over them.

2. Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel and Jeshua the son of Jozadak rose up and began to build the house of God at Jerusalem. And with them were the prophets of God helping them.

3. At the same time Tattenai, governor of the province beyond the River, and Shethar-Boznai, and their companions, came to them and said this to them: “Who has commanded you to build this house and to make this wall?”

4. They also asked, “What are the names of the men who are building this building?”

5. But the eye of their God was upon the elders of the Jews, so that they could not cause them to stop until a report could go to Darius, and then a written reply be returned concerning it.

6. The copy of the letter which Tattenai, governor of the province beyond the River, and Shethar-Boznai, and his companions, the officials beyond the River, sent to Darius the king,

7. They sent a letter to him, in which this was written: “To Darius the king, all peace.

8. Let it be known to the king that we went into the province of Judea to the house of the great God, which is being built with great stones, and timber is being laid in the walls, and this work goes on with diligence and prospers in their hands.

9. Then we asked those elders and said this to them: ‘Who commanded you to build this house and furnish this wall?’

10. We also asked their names in order to notify you so that we might write the names of the men who are the chief of them.

11. And they returned this answer to us, saying, ‘We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth. And we build the house that was built many years ago, which a great king of Israel built and finished.

12. But because our fathers had provoked the God of heaven to wrath, He gave them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, the Chaldean, who destroyed this house and carried the people away to Babylon.

13. But in the first year of Cyrus the king of Babylon, King Cyrus issued a decree to build this house of God.

14. And also the vessels of gold and silver from the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the temple in Jerusalem and brought them into the temple of Babylon, those Cyrus the king took out of the temple of Babylon, and they were delivered to one whose name was Sheshbazzar, whom he had made governor.

15. And he said to him, “Take these vessels and go. Deposit them in the temple in Jerusalem, and let the house of God be built in His place.”

16. Then the same Sheshbazzar came and laid the foundation of the house of God which is in Jerusalem. And since that time even until now it has been in building, but is not yet finished.’

17. Now therefore, if it seems good to the king, let a search be made in the king’s treasure house there at Babylon, whether it is so that a decree was given from Cyrus the king to build this house of God at Jerusalem. And let the king send his pleasure to us concerning this matter.”

CHAPTER SIX

1. Then Darius the king made a decree, and a search was made in the house of the scrolls where the treasures were laid up in Babylon.

2. And there was found at Achmetha, in the palace that was in the province of the Medes, a scroll. And in it was a record thus written:

3. “In the first year of Cyrus the king, Cyrus the king made a decree concerning the house of God at Jerusalem: ‘Let the house be built, the place where they offered sacrifices, and let the foundations of it be strongly laid. The height of it shall be sixty cubits, and the breadth of it shall be sixty cubits.

4. With three rows of great stones and a row of new timber. And let the expenses be given out of the king’s house.

5. And also let the gold and silver vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took out of the temple at Jerusalem, and brought to Babylon, be restored and brought again to the temple which is at Jerusalem, to their place, and put them in the house of God.’

6. “Now, therefore, Tattenai, governor of the province beyond the River, Shethar-Boznai, and your companions, the officials beyond the River, keep away from there.
And for a sin offering for all Israel, a hundred rams, and four hundred lambs. This house of God a hundred bulls, two

17. And they offered at the dedication of the house of God in its place.

8. Moreover, I make a decree as to what you shall do for the elders of these Jews for the building of this house of God, that at once expense be given to these men from the king’s goods, from the tax beyond the River, so that they may not be hindered.

9. And that which they have need of, both young bulls and rams and lambs, for the burnt offerings of the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oil, according to the request of the priests at Jerusalem, let it be given them day by day without fail.

10. So that they may offer sacrifices of sweet savors to the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king and of his sons.

11. Also I have made a decree that whoever shall alter this word, let timber be pulled down from his house and be lifted up, and let him be hanged on it. And let his house be made a dunghill for this.

12. And may the God who has caused His name to dwell there, overthrow all kings and people who shall put their hand to alter or to destroy this house of God which is at Jerusalem. I, Darius, have made a decree. Let it be done with all diligence.

13. Then Tattenai, governor of the province beyond the River, Shethar-Boznai, and their companions, according to that which Darius the king had sent, did so speedily.

14. And the elders of the Jews built, and they were prospered through the prophesying of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the son of Iddo. And they built and finished it according to the command of the God of Israel, and according to the decree of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes king of Persia.

15. And this house was finished on the third day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king.

16. And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the captivity kept the dedication of this house of God with joy.

17. And they offered at the dedication of this house of God a hundred bulls, two hundred rams, and four hundred lambs. And for a sin offering for all Israel, twelve he-goats, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18. And they set the priests in their sections, and the Levites in their divisions, for the service of God which is at Jerusalem, as it is written in the book of Moses.

19. And the children of the captivity kept the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

20. The priests and the Levites were purified together, all of them pure. And they killed the Passover lamb for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.

21. And the children of Israel ate the Passover lamb, all who had come again out of exile, and all such as had separated themselves to them from the uncleanness of the nations of the land in order to seek the LORD God of Israel.

22. And they kept the Feast of Unleavened Bread seven days with joy, for the LORD had made them joyful, and had turned the heart of the king of Assyria to them to make their hands strong in the work of the house of God, the God of Israel.

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. Now after these things, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of Persia, Ezra the priest the son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah,

2. The son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub,

3. The son of Amariah, the son of Azariah, the son of Meraioth,

4. The son of Zerahiah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki,

5. The son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest—

6. This Ezra went up from Babylon. And he was a ready scribe in the law of Moses, which the LORD God of Israel had given. And the king granted him all he asked, according to the hand of the LORD his God upon him.

7. And there went up some of the children of Israel, and of the priests, and the Levites, and the singers, and the gatekeepers, and the temple servants, to Jerusalem in the seventh year of Artaxerxes king.

8. And he came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, in the seventh year of the king.
9. Now on the first day of the first month he began to go up from Babylon, and on the first day of the fifth month he came to Jerusalem, according to the good hand of his God upon him.

10. For Ezra had set his heart to seek the law of the LORD, and to do it, and to teach statutes and ordinances in Israel.

11. And this is the copy of the letter which King Artaxerxes gave to Ezra the priest, the scribe, even a scribe of the words of the commandments of the LORD, and of His statutes to Israel:

12. "Artaxerxes, king of kings, to Ezra the priest, a scribe of the law of the God of heaven, perfect peace. Now at this time,

13. I make a decree that everyone of the people of Israel, and their priests and Levites in my kingdom, who desire of their own free will to go up to Jerusalem, go with you;

14. Since you have been sent by the king and by his seven counselors to inquire about Judah and Jerusalem, according to the law of your God in your hand,

15. And to carry the silver and gold which the king and his counselors have freely offered to the God of Israel, whose habitation is in Jerusalem,

16. And all the silver and gold which you can find in all the province of Babylon, with the free will offering of the people and of the priests, offering willingly for the house of their God in Jerusalem,

17. Now therefore, you shall diligently buy with this money bulls, rams, lambs, with their grain offerings and their drink offerings, and shall offer them upon the altar of the house of your God in Jerusalem.

18. And whatever shall seem good to you and to your brethren to do with the rest of the silver and the gold, you may do according to the will of your God.

19. Also the vessels which are given to you for the service of the house of your God, deliver them before the God of Jerusalem.

20. And whatever more shall be needed for the house of your God, which you shall have need to give, give it out of the king's treasure house.

21. And I, Artaxerxes the king, make a decree to all the treasurers who are beyond the River, that whatever Ezra the priest, the scribe of the law of the God of heaven, shall require of you, it shall be done with all diligence,

22. To a hundred talents of silver, and to a hundred measures of wheat, and to a hundred baths of wine, and to a hundred baths of oil, and salt without limit.

23. Whatever is commanded by the God of heaven, let it be carefully done for the house of the God of heaven, for why should there be wrath against the realm of the king and his sons?

24. Also, we notify you, that in regard to any of the priests and the Levites, singers, gatekeepers, temple servants, or ministers of this house of God, it shall not be lawful to impose toll, taxes, or tribute on them.

25. And now you, Ezra, after the wisdom of your God that is in your hand, set magistrates and judges who may judge all the people who are beyond the River, all who know the laws of your God; and you teach them who do not know.

26. And whoever will not do the law of your God, and the law of the king, let judgment be executed speedily upon him, whether it is to death, or to exile, or to confiscation of goods, or imprisonment."

27. Blessed be the LORD, the God of our fathers, who has put such a thing as this into the king's heart, to beautify the house of the LORD which is in Jerusalem,

28. And has extended mercy unto me before the king and his counselors and before all the king's mighty princes. And I was made strong as the hand of the LORD my God was upon me, and I gathered out of Israel chief men to go up with me.

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. These are the heads of their fathers' houses, and the genealogy of those who went up with me from Babylon, in the reign of Artaxerxes the king.

2. From the sons of Phinehas, Gershom. From the sons of Ithamar, Daniel. From the sons of David, Hattush.

3. From the sons of Shecaniah, from the sons of Parosh, Zechariah. And with him were counted by genealogy of the males a hundred and fifty.

4. From the sons of Pahath-Moab, Elihoenai the son of Zerahiah, and with him two hundred males.
5. From the sons of Shechaniah, the son of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred males.
6. From the sons also of Adin, Ebed the son of Jonathan, and with him fifty males.
7. And from the sons of Elam, Jeshaiah the son of Athaliah, and with him seventy males.
8. And from the sons of Shephatiah, Zebadiah the son of Michael, and with him eighty males.
9. From the sons of Joab, Obadiah the son of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and sixteen males.
10. And from the sons of Shelomith, the son of Josiphiah, and with him a hundred and sixty males.
11. And from the sons of Bebai, Zechariah the son of Bebai, and with him twenty-eight males.
12. And from the sons of Azgad, Johanan the son of Hakkatan, and with him a hundred and ten males.
13. And from the last sons of Adonikam, these: Eliphelet, Jeiel, and Shemaiah, and with them sixty males.
14. From the sons of Bigvai, Uthai, and Zabbud, and with them seventy males.
15. Then I gathered them at the river which runs to Ahava and we stayed there in tents three days. And I looked over the people and the priests, and did not find there any of the sons of Levi.
16. Then I sent for Eliezer, for Ariel, for Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and Shemaiah, and with them sixty males.
17. And I sent with them sixty males.
18. And by the good hand of our God upon us, they brought us a man of understanding, from the sons of Mahli, the son of Levi, the son of Israel, namely Sherebiah, with his sons and his brethren, eighteen;
19. And Hashabiah, and with him Jeshaiah from the sons of Merari, his brethren and their sons, twenty;
20. Also of the temple servants whom David and the rulers had chosen for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty temple servants. All of them were called by name.
21. Then I proclaimed a fast there at the river Ahava, so that we might humble ourselves before our God in order to seek from Him a right way for us, and for our little ones, and for all our goods.
22. For I was ashamed to ask of the king troops and horsemen to help us against the enemy in the way because we had spoken to the king, saying, “The hand of our God is upon all those who seek Him for good, but His power and His wrath are against all those who forsake Him.”
23. So we fasted and prayed to our God about this. And He was entreated of us.
24. Then I separated twelve of the chief of the priests, Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them.
25. And I weighed to them the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, the offering of the house of our God, which the king and his counselors and his lords, and all Israel who were present, had offered.
26. And I weighed into their hands six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, of gold a hundred talents,
27. And twenty basins of gold of a thousand drams, and two vessels of fine copper as precious as gold.
28. And I said to them, “You are holy to the LORD, and the vessels are holy. And the silver and the gold are a freewill offering to the LORD, the God of your fathers.
29. Watch and keep them until you weigh them before the chief of the priests and the Levites, and the heads of the fathers of Israel at Jerusalem in the chambers of the house of the LORD.”
30. So the priests and the Levites received the weight of the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, to bring them to Jerusalem to the house of our God.
31. And we departed from the river of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month, to go to Jerusalem. And the hand of our God was upon us, and He delivered us from the hand of the enemy and from ambushers along the way.
32. And we came to Jerusalem and stayed there three days.
33. And on the fourth day the silver and the gold and the vessels were weighed in the house of our God into the hand of our God, which the king and the rulers and his counselors had given for the holy service.
34. Also of the gold of the vessels, to bring them to Jerusalem to the house of our God: gold, six hundred talents, of silver, six thousand talents, of bronze, twelve thousand talents.
35. And with them were singing men, and priests, and Levites.
36. And all the people prepared after their families to present a freewill offering for the house of our God, to set it in order, and to enact and finish it. And theHand of our God was upon all of us in Jerusalem to build this house.
And with him was Eleazar the son of Phinehas, and with them was Jozabad the son of Jeshua, and Noadiah the son of Binnui, Levites.
34. They were recorded by number and by the weight of every one. And all the weight was written at that time.
35. The children of those who had been exiled, who had come out of the captivity, offered burnt offerings to the God of Israel, twelve young bullocks for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs, and twelve he-goats for a sin offering. All this was a burnt offering to the LORD.
36. And they delivered the king’s orders to the king’s satraps and to the governors of the province beyond the River. And they helped the people and the house of God.

CHAPTER NINE

1. Now when these things were done, the princes came to me, saying, “The people of Israel, and the priests and the Levites, have not separated themselves from the people of the lands. But they are doing according to their abominations, those of the Canaanites, the Hitites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.
2. For they have taken of their daughters to their sons, nor seek their daughters to their sons, nor take their daughters to their sons, nor seek their peace or their prosperity forever, so that you may be strong and eat the good of the land and leave it for an inheritance to your children forever.
3. And when I heard this thing, I tore my garment and my mantle, and plucked off the hair of my head and of my beard, and sat down appalled.
4. Then everyone who trembled at the words of the God of Israel was gathered to me because of the faithlessness of those who had been exiled. And I sat there appalled until the evening sacrifice.
5. And at the evening sacrifice I rose up from my fasting, even with my garment and my mantle torn, and I fell upon my knees and spread out my hands to the LORD my God.
6. And I said, “O my God, I am ashamed and blush to lift up my face to You, my God, for our iniquities have increased over our heads, and our guiltiness has grown up to the heavens.
7. Since the days of our fathers we have been in great guilt to this day. And for our iniquities we, our kings, our priests, have been delivered into the hand of the kings of the lands, to the sword, to captivity, and to a spoil, and to confusion of face, as it is this day.
8. And now for a little moment, grace has been shown from the LORD our God to leave us a remnant to escape and to give us a strong peg in His holy place, so that our God may enlighten our eyes and give us a little reviving in our bondage.
9. For we were slaves, yet our God has not forsaken us in our bondage, but has extended mercy to us in the sight of the kings of Persia, to give us a reviving, to set up the house of our God, and to repair its ruins, and to give us a wall in Judah and in Jerusalem.
10. And now, O our God, what shall we say after this? For we have forsaken Your commandments.
11. Which You commanded by Your servants the prophets, saying, ‘The land into which you go to possess it, is an unclean land through the filthiness of the people of the lands, through their abominations which have filled it from one end to the other with their impurity.
12. And now therefore do not give your daughters to their sons, nor take their daughters to your sons, nor seek their peace or their prosperity forever, so that you may be strong and eat the good of the land and leave it for an inheritance to your children forever.’
13. And after all that has come upon us for our evil deeds and for our great guilt, since You our God have punished us less than our iniquities deserve, and have given us such a remnant as this,
14. Should we again break Your commandments and make marriages with the people that do these abominations? Would You not be angry with us until You had crushed us, so that there should be no remnant or survivor?
15. O LORD, God of Israel, You are righteous, for we are left a remnant that has escaped, as it is this day. Behold, we are before You in our guilt, for no one can stand before You because of this.”

CHAPTER TEN

1. Now while Ezra prayed, and made confession, weeping and casting himself down before the house of God, there gathered to him out of Israel a very great congregation of men and women and children, for the people wept with a great weeping.

2. And Shechaniah the son of Jehiel, of the sons of Elam, answered and said to Ezra, “We have been unfaithful to our God and have married strange women from the people of the land. Yet now there is hope for Israel concerning this thing.

3. And now therefore, let us make a covenant with our God to put away all the women, and such as have been born of them, according to the counsel of the LORD, and of those who tremble at the commandment of our God. And let it be done according to the law.

4. Arise, for this matter belongs to you. We also will be with you. Be of good courage and do it.”

5. Then Ezra arose and made the chief priests, the Levites, and all Israel to swear that they would do according to this word. And they swore.

6. Then Ezra rose up from before the house of God and went into the room of Johanan the son of Eliashib. And he went there, and he ate no bread nor drank water, for he mourned because of the sin of those who had been exiled.

7. And they made a proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem to all the children of the captivity to gather themselves unto Jerusalem,

8. And that whoever would not come within three days, according to the counsel of the rulers and the elders, all his substance should be forfeited, and he himself separated from the congregation of the exiles.

9. Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered themselves to Jerusalem within the three days. It was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month. And all the people sat in the street before the house of God, trembling because of this matter, and because of the great rain.

10. And Ezra the priest stood up and said to them, “You have been unfaithful, and have married strange women to increase the guilt of Israel.

11. Now confess to the LORD God of your fathers, and do His pleasure. And separate yourselves from the people of the land and from the foreign women.”

12. Then all the congregation answered and said with a loud voice, “As you have said, so we must do.

13. But the people are many, and it is a time of much rain, and we are not able to stand outside. And the work is not of one or two days, for we have transgressed greatly in this matter.

14. Let our rulers of all the congregation stand, and let all those who have married strange women in our cities, come at set times, and with them the elders of every city and its judges, until the fierce wrath of our God for this matter has turned from us.”

15. Only Jonathan the son of Asahel and Jahaziah the son of Tikvah made a stand against this. And Meshullam and Shabhethai the Levite supported them.

16. And the children of the captivity did so. And Ezra the priest, with certain heads of the fathers, after the house of their fathers, and all of them by their names, were separated. And they sat down in the first day of the tenth month to examine the matter.

17. And they were finished with all the men who had married foreign women by the first day of the first month.

18. And among the sons of the priests, these were found who had taken strange women: from the sons of Jeshua the son of Jozadak and his brethren; Maaseiah, and Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gedaliah.

19. And they gave their hands that they would put away their women. And being guilty, they offered a ram of the flock for their sin.

20. And from the sons of Immer; Hanani and Zebadiah.

21. And from the sons of Harim; Maaseiah, and Elijah, and Shemaiah, and Jehiel, and Uzziah.

22. And from the sons of Pashur; Elioenai, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Nethaneel, Jozabad, and Elasah.

23. And from the Levites: Jozabad, and Shimei, and Kelaiah (the same is Kelita,) Pethahiah, Judah, and Elizeer.

24. And from the singers: Eliashib; and from the gatekeepers, Shallum and Telem and Uri.

25. And from Israel: from the sons of Parosh, Ramiah, and Jezenia, and Machiah, and Mijamin, and Eleazar, and Malchijah and Benaiah.
26. And from the sons of Elam: Mattaniah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, and Abdi, and Jeremoth, and Elia.
27. And from the sons of Zattu: Elioenai, Eliashib, Mattaniah, and Jeremoth, and Zabad, and Aziza.
28. And from the sons of Bebai: Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai.
29. And from the sons of Bani: Meshullam, Malluch, and Adaiah, Jashub, and Sheal, and Ramoth.
30. And from the sons of Pahath-Moab: Adna, and Chelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezalel, and Binnui, and Manasseh.
31. And from the sons of Harim: Eliezer, Ishijah, Malchiah, Shemaiah, Shimeon, 32. Benjamin, Malluch, and Shemariah.
33. From the sons of Hashum: Mattenai, Mattathah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh, and Shimei.
34. From the sons of Bani: Maadai, Amram, and Uel,
35. Benaiah, Bedeiah, Cheluh,
36. Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliashib,
37. Mattaniah, Mattenai, and Jaasai,
38. And Bani, and Binnui, Shimei,
39. And Shelemiah, Nathan, and Adaiah,
40. Machnadebai, Shashai, Sharai,
41. Azarel, and Shelemiah, Shemariah,
42. Shallum, Amariah, and Joseph.
43. From the sons of Nebo: Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jaddai, Joel, and Benaiah.
44. All these had married foreign wives, and some of them had wives by whom they had children.
CHAPTER ONE

1. The words of Nehemiah the son of Hachaliah. And it came to pass in the month Chislev, in the twentieth year, as I was in Shushan the palace,
2. Hanani, one of my brethren, came, he and certain men of Judah. And I asked them concerning the Jews who had escaped, who were left of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.
3. And they said to me, “The remnant who are left of the captivity there in the province are in great affliction and reproach. And the wall of Jerusalem is broken down, and its gates are burned with fire.”
4. Now it came to pass when I heard these words, I sat down and wept. And I mourned for days, and fasted, and prayed before the God of heaven.
5. And I said, “I pray You, O LORD God of heaven, the great and awesome God Who keeps covenant and mercy for those who love Him and keep His commandments;
6. Let Your ear now be attentive, and Your eyes open, so that You may hear the prayer of Your servant, which I pray before You now, day and night, for the children of Israel Your servants, and confessing the sins of the children of Israel which we have sinned against You. Both I and my father’s house have sinned.
7. We have acted very corruptly against You and have not kept the commandments nor the statutes nor the ordinances which You commanded Your servant Moses.
8. Remember, I beseech You, the word that You commanded Your servant Moses, saying, ‘If you deal treacherously, I will scatter you among the nations;
9. But if you return to Me, and keep My commandments and do them, though your dispersed were cast out to the outermost part of the heavens, yet I will gather them from there and will bring them to the place that I have chosen to cause My name to dwell there.’
10. Now these are Your servants and Your people whom You have redeemed by Your great power and by Your strong hand.
11. O LORD, I beseech You, let now Your ear be attentive to the prayer of Your servant, and to the prayer of Your servants who delight to fear Your name. And I pray You, make Your servant successful today, and grant him mercy in the sight of this man” (for I was the king’s cupbearer).

CHAPTER TWO

1. And it came to pass in the month Nisan, in the twentieth year of Artaxerxes the king, when wine was before him, that I took up the wine and gave it to the king. Now I had not been sad in his presence before,
2. And the king said to me, “Why is your countenance sad, seeing you are not sick? This is nothing but sorrow of heart.” Then I was very much afraid.
3. And I said to the king, “Let the king live forever. Why should not my countenance be sad when the city, the place of my fathers’ tombs, lies waste, and its gates are destroyed by fire?”
4. And the king said to me, “For what do you ask?” So I prayed to the God of heaven,
5. And I said to the king, “If it please the king, and if your servant has found favor in your sight, that you would send me to Judah, to the city of my fathers’ tombs, so that I may build it.”
6. And the king said to me (the queen also sitting by him), “For how long shall your journey be? And when will you return?” So it pleased the king to send me, and I set him a time.
7. And I said to the king, “If it please the king, let letters be given me to the governors beyond the River, so that they may let me pass through until I come to Judah,
8. And a letter to Asaph the keeper of the king’s forest, so that he may give me timber to make beams for the gates of the palace which belong to the house, and for the wall of the city, and for the house into which I shall enter.” And the king granted me what I asked, according to the good hand of my God upon me.
9. And I came to the governors of the province beyond the River and gave them the king’s letters. Now the king had sent captains of the army and horsemen with me.

10. And when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, heard, it grieved them very much that there had come a man to seek the welfare of the children of Israel.

11. And I came to Jerusalem and was there three days.

12. And I arose in the night, I and a few men with me. And I did not tell it to anyone what my God had put in my heart to do at Jerusalem. And there was no animal with me except the one that I rode upon.

13. And I went out by night by the Valley Gate, even towards the Dragon’s Well, and to the Dung Gate, and viewed the walls of Jerusalem which were broken down, and its gates which were burned by fire.

14. And I went on to the Fountain Gate and to the King’s Pool, but there was no place for the animal that was under me to pass.

15. Then I went up in the night by the valley and viewed the wall, and turned back, and entered by the Valley Gate, and returned.

16. And the rulers did not know where I had gone, nor what I was doing. Nor had I told it to the Jews as yet, nor to the priests, nor to the nobles, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest doing the work.

17. Then I said to them, “You see the distress that we are in, how Jerusalem lies waste, and the gates of it are burned by fire. Come and let us build up the wall of Jerusalem, so that we may no more be a reproach.”

18. And I told them of the hand of my God which was good upon me, and also the king’s words that he had spoken to me. And they said, “Let us rise up to build.” So they made their hands strong for the good.

19. But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian, heard, they laughed us to scorn, and despised us. And they said, “What is this that you do? Will you rebel against the king?”

20. Then I answered them and said to them, “The God of heaven, He will prosper us, and we, His servants, will arise and build. But you have no portion or right or memorial in Jerusalem.”

CHAPTER THREE

1. Then Eliashib the high priest rose up with his brethren the priests, and they built the Sheep Gate. They sanctified it and set up its doors, even to the Tower of the Hundred they sanctified it, and to the Tower of Hananeel.

2. And next to him the men of Jericho built. And next to them Zaccur the son of Imri built.

3. Then the sons of Hassenaah built the Fish Gate, laid its beams and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars.

4. And next to them Meremoth the son of Uriah, the son of Hakkoz, repaired. And next to them Meshullam the son of Berechiah, the son of Meshezabel, repaired. And next to them Zadok the son of Baana repaired.

5. And next to them the Tekoites repaired, but their nobles did not put their necks to the work of their Lord.

6. And the Old Gate was repaired by Joiada the son of Paseah and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah. They laid its beams and set up its doors and its locks and its bars.

7. And next to them Melatiah of Gibeon repaired, and Jadon of Meron, the men of Gibeon and of Mizpah, to the throne of the governor beyond the River.

8. Next to him Uzziel the son of Harhaiah, of the goldsmiths, repaired. And next to him Hananiah, the son of one of the perfumers, repaired. And they restored Jerusalem even unto the Broad Wall.

9. And next to them Rephaiah the son of Hur, the ruler of the half part of Jerusalem, repaired.

10. Next to them Jedaiah the son of Hurrampah repaired, even across from his house. And next to him Hattush the son of Hashabniah repaired.

11. Malchijah the son of Harim and Hashub the son of Pahath-Moab, repaired another section, and the Tower of the Furnaces.

12. And next to him Shallum the son of Halloesh, the ruler of the half part of Jerusalem, he and his daughters repaired.

13. Hanun, and the people of Zanoah, repaired the Valley Gate. They built it, and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars, and a thousand cubits on the wall to the Dung Gate.

14. But the Dung Gate was repaired by Malchijah the son of Rechab, the ruler of part of Beth-Haccerem. He built it and set up its doors, its locks, and its bars.
15. And the Fountain Gate was repaired by Shallum the son of Col-Hozeh, the ruler of the district of Mizpah. He built it and covered it, and set up its doors, its locks and its bars, and the wall of the Pool of Shelah by the king’s garden, and to the stairs that go down from the City of David.
16. After him Nehemiah the son of Az-buk, the ruler of the half part of Beth-Zur, repaired the place across from the tombs of David, and to the pool that was made, and to the house of the mighty men.
17. After him the Levites, Rehum the son of Bani, repaired. Next to him Hashabiah, the ruler of the half part of Keilah, repaired in his part.
18. After him their brethren, Bavai the son of Henadad, the ruler of the half part of Keilah, repaired.
19. And next to him, Ezer the son of Jeshua, the ruler of Mizpah, repaired another section across from the ascent to the armory at the corner of the wall.
20. After him Baruch the son of Zabbai earnestly repaired another section from the corner of the wall to the door of the house of Eliashib the high priest.
21. After him Meremoth the son of Uriah the son of Hakkoz repaired another section from the door of the house of Eliashib even to the end of the house of Eliashib.
22. And after him the priests, the men of the plain, repaired.
23. After him Benjamin and Hashub repaired across from their house. After him Azariah the son of Maseeha the son of Ananiah repaired beside his house.
24. After him Binnui the son of Henadad repaired another section from the house of Azariah to the corner of the wall even to the tower.
25. Palal the son of Uzzai repaired across from the corner of the wall and the tower projecting from the king’s upper house by the court of the prison. After him Pedaiah the son of Parosh repaired.
26. And the temple servants who lived in Ophel repaired across from the Water Gate toward the east and the tower that projected out.
27. After them the Tekoites repaired another section, opposite the great tower that projected out, even to the wall of Ophel.
28. The priests repaired from above the Horse Gate, every one across from his house.
29. After them Zadok the son of Immer repaired across from his house. After him Shemaiah the son of Shechaniah, the keeper of the East Gate, repaired.
30. After him Hananiah the son of Shelemiah, and Hanun the sixth son of Zalaph repaired another section. After him Meshullam the son of Berechiah repaired across from his room.
31. After him Malchijah the goldsmith’s son repaired to the place of the temple servants and of the merchants, across from the Miphkad Gate, and to the going up of the corner.
32. And between the going up of the corner to the Sheep Gate, the goldsmiths and the merchants repaired.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. But it came to pass when Sanballat heard that we built the wall, he was angry and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.
2. And he spoke before his brethren and the army of Samaria, and said, “What are these feeble Jews doing? Will they restore their wall? Will they sacrifice? Will they bring to life the stones out of the heaps of the rubbish which are burned?”
3. And Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and he said, “Even that which they build, if a fox goes up, he shall even break down their stone wall.”
4. Then Nehemiah prayed, “Hear, Oh our God, for we are despised. And turn their reproach upon their own head, and give them for a prey in the land of captivity.”
5. And do not cover their iniquity, and do not let their sin be blotted out before You, for they have thrown insults in the face of the builders.
6. So we built the wall, and all the wall was joined together to half its height, for the people had a mind to work.
7. But it came to pass when Sanballat and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites heard that the walls of Jerusalem had gone up, and that the breaks were being filled, they were very angry.
8. And all of them conspired together to come and fight against Jerusalem and to hinder it.
9. But we made our prayer to our God, and set a watch against them day and night, because of them.
10. And Judah said, “The strength of the carriers of burdens is weakening, and there is much rubbish, so that we are not able to build the wall.”
11. And our foes have said, “They shall not know, or see, until we come in the middle of them, and kill them, and cause the work to cease.”
12. And it came to pass when the Jews who lived near them came in, they said to us ten times, “At any of the places that you turn to, they will attack us.”
13. Therefore I stationed myself in the lower places behind the wall and on the higher places. I even set the people according to their families with their swords, their spears, and their bows.
14. And I looked and rose up, and said to the nobles and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, “Do not be afraid of them. Remember the LORD, Who is great and awesome, and fight for your brethren, your sons, and your daughters, your wives, and your houses.”
15. Now it came to pass when our enemies heard that it was known to us, and that God had brought their counsel to nothing, all of us returned to the wall, each one to his work.
16. And it was from that time forth that half of my servants built on the wall, and the other half of them held the spears, the shields, and the bows, and the scale armor. And the rulers were behind all the house of Judah,
17. The ones who built on the wall, and the ones who carried burdens; with those who were lifting, with one hand they did their work, and with the other they held a weapon.
18. As for the builders, each one had his sword tied by his side and continued building. And he who sounded the trumpet was beside me.
19. And I said to the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, “The work is great and large, and we are separated upon the wall, far from one another.
20. In whatever place you hear the sound of the trumpet, gather there to us. Our God will fight for us.”
21. So we labored in the work. And half of them held the spears from the rising of the morning until the stars appeared.
22. Also at the same time I said to the people, “Let everyone with his assistant stay inside Jerusalem, so that in the night they may be a guard to us, and labor in the day.”
23. And neither I, nor my brethren, nor my servants, nor the men of the guard who followed me, none of us put off our clothes—even everyone who went to the water took his weapon.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. And there was a great cry of the people and of their wives against their brethren the Jews,
2. For certain ones said, “We, our sons and our daughters, are many. Let us get grain for them, so that we may eat and live.”
3. There were also some who said, “We have mortgaged our lands, vineyards, and houses. Let us buy grain because of the famine.”
4. There were also some who said, “We have borrowed money on our lands and vineyards for the king’s tax.
5. Yet now our flesh is like the flesh of our brethren, our children as their children. And, lo, we bring our sons and our daughters into bondage, to be servants, and some of our daughters are brought into bondage already. And there is no power for our hand to redeem them, for other men have our lands and vineyards.”
6. And I was very angry when I heard their cry and these words.
7. And I considered this within my heart, and I rebuked the nobles and the rulers, and said to them, “You exact interest, each one from his brother!” And I held a great assembly against them.
8. And I said to them, “According to our ability we have redeemed our brethren, the Jews who were sold to the nations. And will you even sell your brethren? Or shall they be sold to us?” And they were silent because they had nothing to say.
9. And I said, “What you do is not good. Should you not walk in the fear of our God because of the reproach of the heathen our enemies?
10. And also I, my brethren and my servants are lending them money and grain.
Please let us stop this lending with usury.
11. Please, even today, give back to them their fields, their vineyards, their olive groves, and their houses—also the percent charged on the money and on the grain, the wine, and the oil that you have taken from them.”
12. And they said, “We will restore and will require nothing from them. So we will do as you say.” Then I called the priests and took an oath from them that they should do according to this promise.
13. Also I shook out the fold in my robe, and said, “So let God shake out every man from his house, and from his labor, who does not keep this promise, even he be shaken out this way and emptied.” And all the congregation said, “Amen,” and praised the LORD. And the people did according to this promise.
14. Moreover, from the time that I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, from the twentieth year even to the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes the king, twelve years, I and my brethren have not eaten the bread of the governor.
15. But the former governors that had been before me laid burdens upon the people, and had taken bread and wine from them, besides forty shekels of silver. Yea, even their servants bore rule over the people. But I did not do this because of the fear of God.
16. And I also continued in the work of this wall. Nor did we buy any land. And all my servants were gathered there to the work.
17. Moreover, at my table were a hundred and fifty of the Jews and rulers, besides those who came to us from among the nations that are around us.
18. And that which was prepared daily was one ox and six choice sheep; and birds were prepared; and once in ten days an abundance of all sorts of wine. Yet for all this I did not demand the bread of the governor because the bondage was heavy upon this people.
19. Remember me, my God, for good, according to all that I have done for this people.

CHAPTER SIX

1. Now it came to pass, when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there was no breach left in it (though at that time I had not set the doors on the gates),

2. That Sanballat and Geshem sent to me, saying, “Come, let us meet together in one of the villages in the plain of Ono.” But they thought to do me harm.

3. And I sent messengers to them, saying, “I am doing a great work, so I cannot come down. Why should the work cease while I leave it and come down to you?”

4. And they sent to me this word four times. And I answered them in the same way.

5. Then Sanballat sent his servant to me in the same way the fifth time with an open letter in his hand, in which was written,

6. “It is reported among the nations, and Gashmu says it, that you and the Jews are thinking of rebelling, for this reason you build the wall, so that you may be their king, according to these words.

7. And you have also set up prophets to proclaim of you at Jerusalem, saying, ‘There is a king in Judah.’ And now it shall be reported to the king according to these words. And now come and let us talk it over together.”

8. And I sent to him saying, “There are no such things done as you say, but you are inventing them in your own mind,”

9. For they all were trying to make us afraid, saying, “Their hands shall be weakened from the work so that it may not be done.” Now therefore, O God, make my hands strong.

10. And I came to the house of Shemaiah, the son of Delaiah the son of Mehetabel, who was shut up. And he said, “Let us meet together in the house of God, inside the temple, and let us shut the doors of the temple, for they will come to kill you. Yea, in the night they will come to kill you.”

11. And I said, “Should such a man as I flee? And who, being as I am, would go into the temple to save his life? I will not go in.”

12. And, behold, I discerned that God had not sent him, but that he said this prophecy against me because Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13. Therefore he was hired that I should be made afraid, and do so, and I should sin, and then they would give me a bad name to discredit me.
14. Remember, O my God, Tobiah and Sanballat according to these their works, and on the prophetess Noadiah, and the rest of the prophets who would have put me in fear.
15. And the wall was finished in the twenty-fifth day of Elul, in fifty-two days.
16. And it came to pass when all our enemies heard, and all the nations around us saw these things, they lost confidence in their own eyes, for they perceived that this work was done by our God.
17. And in those days the nobles of Judah sent many letters to Tobiah; and Tobiah’s letters came to them,
18. For many in Judah were sworn to him because he was the son-in-law of Shechaniah the son of Arah, and his son Jehohanan had married the daughter of Meshullam the son of Berechiah.
19. Also they spoke of his good deeds before me and told my words to him. Tobiah sent letters to put me in fear.

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. Now it came to pass when the wall was built, and I had set up the doors, and the gatekeepers and the singers and the Levites were appointed,
2. I gave my brother Hanani, and Hananiah the ruler of the palace, charge over Jerusalem, for he was a faithful man and feared God more than many.
3. And I said to them, “Do not let the gates of Jerusalem be opened until the sun is hot. And while they stand on guard, let them shut and bar the doors. And set guards from the people of Jerusalem, each one in his watch, and each one to be across from his house.”
4. And the city was large and great, but the people in it were few, and the houses not built.
5. And my God put into my heart to gather together the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, so that they might be counted by genealogy. And I found a register of the genealogy of those who came up at the first. And I found written in it:
6. These are the children of the province who went up out of the captivity, of those who had been carried away, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away. And they came again to Jerusalem and to Judah, every one to his city,
7. And came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum, Baanah. The number of the men of the people of Israel was this:
8. The sons of Parosh, two thousand one hundred and seventy-two.
9. The sons of Shephatiah, three hundred and seventy-two.
10. The sons of Arah, six hundred and fifty-two.
11. The sons of Pahath-Moab, of the sons of Jeshua and Joab, two thousand, eight hundred and eighteen.
12. The sons of Elam, a thousand two hundred and fifty-four.
13. The sons of Zattu, eight hundred and forty-five.
14. The sons of Zaccai, seven hundred and sixty.
15. The sons of Binnui, six hundred and forty-eight.
16. The sons of Bebai, six hundred and twenty-eight.
17. The sons of Azgad, two thousand three hundred and twenty-two.
18. The sons of Adonikam, six hundred and sixty-seven.
19. The sons of Bigvai, two thousand and sixty-seven.
20. The sons of Adin, six hundred and fifty-five.
21. The sons of Ater of Hezekiah, ninety-eight.
22. The sons of Hashum, three hundred and twenty-eight.
23. The sons of Bezai, three hundred and twenty-four.
24. The sons of Hariph, a hundred and twelve.
25. The sons of Gibeon, ninety-five.
26. The men of Bethlehem and Netophah, a hundred and eighty-eight.
27. The men of Anathoth, a hundred and twenty-eight.
28. The men of Beth-Azaziah, forty-two.

61. And these were they who went up from Tel-Melah, Tel-Haresha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer. But they could not show their father’s house nor their seed, whether they were of Israel:
62. The sons of Delaiah, the sons of Tobiah, the sons of Nekoda, six hundred and forty-two.
63. And of the priests: the sons of Habaiah, the sons of Hakkoz, the sons of Barzillai, who took one of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite to wife, and was called after their name.
64. These sought their register among those who were reckoned by genealogy, but it was not found. Therefore they were excluded, as defiled, from the priesthood.
65. And the governor said to them that they should not eat of the holy things until there stood up a priest with Urim and Thummim.
66. All the congregation together was forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty.

71. And some of the chiefs of the fathers gave to the treasury of the work twenty thousand drams of gold and two thousand two hundred minas of silver.
72. And what the rest of the people gave was twenty thousand drams of gold and two thousand minas of silver, and sixty-seven priestly garments.
73. And the priests, and the Levites, and the gatekeepers, and the singers, and some of the people, and the temple servants, and all Israel, lived in their cities. And when the seventh month came, the children of Israel were in their cities.

CHAPTER EIGHT
1. Then all the people gathered themselves as one man into the street before the Water Gate. And they spoke to Ezra the scribe to bring the Book of the Law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded to Israel.
2. And Ezra the priest brought the law before the congregation, both of men and women, and all that could hear with understanding, upon the first day of the seventh month.
3. And he read from it in the open square in front of the Water Gate from daybreak until noon in front of the men and the women, and those who could understand. And the ears of all the people were attentive to the Book of the Law.
4. And Ezra the scribe stood upon a pulpit of wood which they had made for the scribe, even to understand the words which had been declared to them.
5. And Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people, for he was above all the people. And when he opened it, all the people stood up.
6. And Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God. And all the people answered, “Amen. Amen,” lifting up their hands.
7. And they bowed their heads and worshiped the LORD with their faces to the ground.
8. And Jeshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodijah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, namely the Levites caused the people to understand the law. And the people stood in their place.
9. And Nehemiah, the governor, and Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites who taught the people, said to all the people, “This day is holy to the LORD your God. Do not mourn or weep,” for all the people wept when they heard the words of the law.
10. Then he said to them, “Go, eat the fat and drink the sweet, and send portions to those for whom nothing is prepared, for this day is holy to our Lord. And do not be sorry, for the joy of the LORD is your strength.”
11. And the Levites calmed all the people, saying, “Be still, for the day is holy. And do not be grieved.”
12. And all the people went to eat, and to drink, and to send portions, and to celebrate with great joy, because they had understood the words which had been declared to them.
13. And on the second day the chief of the fathers of all the people, the priests, and the Levites, were gathered to Ezra the scribe, even to understand the words of the law.
14. And they found written in the law, which the LORD had commanded by Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in booths in the feast of the seventh month,
15. And that they should publish and proclaim in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, “Go forth to the mountain and bring olive branches and oil tree branches and myrtle branches and palm branches, and branches of thick trees to make booths, as it is written.”
16. And the people went out and brought them and made themselves booths, each one upon his roof, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of God, and in the street of the Water Gate, and in the street of the Gate of Ephraim.
17. And all the congregation of those who had come again out of the captivity made booths and dwelt in the booths, for since the days of Joshua the son of Nun until that day, the children of Israel had not done so. And there was very great gladness.
18. Also day by day, from the first day until the last day, he read in the Book of the Law of God. And they kept the feast seven days, and on the eighth was an assembly, according to the ordinance.
CHAPTER NINE

1. And on the twenty-fourth day of this month, the children of Israel were gathered with fasting and with sackcloth, and with earth upon them.
2. And the seed of Israel separated themselves from all strangers, and stood and confessed their sins and the iniquities of their fathers.
3. And they stood up in their place and read in the Book of the Law of the LORD their God a fourth part of the day. And another fourth part they confessed and worshiped the LORD their God.
4. And Jeshua, Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani and Chenani stood upon the stairs of the Levites and cried with a loud voice to the LORD their God.
5. And the Levites: Jeshua, and Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabniah, Sherebiah, Hodijah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah, they said: “Stand up and bless the LORD your God forever and ever. And blessed be Your glorious name, which is exalted above all blessing and praise.
6. You, even You, are LORD alone. You have made heaven, the heaven of the heavens, with all their host, the earth and all things upon it, the seas and all in them, and You preserve them all. And the host of heaven worships You.
7. You are the LORD, the God Who chose Abram and brought him out of Ur of the Chaldees, and gave him the name of Abraham.
8. And found his heart faithful before You, and made a covenant with him to give the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Jebusites, and the Girgashites, to give it to his seed. And You have performed Your words, for You are righteous.
9. And You saw the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their cry by the Red Sea.
10. And performed signs and wonders upon Pharaoh and upon all his servants and upon all the people of his land, for You knew that they were acting arrogantly against them. So You made a name for Yourself, as it is this day.
11. And You divided the sea before them, so that they went through the midst of the sea upon the dry land. And their pursuers You hurls into the deep, like a stone into the mighty waters.
12. And You led them in the day by a pillar of cloud, and in the night by a pillar of fire to give them light in the way in which they should go.
13. And You came down on Mount Sinai, and spoke with them from heaven, and gave them just ordinances and laws of truth, good statutes and commandments.
14. And You made known to them Your holy Sabbath and provided them commandments, statutes, and a law, by the hand of Moses Your servant.
15. And You gave them bread from heaven for their hunger and brought forth water for them out of the rock for their thirst. And You told them that they should go in to possess the land which You had lifted up Your hand to give them.
16. But they and our fathers acted proudly and hardened their necks, and did not hearken to Your commandments.
17. And they refused to obey; neither were they mindful of Your wonders which You did among them. But they hardened their necks, and in their rebellion appointed a captain to return to their bondage. But You are a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and did not forsake them.
18. Yea, when they had made them a molten calf, and said, ‘This is your god who brought you up out of Egypt,’ and had worked great provocations,
19. Yet You in Your great mercies did not forsake them in the wilderness. The pillar of the cloud did not depart from before them by day to lead them in the way, nor the pillar of fire by night to show them light and the way in which they should go.
20. You also gave Your good spirit to instruct them, and did not withhold Your manna from their mouth, and gave them water for their thirst.
21. Yea, forty years You sustained them in the wilderness. They lacked nothing; their clothes did not become old, and their feet did not swell.
22. And You gave them kingdoms and people, and divided them into districts. And they possessed the land of Sihon, and the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of Og, king of Bashan.
23. And You multiplied their children... like the stars of the heavens and brought them into the land concerning which You said to their fathers that they should go in to possess it.

24. And the children went in and possessed the land, and You subdued the people of the land before them, the Canaanites, and gave them into their hands, with their kings and the people of the land, so that they might do with them as they would.

25. And they took strong cities and a rich land, and possessed houses full of all goods, wells already dug, vineyards and olive groves, and fruit trees in abundance. And they ate and were filled, and became fat, and delighted themselves in Your great goodness.

26. But they were disobedient and rebelled against You, and cast Your law behind their backs. And they killed Your prophets who testified against them to turn them to You, and they worked great provocations.

27. Therefore You delivered them into the hand of their enemies, who troubled them. And in the time of their trouble, they cried to You, and You heard from heaven. And according to Your manifold mercies, You gave them deliverers, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies.

28. But after they had rest, they did evil again before You. Therefore, You left them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had rule over them. Yet when they returned and cried to You, You heard from heaven. And many times You delivered them according to Your mercies.

29. And testified against them that You might bring them back to Your law. Yet they acted arrogantly and did not hearken to Your commandments, but sinned against Your ordinances (which if a man do, he shall live in them), and presented a stubborn shoulder, and hardened their neck, and would not hear.

30. Yet for many years You had patience with them, and admonished them by Your spirit, through Your prophets, but they would not give ear. And You gave them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31. But in Your great mercies, You did not completely destroy them nor forsake them, for You are a gracious and merciful God.

32. Now therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the awesome God, Who keeps covenant and mercy, let not all the trouble seem little before You that has come upon us, on our kings, on our rulers, and on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all Your people since the time of the kings of Assyria to this day.

33. But You are just in all that is brought upon us, for You have dealt truthfully, but we have done wickedly.

34. And our kings, our rulers, our priests, and our fathers have not kept Your law, nor hearkened to Your commandments and Your warnings with which You testified against them.

35. They have not served You in their kingdom, and in Your great goodness which You gave them, and in the large and rich land which You gave before them, neither did they turn from their evil ways.

36. Behold, we are servants this day. And the land that You gave to our fathers to eat its fruit, and its goodness, behold, we are servants in it.

37. And it yields much increase to the kings whom You have set over us because of our sins. And they are ruling over our bodies and over our livestock at their pleasure, and we are in great distress.

38. And because of all this we are making a sure covenant and writing it, and our princes, Levites, and priests are sealing it.”

CHAPTER TEN

1. And those who sealed it were, Nehemiah, the governor, the son of Hachaliah, and Zedekiah,

2. Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah,

3. Pashhur, Amariah, Malchijah,

11. Micha, Rehob, Hashabiah,
12. Zaccur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah,
13. Hodijah, Bani, and Beninu.
14. The chief of the people were Parosh,

17. Ater, Hezekiah, Azzur,
18. Hodijah, Hashum, Bezai,
19. Hariph, Anathoth, Nebai,
20. Magpiash, Meshullam, Hezir,
21. Meshezabel, Zadok, Jaddua,
22. Pelatiah, Hanan, Anaiah,
23. Hoshea, Hananiah, Hashshub,
24. Halloesh, Pilha, Shobek,
25. Rehum, Hashabnah, Maaseiah,
26. Ahijah, Hanan, Anan,
27. Malluch, Harim, and Baanah.
28. And the rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the temple servants, and all those who had separated from the people of the lands to the law of God, their wives, their sons, and their daughters (everyone who had knowledge, and who had understanding), 29. They have joined with their brethren, their nobles, and have entered into a curse and into an oath to walk in God’s law, which was given by Moses the servant of God, and to observe to do all the commandments of the L ORD our Lord, and His ordinances and His statutes;
30. And that we would not give our daughters to the people of the land nor take their daughters for our sons.
31. And if the people of the land should bring goods or any food on the Sabbath day to sell it, that we would not buy it from them on the Sabbath or on a holy day, and that we would forego the seventh year’s produce and the exacting of every debt.
32. Also we put commands upon ourselves to charge ourselves yearly with the third part of a shekel for the service of the house of our God, 33. For the showbread, and for the continual grain offering, and for the continual burnt offering, for the Sabbaths, for the new moons, for the set feasts, and for the holy things, and for the sin offerings to make an atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our God.
34. And we cast lots among the priests, and the Levites, and the people for the wood offering to bring it into the house of our God, according to the houses of our fathers, at times appointed year by year, to burn upon the altar of the L ORD
our God, as it is written in the law;
35. And to bring the firstfruits of our ground and the firstfruits of all fruit of all trees, year by year, to the house of the
L ORD;
36. And to bring the firstborn of our sons and of our livestock, as it is written in the law, and the firstlings of our herds and of of our flocks, to bring to the house of our God, to the priests who minister in the house of our God;
37. And that we should bring the firstfruits of our dough, and our offerings, and the fruit of all kinds of trees, of wine and of oil, to the priests, to the rooms of the house of our God; and the tithes of our ground to the Levites for the Levites are they who collect the tithes in all the towns where we work.
38. And the priest, the son of Aaron, shall be with the Levites when the Levites take tithes, and the Levites shall bring up the tithe of the tithes to the house of our God, to the rooms, into the treasure house,
39. For the children of Israel and the children of Levi shall bring the offering of the grain, of the new wine, and the oil to the rooms where the vessels of the sanctuary are, and the priests who minister, and the gatekeepers and the singers.
And we will not forsake the house of our God.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. And the rulers of the people lived at Jerusalem. And the rest of the people cast lots to bring one of every ten to live in Jerusalem, the holy city, and nine parts in other cities.
2. And the people blessed all the men who willingly offered themselves to live at Jerusalem.
3. And these are the rulers of the province who lived in Jerusalem. But in the cities of Judah everyone lived on his property in their cities: Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the temple servants,
and the children of Solomon’s servants.
4. And at Jerusalem lived certain of the children of Judah and of the children of

21. But the temple servants lived in Ophel; and Ziba and Gishpa were over the temple servants.
22. And the overseer of the Levites at Jerusalem was Uzzi the son of Bani, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Micha. Of the sons of Asaph, the singers were over the business of the house of God.
23. For it was the king’s commandment concerning them and a firm ordinance that a certain portion should be for the singers, due for every day.
24. And Pethahiah the son of Meshezabel, of the children of Zerah the son of Judah, was at the king’s hand in all matters concerning the people.
25. And for the villages with their fields, some of the children of Judah lived at Kirjath-Arba and in its villages, and at Dibon and in its villages, and at Jekabzeel and its villages,
26. And at Jeshua, and at Moladah, and at Beth-Phelet,
27. And at Hazar-Shual, and at Beer-sheba and in its villages,

22. The Levites in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, and Johanan, and Jaddua, were recorded chief of the fathers and the priests in the reign of Darius the Persian.

23. The sons of Levi, the chief of the fathers, were written in the book of the chronicles, even until the days of Johanan the son of Eliashib.

24. And the chief of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, with their brothers next to them, to praise and to give thanks, according to the command of David the man of God, section corresponding to section.

25. Mattaniah, Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were guarding the gates at the thresholds of the gates.

26. These were in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, the son of Joza-dak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor, and of Ezra the priest, the scribe.

27. And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem, they sought the Levites out of all their places to bring them to Jerusalem, to keep the dedication with gladness, and with thanksgiving, and with singing, with cymbals, harps and with lyres.

28. And the sons of the singers gathered themselves, both out of the plain country around Jerusalem, and from the villages of the Netophathi;

29. And from the house of Gilgal, and out of the fields of Geba and Azmaveth (for the singers had built themselves villages all around Jerusalem).

30. And the priests and the Levites purified themselves. And they purified the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31. Then I brought up the rulers of Judah onto the wall, and also chose two great choirs that gave thanks and went in procession to the right upon the wall toward the Dung Gate.

32. And after them went Hoshaiah and half the rulers of Judah,

33. And Azariah, Ezra, and Meshullam,

34. Judah, and Benjamin, and Shemaiah, and Jeremiah,

35. And certain of the priests’ sons with trumpets: Zechariah the son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Michaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph,

36. And his brethren, Shemaiah, and Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maaia, Nethanel, and Judah, Hanani, with the musical instruments of David the man of God, and with Ezra the scribe before them.

37. And at the Fountain Gate, across from them, they went up by the stairs of the city of David, at the going up of the wall, above the house of David, even to the Water Gate eastward.

38. And the second choir went in the opposite direction, and I after them, with half of the people upon the wall, past the Tower of the Furnaces even to the Broad Wall,

39. And from above the Gate of Ephraim, and by the Old Gate, and by the Fish Gate, and the Tower of Hananel, and the Tower of Meah, even to the Sheep Gate. And they stood still in the Prison Gate.

40. So stood the two praise choirs to give thanks in the house of God, and I and half of the rulers with me.

41. And the priests, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Minjamin, Michah, Elieoenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah were with trumpets;

42. And Maaseiah, and Shemaiah, and Eleazar, and Uzzi, and Jehohanan, and Malchijah, and Elam, and Ezer. And the singers sang loudly with Jezrahiah their overseer.

43. And that day they offered great sacrifices and rejoiced, for God had made them rejoice with great joy. And the women and the children rejoiced, so that the joy of Jerusalem was heard even afar off.

44. And at that time some were chosen over the rooms for the treasuries, for the offerings, for the firstfruits, and for the tithes, to gather into them out of the fields of the cities the portions appointed by the law for the priests and Levites, for Judah rejoiced for the priests and for the Levites who served.

45. And they kept the charge of their God and the charge of the purification along with the singers and the gatekeepers, according to the command of David and of Solomon his son,

46. For in the days of David and Asaph of old there were chiefs of the singers, and songs of praise and thanksgiving to God.

47. And all Israel gave the portions of the singers and the gatekeepers, every day its portion, in the days of Zerubbabel and in the days of Nehemiah. And they set the holy things apart for the Levites, and the Levites set them apart for the children of Aaron.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. On that day they read in the book of Moses in the ears of the people. And in it was found written that the Ammonite and the Moabite should not come into the congregation of God forever,

2. Because they did not meet the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them so that he should curse them. But our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3. Now it came to pass when they had heard the law, they separated all the mixed multitude from Israel.

4. And before this, Eliashib the priest, who was set over the storerooms of the house of our God, was allied with Tobiah.

5. And he had prepared for himself a large room where they formerly laid the grain offering, the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithes of the grain, the new wine, and the oil, which were commanded to be given to the Levites, and the singers, and the gatekeepers, and the offerings of the priests.

6. But in all this time I was not at Jerusalem, for in the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon, I came to the king. And after some days I asked permission to leave the king.

7. And I came to Jerusalem and understood the evil which Eliashib did for Tobiah in preparing him a room in the courts of the house of God.

8. And it grieved me very much. And I threw all the household goods of Tobiah out of the room.

9. Then I commanded, and they cleansed the rooms. And there I brought again the vessels of the house of God with the grain offering and the frankincense.

10. And I perceived that the portions of the Levites had not been given to them; for the Levites and the singers, who did the work, had gone back, each one to his field.

11. And I contended with the rulers and said, “Why is the house of God forsaken?” And I gathered them together and set them in their place.

12. And all Judah brought the tithe of the grain and the new wine and the oil into the treasuries.

13. And I made treasurers over the treasuries, Shelemiah the priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Levites, Pedaijah. And next to them was Hanan the son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah, for they were counted faithful, and their office was to distribute to their brethren.

14. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, and do not wipe out my good deeds which I have done for the house of my God and for the offices of it.

15. In those days I saw in Judah some treading winepresses on the Sabbath, and bringing in sacks of grain, and loading donkeys and also wine, grapes, and figs, and all kinds of burdens which they brought into Jerusalem on the Sabbath day. And I admonished them on the day in which they sold food.

16. And men of Tyre dwelt therein, who brought fish and all kinds of goods, and sold them on the Sabbath to the children of Judah and in Jerusalem.

17. And I contended with the nobles of Judah and said to them, “What evil thing is this that you do and defile the Sabbath day?

18. Did not your fathers do this, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us and upon this city? Yet you bring more wrath upon Israel by defiling the Sabbath.”

19. And it came to pass when the evening shadows fell on the gates of Jerusalem before the Sabbath, I commanded that the gates should be shut and that they should not be opened until after the Sabbath. And I set some of my servants at the gates, so that there should be no burden brought in on the Sabbath day.

20. And the merchants and sellers of all kinds of goods stayed the night outside Jerusalem once or twice.

21. And I warned them and said to them, “Why do you stay around the wall? If you do so again, I will lay hands on you.” From that time on they did not come any more on the Sabbath.

22. And I commanded the Levites that they should cleanse themselves, and that they should come and keep the gates, to sanctify the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare me according to the greatness of Your mercy.

23. In those days I also saw Jews who had married women from Ashdod, Ammon, and from Moab.

24. And their children spoke half Ashdod’s language and could not speak in the Jews’ language, but according to the language of each people.

25. And I contended with them, and cursed them, and struck certain of them, and plucked off their hair. And I made them swear by the name of God, saying, “You shall not give your daughters to their sons, or take their daughters to your sons, or for yourselves.

26. Did not Solomon, king of Israel, sin by these things? Yet among many nations there was no king like him, who was beloved by his God, and God made him king over all Israel. Yet even him did foreign women cause to sin.

27. Shall we then hearken to you, to do all this great evil, to sin against our God in marrying foreign women?”

28. And one of the sons of Joiada, the son of Eliashib the high priest, was son-in-law to Sanballat the Horonite; and I chased him from me.

29. Remember them, O my God, because they have defiled the priesthood, and the covenant of the priesthood and of the Levites.

30. So I cleansed them from everything foreign, and appointed duties for the priests and the Levites, every one in his task.

31. And for the wood offering, at chosen times, and for the firstfruits. Remember me, O my God, for good!

CHAPTER FIVE

1. And the sons of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel— for he was the firstborn; but since he defiled his father’s bed, his birthright was given to the sons of Joseph the son of Israel, and the genealogy is not to be reckoned according to the birthright;

9. And he lived as far to the east as the entrance of the wilderness from the river Euphrates because their cattle were multiplied in the land of Gilead.
10. And in the days of Saul they made war with the Hagrites, who fell by their hand. And they lived in their tents throughout all the east land of Gilead.
11. And the children of Gad lived opposite them in the land of Bashan as far as Salcah:
12. Joel the chief, and Shapham the next, and Jaanai, and Shaphat in Bashan.

17. All these were counted by genealogies.
in the days of Jotham king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam king of Israel.

18. The sons of Reuben, and the sons of Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh—valiant men, men lifting up shield and sword, and able to shoot with the bow, skillful in war—were forty-four thousand, seven hundred and sixty who went out to the war.

19. And they made war with the Hagrites, with Jetur, and Nephish, and Nodab.

20. And they were helped against them, and the Hagrites were delivered into their hand, and all who were with them, for they cried to God in the battle, and He was pleased to hear them because they put their trust in Him.

21. And they took away their livestock—of their camels, fifty thousand; and of sheep, two hundred fifty thousand, and of their camels, fifty thousand; and of donkeys two thousand; and of men a hundred thousand.

22. For many fell down slain because the war was of God. And they lived in their places until the captivity.

23. And the children of the half-tribe of Manasseh lived in the land. They increased from Bashan to Baal Hermon and Senir, and to Mount Hermon.

24. And these were the heads of the house of their fathers, even Epher, and Ishi, and Eliel, and Azriel, and Jeremiah, and Hodaviah, and Jahdiel, mighty men of war, famous men, heads of the house of their fathers.

CHAPTER TEN

1. And the Philistines fought against Israel. And the men of Israel fled from before the Philistines and fell down slain at Mount Gilboa.

2. And the Philistines followed hard after Saul and after his sons. And the Philistines killed Jonathan and Abinadab, and Malchishua, the sons of Saul.

3. And the battle went sorely against Saul. And the archers hit him, and he was wounded by the archers.

4. And Saul said to his armorbearer, “Draw your sword and thrust me through with it, lest these uncircumcised ones come and abuse me.” But his armorbearer would not, for he was very much afraid. So Saul took a sword and fell on it.
5. And when his armorbearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on the sword and died.
6. So Saul and his three sons died, and all his house died together.
7. And when all the men of Israel in the valley saw that they fled, and that Saul and his sons had died, they left their cities and fled. And the Philistines came and lived in them.
8. And it came to pass on the next day, when the Philistines came to strip the dead, that they found Saul and his sons fallen at Mount Gilboa.
9. And when they stripped him, they took his head and his armor, and sent word into the land of the Philistines all around, to carry news to their idols and to the people.
10. And they put his armor in the house of their gods and fastened his skull in the temple of Dagon.
11. And when all of Jabesh Gilead heard what the Philistines had done to Saul,
12. Then all the mighty men arose and took away the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sons, and brought them to Jabesh. And they buried their bones under the oak in Jabesh and fasted seven days.
13. And David became greater and greater, for the LORD of hosts was with him.
14. And the mighty men of David were the people of the land.
5. And the people of Jebus said to David, “You shall not come in here.” But David took the stronghold of Zion, which is the city of David.
6. And David said, “Whoever strikes the Jebusites first shall be chief and captain.” And Joab the son of Zeruiah went up first and became chief.
7. And David lived in the stronghold. Therefore, they called it the city of David.
8. And he built the city all around, even from Millo all around. And Joab repaired the rest of the city.
9. And David became greater and greater, for the LORD of hosts was with him.
10. And these were the chief of the mighty men whom David had, who strengthened themselves with him in his kingdom, with all Israel to make him king, according to the word of the LORD concerning Israel.
11. And this is the number of the mighty men whom David had: Jashobeam, a Hachmonite, the chief of the captains. He lifted up his spear against three hundred, who were killed by him at one time.
12. And after him was Eleazar the son of Dodo, the Ahohite; he was one of the three mighty men.
13. He was with David at Pasdammim. And there the Philistines were gathered together to battle and a portion of the field was full of barley. And the people fled from before the Philistines.
14. And they set themselves in the middle of that place, and delivered it, and killed the Philistines. And the LORD saved them by a great deliverance.
15. And three of the mighty captains went down to the rock to David into the cave of Adullam. And the Philistine army camped in the Valley of Rephaim.
16. And David was then in the stronghold, and the Philistines’ garrison was then at Bethlehem.
17. And David longed for water and said, “Oh, that someone would give me drink from the water of the well of Bethlehem, which is by the gate!”
18. And the three broke through the Philistine army and drew water out of the well of Bethlehem by the gate, and took it, and brought it to David. But David would not drink it, but poured it out to the LORD.
19. And he said, “May my God forbid me to do this thing. Shall I drink the blood of these men who have put their lives in danger?” For they brought it with their lives, and he was not willing to drink it. These three mighty men did these things.

20. And Abishai the brother of Joab was chief of the three, for lifting up his spear against three hundred, he killed them, and had a name among the three.

21. Of the three, he was more honorable than the two; for he was their captain. However, he did not attain to the first three.

22. Benaiyah the son of Jehoiada, the son of a mighty man of Kabzeel, had done many acts. He killed two lion-like men of Moab. He also went down and killed a lion in a pit on a snowy day.

23. And he killed an Egyptian, a man of stature, five cubits high. And in the Egyptian’s hand was a spear like a weaver’s beam. And he went down to him with a staff and wrenched the spear out of the Egyptian’s hand, and killed him with his own spear.

24. These things Benaiyah the son of Jehoiada did and had the name among the three mighty ones.

25. Behold, he was honorable among the thirty, but did not attain to the first three. And David set him over his guard.

CHAPTER TWELVE

1. And these were the ones who came to David at Ziklag, while banned from the face of Saul the son of Kish. And they were among the mighty men, helpers of the war,

2. Right and left-handed in slinging stones, armed with bows and arrows, from the brethren of Saul, of Benjamin.

3. The chief was Ahiezer, and Joash, the sons of Shemaah the Gibeathite,

4. And Ishmaiah the Gibeonite, a mighty man among the thirty, and over the thirty, and Jeremiah, and Jahaziel, and Johanan, and Jozabad the Gederathite,

5. Eluzai, and Jerimoth, and Bealiah, and Shemariah, and Shephatiah the Haruphite,

6. Elkanah, and Jisshiah, and Azarel, and Joezer, and Jashobeam, the Korahites,

7. Joel, and Jeshobeam, and Azariah, and Jozabad theillez the son of Jozabad the Gederathite,

8. And of the Gadites mighty men separated themselves to David into the stronghold in the wilderness, men of the army for battle, setting in order shield and buckler, and their faces were the faces of a lion, and were as gazelles upon the mountains for swiftness:

9. Ezer the first, Obadiah the second, Eliab the third,
10. Mishmannah the fourth, Jeremiah the fifth,
11. Attai the sixth, Eliel the seventh,
12. Johanan the eighth, Elzabad the ninth,
13. Jeremiah the tenth, Machbanai the eleventh.
14. These were the sons of Gad, captains of the army. One of the least was over a hundred, and the greatest over a thousand.
15. These were they who went over Jordan in the first month when it had overflowed all its banks. And they put all those of the valleys to flight, toward the east and toward the west.
16. And some of the children of Benjamin and Judah came to the stronghold to David.
17. And David went out to meet them, and answered and said to them, “If you have come to me in peace, to help me, my heart shall be knit to you. But if you come to betray me to my enemies, since there is no wrong in my hands, let the God of our fathers look on it and rebuke it.”
18. And the spirit came upon Amasai, chief of the thirty. And he said, “We are yours, David, and on your side, son of Jesse. Peace, peace be upon you, and peace upon your helpers, for your God has helped you.” And David received them and made them captains of the band.
19. And some from Manasseh defected to David when he came with the Philistines to battle against Saul. (But they did not help them, for the lords of the Philistines sent him away on advice, saying, “He will fall to his master Saul to the jeopardy of our heads.”)
20. As he went to Ziklag, there fell to him these from Manasseh: Adnah, and Jozabad, and Jediael, and Michael, and Jozabad, and Elihu, and Zillethai, captains of the thousands who were from Manasseh.
21. And they helped David against the band, for they were all mighty men of valor and were commanders in the army.
22. For at that time they came to David day by day to help him until it was a great army, like an army of God.
23. And these were the numbers of the chiefs of those armed for war who came to David to Hebron, to turn the kingdom of Saul to him, according to the word of the LORD:
24. The sons of Judah bearing shield and spear were six thousand and eight hundred, armed for war.
25. From the sons of Simeon the mighty men of power for the war, seven thousand and one hundred.
26. From the sons of Levi were four thousand and six hundred.
27. And Jehoiada was the leader of the Aaronites, and with him were three thousand and seven hundred.
28. And Zadok, a young man mighty of valor, and of his fathers’ house were twenty-two captains.
29. And the sons of Benjamin, the kindred of Saul, were three thousand. And until then, the greatest part of them had kept their allegiance to the house of Saul.
30. And of the children of Ephraim were twenty thousand and eight hundred mighty men of valor, famous throughout the house of their fathers.
31. And from the half-tribe of Manasseh were eighteen thousand, who were chosen by name to come and make David king.
32. And from the sons of Issachar, men who had understanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to do, the heads of them were two hundred. And all their brethren were at their command.
33. From Zebulun, such as went forth to battle, expert in war, with all the weapons of war, fifty thousand who could keep rank. They were not of a double heart.
34. And from Naphtali, a thousand captains; and with them with shield and spear were thirty-seven thousand.
35. And of the Danites, expert in war, were twenty-eight thousand six hundred.
36. And of Asher, those who could go out with the army to set in order the battle were forty thousand.
37. And on the other side of Jordan, from the Reubenites, and of the Gadites, and from the half-tribe of Manasseh, with all of the weapons of war for battle were a hundred and twenty thousand.
38. All these were men of war, keeping rank, they came with a perfect heart to Hebron to make David king over Israel. And also all the rest of Israel was of one heart to make David king.
39. And they were with David three days, eating and drinking, for their brethren had prepared food for them.
40. And also those who were near them, even to Issachar and Zebulun and Naphtali, brought bread on donkeys, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen. And they brought food, meal, cakes of figs, and bunches of raisins, and wine and oil, and oxen and sheep abundantly, for there was joy in Israel.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. And David consulted with the captains of thousands and hundreds, and with every leader.

2. And David said to all the congregation of Israel, “If it is good to you, and if it is from the LORD our God, let us send to our brethren, those remaining in all the land of Israel, and with them to the priests and Levites in their cities and that they may gather together to us.

3. And let us bring again the ark of our God to us, for we did not inquire at it in the days of Saul.”

4. And all the congregation said that they would do so, for the thing was right in the eyes of all the people.

5. And David gathered all Israel together, from Shihor of Egypt even to the entrance of Hamath, to bring the ark of God from Kirjath Jearim.

6. And David and all Israel went up to Baalah, to Kirjath Jearim of Judah, to bring up from there the ark of the LORD God, He who dwells between the cherubim, Whose name is called on it.

7. And they carried the ark of God in a new cart out of the house of Abinadab. And Uzza and Ahio led the cart.

8. And David and all Israel played before God with all their might, and with singing, and with lyres, and with harps, and with drums, and with cymbals, and with silver trumpets.

9. And when they came to the threshing floor of Chidon, Uzza put out his hand to hold the ark, for the oxen stumbled.

10. And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Uzza, and He struck him because he put his hand to the ark. And he died there before the LORD.

11. And David was displeased because the LORD had broken forth upon Uzza. And he called that place The Breach of Uzza, as it is to this day.

12. And David was afraid of God that day, saying, “How shall I bring the ark of God to me?”

13. And David did not bring the ark to himself in the City of David, but carried it aside into the house of Obed-Edom the Gittite.

14. And the ark of God remained with the family of Obed-Edom in his house three months. And the LORD blessed the house of Obed-Edom and all that he had.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

1. Now Hiram king of Tyre sent messengers to David and timbers of cedars with masons and carpenters to build him a house.

2. And David perceived that the LORD had confirmed him king over Israel, for his kingdom was exalted exceedingly because of His people Israel.

3. And David took more wives at Jerusalem. And David begat more sons and daughters.

4. And these were the names of the children whom he had in Jerusalem: Shamma, and Shobab, Nathan, and Solomon, Ibhar, and Elishua, and Elpalet, Nogah, and Nepheg, and Japhia, Elishama, and Beeliada, and Eliphalet.

5. And the Philistines heard that David was anointed king over all Israel, and all the Philistines went up to seek David. And David heard and went out against them.

6. And they came up to Baal Perazim. And David defeated them there. Then David said, “God has broken forth upon my enemies by my hand like the breaking forth of waters.” Therefore, they called the name of that place The Breaking of Baal.

7. And they left their gods there. And David defeated them there. Then David said, “God has broken forth upon my enemies by my hand like the breaking forth of waters.” Therefore, they called the name of that place The Breaking of Baal.

8. And the Philistines came and spread themselves in the Valley of Rephaim.

9. And David asked again of God. And God said to him, “Do not go up after them. Turn away from them, and come upon them.”

10. And they came up to Baal Perazim. And David defeated them there. Then David said, “God has broken forth upon my enemies by my hand like the breaking forth of waters.” Therefore, they called the name of that place The Breaking of Baal.

11. And they left their gods there. And David commanded, and they were burned with fire.

12. And the Philistines again made a raid in the valley.

13. And David asked again of God. And God said to him, “Do not go up after them. Turn away from them, and come upon them.”
1 Chronicles 14 - 15

1. And David made houses for himself in the City of David, and prepared a place for the ark of God, and pitched a tent for it.

2. Then David said, “No one ought to carry the ark of God except the Levites, for God has chosen them to carry the ark of God and to minister to Him forever.”

3. And David assembled all Israel together to Jerusalem to bring up the ark of the LORD to its place which He had prepared for it.

4. And David gathered the sons of Aaron and the Levites.

5. From the sons of Kohath: Uriel the chief, and a hundred and twenty of his brethren.

6. From the sons of Merari: Asaiah the chief, and two hundred and twenty of his brethren.

7. From the sons of Gershom: Joel the chief, and a hundred and thirty of his brethren.

8. From the sons of Elizaphan: Shemaiah the chief, and two hundred of his brethren.

9. From the sons of Hebron: Eliel the chief and eighty of his brethren.

10. From the sons of Uzziel: Amminadab the chief and a hundred and twelve of his brethren.

11. And David called for Zadok and Abiathar the priests, and for the Levites: for Uriel, Asaiah, and Joel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab.

12. And he said to them, “You are the heads of the fathers of the Levites. Sanctify yourselves, you and your brethren, so that you may bring up the ark of the LORD God of Israel to the place which I have prepared for it.

13. Now because you did not do it at the first, the LORD our God broke forth upon us, since we did not seek Him according to the ordinance.”

14. And the priests and the Levites sanctified themselves in order to bring up the ark of the LORD God of Israel.

15. And the children of the Levites carried the ark of God on their shoulders, with the staves on it, as Moses commanded according to the word of the LORD.

16. And David spoke to the chief of the Levites to appoint their brethren to be the singers with instruments of music, lyres, and harps, and cymbals, sounding aloud and lifting up the voice with joy.

17. And the Levites appointed Heman the son of Joel, and of his brethren, Asaph the son of Berechiah. And from the sons of Merari their brethren, was Ethan the son of Kushaiah.

18. And with them were their brethren of the second degree, Zechariah, Ben, and Jaaziel, and Shimrannah, and Jehiel, and Unni, Eliab, and Maaseiah, and Benaiah, and Mikneiah, and Obed-Edom, and Jeiel, the gatekeepers.

19. And the singers, Heman, Asaph, and Ethan were appointed to sound with cymbals of bronze;

20. And Zechariah, and Asaiah, and Shimrannah, and Jehiel, and Unni, and Eliab, and Maaseiah, and Benaiah with harps set to Alamoth.

21. And Mattithah, and Elipheleth, and Mikneiah, and Obed-Edom, and Jeiel, and Azaziah were to lead with lyres according to the Sheminith.

22. And Chenaniah, chief of the Levites, was over the music. He instructed about the songs because he was skillful.

23. And Berechiah and Elkanah were gatekeepers for the ark.

24. And Shebaniah, and Nethaneel, and Amasai, and Zechariah, and Benahiah, and Eliezer, the priests, blew with the silver trumpets before the ark of God. And Obed-Edom and Jehiah were gatekeepers for the ark.

25. Then David and the elders of Israel, and the captains over thousands, went to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the house of Obed-Edom with joy.

26. And it came to pass when God helped the Levites who bore the ark of first, the LORD our God broke forth upon us, since we did not seek Him according to the ordinance.”

27. And the renown of David went out into all lands. And the L ORD brought the fear of him upon all nations.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

1. And David made houses for himself in the City of David, and prepared a place for the ark of God, and pitched a tent for it.

2. Then David said, “No one ought to carry the ark of God except the Levites, for God has chosen them to carry the ark of God and to minister to Him forever.”

1 Chronicles 15 - 16

the covenant of the LORD, they offered seven bulls and seven rams.
27. And David was clothed with a robe of fine linen with all the Levites who carried the ark, and the singers, and Chenaiah the master of the music with the singers. David also had on an ephod of linen.

28. Thus all Israel brought up the ark of the covenant of the LORD with shouting, and with sounding of the ram’s horn, and with silver trumpets and with cymbals sounding aloud with harps and lyres.

29. And it came to pass as the ark of the covenant of the LORD came to the City of David, Michal the daughter of Saul, looking out a window, saw King David dancing and playing. And she despised him in her heart.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

1. And they brought the ark of God and set it in the middle of the tent which David had pitched for it. And they offered burnt sacrifices and peace offerings before God.

2. And when David had made an end of offering the burnt offering and the peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD.

3. And he divided to every one of Israel, both man and woman, to every one a loaf of bread and a portion of meat and a raisin cake.

4. And he appointed certain of the Levites to minister before the ark of the LORD, and to record, and to thank and praise the LORD God of Israel:

5. Asaph the chief, and next to him Zechariah, Jeiel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehiel, and Mattithiah, and Eliab, and Benaiah, and Obed-Edom. And Jeiel praised with instruments of harps and with lyres; and Asaph made a sound with cymbals.

6. Also Benaiah and Jahaziel the priests praised with silver trumpets continually before the ark of the covenant of God.

7. Then on that day David first delivered this psalm into the hand of Asaph and his brethren in order to thank the LORD:

8. “O give thanks to the LORD, call upon His name, make known His deeds among the people.

9. Sing to Him, sing psalms to Him, tell of all His wondrous works.

10. Glory in His holy name, let the heart of those who seek the LORD rejoice.

11. Seek the LORD and His strength; seek His face continually.

12. Remember His marvelous works which He has done, His wonders, and the judgments of His mouth,

13. O seed of Israel His servant, children of Jacob, His chosen ones.

14. He is the LORD our God. His judgments are in all the earth.

15. Be always mindful of His covenant, the word He commanded to a thousand generations,

16. Even the covenant which He made with Abraham, and of His oath unto Isaac.

17. And He has established it unto Jacob for a law, to Israel for an everlasting covenant,

18. Saying, ‘To you will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance,’

19. When you were but few, even a few, and strangers in it.

20. And they went from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another people,

21. He did not allow any man to do them wrong. Yea, He reproved kings for their sakes,

22. Saying, ‘Touch not My anointed, and do My prophets no harm.’

23. Sing unto the LORD, all the earth. Show forth from day to day His salvation.

24. Declare His glory among the nations, His marvelous works among all people.

25. For great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised. He also is to be feared above all gods,

26. For all the gods of the peoples are idols, but the LORD made the heavens.

27. Glory and honor are in His presence, strength and gladness in His place.

28. Give to the LORD, O you kindred of the people, give to the LORD glory and strength.

29. Give to the LORD the glory due His name; bring an offering and come before Him. Worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness.

30. Tremble before Him, all the earth. Yea, the world is established, it shall not be moved.

31. Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice. And let them say among the nations, ‘The LORD reigns.’
32. Let the sea roar, and the fullness of it. Let the fields rejoice, and all that is in them.
33. Then shall the trees of the forest sing out at the presence of the LORD because He comes to judge the earth.
34. O give thanks to the LORD, for He is good, for His steadfast love endures forever.
35. And say, 'Save us, O God of our salvation, and gather us, and deliver us from forev-
36. Blessed be the LORD God of Israel forever and ever. And all the people said, 'Amen, and praised the LORD.'
37. So he left there before the ark of the covenant of the LORD Asaph and his brethren to minister before the ark continually, as every day's work required;
38. Also Obed-Edom, with their sixty-eight brethren, and Obed-Edom, the son of Jeduthun, and Hosah to be gatekeepers.
39. And he left Zadok the priest and his brethren the priests before the tabernacle of the LORD in the high place at Gibeon,
40. To offer burnt offerings to the LORD upon the altar of the burnt offering morning and evening without end, and to do according to all that is written in the law of the LORD which He commanded Israel.
41. And he left with them Heman and Jeduthun, and the rest who were chosen, who were called by name, to give thanks to the LORD because His steadfast love endures forever.
42. And with them were Heman and Jeduthun with silver trumpets and cymbals for those making a sound, and with musical instruments of God. And the sons of Jeduthun were gatekeepers.
43. And all the people departed, each man to his house. And David returned to bless his house.

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

1. For it came to pass as David sat in his house, David said to Nathan the prophet, "Behold, I dwell in a house of cedars, but the ark of the covenant of the LORD dwells under curtains."
2. And Nathan said to David, "Do all that is in your heart, for God is with you."
3. And it came to pass the same night the word of God came to Nathan, saying,
4. "Go and tell David My servant, "Thus says the LORD, "You shall not build a house for Me to dwell in,
5. For I have not dwelt in a house since the day that I brought up Israel, even to this day, but have gone from tent to tent, and from one tabernacle to another.
6. Wherever I have walked with all Israel, did I speak a word to any of the judges of Israel whom I commanded to feed My people, saying, 'Why have you not built Me a house of cedars?' " "
7. Now therefore, thus shall you say to My servant David, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, "I took you from the pasture, from following the sheep, so that you should be ruler over My people Israel.
8. And I have been with you wherever you have walked, and have cut off all your enemies from before you, and have made you a name like the name of the great men who are in the earth.
9. And I will ordain a place for My people Israel, and will plant them, and they shall live in their place and shall be moved no more; nor shall the children of wickedness waste them any more as at the beginning.
10. And since the time that I commanded judges to be over My people Israel. And I will subdue all your enemies. And I declare to you that the LORD will build you a house.
11. And it shall come to pass, when your days have ended so that you must go to be with your fathers, I will raise up your seed after you, who shall be from your sons. And I will make his kingdom sure.
12. He shall build Me a house, and I will establish his throne forever.
13. I will be his Father, and he shall be My son. And I will not take My steadfast love away from him as I took it from him who was before you.
14. And I will settle him in My house and in My kingdom forever. And his throne shall be established forever." "
15. According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so Nathan spoke to David.
16. And David the king came and sat before the LORD, and said, "Who am I, O LORD God, and what is my house that You have brought me this far?
17. And yet this was a small thing in Your eyes, O God, for You have also spoken of Your servant's house for a great while to come and have regarded me according to the estate of a man of doe degree, O LORD God.
18. What can David say more to You for the honor of Your servant? For You know Your servant!
19. O LORD, for Your servant’s sake, and according to Your own heart, You have done all this greatness in making known all these great things.
20. O LORD, there is none like You; neit-er is there any God besides You, according to all that we have heard with our ears.
21. And what one nation in the earth is like Your people Israel, whom God went to redeem to be His own people, to make for Yourself a name of greatness and terribleness by driving out nations from before Your people whom You have redeemed out of Egypt?
22. And You have chosen Your people Israel for Yourself, for Your own people forever. And You, L ORD, have become their God.
23. And now, O LORD, let the thing which You have spoken, concerning Your servant and concerning his house, be established forever, and do as You have said.
24. Let it even be established, so that Your name may be magnified forever, saying, ‘The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, is God to Israel.’ And let the house of David Your servant be established before You,
25. For You, O my God, have told Your servant that You will build him a house.
Therefore, Your servant has found it in his heart to pray before You.
26. And now, L ORD, You are God, and have promised this goodness to Your servant.
27. And now let it please You to bless the house of Your servant so that it may be before You forever, for You have blessed, O LORD, and it shall be blessed forever.”

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

1. Now after this it came to pass, that David struck the Philistines and humbled them. And he took Gath and its towns out of the hand of the Philistines.
2. And he struck Moab. And the people of Moab became David’s servants and brought gifts.
17. And Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over the Cherethites and the Pelethites. And the sons of David were chief about the king.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

1. Now it came to pass after this, that Nahash the king of the children of Ammon died. And his son reigned in his place.

2. And David said, “I will show kindness to Hanun the son of Nahash because his father showed kindness to me.” And David sent messengers to comfort him concerning his father. And David’s servants came into the land of the children of Ammon to Hanun in order to comfort him.

3. But the rulers of the children of Ammon said to Hanun, “Is David honoring your father in your eyes because he has sent comforters to you? Have not his servants come to you to search and to overthrow and to spy out the land?”

4. And Hanun took David’s servants and shaved them, and cut off their garments in half, to the buttocks, and sent them away.

5. And some came and told David how the men were treated. And he sent to meet them, for the men were greatly ashamed. And the king said, “Stay at Jericho until your beards are grown, and then return.”

6. And the Ammonites saw that they had made themselves odious to David, and Hanun and the Ammonites sent a thousand talents of silver to hire chariots and horsemen out of Mesopotamia and out of Maachah of Syria, and out of Zobah.

7. And they hired thirty-two thousand chariots, and the king of Maachah and his people, who came and pitched before Medeba. And the Ammonites gathered themselves from their cities and came to battle.

8. And when David heard of it, he sent Joab and all the army of the mighty men.

9. And the children of Ammon came out and put the battle in array at the gate of the city. And the kings who had come were by themselves in the field.

10. Now when Joab saw that the battle was set against him before and behind, he chose out of all the choice young men of Israel and set them in array against the Syrians.

11. And he delivered the rest of the people into the hand of his brother Abishai. And they set themselves in array against the children of Ammon.

12. And he said, “If the Syrians are too strong for me, then you shall help me. But if the children of Ammon are too strong for you, then I will help you.

13. Be of good courage and let us behave ourselves valiantly for our people and for the cities of our God. And let the LORD do what is good in His sight.”

14. So Joab and the people with him drew near before the Syrians to the battle. And they fled before him.

15. And when the children of Ammon saw that the Syrians had fled, they also fled before his brother Abishai. And they entered into the city. Then Joab came to Jerusalem.

16. And the Syrians saw that they were beaten before Israel, and sent messengers and brought out the Syrians who were beyond the river. And Shophach the captain of the army of Hadadezer went before them.

17. And it was told to David. And he gathered all Israel and passed over Jordan and came upon them. And he set the battle in array against them. So when David had put the battle in array against the Syrians, they fought against him.

18. But the Syrians fled before Israel. And David killed seven thousand of the Syrians in chariots and forty thousand footmen and he killed Shophach the commander of the army.

19. And the servants of Hadadezer saw that they were beaten before Israel, and they made peace with David and became his servants. And Syria was not willing to help the children of Ammon any more.

CHAPTER TWENTY

1. Now it came to pass, that after the year had ended, at the time kings go forth, Joab led out the power of the army and wasted the country of the children of Ammon. And he came and besieged Rabbah. But David stayed at Jerusalem. And Joab struck Rabbah and destroyed it.

2. And David took the crown of their king from off his head and found it to weigh a talent of gold. And precious stones were in it. And it was set upon David's head, and he also brought exceeding much spoil out of the city.

3. And he brought out the people who were in it. And they cut with saws and with sharp tools of iron, and with the axes. And thus David did with the cities of the children of Ammon. And David and all the people returned to Jerusalem.
4. And it came to pass after this, that there arose war at Gezer with the Philistines. Then Sibbechai the Hushathite killed Sippai of the children of the giant. And they were humbled.
5. And there was war again with the Philistines. And Elhanan the son of Jair killed Lahmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite.
6. And again there was a battle in Gath, and a man of stature was there, and his fingers and toes were twenty-four, six on each hand and six on each foot. And he also was the son of the giant.
7. But he cursed Israel, and Jonathan the son of Shimea, David's brother, killed him.
8. These were born to the giant in Gath. And they fell by the hand of David and by the hand of his servants.

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE
1. Then Satan stood up against Israel and provoked David to number Israel.
2. And David said to Joab and to the rulers of the people, “Go number Israel from Beersheba to Dan. And bring the number of them to me so that I may know.”
3. And Joab answered, “May the LORD add to His people a hundred times, but my lord the king, are they not all my lord’s servants? Why then does my lord require this thing? Why will he be a cause of trespass to Israel?”
4. But the king’s word prevailed against Joab. And Joab departed and went up and down all Israel, and came again to Jerusalem.
5. And Joab gave the sum of the number of the people to David. And in all Israel there were one million and a hundred thousand men who drew the sword. And in Judah were four hundred and seventy thousand men who drew the sword.
6. But Levi and Benjamin he did not count among them, for the king’s word was abominable to Joab.
7. And God was displeased with this thing; therefore He struck Israel.
8. And David said to God, “I have sinned greatly because I have done this thing. But now, I beseech You, remove the iniquity of Your servant for I have done very foolishly.”
9. And the LORD spoke to Gad, David’s seer, saying,
10. “Go and tell David, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD: “I offer you three things. Choose one of them so that I may do it to you.” ’ ”
11. And Gad came to David and said to him, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Choose for yourself:
12. Either three years of famine, or three months to be swept away before your foes, while the sword of your enemies overtakes you, or else three days of the sword of the LORD, even the plague in the land, and the angel of the LORD destroying throughout all the border of Israel.’ And now say what word I shall bring again to Him Who sent me.”
13. And David said to Gad, “I am in great distress. Let me fall now into the hand of the LORD, for His mercies are very great. But do not let me fall into the hand of man.”
14. So the LORD sent a plague upon Israel. And there fell seventy thousand men of Israel.
15. And God sent an angel to Jerusalem to destroy it. And as he was destroying, the LORD looked. And He repented of the evil and said to the angel who destroyed, “Enough! Stay your hand now!” And the angel of the LORD stood by the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.
16. And David lifted up his eyes and saw the angel of the LORD standing between the earth and heaven, and his sword drawn in his hand, stretched out over Jerusalem. And David and the elders of Israel, who were clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces.
17. And David said to God, “Did not I command to number the people? Even I am the one who has sinned and done evil indeed. But these sheep, what have they done? I pray You, let Your hand be upon me, O LORD my God, and upon my father's house, but not upon Your people, that they should be plagued.

18. And the angel of the LORD commanded Gad to say to David that David should go up and set up an altar to the LORD on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

19. And David went up at the word of Gad which he spoke in the name of the LORD.

20. And Ornan turned back and saw the angel. And his four sons with him hid themselves. And Ornan was threshing wheat.

21. And David came to Ornan, and Ornan looked and saw David. And he went out of the threshing floor and bowed to David with his face to the ground.

22. Then David said to Ornan, "Give me the place of this threshing floor, so that I may build an altar on it to the LORD. You shall give it to me for the full price, so that the plague may be stayed from the people."

23. And Ornan said to David, "Take it for yourself, and let my lord the king do what is good in his eyes. Lo, I give the oxen for burnt offerings, and the threshing instruments for wood, and the wheat for the grain offering. I give it all."

24. And King David said to Ornan, "No, but I will truly buy it for the full price, for I will not take what is yours for the LORD, nor offer burnt offerings without cost."

25. And David gave to Ornan for the place six hundred shekels of gold by weight.

26. And David built an altar there to the LORD, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and called upon the LORD. And He answered him from heaven by fire upon the altar of burnt offering.

27. And the LORD commanded the angel, and he put up his sword again into its sheath.

28. At that time, when David saw that the LORD had answered him in the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite, then he sacrificed there.

29. For the tabernacle of the LORD, which Moses made in the wilderness, and the altar of the burnt offering, were at that time in the high place at Gibeon.

30. But David could not go before it to inquire of God, for he was afraid because of the sword of the angel of the LORD.
concerning Israel. Be strong and of good courage. Do not fear, nor be dismayed.
14. And, behold, in my trouble I have prepared for the house of the LORD a hundred thousand talents of gold, and a million talents of silver, and of bronze and iron without weight, for it is in abundance. I have prepared timber also, and stone, and you may add to them.
15. And there are many workmen with you, cutters and workers of stone and timber, and all kinds of skillful men for every kind of work.
16. Of the gold, the silver, and the bronze, and the iron, there is no number. Arise and work, and may the LORD be with you.”
17. And David commanded all the rulers of Israel to help Solomon his son, saying,
18. “Is not the LORD your God with you? And has He not given you rest on every side? For He has given the people of the land into my hand. And the land is subdued before the LORD and before His people.
19. Now set your heart and your soul to seek the LORD your God. Arise therefore and build the sanctuary of the LORD God to bring the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and the holy vessels of God, into the house that is to be built to the name of the LORD.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

1. Now David was old and full of days, and he made his son Solomon king over Israel.
2. And he gathered together all the rulers of Israel with the priests and the Levites.
3. And the Levites were numbered from the age of thirty years and upward. And their number by their heads, man by man, was thirty-eight thousand.
4. Of these, twenty-four thousand were to set forward the work of the house of the LORD, and six thousand officers and judges.
5. And four thousand were gatekeepers, and four thousand praised the LORD with the instruments which David made for praising.
6. And David divided them into courses among the sons of Levi, Gershon, Ko-hath and Merari.
7. Of the men of Gershon were Laadan and Shimei.
8. The sons of Laadan: Jehiel the chief, and Zetham, and Joel, three in all.
9. The sons of Shimei: Shelomith, and Haziel, and Haran, three in all. These were the chief of the fathers of Laadan.
10. And the sons of Shimei: Jahath, Zina, and Jeush, and Beriah. These four were the sons of Shimei.
11. And Jahath was the chief, and Zizah the second. But Jeush and Beriah did not have many sons. Therefore, they were in one roster, according to their father’s house.
12. The sons of Kohath: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel, four in all.
13. The sons of Amram: Aaron and Moses. And Aaron was separated so that he should sanctify the most holy things, and he and his sons forever, to burn incense before the LORD, to minister to Him, and to bless in His name forever.
14. And as to Moses the man of God, his sons were named of the tribe of Levi.
15. The sons of Moses: Gershom and Eliezer.
16. Of the sons of Gershom, Shebuel was the chief.
17. And the sons of Eliezer: Rehabiah the chief. And Eliezer had no other sons, but the sons of Rehabiah were very many.
18. Of the sons of Izhar, Shelomith was the chief;
19. Of the sons of Hebron, Jeriah the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.
20. Of the sons of Uzziel, Michah the first and Jessahiah the second.
22. And Eleazar died and had no sons, but had daughters. And their brethren, the sons of Kish, took them.
23. The sons of Mushi: Mahli, and Eder, and Jeremoth, three in all.
24. These were the sons of Levi after the house of their fathers, the chief of the fathers, as they were counted by number of names by their heads, the ones who did the work for the service of the house of the LORD from the age of twenty years and upward.
25. For David said, “The LORD God of Israel has given rest to His people so that they may dwell in Jerusalem forever;”
26. And also to the Levites, so that they shall no more carry the tabernacle, nor any of its vessels for its service.
27. For by the last words of David the Levites were numbered from twenty years old and above
28. Because their office was to wait on the sons of Aaron for the service of the house of the LORD in the courts and in the chambers, and in the purifying of all holy things, and the work of the service of the house of God
29. Both for the showbread, and for the fine flour for grain offering, and for the unleavened cakes, and for the pan, and for that which is fried, and for all kinds of measure and size,
30. And to stand every morning to thank and praise the LORD, and likewise at evening.
31. And they were to offer all burnt sacrifices to the LORD on the Sabbath, on the new moons, and on the set feasts, by number, according to the order commanded to them, continually before the LORD,
32. And that they should keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the charge of the holy place, and the charge of their brethren, the sons of Aaron, in the service of the house of the LORD.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

1. Now these were the divisions of the sons of Aaron. The sons of Aaron: Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.
2. But Nadab and Abihu died before their father and had no sons. And Eleazar and Ithamar were priests.
3. And David distributed them according to their offices in their service, both Zadok of the sons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sons of Ithamar.
4. And there were more chief men found of the sons of Eleazar than of the sons of Ithamar. And so they were divided. Among the sons of Eleazar were sixteen chief men of the house of their fathers, and eight among the sons of Ithamar according to the house of their fathers.
5. So they divided them by lot, one sort with another, for the governors of the sanctuary, and governors of the house of God, were of the sons of Eleazar, and of the sons of Ithamar.
6. And Shemaiah the son of Nethanel the scribe, of the Levites, wrote them before the king, and the rulers, and Zadok the priest, and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar, and before the chief of the fathers of the priests and Levites. One principal household was taken for Eleazar and one taken for Ithamar.
7. Now the lot for the first course came out to Jehoiarib, the second to Jedaiah,
8. The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,
9. The fifth to Malchijah, the sixth to Mijamin,
10. The seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abijah,
11. The ninth to Jeshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,
12. The eleventh to Eliashib, the twelfth to Jakim,
13. The thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Jeshebeab,
14. The fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,
15. The seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Aphses,
16. The nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezekel,
17. The twenty-first course to Jachin, the twenty-second to Gamul,
18. The twenty-third to Delaiah, the twenty-fourth to Maaziah.
19. These were their courses in their service to come into the house of the LORD, according to their manner, to Aaron their father, as the LORD God of Israel had commanded him.
20. And the rest of the sons of Levi were these: Of the sons of Amram, Shubael; of the sons of Shubael, Jehdeiah.
21. Concerning Rehabiah, of the sons of Rehabiah, the first was Isshiah.
22. Of the Izharites, Shelomoth; of the sons of Shelomoth, Jahath.
23. And the sons of Hebron: Jeriah, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, Jekameam the fourth.
24. Of the sons of Uzziel, Michah. Of the sons of Michah, Shamir.
25. The brother of Michah was Isshiah. Of the sons of Isshiah, Zechariah.
27. The sons of Merari by Jazziath: Beno, and Shoham, and Zaccur, and Ibri.
28. Of Mahli was Eleazar who had no sons.
29. Of Kish, the son of Kish was Jerahmeel.
30. The sons of Mushi: Mahli, and Eder, and Jerimoth. These were the sons of the Levites according to the house of their fathers.

31. And they also cast lots along with their brothers, the sons of Aaron, in the presence of David the king, and Zadok, and Ahimelech, and the chief of the fathers of the priests and Levites, the head of the fathers, as well as with his younger brethren.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

1. Now David separated the army commanders to the service of those of the sons of Asaph, and of Heman, and of Jeduthun, who were prophets with lyres, with harps and with cymbals. And the number of the workmen according to their service was:

2. Of the sons of Asaph, Zaccur, and Joseph, and Nethaniah, and Asharelah, the sons of Asaph under the direction of Asaph, who prophesied according to the order of the king.

3. Of Jeduthun, the sons of Jeduthun: Gedaliah, and Zeri, and Jeshaiah, Hashabiah, and Mattithiah, and Shimei, six, under the hands of their father Jeduthun, who prophesied with the lyre to give thanks and to praise the LORD.

5. All these were the sons of Heman the king’s seer in the words of God to lift up the horn. And God gave to Heman fourteen sons and three daughters.

6. All these were under the hands of their father for music in the house of the LORD with cymbals, harps and lyres for the service of the house of God, according to the king’s order to Asaph, Jeduthun, and Heman.

7. So the number of them with their brethren who were instructed in the songs of the LORD, all that were skillful, was two hundred and eighty-eight.

8. And they cast lots for their duty, the small as well as the great, the teacher as the pupil.

9. And the first lot came out for Asaph to Joseph; the second was to Gedaliah, with his brethren and sons, twelve;

10. The third was to Zaccur, his sons and his brethren, twelve;

11. The fourth was to Jizri, his sons and his brethren, twelve;

18. The eleventh was to Azarel, his sons and his brethren, twelve;

19. The twelfth was to Hashabiah, his sons and his brethren, twelve;

20. The thirteenth was to Shubael, his sons and his brethren, twelve;

21. The fourteenth was to Mattithiah, his sons and his brethren, twelve;

22. The fifteenth was to Jeremoth, his sons and his brethren, twelve;

30. The twenty-third was to Mahazioth, his sons and his brethren, twelve;

31. The twenty-fourth was to Romamti-Ezer, his sons and his brethren, twelve.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

1. Concerning the divisions of the gatekeepers. Of the Korahites: Meshelemiah the son of Kore, of the sons of Asaph.

2. And the sons of Meshelemiah: Zecharias the firstborn, Jedidai the second, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth,

6. Also sons were born to his son Shemaiah who ruled for the house of their father, for they were mighty men of valor.
7. The sons of Shemaiah: Othni, and Rephael, and Obed, Elzabad, whose brethren were strong men, Elihu, and Semachiah.
8. All these were the sons of Obed-Edom. They and their sons and their brethren were able men with strength for the service, and there were sixty-two of Obed-Edom.
9. And Meshelemiah had sons and brethren, strong men, eighteen in all.
10. Also to Hosah, of the sons of Merari, were sons: Shimri was the chief (though not the firstborn, yet his father made him the chief),
11. Hilkiah the second, Tebaliah the third, Zechariah the fourth. All the sons and brethren of Hosah were thirteen.
12. Among these were the divisions of the gatekeepers, among the chief men, having charges like their brethren to minister in the house of the LORD.
13. And they cast lots, the small as well as the great, according to the house of their fathers for every gate.
14. And the lot eastward fell to Shelemiah; then Zechariah his son, a wise counselor—they cast lots for him. And his lot came out northward.
15. To Obed-Edom southward; and to his sons the storehouse;
16. To Shuppim and Hosah westward, with the gate of Shallecheth by the highway going up, ward against ward.
17. Eastward were six Levites, northward four a day, southward four a day, and toward the storehouse, two and two.
18. At the Parbar, westward, four at the causeway, two at the Parbar.
19. These are the divisions of the gatekeepers among the sons of Korah and among the sons of Merari.
20. And of the Levites, Ahijah was over the treasures of the house of God and over the treasures of the dedicated things.
21. The sons of Laadan, sons of the Gershonites; chief fathers of Laadan the Gershonite were Jehiel;
22. The sons of Jehiel: Zetham and Joel his brother who were over the treasures of the house of the LORD.
23. For the Amramites, the Izharites, the Hebronites, and the Uzzielites.
24. And Shebuel the son of Gershom, the son of Moses, was ruler of the treasures.
25. And his brethren by Eliezer: Rehobiah his son, and Jeshuaiah his son, and Joram his son, and Zichri his son, and Shelomith his son.
26. This Shelomith and his brethren were over all the treasures of the dedicated things which David the king and the chief fathers, the commanders over thousands and hundreds, and the commanders of the army, had dedicated.
27. They dedicated part of the spoils won in battles to maintain the house of the LORD.
28. And all that Samuel the seer, and Saul the son of Kish, and Abner the son of Ner, and Joab the son of Zeruiah had dedicated. Whoever had dedicated anything, it was at the hand of Shelomith and of his brethren.
29. Of the Izharites, Chenaniah and his sons were for the outward business over Israel, for officers and judges.
30. Of the men of Hebron, Hashabiah and his brethren, men of valor, a thousand and seven hundred, were officers among them of Israel on this side of the Jordan westward in all the business of the LORD and in the service of the king.
31. Jerijah was the chief among the men of Hebron. He was of the Hebronites, according to the generations of his fathers. In the fortieth year of the reign of David they were sought for, and there were found among them mighty men of valor at Jazer of Gilead.
32. And his brethren, mighty men, were two thousand and seven hundred chief fathers whom King David made rulers over the men of Reuben, of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, for every matter pertaining to God and the affairs of the king.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN

1. And the children of Israel according to their number, the chief fathers and commanders of thousands and hundreds, and their officers who served the king in any matter of the divisions, who came in and went out month by month for all the months of the year, were twenty-four thousand of every division.
2. Over the first division for the first month was Jashobeam the son of Zabdiel. And in his division were twenty-four thousand.

5. The third commander of the army for the third month was Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, a chief priest. And in his division were twenty-four thousand.
6. This is that Benaiah who was mighty among the thirty, and over the thirty. And in his division was Ammizabad his son.

22. The ruler of Dan was Azarel the son of Jeroham. These were the rulers of the tribes of Israel.
23. But David did not take the number of those from twenty years old and under because the LORD had said He would increase Israel like the stars of the heavens.
24. Joab the son of Zeruiah began to number, but he did not finish because wrath fell against the children of Israel for this. And the number was not recorded in the account of the chronicles of King David.

26. Ezri the son of Chelub was over the work of the field for farming the ground.
27. And over the vineyards was Shimevi of Ramah. Over the increase of the vineyards for the wine cellars was Zabdi the Shipmrite.
28. And over the olive trees and the sycamore trees that were in the low plains was Baal-Hanan of Geder. And over the cellars of oil was Joash.
29. And over the herds that fed in Sharon was Shitrai of Sharon. And over the herds in the valleys was Shaphat the son of Adlai.
1 Chronicles 27 - 28

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

1. Then David gathered to Jerusalem all the princes of Israel, the princes of the tribes, and the commanders of the divisions that ministered to the king by division, and the commanders over the thousands, and commanders over the hundreds, and the stewards over all the property and livestock of the king, and of his sons, with the officers and the mighty ones, with all the valiant men.

2. And David the king stood up on his feet and said, “Hear me, my brethren and my people. I had in my heart to build a house for the ark of the LORD; and for the footstool of our house of rest for the ark of the covenant was the king’s companion.

3. And Ahithophel was the king’s counselor. And Hushai the Archite was the king’s companion.

4. And after Ahithophel was Jehoiada the son of Rechab, the general of the king’s army.

5. And of all the rooms all around the spirit, of the courts of the house of the LORD; and for the plans of all that he had by his hand, to beautify the house of the LORD, and for the Levites, and for all the work of the temple of the house of God, and had made preparations for the building.

6. But God said to me, ‘You shall not build a house for My name, because you have been a man of war, and have shed blood.’

7. However, the LORD God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father to be king over Israel forever. For He has chosen Judah to be the ruler, and of the house of Judah the house of my father. And among the sons of my father’s house He was pleased to make me king over all Israel.

8. And of all my sons (for the LORD has given me many sons), He has chosen Solomon my son to sit upon the throne of the kingdom of the LORD over Israel.

9. And He said to me, ‘Solomon your son shall build My house and My courts, for I have chosen him to be My son, and I will be his Father.

10. And I will establish his kingdom forever if he continues resolute in keeping My commandments and My ordinances, as he is today.’

11. Then David gave to his son Solomon the plan of the porch, and of its houses, and of its treasuries, and of its upper rooms, and of its innermost rooms, and of the place of the mercy seat,

12. And the plans of all that he had by his hand, for the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and for the footstool of our God, and had made preparations for the building.

13. And for the courses of the priests and the Levites, and for all the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and for all the vessels of service in the house of the LORD;

14. Even gold by weight for things of gold, for all instruments of every kind of service; silver for all the vessels of silver by weight, for all vessels of every kind of service;

15. And by weight for the lampstands of gold, and for their lamps of gold, with the weight of each lampstand and its lamps. And he gave for the lampstands of silver by weight, for the lampstand and its lamps, according to the use of each lampstand;

16. And by weight he gave gold for the tables of the showbread for every table; and likewise silver for the tables of silver;

17. And pure gold for the fleshhooks, and the bowls, and the cups; and for the golden basins he gave gold by weight for each basin, and silver by weight for each basin of silver;
18. And he gave for the altar of incense refined gold by weight, and gold for the pattern of the chariot of the cherubim, who spread out their wings, and covered the ark of the covenant of the LORD.

19. “All this,” said David, “was in writing from the hand of the LORD. He made me understand all the details of these plans.”

20. And David said to Solomon his son, “Be strong and of good courage, and do it. Do not fear, nor be dismayed, for the L ORD God, even my God, will be with you. He will not fail you nor forsake you until you have finished all the work for the service of the house of the L ORD.

21. And, behold, the courses of the priests and the Levites are for all the service of the house of God. And there shall be with you every willing, skillful man for every kind of workmanship, for any kind of service. Also the rulers and all the people will be completely at your command.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

1. Then David the king said to all the congregation, “Solomon my son, whom alone God has chosen, is young and tender, and the work is great, for the palace is not for man, but for the L ORD God.

2. Now I have prepared with all my might for the house of my God the gold for things of gold, and the silver for things of silver, and the bronze for things of bronze, the iron for things of iron, and wood for things of wood, onyx stones, and stones to be set, and also stones of antimony, and stones of many colors, and every precious stone, and stones of alabaster, in abundance.

3. And also, because I have set my affection on the house of my God, out of my own treasure of gold and silver I have given to the house of my God over and above all that I have prepared for the holy house.

4. Three thousand talents of gold of the gold of Ophir, and seven thousand talents of refined silver to overlay the walls of the houses;

5. The gold for things of gold, and the silver for things of silver, and for all kinds of work by the hands of artificers. Now then who is willing to consecrate his service this day to the L ORD?”

6. Then the chief of the fathers, and the rulers of the tribes of Israel, and the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, with the rulers of the king’s work, offered willingly.

7. And they gave for the service of the house of God five thousand talents of gold and ten thousand darics, and ten thousand talents of silver, and eighteen thousand talents of bronze, and one hundred thousand talents of iron.

8. And those who had precious stones gave to the treasury of the house of the L ORD by the hand of Jehiel the Gershonite.

9. And the people rejoiced because they offered willingly, because with a perfect heart they offered willingly to the L ORD. And David the king also rejoiced with great joy.

10. And David blessed the L ORD before all the congregation. And David said, “Blessed are You, L ORD God of Israel our Father, forever and ever.

11. O L ORD, Yours is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and, the majesty, for all in the heavens and in the earth is Yours. Yours is the kingdom, O L ORD, and You are exalted as head over all.

12. And the riches and the honor are from You, and You reign over all. And in Your hand is power and might. And it is in Your hand to make great and to give strength to all.

13. Now therefore, our God, we thank You and praise Your glorious name.

14. But who am I, and who are my people, that we should be able to offer so willingly after this sort? For all things are from You, and we have given to You that which is Yours.

15. For we are strangers before You, and pilgrims, as our fathers were. Our days on the earth are like a shadow, and none abides.

16. O L ORD our God, all this store that we have prepared to build You a house for Your holy name comes from Your hand and is all Your own.

17. I know also, my God, that You try the heart, and have pleasure in uprightness. As for me, in the uprightness of my heart I have willingly offered all these things. And now I have seen with joy Your people who are present here to offer willingly to You.

18. O L ORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and of Israel, our fathers, keep this forever in the imagination of the thoughts of the heart of Your people, and prepare their heart to You.
19. Now give to Solomon my son a perfect heart to keep Your commandments, Your testimonies, and Your statutes, and to do all these things, and to build the magnificent temple for which I have made ready.”
20. And David said to all the congregation, “Now bless the LORD your God!” And all the congregation blessed the LORD God of their fathers, and bowed and worshiped the LORD, and bowed before the king.
21. And they sacrificed sacrifices to the LORD and offered burnt offerings to the LORD. On the next day they sacrificed a thousand bulls, a thousand rams, a thousand lambs, with their drink offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.
22. And they ate and drank before the LORD on that day with great gladness. And Solomon the son of David, the second time, and anointed him before the LORD as ruler, and Zadok to be priest.
23. And Solomon sat upon the throne of the LORD as king in place of David his father. And he prospered, and all Israel obeyed him.
24. And all the rulers and the mighty men, and also all the sons of King David, submitted themselves to Solomon the king.
25. And the LORD made Solomon very great in the sight of all Israel and bestowed upon him such royal majesty as had not been on any king before him in Israel.
26. And David, the son of Jesse, reigned over all Israel.
27. And the time that he reigned over Israel was forty years. He reigned seven years in Hebron, and thirty-three years in Jerusalem.
28. And he died in a good old age, full of days, riches, and honor. And Solomon his son reigned in his place.
29. And the acts of David the king, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of Samuel the seer, and in the book of Nathan the prophet, and in the book of Gad the seer.
30. With all his reign and his might, and the events that happened to him, and to Israel, and to all the kingdoms of the lands.

Part II of the Chronicles of Ezra

CHAPTER ONE

1. Then Solomon the son of David was made strong in his kingdom, and the LORD his God was with him and magnified him exceedingly.
2. And Solomon spoke to all Israel, to the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, and to the judges, and to every governor in all Israel, the chief of the fathers.
3. And Solomon and all the congregation with him went to the high place at Gibeon, for there was the tabernacle of the congregation of God, which Moses the servant of the LORD had made in the wilderness.
4. Now the ark of God David had brought up from Kirjath-Jearim to the place which the LORD as king in place of David his father. And he prospered, and all Israel obeyed him.
5. And he put the bronze altar which Bezalel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, had made before the tabernacle of the LORD. And Solomon and the congregation of the LORD sought to it.
6. And Solomon went up there to the bronze altar before the LORD, which was at the tabernacle of the congregation, and offered a thousand burnt offerings upon it.
7. In that night God appeared to Solomon and said to him, “Ask what I shall give you.”
8. And Solomon said to God, “You have shown great mercy to David my father and have made me to reign in his stead.
9. Now, O LORD God, let Your promise to David my father be established, for You have made me king over a people like the dust of the earth in multitude.
10. Now grant me wisdom and knowledge that I may go out and come in before this people. For who can judge this Your people that is so great?"
11. And God said to Solomon, “Because this was in your heart, and you have not asked riches, wealth, nor honor, nor the life of your enemies, nor yet have asked for long life, but have asked for wisdom and knowledge for yourself that you may judge My people, over whom I have made you king,
12. Wisdom and knowledge are granted to you. And I will give you riches and wealth and honor, such as none of the kings have had that have been before you; neither shall any after you have the like.”
13. And Solomon came from the high place that was at Gibeon, from before the tabernacle of the congregation, to Jerusalem and reigned over Israel.
14. And Solomon gathered chariots and horsemen. And he had a thousand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen which he placed in the chariot cities, and with the king at Jerusalem.
15. And the king made silver and gold at Jerusalem like stones, and he made cedar trees as plentiful as the sycamore trees in the valley.
16. And Solomon had horses imported from Egypt and Kue. The king’s merchants received them from Kue at a price.
17. And they imported, and brought out of Egypt a chariot for six hundred shekels of silver, and a horse for a hundred and fifty. And so they imported horses through them for all the kings of the Hittites and exported to the kings of Syria.

CHAPTER TWO

1. Now Solomon purposed to build a house for the name of the LORD and a house for his kingdom.
2. And Solomon counted out seventy thousand men to bear burdens, and eighty thousand as cutters in the mountains, and three thousand and six hundred to oversee them.
3. And Solomon sent to Hiram the king of Tyre, saying, “As you dealt with David my father and sent him cedars to build him a house to dwell in, even so deal with me.
4. Behold, I am building a house to the name of the LORD my God to dedicate it to Him, and to burn before Him sweet incense, and for the continual showbread, and for the burnt offerings morning and evening, on the Sabbaths, and on the new moons, and on the solemn feasts of the LORD our God. This is an ordinance forever to Israel.
5. And the house which I am building is great, for our God is great above all gods. But who is able to build Him a house since the heavens and heaven of the heavens cannot contain Him? Who am I then that I should build Him a house, except only to burn sacrifice before Him?
6. Now, therefore, send me a man skillful to work in gold, and in silver, and in bronze, and in iron, and in purple, and crimson, and blue, and one who is skillful to engrave with the skillful men who are with me in Judah and in Jerusalem, whom David my father provided.
7. And also send me cedar trees, fir trees, and algum trees out of Lebanon, for I know that your servants are skillful to cut timber in Lebanon. And, behold, my servants shall be with your servants
8. In order to prepare plenty of timber for me, for the house which I am about to build shall be great and wonderful.
9. And behold, I will give to your servants, the hewers, those who cut timber, twenty thousand measures of wheat, and twenty thousand measures of barley, and twenty thousand baths of wine, and twenty thousand baths of oil.”
11. And Hiram the king of Tyre answered in writing, which he sent to Solomon, “Because the LORD has loved His people, He has made you king over them.”
12. And Hiram said, “Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who made heaven and earth, who has given to David the king a wise son blessed with judgment and understanding, who might build a house for the LORD and a house for his kingdom.
13. And now I have sent a skillful man blessed with understanding, of Hiram my father,
14. The son of a woman of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre, skilled to work in gold, and in silver, in bronze, in iron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue, and in fine linen, and in crimson. He also can engrave any kind of engraving, and can invent every device which shall be put to him, with your skillful men, and with the skillful men of my lord David your father.

15. And now the wheat, and the barley, the oil, and the wine, which my lord has spoken of, let him send it to his servants. And we will bring it to you in floats by sea to Joppa. And you shall carry it up to Jerusalem.

16. And we will cut wood out of Lebanon, as much as you shall need. And we will bring it to you in floats by sea to Joppa. And you shall carry it up to Jerusalem."

17. And Solomon numbered all the aliens in the land of Israel, according to the numbering with which David his father had numbered them. And they were found to be a hundred and fifty-three thousand and six hundred.

18. And he set seventy thousand of them to be bearers of burdens, and eighty thousand to be cutters in the mountains, and three thousand and six hundred overseers to set the people to work.

CHAPTER THREE

1. And Solomon began to build the house of the LORD at Jerusalem in Mount Moriah, where He appeared to David his father, in the place that David had prepared on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

2. And he began to build in the second day of the second month in the fourth year of his reign.

3. Now these are the foundations Solomon laid to build the house of God. The length by cubits according to the first measure, sixty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

4. And the porch on the front, the length according to the breadth of the house, was twenty cubits, and the height a hundred and twenty. And he overlaid it inside with pure gold.

5. And he made the ceiling of the greater house with fir wood which he overlaid with fine gold. And he carved palm trees and chains on it.

6. And he covered the house with precious stones for beauty. And the gold was gold of Parvaim.

7. He also overlaid the house, the beams, the posts, and its walls, and its doors, with gold. And he engraved cherubim on the walls.

8. And he made the Most Holy Place. Its length was corresponding with the width of the house, twenty cubits, and its breadth, twenty cubits. And he overlaid it with fine gold, amounting to six hundred talents.

9. And the weight of the nails was fifty shekels of gold. And he overlaid the upper rooms with gold.

10. And in the Most Holy Place he made two cherubim of carved work and overlaid them with gold.

11. And the wings of the cherubim were twenty cubits long. One wing was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house; and the other wing five cubits, reaching to the wing of the other cherub.

12. And one wing of the other cherub was five cubits, reaching to the wall of the house; and the other wing five cubits reaching to the wing of the other cherub.

13. The wings of these cherubim spread themselves forth twenty cubits. And they stood on their feet, and their faces were turned inward.

14. And he made the veil of blue, and purple, and crimson, and fine linen, and interwove cherubim on it.

15. He also made two pillars of thirty-five cubits high in front of the house, and the capital on the tops of each of them was five cubits.

16. And he made chains, as in the holy place, and put them on the tops of the pillars. And he made a hundred pomegranates and put them on the chains.

17. And he reared up the pillars before the temple, one on the right hand and the other on the left. And he called the name of the one on the right Jachin, and the name of the one on the left Boaz.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. And he made an altar of bronze. Twenty cubits was the length of it, and twenty cubits its width, and ten cubits its height.

2. And he cast a sea of molten bronze, ten cubits from brim to brim. It was round, and five cubits was its height. And a line of thirty cubits went around it.

3. And under it was the likeness of oxen,
18. And Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance, so the weight of the bronze could not be ascertained.

19. And Solomon made all the vessels for the house of God, and the golden altar, and the tables on which the showbread was set;

20. And the lampstands of pure gold with their lamps so that they should burn according to the law in front of the holy place;

21. And the flowers, and the lamps, and the tongs of gold, perfect gold;

22. And the snuffers, and the basins, and the spoons, and the censers of pure gold; and the entrance of the house, the inner doors of it for the Holy of Holies, and the doors of the house of the temple were of gold.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. Now all the work that Solomon made for the house of the LORD was finished. And Solomon brought in the things that David his father had dedicated. And he put the silver and the gold, and all the vessels, among the treasures of the house of God.

2. Then Solomon gathered the elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the fathers of the children of Israel to Jerusalem to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of the city of David, which is Zion.

3. And all the men of Israel gathered themselves to the king in the feast in the seventh month.

4. And all the elders of Israel came. And the Levites took up the ark.

5. And they brought up the ark, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle. The priests and the Levites brought these up.

6. And King Solomon, and all the congregation of Israel that were gathered to him before the ark, sacrificed sheep and oxen which could not be counted nor numbered for multitude.

7. And the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place, to the Holy of Holies in the house, into the Most Holy Place, under the wings of the cherubim.

8. For the cherubim spread out their wings over the ark, and the cherubim covered the ark above its staves.
9. And the staves were so long that the ends of the staves of the ark were seen from the holy place looking toward the Holy of Holies, but they were not seen outside. And they are there to this day.

10. Nothing was in the ark except the two tables which Moses put in it at Horeb, when the L ORD made a covenant with the children of Israel when they came out of Egypt.

11. And it came to pass, when the priests came out of the holy place (for all the priests present were sanctified, and did not wait by course),

12. And the Levitical singers—all of them of Asaph, of Heman, of Jeduthun, with their sons and their brethren, being clothed in white linen, and having cymbals and with harps and lyres—stood at the east end of the altar, and with them a hundred and twenty priests sounding with silver trumpets,

13. It came to pass, as the trumpeters and the singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the L ORD; and when they lifted up their voice with the silver trumpets and cymbals and instruments of music, and praised the L ORD, saying, “For He is good, for His steadfast love endures forever,” that the house was filled with a cloud, even the house of the LORD,

14. So that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud, for the glory of the L ORD had filled the house of God!

CHAPTER SIX

1. Then Solomon said, “The L ORD has said that He would dwell in the thick darkness.

2. Now I have built a house for You to live in, and a place for Your dwelling forever.”

3. And the king turned around and blessed the whole congregation of Israel. And all the congregation of Israel stood.

4. And he said, “Blessed be the L ORD God of Israel Who has with His hands fulfilled that which He spoke with His mouth to my father David, saying,

5. ‘From the day that I brought My people out of the land of Egypt I have not chosen any city among all the tribes of Israel to build a house in, so that My name might be there. Nor have I chosen any man to be a ruler over My people Israel.

6. But now I have chosen Jerusalem, so that My name might be there, and now I have chosen David to be over My people Israel.’

7. And it was in the heart of David my father to build a house for the name of the L ORD God of Israel.

8. But the L ORD said to David my father, ‘Because it was in your heart to build a house for My name, you did well in that it was in your heart.

9. But you shall not build the house. Now your son, who shall come forth out of your loins, shall build the house for My name.’

10. And the L ORD has performed His word that He has spoken, for I have risen up in place of David my father and am set on the throne of Israel as the L ORD promised, and I have built the house for the name of the L ORD God of Israel.

11. And I have caused the ark to be placed in it, in which is the covenant of the L ORD which He made with the children of Israel.”

12. And he stood before the altar of the L ORD in the presence of all the congregation of Israel and spread forth his hands.

13. Now Solomon had made a bronze scaffold, five cubits long and five cubits broad and three cubits high. And he had set it in the midst of the court. And he stood on it, and kneeled down on his knees before all the congregation of Israel, and spread forth his hands toward heaven.

14. And he said, “O L ORD God of Israel, there is no God like You in heaven or in earth. You keep Your covenant and show lovingkindness to Your servants who walk before You with all their hearts.

15. You have kept with Your servant David, my father, that which You have promised him. And You spoke with Your mouth and have fulfilled it with Your hand, as it is this day.

16. Now therefore, O L ORD God of Israel, keep with Your servant David, my father, that which You have promised him, saying, ‘There shall not fail you a man in My sight to sit upon the throne of Israel if only your sons take heed to their way to walk in My law, as you have walked before Me.’

2 Chronicles 5 - 6
17. And now, O LORD God of Israel, let Your word be proven true, which You have spoken to Your servant David.

18. But truly, will God in deed dwell with men on the earth? Behold, heaven and the heaven of the heavens cannot contain You! How much less this house which I have built?

19. Yet You have turned toward the prayer of Your servant and to his cry, O LORD my God, to listen to the cry and the prayer which Your servant prays before You.

20. I pray that Your eyes may be open upon this house day and night, upon the place of which You have said that You would put Your name there, to hearken to the prayer which Your servant prays toward this place.

21. Hearken therefore to the supplications of Your servant, and of Your people Israel, which they shall pray toward this place, and hear from Your dwelling place, from heaven, and hear and forgive.

22. If a man sins against his neighbor, and if an oath is laid upon him to make him swear, and if the oath comes before Your altar in this house,

23. Then hear from heaven, and do, and judge Your servants by repaying the wicked, by bringing his way back upon his own head, and by justifying the righteous, by giving to him according to his righteousness.

24. And if Your people Israel be put to the worse before the enemy because they have sinned against You, and if they shall return and confess Your name, and shall pray and cry before You in this house,

25. Then hear from heaven, and forgive the sin of Your people Israel when You have taught them the good way in which they should walk. And send rain upon Your land which You have given to Your people for an inheritance.

26. When the heavens shall be shut up and there is no rain because they have sinned against You, yet, if they pray toward this place, and confess Your name, and turn from their sin when You afflict them,

27. Then hear from heaven and forgive the sin of Your servants and of Your people Israel when You have taught them the good way in which they should walk. And send rain upon Your land which You have given to Your people for an inheritance.

28. If there is famine in the land, if there is a plague, if blasting or mildew, locusts or grasshoppers, if their enemies besiege them in the gates of their land; or there may be whatever plague or sickness;

29. Then whatever prayer, whatever cry shall be made by any man, or by all Your people Israel, when everyone shall know his own plague and his own grief, and shall spread forth his hands in this house;

30. Then hear from heaven, Your dwelling place, and forgive, and render to every man according to all his ways, whose heart You know; for You only know the hearts of the sons of men.

31. Do this so that they may fear You, to walk in Your ways as long as they live in the land which You gave to our fathers.

32. Moreover, concerning the stranger who is not of Your people Israel, but has come from a far country for Your great name’s sake, and Your mighty hand, and Your stretched out arm, if they come and pray in this house,

33. Then hear from heaven, from Your dwelling place, and do according to all that the stranger calls to You for, so that all people of the earth may know Your name, and fear You as Your people Israel, and may know that this house which I have built is called by Your name.

34. If Your people go out to war against their enemies by the way that You shall send them, and if they pray to You toward this city which You have chosen, and the house which I have built for Your name,

35. Then from heaven hear their prayer and their cry and maintain their cause.

36. If they sin against You (for there is no man who does not sin), and if You are angry with them and deliver them over to their enemies, and they carry them away captives to a land far-off or near,

37. Yet if they think within themselves in the land where they are carried captive, and turn and pray to You in the land of their captivity, saying, ‘We have sinned, we have done wrong and have dealt wickedly,’

38. If they return to You with all their heart and with all their soul in the land of their captivity where they have carried them captives, and if they pray toward their land which You gave to their fathers and toward the city which You have chosen, and toward the house which I have built for Your name;
39. Then hear from heaven, from Your dwelling place, their prayer and their supplications, and maintain their cause, and forgive Your people who have sinned against You.
40. Now, my God, I beseech You, let Your eyes be open and Your ears hear the prayer made in this place.
41. And now arise, O Lord God, into Your resting place, You and the ark of Your strength. Let Your priests, O Lord God, be clothed with salvation, and let Your saints rejoice in goodness.
42. O Lord God, do not turn away the face of Your anointed. Remember the kindness of David Your servant.”

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. Now when Solomon had made an end of praying, fire came down from heaven and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices. And the glory of the Lord filled the house.
2. And the priests could not enter into the house of the Lord because the glory of the Lord had filled the Lord’s house.
3. And when all the children of Israel saw how the fire came down, and the glory of the Lord upon the house, they bowed their faces to the ground on the pavement, and worshiped and praised the Lord, saying, “For He is good, for His mercy endures forever.”
4. And the king and all the people offered sacrifices before the Lord.
5. And King Solomon offered a sacrifice of twenty-two thousand oxen and a hundred and twenty thousand sheep. And the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.
6. And the priests served in their offices, and the Levites with instruments of music of the Lord, which David the king had made to praise the Lord—saying, “His mercy endures forever”—when David praised Him by their ministry. And the priests sounded silver trumpets before them, and all Israel stood.
7. And Solomon made holy the middle of the court before the house of the Lord, for there he offered burnt offerings and the fat of the peace offerings because the bronze altar which Solomon had made was not able to receive the burnt offerings, and the grain offerings, and the fat.
8. And at the same time Solomon kept the feast seven days, and all Israel with him, a very great congregation, from the entering in of Hamath to the river of Egypt.
9. And in the eighth day they made a solemn assembly, for they kept the dedication of the altar seven days, and the feast seven days.
10. And on the twenty-third day of the seventh month he sent the people away into their tents, glad and merry in heart for the goodness that the Lord had shown to David, and to Solomon, and to Israel His people.
11. Thus Solomon finished the house of the Lord and the king’s house, and he prospered exceedingly in all that came into Solomon’s heart to accomplish in the house of the Lord and in his own house.
12. And the Lord appeared to Solomon by night and said to him, “I have heard your prayer and have chosen this place to Myself for a house of sacrifice.
13. If I shut up the heavens, and there is no rain, or if I command the locusts to devour the land, or if I send a plague among My people,
14. If My people, who are called by My name, shall humble themselves and pray, and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land.
15. Now My eyes shall be open, and My ears shall be attentive to the prayer offered in this place,
16. For now I have chosen and sanctified this house so that My name may be there forever. And My eyes and My heart shall be there perpetually.
17. And you, if you will walk before me, as David your father walked, and will do according to all that I have commanded you, and shall observe My statutes and My ordinances,
18. Then I will make the throne of your kingdom sure, as I have covenanted with David your father, saying, ‘There shall not fail you a man to be ruler in Israel.’
19. But if you turn away and forsake My statutes and My commandments which I have set before you, and if you shall go and serve other gods and worship them,
20. Then I will pluck them up by the roots out of My land which I have given them. And this house which I have sanctified for My name, I will cast out of My sight, and I will make it to be a proverb and a byword among all nations.

21. And this house, which is exalted, shall be an astonishment to everyone who passes by it, so that they shall be appalled and say, ‘Why has the LORD done this to this land and to this house?’

22. And it shall be answered, ‘Because they forsook the LORD God of their fathers, who brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, and laid hold upon other gods and worshiped them and served them. Therefore He has brought all this evil upon them.’ ”

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. And it came to pass at the end of twenty years, in which Solomon had built the house of the LORD and his own house,

2. That the cities that Hiram had given to Solomon, Solomon rebuilt them and caused the children of Israel to live there.

3. And Solomon went to Hamath Zobah and prevailed against it.

4. And he built Tadmor in the wilderness and all the store cities which he built in Hamath.

5. And he built Beth Horon the upper and Beth Horon the lower, fenced cities with walls, gates, and bars.

6. And he built Baalath, and all the store cities which Solomon had, and all the chariot cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and all that Solomon desired to build in Jerusalem, and in Lebanon, and in all the land of his dominion.

7. All the people who were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites, who were not of Israel,

8. Of their children who were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel did not destroy, Solomon made them subject to a mandatory tribute to this day.

9. But of the children of Israel, Solomon did not make any servants for his work, for they were men of war, and commanders of his officers, and commanders of his chariots, and his horsemen.

10. And these were the chiefs of King Solomon’s officers, two hundred and fifty who bore rule over the people.

11. And Solomon brought up the daughter of Pharaoh out of the city of David to the house which he had built for her, for he said, “My wife shall not dwell in the house of David king of Israel because the places into which the ark of the LORD has come are holy.”

12. And Solomon offered burnt offerings to the LORD upon the altar of the LORD which he had built before the porch,

13. Even as the duty of every day required, offering according to the commandment of Moses, on the Sabbaths and on the new moons, and on the solemn feasts, three times in the year, even in the Feast of Unleavened Bread, and in the Feast of Weeks, and in the Feast of Tabernacles.

14. And according to the order of David his father, he appointed the courses of the priests to their service, and the Levites to their charges to praise and minister before the priests as the duty of every day required, and the gatekeepers by their divisions at every gate; for so David the man of God had commanded.

15. And they did not depart from the command of the king to the priests and Levites concerning any matter, or concerning the treasures.

16. And all the work of Solomon was prepared until the day of the foundation of the house of the LORD and until it was finished. And the house of the LORD was complete.

17. And Solomon went to Ezion Geber and to Eloth at the seaside in the land of Edom.

18. And Hiram sent ships to him by the hand of his servants, and men who had knowledge of the sea. And they went with the servants of Solomon to Ophir, and took four hundred and fifty talents of gold from there, and brought it to King Solomon.

CHAPTER NINE

1. And the queen of Sheba heard of the fame of Solomon and came to test Solomon with hard questions at Jerusalem, with a very great company and camels that carried spices, and gold in abundance, and precious stones. And she came in to Solomon and spoke with him of all that was in her heart.
2. And Solomon answered her all her questions. And there was nothing hidden from Solomon which he could not answer her.

3. And when the queen of Sheba saw the wisdom of Solomon, and the house that he had built,

4. And the food of his table, and the sitting of his servants, the attendance of his ministers, and their apparel, and his cup-bearers and their apparel, and his ascent by which he went up into the house of the LORD, there was no more spirit in her.

5. And she said to the king, “The word that I heard in my own land of your acts and of your wisdom is true. Nevertheless, I did not believe their words until I came and had seen it all with my own eyes. And behold, not even one-half of the greatness of your wisdom was told to me, for you far exceed the report which I heard. Happy are your men, and happy are these your servants who stand before you continually and hear your wisdom.

6. Blessed be the LORD your God Who delighted in you to set you upon His throne to be king for the LORD your God. Because your God loved Israel to establish them forever, therefore He made you king over them to do justice and righteousness.”

7. And she gave the king a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and an abundance of spices, and precious stones. And there has not been any such spice as the queen of Sheba gave King Solomon.

9. And she said to the king, “The word that I heard in my own land of your acts and of your wisdom is true. Nevertheless, I did not believe their words until I came and had seen it all with my own eyes. And behold, not even one-half of the greatness of your wisdom was told to me, for you far exceed the report which I heard.

7. Happy are your men, and happy are these your servants who stand before you continually and hear your wisdom.

8. Blessed be the LORD your God Who delighted in you to set you upon His throne to be king for the LORD your God. Because your God loved Israel to establish them forever, therefore He made you king over them to do justice and righteousness.”

9. And she gave the king a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and an abundance of spices, and precious stones. And there has not been any such spice as the queen of Sheba gave King Solomon.

10. And the servants of Hiram and the servants of Solomon, who brought gold from Ophir, also brought algum trees and precious stones.

11. And the king made terraces by the walkways to the house of the LORD with the algum trees, and terraces leading to the king’s palace, and lyres and harps for singers. And there were none such as these seen before in the land of Judah.

12. And King Solomon gave to the queen of Sheba all her desire, whatever she asked, even more than what she had brought to the king. And she returned and went away to her own land, she and her servants.

13. And the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold, out of Egypt and out of all lands.

29. And the rest of the acts of Solomon, first and last, are they not written in the book of Nathan the prophet, and in the prophecy of Ahijah of Shiloh, and in the visions of Iddo the seer against Jeroboam the son of Nebat?

30. And Solomon reigned forty years in Jerusalem over all Israel.

31. And Solomon slept with his fathers, and he was buried in the city of David his father. And his son Rehoboam reigned in his place.

CHAPTER TEN

1. Then Rehoboam went to Shechem, for all Israel had come to Shechem to make him king.

2. And it came to pass when Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who was in Egypt where he had fled from the presence of Solomon the king, heard of it, Jeroboam returned from Egypt.

3. Then they sent and called him. So Jeroboam and all Israel came and spoke to Rehoboam, saying,

4. “Your father made our yoke heavy. And now lighten the harsh service of your father, and his heavy yoke which he put upon us, and we will serve you.”

5. And he said to them, “Come again to me after three days.” And the people departed.

6. And King Rehoboam consulted with the old men who had stood before Solomon his father while he yet lived, saying, “What advice do you give to return an answer to this people?”

7. And they spoke to him saying, “If you are kind to this people and will please them, and speak good words to them, then they will be your servants forever.”

8. But he refused the counsel which the old men gave him and listened to the young men who were brought up with him, who stood before him.

9. And he said to them, “What advice do you give that we may return an answer to this people, who have spoken to me, saying, ‘Lighten the yoke which your father put upon us’?”

10. And the young men who were brought up with him spoke to him saying, “This is the way you should answer the people who spoke to you, saying, ‘Your father made our yoke heavy, but you lighten our yoke’—thus you shall say to them: ‘My little finger shall be thicker than my father’s loins.

11. And now my father put a heavy yoke on you, and I will surely add to your yoke. My father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.’”

12. And Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day as the king commanded, saying, “Come again to me on the third day.”

13. And the king answered them roughly. And King Rehoboam had refused the advice of the old men,

14. And answered them after the advice of the young men, saying, “My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to it. My father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.”

15. And the king did not hearken to the people, for the cause was from God so that the LORD might perform His word which He spoke by the hand of Ahijah of Shiloh to Jeroboam the son of Nebat.

16. And all Israel saw that the king would not listen to them, and the people answered the king saying, “What portion do we have in David? And we have no inheritance in the son of Jesse! Every man to your tents, O Israel! Now, O David, see to your own house.” And all Israel went to their tents.

17. But as for the children of Israel who lived in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them.

18. And King Rehoboam sent Hadoram, who was over the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones so that he died. But King Rehoboam was warned to get up into his chariot to flee to Jerusalem.

19. And Israel rebelled against the house of David to this day.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. Then Rehoboam came to Jerusalem and gathered a hundred and eighty thousand chosen warriors from the house of Judah to fight against Israel, so that he might bring the kingdom again to Rehoboam.

2. But the Word of the LORD came to Shemaiah the man of God, saying,

3. “Speak to Rehoboam the son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all Israel in Judah and Benjamin, saying,
4. 'Thus says the LORD, “You shall not go up nor fight against your brethren. Let every man return to his house, for this thing is done by Me.”'
5. And Rehoboam lived in Jerusalem and built cities for defense in Judah.
6. And he built Bethelhem, and Etam, and Tekoa,
7. And Beth Zur, and Sochoh, and Adullam,
8. And Gath, and Mareshah, and Ziph,
9. And Adoram, and Lachish, and Azekah,
10. And Zorah, and Aijalon, and Hebron, which are in Judah and in Benjamin, fortified cities.
11. And he fortified the strongholds and put commanders in them, and stores of food, and of oil and wine.
12. And he put in each separate city shields and spears, and made them very strong, and Judah and Benjamin were his.
13. And the priests and the Levites in all Israel presented themselves to him out of all their borders.
14. And the Levites left their open lands and their possessions, and came to Judah and Jerusalem, for Jeroboam and his sons had cast them off so that they could not execute the priests’ office unto the LORD.
15. For he ordained priests for himself for the high places, and for the demons, and for the golden calves which he had made.
16. And after the Levites had left, then those who gave their hearts to seek the LORD God of Israel, out of all the tribes of Israel, came to Jerusalem to sacrifice to the LORD God of their fathers.
17. And they made the kingdom of Judah stronger and made Rehoboam the son of Solomon strong for three years. For three years they walked in the way of David and Solomon.
18. And Rehoboam took Mahalath the daughter of Jerimoth the son of David as a wife for himself, and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the son of Jesse,
20. And after her he took Maachah the daughter of Absalom above all his wives and his concubines (for he took eighteen wives and sixty concubines, and had twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters).
21. And Rehoboam loved Maachah the daughter of Absalom above all his concubines (for he took eighteen wives and sixty concubines, and had twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters).
22. And Rehoboam made Abijah the son of Maachah the chief, to be ruler among his brethren in order to make him king.
23. And he dealt wisely and dispersed all his sons throughout all the lands of Judah and Benjamin to all the fortified cities. And he gave them food in abundance. And he demanded many wives for them.

CHAPTER TWELVE

1. And it came to pass when Rehoboam had established the kingdom and had made himself strong, he departed from the law of the LORD and all Israel with him.
2. And it came to pass that, in the fifth year of King Rehoboam, Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, because they had sinned against the LORD,
3. With twelve hundred chariots and sixty thousand horsemen. And the people who came with him out of Egypt were without number: Lubim, the Sukkiim, and the Ethiopians.
4. And he took the fortified cities in Judah and came to Jerusalem.
5. Then Shemaiah the prophet came to Rehoboam and to the rulers of Judah who were gathered to Jerusalem because of Shishak. And he said to them, “Thus says the LORD, ‘You have forsaken Me, and therefore I also have left you in the hand of Shishak.’”
6. And the rulers of Israel and the king humbled themselves. And they said, “The LORD is righteous.”
7. Now when the LORD saw that they humbled themselves, the Word of the LORD came to Shemaiah, saying, “They have humbled themselves. I will not destroy them, but I will give them some deliverance. And My wrath shall not be poured out upon Jerusalem by the hand of Shishak.
8. But they shall be his servants, so that they may understand the difference between My service and the service of the kings of the countries.”
9. And Shishak king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem and took away the treasures of the house of the LORD, and...

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. Now in the eighteenth year of King Jeroboam, Abijah began to reign over Judah.
2. He reigned three years in Jerusalem. His mother’s name also was Michaiah, the daughter of Uriel of Gibeah. And there was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.
3. And Abijah set the battle in order with an army of mighty men of war, four hundred thousand chosen men. Jeroboam also set the battle in order against him with eight hundred thousand chosen men, mighty men of valor.
4. And Abijah stood up on Mount Zemaraim, in the hills of Ephraim, and said, "Hear me, Jeroboam and all Israel.
5. Should you not know that the LORD made shields of bronze and gave them into the hands of the chief of the guard who kept the entrance of the king’s house.
6. And he began to reign, and he reigned seven years in Jerusalem, the city which he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put His name there. And his mother’s name was Naamah the Ammonitess.
7. And also things went well in Judah.
8. For Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put His name there. And his mother’s name was Naamah the Ammonitess.
9. And then King Rehoboam strengthened himself at Jerusalem and reigned, for Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put His name there. And his mother’s name was Naamah the Ammonitess.
10. And he did that which was evil because he did not prepare his heart to seek the LORD.
11. And the wrath of the LORD turned from him so that He would not destroy him altogether. And also things went well in Judah.
12. And when he humbled himself, the wrath of the LORD turned from him so that He would not destroy him altogether. And also things went well in Judah.
13. Then King Rehoboam strengthened himself at Jerusalem and reigned, for Rehoboam was forty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city which the LORD had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put His name there. And his mother’s name was Naamah the Ammonitess.
14. And he did that which was evil because he did not prepare his heart to seek the LORD.
15. And the acts of Rehoboam, first and last, are not written in the book of Shemaiah the prophet and Iddo the seer concerning genealogies? And the wars of Rehoboam and Jeroboam lasted all their days.
16. And Rehoboam slept with his fathers and was buried in the city of David. And his son Abijah reigned in his place.

God of Israel gave the kingdom over Israel to David forever, to him and to his sons by a covenant of salt?
6. Yet Jeroboam the son of Nebat, the servant of Solomon the son of David, has risen up and has rebelled against his lord.
7. And there are gathered to him vain men, the children of Belial, and have made themselves strong against Rehoboam the son of Solomon; and Rehoboam was young and tenderhearted and could not withstand them.
8. And now you think to withstand the kingdom of the LORD in the hands of the sons of David. And you are a great multitude, and there are with you golden calves which Jeroboam made you for gods.
9. Have you not cast out the priests of the LORD, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, and have you not made priests to yourselves like the peoples of the lands? Whoever comes to consecrate himself with a young bull and seven rams, he may be a priest of those who are not gods.
10. But as for us, the LORD is our God, and we have not forsaken Him. And the priests who minister to the LORD are the sons of Aaron, and the Levites in the work.
11. And they burn to the LORD every morning and every evening burnt sacrifices and sweet incense, and set in order the showbread upon the pure table, and the lampstand of gold with its lamps to burn every evening, for we keep the charge of the LORD our God, but you have forsaken Him.
12. And behold, God Himself is with us as Commander and His priests with sounding silver trumpets to cry the alarm against you. O children of Israel, do not fight against the LORD God of your fathers, for you shall not prosper!"
13. But Jeroboam caused an ambush to come around behind them, so that they were in front of Judah, and the ambush was behind them.
14. And Judah turned, and, behold, the battle was before and behind. And they cried to the LORD, and the priests sounded with the silver trumpets.
15. And the men of Judah shouted. Then it came to pass as the men of Judah shouted, God struck Jeroboam and all Israel before Abijah and Judah.
16. And the children of Israel fled before Judah. And God delivered them into their hand.
17. And Abijah and his people killed them with a great slaughter. And there fell down dead five hundred thousand chosen men of Israel.
18. And the children of Israel were subdued at that time, and the children of Judah won because they relied upon the LORD God of their fathers.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

1. And Abijah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David. And his son Asa reigned in his place. In his days the land was quiet ten years.
2. And Asa did that which was good and right in the eyes of the LORD his God,
3. For he took away the altars of the strange gods, and the high places, and broke down the images, and cut down the groves.
4. And he commanded Judah to seek the LORD their God. We have sought Him, and He has given us rest on every side.” And they built and were blessed.
8. And Asa had an army which bore bucklers and spears, three hundred thousand out of Judah. And out of Benjamin there were two hundred and eighty thousand who bore shields and drew bows; all these were mighty men of valor.
9. And Zerah the Ethiopian came out against them with an army of a million men and three hundred chariots. And he came to Mareshah.
10. And Asa went out against him, and they set the battle in order in the valley of Zephathah at Mareshah.
11. And Asa cried to the LORD his God and said, “LORD, it is nothing with You to help, whether with many or with him who has no power. Help us, O LORD our God, for we rely on You, and in Your name we go against this multitude. O LORD, You are our God. Do not let man prevail against You.”
12. And the LORD struck the Cushites before Asa and before Judah. And the Cushites fled.
13. And Asa and the people with him pursued them to Gerar. And the Cushites fell, for none was left alive of them, for they were destroyed before the LORD and before His army. And they carried away very much spoil.
14. And they struck all the cities around Gerar, for the fear of the LORD came upon them. And they plundered all the cities, for there was very much spoil in them.
15. And they struck those who had livestock, and carried away sheep and camels in abundance and returned to Jerusalem.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

1. Then the Spirit of God came upon Azariah the son of Oded.
2. And he went out to meet Asa, and said to him, “Hear me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin. The LORD is with you while you are with Him. And if you seek Him, He will be found by you. But if you forsake Him, He will forsake you.
3. Now for a long time Israel had been without the true God, and without a teaching priest, and without law.
4. And when they turned in their trouble to the LORD God of Israel, and sought Him, He was found by them.
5. And in those times there was no peace to him who went out, nor to him who came in, but great tumult was upon all the inhabitants of the lands.
6. And nation was destroyed by nation, and city by city, for God troubled them with every adversity.
7. But you be strong and do not let your hands be weak, for your work shall be rewarded.”
8. Now when Asa heard these words, and the prophecy of Oded the prophet, he took courage and put away the abominable idols out of all the land of Judah and Benjamin, and out of the cities which he had taken from Mount Ephraim. And he renewed the altar of the LORD before the porch of the LORD.
9. And he gathered all Judah and Benjamin, and the strangers with them out of Ephraim and Manasseh, and out of Simeon; for they fell to him out of Israel in great numbers, when they saw that the LORD his God was with him.
10. And they gathered at Jerusalem in the third month in the fifteenth year of the reign of Asa.
11. And they offered to the LORD in that day of the spoil which they had brought, seven hundred oxen and seven thousand sheep.
12. And they entered into a covenant to seek the LORD God of their fathers with all their heart and with all their soul,
13. And that whoever would not seek the LORD God of Israel should be put to death, whether small or great, whether man or woman.
14. And they swore to the LORD with a loud voice, and with shouting, and with silver trumpets, and with rams’ horns.
15. And all Judah rejoiced at the oath, for they had sworn with all their heart and sought Him with their whole desire. And He was found by them, and the LORD gave them rest all around.
16. And also as to Maachah the mother of Asa the king, he removed her from being queen mother because she had made an idol in a grove. And Asa cut down her idol and stamped it and burned it at the brook Kidron.
17. But the high places were not taken away out of Israel. Nevertheless, the heart of Asa was perfect all his days.
18. And he brought into the house of God the things which his father had dedicated, and that which he himself had dedicated, silver and gold and vessels.
19. And there was no war to the thirty-fifth year of the reign of Asa.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

1. In the thirty-sixth year of the reign of Asa, Baasha king of Israel came up against Judah and built Ramah so that he might let no one go out or come in to Asa king of Judah.
2. And Asa brought out silver and gold from the treasures of the house of the LORD and of the king’s house and sent them to Ben-Hadad king of Syria, who lived at Damascus, saying,
3. “Let there be a treaty between you and me as there was between my father and your father. Behold, I have sent you silver and gold. Go, break your treaty with Baasha king of Israel so that he may depart from me.”
4. And Ben-Hadad listened to King Asa and sent the commanders of his armies against the cities of Israel. And they struck Ijon and Dan, and Abel Maim, and all the store cities of Naphtali.
5. And it came to pass when Baasha heard it, he left off building Ramah and let his work stop.
6. And Asa the king took all Judah, and they carried away the stones of Ramah and timber with which Baasha was building. And he built with it Geba and Mizpah.
7. And at that time Hanani the seer came to Asa king of Judah and said to him, “Because you have relied on the king of Syria and have not relied on the LORD your God, therefore the army of the king of Syria has escaped out of your hand.
8. Were not the Ethiopians and the Libyans a huge army with many chariots and horsemen? Yet, because you relied on the LORD, He delivered them into your hand,
9. For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro in all the whole earth to show Himself strong on behalf of those whose heart is perfect toward Him. In this you have done foolishly; therefore, from now on you shall have wars.”
10. And Asa was angry with the seer and put him in a prison house. For he was in a rage against him because of this. And Asa oppressed some of the people at that time.
11. And behold, the acts of Asa, first and last, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.
12. And in the thirty-ninth year of his reign, Asa was diseased in his feet until his disease was very grievous. Yet in his disease he did not seek to the L ORD, but to the physicians.

13. And Asa slept with his fathers and died in the forty-first year of his reign.

14. And they buried him in his own tomb, which he had made for himself in the city of David, and laid him in the bed which was filled with sweet odors and different kinds of spices prepared by the perfumers’ art. And they made a very great burning for him.

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

1. Then Jehoshaphat his son reigned in his place. And he made himself strong against Israel.

2. And he placed troops in all the fortified cities of Judah, and set troops in the land of Judah and in the cities of Ephraim which Asa his father had taken.

3. And the L ORD was with Jehoshaphat because he walked in the first ways of his father David and did not seek to the Baalim.

4. But he sought to the God of his father, and walked in His commandments, and not according to the practices of Israel.

5. Therefore, the L ORD established the kingdom in his hand. And all Judah brought presents to Jehoshaphat. And he had great riches and honor.

6. And his heart delighted in the ways of the L ORD. And he took away the high places and groves out of Judah.

7. And in the third year of his reign he sent to his princes, to Ben-Hail, and to Obadiah, and to Zechariah, and to Nethanel, and to Michaiah, to teach in the cities of Judah.

8. And with them he sent Levites: Shemaiah, and Nathaniah, and ZLeftah, and Asahel, and Shemiramoth, and Jehonathan, and Adonijah, and Tobijah, and Tobadonijah—the Levites. And with them he sent Elishama and Jehoram the priests.

9. And they taught in Judah and had the book of the law of the L ORD with them, and went around throughout all the cities of Judah and taught the people.

10. And the fear of the L ORD fell upon all the kingdoms of the lands around Judah so that they did not make war against Jehoshaphat.

11. And some of the Philistines brought Jehoshaphat presents and silver for tribute. Also the Arabians brought him flocks, seven thousand and seven hundred rams, and seven thousand and seven hundred he-goats.

12. And Jehoshaphat became exceedingly great. And he built fortresses in Judah and store cities.

13. And he had much business in the cities of Judah. And the men of war, mighty men of valor, were in Jerusalem.

14. And these were their numbers for the house of their fathers from Judah, the commanders of thousands: Adnah the chief, and with him were three hundred thousand mighty men of valor.

15. And next to him was Jehohanan the chief, and with him were two hundred and eighty thousand

16. And next to him was Amasiah the son of Zichri, who willingly offered himself to the L ORD, and with him two hundred thousand mighty men of valor.

17. And from Benjamin was Eliada, a mighty man of valor, and with him two hundred thousand men armed with bow and shield.

18. And next to him was Jehozabad, and with him a hundred and eighty thousand ready and prepared for war.

19. These waited on the king, besides those whom the king put in the fortified cities throughout all Judah.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

1. And Jehoshaphat had riches and honor in abundance, and he allied himself with Ahab by marriage.

2. And after some years he went down to Ahab at Samaria. And Ahab killed sheep and oxen in abundance for him, and for the people that were with him. And he persuaded him to go up with him to Ramoth Gilead.

3. And Ahab king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat king of Judah, “Will you go with me to Ramoth Gilead?” And he answered him, “I am as you, and my people are as your people, and we will be with you in the war.”

4. But Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, “Please inquire at the word of the L ORD today.”

5. And the king of Israel gathered four hundred men of the prophets and said to them, “Shall we go to Ramoth Gilead to battle, or shall I refrain?” And they said, “Go up, for God will deliver it into the king’s hand.”

6. Then Jehoshaphat said, “Is there not a prophet of the LORD here besides, so that we might ask of Him?”

7. And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “There is yet one man by whom we may inquire of the LORD. But I hate him, for he never prophesied good to me, but always evil. The same is Micaiah the son of Imla.” And Jehoshaphat said, “Let not the king say such things.”

8. And the king of Israel called to a certain officer and said, “Bring quickly Micaiah the son of Imla.”

9. And the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat king of Judah sat each of them upon his throne, clothed in robes. And they sat on a grain floor at the entrance of the gate of Samaria. And all the prophets prophesied before them.

10. And Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah had made horns of iron for himself. And he said, “Thus says the LORD, ‘With these you shall push Syria until they are crushed.’ ”

11. And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, “Go up to Ramoth Gilead and be blessed, for the LORD shall deliver it into the king’s hand.”

12. And the messenger who went to call Micaiah spoke to him, saying, “Behold, the words of the prophets declare good to the king with one voice, and please let your word be like one of theirs, and speak good.”

13. And Micaiah said, “As the Lord lives, even what my God says, that I will speak.”

14. And he came to the king. And the king said to him, “Micaiah, shall we go to Ramoth Gilead and be blessed, for the LORD shall deliver it into the king’s hand.”

15. And the king said to him, “How many times shall I warn you that you say nothing but the truth to me in the name of the Lord?”

16. And he said, “I saw all Israel scattered upon the mountains, like sheep that have no shepherd. And the LORD said, ‘These have no master; let them return, each man to his own house in peace.’ ”

17. And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Did I not tell you, he would not prophesy good concerning me, but evil?”

18. Again he said, “Therefore hear the word of the LORD. I saw the LORD sitting upon His throne, and all the host of heaven were standing on His right hand and on His left.

19. And the LORD said, ‘Who shall tempt Ahab king of Israel so that he may go up and fall at Ramoth Gilead?’ And one spoke saying in one way, and another saying in another way.

20. Then a spirit came and stood before the LORD and said, ‘I will tempt him.’ And the LORD said, ‘With what?’

21. And he said, ‘I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets.’ And the LORD said, ‘You shall tempt him, and you shall also prevail. Go out and do so.’

22. And now behold, the Lord has put a lying spirit in the mouth of these your prophets, and the Lord has spoken evil against you.”

23. Then Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah came near and struck Micaiah on the cheek. And he said, “Which way did the Spirit of the LORD go from me to speak to you?”

24. And Micaiah said, “Behold, you shall see on that day when you shall go into an inner room to hide yourself.”

25. And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Did I not tell you, he would not prophesy good concerning me, but evil?”

26. And he said, “Hearken, all you people.”

27. And the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth Gilead.

28. And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “I will disguise myself and will go to the battle. But you put on your robes. And the king of Israel disguised himself. And they went to the battle.

29. And the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, I will disguise myself and will go to the battle. But you put on your robes. And the king of Israel disguised himself. And they went to the battle.
31. Then it came to pass when the commanders of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, they said, “It is the king of Israel.” And they surrounded him to fight. But Jehoshaphat cried out, and the LORD helped him. And God moved them to leave him.

32. For it came to pass when the commanders of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, they turned back again from pursuing him.

33. And a certain man drew a bow at random and struck the king of Israel between the joints of the breastplate. And he said to the charioteer, “Turn your hand, and you shall bring me out of the army, for I am wounded.”

34. And the battle increased that day; and the king of Israel was made to stand up in his chariot against the Syrians until the sunset. And about the time of the sunset he died.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

1. Then Jehoshaphat the king of Judah returned to his house in peace to Jerusalem.

2. And Jehu the son of Hanani the seer went out to meet him. And he said to King Jehoshaphat, “Should you help the ungodly and love those who hate the LORD—and by this bring wrath upon you from before the LORD?

3. But there are good things found in you in that you have taken away the groves from before the LORD, and set them to the LORD God of Israel, and have prepared your heart to seek God.”

4. And Jehoshaphat lived at Jerusalem. And he went out again among the people from Beersheba to Mount Ephraim and returned to his house in peace to Jerusalem.

5. And he set judges in the land, in all the fortified cities of Judah, city by city.

6. And he said to the judges, “Take heed what you do, for you do not judge for man, but for the LORD who is with you when you render judgment.

7. And now therefore, let the fear of the LORD be upon you. Be careful and act wisely, for there is no iniquity with the LORD our God, nor respect of persons, nor taking of a bribe.”

8. And Jehoshaphat set some of the Levites and of the priests and of the chief of the fathers of Israel in Jerusalem for the judgment of the LORD, and to settle disputes among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

9. And he charged them, saying, “Now you shall act in the fear of the LORD, faithfully, and with a perfect heart.

10. And whatever cause shall come to you from your brethren that dwell in their cities, between blood and blood, between law and commandment, statutes and ordinances, you shall even warn them so that they do not sin against the LORD, and wrath come upon you and your brethren. Do this and you shall not sin.

11. And behold, Amariah the chief priest is over you in all matters of the LORD. And Zebadiah the son of Ishmael is the ruler of the house of Judah for all the king’s matters. Also the Levites shall be officers before you. Take courage and act, and the LORD shall be with the good.”

CHAPTER TWENTY

1. Then it came to pass after this also, that the children of Moab, and the children of Ammon came in, and with them others besides the Ammonites, to battle against Jehoshaphat.

2. And some came in and spoke to Jehoshaphat, saying, “A great multitude has come against you from beyond the sea on this side of Syria. And behold, they are in Hazazon Tamar, which is En Gedi.”

3. And Jehoshaphat feared and set himself to seek the LORD, and called for a fast throughout all Judah.

4. And Judah gathered themselves to ask of the LORD. Even out of all the cities of Judah they came to seek the LORD.

5. And Jehoshaphat stood in the congregation of Judah and Jerusalem, in the house of the LORD before the new court.

6. And said, “O LORD God of our fathers, are You not God in heaven? And do You not rule over all the kingdoms of the nations? And is there not power and might in Your hand, so that none is able to withstand You?

7. Are You not our God? Did You not drive out the people of this land before Israel and give it to the seed of Your friend Abraham forever?

8. And they lived in it. And they have built You a temple in it for Your name, saying, ‘If evil comes upon us, whether the sword, judgment, or plague, or famine, and we stand before this house and in Your presence (for Your name is in this house) and cry to You in our affliction, then You will hear and help.’

10. And now, behold, the children of Ammon and Moab and Mount Seir, whom You would not let Israel invade when they came out of the land of Egypt, but they turned from them and did not destroy them,

11. Behold, they reward us by coming to cast us out of Your possession which You have given us to inherit.

12. O our God, will You not judge them? For we have no might against this great company which comes against us. Nor do we know what to do, but our eyes are upon You.”

13. And all Judah stood before the LORD with their little ones, their wives, and their children.

14. And the Spirit of the LORD came upon Jahaziel the son of Zechariah, the son of Benaiah, the son of Jeiel, the son of Mattaniah, a Levite of the sons of Asaph, in the midst of the congregation.

15. And he said, ‘Listen, all Judah, and you people of Jerusalem, and King Jehoshaphat! Thus says the LORD to you, ‘Do not be afraid nor dismayed because of this great multitude, for the battle is not yours, but God’s.’

16. Tomorrow go down against them. Behold, they come up by the cliff of Ziz. And you shall find them at the end of the valley before the wilderness of Jeruel.

17. You shall not need to fight in this battle. Set yourselves and stand, and see the salvation of the LORD with you, O Judah and Jerusalem.’ Do not fear nor be dismayed. Tomorrow go out against them, for the LORD will be with you.’

18. And Jehoshaphat bowed his face to the ground. And all Judah and the people of Jerusalem fell before the LORD, worshiping the LORD.

19. And the Levites, of the children of the Kohathites and of the sons of the Korahites, stood up to praise the LORD God of Israel with a loud voice on high.

20. And they rose up early in the morning and went out into the wilderness of Tekoa. And as they went out, Jehoshaphat stood and said, ‘Hear me, O Judah, and you people of Jerusalem. Believe in the LORD your God, and so you shall be established. Believe His prophets, and so you shall prosper.”

21. And when he consulted with the people, he appointed singers to the LORD and praisers to praise the beauty of holiness as they went out before the army, and to say, “Praise the LORD, for His steadfast love endures forever.”

22. And when they began to sing and to praise, the LORD set ambushes against the children of Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir, who had come against Judah. And they were beaten,

23. For the children of Ammon and Moab stood up against the people of Mount Seir to completely kill and destroy them. And when they had made an end of the people of Seir, everyone helped to destroy one another.

24. And when Judah came to the watchtower in the wilderness, they looked at the multitude. And behold, they were dead bodies fallen to the earth, and none escaped!

25. And when Jehoshaphat and his people came to take away their spoil, they found among them in abundance both riches and precious jewels in great number among the dead bodies which they stripped off for themselves, more than they could carry away. And they were three days in gathering of the spoil, it was so much.

26. Now on the fourth day they gathered themselves in the Valley of Blessing, for there they blessed the LORD. And the name of the same place was called the Valley of Blessing until this day.

27. And they returned, every man of Judah and Jerusalem, and Jehoshaphat in front of them, to go again to Jerusalem with joy, for the LORD had made them to rejoice over their enemies.

28. And they came into Jerusalem with harps, and with lyres, and with silver trumpets to the house of the LORD.

29. And a terror from God was on all the kingdoms of those countries when they had heard that the LORD fought against the enemies of Israel.

30. And then the kingdom of Jehoshaphat was quiet, for his God gave him rest round about.

31. And Jehoshaphat reigned over Judah. He was thirty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. And his mother’s name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.
32. And he walked in the way of Asa his father and did not depart from it, doing that which was right in the sight of the LORD.
33. Nevertheless, the high places were not taken away, for as yet the people had not prepared their hearts to the God of their fathers.
34. Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of Jehu the son of Hanani, which were taken up in the book of the kings of Israel.
35. Then after this Jehoshaphat king of Judah joined himself with Ahaziah king of Israel who did very wickedly.
36. And he joined himself with him to make ships to go to Tarshish. And they made the ships in Ezion Geber.
37. And Eliezer the son of Dodavah of Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, “Because you have joined yourself with Ahaziah, the LORD has broken your works.” And the ships were broken so that they were not able to go to Tarshish.

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

1. And Jehoshaphat slept with his fathers and was buried with his fathers in the city of David. And Jehoram his son reigned in his place.
2. And he had brothers, the sons of Jehoshaphat, Azariah, and Jehiel, and Zechariah, and Azaryahu, and Michael, and Shephatiah. All these were the sons of Jehoshaphat king of Israel.
3. And their father gave them great gifts of silver and of gold and of precious things, along with fortified cities in Judah. But the kingdom he gave to Je-horam because he was the firstborn.
4. And when Jehoram had risen up to the kingdom of his father, he made himself strong and killed all his brothers with the sword and also many of the princes of Israel.
5. Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he began to reign. And he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.
6. And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, like the house of Ahab, for he had the daughter of Ahab for a wife. And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD.
7. Nevertheless, the LORD was not willing to destroy the house of David because of the covenant that He had made with David, as He promised to give a light to him and to his sons forever.
8. In his days Edom revolted from under the rule of Judah and made themselves a king.
9. And Jehoram went forth with his princes and all his chariots with him.
And he rose up by night and struck the Edomites who surrounded him and the commanders of the chariots.
10. And the Edomites have been in revolt against the hand of Judah to this day. At the same time Libnah revolted from under his hand because he had forsaken the LORD God of his fathers.
11. Moreover, he made high places in the mountains of Judah, and caused the peodle of Jerusalem to commit fornication, and led Judah astray.
12. And a letter came to him from Elijah
the prophet, saying, “Thus says the LORD God of David your father, ‘Because you have not walked in the ways of Jehoshaphat your father, nor in the ways of Asa king of Judah,
13. But have walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and have made Judah and the people of Jerusalem to go awhoring like the whoredoms of the house of Ahab, and also you have killed your brothers of your father’s house (who were better than you),
14. Behold, the LORD will strike your people with a great plague, and your sons, and your wives, and all your goods.
15. And you shall have great sickness by disease in your bowels until your bowels fall out because of the sickness day by day.”
16. And the LORD stirred up the spirit of the Philistines against Jehoram and of the Arabians who were near the Ethiopians.
17. And they came up into Judah and broke into it, and carried away all the goods that were found in the king’s house, and his sons also, and his wives so that there was not a son left with him except Ahaziah, the youngest of his sons.
18. And after this the LORD struck him in his bowels with a disease that could not be cured.
19. And it came to pass, that in the process of time, at the end of two years, his bowels fell out because of his sickness. And he died of painful diseases. And his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers. 20. He was thirty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem eight years and departed without being desired. Nevertheless, they buried him in the city of David, but not in the tombs of the kings.

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO

1. Then the people of Jerusalem made Ahaziah his youngest son king in his place, for the band of men that came with the Arabians to the camp had killed all the older ones. And Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah reigned. 2. Ahaziah was forty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. His mother’s name was Athaliah the granddaughter of Omri. 3. He also walked in the ways of the house of Ahab, for his mother was his counselor to do wickedly. 4. And he did evil in the sight of the LORD like the house of Ahab, for they were his counselors after the death of his father to his ruin. 5. He also walked after their advice and went with Jehoram the son of Ahab king of Israel to war against Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth Gilead. And the Syrians wounded Jehoram. 6. And he returned to be healed in Jezreel because of the wounds which were given him at Ramah when he fought with Hazael king of Syria. And Ahaziah the son of Jehoram king of Judah went down to see Jehoram the son of Ahab at Jezreel because he was sick. 7. Now the downfall of Ahaziah was of God because, when he had come, he went out with Jehoram against Jehu the son of Nimshi, whom the LORD had anointed to cut off the house of Ahab. 8. And it came to pass when Jehu was executing judgment upon the house of Ahab and found the princes of Judah and the sons of the brothers of Ahaziah, the servants of Ahaziah, he killed them. 9. And he looked for Ahaziah. And they caught him (for he was hidden in Samaria) and brought him to Jehu. And when they had killed him, they buried him because they said, “He is the son of Jehoshaphat who looked to the LORD with all his heart.” And the house of Ahaziah had no power to keep the kingdom. 10. Then Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah saw that her son was dead, and she arose and destroyed all the royal seed of the house of Judah. 11. But Jehoshabeath, the daughter of the king, took Joash the son of Ahaziah and stole him from among the king’s sons who were killed. And she put him and his nurse in a bedroom. And Jehoshabeath, the daughter of King Jehoram, the wife of Jehoiada the priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah so that she did not kill him. 12. And he was with them six years, hidden in the house of God. And Athaliah reigned over the land.

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

1. Then in the seventh year Jehoiada made himself strong. And he took the commanders of hundreds: Azariah the son of Jeroham, and Ishmael the son of Jehohanan, and Azariah the son of Obed, and Maaseiah the son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat the son of Zichri into covenant with him. 2. Then they went about in Judah and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Judah and the chief of the fathers of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem. 3. And all the congregation made a covenant with the king in the house of God. And he said to them, “Behold, the king’s son shall reign as the LORD has said of the sons of David. 4. This is the thing that you shall do. A third part of you entering on the Sabbath, of the priests and of the Levites, shall be keepers of the doors. 5. And a third part shall be at the king’s house. And a third part shall be at the gate of the foundation. And all the people shall be in the courts of the house of the LORD. 6. But let none come into the house of the LORD except the priests and those of the Levites who minister. They shall go in, for they are holy. But all the people shall keep the watch of the LORD. 7. And the Levites shall surround the king, each man with his weapons in his hand. And whoever comes into the house, he shall be put to death. But you be with the king when he comes in and when he goes out.”
8. And the Levites and all Judah did according to all things that Jehoiada the priest had commanded. And every man took his men who were to come in on the Sabbath, with the ones who were to go out on the Sabbath, for Jehoiada the priest did not dismiss the courses.
9. And Jehoiada the priest delivered to the commanders of hundreds King David’s spears and bucklers and shields, which were in the house of God.
10. And he set all the people, each man having his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the temple to the left side of the temple, along by the altar and the temple, by the king round about.
11. Then they brought out the king’s son and put the crown upon him, and gave him the testimony, and made him king. And Jehoiada and his sons anointed him and said, “Long live the king!”
12. When Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she came to the people into the house of the LORD.
13. And she looked, and behold, the king stood at his pillar at the entrance, and the princes and the silver trumpets by the king. And all the people of the land were rejoicing and sounding with silver trumpets, and the singers with instruments of music, and those who led in praise. And Athaliah tore her clothes and cried, “Treason! Treason!”
14. And Jehoiada the priest brought out the commanders of hundreds who were set over the army, and said to them, “Take her out of the ranks. And whoever follows her shall be killed with the sword.” For the priest said, “Do not kill her in the house of the LORD.”
15. And they laid hands on her; and she came to the entrance of the Gate of the Horses, beside the king’s house, and they executed her there.
16. And Jehoiada made a covenant between him and between all the people and between the king that they should be the LORD’s people.
17. And all the people went into the house of Baal and broke it down, and smashed his altars and his images. And they killed Mattan the priest of Baal before the altars.
18. And Jehoiada appointed the officers of the house of the LORD by the hand of the priests the Levites, whom David had distributed in the house of the LORD, to offer the burnt offerings of the LORD, as it is written in the law of Moses, with joy and with singing by the hands of David.
19. And he set the gatekeepers at the gates of the house of the LORD so that those who were unclean in any way could not go in.
20. And he took the commanders of hundreds, and the nobles, and the governors of the people, and all the people of the land, and brought the king down from the house of the LORD. And they came through the Upper Gate into the king’s house and set the king upon the throne of the kingdom.
21. And all the people of the land rejoiced. And the city was quiet after they had slain Athaliah with the sword.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

1. Joash was seven years old when he began to reign. And he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. His mother’s name also was Zibiah of Beersheba.
2. And Joash did what was right in the eyes of the LORD all the days of Jehoiada the priest.
3. And Jehoiada took two wives for himself, and he begat sons and daughters.
4. And it came to pass after this, that it had been in the mind of Joash to repair the house of the LORD.
5. And he gathered together the priests and the Levites and said to them, “Go out to the cities of Judah, and gather silver from all Israel to repair the house of your God from year to year. And see that you hasten the matter.” But the Levites did not hasten it.
6. And the king called for Jehoiada and said to him, “Why have you not made the Levites bring in the collection out of Judah and out of Jerusalem, according to Moses, the servant of the LORD, and of the congregation of Israel, for the tabernacle of witness?”
7. For the sons of Athaliah, that wicked woman, have broken up the house of God. And all the dedicated things of the house of the LORD they have given to Baalim.”
8. And the king commanded, and they made a chest, and set it outside at the gate of the house of the LORD.
9. And they gave a call in Judah and in Jerusalem to bring in to the LORD the collection that Moses the servant of God laid upon Israel in the wilderness.

10. And all the princes and all the people rejoiced, and brought in, and threw into the chests until it was finished.

11. And it came to pass that at the time the chest was brought into the king’s office by the Levites, and when they saw that the silver was abundant, the king’s scribe and the high priest’s officer came and emptied the chest, and took it and carried it to its place again. So they did day by day and gathered a great amount of silver.

12. And the king and Jehoiada gave it to those who did the work of the service of the house of the LORD. And they hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of the LORD, and also artisans in iron and bronze, to mend the house of the LORD.

13. And the workmen worked, and the work was completed by them, and they set the house of God in its proper state and made it strong.

14. Now when they had finished, they brought the rest of the silver before the king and Jehoiada and it was made into vessels for the house of the LORD, vessels to minister and to offer, and spoons, and vessels of gold and silver. And they continually offered burnt offerings in the house of the LORD all the days of Jehoiada.

15. So Jehoiada became old and was full of days when he died. He was a hundred and thirty years old when he died.

16. And they buried him in the city of David among the kings because he had done good in Israel, both toward God and toward His house.

17. And after the death of Jehoiada the princes of Judah came and bowed down to the king. And the king hearkened to them.

18. And they left the house of the LORD, God of their fathers, and served groves and idols. And wrath came upon Judah and Jerusalem for this their trespass.

19. Yet He sent prophets to them to bring them again to the LORD. And they testified against them, but they would not hearken.

20. And the Spirit of God came upon Zechariah the son of Jehoiada the priest, who stood above the people and said to them, “Thus says God, ‘Why do you transgress the commandments of the LORD so that you cannot be blessed? Because you have forsaken the LORD, He has also forsaken you.’”

21. And they conspired against him and stoned him with stones at the command of the king in the court of the house of the LORD.

22. And Joash the king did not remember the kindness which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but killed his son. And as he was dying, he said, “May the LORD see and call you to account.”

23. And it came to pass at the end of the year the army of Syria came up against him. And they came to Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoil to the king of Damascus.

24. For the army of the Syrians came with a small company of men, but the LORD delivered a very great army into the king of Syria’s hand. And they became as little men before the king and his servants.

25. And when they had departed from him (for they left him severely wounded), his own servants conspired against him for the blood of the sons of Jehoiada the priest and killed him on his bed, and he died. And they buried him in the city of David, but they did not bury him in the tombs of the kings.

26. And these are the ones who conspired against him: Zabad the son of Shimeath of Ammon and Jehozabad the son of Shimrith the Moabitess.

27. And as to his sons, and the multitude of burdens against him, and the repairing of the house of God, behold, they are written in the chronicles of the book of the kings. And Amaziah his son reigned in his place.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

1. Amaziah was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. And his mother’s name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem.

2. And he did what was right in the eyes of the LORD, but not with a perfect heart.

3. And it came to pass that when the kingdom was made sure to him, he killed his servants who had killed his father, the king.
4. Now he did not kill their sons, but did as it is written in the law in the book of Moses, where the LORD commanded, saying, "The father shall not die for the sons, nor shall the sons die for the fathers, but every man shall die for his own sin."
5. And Amaziah gathered Judah together and made commanders for them over thousands and commanders over hundreds, according to the houses of the fathers, for all Judah and Benjamin. And he numbered them from twenty years old and above, and found them to be three hundred thousand choice men, able to go forth to war, that could handle spear and shield.
6. And he hired a hundred thousand mighty men of war out of Israel for a hundred talents of silver.
7. But a man of God came to him saying, "O king, do not let the army of Israel go with you, for the LORD is not with Israel, neither with all the children of Ephraim. But if you will go, do it! Be strong for the battle! Even so, God shall make you fall before the enemy, for God has power to help and to throw down."
8. And Amaziah said to the man of God, "But what shall we do for the hundred talents which I have given to the army of Israel?"
9. And Amaziah separated the army that had come to him out of Ephraim to go home again. And their anger was greatly kindled against Judah, and they returned home in great anger.
10. And Amaziah separated the army that had come to him out of Ephraim to go home again. And their anger was greatly kindled against Judah, and they returned home in great anger.
11. And Amaziah made himself strong, and led forth his people, and went to the Valley of Salt, and struck ten thousand of the children of Seir.
12. And the children of Judah carried away captive ten thousand alive, and brought them to the top of the rock, and threw them down from the top of the rock so they were all broken in pieces.
13. But the soldiers of the army which Amaziah sent back, that they should not go with him to battle, fell upon the cities of Judah from Samaria even to Beth Horon, and struck three thousand of them and took much spoil.
14. Now it came to pass after Amaziah had come from the slaughter of the Edomites, he brought the gods of the children of Seir and set them up to be his gods, and bowed down himself before them and burned incense to them.
15. Wherefore the anger of the LORD was kindled against Amaziah, and He sent to him a prophet who said to him, "Why have you sought after the gods of the people, which could not deliver their own people out of your hand?"
16. And it came to pass as he talked with him, the king said to him, "Have we made you of the king's counsel? Stop! Why should you be stricken?" And the prophet stopped. And he said, "I know that God has determined to destroy you because you have done this and have not hearkened to my counsel."
17. And Amaziah king of Judah took advice, and sent to Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz the son of Jehu, king of Israel, saying, "Come let us look one another in the face."
18. And Jehoash king of Israel sent to Amaziah king of Judah saying, "The thistle that was in Lebanon sent to the cedar in Lebanon, saying, 'Give your daughter to my son for a wife.' Now a beast of the field in Lebanon passed by and trampled the thistle down.
19. You have said, 'Lo, I have stricken the Edomites,' and your heart lifts you up to boast. Now stay at home—for why should you meddle to your hurt, so that you should fall, you and Judah with you?"
20. But Amaziah would not hear, for it was from God so that He might deliver them into the hand of their enemies because they sought after the gods of Edom.
21. And Jehoash the king of Israel went up. And they looked one another face to face, he and Amaziah king of Judah, at Beth Shemesh of Judah.
22. And Judah was beaten before Israel, and each man fled to his tent.
23. And Jehoash the king of Israel took Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Joash, the son of Ahaziah, at Beth Shemesh, and brought him to Jerusalem and broke down the wall of Jerusalem from the Ephraim Gate to the Corner Gate, four hundred cubits.
24. And he took all the gold and the silver, and all the vessels which were found in the house of God with Obed-Edom, and the treasures of the king’s house, the hostages also, and returned to Samaria.

25. And Amaziah the son of Joash, king of Judah, lived fifteen years after the death of Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel.

26. Now the rest of the acts of Amaziah, first and last, behold, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel?

27. Then after the time that Amaziah turned away from following the LORD, they made a plot against him in Jerusalem. So he fled to Lachish, but they sent to Lachish after him and killed him there.

28. And they brought him on horses and buried him with his fathers in the city of Judah.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

1. Now all the people of Judah took Uzziah, and he was sixteen years old, and made him king in his father Amaziah’s place.

2. He built Eloth, and restored it to Judah, after the king was put to rest with his fathers.

3. Uzziah was sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother’s name also was Jecholiah of Jerusalem.

4. And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Amaziah did.

5. And he sought God in the days of Zechariah, who had understanding in the visions of God. As long as he sought the LORD, God blessed him.

6. And he went out and warred against the Philistines, and broke down the wall of Gath, and the wall of Jabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities around Ashdod, and among the Philistines.

7. And God helped him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians who lived in Gur Baal, and the Meunites.

8. And the Ammonites paid tribute to Uzziah. And his name spread abroad even to the entrance of Egypt, for he was made very strong.

9. And Uzziah built towers in Jerusalem at the Corner Gate and at the Valley Gate, and at the turning of the wall, and fortified them.

10. And he built towers in the desert, and dug many wells. For he had much livestock, both in the low country and in the plains. He also had husbandmen and vinedressers in the mountains and in Carmel. For he loved husbandry.

11. And Uzziah had an army of fighting men, going out to war by troops, according to the number of their reckoning by the hand of Jeiel the scribe and Maaseiah the ruler, under the hand of Hananiah, one of the king’s leaders.

12. The whole number of the heads of the fathers of the mighty men of power was two thousand and six hundred.

13. And under their hand was an army of three hundred and seven thousand, five hundred, that made war with mighty power to help the king against the enemy.

14. And Uzziah prepared for them, for all the army, shields and spears and helmets and coats of armor and bows and stones for the slings.

15. And he made engines of war in Jerusalem, invented by skillful men, to be on the towers and on the corners, to shoot with arrows and great stones. And his name spread far abroad, for he was wonderfully helped until he was strong.

16. But when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction, for he sinned against the LORD his God, and went into the temple of the LORD to burn incense upon the altar of incense.

17. And Azariah the chief priest went in after him and with him eighty priests of the LORD, mighty men.

18. And they withstood Uzziah the king and said to him, “It is not for you, Uzziah, to burn incense to the LORD, but to the priests, the sons of Aaron, who are consecrated to burn incense. Go out of the sanctuary, for you have sinned. Nor shall it be for your honor from the LORD God.”

19. Then Uzziah was angry. And he had a censer in his hand to burn incense. And while he was angry with the priests, the leprosy even rose up in his forehead before the priests in the house of the LORD, who were standing beside the incense altar.

20. And Azariah the chief priest, and all the priests, looked upon him. And, behold, he was leprous in his forehead!
And they thrust him out from there. Yea, he himself hurried to go out also because the LORD had stricken him.

21. And Uzziah the king was a leper until the day of his death and lived in a separate house as a leper, for he was cut off from the house of the LORD. And Jotham his son was over the king’s house, judging the people of the land.

22. And the rest of the acts of Uzziah, first and last, did Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, write.

23. And Uzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the burial of the kings, for they said, he is a leper. And his son Jotham reigned in his place.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN

1. Jotham was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. And his mother’s name was Jerushah, the daughter of Zadok.

2. And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that his father Uzziah did. Only, he did not enter into the temple of the LORD. And the people still did corruptly.

3. He built the Upper Gate of the house of the LORD, and on the wall of Ophel he built much.

4. And he built cities in the mountains of Judah, and in the forests he built fortresses and towers.

5. And he fought against the king of the Ammonites and prevailed over them. And the children of Ammon gave him the same year a hundred talents of silver and ten thousand measures of wheat, and ten thousand of barley. This the children of Ammon paid to him, both the second year and the third.

6. And Jotham became mighty because he prepared his ways before the LORD his God.

7. And the rest of the acts of Jotham, and all his wars, and his ways, lo, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

8. He was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem.

9. And Jotham slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David. And his son Ahaz reigned in his place.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

1. Ahaz was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. But he did not do that which was right in the sight of the LORD, like David his father,

2. For he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, and also made molded images for the Baalim.

3. And he burned incense in the valley of the son of Hinnom and burned his children in the fire, according to the abominations of the nations whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel.

4. And he sacrificed and burned incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

5. And the LORD his God delivered him into the hand of the king of Syria. And they struck him and carried away a great number into captivity and brought them to Damascus. And he was also delivered into the hand of the king of Israel, who struck him with a great slaughter.

6. And Pekah the son of Remaliah killed a hundred and twenty thousand in Judah in one day, all mighty men, because they had forsaken the LORD God of their fathers.

7. And Zichri, a mighty man of Ephraim, killed Maaseiah the king’s son, and Azrikam the governor of the house, and Elkanah who was next to the king.

8. And the children of Israel carried away captive two hundred thousand of their brethren, women, and daughters, and also took away much plunder from them and brought the plunder to Samaria.

9. But a prophet of the LORD was there, whose name was Oded. And he went out before the army that came to Samaria and said to them, “Behold, because the LORD God of your fathers was angry with Judah, He has delivered them into your hands, and you have killed them in a rage which reaches up to heaven.

10. And now you intend to keep under subjection the children of Judah and Jerusalem as your bondmen and bondwomen. Are there not with you, even with you, sins against the LORD your God?

11. And now hear me, and deliver back again the captives which you have taken captive of your brothers, for the fierce wrath of the LORD is upon you.”
12. Then certain of the heads of the children of Ephraim—Azariah the son of Johanan, Berechiah the son of Meshillemoth, and Jehizkiah the son of Shallum, and Amasa the son of Hadlai—stood up against them who came from the war.

13. And they said to them, “You shall not bring the captives here, for we have offended the LORD, and you intend to add to our sins and to our trespass, for our trespass is great, and there is fierce wrath against Israel.”

14. And the armed men left the captives and the plunder before the princes and all the congregation.

15. And the men who were called by name rose up and took the captives and clothed all that were naked among them from the spoil, and dressed them, and made them eat and drink, and anointed them, and led the feeble ones on donkeys, and brought them to Jericho, the city of palm trees, to their brethren. And they returned to Samaria.

16. At that time King Ahaz sent to the kings of Assyria to help him.

17. For again the Edomites had come and had beaten Judah and had carried away captives.

18. The Philistines also had invaded the cities of the low country and of the south of Judah, and had taken Beth Shemesh and Aijalon, and Gederoth, and Sochoh with its villages, and Timnah with its villages, and Gimzo and its villages. And they settled there.

19. For the LORD brought Judah low because of Ahaz king of Israel. For he had promoted wickedness in Judah, and had sinned grievously against the LORD.

20. Then Tilgath Pilneser king of Assyria came to him and troubled him, but did not strengthen him.

21. For Ahaz took away a portion of the house of the LORD, and of the house of the king, and of the princes, and gave it to the king of Assyria. But it was no help to him.

22. And in the time of his distress he transgressed even more against the LORD, this same King Ahaz.

23. For he sacrificed to the gods of Damascus who struck him. And he said, “Because the gods of the kings of Syria helped them, I will sacrifice to them so that they may help me.” But they were the ruin of him and of all Israel.

24. And Ahaz gathered the vessels of the house of God and cut in pieces the vessels of the house of God, and shut up the doors of the house of the LORD. And he made himself altars in every corner of Jerusalem.

25. And in each separate city of Judah he made high places to burn incense to other gods and provoked the LORD God of his fathers to anger.

26. Now the rest of his acts and of all his ways, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

27. And Ahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city, in Jerusalem. But they did not bring him into the tombs of the kings of Israel. And his son Hezekiah reigned in his place.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

1. Hezekiah began to reign being twenty-five years old, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. And his mother’s name was Abijah the daughter of Zechariah.

2. And he did what was right in the sight of the LORD, according to all that David his father had done.

3. In the first year of his reign, in the first month, he opened the doors of the house of the LORD and repaired them.

4. And he brought in the priests and the Levites, and gathered them into the east street.

5. And he said to them, “Hear me, Levites now sanctify yourselves and sanctify the house of the LORD God of your fathers and carry the filthiness out of the holy place!

6. For our fathers have sinned and done evil in the eyes of the LORD our God, and have forsaken Him, and have turned away their faces from the dwelling place of the LORD, and have turned their backs.

7. Also, they have shut up the doors of the porch, and put out the lamps, and have not burned incense nor offered burnt offerings in the sanctuary to the God of Israel.

8. Therefore the wrath of the LORD was upon Judah and Jerusalem, and He has delivered them to trouble, to astonishment, and to hissing as you see with your eyes.

9. For lo, our fathers have fallen by the sword, and our sons and our daughters and our wives are in captivity for this.
10. And it is in my heart to make a covenant with the LORD God of Israel, that His fierce wrath may turn away from us.
11. My sons, do not be negligent now, for the LORD has chosen you to stand before Him, to serve Him, and that you should minister to Him and burn incense.”
12. Then the Levites arose, Mahath the son of Amasai, and Joel the son of Azariah, of the sons of the Kohathites.
And of the sons of Merari arose Kish the son of Abdi, and Azariah the son of Jehallelel. And of the Gershonites: Joah the son of Zimmah, and Eden the son of Joel.
15. And they gathered their brethren and sanctified themselves, and came, according to the commandment of the king, by the words of the LORD, to cleanse the house of the LORD.
16. And the priests went into the inner part of the house of the LORD to cleanse it. And they brought out all the uncleanness that they found in the temple of the LORD into the court of the house of the LORD. And the Levites took it out to the brook Kidron.
17. Now they began to sanctify on the first day of the first month. And on the eighth day of the month they came to the porch of the LORD. And they sanctified the house of the LORD in eight days, and in the sixteenth day of the first month they made an end.
18. And they went in to Hezekiah the king and said, “We have cleansed all the house of the LORD, and the altar of burnt offering, with all its vessels, and the showbread table, and all its vessels.
19. And we have prepared and sanctified all the vessels which King Ahaz in his reign cast away in his sin. And behold, they are before the altar of the LORD.”
20. And Hezekiah the king rose early and gathered the rulers of the city and went up to the house of the LORD.
21. And they brought seven bulls and seven rams and seven lambs and seven he-goats, for a sin offering for the kingdom, and for the sanctuary, and for Judah. Then he commanded the priests, the sons of Aaron, to offer them upon the altar of the LORD.
22. And they killed the bulls, and the priests received the blood and sprinkled it upon the altar. And they killed the rams and sprinkled the blood upon the altar. They also killed the lambs, and they sprinkled the blood upon the altar.
23. And they brought out the he-goats for the sin offering before the king and the congregation. And they laid their hands on them.
24. And the priest killed them, and they made atonement with their blood upon the altar to make atonement for all Israel, for the king commanded the burnt offering and the sin offering to be made for all Israel.
25. And he set the Levites in the house of the LORD with cymbals, with harps, and with lyres, according to the command of David, and of Gad the king’s seer and Nathan the prophet, for the commandment was by the hand of the LORD by His prophets.
26. And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with the silver trumpets.
27. And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering upon the altar. And when the burnt offering began, the song of the LORD began with the silver trumpets and with the instruments ordained by David king of Israel.
28. And all the congregation worshiped, and the singers sang, and the trumpeters sounded. All this went on until the burnt offering was finished.
29. And when they had made an end of offering, the king and all who were present with him bowed themselves and worshiped.
30. Then Hezekiah the king and the rulers commanded the Levites to sing praise to the LORD with the words of David and of Asaph the seer. And they sang praises with gladness, and they bowed their heads and worshiped.
31. And Hezekiah answered and said, “And you have consecrated yourselves to the LORD. Come near and bring sacrifices and thank offerings into the house of the LORD.” And the congregation brought in sacrifices and thank offerings. And as many as were of a willing heart brought burnt offerings.
32. And the number of the burnt offerings which the congregation brought was seventy oxen, a hundred rams, two hundred lambs. All these were for a burnt offering to the LORD.

33. And the things consecrated were six hundred oxen and three thousand sheep.

34. But the priests were too few, so that they could not skin all the burnt offerings. And their brothers the Levites helped them until the work was ended, and until the other priests had sanctified themselves, for the Levites were more upright of heart to make themselves pure than the priests.

35. And also the burnt offerings were in abundance, with the fat of the peace offerings and the drink offerings for every burnt offering. And the service of the house of the LORD was set in order.

36. Then Hezekiah rejoiced, and all the people, that God had prepared the people, for the thing happened suddenly.

CHAPTER THIRTY

1. And Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, and wrote letters also to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the LORD at Jerusalem to keep the Passover to the LORD God of Israel.

2. And the king and his leaders, and all the congregation in Jerusalem, took counsel to keep the Passover in the second month.

3. For they could not keep it at that time because the priests had not sanctified themselves sufficiently, nor had the people gathered to Jerusalem.

4. And the thing pleased the king and all the congregation.

5. And they established a decree to send a notice throughout all Israel, from Beersheba even to Dan, that they should come to keep the Passover to the LORD God of Israel at Jerusalem, for they had not done it in large numbers as it was written.

6. Then the runners went with the letters from the king and his princes throughout all Israel and Judah, and according to the commandment of the king, saying, “Of children of Israel, turn again to the LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, and He will return to the remnant of you who have escaped out of the hands of the king of Assyria.

7. And do not be like your fathers and like your brethren who sinned against the LORD God of their fathers, and He therefore gave them up to desolation, as you see.

8. And do not be stiff-necked like your fathers were, but yield yourselves to the LORD and enter into His sanctuary which He has sanctified forever. And serve the LORD your God so that the fierceness of His wrath may turn away from you,

9. For if you turn again to the LORD, your brethren and your children shall find compassion before those who lead them captive so that they shall come again into this land, for the LORD your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn His face away from you if you return to Him.”

10. So the runners passed from city to city in the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, even to Zebulun. But they laughed them to scorn and mocked them.

11. Nevertheless, various men from Asher and Manasseh and Zebulun humbled themselves and came to Jerusalem.

12. Also, in Judah the hand of God was to give them one heart to do the commandment of the king and of the princes by the word of the LORD.

13. And many people gathered at Jerusalem to keep the Feast of Unleavened Bread in the second month, a very great congregation.

14. And they arose and took away the altars that were in Jerusalem, and all the altars for incense to other gods they took away, and cast them into the Brook Kidron.

15. And they killed the Passover, on the fourteenth day of the second month. And the priests and the Levites were ashamed and sanctified themselves, and brought in the burnt offerings into the house of the LORD.

16. And they stood in their place after their manner, according to the law of Moses the man of God. The priests sprinkled the blood from the hand of the Levites.

17. For many in the congregation were not sanctified. And the Levites were over the killing of the Passover lambs for everyone who was unclean, in order to sanctify them unto the LORD.

18. For many of the people, many from Ephraim and Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun, had not cleansed themselves, but ate the Passover otherwise than it was written. But Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, “May the good LORD pardon everyone. 19. Who prepares his heart to seek God, the LORD God of his fathers, though not cleansed according to the purification of the sanctuary.”

20. Then the LORD hearkened to Hezekiah and healed the people.
21. And the children of Israel that were present at Jerusalem kept the Feast of Unleavened Bread seven days with great gladness. And the Levites and the priests praised the LORD day by day with loud instruments to the LORD.
22. And Hezekiah spoke encouragingly to all the Levites who taught the good knowledge of the LORD. And they ate the appointed things seven days, offering peace offerings and making confession to the LORD God of their fathers.
23. And the whole assembly took counsel to keep another seven days. And they kept another seven days with gladness,
24. For Hezekiah king of Judah gave to the congregation a thousand bulls and seven thousand sheep. And the princes gave to the congregation a thousand bulls and ten thousand sheep. And a great number of priests sanctified themselves.
25. And all the congregation of Judah, with the priests and the Levites, and all the congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and who lived in Judah, rejoiced.
26. And there was great joy in Jerusalem, for since the days of Solomon the son of David, the king of Israel, there was nothing like this in Jerusalem.
27. Then the priests, the Levites, arose and blessed the people. And their voice was heard, and their prayer came to His holy dwelling place, even unto heaven.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE

1. Now when all this was finished, all Israel who were present went out to the cities of Judah and broke the images in pieces, and cut down the groves, and threw down the high places and the altars out of all Judah and Benjamin, also in Ephraim and Manasseh, until they had utterly destroyed them all. Then all the children of Israel returned, each to his possession, into their own cities.
2. And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the priests and the Levites according to their courses, each according to his service, the priests and Levites for burnt offerings and for peace offerings, to minister and to give thanks, and to praise in the gates of the tents of the LORD.
3. He appointed also the king’s portion of his substance for the burnt offerings, even for the morning and the evening and the burnt offerings for the Sabbaths, and for the new moons, and for the appointed feasts, as it is written in the law of the LORD.
4. Moreover, he commanded the people who lived in Jerusalem to give the portion of the priests and the Levites so that they might be strong in the law of the LORD.
5. And as soon as the commandment spread abroad, the children of Israel brought plentifully of the firstfruits of grain, wine, and oil, and honey, and of all the increase of the field. And the tithe of all things they brought in abundance.
6. And the children of Israel and Judah who lived in the cities of Judah, they also brought in the tithe of oxen and sheep, and the tithe of holy things which were consecrated to the LORD their God, and laid it up by heaps.
7. In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the heaps and finished them in the seventh month.
8. And Hezekiah and the princes came and saw the heaps, and they blessed the LORD and His people Israel.
9. And Hezekiah questioned the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps.
10. And Azariah the chief priest of the house of Zadok answered him and said, “Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the LORD, we have had enough to eat and have plenty left, for the LORD has blessed His people, and this great store is left.”
11. Then Hezekiah commanded storehouses to be prepared in the house of the LORD. And they prepared them.
12. And faithfully brought in the offerings and the tithes and the things dedicated to God. And over them was Cononiah the Levite ruler, and Shimei, his brother, was next in rank.
13. And Jehiel, and Azaziah, and Nahath, and Asahel, and Jerimoth, and Jozabad, and Eliezer, and Ismachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiah were overseers under the hand of Coniah and Shimei his brother at the commandment of Hezekiah the king, and Azariah the ruler of the house of God.

14. And Kore, the son of Imnah the Levite, the gatekeeper toward the east, was over the freewill offerings of God to distribute the offerings of the LORD and the most holy things.

15. And next to him was Eden, and Miniamin, and Jeshua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah, in the cities of the priests, in their set office, to give to their brethren by courses, to the great as well as to the small.

16. Besides registered males from three years and upward, even to everyone who entered into the house of the LORD, they gave daily portions for their service in their charges according to their courses.

17. Both to the priests according to the genealogy of the house of their fathers, and to the Levites from twenty years old and upward, by their charges by their divisions,

18. And to those written in the genealogy—all their little ones, their wives, and their sons, and their daughters, through all the congregation—for in their set office they set themselves apart in holiness.

19. And to the sons of Aaron, the priests, in the fields of the open lands of their cities, in each separate city were those who were named by name to give portions to all the males among the priests and to all who were counted by genealogies among the Levites.

20. And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah what was good and right and true before the LORD his God.

21. And in every work that he began in the service of the house of God, and in the law, and in the commandments, to seek his God, he did it with all his heart and prospered.

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO

1. After these things and this faithfulness, Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, came and entered into Judah, and encamped against the fortified cities, and thought to win them over for himself.

2. And when Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib had come and that he had set his face to fight against Jerusalem,

3. He took counsel with his princes and his mighty men to stop the waters of the fountains outside the city. And they helped him.

4. And there were gathered many people, who stopped all the fountains and the brook which ran through the midst of the land, saying, “Why should the king of Assyria come and find much water?”

5. And he made himself strong and built up all the wall that was broken, and raised it up to the towers, and another wall outside, and repaired Millo in the city of David, and made weapons and shields in abundance.

6. Then he set commanders of war over the people and gathered them to himself in the street of the gate of the city. And he spoke to their heart, saying,

7. “Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid nor dismayed because of the king of Assyria, or for all the multitude with him, for there are more with us than with him.

8. With him is an arm of flesh, but with us is the LORD our God to help us and to fight our battles.” And the people rested themselves on the words of Hezekiah king of Judah.

9. After this Sennacherib king of Assyria sent his servants to Jerusalem—while he laid siege against Lachish, and all his forces with him—unto Hezekiah king of Judah, and unto all Judah in Jerusalem, saying,

10. “Sennacherib king of Assyria says this, ‘On what do you trust that you sit under siege in Jerusalem?

11. Does not Hezekiah persuade you to give yourselves over to die by famine and by thirst, saying, “The LORD our God shall deliver us out of the hand of the king of Assyria”?

12. Has not the same Hezekiah taken away His high places and His altars, and commanded Judah and Jerusalem, saying, “You shall worship before one altar and burn incense upon it”?

13. Do you not know what I and my fathers have done to all the people of other lands? Were the gods of the nations of those lands in any way able to deliver their lands out of my hands?

14. Who among all the gods of those nations that my fathers completely destroyed was able to deliver his people out
15. And now therefore, do not let Hezekiah deceive you or persuade you in this way, nor yet believe him, for no god of any nation or kingdom was able to deliver his people out of my hand and out of the hand of my fathers. How much less shall your God deliver you out of my hand?"

16. And his servants spoke still more against the LORD God and against His servant Hezekiah.

17. He also wrote letters to revile the LORD God of Israel, and to speak against His servant Hezekiah.

18. Then they cried out with a loud voice in the Jews’ language to the people of Jerusalem on the wall in order to frighten them and to trouble them, so that they might take the city.

19. And they spoke against the God of Jerusalem, as against the gods of the peoples of the earth, which were the work of the hands of man.

20. Now for this reason Hezekiah the king and the prophet Isaiah, the son of Amoz, prayed and cried to heaven.

21. And the LORD sent an angel to cut off all the mighty men of power, and the leaders and commanders in the camp of the king of Assyria. So he returned with shame of face to his own land. And he came into the house of his god, and some of his own sons killed him there with the sword.

22. But the LORD saved Hezekiah and the people of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib the king of Assyria, and from the hand of all others, and guided them on every side.

23. And many brought gifts to the LORD to Jerusalem, and presents to Hezekiah king of Judah, so that he was magnified in the sight of all nations from that time forward.

24. In those days Hezekiah was sick unto death and prayed to the LORD. And He spoke to him, and He gave him a sign.

25. But Hezekiah responded not again according to the good done to him, for his heart was lifted up. Therefore, there was wrath upon him and upon Judah and Jerusalem.

26. Notwithstanding, Hezekiah humbled himself for the pride of his heart, he and the people of Jerusalem, so that the wrath of the LORD did not come upon them in the days of Hezekiah.

27. And Hezekiah had exceedingly much riches and honor. And he made himself treasuries for silver, and for gold, and for precious stones, and for spices, and for shields, and for all kinds of pleasant jewels.

28. And he also made storehouses for the increase of grain and wine and oil, and stalls for all kinds of animals, and stalls for flocks.

29. Moreover, he provided himself cities, and possessions of flocks and herds in abundance, for God had given him many things.

30. And Hezekiah himself stopped the upper water courses of Gihon and brought it straight down to the west side of the city of David. And Hezekiah was blessed in all his works.

31. Nevertheless, in the business of the ambassadors of the princes of Babylon, who sent to him to ask about the wonder that was done in the land, God left him in order to try him, to know all that was in his heart.

32. And the rest of the acts of Hezekiah, and his goodness, behold, they are written in the vision of Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, and in the book of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

33. And Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest of the tombs of the sons of David. And all Judah and the people of Jerusalem honored him at his death. And his son Manasseh reigned in his place.

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE

1. Manasseh was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem.

2. But he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, like the abominations of the heathen whom the LORD had cast out before the children of Israel.

3. For he built again the high places which Hezekiah his father had broken down, and he reared up altars for Baalim, and made groves, and worshiped all the host of heaven, and served them.
4. And he built altars in the house of the LORD, of which the LORD had said, “In Jerusalem shall My name be forever.”
5. And he built altars for all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of the LORD.
6. And he caused his sons to pass through the fire in the valley of the son of Hinnom. He also observed times, and used enchantments, and used witchcraft, and dealt with a familiar spirit, and with wizards. He did much evil in the sight of the LORD to provoke Him to anger.
7. And he set a carved image, the idol which he had made, in the house of the Lord, of which God had said to David and to Solomon his son, “In this house, and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen before all the tribes of Israel, I will put My name forever.
8. Nor will I any more remove the foot of Israel from out of the land which I have set apart for your fathers—if only they will take heed to do all that I have commanded them, according to the whole law and the statutes and the ordinances by the hand of Moses.”
9. But Manasseh led astray Judah and the people of Jerusalem, and caused them to do worse than the nations whom the LORD had destroyed before the children of Israel.
10. And the LORD spoke to Manasseh and to His people, but they would not listen.
11. Wherefore the LORD brought upon them the commanders of the army of the king of Assyria, who took Manasseh with hooks and bound him with chains and carried him to Babylon.
12. But when he was in affliction, he sought the LORD his God and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers.
13. And he prayed to Him, and He was entreated of him and heard his prayer, and brought him again to Jerusalem into his kingdom. Then Manasseh knew that the LORD is God.
14. And after this he built a wall outside the city of David, on the west side of Gihon, in the valley, even to the entrance of the Fish Gate, and went around Ophel and raised it to a very great height. And he put army commanders in all the fortified cities of Judah.
15. And he took away the strange gods and the idol out of the house of the LORD, and all the altars that he had built in the mountain of the house of the LORD and in Jerusalem, and threw them out of the city.
16. And he repaired the altar of the LORD and sacrificed upon it peace offerings and thank offerings. And he commanded Judah to serve the LORD God of Israel.
17. But the people still sacrificed in the high places, but only to the LORD their God.
18. And the rest of the acts of Manasseh, and his prayer to his God, and the words of the seers who spoke to him in the name of the LORD God of Israel, behold, they are written in the book of the Kings of Israel;
19. And his prayer, and his entreaty, and all his sin and his unfaithfulness, and the places in which he built high places and set up groves and graven images, before he was humbled, behold, they are written among the records of the seers.
20. And Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his own house. And his son Amon reigned in his place.
21. Amon was twenty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem.
22. And he did evil in the eyes of the LORD as his father Manasseh did, and Amon sacrificed to all the graven images that his father Manasseh had made and served them.
23. But he did not humble himself before the LORD, as Manasseh his father had humbled himself, but Amon trespassed more and more.
24. And his servants conspired against him and killed him in his own house.
25. Then the people of the land killed all those who conspired against King Amon. And the people of the land made his son Josiah to reign in his place.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR

1. Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned in Jerusalem thirty-one years.
2. And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in the ways of David his father, and did not turn aside to the right nor to the left.
3. For in the eighth year of his reign, while he was still young, he began to seek after the God of David his father. And in the twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the carved images, and the molten images.

4. And they broke down the altars of Baalim in his presence. And he cut down the images, which were on high above them, and the groves. And the carved images and the molten images he also broke in pieces, and made dust from them, and scattered it upon the graves of the ones who had sacrificed to them.

5. And he burned the bones of the priests upon their altars and cleansed Judah and Jerusalem.

6. And so he did in the cities of Manasseh and Ephraim and Simeon, even to Naphtali, in their surrounding ruins.

7. And when he broke down the altars and the groves, and had beaten the carved images into powder, and cut down all the idols in all the land of Israel, he returned to Jerusalem.

8. And in the eighteenth year of his reign, when he had purified the land and the house, he sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, and Maaseiah the governor of the city, and Joah the son of Joahaz the recorder, to repair the house of the LORD his God.

9. And they came to Hilkiah the high priest, and they delivered the money that was brought into the house of the LORD, which the Levites that kept the doors had gathered from the hand of Manasseh and Ephraim, and from all the remnant of Israel, and from all Judah and Benjamin, and they returned to Jerusalem.

10. And they put it in the hands of the workmen who had the oversight of the house of the LORD. And they gave it to the workmen who worked in the house of the LORD to repair and restore the house.

11. They gave to the artisans and builders to buy cut stone and timber for joints, to make beams for the houses which the kings of Judah had destroyed.

12. And the men did the work faithfully. And the overseers of them were Jahath and Obadiah, the Levites, of the sons of Merari; and Zechariah and Meshullam, of the sons of the Kohathites, and of the Levites, all who were skillful with instruments of music;

13. And they were over the bearers of burdens, and were overseers of all who worked in any manner of service. And of the Levites were scribes and officers and gatekeepers.

14. And when they were bringing out the money that was brought into the house of the LORD, Hilkiah the priest found the Book of the Law of the LORD written by the hand of Moses.

15. And Hilkiah answered and said to Shaphan the scribe, “I have found the Book of the Law in the house of the LORD.” And Hilkiah delivered the book to Shaphan.

16. And Shaphan carried the book to the king and brought the king word back again, saying, “All that was given into the hands of your servants, they are doing.

17. And they have gathered together the money that was found in the house of the LORD, and delivered it into the hands of the overseers and to the hands of the workmen.”

18. And Shaphan the scribe told the king, saying, “Hilkiah the priest has given me a book.” And Shaphan read it before the king.

19. Now it came to pass when the king heard the words of the law, he tore his clothes.

20. And the king commanded Hilkiah, and Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Abdon the son of Micah, and Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah a servant of the king, saying,

21. “Go inquire of the LORD for me and for those who are left in Israel and in Judah, concerning the words of the book that has been found, for great is the wrath of the LORD that is poured out upon us because our fathers have not kept the word of the LORD to do according to all that is written in this book.”

22. Then Hilkiah, and those of the king, went to Huldah the prophetess, the wife of Shallum the son of Tikvath, the son of Hasrah, the keeper of the robes. (And she lived in Jerusalem in the second quarter.) And they spoke to her about this.

23. And she answered them, “Thus says the LORD God of Israel, ‘Tell the man who sent you to me,

24. “Thus says the LORD: ‘Behold, I will bring evil upon this place and upon its people, even all the curses that are written in the book which they have read before the king of Judah.

25. Because they have forsaken Me and have burned incense to other gods, so that they might provoke Me to anger with all the works of their hands. And My wrath shall be poured out upon this place and shall not be quenched.’””

26. But as for the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the LORD, so shall you say to him, ‘Thus says the LORD God of Israel concerning the words you have heard,

27. “Because your heart was tender and you humbled yourself before your God when you heard His words against this place and against its people, and humbled yourself before Me, and tore your clothes and wept before Me, I have even heard you also,” says the LORD.

28. “Behold, I will gather you to your fathers, and you shall be gathered to your grave in peace, nor shall your eyes see all the evil that I will bring upon this place and upon its people.”’” And they brought the king word again.

29. And the king sent and gathered together all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

30. And the king went up into the house of the LORD, and all the men of Judah, the people of Jerusalem, and the priests, and the Levites, and all the people, to the priests, and to the Levites, gave to the Levites for Passover offerings five thousand sheep.

31. And Conaniah, and Shemaiah and Jeiel, chiefs of the Levites, gave to the Levites for Passover offerings five thousand sheep and five hundred oxen.

32. And Josiah gave to the people from the flock, lambs and kids, all for the Passover offerings.★ for all who were present, to the number of thirty thousand, and three thousand oxen. These were from what the king owned.

33. Then Josiah took away all the abominations out of all the territories that belonged to the children of Israel. And he made all that were present in Israel to serve, even to serve the LORD their God. All his days they did not depart from fol-

1. And Josiah kept a Passover to the LORD in Jerusalem. And they killed the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

2. And he set the priests in their charges and encouraged them in the service of the house of the LORD.

3. And he said to the Levites who taught Moses.”

4. And prepare yourselves by the houses of your fathers, according to your courses, according to the writing of David king of Israel, and according to the writing of Solomon his son.

5. And stand in the holy place according to the divisions of the families of the fathers of your brethren, the sons of the people, and after the division of the families of the Levites.

6. And kill the Passover, and sanctify yourselves, and prepare your brethren so that they may do according to the word of the LORD by the hand of Moses.”

7. And Josiah gave to the people from the flock, lambs and kids, all for the Passover offerings.★ for all who were present, to the number of thirty thousand, and three thousand oxen. These were from what the king owned.

8. And his princes gave willingly to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites. Hilkiah and Zechariah and Jehiel, rulers of the house of God, gave to the priests for the Passover offerings two thousand six hundred sheep, and three hundred oxen.

9. And Conaniah, and Shemaiah and Nethaneel, his brothers, and Hashabiah and Jeiel and Jozabad, chiefs of the Levites, gave to the Levites for Passover offerings five thousand sheep and five hundred oxen.

10. So the service was prepared, and the priests stood in their place, and the Levites in their courses, according to the king’s commandment.
11. And they killed the Passover offerings, and the priests sprinkled the blood from their hands, and the Levites flayed them.

12. And they removed the burnt offerings so that they might give, according to the divisions of the families of the people, to offer to the LORD as it is written in the book of Moses; and so they did to the oxen.

13. And they boiled the Passover offerings over fire according to the law. And the holy offerings they boiled in pots, and in kettles, and in pans, and divided them speedily among all the people.

14. And afterward they made ready for themselves and for the priests, because the priests, the sons of Aaron, were busy offering up the burnt offerings and the fat until nightfall. And the Levites prepared for themselves and for the priests, the sons of Aaron.

15. And the singers, the sons of Asaph, were in their place, according to the command of David, and Asaph, and Heman, and Jeduthun, the king's seer. And the gatekeepers were at every gate. It was not for them to depart from their service, for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

16. So all the service of the LORD was prepared the same day, to keep the Passover and to offer burnt offerings upon the altar of the LORD, according to the commandment of King Josiah.

17. And the children of Israel who were present kept the Passover at that time and the Feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days.

18. And there was no Passover like that kept in Israel since the days of Samuel the prophet. Yea, none of the kings of Israel kept such a Passover as Josiah kept, and the priests and the Levites, and all Judah and Israel who were present, and the people of Jerusalem.

19. This Passover was kept in the eighteenth year of the reign of Josiah.

20. After all this, when Josiah had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came up to fight against Carchemish by the Euphrates. And Josiah went out against him.

21. But he sent messengers to him, saying, "What have I to do with you, king of Judah? I do not come against you today, but against the house with which I have war, for God commanded me to make haste. You must cease from opposing God, Who is with me, so that He does not destroy you."

22. Nevertheless, Josiah would not turn his face from him, but disguised himself so that he might fight with him. And he did not hearken to the words of Necho from the mouth of God and came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23. And the archers shot at King Josiah. And the king said to his servants, "Take me away, for I am grievously wounded."

24. And his servants took him out of that chariot and put him in the second chariot that he had. And they brought him to Jerusalem, and he died and was buried in the tombs of his fathers. And all Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah.

25. And Jeremiah mourned for Josiah. And all the singing men and the singing women speak of Josiah in their laments, even to this day, and have made them an ordinance in Israel. And behold, they are written in the Lamentations.

26. Now the rest of the acts of Josiah, and his goodness, according to that which was written in the law of the LORD.

27. And his deeds, first and last, behold, they are written in the book of the Kings of Israel and Judah.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX

1. Then the people of the land took Jehoahaz the son of Josiah, and made him king in his father's place in Jerusalem.

2. Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem.

3. And the king of Egypt deposed him at the land.

4. And the king of Egypt made Eliakim his brother king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. And Necho took Jehoahaz his brother and carried him to Egypt.

5. Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God.

6. Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon came up against him and bound him in chains to carry him to Babylon.

7. And Nebuchadnezzar carried away some of the vessels of the house of the LORD to Babylon and put them in his temple at Babylon.

8. And the rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, and his abominations which he did, and that which was found in him, behold, they are written in the book of the Kings of Israel and Judah. And Jehoiachin his son reigned in his place.

9. In the eighth year of Nebuchadnezzar's reign, Jehoiachin became king and reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem. And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD.

10. And when the year had ended, King Nebuchadnezzar sent and brought him to Babylon with the valuable vessels of the house of the LORD. And he made his brother Zedekiah king over Judah and Jerusalem.

11. Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem.

12. And he did what was evil in the sight of the LORD his God. He did not humble himself before Jeremiah the prophet who spoke from the mouth of the LORD.

13. And he also rebelled against King Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him swear by God. But he stiffened his neck and hardened his heart instead of turning to the LORD God of Israel.

14. Moreover, all the chief of the priests and the people transgressed very much after all the abominations of the heathen. And they polluted the house of the LORD which He had made holy in Jerusalem.

15. And the LORD God of their fathers sent word to them by His messengers, again and again, for He had compassion on His people and on His dwelling place.

16. But they mocked the messengers of God and despised His words, and ill-treated His prophets until the wrath of the LORD arose against His people until there was no remedy.

17. And He caused the king of the Chaldeans to go up against them. And he killed their choice ones by the sword in the house of their sanctuary and had no pity on the young man and the virgin, nor on the old man and the very aged; He gave all into his hand.

18. And all the vessels of the house of God, great and small, and the treasures of the house of the LORD, and the treasures of the king, and of his rulers, he brought all these to Babylon.

19. And they burned the house of God, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem, and burned all the palaces of it with fire, and destroyed all its beautiful vessels.

20. Then the ones who had escaped from the sword, he carried away to Babylon where they were servants to him and his sons until the reign of the kingdom of Persia,

21. To fulfill the Word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah until the land had enjoyed its Sabbaths. All the days of the desolation it kept the Sabbath to the full measure of seventy years.

22. And in the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, so that the Word of the LORD by the mouth of Jeremiah might be accomplished, the LORD stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, so that he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom and also put it in writing, saying,

23. ‘Thus says Cyrus king of Persia: ‘All the kingdoms of the earth have been given to me by the LORD God. And He has commanded me to build Him a house in Jerusalem, which is in Judah. Who is among you of all His people? May the LORD his God be with him, and let him go up!’ ”

A Faithful Version

From the Stephens Greek
New Testament Text of 1550

“And undeniably, great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifested in the flesh, was justified in the Spirit, was seen by angels, was proclaimed among the Gentiles, was believed on in the world, was received up in glory” (I Tim. 3:16).

“Christ Jesus, Who, although He existed in the form of God, did not consider it robbery to be equal with God, but emptied Himself, and was made in the likeness of men, and took the form of a servant” (Phil. 2:5-7).

“And the angel answered and said to [Mary], ‘The Holy Spirit shall come upon you, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow you; and for this reason, the Holy One being begotten in you shall be called the Son of God’” (Luke 1:35).

“I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no one comes to the Father except through Me” (John 14:6).

“And being found in the manner of man, He humbled Himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross” (Phil. 2:8).

“Behold the Lamb of God, Who takes away the sin of the world” (John 1:29).

“We know that this is truly the Christ, the Savior of the world” (John 4:42).

“I am the bread of life; the one who comes to Me shall never hunger; and the one who believes in Me shall never thirst at any time” (John 6:35).

“I am the light of the world; the one who follows Me shall never walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life” (John 8:12).

“Truly, truly … before Abraham was born, I AM” (John 8:58).

“I am the door of the sheep … I am the good Shepherd” (John 10:7, 11).

“I am the resurrection and the life” (John 11:25).

“And the Word became flesh, and tabernacled among us (and we ourselves beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten with the Father), full of grace and truth” (John 1:14).

“I am the true vine, and My Father is the husbandman. I am the vine … you are the branches” (John 15:1, 6).

“I AM THE ALPHA AND THE OMEGA, THE BEGINNING AND THE ENDING, says the Lord, Who is, and Who was, and Who is to come—the Almighty … I AM THE ALPHA AND THE OMEGA, THE FIRST AND THE LAST…even the one Who is living; for I was dead, and behold, I am alive into the ages of eternity. Amen” (Rev. 1:8, 11, 18).

The Acts of the Apostles
CHAPTER ONE

1. The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham:

2. Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat Jacob; and Jacob begat Judah and his brethren;

3. And Judah begat Phares and Zara of Thamar; and Phares begat Esrom; and Esrom begat Aram;

4. And Aram begat Aminadab; and Aminadab begat Naasson; and Naasson begat Salmon;

5. And Salmon begat Boaz of Rachab;

6. And Jesse begat David the king; and David the king begat Solomon of the one who had been wife of Uriah;

7. And Solomon begat Roboam; and Roboam begat Abia; and Abia begat Asa;

8. And Asa begat Josaphat; and Josaphat begat Joram; and Joram begat Ozias;

9. And Ozias begat Joatham; and Joatham begat Achaz; and Achaz begat Ezekias;

10. And Ezekias begat Manasses; and Manasses begat Amon; and Amon begat Josias;

11. And Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren at the time of the carrying away to Babylon.

12. And after the captivity in Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel; and Salathiel begat Zorobabel;

13. And Zorobabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor;

14. And Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat Achim; and Achim begat Eliud;

15. And Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Mattan; and Mattan begat Jacob;

16. And Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, from whom was born Jesus, Who is called the Christ.

17. So then, all the generations from Abraham to David were fourteen generations; and from David until the carrying away to Babylon, fourteen generations; and from the carrying away to Babylon to the Christ, fourteen generations.

18. And the birth of Jesus Christ was as follows: Now His mother Mary had been betrothed to Joseph; but before they came together, she was found to be with child of the Holy Spirit.

19. And Joseph her husband, being a righteous man, and not willing to expose her publicly, was planning to divorce her secretly.

20. But as he pondered these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying, “Joseph, son of David, do not be afraid to take Mary to be your wife, because that which has been begotten in her is of the Holy Spirit.

21. And she shall give birth to a Son, and you shall call His name Jesus: for He shall save His people from their sins.”

22. Now all this came to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,

23. “Behold, the virgin shall be with child and shall give birth to a Son, and they shall call His name Emmanuel”; which is, being interpreted, “God with us.”

24. And when Joseph was awakened from his sleep, he did as the angel of the Lord had commanded, and took his wife to wed;

25. But he did not have sexual relations with her until after she had given birth to her Son, the firstborn; and he called His name Jesus.

CHAPTER TWO

1. Now after Jesus had been born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the days of Herod the king, behold, Magi from the east arrived at Jerusalem,

2. Saying, “Where is the One Who has been born King of the Jews? For we have seen His star in the east, and have come to worship Him.”

3. But when Herod the king heard this, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4. And after gathering together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Christ should be born.

5. Then they said to him, “In Bethlehem of Judæa, for thus it has been written by the prophet:

6. ‘And you, Bethlehem, land of Judea, in no way are you least among the princes of Judea; for out of you shall come forth a Prince, Who shall shepherd My people Israel.’”

7. Then Herod secretly called for the Magi and ascertained from them the exact time of the appearing of the star.
8. And he sent them to Bethlehem, saying, “Go and search diligently for the little Child; and when you have found Him, bring word back to me, so that I also may go and worship Him.”
9. And after hearing the king, they departed; and behold, the star that they had seen in the east went in front of them, until it came and stood over the house where the little Child was.
10. And after seeing the star, they rejoiced with exceedingly great joy.
11. And when they had come into the house, they found the little Child with Mary His mother, and they bowed down and worshiped Him; then they opened their treasures and presented their gifts to Him—gold and frankincense and myrrh.
12. But being divinely instructed in a dream not to go back to Herod, they returned to their own country by another way.
13. Now after they had departed, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream, saying, “Arise and take the little Child and His mother, and escape into Egypt, and remain there until I shall tell you; for Herod is about to seek the little Child to destroy Him.”
14. And he arose by night and took the little Child and His mother, and went into Egypt,
15. And was there until the death of Herod; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, “Out of Egypt I have called My Son.”
16. Then Herod, seeing that he had been mocked by the Magi, was filled with rage; and he sent and put to death all the boys who were in Bethlehem and in the area all around, from two years old and under, according to the time that he had ascertained from the Magi.
17. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, 18. “A voice was heard in Rama, lamentation and weeping and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children; and she would not be comforted, because they were not.”
19. Now when Herod had died, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in Egypt in a dream,
20. Saying, “Arise and take the little Child and His mother, and go into the land of Israel; for those who were seeking the life of the little Child have died.”
21. And he arose and took the little Child and His mother, and came into the land of Israel.
22. But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judea instead of Herod his father, he was afraid to go there; and after being divinely instructed in a dream, he went into the parts of Galilee.
23. And after arriving, he dwelt in a city called Nazareth; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, “He shall be called a Nazarene.”

CHAPTER THREE

1. Now in those days John the Baptist came preaching in the wilderness of Judea,
2. And saying, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.”
3. For this is he who was spoken of by Isaiah the prophet, saying, “The voice of one crying in the wilderness, ‘Prepare the way of the Lord, make straight His paths.’
4. Now John himself wore a garment of camel’s hair, and a leather belt around his waist; and his food was locusts and wild honey.
5. Then went out to him those from Jerusalem, and all Judea, and all the country around the Jordan,
6. And were being baptized by him in the Jordan, confessing their sins.
7. But after seeing many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said to them, “You brood of vipers, who has forewarned you to flee from the coming wrath?
8. Therefore, produce fruits worthy of repentance;
9. And do not think to say within yourselves, ‘We have Abraham for our father’; for I tell you that God is able from these stones to raise up children to Abraham.
10. But already the axe is striking at the roots of the trees; therefore, every tree that is not producing good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire.
11. I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance; but the One Who is coming after me is mightier than I, of Whom I am not fit to carry His sandals; He shall baptize you with the Holy Spirit, and with fire;
12. Whose winnowing shovel is in His hand, and He will thoroughly purge His floor, and will gather His wheat into the granary; but the chaff He will burn up with unquenchable fire.”
13. Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan to John, to be baptized by him.
14. But John tried to prevent Him, saying, “I have need to be baptized by You, and You come to me?”
15. Then Jesus answered and said to him, “You must permit it at this time; for in this manner it is fitting for us to fulfill all righteousness.” Then he permitted Him to be baptized.
16. And after He was baptized, Jesus came up immediately out of the water; and behold, the heavens were opened to him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon Him.
17. And lo, a voice from heaven said, “This is My Son, the Beloved, in Whom I have great delight.”

CHAPTER FOUR

1. Then Jesus was led up into the wilderness by the Spirit in order to be tempted by the devil.
2. And when He had fasted for forty days and forty nights, afterwards He was famished.
3. And when the tempter came to Him, he said, “If You are the Son of God, command that these stones become bread.”
4. But He answered and said, “It is written, ‘Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceeds out of the mouth of God.’”
5. Then the devil took Him to the holy city and set Him upon the edge of the temple.
6. And said to Him, “If You are the Son of God, cast Yourself down; for it is written, ‘He shall give His angels charge concerning You, and they shall bear You up in their hands, lest You strike Your foot against a stone.’”
7. Jesus said to him, “Again, it is written, ‘You shall not tempt the Lord your God.’”
8. After that, the devil took Him to an exceedingly high mountain, and showed Him all the kingdoms of the world and their glory,
9. And said to Him, “All these things will I give You, if You will fall down and worship me.”
10. Then Jesus said to him, “Begone, Satan! For it is written, ‘You shall worship the Lord your God, and Him alone shall you serve.’”
11. Then the devil left Him; and behold, angels came and ministered to Him.
12. Now when Jesus had heard that John was put in prison, He went into Galilee.
13. And after leaving Nazareth, He came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is on the seaside, on the borders of Zabulon and Nephthalim;
14. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet Isaiah, saying, “The land of Zabulon and the land of Nephthalim, by the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles;
16. The people who were sitting in darkness have seen a great light; and to those who were sitting in the realm and shadow of death, light has sprung up.”
17. From that time Jesus began to preach and to say, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.”
18. And as Jesus was walking by the Sea of Galilee, He saw two brothers, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a large net into the sea; for they were fishermen.
19. And He said to them, “Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men.”
20. Then they immediately left their nets and followed Him.
21. And after leaving there, He saw two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and He called them.
22. And they immediately left the ship and their father and followed Him.
23. And Jesus went throughout all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every bodily ailment among the people.
24. Then His fame went out into all Syria; and they brought to Him all who were sick, oppressed by various diseases and torments, and possessed by demons, and lunatics, and paralytics; and He healed them.

25. And great multitudes followed Him from Galilee, and Decapolis, and Jerusalem, and Judea, and beyond the Jordan.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. But seeing the multitudes, He went up into the mountain; and when He sat down, His disciples came to Him.

2. And He opened His mouth and taught them, saying,

3. “Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4. Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted.

5. Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth.

6. Blessed are those who hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled.

7. Blessed are the merciful, for they shall find mercy.

8. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

9. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the sons of God.

10. Blessed are those who have been persecuted for the sake of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11. Blessed are you when they shall reproach you, and shall persecute you, and shall falsely say every wicked thing against you, for My sake.

12. Rejoice and be filled with joy, for great is your reward in heaven; for in this same manner they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

13. You are the salt of the earth; but if the salt has become tasteless, with what shall it be salted? For it no longer has any strength, but is to be thrown out and to be trampled upon by men.

14. You are the light of the world. A city that is set on a mountain cannot be hid.

15. Neither do they light a lamp and put it under a bushelbasket, but on the lampstand; and it shines for all who are in the house.

16. In the same way also, you are to let your light shine before men, so that they may see your good works, and may glorify your Father Who is in heaven.

17. Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I did not come to abolish, but to fulfill.

18. For truly I say to you, until the heaven and the earth shall pass away, not one jot or one tittle shall in no way pass from the Law until everything has been fulfilled.

19. Therefore, whoever shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven; but whoever shall practice and teach them, this one shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20. For I say to you, unless your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, there is no way that you shall enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21. You have heard that it was said to those in ancient times, ‘You shall not commit murder; but whoever commits murder shall be subject to judgment.’

22. But I say to you, everyone who is angry with his brother without cause shall be subject to judgment. Now you have heard it said, ‘Whoever shall say to his brother, “Raca,” shall be subject to judgment.’ But I say to you, whoever shall say, ‘You fool,’ shall be subject to the fire of Gehenna.

23. For this reason, if you bring your gift to the altar, and there remember that your brother has something against you,

24. Leave your gift there before the altar, and go your way; first be reconciled with your brother, and then come and offer your gift.

25. Agree with your adversary quickly, while you are in the way with him; lest your adversary deliver you to the judge, and the judge deliver you to the officer, and you be cast into prison.

26. Truly I say to you, there is no way that you shall come out of there until you have paid the very last coin.

27. You have heard that it was said to those in ancient times, ‘You shall not commit adultery.’

28. But I say to you, everyone who looks upon a woman to lust after her has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

29. So then, if your right eye shall cause you to offend, pluck it out and cast it from you; for it is better for you that one of your members should perish than that your whole body be cast into Gehenna.
30. And if your right hand shall cause you to offend, cut it off and cast it from you; for it is better for you that one of your members should perish than that your whole body be cast into Gehenna.

31. It was also said in ancient times, ‘Whoever shall divorce his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement.’

32. But I say to you, whoever shall divorce his wife, except for the cause of sexual immorality, causes her to commit adultery; and whoever shall marry her who has been divorced is committing adultery.

33. Again, you have heard that it was said to those in ancient times, ‘You shall not forswear yourself, but you shall perform your oaths to the Lord.’

34. But I say to you, do not swear at all, neither by heaven, for it is God’s throne; nor by Jerusalem, because it is the city of the great King.

35. Nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of His feet; nor by Jerusalem, because it is the city of the great King.

36. Neither shall you swear by your head, because you do not have the power to make one hair white or black.

37. But let your word be good, your ‘Yes’ be yes and your ‘No’ be no; for anything that is added to these is from the evil one.

38. You have heard that it was said, ‘An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth’;

39. But I say to you, do not resist evil; rather, if anyone shall strike you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also.

40. And if anyone shall sue you before the law and take your garment, give him your coat also.

41. And if anyone shall compel you to go one mile, go with him two.

42. Give to the one who asks of you; and do not turn away from the one who wishes to borrow from you.

43. You have heard that it was said, ‘You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.’

44. But I say to you, love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who despitefully use you and persecute you,

45. So that you yourselves may be the children of your Father Who is in heaven; for He causes His sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust.

46. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not the tax collectors practice the same thing?

47. And if you salute your brethren only, what have you done that is extraordinary? Do not the tax collectors practice the same thing?

48. Therefore, you shall be perfect, even as your Father Who is in heaven is perfect.”

CHAPTER SIX

1. “Beware that you do not bestow your alms in the sight of men in order to be seen by them; otherwise you have no reward with your Father Who is in heaven.

2. Therefore, when you give your alms, do not sound the trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, so that they may have glory from men. Truly I say to you, they have their reward.

3. But when you give your alms, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing,

4. So that your alms may be in secret; and your Father Who sees in secret shall Himself reward you openly.

5. And when you pray, you shall not be as the hypocrites, for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and on the corners of the streets, in order that they may be seen by men. Truly I say to you, they have their reward.

6. But you, when you pray, enter into a private room; and after shutting the door, pray to your Father Who is in secret; and your Father Who sees in secret shall reward you openly.

7. And when you pray, do not use vain repetitions, as the heathen do; for they think that by multiplying their words they shall be heard.

8. Now then, do not be like them; for your Father knows what things you have need of before you ask Him.

9. Therefore, you are to pray after this manner: ‘Our Father Who is in heaven, hallowed be Your name;

10. Your kingdom come; Your will be done on earth, as it is in heaven;

11. Give us this day our daily bread;

12. And forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors;

13. And lead us not into temptation, but rescue us from the evil one. For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.’

14. For if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.

15. But if you do not forgive men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16. And when you fast, do not be as the hypocrites, dejected in countenance; for they disfigure their faces in order that they may appear to men to fast. Truly I say to you, they have their reward.

17. But when you fast, anoint your head, and wash your face,

18. So that you may not appear to men to fast, but to your Father Who is in secret; and your Father Who sees in secret shall reward you openly.

19. Do not store up treasures for yourselves on earth, where moth and rust spoil, and where thieves break through and steal.

20. But store up treasures for yourselves in heaven, where neither moth nor rust spoils, and where thieves do not break through nor steal.

21. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22. The light of the body is the eye. Therefore, if your eye be sound, your whole body shall be full of light.

23. But if your eye be evil, your whole body shall be full of darkness. Therefore, if the light that is in you be darkness, how great is that darkness!

24. No one is able to serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will hold to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.

25. Because of this I say to you, do not be anxious about your life as to what you shall eat and what you shall drink; nor about your body as to what you shall wear. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothing?

26. Observe the birds of heaven: they do not sow, neither do they reap, nor do they gather into granaries; and your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not much better than they?

27. But who among you, by taking careful thought, is able to add one cubit to his stature?

28. And why are you anxious about clothing? Observe the lilies of the field, how they grow: they do not labor, nor do they spin;

29. But I say to you, not even Solomon in all his glory was arrayed as one of these.

30. Now if God so arrays the grass of the field, which today is and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall He not much rather clothe you, O you of little faith?

31. Therefore, do not be anxious, saying, ‘What shall we eat?’ or ‘What shall we drink?’ or ‘With what shall we be clothed?’

32. For the nations seek after all these things. And your heavenly Father knows that you have need of all these things.

33. But as you seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you.

34. Therefore, do not be anxious about tomorrow; for tomorrow shall take care of the things of itself. Sufficient for the day is the evil of that day.”

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. “Do not condemn others, so that you yourself will not be condemned;

2. For with what judgment you judge, shall be judged; and with what measure you mete out, it shall be measured again to you.

3. Now why do you look at the sliver that is in your brother’s eye, but do not perceive the beam in your own eye?

4. Or how will you say to your brother, ‘Allow me to remove the sliver from your eye’; and behold, the beam is in your own eye?

5. You hypocrite, first cast out the beam from your own eye, and then you shall see clearly to remove the sliver from your brother’s eye.

6. Do not give that which is holy to the dogs, nor cast your pearls before the swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn around and tear you in pieces.

7. Ask, and it shall be given to you. Seek, and you shall find. Knock, and it shall be opened to you.

8. For everyone who asks receives, and the one who seeks finds, and to the one who knocks it shall be opened.

9. Or what man is there of you who, if his son shall ask for bread, will give him a stone?
10. And if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent?
11. Therefore, if you, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more shall your Father Who is in heaven give good things to those who ask Him?
12. Therefore, everything that you would have men do to you, so also do to them; for this is the Law and the Prophets.
13. Enter in through the narrow gate; for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leads to destruction, and many are those who enter through it;
14. For narrow is the gate and difficult is the way that leads to life, and few are those who find it.
15. But beware of false prophets who come to you in sheep’s clothing, for within they are ravening wolves.
16. You shall know them by their fruits. They do not gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles, do they?
17. In the same way, every good tree produces good fruit, but a corrupt tree produces evil fruit.
18. A good tree cannot produce evil fruit, nor can a corrupt tree produce good fruit.
19. Every tree that is not producing good fruit is cut down and is cast into the fire.
20. Therefore, you shall assuredly know them by their fruits.
21. Not everyone who says to Me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but the one who is doing the will of My Father, Who is in heaven.
22. Many will say to Me in that day, ‘Lord, Lord,’ shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but the one who is doing the will of My Father, Who is in heaven.
23. And then I will confess to them, ‘I never knew you. Depart from Me, you who work lawlessness.’
24. Therefore, everyone who hears these words of Mine and practices them, I will compare him to a wise man, who built his house upon the rock;
25. And the rain came down, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; but it did not fall, for it was founded upon the rock.
26. And everyone who hears these words of Mine and does not practice them shall be compared to a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand;
27. And the rain came down, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell, and great was the fall of it.”
28. Now it came to pass that when Jesus had finished these words, the multitudes were amazed at His teaching;
29. For He taught them as one Who had authority, and not as the scribes.

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. When He came down from the mountain, great multitudes followed Him.
2. And behold, a leper came and worshiped Him, saying, “Lord, if You will, You have the power to cleanse me.”
3. Then Jesus stretched out His hand and touched him, saying, “I will. Be cleansed.” And immediately he was cleansed from his leprosy.
4. And Jesus said to him, “See that you tell no one: but go and show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a witness to them.”
5. Now when Jesus had entered Ca¬pernaum, a centurion came to Him, beseeching Him,
6. And saying, “Lord, my servant is lying in the house paralyzed and grievously tormented.”
7. And Jesus said to him, “I will come and heal him.”
8. But the centurion answered and said, “Lord, I am not worthy that You should come under the roof of my house; but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.
9. For I also am a man under authority, having soldiers under me; and I say to this one, ‘Go,’ and he goes; and to another one, ‘Come,’ and he comes; and to my servant, ‘Do this,’ and he does it.”
10. Now when Jesus heard these words, He was amazed; and He said to those who were following, “Truly I say to you, nowhere in Israel have I found such great faith.
11. But I say to you, many shall come from the east and the west, and shall sit down with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven.
12. But the children of the kingdom shall be cast into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.”
13. Then Jesus said to the centurion, “Go, and as you have believed, so be it done to you.” And his servant was healed in that hour.

14. And after coming into Peter’s house, Jesus saw Peter’s mother-in-law lying sick with a fever;

15. Then He touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she arose and served them.

16. Now when evening had come, they brought to Him many possessed with demons, and He cast out the spirits by His word, and healed all who were sick;

17. So that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying, “He Himself took our infirmities and bore our diseases.”

18. But when Jesus saw great multitudes around Him, He commanded His disciples to depart to the other side.

19. And a certain scribe came to Him and said, “Master, I will follow You wherever You may go.”

20. Then Jesus said to him, “Foxes have holes, and birds of heaven have nests; but the Son of man has no place to lay His head.”

21. And another of His disciples said to Him, “Lord, allow me first to go and bury my father.”

22. But Jesus said to him, “Follow Me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead.”

23. And when He entered into the ship, His disciples followed Him.

24. Now a great tempest suddenly arose in the sea, so great that the ship was being covered by the waves; but He was sleeping.

25. And His disciples came to Him and awoke Him, saying, “Lord, save us! We are perishing.”

26. And He said to them, “Why are you afraid. O you of little faith?” Then He arose and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm.

27. But the men were amazed, saying, “What kind of Man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey Him?”

28. And when He had come to the other side into the country of the Gergesenes, there met Him two who were possessed by demons coming out of the tombs, so violent that no one was able to pass by that way.

29. And they cried out at once, saying, “What do You have to do with us, Jesus, the Son of God? Have You come here to torment us before the time?”

30. Now there was far off from them a herd of many swine feeding;

31. And the demons pleaded with Him, saying, “If You cast us out, allow us to go into the herd of swine.”

32. And He said to them, “Go!” And after coming out, they went into the herd of swine; and the entire herd of swine suddenly rushed down the steep slope into the sea and died in the waters.

33. But those who were tending them fled, and after going into the city reported everything, and what had happened to those who had been possessed by demons.

34. And the entire city immediately went out to meet Jesus; and when they saw Him, they besought Him to depart from their borders.

CHAPTER NINE

1. And after going into the ship, He passed over and came to His own city.

2. And behold, they brought to Him a paralytic lying on a stretcher. Then Jesus, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, “Be of good courage, child; your sins have been forgiven you.”

3. And immediately some of the scribes said within themselves, “This man blasphemes.”

4. But Jesus, perceiving their thoughts, said, “Why are you thinking evil in your hearts?

5. For which is easier to say, ‘Your sins have been forgiven you,’ or to say, ‘Arise and walk’?

6. But I speak these words so that you may understand that the Son of man has authority on earth to forgive sins.” Then He said to the paralytic, “Arise, take up your bed, and go to your house.”

7. And he arose and went away to his house.

8. Now when the multitudes saw it, they were amazed and glorified God, Who had given such authority to men.

9. And passing from there, Jesus saw a man named Matthew sitting at the tax office, and said to him, “Follow Me.” And he arose and followed Him.
11. And after seeing this, the Pharisees said to His disciples, “Why does your Master eat with tax collectors and sinners?”
12. But when Jesus heard it, He said to them, “Those who are strong do not have need of a physician, but those who are sick.
13. Now go and learn what this means: ‘I desire mercy and not sacrifice.’ For I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.”
14. Then the disciples of John came to Him, saying, “Why do we and the Pharisees fast often, but Your disciples do not fast?”
15. And Jesus said to them, “Are the children of the bridechamber able to mourn while the bridegroom is with them? But the days will come when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then they shall fast.
16. Now no one sews a new piece of cloth onto an old garment; for that which is put in to fill up the hole takes away from the garment, and a worse tear develops.
17. Neither do they put new wine into old wineskins; otherwise the wineskins will burst, and the wine will spill out, and the wineskins will be destroyed; but they put new wine into new wineskins, and both are preserved together.”
18. While He was saying these things to them, behold, a ruler came and worshiped Him, saying, “My daughter has just died, but come and lay Your hands on her, and she shall live.”
19. Then Jesus and His disciples arose and followed him.
20. And behold, a woman who had been afflicted with a flow of blood for twelve years, after coming behind Him, touched the hem of His garment.
21. For she said within herself, “If only I shall touch His garment, I shall be healed.”
22. But Jesus turned; and seeing the woman, He said to her, “Be of good courage, daughter; your faith has made you whole.” And from that hour the woman was healed.
23. Now when Jesus came into the ruler’s house, and saw the flute players and the multitude making an uproar, He said to them, “Back away! For the damsel is not dead, but is sleeping.” And they laughed at Him.
24. But when the multitude had been put out, He went in and took hold of her hand, and the damsel arose.
25. And this report went out into all that land.
26. Now as Jesus was traveling from there, two blind men followed, crying and saying, “Have pity on us, Son of David!”
27. And after coming into the house, the blind men came to Him; and Jesus said to them, “Do you believe that I have the power to do this?” They said to Him, “Yes, Lord.”
28. Then He touched their eyes, saying, “According to your faith be it to you.”
29. And their eyes were opened. And He sternly warned them, saying, “See that you do not let anyone know it.”
30. But they went out and made Him known in all that land.
31. And as they were leaving, behold, they brought to Him a dumb man, possessed by a demon;
32. And when the demon had been cast out, the one who had been dumb spoke. And the multitudes wondered, saying, “Never has the like been seen in Israel.”
33. But the Pharisees said, “By the prince of the demons He casts out demons.”
34. Then Jesus went around to all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every bodily weakness among the people.
35. And seeing the multitudes, He was moved with compassion for them, because they were weary and scattered abroad, as sheep who did not have a shepherd.
36. And then He said to His disciples, “The harvest is truly great, but the workmen are few;
37. Therefore, beseech the Lord of the harvest, that He may send out workmen into His harvest.”

CHAPTER TEN

1. And when He had called His twelve disciples, He gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal every disease and every kind of sickness.

2. Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: first, Simon who is called Peter, and his brother Andrew; James, the son of Zebedee, and his brother John; 3. Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew, the former tax collector; James, the son of Alpheus; and Lebbeus, who was surnamed Thaddeus; 4. Simon, the Cananean; and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed Him.

5. These twelve Jesus sent out after commanding them, saying, “Do not go into the way of the Gentiles, and do not enter into a city of the Samaritans; 6. But go instead to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

7. And as you are going, proclaim, saying, ‘The kingdom of heaven is at hand.’

8. Heal the sick. Cleanse the lepers. Raise the dead. Cast out demons. Freely you have received; freely give.

9. Do not provide gold, nor silver, nor money in your belts, 10. Nor a provision bag for the way, nor two coats, nor shoes, nor a staff; for the workman is worthy of his food.

11. And whatever city or village you enter, inquire who in it is worthy, and there remain until you leave.

12. When you come into the house, salute it;

13. And if the house is indeed worthy, let your peace be upon it. But if it is not worthy, let your peace return to you.

14. And whoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when you leave that house or that city, shake off the dust from your feet.

15. Truly I say to you, it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment than for that city.

16. Behold, I am sending you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves. Therefore, be wise as serpents and harmless as doves.

17. But beware of men; for they will deliver you up to councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues;

18. And you shall also be brought before governors and kings for My sake, for a witness to them and to the Gentiles.

19. Now when they deliver you up, do not be anxious about how or what you should speak; for in that hour it shall be given to you what you shall speak.

20. For it is not you who speak, but the Spirit of your Father that speaks in you.

21. Then brother will deliver up brother to death; and the father, the child; and children will rise up against their parents and have them put to death.

22. And you shall be hated by all for My name’s sake; but the one who endures to the end, that one shall be saved.

23. But when they persecute you in this city, escape into another; for truly I say to you, in no way shall you have completed witnessing to the cities of Israel until the Son of man has come.

24. A disciple is not above his teacher, nor a servant above his master.

25. It is sufficient for the disciple that he become as his teacher, and the servant as his master. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call those of his household?

26. Therefore, do not fear them because there is nothing covered that shall not be uncovered, and nothing hidden that shall not be known.

27. What I tell you in the darkness, speak in the light; and what you hear in the ear, proclaim upon the housetops.

28. Do not be afraid of those who kill the body, but do not have power to destroy the life; rather, fear Him Who has the power to destroy both life and body in Gehenna.

29. Are not two sparrows sold for a coin? And yet not one of them shall fall to the ground without your Father taking account of it.

30. But even the hairs of your head are all numbered.

31. Therefore, do not be afraid; you are better than many sparrows.

32. Now then, whoever shall confess Me before men, that one will I also confess before My Father Who is in heaven.

33. But whoever shall deny Me before men, that one will I also deny before My Father, Who is in heaven.

34. Do not think that I have come to bring peace on the earth; I did not come to bring peace, but a sword.

35. For I have come to set a man at variance against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.

36. And a man’s enemies shall be those of his own household.
37. The one who loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me; and the one who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me.
38. And the one who does not take up his cross and follow Me is not worthy of Me.
39. The one who has found his life shall lose it; and the one who has lost his life for My sake shall find it.
40. The one who receives you receives Me, and the one who receives Me receives Him Who sent Me.
41. The one who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive the reward of a prophet; and the one who receives a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive the reward of a righteous man.
42. And if anyone shall in the name of a disciple give to one of these little ones to drink a cup of cold water only, truly I say to you, he shall in no way lose his reward.”

CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. And it came to pass that, when Jesus had finished commanding His twelve disciples, He left there to teach and to preach in their cities.
2. Now John, having heard in prison of the works of Christ, sent two of his disciples, 3. Saying to Him, “Are You the One Who is coming, or are we to look for another?”
4. Jesus answered and said to them, “Go and report to John what you hear and see:
5. The blind receive sight, and the lame walk; the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear; the dead are raised, and the poor are evangelized.
6. And blessed is everyone who shall not be offended in Me.”
7. And as they were leaving, Jesus said to the multitudes concerning John, “What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind?
8. But what did you go out to see? A man clothed in soft garments? Behold, those who wear soft clothing are in kings’ houses.
9. But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and one more excellent than a prophet.
10. For this is he of whom it is written,
26. Yes, Father, for it was well pleasing in Your sight to do this.
27. All things were delivered to Me by My Father; and no one knows the Son except the Father; neither does anyone know the Father except the Son, and the one to whom the Son personally chooses to reveal Him.
28. Come to Me, all you who labor and are overly burdened, and I will give you rest.
29. Take My yoke upon you, and learn from Me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and you shall find rest for your souls.
30. For My yoke is easy, and My burden is light.”

CHAPTER TWELVE

1. At that time Jesus went through the grain fields on the Sabbath day; and His disciples were hungry, and they began to pluck the heads of grain and to eat them.
2. But after seeing this, the Pharisees said to Him, “Behold, Your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath.”
3. But He said to them, “Have you not read what David did when he himself and those with him were hungry?
4. How he went into the house of God and he ate the loaves of showbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor for those who were with him, but for the priests only?
5. Or have you not read in the law that on the Sabbaths the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath and are guiltless?
6. But I say to you, there is one here Who is greater than the temple.
7. Now if you had known what this means, ‘I desire mercy and not sacrifice,’ you would not have condemned the guiltless.
8. For the Son of man is Lord even of the Sabbath day.”
9. And after leaving there, He went into their synagogue.
10. And, behold, a man was there who had a withered hand. And they asked Him, saying, “Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbaths?” so that they might accuse Him.
11. But He said to them, “What man is there among you who, if he has one sheep that falls into a pit on the Sabbath, will not lay hold of it and lift it out?
12. And how much better is a man than a sheep? So then, it is lawful to do good on the Sabbaths.”
13. And He said to the man, “Stretch out your hand.” And he stretched it out, and it was restored as sound as the other.
14. Then the Pharisees went out of the synagogue and held a council against Him to discuss how they might destroy Him.
15. But when Jesus knew of it, He withdrew from there; and great multitudes followed Him, and He healed all of them.
16. And He strictly commanded them not to make Him known publicly;
17. So that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying,
18. “Behold My Servant, Whom I have chosen: My Beloved, in Whom My soul has found delight. I will put My Spirit upon Him, and He shall declare judgment to the Gentiles.
19. He shall not strive nor cry out, neither shall anyone hear His voice in the streets.
20. A bruised reed shall He not break, and smoking flax shall He not quench, until He brings forth the judgment unto victory.
21. And the Gentiles shall hope in His name.”
22. Then was brought to Him one who was possessed by a demon, blind and dumb; and He healed him, so that the one who had been blind and dumb both spake and saw.
23. And the multitudes were all amazed, and said, “Is this the Son of David?”
24. But when the Pharisees heard this, they said, “This Man does not cast out demons except by Beelzebub, prince of the demons.”
25. But Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said to them, “Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand.
26. And if Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then shall his kingdom stand?
27. And if I by Beelzebub cast out demons, by whom do your sons cast them out? On account of this, they shall be your judges.”

28. But if I by the Spirit of God cast out demons, then the kingdom of God has come upon you.
29. Or how is anyone able to enter into the house of a strong man and plunder his goods, if he does not first bind the strong man? And then he will plunder his house.
30. The one who is not with Me is against Me, and the one who does not gather with Me scatters.
31. Because of this, I say to you, every sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven to men except the blasphemy against the Holy Spirit; that shall not be forgiven to men.
32. And whoever speaks a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this age nor in the coming age.
33. Either make the tree good and the fruit good, or make the tree corrupt and its fruit corrupt; for a tree is known by its fruit.
34. Offspring of vipers, how are you able to speak good things, being evil? For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks.
35. The good man out of the good treasure of his heart brings out good things; and the wicked man out of the wicked treasure brings out wicked things.
36. But I say to you, for every idle word that men may speak, they shall be held accountable in the day of judgment.
37. For by your words you shall be justified, and by your words you shall be condemned."
38. Then some of the scribes and Pharisees answered, saying, "Master, we desire to see a sign from You."
39. And He answered and said to them, "A wicked and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, but no sign shall be given to it except the sign of Jonah the prophet.
40. For just as Jonah was in the belly of the whale three days and three nights, in like manner the Son of man shall be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights.
41. The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgment with this generation and shall condemn it, because they repented at the proclamation of Jonah; and behold, a greater than Jonah is here.
42. The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation and shall condemn it, because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, a greater than Solomon is here.
43. But when the unclean spirit has departed from a man, it goes through dry places seeking rest, but finds none.
44. Then it says, 'I will return to my house, from which I came out.' And after coming, it finds it unoccupied, swept and set in order.
45. Then it goes and takes with it seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they enter in and dwell there; and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Likewise shall it also be with this wicked generation."
46. But while He was still speaking to the multitudes, behold, His mother and His brothers were standing outside, seeking to speak with Him.
47. Then one said to Him, "Behold, Your mother and Your brothers are standing outside, seeking to speak with You."
48. But He answered and said to him, "Who is My mother? And who are My brothers?"
49. And stretching out His hand to His disciples, He said, "Behold, My mother and My brothers.
50. For whoever shall do the will of My Father, Who is in heaven, that one is My brother and sister and mother."

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. Now in that same day, Jesus departed from the house and sat down by the sea.
2. And so great a multitude gathered around Him that He went into a ship and sat down, and all the multitude stood on the shore.
3. And He spoke many things to them in parables, saying, "Behold, the sower went out to sow.
4. And as he was sowing, some of the seed fell by the way; and the birds came and devoured them.
5. And some fell upon the rocky places, where they did not have much soil; and immediately they sprang up because the soil was not deep enough;
6. But after the sun rose, they were scorched; and because they did not have roots, they dried up.
7. And some of the seed fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them.

8. And some fell upon the good ground, and yielded fruit—some a hundredfold, and some sixtyfold, and some thirtyfold.

9. The one who has ears to hear, let him hear.”

10. And His disciples came to Him and asked, “Why do You speak to them in parables?”

11. And He answered and said to them, “Because it has been given to you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it has not been given.

12. For whoever has understanding, to him more shall be given, and he shall have an abundance; but whoever does not have understanding, even what he has shall be taken away from him.

13. For this reason I speak to them in parables, because seeing, they see not; and hearing, they hear not; neither do they understand.

14. And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which says, ‘In hearing you shall hear, and in no way understand; and in seeing you shall see, and in no way perceive;

15. For the heart of this people has grown fat, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and should hear with their ears, and should understand with their hearts, and should be converted, and I should heal them.’

16. But blessed are your eyes, because they see; and your ears, because they hear.

17. For truly I say to you, many prophets and righteous men have desired to see what you see, and have not seen; and to hear what you hear, and have not heard.

18. Therefore, hear the parable of the sower:

19. When anyone hears the Word of the kingdom and does not understand it, the wicked one comes and snatches away that which was sown in his heart. This is the one who was sown by the way.

20. Now the one who was sown upon the rocky places is the one who hears the Word and immediately receives it with joy;

21. But because he has no root in himself, he does not endure; for when tribulation or persecution arises because of the Word, he is quickly offended.

22. And the one who was sown among the thorns is the one who hears the Word, but the cares of this life and the deceitfulness of riches choke the Word, and it becomes unfruitful.

23. But the one who was sown on good ground, this is the one who hears the Word and understands, who indeed brings forth fruit and produces—one a hundredfold, another sixtyfold and another thirtyfold.”

24. And He put another parable before them, saying, “The kingdom of heaven is compared to a man who was sowing good seed in his field;

25. But while men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went away.

26. Now when the blades sprouted and produced fruit, then the tares also appeared.

27. And the servants came to the master of the house and said to him, ‘Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field? Then where did these tares come from?’

28. And he said to them, ‘A man who is an enemy has done this.’ Then the servants said to him, ‘Do you want us to go out and gather them?’

29. But he said, ‘No, lest while you are gathering the tares, you also uproot the wheat with them.

30. Allow both to grow together until the harvest; and at the time of the harvest, I will say to the reapers, ‘Gather the tares first, and bind them into bundles to burn them; but gather the wheat into my granary.’’

31. Another parable He presented to them, saying, “The kingdom of heaven is compared to a tiny mustard seed which a man took and sowed in his field;

32. Which indeed is very small among all the seeds; but after it is grown, it is greater than all the herbs, and becomes a tree, so that the birds of heaven come and roost in its branches.”

33. Another parable He spoke to them: “The kingdom of heaven is compared to leaven which a woman took and hid in three measures of flour until all was leavened.”

34. Jesus spoke all these things to the multitudes in parables, and without a parable He did not speak to them;
35. So that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, “I will open My mouth in parables; I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world.”

36. And after dismissing the multitude, Jesus went into the house. Then His disciples came to Him, saying, “Explain to us the parable of the tares of the field.”

37. And He answered and said to them, “The One Who sows the good seed is the Son of man;

38. And the field is the world; and the good seed, these are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one.

39. Now the enemy who sowed them is the devil; and the harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are the angels.

40. Therefore, as the tares are gathered and consumed in the fire, so shall it be in the end of this age.

41. The Son of man shall send forth His angels, and they shall gather out of His kingdom all the offenders and those who are practicing lawlessness;

42. And they shall cast them into the furnace of fire; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

43. Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. The one who has ears to hear, let him hear.

44. Again, the kingdom of heaven is compared to treasure hidden in a field; which when a man finds, he conceals, and for the joy of finding it, goes and buys it.

45. Again, the kingdom of heaven is compared to a merchant seeking beautiful pearls;

46. Who, after finding one very precious pearl, went and sold everything that he had, and bought it.

47. Again, the kingdom of heaven is compared to a dragnet cast into the sea, gathering in every kind of fish;

48. Which after it was filled was drawn up on shore; and they sat down and collected the good into vessels, and the unprofitable they threw away.

49. This is the way it will be in the end of the age: the angels shall go out, and shall separate the wicked from among the righteous,

50. And shall cast them into the furnace of fire; there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.”

51. Jesus said to them, “Have you understood all these things?” They said to Him, “Yes, Lord.”

52. Then He said to them, “Therefore, every scribe who has been instructed in the kingdom of heaven is like a man who is a householder, who brings forth out of his treasures things new and old.”

53. And it came to pass that when Jesus had finished these parables, He departed from there.

54. And after coming into His own country, He taught them in their synagogue, so that they were amazed and said, “From where did this Man receive this wisdom and these works of power?”

55. Is this not the carpenter’s son? Is not His mother called Mary, and His brothers James and Joses and Simon and Judas?

56. And His sisters, are they not all with us? From where then did this Man receive all these things?”

57. And they were offended in Him. Then Jesus said to them, “A prophet is not without honor, except in his own country and in his own house.”

58. And He did not do many works of power there because of their unbelief.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

1. At that time Herod the tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus,

2. And said to his servants, “This is John the Baptist; he has risen from the dead, and that is why these powerful deeds are at work in him.”

3. For Herod had arrested John, bound him and put him in prison, for the sake of Herodias, the wife of his brother Philip;

4. Because John had said to him, “It is not lawful for you to have her as your wife.”

5. And he desired to put him to death; but he feared the multitude because they held him to be a prophet.

6. Now when they were celebrating Herod’s birthday, the daughter of Herodias danced before them; and it pleased Herod.

7. Therefore, he promised with an oath to give her whatever she might ask.

8. Then, being urged by her mother, she said, “Give me, here on a platter, the head of John the Baptist.”
24. But the ship was now in the middle of the sea, being tossed by the waves, because the wind was contrary.
25. Now in the fourth watch of the night, Jesus went to them, walking on the sea.
26. And when the disciples saw Him walking on the sea, they were troubled and said, “It is an apparition!” And they cried out in fear.
27. But immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying, “Be of good courage; it is I. Do not be afraid.”
28. Then Peter answered Him and said, “Lord, if it is You, bid me to come to You upon the waters.”
29. And He said, “Come.” And after climbing down from the ship, Peter walked upon the waters to go to Jesus.
30. But when he saw how strong the wind was, he became afraid; and as he was beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, “Lord, save me!”
31. And immediately Jesus stretched out His hand and took hold of him, and said to him, “O you of little faith, why did you doubt?”
32. Now when they went into the ship, the wind ceased.
33. And those in the ship came and worshiped Him, saying, “You are truly the Son of God.”
34. And after passing over the sea, they came to the land of Gennesaret.
35. And when the men of that place recognized Him, they sent to all the country around; and they brought to Him all those who were sick.
36. And they besought Him that they might only touch the hem of His garment; and as many as touched it were healed.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

1. Then the scribes and Pharisees from Jerusalem came to Jesus, saying,
2. “Why do Your disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? For they do not wash their hands when they eat bread.”
3. But He answered and said to them, “Why do you also transgress the commandment of God for the sake of your tradition?
4. For God commanded, saying, ‘Honor your father and your mother’; and, ‘The one who speaks evil of father or mother, let him die the death.”
5. But you say, ‘Whoever shall say to father or mother, “Whatever benefit you might receive from me is being given as a gift to the temple;” he is not at all obliged to honor his father or his mother.’
6. And you have made void the commandment of God for the sake of your tradition.
7. Hypocrites! Isaiah has prophesied well concerning you, saying,
8. ‘These people have drawn near to Me with their mouths, and with their lips they honor Me; but their hearts are far away from Me.
9. For they worship Me in vain, teaching for doctrine the commandments of men.’
10. And after calling the multitude to Him, He said to them, “Hear, and understand.
11. That which goes into the mouth does not defile the man; but that which comes out of his mouth, this defiles the man.”
12. Then His disciples came to Him and said, “Do You realize that the Pharisees were offended when they heard this saying?”
13. But He answered and said, “Every plant that My heavenly Father has not planted shall be rooted up.
14. Leave them alone. They are blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the pit.”
15. Then Peter answered and said to Him, “Explain this parable to us.”
16. But Jesus said to him, “Are you also still without understanding?
17. Do you not perceive that everything that enters the mouth goes into the belly, and is expelled into the sewer?
18. But the things that go forth from the mouth come out of the heart, and these defile the man.
19. For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witnessing and blasphemies.
20. These are the things that defile the man; but to eat with unwashed hands does not defile the man.”
21. Then Jesus left there and withdrew into the area of Tyre and Sidon;
22. And, behold, a Canaanite woman who came from those borders cried to Him, saying, “Have mercy on me, Lord, Son of David; my daughter is grievously possessed by a demon.”
23. But He did not answer her a word. And His disciples came and requested of Him, saying, “Send her away, for she is crying out behind us.”
24. But He answered and said, “I have not been sent except to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.”
25. Then she came and worshiped Him, saying, “Lord, help me!”
26. But He answered and said, “It is not proper to take the children’s bread and throw it to the dogs.”
27. And she said, “Yes, Lord, but even the dogs eat of the crumbs that fall from their master’s table.”
28. Then Jesus answered and said to her, “O woman, great is your faith! As you have desired, so be it to you.” And her daughter was healed from that hour.
29. Now after leaving there, Jesus came toward the Sea of Galilee; and He went up into the mountain and sat there.
30. Then great multitudes came to Him, having with them the lame, the blind, the dumb, the maimed, and many others; and they laid them at the feet of Jesus, and He healed them;
31. So that the multitudes were amazed, when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed made whole, the lame walking, and the blind seeing; and they glorified the God of Israel.
32. And after calling His disciples to Him, Jesus said, “I am moved with compassion toward the multitude because they have been with Me for three days, and they have nothing to eat; and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint along the way.”
33. Then His disciples said to Him, “Where in this wilderness can we find enough loaves of bread to satisfy so great a multitude?”
34. And Jesus said to them, “How many loaves do you have?” And they said, “Seven, and a few small fish.”
35. Then He commanded the multitude to sit on the ground;
36. And He took the seven loaves and the fish, and gave thanks, and broke them, and gave them to His disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.
37. And they all ate and were satisfied; and they took up seven baskets full of fragments that were left.
38. Now those who ate were four thousand men, besides women and children.
39. And after dismissing the multitude,
He went into the ship and came to the area of Magdala.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

1. Then the Pharisees and Sadducees came to Him, tempting Him and asking Him to show them a sign from heaven.

2. But He answered and said to them, “When evening has come, you say, ‘It will be fair weather, for the sky is red.’ And in the morning, you say, ‘Today it will storm, for the sky is red and lowering.’ Hypocrites! You know how to discern the face of the sky, but you cannot discern the signs of the times.

3. A wicked and adulterous generation seeks after a sign, but no sign shall be given to it except the sign of Jonah the prophet.” Then He left them and went away.

4. Now when His disciples came to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

5. And Jesus said to them, “Watch out, and be on guard against the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.”

6. Then they reasoned among themselves, saying, “It is because we did not take bread.

7. But when Jesus knew this, He said to them, “O you of little faith, why are you reasoning among yourselves that it is because you did not bring bread?

8. Do you still not understand? Do you not remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets you took up?

9. Nor the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets you took up?

10. Nor is it that you do not understand that I was not speaking of bread when I told you to beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees?

11. How is it that you do not understand?

12. Then they understood that He did not say to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13. Now after coming into the parts of Caesarea Philippi, Jesus questioned His disciples, saying, “Who do men declare Me, the Son of man, to be?”

14. And they said, “Some say John the Baptist; and others, Elijah; and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets.”

15. He said to them, “But you, who do you declare Me to be?”

16. Then Simon Peter answered and said, “You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.”

17. And Jesus answered and said to him, “Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jona, for flesh and blood did not reveal it to you, but My Father, Who is in heaven.

18. And I say also to you, that you are Peter,* but upon this Rock I will build My church, and the gates of the grave shall not prevail against it.

19. And I will give to you the keys of the kingdom of heaven; and whatever you may bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatever you may lose on earth shall have already been loosed in heaven.”

20. Then He charged His disciples not to tell anyone that He was Jesus the Christ.

21. From that time Jesus began to explain to His disciples that it was necessary for Him to go to Jerusalem, and to suffer many things from the elders and chief priests and scribes, and to be killed, and to be raised the third day.

---

*Jesus was telling the apostles and disciples that He would build His church on Himself—not on Peter, as traditionally thought and claimed by many. The key to this understanding is in the Greek words that Jesus used. Jesus said to Peter, “You are Peter” (Πέτρος petros). The meaning of this word was given definition by Jesus Himself. In John 1:43, the interpretation of the name “Peter” which comes from the Aramaic (ךיפאς cephas) is “a stone.” This is what Jesus was emphasizing here. Peter was a stone. Next, Jesus said of Himself, “But upon this Rock I will build My church.” The Greek word translated “Rock” is πετρα petra, which means “massive cliff.” Christ Himself is that Rock, the Massive Cliff. Peter was a pebble or a stone in comparison. The Greek clearly conveys the meaning. Jesus built His church upon Himself. He did not build it upon a man. Other scriptures verify this truth. Jesus Christ is called the “Rock,” πετρα petra (1 Cor. 10:4; Eph. 2:20). Even Peter later wrote about Jesus as the Cornerstone, the foundational undergirding of the church that He said He would build (1 Pet. 2:4-6). Jesus Christ is called the Head of the church; no man can be the Head (Eph. 1:22; Col. 1:18). Peter himself, shortly after the resurrection of Jesus Christ, said that the Stone which the builders had set at naught had become the Head of the corner (Acts 4:11). This scripture shows that Peter knew he was not the cornerstone or the head of the church of God. I Corinthians 3:11 clearly states that all who are Christians must be built on the foundation of Jesus Christ, Who alone is the Head of His church. Through the direct words of Jesus Christ Himself, and through the words of His chosen apostles, we know that He has built His Church on Himself, not on Peter or any other man.
22. But after taking Him aside, Peter personally began to rebuke Him, saying, “God will be favorable to you, Lord. In no way shall this happen to You.”

23. Then He turned and said to Peter, “Get behind Me, Satan! You are an offense to Me, because your thoughts are not in accord with the things of God, but the things of men.”

24. And Jesus said to His disciples, “If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and let him take up his cross and follow Me.

25. For whoever desires to save his life shall lose it; but whoever loses his life for My sake shall find it.

26. For what does it profit a man if he gains the whole world, but loses his life? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his life?

27. For the Son of man shall come in the glory of His Father with His angels; and then He shall render to everyone according to his doings.

28. Truly I say to you, there are some of those standing here who shall not taste of death until they have seen the Son of man coming in His kingdom.”

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

1. And after six days, Jesus took with Him Peter and James and his brother John, and brought them up into a high mountain by themselves.

2. And He was transfigured before them; and His face shined as the sun, and His garments became white as the light.

3. Then behold, there appeared to them Moses and Elijah talking with Him.

4. And Peter answered and said to Jesus, “Lord, it is good for us to be here. If You desire, let us make three tabernacles here: one for You, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah.”

5. While he was speaking, a bright cloud overshadowed them; and behold, a voice out of the cloud said, “This is My Son, the Beloved, in Whom I delight. Listen to Him!”

6. And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their faces in extreme terror.

7. But Jesus came and touched them, and said, “Arise, and do not be terrified.”

8. And when they looked up, they saw no one except Jesus alone.

9. Now as they were descending from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, “Tell the vision to no one until the Son of man has risen from the dead.”

10. Then His disciples asked Him, saying, “Why then do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?”

11. And Jesus answered and said to them, “Elijah shall indeed come first and restore all things.

12. But I tell you that Elijah has already come, and they did not recognize him; but they did to him whatever they desired. In like manner also, the Son of man is about to suffer from them.”

13. Then the disciples understood that He was speaking to them about John the Baptist.

14. And when they had come to the multitude, a man came to Him, kneeling down to Him, and said, “Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is insane and suffers miserably; for he often falls into the fire, and often into the water.

15. And I brought him to Your disciples, but they were not able to heal him.”

16. Then Jesus answered and said, “O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I bear with you in your unbelief? Bring him here to Me.”

17. And when they had come to the multitude, a man came to Him, kneeling down to Him, and said, “Why were we not able to cast it out?”

18. And Jesus rebuked the demon, and it departed from him; and the boy was healed from that hour.

19. Then the disciples came to Jesus privately and said, “Why were we not able to cast it out?”

20. And Jesus said to them, “Because of your unbelief. For truly I say to you, if you have faith as a tiny mustard seed, you shall say to this mountain, ‘Remove from here,’ and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible to you.

21. But this kind does not go out except by prayer and fasting.”

22. And while they were dwelling in Galilee, Jesus said to them, “The Son of man is about to be betrayed into the hands of men.

23. And they shall kill Him; but the third day He shall be raised up.” And they were exceedingly sorrowful.

24. Now after coming to Capernaum, those who received the tribute money came to Peter and said, “Does not your Master pay tribute?”

25. And he said, “Yes.” And when he came into the house, Jesus, anticipating his question, said, “What do you think, Simon? From whom do the kings of the earth receive custom or tribute? From their own children, or from strangers?”

26. Peter said to Him, “From strangers.” Jesus said to him, “Then the children are indeed free.

27. Nevertheless, so that we may not offend them, go to the sea and cast a hook, and take the first fish that comes up; and when you have opened its mouth, you shall find a coin. Take that, and give it to them for Me and you.”

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

1. At that time the disciples came to Jesus, saying, “Who then is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?”

2. And after calling a little child to Him, Jesus set him in their midst.

3. And said, “Truly I say to you, unless you are converted and become as little children, there is no way that you shall enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4. Therefore, whoever shall humble himself as this little child, he is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5. And whoever shall receive one such little child in My name receives Me.

6. But whoever shall cause one of these little ones who believe in Me to offend, it would be better for him that a millstone be hung around his neck and he be sunk in the depths of the sea.

7. Woe to the world because of offenses! For it is necessary that offenses come, yet woe to that man by whom the offense comes!

8. And if your hand or your foot causes you to offend, cut it off and cast it from you; for it is better for you to enter into life lame or maimed than to have two hands or two feet and be cast into the eternal fire.

9. And if your eye causes you to offend, pluck it out and throw it away; for it is better for you to enter into life one-eyed than to have two eyes and be cast into the fire of Gehenna.

10. Take heed that you do not despise one of these little ones; for I tell you that their angels in heaven continually look upon the face of My Father, Who is in heaven.

11. For the Son of man has come to save those who are lost.

12. What do you think? If a man has a hundred sheep and one of them has gone astray, does he not leave the ninety-nine on the mountains and search for the one that went astray?

13. And if he finds it, truly I say to you, he rejoices over it more than over the ninety-nine that did not go astray.

14. Likewise, it is not the will of your Father Who is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish.

15. So then, if your brother sins against you, go and show him his fault between you and him alone. If he is willing to hear you, you have gained your brother.

16. But if he will not listen, take with you one or two others, so that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

17. And if he fails to listen to them, tell it to the church. But if he also fails to listen to the church, let him be to you as the heathen and the tax collector.

18. Truly I say to you, whatever you shall bind on the earth will have already been bound in heaven; and whatever you shall loose on the earth will have already been loosed in heaven.

19. Again I say to you, that if two of you on earth agree concerning any matter that they wish to request, it shall be done for them by My Father, Who is in heaven.

20. For where two or three are gathered together in My name, there, I am in the midst of them.”

21. Then Peter came to Him and said, “Lord, how often shall my brother sin against me and I forgive him? Until seven times?”

22. Jesus said to him, “I do not say to you until seven times, but until seventy times seven.

23. Therefore, the kingdom of heaven is compared to a man, a certain king, who would take account with his servants.

24. And after he began to reckon, there was brought to him one debtor who owed him ten thousand talents.

25. But since he did not have anything to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26. Because of this, the servant fell down and worshiped him, saying, ‘Lord, have
28. Then that servant went out and found one of his fellow servants, who owed him a hundred silver coins; and after seizing him, he choked him, saying, ‘Pay me what you owe.’

29. As a result, his fellow servant fell down at his feet and pleaded with him, saying, ‘Have patience with me, and I will pay you everything.’

30. But he would not listen; instead, he went and cast him into prison, until he should pay the amount that he owed.

31. Now when his fellow servants saw the things that had taken place, they were greatly distressed; and they went to their lord and related all that had taken place.

32. Then his lord called him and said to him, ‘You wicked servant, I forgave you all that debt, because you implored me.

33. Were you not also obligated to have compassion on your fellow servant, even as I had compassion on you?’

34. And in anger, his lord delivered him to the tormentors, until he should pay all that he owed to him.

35. Likewise shall My heavenly Father also do to you, if each of you does not forgive his brother’s offenses from the heart.”

CHAPTER NINETEEN

1. And it came to pass that when Jesus had finished these sayings, He departed from Galilee and came to the borders of Judea beyond the Jordan.

2. And great multitudes followed Him, and He healed them there.

3. Then the Pharisees came to Him and tempted Him, saying to Him, “Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for any cause?”

4. But He answered them, saying, “Have you not read that He Who made them from the beginning made them male and female?

5. And said, ‘For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined to his wife; and the two shall become one flesh’?

6. So then, they are no longer two, but one flesh. Therefore, what God has joined together, let not man separate.”

7. They said to Him, “Why then did Moses command to give a certificate of divorce, and to put her away?”

8. He said to them, “Because of your hard-heartedness, Moses allowed you to divorce your wives; but from the beginning it was not so.

9. And I say to you, whoever shall divorce his wife, except it be for sexual immorality, and shall marry another, is committing adultery; and the one who marries her who has been divorced is committing adultery.”

10. His disciples said to Him, “If that is the case of a man with a wife, it is better not to marry.”

11. But He said to them, “Not everyone can receive this word, but only those to whom it has been given.

12. For there are eunuchs who were born that way from their mother’s womb, and there are eunuchs who were made eunuchs by men, and there are eunuchs who have made themselves eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. The one who is able to receive it, let him receive it.”

13. Then little children were brought to Him, so that He might lay His hands on them and pray for them; but the disciples rebuked those who brought them.

14. But Jesus said, “Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the kingdom of heaven.”

15. And after laying His hands on them, He departed from there.

16. Now at that time, one came to Him and said, “Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?”

17. And He said to him, “Why do you call Me good? No one is good except one—God. But if you desire to enter into life, keep the commandments.”

18. Then he said to Him, “Which?” And Jesus said, “‘You shall not commit murder; ‘You shall not commit adultery; ‘You shall not steal; ‘You shall not bear false witness’.

19. ‘Honor your father and your mother’; and, ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.’ ”

20. The young man said to Him, “I have kept all these things from my youth. What do I yet lack?”

21. Jesus said to him, “If you desire to be perfect, go and sell your property, and give to the poor, and you shall have...”
Matthew 19 - 20

1. “The kingdom of heaven shall be compared to a man, a master of a house, who went out early in the morning to hire workmen for his vineyard.

2. And after agreeing with the workmen on a silver coin for the day’s wage, he sent them into his vineyard.

3. And when he went out about the third hour, he saw others standing idle in the marketplace;

4. And he said to them, ‘Go also into the vineyard, and whatever is right I will give you.’

5. And they went. Again, after going out about the sixth hour and the ninth hour, he did likewise.

6. And about the eleventh hour, he went out and found others standing idle, and said to them, ‘Why have you been standing here idle all the day?’

7. They said to him, ‘Because no one has hired us.’ He said to them, ‘Go also into my vineyard, and whatever is right you shall receive.’

8. And when evening came, the lord of the vineyard said to his steward, ‘Call the workmen and pay them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.’

9. And when those who were hired about the eleventh hour came, they each received a silver coin.

10. But when the first ones came, they thought that they would receive more; but each of them also received a silver coin.

11. And after receiving it, they complained against the master of the house.

12. Saying, ‘These who came last have worked one hour, and you have made them equal to us, who have carried the burden and the heat of the day.’

13. But he answered and said to them, ‘Friend, I am not doing you wrong. Did you not agree with me on a silver coin for the day?’

14. Take what is yours and go, for I also desire to give to the last ones exactly as I gave to you.

15. And is it not lawful for me to do what I will with that which is my own? Is your eye evil because I am good?”

16. So the last shall be first, and the first shall be last; for many are called, but few are chosen.”

17. And while they were going up to Jerusalem, Jesus took the twelve disciples aside in the way and said to them,

18. “Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be betrayed to the chief priests and scribes, and they shall condemn Him to death;

19. And they shall deliver Him up to the Gentiles to mock Him, and to scourge Him, and to crucify Him; but He shall rise again the third day.”

20. Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee came to Him with her sons, worshiping Him and asking a certain thing from Him.

21. And He said to her, “What do you desire?” She said to Him, “Grant that these my two sons may sit one at Your right hand and one at Your left hand in Your kingdom.”

22. But Jesus answered and said, “You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I am about to drink, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?” They said to Him, “We are able.”
23. And He said to them, “You shall indeed drink of My cup, and shall be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with; but to sit at My right hand and at My left hand is not Mine to give, but shall be given to those for whom it has been prepared by My Father.”
24. And after hearing this, the ten were indignant against the two brothers.
25. But Jesus called them to Him and said, “You know that the rulers of the nations exercise lordship over them, and the great ones exercise authority over them.
26. However, it shall not be this way among you; but whoever would become great among you, let him be your servant:
27. And whoever would be first among you, let him be your slave;
28. Just as the Son of man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many.”
29. And as they were going out of Jericho, a great multitude followed Him.
30. And behold, two blind men sitting beside the road, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying,
“Have mercy on us, Lord, Son of David!”
31. Then the multitude rebuked them, so that they would be silent. But they cried out all the more, saying, “Have mercy on us, Lord, Son of David!”
32. And Jesus stopped and called them, and said, “What do you desire that I do for you?”
33. They said to Him, “Lord, that our eyes may be opened.”
34. And being moved with compassion,
Jesus touched their eyes; and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed Him.

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

1. Now as they were approaching Jerusalem, they came to Bethphage, near the Mount of Olives; and Jesus sent two disciples,
2. Saying to them, “Go into the village, the one ahead of you, and immediately you shall find a donkey tied, and a colt with her. Loose them and bring them to Me.
3. And if anyone says anything to you, tell him, ‘The Lord has need of them.’
And he will send them at once.”
4. But this all took place so that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,
5. “Say to the daughter of Sion, ‘Behold, your King comes to you, meek and mounted on a donkey, and on a colt the foal of a donkey.’ ”
6. And the disciples left, and did as Jesus had ordered them;
7. They brought the donkey and the colt, and put their garments upon them; and
He sat on them.
8. And a great number of the multitude spread their garments on the road; and others were cutting down branches from the trees and spreading them on the road.
9. And the multitudes, those who were going before and those who were following behind, were shouting, saying, “Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is
He Who comes in the name of the Lord.
Hosanna in the highest!”
10. Now when He entered Jerusalem, the entire city was moved, saying, “Who is this?”
11. And the multitudes said, “This is Jesus the prophet, the One Who is from Nazareth of Galilee.”
12. And Jesus went into the temple of God and cast out all those who were buying and selling in the temple; and He overthrew the tables of the money exchangers, and the seats of those who were selling doves.
13. Then He said to them, “It is written, “My house shall be called a house of prayer”; but you have made it a den of thieves.”
14. And the blind and the lame came to Him in the temple, and He healed them.
15. But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that He did, and the children shouting in the temple and saying, “Hosanna to the Son of David,” they were indignant, 16. And said to Him, “Do You hear what they are saying?” Then Jesus said to them, “‘Yes! Have you never read, ‘Out of the mouths of little children and infants You have perfected praise?’ ” 17. And leaving them, He went out of the city to Bethany and spent the night there.
18. Now early in the morning, as He was coming back into the city, He hungered;
19. And seeing a fig tree by the road, He came up to it, but found nothing on it except leaves only. And He said to it, “Let there never again be fruit from you forever.” And immediately the fig tree dried up.
20. And after seeing it, the disciples were amazed, saying, “How quickly the fig tree has dried up!”
21. Then Jesus answered and said to them, “Truly I say to you, if you have faith and do not doubt, not only shall you do the miracle of the fig tree, but even if you shall say to this mountain, ‘Be removed and be cast into the sea,’ it shall come to pass.
22. And everything that you shall ask in prayer, believing, you shall receive.”
23. Now when He entered the temple and was teaching, the chief priests and the elders of the people came up to Him, saying, “By what authority do You do these things? And who gave You this authority?”
24. And Jesus answered and said to them, “I will also ask you one thing, which if you tell Me, I will also tell you by what authority I do these things.
25. The baptism of John, where did it come from? From heaven, or from men?” Then they reasoned among themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ He will say to us, ‘Why then did you not believe him?’
26. But if we say, ‘From men,’ we fear the multitude; for everyone holds John as a prophet.”
27. And they answered Jesus and said, “We do not know.” He said to them also, “Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things.
28. But what do you think? A man had two sons, and he came to the first one and said, ‘Son, go work in my vineyard today.’
29. And he answered and said, ‘I will not’; but afterwards he repented and went.
30. Then he came to the second son and said the same thing. And he answered and said, ‘Sir, I will go’; but he did not go.
31. Which of the two did the will of the father?” They said to Him, “The first one.” Jesus said to them, “I tell you truly, the tax collectors and the harlots are going into the kingdom of God before you.
32. For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him; but the tax collectors and the harlots believed him. Yet you, after seeing this, did not afterwards repent and believe him.
33. Hear another parable: There was a certain man, a master of a house, who planted a vineyard, and put a fence around it, and dug a winepress in it, and built a tower, and then leased it to husbandmen and left the country.
34. Now when the season of the fruits was drawing near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen to receive his fruits.
35. But the husbandmen took his servants and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.
36. Again he sent other servants, more than the first time; and they did the same thing to them.
37. Then at last he sent his son to them, saying, ‘They will have respect for my son.’
38. But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, ‘This is the heir; come, let us murder him and gain possession of his inheritance.’
39. Then they took him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and murdered him. Therefore, when the lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do to those husbandmen?’
40. They said to Him, “Evil men! He will utterly destroy them, and will lease his vineyard to other husbandmen, who will render him the fruits in their seasons.”
41. Jesus said to them, “Have you never read in the Scriptures, ‘The Stone that the builders rejected, this has become the head of the corner. This was from the Lord, and it is wonderful in our eyes’?
42. Because of this, I say to you, the kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and it shall be given to a nation that produces the fruits of it.
43. And the one who falls on this Stone shall be broken; but on whomever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.”
44. Now after hearing His parables, the chief priests and the Pharisees knew that He was speaking about them.
45. And they sought to arrest Him, but they were afraid of the multitude, because they held Him as a prophet.
CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO

1. And again Jesus answered and spoke to them in parables, saying,
2. “The kingdom of heaven is compared to a man who was a king, who made a wedding feast for his son,
3. And sent his servants to call those who had been invited to the wedding feast; but they refused to come.
4. Afterwards he sent out other servants, saying, ‘Say to those who have been invited, “Behold, I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and the fatted beasts are ready. Come to the wedding feast.”’
5. But they paid no attention and went away, one to his farm, and another to his business.
6. And the rest, after seizing his servants, insulted and killed them.
7. Now when the king heard it, he became angry; and he sent his armies and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.
8. Then he said to his servants, ‘The wedding feast indeed is ready, but those who were invited were not worthy; therefore, go into the well-traveled highways, and invite all that you find to the wedding feast.’
9. And when the king came in to see the guests, he noticed a man there who was not dressed in proper attire for the wedding feast;
10. And he said to him, ‘Friend, how did you enter here without a garment fit for the wedding feast?’ But he had no answer.
11. Then the king said to the servants, ‘Bind his hands and feet, and take him away, and cast him into the outer darkness.’ There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.
12. For many are called, but few are chosen.”
13. Then the Pharisees went and took counsel as to how they might entrap Him in His speech.
14. And they sent their disciples along with the Herodians to Him, saying, “Master, we know that You are true, and that You teach the way of God in truth, and that You are not concerned about pleasing anyone; for You do not respect the persons of men.
15. Therefore, tell us, what do You think? Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not?”
16. But Jesus, knowing their wickedness, said, “Why do you tempt Me, you hypocrites?”
17. Show Me the tribute coin.” And they brought to Him a silver coin.
18. And He said to them, “Whose image and inscription is on this?”
19. They said to Him, “Caesar’s.” And He said to them, “Render then the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God.”
20. And when they heard this, they were amazed; and they left Him and went their way.
21. On that same day, the Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection, came to Him and questioned Him,
22. Saying, “Master, Moses said, ‘If anyone dies without having children, his brother shall marry his wife and shall raise up seed to his brother.’
23. Now there were with us seven brothers; and the first one, being married, died without seed; and he left his wife to his brother.
24. And likewise the second also, and the third, unto the seventh.
25. And last of all the woman died also.
26. And they said, ‘Master, Moses said, ‘If anyone dies without having children, his brother shall marry his wife and shall raise up seed to his brother.’ But he had no answer.
27. And last of all the woman died also.
28. Therefore, in the resurrection, whose wife of the seven shall she be, for all had her?”
29. Then Jesus answered and said to them, “You do err, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.
30. For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but they are as the angels of God in heaven.
31. Now concerning the resurrection of the dead, have you not read that which was spoken to you by God, saying,
32. ‘I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob’? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.”
33. And when the multitudes heard this, they were amazed at His teaching.
34. But after the Pharisees heard that He had silenced the Sadducees, they came together before Him.
35. And one of them, a doctor of the law, questioned Him, tempting Him, and saying, 36. “Master, which commandment is the great commandment in the Law?”
37. And Jesus said to him, “‘You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind.’
38. This is the first and greatest commandment;
39. And the second one is like it: ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.’
40. On these two commandments hang all the Law and the Prophets.”
41. While the Pharisees were assembled all the Law and the Prophets.
42. Saying, “What do you think concerning the Christ? Whose Son is He?” They said to Him, “’The Son of David.”
43. He said to them, “How then does
David in spirit call Him Lord, saying,
44. ‘My right hand, until I make Your eneyes a footstool for Your feet’”? ’
45. Therefore, if David calls Him Lord, how is He His Son?”
46. And no one was able to answer Him a word, neither dared anyone from that day to question Him any more.

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

1. Then Jesus spoke to the multitudes and to His disciples,
2. Saying, “The scribes and the Pharisees have sat down on Moses’ seat as judges;
3. Therefore, every judgment that they tell you to observe,★ observe and do. But do not do according to their works;★★ for they say and do not.
4. For they bind heavy burdens and hard to bear, and lay them on the shoulders of men; but they will not move them with one of their own fingers.
5. And they do all their works to be seen by men. They make broad their phylacteries and enlarge the borders of their garments;
6. And they love the first place at the suppers, and the chief seats in the synagogues,
7. And the salutations in the marketplaces, and to be called by men, ‘Rabbi, Rabbi.’
8. But you are not to be called Rabbi; for one is your Master, the Christ, and all of you are brethren.
9. Also, do not call anyone on the earth your Father; for one is your Father, Who is in heaven.
10. Neither be called Master; for one is your Master, the Christ.
11. But the greatest among you shall be your servant.
12. And whoever will exalt himself shall be humbled; and whoever will humble himself shall be exalted.
13. But woe to you, scribes and Pharisesees, hypocrites! For you devour widows’ houses, and as a pretext you offer prayers of great length. Because of this, you shall receive the greater judgment.
14. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut up the kingdom of heaven before men; for neither do you yourselves enter, nor do you allow those who are entering to enter.
15. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you travel the sea and the land to make one proselyte, and when he has become one, you make him twofold more a son of Gehenna than yourselves.
16. Woe to you, blind guides, who say, ‘Whoever shall swear by the temple, it is not binding; but whoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is obligated to fulfill his oath.’
17. You fools and blind! For which is greater, the gold, or the temple which sanctifies the gold?
18. And you say, ‘Whoever shall swear by the altar, it is not binding; but whoever shall swear by the gift that is upon it, he is obligated to fulfill his oath.’
19. You fools and blind! For which is greater, the gift, or the altar which sanctifies the gift?
20. Therefore, the one who swears by the altar swears by it, and by all things that are upon it.
21. And the one who swears by the temple swears by it, and by Him Who dwells in it.
22. And the one who swears by heaven swears by the throne of God, and by Him
Who sits upon it.
23. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you pay tithes of mint and anise and cummin, but you have abandoned the more important matters of the law—judgment, and mercy and faith.
These you were obligated to do, and not to leave the others undone.
24. Blind guides, who filter out a gnat, but swallow a camel!
25. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you cleanse the outside of the cup and the dish, but within you are full of extortion and excess.
26. Blind Pharisees! First cleanse the inside of the cup and the dish, so that the outside may also become clean.
27. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like whitened sepulchers, which indeed appear beautiful on the outside, but within are full of the bones of the dead, and of all uncleanness.
28. Likewise, you also outwardly appear to men to be righteous, but within you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.
29. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you build the sepulchers of the prophets, and adorn the tombs of the righteous;
30. And you say, ‘If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.’
31. So then, you are testifying against yourselves, that you are the sons of those who killed the prophets;
32. And as for you, you are filling up the measure of your fathers.
33. You serpents, you offspring of vipers, how shall you escape the judgment of Gehenna?
34. Because of this, behold, I send to you prophets and wise men and scribes; and some of them you shall kill and crucify, and some of them you shall scourge in your synagogues, and some of them you shall persecute from city to city;
35. So that upon you may come all the righteous blood poured out upon the earth, from the blood of Abel the righteous, unto the blood of Zacharias son of Barachias, whom you murdered between the temple and the altar.
36. Truly I say to you, all these things shall come upon this generation.
37. Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you who kill the prophets and stone those who have been sent to you, how often would I have gathered your children together, even as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, but you refused!
38. Behold, your house is left to you desolate.
39. For I say to you, you shall not see Me at all from this time forward, until you shall say, ‘Blessed is He Who comes in the name of the Lord.’”

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

1. And after going out, Jesus departed from the temple; and His disciples came to Him to point out the buildings of the temple.
2. But Jesus said to them, “Do you not see all these things? Truly I say to you, there shall not be left here even a stone upon a stone that shall not be thrown down.”
3. And as He was sitting on the Mount of Olives, His disciples came to Him alone, saying, “Tell us, when shall these things be? And what shall be the sign of Your coming, and of the completion of the age?”
4. Then Jesus answered and said to them, “Be on guard, so that no one deceives you.
5. For many shall come in My name, saying, ‘I am the Christ’; and they shall deceive many.
6. And you shall hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you do not let these things disturb you. For it is necessary that all these things take place, but the end is not yet.
7. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be famines and pestilences and earthquakes in different places.
8. Now all these things are the beginning of sorrows.
9. Then shall they deliver you up to affliction, and shall kill you; and you shall be hated by all nations for My name’s sake.
10. And then shall many be led into sin, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another;
11. And many false prophets shall arise, and shall deceive many;
12. And because lawlessness shall be multiplied, the love of many shall grow cold.
13. But the one who endures to the end, that one shall be saved.
14. And this gospel of the kingdom shall be proclaimed in all the world for a witness to all nations; and then shall the end come.
15. Therefore, when you see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place (the one who reads, let him understand), 16. Then let those who are in Judea flee into the mountains.
17. Let the one who is on the housetop not come down to take anything out of his house;
18. And let the one who is in the field not go back to take his garments.
19. But woe to those women who are expecting a child, and to those who are nursing infants in those days!
20. And pray that your flight be not in the winter, nor on the Sabbath;
21. For then shall there be great tribulation, such as has not been from the beginning of the world until this time, nor ever shall be again.
22. And if those days were not limited, there would no flesh be saved; but for the elect’s sake those days shall be limited.
23. Then if anyone says to you, ‘Behold, here is the Christ,’ or, ‘He is there,’ do not believe it.
24. For there shall arise false Christs and false prophets, and they shall present great signs and wonders, in order to deceive, if possible, even the elect.
25. Behold, I have foretold it to you.
26. Therefore, if they say to you, ‘Come and see! He is in the wilderness’; do not go forth. ‘Come and see! He is in the secret chambers’; do not believe it.
27. For as the light of day, which comes forth from the east and shines as far as the west, so also shall the coming of the Son of man be.
28. For wherever the carcass may be, there will the eagles be gathered together.
29. But immediately after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken.
30. And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven; and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming upon the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.
31. And He shall send His angels with a great sound of a trumpet; and they shall gather together His elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.
32. Now learn this parable from the fig tree: When its branches have already become tender, and it puts forth its leaves, you know that summer is near.
33. In like manner also, when you see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors.
34. Truly I say to you, this generation shall in no wise pass away until all these things have taken place.
35. The heaven and the earth shall pass away, but My words shall never pass away.
36. But concerning that day, and the hour, no one knows, not even the angels of heaven, but My Father only.
37. Now as it was in the days of Noah, so shall it also be at the coming of the Son of man.
38. For as in the days that were before the Flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered the ark;
39. And they were not aware until the Flood came and took them all away; so shall it also be at the coming of the Son of man.
40. Then two shall be in the field; one shall be taken, and one shall be left;
41. Two women shall be grinding at the mill; one shall be taken, and one shall be left.
42. Watch, therefore, because you do not know in what hour your Lord is coming.
43. But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have been watching, and would not have allowed his house to be broken into.
44. Therefore, you also be ready. For the Son of man is coming at a time that you do not think.
45. Who then is the faithful and wise servant whom his lord has set over his household, to give them food in due season?
46. Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he comes shall find so doing.
47. Truly I say to you, he will set him over all his property.
48. But if that evil servant shall say in his heart, ‘My lord delays his coming;’
49. And shall begin to beat his fellow servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken,
50. The lord of that servant will come in
And five of them were wise, and five foolish.

3. The ones who were foolish took their lamps, but they did not take oil with them;
4. But the wise took oil in their vessels along with their lamps.
5. Now when the bridegroom was gone a long time, they all became drowsy and slept.
6. Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps.
7. Then a cry: 'Look, the bridegroom is coming! Go out to meet him.'
8. And the foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, because our lamps are going out.'
9. But the wise answered, saying, 'No, lest there not be enough for us and for you. But instead, go to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.'
10. And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and those who were ready went in with him to the wedding feast, and the door was shut.
11. And afterwards the other virgins also came, saying, 'Lord, Lord, open to us.'
12. But He answered and said, 'Truly I say to you, I do not know you.'
13. Watch, therefore, for you do not know the day nor the hour in which the Son of man is coming.
14. For the kingdom of heaven is like a man leaving the country, who called his own servants and delivered to them his property.
15. Now to one he gave five talents, and to another two, and to another one; he gave to each one according to his own ability, and immediately left the country.
16. Then the one who had received five talents went and traded with them, and made an additional five talents.
17. In the same way also, the one who had received two talents also gained two others.
18. But the one who had received the single talent went and dug in the earth, and hid his lord’s money.
19. Now after a long time, the lord of those servants came to take account with them.
20. Then the one who had received five talents came to him and said, ‘Lord, you delivered five talents to me; see, I have gained five other talents besides them.’
21. And his lord said to him, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant! Because you were faithful over a few things, I will set you over many things. Enter into the joy of your lord.’
22. And the one who had received two talents also came to him and said, ‘Lord, you delivered to me two talents; see, I have gained two other talents besides them.’
23. His lord said to him, ‘Well done, good and faithful servant! Because you were faithful over a few things, I will set you over many things. Enter into the joy of your lord.’
24. Then the one who had received the single talent also came to him and said, ‘Lord, I knew that you are a hard man, reaping where you did not sow, and gathering where you did not scatter.
25. And because I was afraid, I went and hid your talent in the earth. Now look, you have your own.’
26. His lord answered and said to him, ‘You wicked and lazy servant! You knew that I reap where I did not sow, and gather what I did not scatter.
27. Because you knew this, you were duty-bound to take my talent to the money exchangers, so that when I came, I could have received my own with interest.
28. Therefore, take the talent from him, and give it to the one who has ten talents.
29. For to everyone who has, more shall be given, and he shall have abundance; on the other hand, as for the one who does not have, even that which he has shall be taken from him.
30. And cast the worthless servant into the outer darkness.’ There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.
31. Now when the Son of man shall come in His glory, and all the holy angels with Him, then shall He sit upon the throne of His glory; and He shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats.
32. And He shall gather before Him all the nations; and He shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats.
33. And He shall set the sheep at His right hand, but the goats at His left.
34. Then shall the King say to those on His right hand, ‘Come, you who are blessed of My Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.
35. For I was hungry, and you gave Me something to eat; I was thirsty, and you gave Me something to drink; I was a stranger, and you took Me in; I was naked, and you clothed Me; I was sick, and you visited Me; I was in prison, and you came to Me.
36. And I was hungry, and you gave Me something to eat; I was thirsty, and you gave Me something to drink; I was a stranger, and you took Me in; I was naked, and you clothed Me; I was sick, and you visited Me; I was in prison, and you came to Me.
37. Then shall the righteous answer Him, saying, ‘Lord, when did we see You hungry, and fed You? Or thirsty, and gave You a drink? And when did we see You a stranger, and took You in? Or naked, and clothed You? And when did we see You sick, or in prison, and came to You?’
38. And answering, the King shall say to them, ‘Truly I say to you, inasmuch as you did one of the least of these, neither did you do it to Me.’
39. When did we see You sick, or in prison, and took Me? Or naked, and clothed You? And when did we see You hungry, and fed You? Or thirsty, and gave You a drink?
40. Then shall the King also say to those on the left, ‘Depart from Me, you cursed ones, into the eternal fire, which has been prepared for the devil and his angels.
41. For I was hungry, and you did not give Me anything to eat; I was thirsty, and you did not give Me anything to drink;
42. I was naked, and you did not clothe Me; I was sick, and in prison, and you did not come to visit Me.’
43. Then they also shall answer Him, saying, ‘Lord, when did we see You hungry, or thirsty, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and we did not minister to You?’
44. Then shall He answer them, saying, ‘Truly I say to you, inasmuch as you did not do it to one of the least of these, neither did you do it to Me.’
45. And they shall go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

1. Now it came to pass that when Jesus had finished all these sayings, He said to His disciples,
2. “You know that after two days the Passover takes place, and the Son of man is delivered up to be crucified.”
3. Then the chief priests and the scribes and the elders of the people assembled together in the court of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas;
4. And they took counsel together for the purpose of seizing Jesus by treachery, and killing Him.
5. But they said, “Not during the feast, so that there will not be a riot among the people.”
6. Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in Simon the leper’s house,
7. A woman came to Him with an alabaster flask of ointment, very precious, and poured it on His head as He sat down to eat.
8. But when His disciples saw it, they became indignant and said, “What reason is there for this waste?
9. For this ointment could have been sold for much, and the money given to the poor.”
10. But Jesus knew this and said to them, “Why do you cause trouble for this woman? For she has performed a good work toward Me.
11. For you have the poor with you always, but you do not always have Me.
12. What this woman did in pouring this ointment on My body, she did for My burial.
13. Truly I say to you, wherever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, what this woman has done shall also be spoken of for a memorial of her.”
14. Then one of the twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests,
15. And said, “What are you willing to give me, and I will deliver Him up to you?” And they offered him thirty pieces of silver.
16. And from that time he sought an opportunity to betray Him.

Chap. 26

1. And it came to pass after two days, that the Feast of the Passover was at hand,
2. And the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take hold of Jesus by treachery, and kill Him
3. But they said, “Not at the feast, lest there be disturbance in the city.”
4. Now during the feast the temple of Jerusalem was without a chief priest, for Caiaphas was the high priest that year.
5. And they asked him, “What shall we do? For we are afraid of the people, for they have all said that this man is the Christ.”
6. But when they had taken counsel, they took no action, for it was the custom of the Jews that the king shall not come to the feast.
7. And when the feast was over, Jesus went up to Jerusalem.
8. And as He was sitting in the temple, He said unto the chief priests and scribes, “By what authority do you build this temple, and have it in your power to change it?”
9. But they answered and said, “Give us an answer in the same manner also.”
10. And Jesus answered and said unto them, “I will ask you one question, and answer you if you tell me the truth. Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not?”
11. But they were afraid of the people, for they knew that He spoke wisdom.
12. And He said to them, “What image or symbol have you in the temple? And they answered and said, “A dove.”
13. And He said to them, “Therefore if you are able to answer these things, tell me whom this is, whose image or symbol is this? And they answered and said, “The Son of David.”
14. And Jesus said unto them, “Rise up, and bear witness to the Son of man that I am the Christ.”
17. Now on the first of the unleaveneds,* the disciples came to Jesus, saying to Him, “Where do You desire that we prepare for You to eat the Passover?”
18. And He said, “Go into the city to such a man, and say to him, ‘The Teacher says, “My time is near; I will keep the Passover with My disciples at your house.’”
19. Then the disciples did as Jesus had directed them, and prepared the Passover.
20. And after evening had come, He sat down with the twelve.
21. And as they were eating, He said, “Truly I say to you, one of you shall betray Me.”
22. And being sorely grieved, each of them began to say to Him, “Am I the one, Lord?”
23. But He answered and said, “He who dipped his hand with Me in the dish, he shall betray Me.
24. The Son of man indeed goes, as it has been written concerning Him, but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! It would be better for him if that man had not been born.”
25. Then Judas, who was betraying Him, answered and said, “Am I the one, Master?” He said to him, “You have said it.”
26. And as they were eating, Jesus took the bread and blessed it; then He broke it and gave it to the disciples, and said, “Take, eat; this is My body.”
27. And He took the cup; and after giving thanks, He gave it to them, saying, “All of you drink of it;
28. For this is My blood, the blood of the New Covenant, which is poured out for many for the remission of sins.
29. But I say to you, from this time forward I will not drink at all of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it anew with you in the kingdom of My Father.”
30. And after singing a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.
31. Then Jesus said to them, “All of you shall be offended in Me during this night; for it is written, ‘I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.’
32. But after I have been raised, I will go before you into Galilee.”
33. Then Peter answered and said to Him, “Even if all shall be offended in You, I will never be offended.”
34. Jesus said to him, “Truly I say to you, during this very night, before the cock crows, you shall deny Me three times.”
35. Peter said to Him, “Even if I were required to die with You, in no way would I ever deny You.” All the disciples also spoke in like manner.
36. Then Jesus came with them to a place called Gethsemane; and He said to His disciples, “Sit here, while I go onward and pray.”
37. And He took with Him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and He began to be very melancholy and deeply depressed.
38. Then He said to them, “My soul is deeply grieved, even to death. Stay here and watch with Me.”
39. And after going forward a little, He fell on His face, praying, and saying, “My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from Me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as You will.”
40. Then He came to His disciples and found them sleeping. And He said to Peter, “What! Were you not able to watch with Me one hour?”
41. Watch and pray, so that you do not

---

*This phrase has caused some confusion. It is certain that this phrase does not refer to the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, because the Feast of Unleavened Bread begins after, not before, the Passover. As recorded in the Gospels, “the first of the unleaveneds” was the day that the lambs were killed. Those who obeyed God’s ordinances in Exodus 12 and kept the domestic Passover killed their lambs at the beginning of the 14th of Nisan. Those who followed the traditions of Judaism killed the lambs at the temple on the afternoon of the 14th. The Gospel writers were clearly referring to the 14th, and not to the 15th, as “the first of the unleaveneds.” In New Testament times, this term was commonly used for the 14th day of the first month.

“In the first century, it was commonly known that ‘the day of the unleavened’ in Luke 22:7 was the 14th Passover day. G. Amadon, in an article entitled, ‘The Crucifixion Calendar,’ pointed out the error of those translators who translated this verse to read ‘the first day of the festival.’ [The following words are cited from this article.] ‘But on what authority should the Hebrew translators, as Salkinson and Delitzch, introduce the word chag [a Hebrew word for “feast”], into these texts when the corresponding Greek word for “feast,” and speaks only of the “first of the unleavened bread”—a common expression for the Jewish 14th with practically all first century writers’” (Journal of Biblical Literature, vol. LXIII, 1944, pp. 188-189, emphasis added).
enter into temptation; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.”
42. The second time He went again and... answering, “My Father, if this cup cannot pass from Me unless I drink it, Your will be done.”
43. Now when He came to them, He found them asleep again, because their eyes were heavy.
44. And leaving them, He went again and prayed the third time, saying the same thing.
45. Then He came to His disciples and said to them, “Sleep on now, and take your rest. Behold, the hour has drawn near, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.
46. Arise! Let us be going. Look, the one who is betraying Me is approaching.”
47. And while He was yet speaking, Judas, one of the twelve, suddenly appeared, and with him a great crowd with swords and clubs, from the chief priests and elders of the people.
48. Now the one who was betraying Him gave them a sign, saying, “Whomever I shall kiss, He is the One. Arrest Him!”
49. And as soon as he came to Jesus, he said, “Hail, Rabbi,” and earnestly kissed Him.
50. But Jesus said to him, “Friend, for what purpose have you come?” Then they came and laid their hands on Jesus, and arrested Him.
51. And one of those with Jesus suddenly stretched out his hand, drew his sword, and struck the servant of the high priest, cutting off his ear.
52. Then Jesus said to him, “Put your sword back in its place; for all who take up the sword shall die by the sword.
53. Don’t you realize that I have the power to call upon the Father at this time, and He will furnish Me with more than twelve legions of angels?
54. But how then shall the Scriptures be fulfilled? For this is ordained to be.”
55. At that point Jesus said to the crowd, “Have you come out to take Me with swords and clubs, as against a robber? I sat day after day with you, teaching in the temple, and you did not arrest Me.
56. But all this has happened so that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled.” Then all the disciples forsook Him and fled.
57. But those who had arrested Jesus led Him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.
58. And Peter followed Him from a distance, even to the court of the high priest; and after going inside, he sat down with the officers to see what the end would be.
59. Now the chief priests and the elders and the whole Sanhedrin sought false evidence against Jesus, so that they might put Him to death;
60. But they did not find any. Although many false witnesses came forward, they did not find any evidence.
61. Then at the last, two false witnesses came forward and said, “This Man said, ‘I have the power to destroy the temple of God, and to rebuild it in three days.’”
62. And the high priest rose up and said to Him, “Have You no answer for what these are testifying against You?”
63. But Jesus was silent. And the high priest answered and said to Him, “I adjure You by the living God that You tell us if You are the Christ, the Son of God.”
64. Jesus said to him, “You have said it. Moreover, I say to you, in the future you shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.”
65. Then the high priest ripped his own garments, saying, “He has blasphemed! Why do we need any more witnesses? Behold, you have just now heard His blasphemy.
66. What do you think?” They answered and said, “He is deserving of death!”
67. Then they spit in His face and hit Him with their fists; and some struck Him with rods,
68. Saying, “Prophesy to us, Christ. Who is the one that struck You?”
69. Now Peter was sitting outside in the court; and a maid came to him, saying, “You also were with Jesus the Galilean.”
70. But he denied it before everyone, saying, “I don’t know what you are talking about.”
71. And after he went out into the porch, another maid saw him and said to those there, “This man was also with Jesus the Nazarene.”
72. Then again he denied it with an oath, saying, “I do not know the Man.”
73. After a little while, those who were standing by came to Peter and said, “Truly, you also are one of them, for... even your speech shows that you are.”
74. Then he began to curse and to swear, saying, “I do not know the Man.” And immediately a cock crowed.
75. And Peter remembered the words of Jesus, Who had said to him, “Before the cock crows, you shall deny Me three times.” And he went out and wept bitterly.

CHAPTER TWENTY-SEVEN

1. Now when morning came, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus, so that they might put Him to death.
2. And after binding Him, they led Him away and delivered Him up to Pontius Pilate, the governor.
3. Now when Judas, who had betrayed Him, saw that He was condemned, he changed his mind and returned the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and the elders, saying,
4. “I have sinned and have betrayed innocent blood.” But they said, “What is that to us? You see to it yourself.”
5. And after throwing down the pieces of silver in the temple, he went out and hanged himself.
6. But the chief priests took the pieces of silver and said, “It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, since it is the price of blood.”
7. And after taking counsel, they bought a potter’s field with the pieces of silver, for a burial ground for strangers.
8. Therefore that field is called The Field of Blood to this day.
9. Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, “And I took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of Him on Whom a price was set, Whom they of the sons of Israel set a price on,
10. And gave them for the field of the potter, as the Lord had directed me.”
11. Then Jesus stood before the governor; and the governor questioned Him, saying, “Are You the King of the Jews?” And Jesus said to him, “It is as you said.”
12. And when He was accused by the chief priests and the elders, He answered nothing.
13. Then Pilate said to Him, “Don’t You hear how many things they testify against You?”
14. And He did not answer even one word to him, so that the governor was greatly amazed.
15. Now at the feast, the governor was accustomed to release one prisoner to the multitude, whomever they wished.
16. And they had at that time a notorious prisoner called Barabbas.
17. Therefore, when they had gathered together, Pilate said to them, “Whom do you desire that I release to you? Barabbas, or Jesus Who is called Christ?”
18. For he understood that they had delivered Him up because of envy.
19. Now as he sat on the judgment seat, his wife sent a message to him, saying, “Let there be nothing between you and that righteous Man, for I have suffered many things today in a dream because of Him.”
20. But the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes to demand Barabbas, and to destroy Jesus.
21. Then the governor answered and said to them, “Which of the two do you desire that I release to you?” And they said, “Barabbas.”
22. Pilate said to them, “What then shall I do with Jesus Who is called Christ?” They all said to him, “Let Him be crucified!”
23. And the governor said, “Why? What evil did He commit?” But they shouted all the more, saying, “Let Him be crucified!”
24. Now Pilate, seeing that he was accomplishing nothing, but that a riot was developing instead, took water and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, “I am guiltless of the blood of this righteous Man. You see to it.”
25. And all the people answered and said, “His blood be on us and on our children.”
26. Then he released Barabbas to them; but after scourging Jesus, he delivered Him up so that He might be crucified.
27. Then the governor’s soldiers, after taking Jesus with them into the Praetorium, gathered the entire band against Him;
28. And they stripped Him and put a scarlet cloak around Him.
29. And after placing a crown of thorns, they put it on His head, and a rod in His right hand; and bowing on their knees...
before Him, they mocked Him, and kept on saying, "Hail, King of the Jews!"
30. Then, after spitting on Him, they took the rod and struck Him on the head.
31. When they were done mocking Him, they took the cloak off Him; and they put His own garments on Him and led Him away to crucify Him.
32. Now as they came out, they found a Cyrenean man named Simon; and they compelled him to carry His cross.★
33. And after coming to a place called Golgotha, which is called Place of a Skull,
34. They gave Him vinegar mingled with gall to drink; but after tasting it, He would not drink.
35. And when they had crucified Him, they divided His garments by casting lots; so that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, “They divided My garments among themselves, and for My vesture they cast lots.”
36. And they sat down there to keep guard over Him.
37. And they put up over His head an accusation, written, “This is Jesus, the King of the Jews.”
38. And two robbers were crucified with Him, one at the right hand and one at the left.
39. Then those who were passing by railed at Him, shaking their heads,
40. And saying, “You Who would destroy the temple and rebuild it in three days, save Yourself. If You are the Son of God, come down from the cross.”
41. And in the same way also the chief priests were mocking, with the scribes and elders, saying,
42. “He saved others, but He does not have the power to save Himself. If He is the King of Israel, let Him come down now from the cross, and we will believe Him.
43. He trusted in God; let Him deliver Him now, if He will have Him. For He said, ‘I am the Son of God.’ ”
44. And the two robbers who were crucified with Him also reproached Him with the same words.
45. Now from the sixth hour until the ninth hour, darkness was over all the land.
46. And about the ninth hour, Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying, “Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani?” That is, “My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?”
47. And some of those who were standing there heard and said, “This one is calling for Elijah.”
48. And immediately one of them ran and, taking a sponge, filled it with vinegar and put it on a stick, and gave it to Him to drink.
49. But the rest said, “Let Him alone! Let us see if Elijah comes to save Him.” Then another took a spear and thrust it into His side, and out came water and blood.★
50. And after crying out again with a loud voice, Jesus yielded up His spirit.
51. Then suddenly the veil of the temple was ripped in two from top to bottom, and the earth shook, and the rocks were split.
52. So that the tombs were opened. And many bodies of the saints who had died, were resurrected.
53. After His resurrection; and they came out of the tombs. Then they entered into the holy city, and appeared to many.
54. Then the centurion and those with him who had been keeping guard over Jesus, after seeing the earthquake and the things that took place, were filled with fear, and said, “Truly this was the Son of God!”
55. Now there were many women who were watching from a distance, who had followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering to Him;
56. With whom were Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of the sons of Zebedee.
57. And when evening was coming on, a rich man of Arimathea came, named Joseph, who was himself a disciple of Jesus.

★The latter half of this verse, which includes the words “...Then another took a spear and...out came water and blood,” has been omitted from the King James Version. However, some ancient manuscripts contain this part of the verse. The latter part of the verse is also found in other manuscripts that are designated by letter (L, T, Z) and by number (33, 49, 892 and 1241). Older translations which contain the complete verse are the Moffatt translation and the Fenton translation. Newer translations generally footnote this portion of Matthew 27:49 rather than including it in the text. The weight of evidence indicates that the latter half of the verse is an authentic part of the Greek text and should be included in translations of the New Testament. The veracity of this portion of Matthew 27:49 is substantiated by the records in John 19:34 and 20:27.

Jesus, as the firstborn from among the dead, was the first one resurrected to eternal life. This occurred toward the end of the weekly Sabbath. Then the next morning, Jesus fulfilled the Wave Sheaf Offering Day, when He ascended into heaven to be accepted by God the Father as the perfect sacrifice for the sin of the world. This had to have happened before any of the other dead saints could have been raised back to physical life and appear to many.
58. After going to Pilate, he begged to have the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be given over to Him.

59. And after taking the body, Joseph wrapped it in clean linen cloth,

60. And placed it in his new tomb, which he had hewn in the rock; and after rolling a great stone to the door of the tomb, he went away.

61. But sitting there opposite the sepulcher were Mary Magdalene and the other Mary.

62. Now on the next day,† which followed the preparation day, the chief priests and the Pharisees came together to Pilate,

63. Saying, “Sir, we remember that that deceiver said while He was living, ‘After three days I will rise.’

64. Therefore, command that the sepulcher be secured until the third day; lest His disciples come by night and steal Him away, and say to the people, ‘He is risen from the dead’; and the last deception shall be worse than the first.”

65. Then Pilate said to them, “You have a guard. Go, make it as secure as you know how.”

66. And they went and made the sepulcher secure, sealing the stone and setting the guard.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

1. Now late on the Sabbath, as the first day of the weeks* was drawing near, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary came to observe the sepulcher.

2. And in the morning suddenly there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled away the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3. Now his appearance was as lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

4. And for fear of him, those who were keeping guard trembled, and became as dead men.

5. But the angel answered and said to the women, “Do not be afraid; for I know that you are seeking Jesus, Who was crucified.

6. He is not here; for He has risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord Himself was lying.

7. And go quickly, and tell His disciples that He has risen from the dead. And behold, He goes before you into Galilee; there you shall see Him. Listen! I have told you.”

8. And they quickly left the tomb with fear and great joy, and ran to tell it to His disciples.

9. But as they were going to tell His disciples, all at once Jesus Himself met them, saying, “Hail!” And they came to Him and held His feet, and worshiped Him.

10. Then Jesus said to them, “Do not be afraid. Go, tell My brethren to go into Galilee, and there they shall see Me.”

11. And as they were going, behold, some of the guard went into the city and reported to the chief priests all the things that were done.

12. Then, after gathering together with the elders and taking counsel, they gave a large sum of money to the soldiers.

13. Saying, “Tell everyone that His disciples came by night and stole Him while you were sleeping.

14. And if the governor hears of this, we will persuade him to release you from responsibility.”

15. And they took the money and did as they were instructed; and this report has been spread abroad among the Jews to this day.

16. Now the eleven disciples went into Galilee, to the mountain which Jesus had appointed for them to meet Him.

17. And when they saw Him, they worshiped Him; but some doubted.

18. And Jesus came and spoke to them, saying, “All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to Me.

19. Therefore, go and make disciples in all nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit;

20. Teaching them to observe all things that I have commanded you. And lo, I am with you always, even until the completion of the age.” Amen.

*This literal translation of the Greek words μὴ σαββατιστῶν or μὴ τὸν σαββατόν shows that the day which followed the weekly Sabbath was the first day of the seven-week count to Pentecost, thus identifying this day as the Wave Sheaf Day (Lev. 23:10-11, 15-16). The ascension of Jesus Christ on that day fulfilled the offering of the wave sheaf for all time.
The Gospel According to Mark

CHAPTER ONE

1. The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God;
2. As it is written in the prophets: "Behold, I send My messenger before Your face, who shall prepare Your way before You.
3. The voice of one crying in the wilderness, 'Prepare the way of the Lord, make straight His paths.'
4. John came baptizing in the wilderness, and preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.
5. And all those of the country of Judea went out, and those of Jerusalem, and those from Samaria, and many others were all baptized by him in the Jordan River, confessing their sins.
6. Now John was clothed with camel's hair and wore a leather belt around his waist, and he ate locusts and wild honey.
7. And he preached, saying, "The One Who is coming after me is mightier than I, of Whom I am not worthy to stoop down to loose the thong of His sandals."
8. I have indeed baptized you with water, but He shall baptize you with the Holy Spirit.
9. And it came to pass in those days that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized by John in the Jordan.
10. And immediately, as He was coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit descending upon Him like a dove.
11. And a voice came from heaven, saying, "You are My Son, the Beloved, in Whom I have great delight."
12. And soon after, the Spirit compelled Him to go out into the wilderness;
13. And He was there in the wilderness for forty days, tempted by Satan, and was with the wild animals; and afterwards angels ministered to Him.
14. Now after the imprisonment of John, Jesus came into Galilee, proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom of God,
15. And saying, "The time has been fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is near at hand; repent, and believe in the gospel."
16. And as He was walking by the Sea of Galilee, He saw Simon and his brother Andrew casting a large net into the sea, for they were fishermen.
who were diseased, and those who were possessed by demons;
33. And the entire city was gathered together at the door.
34. Then He healed many who were sick with various diseases, and He cast out many demons; but He did not allow the demons to speak because they knew Him.
35. And at the time of the morning watch, while it was still night, He rose up; and going out, He departed into a desert place, and was praying there.
36. And Simon, and those who were with him, went out after Him.
37. And after finding Him, they said to Him, “Everyone is looking for You.”
38. But He said to them, “Let us go to the towns in the neighboring countryside, so that I may also preach there; because I have come for this purpose.”
39. And He preached in all their synagogues in Galilee, and cast out demons.
40. And a leper came to Him, beseeching Him and kneeling down to Him, and saying to Him, “If You will, You have the power to cleanse me.”
41. Then Jesus, being moved with compassion, stretched out His hand and touched him, and said to him, “I will. Be cleansed.”
42. And as soon as He had spoken, the leprosy immediately departed from him, and he was cleansed.
43. Now after strictly commanding him, He sent him away at once,
44. And said to him, “See that you do not say anything to anyone; but go and show yourself to the priest, and offer for your cleansing what Moses commanded, for a testimony to them.”
45. But after leaving, he began to proclaim it extensively and to spread the matter abroad, so that He was no longer able to enter the city openly, but stayed outside the city in desert places; and they came to Him from every region.

CHAPTER TWO

1. And after some days, He again entered into Capernaum, and it was reported that He was in the house.
2. And immediately many gathered together, so that there was no longer any room, not even at the door; and He preached the Word to them.
3. Then they came to Him, bringing a paraplegic borne by four men.
4. And since they were not able to come near to Him because of the crowd, they uncovered the roof where He was; and after breaking it open, they let down the stretcher on which the paraplegic was lying.
5. Now when Jesus saw their faith, He said to the paraplegic, “Child, your sins have been forgiven you.”
6. But some of the scribes were sitting there and reasoning in their hearts,
7. “Why does this man speak such blasphemies? Who has the power to forgive sins, except one, and that is God?”
8. And Jesus immediately knew in His spirit what they were reasoning within themselves, and said to them, “Why are you reasoning these things in your hearts?
9. Which is easier, to say to the paraplegic, ‘Your sins have been forgiven you’; or to say, ‘Arise, and take up your stretcher and walk’?
10. But in order that you may understand that the Son of man has authority on the earth to forgive sins,” He said to the paraplegic,
11. “I say to you, arise and pick up your stretcher, and go to your house.”
12. And immediately he arose and, after picking up his stretcher, went out in the presence of them all; so that they were all amazed and glorified God, saying, “We have never seen the like!”
13. Then He went by the sea again; and all the multitude came to Him, and He taught them.
14. Now as He was passing by, He saw Levi, the son of Alpheus, sitting at the tax office; and He said to him, “Follow Me.” And he arose and followed Him.
15. And it came to pass that, when He sat down to eat in his house, many tax collectors and sinners sat down with Jesus and His disciples; for there were many, and they followed Him.
16. But when the scribes and the Pharisees saw Him eating with tax collectors and sinners, they said to His disciples, “Why is it that He eats and drinks with tax collectors and sinners?”
17. And after hearing this, Jesus said to them, “Those who are strong do not need a physician, but those who are sick. I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.”
18. Now the disciples of John and the disciples of the Pharisees were fasting; and they came and said to Him, “Why do the disciples of John and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but Your disciples do not fast?”

19. And Jesus said to them, “Can the children of the bridal chamber fast while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they are not able to fast.

20. But the days will come when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them; and then shall they fast in those days.

21. And no one sews a piece of new cloth onto an old garment; otherwise the new piece filling up the hole tears away from the old, and a worse hole is made.

22. And no one puts new wine into old wineskins; otherwise the new wine bursts the old wineskins, and the wine spills out, and the wineskins are destroyed; but new wine must be put into new wineskins.”

23. Now it came to pass that He went through the grain fields on the Sabbaths; and as His disciples made their way through the fields, they were picking and eating the grain.

24. Then the Pharisees said to Him, “Look at them! Why are they doing that which is not lawful on the Sabbaths?”

25. And He said to them, “Have you never read what David did when he was hungry and in need of food, he and those with him?

26. How in the days of Abiathar the high priest, he entered into the house of God and he ate the showbread, which it is not lawful to eat except for the priests, and he also gave it to those who were with him?”

27. And He said to them, “The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath;

28. Therefore, the Son of man is Lord even of the Sabbath.”

CHAPTER THREE

1. And again He went into the synagogue, and a man who had a withered hand was there.

2. And they were watching Him to see if He would heal him on the Sabbaths, in order that they might accuse Him.

3. Then He said to the man who had the withered hand, “Stand up here in the center.”

4. And He said to them, “Is it lawful to do good on the Sabbaths, or to do evil? To save life, or to kill?” But they were silent.

5. And after looking around at them with anger, being grieved at the hardness of their hearts, He said to the man, “Stretch out your hand.” And He stretched it out, and his hand was restored as sound as the other.

6. Then the Pharisees left and immediately took counsel with the Herodians against Him as to how they might destroy Him.

7. But Jesus withdrew to the sea with His disciples; and a great multitude from Galilee followed Him, and from Judea,

8. And from Jerusalem, and from Idumea and beyond the Jordan; and those around Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they heard what great things He was doing, came to Him.

9. Then He told His disciples to have a small ship wait for Him on account of the multitude, in order that they might not press upon Him.

10. For He had healed so many that they began to crowd around Him, as many as had plagues, in order that they might touch Him;

11. And when the unclean spirits saw Him, they fell down before Him and cried aloud, saying, “You are the Son of God.”

12. But He sharply rebuked them so that they would not make Him known.

13. Then He went up into the mountain and called to Him those whom He desired, and they came to Him.

14. And He ordained twelve, that they might be with Him, and that He might send them to preach.

15. And to have authority to heal diseases and to cast out demons.

16. Then He chose Simon and added to him the name Peter;

17. And He chose James, the son of Zebedee, and John, the brother of James; and He added to them the name Boanerges, which means “sons of thunder.”

18. And He chose Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas. And He chose James, the son of
Then He again began to teach by the sea. And a great multitude gathered together to Him, so that He went aboard the ship and sat in it on the sea; and the whole multitude was on the land by the sea.

And He taught them many things in parables, and said to them in His teaching,

3. "Listen well to this! Behold, the sower went out to sow.

4. And it happened that as he was sowing, one seed fell by the way; and the birds of heaven came and devoured it.

5. And another seed fell on a rocky place, where it did not have much soil; and it quickly sprang up, because it did not have depth of soil;

6. But after the sun rose, it was scorched; and because it did not have root, it withered away.

7. And another seed fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked it, and it did not yield any fruit.

8. And others fell into the good ground and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and one brought forth thirtyfold, and one sixtyfold, and one a hundredfold."

9. Then He said to them, “The one who has ears to hear, let him hear.”

10. Now when He was alone, those who were around Him with the twelve asked Him about the parable.

11. And He said to them, “To you it has been given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God; but to those who are without, all things are done in parables;

12. So that in seeing they may see, and not perceive; and in hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.”

13. And He said to them, “Don’t you understand this parable? Then how will you know all the other parables?

14. The sower sows the Word.

15. Now the ones by the way, where the Word was sown, these are the ones who hear, but Satan comes at once and takes away the Word that was sown in their hearts.

16. And the ones which were in like manner sown upon the rocky places, these are the ones who when they hear..."
the Word, immediately receive it with joy;
17. But because they have no root in themselves, they do not endure; when tribulation or persecution arises because of the Word, they are quickly offended.
18. And those which were sown among the thorns, these are the ones who hear the Word,
19. But the cares of this life, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things that come into their lives choke the Word, and it becomes unfruitful.
20. Now those which were sown upon the good ground, these are the ones who hear the Word and receive it, and bring forth fruit, one thirtyfold, and one sixty-fold, and one a hundredfold."
21. And He said to them, “Is a lamp lit to be put under a bushelbasket or under a bed? Is it not rather lit to be put on a lampstand?
22. For there is nothing hidden that shall not be made manifest; nor has any secret thing taken place, but that it should come to light.
23. If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear.”
24. And He said to them, “Take heed to what you hear: for with whatever measure you use, it shall be measured back to you; and to those who hear, it shall be added.
25. For whoever has, to him shall more be given; but the one who does not have, even that which he has shall be taken from him.”
26. Then He said, “The kingdom of God is likened to this: It is as if a man should cast seed upon the earth,
27. And should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should sprout and grow, but he does not know how.
28. For the earth brings forth fruit of itself, first a blade, then a head, then full grain in the head.
29. And when the grain is mature, immediately he puts in the sickle, for the harvest has come.”
30. And He said, “To what then shall we liken the kingdom of God? Or with what parable shall we compare it?
31. It is like a tiny mustard seed, which, when it has been sown upon the earth, is less than all the seeds that are upon the earth;
32. But after it has been sown, it grows up and becomes greater than all the herbs, and produces great branches, so that the birds of heaven are able to roost under the shadow of it.”
33. And with many such parables He spoke the Word to them, as they were able to hear;
34. For without a parable He did not speak to them; but He explained all things to His disciples privately.
35. Now on the same day, when evening came, He said to them, “Let us go over to the other side.”
36. And after dismissing the multitude, they took Him with them already in the ship; and there were many other small ships with Him also.
37. And a violent windstorm came up, and the waves were crashing into the ship so forcefully that it was rapidly filling up.
38. Now He was at the stern sleeping on a cushion. And they aroused Him, and said to Him, “Master, don’t You care that we are perishing?”
39. And after being awakened, He rebuked the wind and said to the sea, “Silence! Be still.” And the wind died, and there was a great calm.
40. And He said to them, “Why are you so fearful? Why do you not have faith?”
41. But they were afraid, and said to one another in great fear, “Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey Him?”

CHAPTER FIVE

1. And they came to the other side of the sea, to the country of the Gadarenes.
2. And as soon as He had left the ship, there met Him from out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,
3. Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no one had the power to restrain him even with chains;
4. For he had often been bound with fetters and chains, but the chains had been shattered; and no one had the strength to subdue him.
5. And continually, night and day, in the mountains and in the tombs, he was screaming and cutting himself with stones.
6. But when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and worshiped Him.
7. And crying out with a loud voice, he said, “What have I to do with You, Jesus, Son of God the Most High? I adjure You by God, do not torment me.”
8. For He was saying to it, “Unclean spirit, come out of the man.”
9. And He asked it, “What is your name?” And it answered, “My name is Legion, because we are many.”
10. And it begged Him again and again that He would not send them out of the country.
11. Now near the mountain, there was a large herd of swine feeding;
12. And all the demons pleaded with Him, saying, “Send us to the swine, so that we may enter into them.”
13. Then Jesus immediately permitted them to go. And the unclean spirits went out of the man and entered into the swine; and the herd stampeded down the steep slope into the sea (now they were about two thousand), and they all drowned in the sea.
14. And those who were feeding the swine fled in fear and reported it in the city and in the country. Then they went out to see what it was that had been done.
15. And they came to Jesus and saw the man who had been possessed by demons, the one who had the Legion, sitting and clothed and of a sound mind; and they were afraid.
16. Then those who had seen it reported to them what had happened to the one who had been possessed by demons, and the things concerning the swine.
17. And they began to urge Him to depart from their borders.
18. Now when He boarded the ship, the one who had been possessed by demons begged Him that he might be with Him.
19. But Jesus did not permit him, rather he said to him, “Go to your house and to your own, and tell them how much the Lord has done for you, and how He has pitied you.”
20. Then he departed and began to proclaim in Decapolis how much Jesus had done for him; and all were amazed.
21. Now when Jesus had again crossed to the other side of the sea by ship, a great multitude was gathered to Him; and He was by the sea.
22. And behold, one of the rulers of the synagogue came, Jairus by name; and
23. And he earnestly besought Him, saying, “My little daughter is at the point of death. I beg You to come and lay Your hands on her, so that she may be healed; and she shall live.”
24. And He departed with him; and a great multitude followed Him, pressing around Him.
25. Then a certain woman who had been afflicted with an issue of blood for twelve years,
26. And had suffered greatly under the hand of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was not benefited in any way but rather was getting worse,
27. When she heard about Jesus, came in the multitude behind Him and touched His garment;
28. For she said, “If I can only touch His garments, I shall be cured.”
29. And at once the fountain of her blood was dried up, and she knew in her body that she was healed from the scourge.
30. Now Jesus knew immediately within Himself that power had gone out of Him; and turning in the crowd, He said, “Who touched Me?”
31. But His disciples said to Him, “You see the crowd pressing around You, and You ask, ‘Who touched Me?’ ”
32. Then He looked around to see who had done this.
33. And the woman, frightened and trembling, knowing what had been done in her, came and fell down before Him, and told Him all the truth.
34. Then He said to her, “Daughter, your faith has cured you. Go in peace, and be whole from your scourge.”
35. While He was still speaking, they came from the ruler of the synagogue’s house, saying, “Your daughter is dead. Why bother the Teacher any longer?”
36. But when Jesus heard the words that were spoken, He said to the ruler of the synagogue, “Do not be afraid. Only believe.”
37. And He did not allow anyone to accompany Him except Peter and James and John, the brother of James.
38. Now when He came to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, He saw a tumult, and people weeping and wailing loudly.
39. And when He had entered, He said to them, “Why are you making a tumult and weeping? The child is not dead, but is only sleeping.”

40. And they laughed at Him in disbelief. But after He had put them all out, He took with Him the father and the mother of the child, and those with Him, and went into the room where the child was lying.

41. And taking the child by the hand, He said to her, “Talitha, cumi”; which is, being interpreted, “Little girl, I say to you, arise!”

42. And immediately the little girl arose and walked, for she was twelve years old. And they were filled with great amazement.

43. Then He strictly charged them that no one should know this, and He told them to give her something to eat.

CHAPTER SIX

1. And He left there and came into His own country, and His disciples followed Him.

2. Now when the Sabbath day came, He began to teach in the synagogue; and many of those who heard Him were astonished, saying, “From where did this Man get these things? And what is this wisdom that has been given to Him, that by His hands many miracles are done also?”

3. Is this not the carpenter, the Son of Mary, and the brother of James and Joses and Judas and Simon? And are not His sisters here with us?” And they were offended in Him.

4. But Jesus said to them, “A prophet is not without honor except in his own country, and among his own kinsmen, and in his own house.”

5. And He was not able to do any works of power there, except that He laid His hands on a few sick people and healed them.

6. And He was amazed by their unbelief. Then He went about the villages in a circuit, teaching the people.

7. And He called the twelve to Him and began to send them out, two by two; and He gave them authority over unclean spirits.

8. And He commanded them not to take anything for the journey except a staff—no bag of provisions, nor bread, nor money in the belt; nor

9. But to be shod with sandals; and not to put on two coats.

10. Then He said to them, “Wherever you go, and come into a house, remain there until you leave that city.

11. But as many as will not receive you, nor hear you, when you depart from there, shake off the dust that is under your feet as a witness against them. Truly I say to you, it shall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment than for that city.”

12. And they went out and proclaimed that all should repent.

13. And they cast out many demons; and they anointed with oil many sick people, and healed them.

14. Then King Herod heard of Jesus, because His name had become widely known; and he said, “John the Baptist has risen from the dead, and because of this these miracles are being worked by him.”

15. Others said, “It is Elijah.” And others said, “It is a prophet, or one like the prophets.”

16. But after hearing these reports, Herod said, “It is John, whom I beheaded. He has risen from the dead.”

17. For Herod himself had sent and arrested John and had him bound in prison, because of Herodias, the wife of Philip his brother, whom he had married.

18. For John had said to Herod, “It is not lawful for you to have your brother’s wife.”

19. And Herodias held it against him, and desired to kill him, but was not able; 20. Because Herod feared John, realizing that he was a righteous and holy man, and kept him safe. And after hearing him, he did many things; and he listened to him gladly.

21. But an opportune day came when Herod prepared a banquet on his birthday for his principal men, and for the chief captains and the important men of Galilee.

22. And the daughter of Herodias herself came in and danced, and it pleased Herod and those sitting with him at the banquet; and the king said to the young woman, “Ask me whatever you desire, and I will give it to you.”

23. Then he swore to her, “Whatever you ask of me I will give to you, up to half of my kingdom.”

24. And after going out, she said to her mother, “What shall I ask?” And she said, “The head of John the Baptist.”
25. Then he immediately returned to the king with haste and said, “I desire that you give me at once the head of John the Baptist on a platter.”
26. Now although the king was personally very sorrowful, because of the oaths and those who were sitting with him, he would not reject her request.
27. Then without delay, the king sent a guardsman and ordered his head to be brought.
28. And he went and beheaded him in the prison, and brought his head on a platter, and gave it to the young woman; and the young woman gave it to her mother.
29. Now when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his body, and laid it in the tomb.
30. Then the apostles gathered together with Jesus, and they related to Him everything, both what they had done and what they had taught.
31. And He said to them, “All of you come away into a desert place, and rest a while.” For there were so many people coming and going that they did not have an opportunity even to eat.
32. Then they departed alone by ship to a place in the wilderness.
33. But the multitudes saw them leaving, and many recognized Him; and they all ran together there from all the cities, and went ahead of them; and they came together to Him.
34. And when Jesus arrived, He saw a great multitude; and He was moved with compassion toward them because they were like sheep without a shepherd.
35. Then He began to teach them many things.
36. Now because it was already a late hour, His disciples came to Him, saying, “This place is a wilderness, and the time is already late.
37. Dismiss them so that they may go into the country round about and buy food for themselves in the villages; for they have nothing to eat.”
38. But He answered and said to them, “You give them something to eat.” And they said to Him, “Shall we go and buy two hundred silver coins’ worth of bread, and give it to them to eat?”
39. And He ordered them to make everyone sit down by companies on the green grass.
40. Then they sat down in ranks, by hundreds and by fifties.
41. And after taking the five loaves and the two fish, He looked up into heaven and blessed them; and He broke the loaves and gave them to His disciples, so that they might set them before the people. And the two fish He divided among them all.
42. And they all ate and were satisfied.
43. Then they took up twelve baskets full of fragments of bread and of fish.
44. And those who ate of the loaves were about five thousand men.
45. Then He commanded His disciples to get into the ship at once and go ahead of Him to the other side to Bethsaida, while He dismissed the multitude.
46. And after He had sent them away, He departed to the mountain to pray.
47. Now when evening arrived, the ship was in the middle of the sea, and He was alone on the land.
48. And He saw them laboring in their rowing, because the wind was contrary to them. And about the fourth watch of the night, He came to them, walking on the sea, and would have passed by them.
49. But when they saw Him walking on the sea, they thought it was an apparition; and they cried out,
50. Because they all saw Him and were alarmed. And immediately He spoke to them, and said to them, “Be of good courage; it is I. Do not fear.”
51. Then He went up to them into the ship, and the wind ceased. And they were amazed in themselves far beyond measure, and wondered.
52. For they did not understand the miracle of the loaves, because their hearts were hardened.
53. And after crossing over the sea, they came to the land of Gennesaret and drew to shore.
54. And when they came out of the ship, those who dwelt there immediately recognized Him.
55. Then they ran through all the country around, and began to carry those who...
56. And wherever He entered into villages or cities or fields, they laid in the marketplaces those who were sick; and they besought Him that they might only touch the border of His garment; and all those who touched Him were healed.

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. Then the Pharisees and some of the scribes from Jerusalem came together to Him.
2. And when they saw some of His disciples eating with defiled hands (that is, unwashed hands), they found fault.
3. For the Pharisees and all the Jews, holding fast to the tradition of the elders, do not eat unless they wash their hands thoroughly.
4. Even when coming from the market, they do not eat unless they first wash themselves. And there are many other things that they have received to observe, such as the washing of cups and pots and brass utensils and tables.
5. For this reason, the Pharisees and the scribes questioned Him, saying, "Why don't Your disciples walk according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashed hands?"
6. And He answered and said to them, "Well did Isaiah prophesy concerning you hypocrites, as it is written, 'This people honors Me with their lips, but their hearts are far away from Me.
7. But in vain do they worship Me, teaching for doctrine the commandments of men.'
8. For leaving the commandment of God, you hold fast the tradition of men, such as the washing of pots and cups; and you practice many other things like this.”
9. Then He said to them, “Full well do you reject the commandment of God, so that you may observe your own tradition.
10. For Moses said, ‘Honor your father and your mother’; and, ‘The one who speaks evil of father or mother, let him be put to death.’
11. But you say, ‘If a man shall say to his father or mother, ‘Whatever benefit you might receive from me is corban’ (that is, set aside as a gift to God), he is not obligated to help his parents.’
12. And you excuse him from doing anything for his father or his mother,

13. Nullifying the authority of the Word of God by your tradition which you have passed down; and you practice many traditions such as this.”
14. And after calling all the multitude to Him, He said to them, “Hear Me, all of you, and understand.
15. There is nothing that enters into a man from outside which is able to defile him; but the things that come out from within him, those are the things which defile a man.
16. If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear.”
17. Now when He went into a house away from the multitude, His disciples asked Him concerning the parable.
18. And He said to them, “Are you likewise without understanding? Don’t you perceive that anything that enters into a man from outside is not able to defile him?
19. For it does not enter into his heart, but into the belly, and then passes out into the sewer, purging all food.”
20. And He said, “That which springs forth from within a man, that defiles the man.
21. For from within, out of the hearts of men, go forth evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,
22. Thefts, covetousness, wickednesses, guile, licentiousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness;
23. All these evils go forth from within, and these defile a man.”
24. Then He rose up from there and went into the district of Tyre and Sidon; and when He came into the house, He desired that no one should know, but He could not be concealed.
25. For after hearing about Him, a woman who had a little daughter with an unclean spirit came and fell at His feet.
26. Now the woman was a Greek, Syrophenician by race, and requested of Him that He cast the demon out of her daughter.
27. But Jesus said to her, “Allow the children to be satisfied first; for it is not fitting to take the children’s bread and cast it to the dogs.”
28. But she answered and said to Him, “Yes, Lord, but even the dogs under the table eat of the children’s crumbs.”
29. Then He said to her, “Because of this saying, go; the demon has gone out of your daughter.”

30. And when she came to her house, she found the demon gone and her daughter lying on the bed.

31. And after departing from the district of Tyre and Sidon, and passing through the middle of the borders of Decapolis, He again came to the Sea of Galilee.

32. Then they brought to Him a deaf man who spoke with difficulty, and they requested of Him that He lay His hands on him.

33. And after taking him apart from the multitude, He put His fingers into his ears; and then He spit on His finger and touched his tongue;

34. And after looking up to heaven, He groaned, and said to him, “Ephphatha”; that is, “Be opened!”

35. And immediately his ears were opened, and the band of his tongue was loosed, and he spoke plainly.

36. Then He commanded them not to tell anyone. But although He had ordered them to keep quiet, they proclaimed it more and more.

37. For they were astonished above measure, saying, “He has done all things well; He makes both the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak.”

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. In those days the multitude of people was very great, and they had nothing to eat. And when Jesus had called His disciples to Him, He said to them,

2. “I am moved with compassion for the multitude because they have continued with Me three days already and have nothing to eat;

3. And if I send them to their homes fasting, they will faint on the way; for some of them have come from far away.”

4. Then His disciples answered Him, “How could anyone be able to satisfy all these with bread in a desert?”

5. And He asked them, “How many loaves do you have?” And they said, “Seven.”

6. Then He commanded the multitude to sit on the ground; and He took the seven loaves; and after giving thanks, He broke the loaves and gave them to His disciples so that they might set them before the people. And they set the loaves before the multitude.

7. They also had a few small fish; and after blessing them, He commanded His disciples to set these before them also.

8. And they all ate and were satisfied. Then they took up over seven baskets of fragments that were left.

9. Now those who had eaten were about four thousand; and He sent them away.

10. And immediately afterwards, He went aboard the ship with His disciples, and they came to the district of Dalmanutha.

11. And the Pharisees came out and began to dispute with Him, tempting Him and seeking from Him a sign from heaven.

12. But after sighing deeply in His spirit, He said, “Why does this generation seek a sign? Truly I say to you, there shall no sign be given to this generation.”

13. Then He left them; and after going aboard the ship again, He departed for the other side.

14. But they had forgotten to take bread; and they did not have any with them, except one loaf in the ship.

15. Then He charged them, saying, “Watch out! Be on guard against the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of Herod.”

16. And they were reasoning with one another, saying, “It is because we do not have any bread.”

17. But Jesus knew it and said to them, “Why do you reason that I said this because you do not have any bread? Do you still not perceive or understand? Are your hearts still hardened?

18. Don’t you see with your eyes? Don’t you hear with your ears? And don’t you remember?

19. When I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments did you take up?” They said to Him, “Twelve.”

20. And when I broke the seven loaves for the four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments did you take up?” And they said, “Seven.”

21. Then He said to them, “Why is it that you still don’t understand?”

22. And He came to Bethsaida, and they brought to Him a blind man and besought Him that He might touch him.

23. Then He took hold of the blind man’s hand and led him out of the village, and He spit on his eyes and laid His hands on him, and then He asked him if he saw anything.
24. And when he looked up, he said, “I see men as trees walking.”
25. Then He again laid His hands on his eyes and made him look up. And he was restored, and he saw everything clearly.
26. And He sent him to his house, saying, “You must not enter the village, nor tell it to anyone in the village.”
27. Then Jesus and His disciples went into the villages of Caesarea Philippi. And along the way He was questioning His disciples, saying to them, “Who do men say that I am?”
28. And they answered, “John the Baptist; and others, Elijah. And some say, one of the prophets.”
29. And He said to them, “But you, Who do you say that I am?” And Peter answered and said to Him, “You are the Christ.”
30. Then He strictly charged them that they should tell no one about Him.
31. And He began to teach them that it was necessary for the Son of man to suffer many things, and to be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes, and to be killed, but after three days to rise from the dead.
32. And He spoke these words openly. Then Peter took Him aside and began to rebuke Him.
33. But He turned and looked at His disciples, and then rebuked Peter, saying, “Get behind Me, Satan, because your thoughts are not of the things of God, but of the things of men.”
34. And when He had called the multitude to Him with His disciples, He said to them, “Whoever desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and let him take up his cross and follow Me.
35. For whoever desires to save his life shall lose it; but whoever will lose his life for My sake and for the gospel’s, he shall save it.
36. For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world and lose his life?
37. Or what shall a man give in exchange for his life?
38. For whoever shall be ashamed of Me and My words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed when He comes in the glory of His Father with the holy angels.”

CHAPTER NINE

1. And He said to them, “Truly I say to you, there are some of those standing here who shall not taste of death until they have seen the kingdom of God come with power.”
2. And after six days, Jesus took with Him Peter and James and John, leading them alone up into a high mountain by themselves. And He was transfigured in their presence;
3. And His garments became exceedingly white, like glistening snow, such a white as no bleacher of cloth on earth is able to make.
4. Then appeared to them Elijah with Moses, and they were talking with Jesus.
5. And Peter responded by saying to Jesus, “Master, it is good for us to be here. Now let us make three tabernacles; one for You, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah.”
6. For he did not know what he should say because they were terrified.
7. Then a cloud came and overshadowed them; and there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, “This is My Son, the Beloved. Listen to Him!”
8. And suddenly, when they looked around, they no longer saw anyone but Jesus alone with themselves.
9. Now as they were descending from the mountain, He charged them not to tell anyone what they had seen until the Son of man had risen from the dead.
10. And they kept that saying among themselves, questioning what it was the meaning of rising from the dead.
11. Then they asked Him, saying, “Why do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?”
12. And He answered them and said, “Truly, Elijah comes first and restores all things; and it is also written of the Son of man, how He must suffer many things and be treated with contempt.
13. But I tell you that Elijah has already come, and they have done to him what they desired, as it is written of him.”
14. And after returning to the disciples, He saw a great multitude around them, and the scribes disputing with them.
15. And all the people who saw Him ran to Him at once in great amazement and saluted Him.
16. And He asked the scribes, “What are you disputing with them?"
17. Then one from the multitude said, "Master, I brought my son who has a dumb spirit to You;
18. For wherever it seizes him it dashes him down; and he foams and gnashes his teeth, and is withering away. And I spoke to Your disciples, in order that they might cast it out, but they did not have the power."
19. And He answered him, saying, "O faithless generation! How long shall I be with you? How long shall I bear with you? Bring him to Me."
20. Then they brought him to Him. But when the spirit saw Him, it immediately threw him into convulsions; and he fell down on the ground and began rolling about and foaming at the mouth.
21. And He asked his father, "How long a time has this demon been with him?" And he said, "From childhood.
22. For it often throws him both into the fire and into the water, that it might destroy him. But if You have the power to do anything, have compassion on us and help us."
23. And Jesus said to him, "If you can believe, all things are possible to the one who believes."
24. And the father of the little child cried out at once, saying with tears, "Lord, I believe. Help my unbelief."
25. Then Jesus, seeing that the multitude was running together, rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it, "You deaf and dumb spirit, I command you to come out of him, and you are not allowed to go into him any more!"
26. And after crying out and throwing him into severe convulsions, it came out; and he became as dead, so much so that many said, "He is dead."
27. But Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him up, and he arose.
28. And when He came into a house, His disciples asked Him apart, "Why were we not able to cast it out?"
29. Then He said to them, "This kind cannot be made to go out by anything except prayer and fasting."
30. And after leaving there, they went through Galilee; but He desired that no one know it,
31. Because He was teaching His disciples; and He said to them, "The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill Him; but He shall arise on the third day after He has been killed."
32. Now they did not understand the saying, but they were afraid to ask Him about it.
33. Then He came to Capernaum; and when He was in the house, He asked them, "What were you discussing among yourselves on the way here?"
34. But they were silent because, while on the way, they had discussed who would be the greatest.
35. And after sitting down, He called the twelve and said to them, "If anyone desires to be first, he shall be last of all and servant of all."
36. Then He took a little child and set it in their midst; and after taking it in His arms, He said to them,
37. "Whoever shall receive one of such little children in My name receives Me; and whoever shall receive Me does not receive Me only, but Him Who sent Me."
38. Then John answered Him, saying, "Master, we saw someone who does not follow us casting out demons in Your name, and we forbade him because he does not follow us."
39. But Jesus said, "Do not forbid him; for no one who does a work of power in My name can easily speak evil of Me.
40. And the one who is not against you is for you.
41. For whoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in My name, because you are Christ's, truly I say to you, he shall in no way lose his reward.
42. But whoever shall cause one of the little ones who believe in Me to offend, it would be better for him that a millstone be put around his neck and he be cast into the sea.
43. And if your hand shall cause you to offend, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life maimed than to go with two hands into the unquenchable fire of Gehenna.
44. Where their worm does not die, and the fire is not quenched.
45. And if your foot shall cause you to offend, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life lamed than to be cast with two feet into the unquenchable fire of Gehenna.
46. Where their worm does not die, and the fire is not quenched.
47. And if your eye shall cause you to offend, thrust it out; it is better for you to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye than to be cast with two eyes into the fire of Gehenna.
48. Where their worm does not die, and the fire is not quenched.
49. For everyone shall be salted with fire, and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.
50. The salt is good, but if the salt becomes tasteless, how will you season it? Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace with one another.”

CHAPTER TEN

1. And He rose up from there and came into the borders of Judea, by the other side of the Jordan. And the multitudes again came together to Him; and as had been His custom, He again taught them.
2. Then the Pharisees came to Him and tempting Him, asked Him, “Is it lawful for a husband to divorce his wife?”
3. But He answered and said to them, “What did Moses command you?”
4. And they said, “Moses allowed a bill of divorcement to be written to divorce.”
5. Then Jesus answered and said to them, “He wrote this commandment for you because of your hardheartedness.
6. But from the beginning of creation God made them male and female.
7. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined to his wife;
8. And the two shall become one flesh. So then, they are no longer two, but one flesh.
9. Therefore, what God has joined together, let not man separate.”
10. And when He was in the house again, His disciples asked Him concerning the same thing.
11. And He said to them, “Whoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, commits adultery against her.
12. And if a woman shall divorce her husband, and be married to another, she commits adultery.
13. Then they brought little children to Him so that He might touch them. But the disciples rebuked those who brought them.
14. And after seeing it, Jesus was indignant, and said to them, “Allow the little children to come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the kingdom of God.
15. Truly I say to you, whoever shall not receive the kingdom of God like a little child shall in no way enter into it.”
16. And He took them up in His arms, laid His hands on them and blessed them.
17. And as He went out to the road, one came running up and knelt down before Him, and asked Him, “Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?”
18. But Jesus answered him, “Why do you call Me good? No one is good except one; that is God.
19. You know the commandments: ‘You shall not commit adultery’; ‘You shall not commit murder’; ‘You shall not steal’; ‘You shall not bear false witness’; ‘You shall not defraud’; ‘Honor your father and mother.’ ”
20. And he answered and said to Him, “Master, I have kept all these from my youth.”
21. And Jesus, as He was looking upon him, loved him, and said to him, “There is one thing that you are lacking. Go and sell everything that you have, and give to the poor, and you shall have treasure in heaven; and come, take up the cross and follow Me.”
22. But he was very sad upon hearing these words, and he went away grieving, because he had many possessions.
23. And after looking around, Jesus said to His disciples, “How difficult it is for those who have riches to enter into the kingdom of God!”
24. But the disciples were astonished at His words. And again Jesus answered and said to them, “Children, how difficult it is for those who trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!
25. It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.”
26. And they were astonished beyond measure, saying among themselves, “Who then is able to be saved?”
27. But Jesus looked at them and said, “With men it is impossible, but not with God; for all things are possible with God.”
28. Then Peter began to say to Him,
“Behold, we have left everything and have followed You.”

29. And Jesus said and said, “Truly I say to you, there is not one who has left house, or brothers, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for My sake and for the gospel’s.

30. Who shall not receive a hundredfold now in this time: houses, and brothers, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the age that is coming, eternal life.

31. But many of the first shall be last, and the last shall be first.”

32. And they were on the road going up to Jerusalem, and Jesus went in front of them; and they were amazed at this; and as they followed Him, they were afraid. Then He again took the twelve and began to tell them the things that were about to happen to Him:

33. “Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be delivered up to the chief priests and the scribes; and they shall condemn Him to death, and shall deliver Him up to the Gentiles;

34. And they shall mock Him, and shall scourge Him, and shall spit on Him, and shall kill Him; and on the third day He shall rise again.”

35. Then James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came to Him, saying, “Master, we desire that whatever we ask, You shall give it to us.”

36. And He said to them, “What do you desire to have Me do for you?”

37. And they said to Him, “Grant to us that we may sit one at Your right hand and one at Your left hand in Your glory.”

38. But Jesus said to them, “You know that those who are counted worthy to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority over them.

39. But it shall not be this way among you; rather, whoever desires to become great among you shall be your servant;

40. And whoever desires to be first among you shall be the bondslave of all.

41. For even the Son of man came not to be served, but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many.”

42. Then Jesus called them to Him and said to them, “You know that those who are counted worthy to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority over them.

43. But it shall not be this way among you; rather, whoever desires to become great among you shall be your servant;

44. And whoever desires to be first among you shall be the bondslave of all.

45. For even the Son of man came not to be served, but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many.”

46. Then they came to Jericho. And as He and His disciples were going up from Jericho with a large multitude, Bartimeus the blind man, the son of Timeus, was sitting beside the road begging.

47. And after hearing that it was Jesus the Nazarene, he began to cry out, saying, “Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!”

48. Then many began to rebuke him, so that he would be silent; but he cried out all the more, “Son of David, have mercy on me!”

49. And Jesus stood still and asked for him to be called. And they called the blind man, saying to him, “Be of good courage; rise up, for He is calling you.”

50. And after casting aside his beggar’s cloak, he arose and came to Jesus.

51. Then Jesus answered him and said, “What do you desire to have Me do for you?” And the blind man said to Him, “Master, that I may receive sight.”

52. And Jesus said to him “Go your way, for your faith has healed you.” Then he immediately received sight, and he followed Jesus in the way.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. And when they came to Bethphage and Bethany, which were near to Jerusalem, toward the Mount of Olives, He sent two of His disciples;

2. And He said to them, “Go into the village ahead of you, and as soon as you enter it you will find a colt tied, upon which no man has sat. After loosing it, lead it to Me.

3. And if anyone says to you, ‘Why are you doing this?’ say, ‘The Lord has need of it’; and he will send it here immediately.”

4. And they went to the village and found the colt tied outside, at the door of a house by the crossroad; and they loosed it.
5. Then some of those who were standing there said to them, “Why are you loosing the colt?”
6. And they answered them as Jesus had commanded. Then they allowed them to take it.
7. And they led the colt to Jesus; and they laid their garments upon it, and He sat on it.
8. Then many spread their garments in the road, and others cut down branches from the trees, and scattered them in the road.
9. And those who went before and those who followed behind were crying out, saying, “Hosanna! Blessed is He Who comes in the name of the Lord.
10. Blessed is the kingdom of our father David, coming in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest!”
11. And Jesus entered Jerusalem and went into the temple; and because the hour was already late, after looking around at everything there, He went out to Bethany with the twelve.
12. And in the morning, after they left Bethany, He became hungry.
13. Then, seeing a fig tree afar off that had leaves, He went to it to see if He might possibly find something on it. But after coming to it, He found nothing except leaves because it was not yet the season for figs.
14. And Jesus responded by saying to it, “Let no one eat fruit from you any more forever!” And His disciples heard it.
15. Then they came into Jerusalem; and after entering the temple, Jesus began to cast out those who were buying and selling in the temple; and He overthrew the tables of the money exchangers and the seats of those who were selling doves.
16. Moreover, He did not allow anyone to carry a vessel through the temple.
17. And He taught, saying to them, “Is it not written, ‘My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations’? But you have made it a den of robbers.”
18. Now the chief priests and the scribes heard this, and they sought how they might destroy Him; for they feared Him, because all the multitudes marveled at His teaching.
19. And when evening came, He went out of the city.
20. And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree dried up from the roots.
21. Then Peter remembered and said to Him, “Look, Master! The fig tree that You cursed has dried up.”
22. And Jesus answered and said to them, “Have faith from God.
23. For truly I say to you, whoever shall say to this mountain, ‘Be taken away and be cast into the sea,’ and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that what he said will take place, he shall have whatever he shall say.
24. For this reason I say to you, all the things that you ask when you are praying, believe that you will receive them, and they shall be given to you.
25. But when you stand praying, if you have anything against anyone, forgive, so that your Father Who is in heaven may forgive you your offenses.
26. For if you do not forgive, neither will your Father Who is in heaven forgive you your offenses.”
27. Then they came again to Jerusalem. And as He was walking in the temple, the chief priests and the scribes and the elders came to Him;
28. And they said to Him, “By what authority are You doing these things? And who gave You this authority, that You do these things?”
29. Then Jesus answered and said to them, “I also will ask you one thing, and if you answer Me, I will also tell you by what authority I do these things.
30. The baptism of John, was it from heaven or from men? Answer Me.”
31. And they reasoned among themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ He will say, ‘Why then did you not believe him?’
32. But if we say, ‘From men’”—they feared the people, because everyone held that John was indeed a prophet.
33. And they answered Jesus by saying, “We do not know.” Then Jesus answered and said to them, “Neither will I tell you by what authority I do these things.”

CHAPTER TWELVE

1. And He began to speak to them in parables: “A man planted a vineyard, and put a fence around it, and dug a winevat, and built a tower, and leased it out to husbandmen, and then left the country.

2. And at the harvest season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, so that he might receive the fruit of the vineyard from the husbandmen.

3. But they took him and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4. And in turn, he sent another servant to them; but they stoned him and wounded him on the head, and after insulting him sent him away.

5. And in turn, he sent still another servant, and they killed him; and he sent many others, and some were beaten and others were killed.

6. Now then, he had yet one son, his own beloved. And so, last of all he sent him to them also, saying, ‘They will have respect for my son.’

7. But those husbandmen said among themselves, ‘This is the heir. Come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.’

8. And after seizing him, they killed him and cast him out of the vineyard.

9. Therefore, what will the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the husbandmen and will give the vineyard to others.

10. Have you not read even this scripture: ‘The Stone that the builders rejected, this has become the head of the corner;’

11. This was from the Lord, and it is wonderful in our eyes?’ ”

12. Then they sought to arrest Him, but they feared the multitude; for they knew that He had spoken the parable against them. And they left Him and went their way.

13. But they sent to Him some of the Pharisees and the Herodians, in order to entrap Him in His words.

14. And after coming to Him, they said, “Master, we know that You are true, and that You court no man’s favor; because You do not look on the appearance of men, but You teach the way of God in truth. Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar or not?

15. Should we give it, or should we not give it?” But perceiving their hypocrisy, He said to them, “Why do you tempt Me? Bring Me a silver coin, so that I may look at it.”

16. Then they brought it. And He said to them, “Whose image and superscription is on this coin?” And they said to Him, “Caesar’s.”

17. And Jesus answered and said to them, “Render the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God.” And they were amazed at Him.

18. Then the Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection, came to Him, and they questioned Him, saying,

19. “Master, Moses wrote for us that if the brother of anyone should die and leave behind a wife, but leave no children, then his brother should take his wife and raise up seed for his brother.

20. Now there were seven brothers; the first took a wife and died, leaving no seed;

21. And the second took her and died, and neither did he leave seed; and the third likewise.

22. And the seven had her and left no seed. Last of all the woman died also.

23. Now then, in the resurrection, when they shall arise, to which of them shall she be wife? For all seven had her as wife.”

24. Then Jesus answered them and said, “In asking this, do you not err, not knowing the Scriptures nor the power of God?

25. For when they rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels who are in heaven.

26. But concerning the dead, that they do rise, have you not read in the book of Moses about the burning bush, how God spoke to him, saying, ‘I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob’?

27. He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living. Therefore, you err greatly.”

28. And one of the scribes who had come up to Him, after hearing them reasoning together and perceiving that He answered them well, asked Him, “Which is the first commandment of all?”

29. Then Jesus answered him, “The first of all the commandments is, ‘Hear O Israel. Our one God is the Lord, the Lord.

30. And you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind, and with all your strength.’ This is the first commandment.

31. And the second is like this: ‘You shall love your neighbor as yourself.’

---

* See Appendix W for exegetical analysis of correct translation properly reflecting Deut. 6:4, p. 1358.
There is no other commandment greater than these.”

32. Then the scribe said to Him, “Right, Master. You have spoken according to truth that God is one, and there is not another besides Him;
33. And to love Him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love one’s neighbor as oneself, is more than all burnt offerings and sacrifices.”

34. And Jesus, seeing that he answered with understanding, said to him, “You are not far from the kingdom of God.” And no one dared to question Him any more.

35. And while teaching in the temple, Jesus answered and said, “How can the scribes say that the Christ is the Son of David?
36. For David himself said by the Holy Spirit, ‘The Lord said to my Lord, “Sit at My right hand, until I make Your enemies a footstool for Your feet.”’
37. Now then, if David himself called Him Lord, how can He be his Son?” And the whole multitude listened to Him eagerly.

38. And He said to them in His teaching, “Beware of the scribes, who take pleasure in walking around in robes, and in salutations in the marketplaces,
39. And in the chief seats in the synagogues and the chief places in the feasts;
40. Who devour the houses of widows, and for a pretext make long prayers. These shall receive the greater condemnation.”
41. And after sitting down opposite the temple treasury, He observed how the people were casting money into the treasury; and many rich ones were putting in much.
42. And one poor widow came and dropped in two tiny coins, which is equal to one copper coin.
43. Then He called His disciples to Him and said to them, “Truly I say to you, this poor widow has put in more than all of those who are casting money into the treasury.
44. For everyone else contributed out of their abundance; but she out of her destitution put in as much as she had, giving all her living.”

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. And as He was going out of the temple, one of His disciples said to Him, “Master, see how splendid the stones and buildings are!”
2. Then Jesus answered and said to him, “Do you see these great buildings? There shall not be left a stone upon a stone that shall not be thrown down.”
3. And as He was sitting on the Mount of Olives across from the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew came privately and asked Him,
4. “Tell us, when shall these things be? And what shall be the sign when all these things are about to be accomplished?”
5. And Jesus in answering them began to say, “Be on guard lest anyone deceive you.
6. For many shall come in My name, saying, ‘I am the Christ’; and they shall deceive many.
7. But when you hear of wars and rumors of wars, do not be troubled; for it is necessary for these things to come to pass, but the end is not yet.
8. For nation shall rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be earthquakes in different places, and there shall be famines and disasters. These things are the beginning of sorrows.
9. But keep yourselves on guard, for they shall deliver you up to councils and synagogues. You shall be beaten, and you shall be brought before governors and kings for My sake, for a witness against them.
10. And the gospel must first be published among all nations.
11. But whenever they lead you away and deliver you up, do not be anxious beforehand nor meditate on what you should say; but whatever shall be given to you in that hour, that speak. For you are not the ones who are speaking, but the Holy Spirit.
12. Then shall brother betray brother to death, and the father the child. And children shall rise up against their parents and shall put them to death.
13. And you shall be hated by all men for My name’s sake; but the one who endures to the end, that one shall be saved.
14. Now when you see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it should not stand (let the one who reads understand), then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains.
15. And let the one who is on the house-top not come down into the house, nor go in to take anything out of his house; 16. And let the one who is in the field not return to the things he left behind to take his garment.
17. But woe to those who are with child and to those who are nursing infants in those days!
18. And pray that your flight may not be in winter; 19. For in those days shall be great tribulation, such as has not been the like from the beginning of the creation that God created until this time, nor ever shall be again; 20. And unless the Lord had limited the days, no flesh would be saved; but for the sake of the elect, whom He has chosen, He has limited the days. 21. And then if anyone says to you, ‘Look, here is the Christ’; or, ‘Look, there is the Christ’; do not believe it. 22. For there shall arise false Christs and false prophets, and they shall give signs and wonders, in order to deceive, if possible, even the elect.
23. But you, watch out for them! Behold, I have foretold all these things to you. 24. Now in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give its light; 25. And the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken; 26. And then they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory. 27. And then He shall send His angels, and shall gather together His elect from the four winds, and from the extremity of earth to the extremity of heaven.
28. But learn the parable of the fig tree: When its branches become tender, and it puts forth leaves, you know that summer is near.
29. In the same way also, when you see these things coming to pass, know that it is near, even at the doors.
30. Truly I say to you, this generation shall in no way pass away until all these things have taken place.
31. The heaven and the earth shall pass away, but My words shall never pass away. 32. But concerning that day and the hour, no one knows, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but the Father only.
33. Take heed, be watching and praying. For you do not know when the time is coming.
34. It is like a man journeying to a far country, leaving his house and giving authority to his servants, and to each one his work, and commanding the doorkeeper to watch.
35. Be watching, therefore, for you do not know when the master of the house is coming: at evening, or at midnight, or at the cock’s crowing, or in the morning; 36. Lest he come suddenly and find you sleeping.
37. And what I say to you, I say to all: Watch!

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

1. Now after two days was the Passover and the feast of unleavened bread, and the chief priests and the scribes were seeking how they might stealthily lay hold of Him and kill Him. 2. But they said, “Not during the feast, lest there be a riot among the people.” 3. Now He was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper; and as He was sitting to eat, a woman came carrying an alabaster flask of ointment of pure spikenard worth a great price; and after breaking the alabaster flask, she poured it on His head. 4. But some were indignant within themselves and said, “Why has this ointment been wasted? 5. For it was possible for this to be sold for over three hundred silver coins, and to give to the poor.” And they were criticizing her. 6. But Jesus said, “Let her alone; why are you causing her trouble? She has performed a good work toward Me. 7. For you have the poor with you always, and you are able to do good for them whenever you desire; but you do not always have Me. 8. She did what she could for Me. She came to anoint My body beforehand for the burial. 9. Truly I say to you, wherever this gospel shall be preached in all the world, what this woman has done shall also be spoken of for a memorial of her.” 10. Then Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went to the chief priests in order that he might deliver Him up to them. 11. And after hearing this, they were

43. And immediately, while He was speaking, Judas, being one of the twelve, came up with a great multitude with swords and clubs, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

44. Now the one who was betraying Him had given them a sign, saying, “Whomever I shall kiss, He is the One. Arrest Him and take Him securely away.”

45. And as soon as he came up to Him, he said, “Master, Master,” and kissed Him earnestly.

46. Then they laid their hands on Him and arrested Him.

47. But a certain one of those standing near drew out a sword and struck the servant of the high priest, cutting off his ear.

48. And Jesus answered and said to them, “Have you come out to take Me with swords and clubs, as against a thief?”

49. I was with you daily, teaching in the temple, and you did not arrest Me; but this is done so that the Scriptures may be fulfilled.”

50. Then they all forsook Him and fled.

51. Now a certain young man was following Him, having a linen cloth wrapped around his naked body; and the young men seized him.

52. But he escaped, leaving the linen cloth behind, and ran from them naked.

53. Then they led Jesus away to the high priest; and all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes assembled with him.

54. Now Peter followed at a distance, all elders and the scribes assembled with him.

55. And the chief priests and the whole Sanhedrin were trying to find testimony against Jesus, to put Him to death; but Sanhedrin were trying to find testimony without hands.”

56. For many bore false witness against Him, but their testimonies did not agree.

57. And some rose up and bore false witness against Him, saying, “We heard Him say, ‘I will destroy this temple made with hands, and in three days I will build another made without hands.’”

58. But neither did their testimonies agree with one another.

59. Then the high priest stood up in the center and questioned Jesus, saying, “Have You nothing to say in answer to what these are testifying against You?”

60. But He remained silent and answered nothing. Again the high priest questioned Him, and said to Him, “Are You the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?”

62. And Jesus said, “I AM. And you shall see the Son of man sitting at the right hand of power, and coming with the clouds of heaven.”

63. Then the high priest ripped his own garments and said, “What further need do we have of witnesses?

64. You have heard the blasphemy! What is your verdict?” And they all condemned Him to be deserving of death.

65. Then some began to spit on Him, and to cover His face and strike Him with their fists, saying to Him, “Prophesy!” And the officers struck Him with the palms of their hands.

66. Now Peter was in the court below; and one of the maids of the high priest came,

67. And saw Peter warming himself; and after looking at him, she said, “Now you were with Jesus the Nazarene.”

68. But he denied it, saying, “I do not know Him or even understand what you are saying.” And he went out onto the porch, and a cock crowed.

69. Then the maid saw him again and began to say to those who were standing by, “This is one of them.”

70. And again he denied it. And after a little while, those who were standing by again said to Peter, “Truly you are one of them, for you are indeed a Galilean, and your speech confirms it.”

71. Then he began to curse and to swear, saying, “I do not know this Man of Whom you are speaking.”

72. And the cock crowed the second time. Then Peter remembered the words that Jesus had spoken to him: “Before the cock crows twice, you shall deny Me three times.” And when he thought about this, he wept.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

1. Now as soon as it was morning, the chief priests took counsel with the elders and the scribes and the whole Sanhedrin; and after binding Jesus, they led Him away and delivered Him up to Pilate.

2. And Pilate asked Him, “Are You the King of the Jews?” And He answered and said to him, “It is as you say.”

3. And the chief priests were vehemently accusing Him of many things;
but He answered nothing.

4. Then Pilate asked Him again, saying, “Have You no answer? See how many things they are testifying against You.”

5. But Jesus did not say anything at all, so that Pilate was astonished.

6. Now at the feast he customarily released to them one prisoner, whomever they asked.

7. And there was one called Barabbas, who was bound in chains with those who had made insurrection and who had committed murder during the insurrection.

8. Then the multitude began to shout aloud, urging Pilate to do as he had always done for them.

9. And Pilate answered them, saying, “Do you desire to have me release the King of the Jews to you?”

10. For he knew that the chief priests had delivered Him up because of envy.

11. But the chief priests stirred up the crowd to ask him to release Barabbas to them instead.

12. And again Pilate answered, saying to them, “What then would you have me do with Him Whom you call King of the Jews?”

13. And again they shouted, “Crucify Him!”

14. Then Pilate said to them, “What evil then did He commit?” But they shouted all the more, “Crucify Him!”

15. So Pilate, willing to do whatever would satisfy the crowd, released Barabbas to them. And after he had scourged Jesus, he delivered Him up to be crucified.

16. Then the soldiers led Him away into the court, which is named the Praetorium, and they called together the whole band.

17. And they put a purple robe on Him; and after weaving a crown of thorns, they put it on Him;

18. And they began to salute Him, and kept on saying, “Hail, King of the Jews!”

19. Then they struck His head with a rod, and spit on Him; and kneeling down, they bowed in worship to Him.

20. And when they had finished mocking Him, they took the purple robe off Him and put His own garments on Him; and they led Him out to crucify Him.

21. Then they compelled one who was passing by coming from a field, Simon the Cyrenian, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to carry His cross.

22. And they brought Him to the place named Golgotha; which is, being interpreted, “The Place of a Skull.”

23. And they were attempting to give Him wine to drink, mixed with myrrh; but He did not take it.

24. And when they had crucified Him, they divided His garments, casting lots for them to see who would take what.

25. Now it was the third hour when they crucified Him.

26. And the inscription of His accusation was written, “The King of the Jews.”

27. And with Him they crucified two robbers, one at His right hand and one at His left.

28. Then the scripture was fulfilled which says, “And He was numbered among lawbreakers.”

29. And those who were passing by railed at Him, shaking their heads, and saying, “Aha, You Who would destroy the temple and rebuild it in three days,

30. Save Yourself and come down from the cross.”

31. And in like manner the chief priests also were mocking with one another and with the scribes, saying, “He saved others, but He does not have the power to save Himself.

32. The Christ, the King of Israel! Let Him come down now from the cross so that we may see and believe.” And even those who were crucified with Him reproached Him.

33. Now at the sixth hour, darkness came over all the land until the ninth hour;

34. And at the ninth hour, Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, “Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani?” which is, being interpreted, “My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?”

35. And after hearing it, some of those who were standing by said, “Look, He is calling for Elijah.”

36. Then one ran and filled a sponge with vinegar, and after putting it on a stick gave it to Him to drink, saying, “Let Him be. Let us see if Elijah comes to take Him down.”

37. And after crying out with a loud voice, Jesus expired.

38. And the veil of the temple was split in two from top to bottom.

39. Then the centurion who stood facing Him, witnessing the words that He cried out as He was dying, said, “Truly this man was the Son of God.”
40. And there were also women who were watching from a distance, among whom was Mary Magdalene; and also Mary, the mother of James the younger and of Joses; and Salome;
41. Who also when He was in Galilee followed Him and ministered to Him; and many others who had come up with Him to Jerusalem.
42. Now evening was coming, and since it was a preparation (that is, the day before a Sabbath★),
43. Joseph of Arimathea, an esteemed member of the council, who himself was waiting for the kingdom of God, came; and he went in to Pilate with boldness and requested the body of Jesus.
44. But Pilate wondered if He were already dead; and after calling the centurion, he questioned him, whether He had been dead long.
45. And when he knew it by the report from the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph.
46. Now he had bought fine linen cloth; and after taking Him down, he wrapped Him in the linen cloth and laid Him in a tomb which had been cut out of the rock. Then he rolled a stone to cover the entrance of the tomb.
47. And Mary Magdalene and Mary, the mother of Joses, saw where He was laid.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

1. Now when the Sabbath had passed, Mary Magdalene and Mary, the mother of James; and Salome bought aromatic oils, so that they might come and anoint Him.
2. And very early on the first day of the weeks★, at the rising of the sun, they were coming to the tomb;
3. And they were asking themselves, “Who will roll away the stone for us from the entrance to the tomb?”
4. For it was a massive stone. But when they looked up, they saw that the stone had been rolled away.
5. And after entering the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right, clothed in a white robe; and they were very frightened.
6. But he said to them, “Do not be afraid. You are seeking Jesus the Nazarene,
7. Who was crucified. He has risen; He is not here. Look, there is the place where they laid Him.
8. But go, tell His disciples and Peter that He goes before you into Galilee; there you shall see Him, as He said to you.”
9. And they went out quickly and fled from the tomb, for trembling and astonishment had seized them; and they did not say anything to anyone because they were afraid.
10. Now after Jesus had risen, early the first day of the weeks He appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom He had cast out seven demons.
11. She went and told it to those who had been with Him, who were grieving and weeping.
12. And when they heard that He was alive and had been seen by her, they did not believe it.
13. Now after these things, He appeared in a different form to two of them as they were walking, going away into the country.
14. And they went and told it to the rest; but they did not believe them either.
15. Afterwards, as they were sitting to eat, He appeared to the eleven and reproached them for their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they did not believe those who had seen Him after He had risen.
16. And He said to them, “Go into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation.
17. The one who believes and is baptized shall be saved, but the one who does not believe shall be condemned.
18. And these signs shall follow those who believe: in My name they shall cast out demons; they shall speak with new languages; they shall remove serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them in any way; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.”
19. After speaking to them, the Lord was indeed then taken up into heaven, and He sat down at the right hand of God.
20. And they went out and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them and confirming the Word by the signs that followed. Amen.

The Gospel According to Mark

★This literal translation of the Greek words μὴ σαββάτων or μὴ τῶν σαββάτων shows that the day which followed the weekly Sabbath was the first day of the seven-week count to Pentecost, thus identifying this day as the Wave Sheaf Day (Lev. 23:10–11, 15–16). The ascension of Jesus Christ on that day fulfilled the offering of the wave sheaf for all time.
CHAPTER ONE

1. Since many have taken in hand to compile a written narration of the matters which have been fully believed among us,
2. As they delivered them to us, those who from the beginning had been eyewitnesses and ministers of the Word,
3. It seemed good to me also, having accurately understood everything from the very first, to write these things in an orderly sequence to you, most excellent Theophilus,
4. So that you might know the absolute certainty of the things in which you have been instructed.
5. There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judea, a certain priest of the course of Abijah, Zacharias by name; and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.
6. Now they were both righteous before God, walking blamelessly in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord.
7. But they did not have a child, as Elizabeth was barren; and both were advanced in age.
8. And it came to pass that in fulfilling his priestly service before God in the order of his course,
9. According to the custom of the priestly service, it fell to him by lot to enter the temple; for he was making signs to them,
10. And all the multitude of the people outside were praying at the hour of the burning of incense.
11. Then an angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing at the right side of the altar of incense.
12. And when he saw the angel, Zacharias was troubled, and fear fell upon him.
13. But the angel said to him, “Fear not, Zacharias, because your supplication has been heard; and your wife Elizabeth shall bear a son to you, and you shall call his name John.
14. And he shall be a joy and exultation to you; and many shall rejoice at his birth.
15. For he shall be great before the Lord.
16. And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God.
17. And he shall go before Him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the righteous, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.”
18. Then Zacharias said to the angel, “By what means shall I know this? For I am an old man, and my wife is advanced in years.”
19. And the angel answered and said to him, “I am Gabriel, who stands in the presence of God; and I was sent to speak to you, and to announce this good news to you.
20. But behold, you shall be silent and unable to speak until the day in which these things shall take place, because you did not believe my words, which shall be fulfilled in their time.”
21. Now the people were expecting Zacharias, and they were wondering why he was taking such a long time in the temple.
22. But when he came out, he was not able to speak to them. Then they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple; for he was making signs to them, but he remained mute.
23. Now it came to pass that when the days of his service were fulfilled, he departed to his house.
24. And after those days, Elizabeth his wife conceived, but hid herself for five months, saying,
25. “The Lord has intervened for me in this, at the time in which He looked upon me to take away my reproach among men.”
26. And in the sixth month of her pregnancy, the angel Gabriel was sent by God to a city of Galilee, named Nazareth,
27. To a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the lineage of David; and the name of the virgin was Mary.
28. And after coming to her, the angel said, “Hail, you who are highly favored! The Lord is with you; blessed are you among women.”
29. But when she saw him, she was greatly perplexed at his message, and was considering what kind of salutation this might be.
30. Then the angel said to her, “Do not be afraid, Mary, because you have found grace with God;
31. And behold, you shall conceive in your womb and give birth to a Son; and you shall call His name Jesus.
32. He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God shall give Him the throne of David, His forefather;
33. And He shall reign over the house of Jacob into the ages, and of His kingdom there shall be no end.”
34. But Mary said to the angel, “How shall this be, since I have not had sexual relations with a man?”
35. And the angel answered and said to her, “The Holy Spirit shall come upon you, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow you; and for this reason, the Holy One being begotten in you shall be called the Son of God.
36. Now behold, Elizabeth your kinswoman has also conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month for her who was called barren.
37. For with God nothing shall be impossible.”
38. And Mary said, “Behold the handmaid of the Lord; may it be done to me according to your word.” And the angel departed from her.
39. And Mary rose up in those days and went with haste into the hill country, to a city of Judah,
40. And entered the house of Zacharias and greeted Elizabeth.
41. Now it came to pass that when Elizabeth heard Mary’s greeting, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit,
42. And she cried out with a loud voice and said, “Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb.
43. But why is this happening to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?
44. For behold, as soon as the sound of your greeting reached my ears, the babe in my womb leaped in exultation.
45. And blessed is she who has believed, for there shall be a fulfillment of the things spoken to her from the Lord.”
46. Then Mary said, “My soul magnifies the Lord,
47. And my spirit has exulted in God my Savior;
48. For He has looked upon the humble estate of His handmaid; for behold, from this time forward all generations shall count me blessed,
49. Because the Mighty One has done great things to me, and holy is His name;
50. And His mercy is toward those who fear Him, from generation to generation.
51. He has worked strength with His arm; He has scattered the haughty in the imagination of their hearts.
52. He has put down rulers from thrones, and has exalted the lowly.
53. He has filled the hungry with good things, and the rich He has sent away empty.
54. He has helped His servant Israel, in remembering His mercy,
55. Exactly as He spoke to our fathers, to Abraham and to his seed forever.”
56. And Mary dwelt with her about three months, and returned to her house.
57. Now Elizabeth’s time was fulfilled that she should give birth, and she bore a son.
58. And her neighbors and kinsfolk heard that the Lord had magnified His mercy toward her, and they rejoiced with her.
59. And it came to pass on the eighth day that they came to circumcise the little child; and they were calling him Zacharias, after the name of his father.
60. Then his mother answered and said, “No! But he shall be named John.”
61. And they said to her, “There is no one among your kinsfolk who is called by this name.”
62. Then they made signs to his father as to what he desired him to be named.
63. And after signaling for a writing tablet, he wrote, saying, “John is his name.” And they were all amazed.
64. Then his mouth was immediately opened, and his tongue was loosed; and he spoke, praising God.
65. And fear came upon all those who dwelt around them; and in the entire hill country of Judea, all these things were being talked about.
66. And all who heard these things said they up in their hearts, saying, “What then will this little child be?” And the hand of the Lord was with him.
67. And Zacharias his father was filled with the Holy Spirit, and prophesied, saying,
68. “Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, because He has visited and has worked redemption for His people,
69. And has raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of His servant David;
70. Exactly as He spoke by the mouth of His holy prophets since the world began;
71. Salvation from our enemies and from the hand of all those who hate us;
72. To fulfill the promise of mercy made to our fathers, and to remember His holy covenant,
73. The oath that He swore to Abraham our father; to grant us
74. Being saved from the hand of our enemies, we might serve Him without fear.
75. Walking in holiness and righteousness before Him all the days of our lives.
76. And you, little child, shall be called the prophet of the Highest; for you shall go before the face of the Lord, to prepare His ways;
77. To give the knowledge of salvation to His people by the remission of their sins,
78. Through the deep inner compassions of our God; in which the dayspring from on high has visited us,
79. To shine upon those who are sitting in darkness and in the shadow of death, to direct our feet to the way of peace.”
80. And the little child grew and was strengthened in spirit; and he was in the wilderness until the day of his appearing to Israel.

CHAPTER TWO

1. Now it happened in those days that a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be registered.
2. (This registration first occurred when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)
3. Then all went to be registered, each to his own city.
4. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, to the city of David which is called Bethlehem, because he was from the house and lineage of David
5. To register himself along with Mary, who was betrothed to him as wife, and was great with child.
6. And it came to pass that during the time they were there, the days were fulfilled for her to give birth.
7. And she gave birth to her Son, the first-born, and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in a manger, because there was no place for them in the inn.
8. Now there were shepherds in the same country, who were dwelling in the fields and keeping watch over their flock by night;
9. And suddenly an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shined round about them; and they were seized with great fear.
10. But the angel said to them, “Do not be afraid; for behold, I am announcing to you glad tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people;
11. For today, in the city of David, a Savior was born to you, Who is Christ the Lord.
12. Now this is the sign for you: you shall find a Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.”
13. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,
14. “Glory to God in the highest, and peace on earth among men of goodwill.”
15. And it came to pass, as the angels were departing from them into heaven, that the shepherds said to one another, “Let us go now as far as Bethlehem, and let us see this thing that has taken place, which the Lord has made known to us.”
16. And they made haste, and came and found both Mary and Joseph, and the Babe lying in the manger.
17. Now after seeing Him, they made known everywhere the proclamation that they had been told concerning this little Child.
18. And all those who heard were filled with wonder by the things that were spoken to them by the shepherds.
19. But Mary stored up all these sayings, pondering them in her heart.
20. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was said to them.
21. Now when eight days were fulfilled for circumcision of the little Child, His name was called Jesus, which He was named by the angel before He was conceived in the womb.
22. And when the days were fulfilled for their purification according to the law of Moses, they brought Him to Jerusalem to present Him to the Lord;
23. As it is written in the law of the Lord that every male opening the womb shall be called holy to the Lord;
24. And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord: a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons.
25. And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon; and this man was righteous and reverent, waiting for the consolation of Israel; and the Holy Spirit was upon him.
26. Now it had been divinely communicated to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not see death before he had seen the Christ of the Lord.
27. And he came in the Spirit into the temple; and when the parents brought in the little Child Jesus, to do for Him according to the custom of the law,
28. He also received Him into his arms, and blessed God, and said, “Now You may let your servant depart in peace, O Master, according to Your word;
29. For my eyes have seen Your salvation,
30. Which You have prepared before the face of all peoples;
31. A light for the revelation of the Gentiles and the glory of Your people Israel.”
32. And Joseph and His mother wondered at the things that were being spoken concerning Him.
33. Then Simeon blessed them, and said to Mary, His mother, “Behold, this Child is set for the fall and rising up of many in Israel, and for a sign that shall be spoken against,
34. (And you also, a sword shall go through your own soul) in order that the imaginations of many hearts may be revealed.”
35. Now there was Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher; she was of a great age, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity;
36. And she was a widow of about eighty-four years, who did not depart from the temple, serving day and night with fastings and supplications.
37. And she lived with a husband seven years from Asher; she was of a great age, having lived seventeen years after he was dead.
38. And at the same time she came up, giving praise to the Lord; and she spoke concerning Him to all those in Jerusalem who were waiting for redemption.
39. Now when they had completed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned to Galilee, to their own city, Nazareth.
40. And the little Child grew and became strong in spirit, being filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon Him.
41. Now His parents went to Jerusalem every year at the feast of the Passover.
42. And when He was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem according to the custom of the feast.
43. But when they departed after completing the days, the Child Jesus remained behind in Jerusalem, and Joseph and His mother did not know it;
44. But supposing Him to be in the company, they went a day’s journey, and looked for Him among the relatives and among the acquaintances.
45. And when they did not find Him, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking Him.
46. Now it came to pass that after three days they found Him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them and questioning them.
47. And all those who were listening to Him were amazed at His understanding and His answers.
48. But when they saw Him, they were astonished; and His mother said to Him, “Son, why have You dealt with us in this manner? Look, Your father and I have been very distressed while searching for You.”
49. And He said to them, “Why is it that you were looking for Me? Don’t you realize that I must be about My Father’s business?”
50. But they did not understand the words that He spoke to them.
51. Then He went down with them and came to Nazareth, and He was subject to them. But His mother kept all these things in her heart.
52. And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men.

CHAPTER THREE

1. Now in the fifteenth year of the government of Tiberius Caesar, when Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, and...
Herod was tetrarch of Galilee, and Philip his brother was tetrarch of Iturea and the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias was tetrarch of Abilene,
2. In the time of the priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God came unto John, the son of Zacharias, in the wilderness.
3. And he went into all the country around the Jordan, proclaiming the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins;
4. As it is written in the book of the words of the prophet Isaiah, saying, “The voice of one crying in the wilderness, ‘Prepare the way of the Lord; make straight His paths.’
5. Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be made low; and the crooked places shall be made into straight paths, and the rough places into smooth ways;
6. And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.”
7. For this reason, he said to the multitudes who were coming out to be baptized by him, “You offspring of vipers, who has forewarned you to flee from the coming wrath?
8. Therefore, bring forth fruits worthy of repentance; and do not begin to say to yourselves, ‘We have Abraham’s expectation, and they were all reasoning in their hearts about John, whether or not he might be the Christ, 16. John answered all of them, saying, “I indeed baptize you with water; but He is coming Who is mightier than I, of Whom I am not fit to loose the thong of His sandals. He shall baptize you with the Holy Spirit, and with fire;
17. Whose fan is in His hand, and He will thoroughly purge His floor, and will gather the wheat into His granary; but the chaff
He will burn with unquenchable fire.”
18. And with many other exhortations he preached the gospel to the people.
19. But Herod the tetrarch, after being reprieved by him for marrying Herodias, the wife of Philip his brother, and for all the evils that Herod had done, 20. Added this to all that: he locked up
John in prison.
21. Now it came to pass after all the people were baptized, and Jesus was baptized and was praying, that the heaven was opened,
22. And the Holy Spirit descended upon Him in a bodily form like a dove; and there came a voice from heaven, saying, “You are My beloved Son; in You I am well pleased.”
23. And Jesus Himself began to be about thirty years old, being, as was supposed, the son of Joseph, the son-in-law of Eli,*
24. The son of Mattha, the son of Levi, the son of Melchi, the son of Janna, the son of Joseph,
25. The son of Mattathias, the son of Amos, the son of Naoum, the son of Esli, the son of Naggai,
26. The son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Simei, the son of Joseph, the son of Juda,
27. The son of Joannes, the son of Rhesa, the son of Zorobabel, the son of Salathiel, the son of Neri, 28. The son of Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam, the son of Elmodam, the son of Er,
29. The son of Joses, the son of Eliезer, the son of Joreim, the son of Mattha, the son of Levi,
30. The son of Simeon, the son of Juda, the son of Joseph, the son of Jonan, the son of Eliakim,
31. The son of Meleas, the son of Menna, the son of Mattatha, the son of Nathan, the son of David,

* The two apparently differing genealogies in Matthew 1 and Luke 3 are easily reconciled. Matthew 1 is the legal genealogy. Luke 3 is the bloodline of the physical inheritance through Mary, his mother. Eli was Mary’s father making Joseph his son-in-law. Jesus’ physical genealogy comes from David through his son Nathan, not Solomon.
The son of Jesse, the son of Obed, the son of Boaz, the son of Salmon, the son of Naasson,
The son of Aminadab, the son of Aram, the son of Esrom, the son of Phares, the son of Juda,
The son of Jacob, the son of Isaac, the son of Abraham, the son of Terah, the son of Nachor,
The son of Saruch, the son of Ragau, the son of Phalek, the son of Eber, the son of Sala,
The son of Cainan, the son of Arphaxad, the son of Shem, the son of Noe, the son of Lamech,
The son of Methusalah, the son of Enoch, the son of Jared, the son of Mahaleel, the son of Cainan,
The son of Enos, the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God.

CHAPTER FOUR

1. And Jesus, filled with the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness
2. For forty days to be tempted by the devil. And He ate nothing in those days; and after they had come to an end, He hungered.
3. Then the devil said to Him, “If You are the Son of God, command that this stone become bread.”
4. But Jesus answered him, saying, “It is written, ‘Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.’”
5. Then the devil led Him up into a high mountain and showed Him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.
6. And the devil said to Him, “I will give You all this authority, and the glory of them all; for it has been delivered to me, and I give it to whomever I desire.
7. Therefore, if You will worship me in my presence, all things shall be Yours.”
8. But Jesus answered and said to him, “Get behind Me, Satan; for it is written, ‘You shall worship the Lord your God, and Him only shall you serve.’”
9. Then he led Him to Jerusalem and set Him upon the edge of the temple, and said to Him, “If You are the Son of God, cast Yourself down from here;”
10. For it is written, ‘He shall give His angels charge concerning You to keep You;
11. And in their hands they shall bear You up, lest You strike Your foot against a stone.’”
12. But Jesus answered and said to him, “It is clearly stated, ‘You shall not tempt the Lord your God.’”
13. Now when the devil had completed every temptation, he departed from Him for a time.
14. Then Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit to Galilee; and word about Him went out into the entire country around.
15. And He taught in their synagogues, and was glorified by all.
16. And He came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up; and according to His custom, He went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day* and stood up to read.
17. And there was given Him the book of the prophet Isaiah; and when He had unrolled the scroll, He found the place where it was written,
18. “The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me; for this reason, He has anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He has sent Me to heal those who are broken-hearted, to proclaim pardon to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to send forth in deliverance those who have been crushed,
19. To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.”
20. And after rolling up the scroll and delivering it to the attendant, He sat down; and the eyes of everyone in the synagogue were fixed on Him.
21. Then He began to say to them, “Today, this scripture is being fulfilled in your ears.”
22. And all bore witness to Him and were amazed at the words of grace that were coming out of His mouth; and they said, “Is not this the son of Joseph?”
23. And He said to them, “Surely, you

*The words “on the Sabbath day” are translated from the Greek words ἐν τῇ ἡμέρᾳ τῶν σαββάτων. A literal translation would be, “Now on the day of the sabbaths”; or, “Now on the day of the weeks.” The use of the Greek τῶν σαββάτων, meaning “Sabbaths” or “weeks,” indicates that this verse is referring to the day of Pentecost. Because this day is observed after counting a period of seven full weeks, it was known in New Testament times as “the day of the weeks.” The day of Pentecost does not fall on the weekly Sabbath but is an annual Sabbath. will say this parable to Me: ‘Physician, heal Yourself! Whatever we have heard being done in Capernaum, do also here in Your own country.’”

24. But He said, “Truly I say to you, no prophet is acceptable in his own country. 25. For in truth, I say to you, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heavens were shut up for three years and six months, and there was great famine upon all the land; 26. And Elijah was not sent to any of them, but only to a widow in Sarepta, a city of Sidonia.

27. There were also many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet; and none of them were cleansed, but only Naaman the Syrian.”

28. Now all in the synagogue who heard these things were filled with indignation. 29. And they rose up and cast Him out of the city, and led Him to the edge of the mountain on which their city was built, in order to throw Him down headlong; 30. But He passed safely through their midst and departed.

31. Then He went down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the Sabbath.

32. And they were astonished at His teaching, for His word was with authority.

33. Now a man who had an unclean spirit was in the synagogue; and he cried out with a loud voice,

34. Saying, “Ah! What have we to do with You, Jesus the Nazarean? Have You come to destroy us? I know Who You are, the Holy One of God.”

35. And Jesus rebuked him, saying, “Be silent, and come out of him.” And after throwing him into the midst, the demon came out of him and did not hurt him in any way.

36. Then astonishment came upon everyone, and they spoke to one another, saying, “What message is this, that with authority and power He commands the unclean spirits, and they come out?”

37. And news of His powerful deeds spread through every place in the surrounding country.

38. Now after going out of the synagogue, He went into Simon’s house. And Simon’s mother-in-law was sick with a great fever; and they asked Him to intervene for her.

39. Then He stood over her and rebuked the fever, and it left her. And immediately she arose and served them.

40. Now as the sun was going down, all those who had sick persons with various diseases brought them to Him; and He laid His hands on each one of them and healed them.

41. And demons went out from many, crying out and saying, “You are the Christ, the Son of God.” But He rebuked them and did not allow them to speak, because they knew that He was the Christ.

42. Now when day came, He departed and went into a desert place; but the multitudes searched for Him, and came to Him and were detaining Him, that He might not leave them.

43. Then He said to them, “It is necessary for me to preach the gospel of the kingdom of God to the other cities; for this is the reason that I have been sent.”

44. And He went about preaching in the synagogues of Galilee.

CHAPTER FIVE

1. Now it came to pass that while the multitude was pressing on Him to hear the Word of God, He stood by the Lake of Gennesaret;

2. And He saw two ships standing by the shore of the lake, but the fishermen had left them and were washing their nets.

3. And after going into one of the ships, which was Simon’s, He asked him to put out from the shore a little; and He sat down and taught the multitudes from the ship.

4. Now when He had finished speaking, He said to Simon, “Put out into the deep, and let your nets down for a haul.”

5. Then Simon answered and said, “Master, we have labored through the entire night, and we have taken nothing; but at Your word, I will let the net down.”

6. And when they did this, they enclosed a great school of fish; and their net was breaking.

7. Then they signaled to their partners, those in the other ship, that they should come and help them; and they came and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.

8. And when he saw this, Simon Peter fled at Jesus’ knees, saying, “Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, Lord.”
9. For great astonishment came upon him and all those with him, on account of the miraculous haul of fish that they had taken;
10. And in like manner also upon James and John, the sons of Zebedee, who were partners with Simon. Then Jesus said to Simon, “Fear not; from this time forth you shall be catching men.”
11. And after bringing the ships to land, they forsook everything and followed Him.
12. Now it came to pass that as He was in one of the cities, a man full of leprosy saw Jesus and immediately fell on his face, beseeching Him and saying, “Lord, if You will, You have the power to cleanse me.”
13. And after stretching out His hand, He touched him, saying, “I will. Be cleansed!” And the leprosy instantly left him.
14. Then He charged him to tell no one, and said, “Go and show yourself to the priest, and bring an offering for your cleansing as Moses commanded, for a witness to them.”
15. But reports of His miracles were spread abroad even more; and great multitudes came to hear Him and to be healed by Him of their infirmities.
16. Then He withdrew into the wilderness and prayed.
17. Now it came to pass that on one of the days when He was teaching, Pharisees and teachers of the law were sitting there who had come out of every village from Galilee and from Judea, including the villages around Jerusalem. And the power of the Lord was there for healing the sick.
18. And behold, men came, carrying on a stretcher a man who was paralyzed; and they sought to bring him in and place him before Him.
19. But when they could not find a way to bring him in because of the multitude, they went up on the rooftop and lowered him with the stretcher through the tiles into the midst, directly in front of Jesus.
20. And seeing their faith, He said to him, “Man, your sins have been forgiven you.”
21. Then the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, “Who is this Who speaks blasphemies? Who has the power to forgive sins, except God alone?”
22. But Jesus, perceiving their thoughts, answered and said to them, “Why do you reason in your hearts?
23. Which is easier, to say, ‘Your sins have been forgiven you’? Or to say, ‘Arise and walk’?
24. But that you may know that the Son of man has authority on the earth to forgive sins,” He said to the one who was paralyzed, “I say to you, arise and take up your stretcher, and go to your house.”
25. And he immediately stood up in front of them; and after taking up the stretcher on which he had been lying, he went to his house, glorifying God.
26. And amazement seized everyone, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, “We have seen strange things today.”
27. Now after these things, He went out and saw a tax collector named Levi sitting at the tax office, and said to him, “Follow Me.”
28. Then he arose, leaving everything, and followed Him.
29. And Levi made a great feast for Him in his house, and there were a large number of tax collectors and others who sat down with them.
30. But the scribes and the Pharisees complained to His disciples, saying, “Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners?”
31. Then Jesus answered and said to them, “Those who are in good health do not need a physician, but those who are sick.
32. I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.”
33. Then they said to Him, “Why do the disciples of John fast often and make supplications, and those of the Pharisees do the same, but Your disciples are eating and drinking?”
34. And He said to them, “Can you make the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them?
35. But the time will come when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and in those days they shall fast.”
36. Then He also spoke a parable to them: “No one puts a piece of new cloth on an old garment, or the new cloth will make a tear; for the piece that is from the new cloth is not compatible with the old piece.
37. And no one puts new wine into old skins, or the new wine will burst the skins and will spill out, and the skins will be destroyed;
38. But new wine must be put into new skins, and both will be preserved together.
39. And no one after drinking the old wine immediately desires the new; for he says, ‘The old is better.’

CHAPTER SIX

1. Now it came to pass on the second Sabbath of the first rank* that He was walking through the grain fields; and His disciples were plucking the ears and were eating, after rubbing them in their hands.
2. But some of the Pharisees said to them, “Why are you doing that which is not lawful to do on the Sabbaths?”
3. And Jesus answered and said to them, “Have you not read even this, that which David did when he himself hungered,
4. and those who were with him, which it is not lawful to eat except for the priests only?”
5. And He said to them, “The Son of man is Lord even of the Sabbath.”
6. Now it also came to pass on another Sabbath He went into the house of God and took the loaves of showbread, and he ate of them, and also gave some to those with him, which it is not lawful to eat except for the priests only?

*The Greek phrase \textit{εν σαββατῳ δευτεροπρώτῳ} used here by Luke, is literally translated “on the second-first Sabbath,” or “on the second Sabbath of the first rank or order.” The Sabbaths of the first order or rank are annual Sabbaths, which take precedence over the weekly Sabbath. Luke is clearly recording that Jesus and the disciples were going through the grain fields on the second annual Sabbath, which was the last day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread.
you shall hunger! Woe to you who laugh now, for you shall mourn and weep!
26. Woe to you when all men shall speak well of you! For their fathers did these same things to the false prophets.
27. But I say to you who hear, love your enemies, and do good to those who hate you.
29. If anyone strikes you on the cheek, offer the other cheek also; and if anyone takes your cloak, do not forbid your coat also.
30. Give to everyone who asks you; and if anyone takes what is yours, do not ask for it back.
31. And exactly as you would have men do to you, you do the same to them also.
32. But if you love only those who love you, what praise is it to you? For even sinners love those who love them.
33. And if you do good only to those who are doing good to you, what praise is it to you? For even sinners do the same.
34. And if you lend to those from whom you hope to receive, what praise is it to you? For even sinners lend to sinners, that they may receive as much again.
35. But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and you shall be the children of the Highest; for He is good to the unthankful and the wicked.
36. Therefore, you also be compassionate, even as your Father is compassionate.
37. And do not judge others, so that you yourself will not be judged in any way. Do not condemn others, so that you will not be condemned in any way. Forgive, and you shall be forgiven.
38. Give, and it shall be given to you. Good measure, pressed down and shaken together and running over, shall they give into your bosom. For with the same measure that you mete out, it shall be measured again to you.”
39. Then He spoke a parable to them, saying, “Is a blind man able to lead a blind man? Will not both fall into the ditch?
40. A disciple is not above his teacher; but everyone who is perfected shall be like his teacher.
41. And why do you look at the sliver that is in your brother’s eye, but you do not perceive the beam that is in your own eye?
42. Or how can you say to your brother, ‘Brother, allow me to cast out the sliver that is in your eye,’ but you do not see the beam that is in your own eye? Hypocrite! First cast out the beam from your own eye, and then shall you see clearly to cast out the sliver that is in your brother’s eye.
43. For there is not a good tree that is producing corrupt fruit; nor is there a corrupt tree that is producing good fruit.
44. For every tree is known by its own fruit; for they do not gather figs from thorns, nor do they gather a bunch of grapes from a bramble.
45. The good man out of the good treasure of his heart brings forth that which is good; and the wicked man out of the wicked treasure of his heart brings forth that which is wicked; for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaks.
46. And why do you call Me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ but you do not practice what I say?
47. Everyone who comes to Me and hears My words and practices them, I will show you what he is like:
48. He is like a man building a house, who dug deep and laid the foundation on the rock; and a flood came, and the torrent beat against that house, but could not shake it, because it was founded on the rock.
49. But the one who has heard My words and has not practiced them is like a man who built a house on top of the ground, without a foundation; and when the torrent beat against it, it fell at once, and the ruin of that house was great.”

CHAPTER SEVEN

1. And when He had finished all His sayings in the ears of the people, He went into Capernaum.
2. Now a certain centurion’s servant, who was cherished by him, was ill and about to die.
3. And after hearing about Jesus, he sent the elders of the Jews to beseech Him to come and heal his servant.
4. And after coming to Jesus, they besought Him earnestly, saying that he was worthy to whom He should grant this.
14. And He came up to the bier to her, "Do not weep." moved with compassion for her and said,
13. And when the Lord saw her, He was touched, she was a widow; and a considerable carried out, an only son to his mother, and
12. And as He drew near to the gate of the city, behold, and a great multitude.
11. Now it came to pass on the next day that He went into a city called Nain; and many of His disciples went with Him, and a great multitude.
10. And when those who had been sent returned to the house, they found the sick servant in good health.
9. And when He heard these things, Jesus was amazed at him; and turning to the multitude following Him, He said, "I tell you, not even in Israel have I found such great faith."
8. For I also am a man appointed under authority, having soldiers under myself, and I say to this one, 'Go,' and he goes; and to another, 'Come,' and he comes; and to my servant, 'Do this,' and he does it."
7. Therefore, neither did I count myself worthy to come to You; but say the word, and my servant shall be healed.
6. Then Jesus went with them; but when He was not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to Him, saying to Him, "Lord, do not trouble Yourself; for I am not worthy that You should come under my roof;
5. "For he loves our nation," they said, "and he built the synagogue for us."

21. Now in the same hour, He healed many of diseases and scourges and evil spirits, and He granted sight to many who were blind.
22. And Jesus answered and said to them, "When you have gone, relate to John the things you have seen and heard: that the blind receive sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and the gospel is preached to the poor.
23. And blessed is everyone who shall not be offended in Me."
24. Now after the messengers of John had left, He began to speak to the multitudes concerning John: "What did you go out into the wilderness to gaze at? A reed shaken by the wind?
25. But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and one more excellent than a prophet.
26. This is he concerning whom it is written, 'Behold, I send My messenger before Your face, who shall prepare Your way before You.'
27. For I tell you, among those who have been born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist; but the one who is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he."
28. For I tell you, among those who have heard this justified God because they had been baptized with the baptism of John.
29. But the Pharisees and the doctors of the law had set aside the counsel of God concerning themselves, and had not been baptized by him.
30. And the Lord said, "To what then shall I compare the men of this generation? And what are they like?
31. They are like little children sitting and calling to one another in the marketplace, and saying, 'We have piped to you, but you did not dance; we have mourned to you, but you did not weep.'
32. For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and you said, 'He has a demon.'
33. The Son of man has come eating and drinking, and you say, 'Behold, a gluttonous man and a winebibber, a friend of tax collectors and sinners’; 35. But wisdom is justified by all her children.”

46. You did not anoint My head with oil; but she, anointed Me with ointment; and she has washed My feet with water; and wiped them with the hairs of her head; and she was ardently kissing His feet and anointing them with the ointment.

47. For this cause, I tell you, her many sins have been forgiven because she is a sinner.”

48. And He said to her, “Your sins have been forgiven.”

49. Then those who were sitting with Him began to say within themselves, “Who is this, Who even forgives sins?”

50. But He said to the woman, “Your faith has saved you. Go in peace.”

CHAPTER EIGHT

1. Now it came to pass afterwards that He traveled through all the land, city by city and village by village, preaching and proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom of God; and the twelve were with Him,

2. And certain women who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities: Mary who is called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out;

3. And Joanna, wife of Chuza, a steward of Herod; and Susanna, and many others who were ministering to Him from their own substance.

4. And as a great multitude was assembling, and those who were coming to Him from every city, He spoke a parable:

5. “The sower went out to sow his seed; and as he sowed, some seed fell by the road; and it was trampled upon, and the birds of heaven devoured it.

6. And other seed fell upon the rock; and after it had sprung up it withered because it did not have any moisture.

7. And other seed fell among the thorns; and after springing up together, the thorns choked it.

8. And other seed fell upon the good ground, and after springing up produced fruit a hundredfold.” And when He had said these things, He cried aloud, saying, “The one who has ears to hear, let him hear.”

9. Then His disciples asked Him, saying, “What might this parable be?”

10. And He said, “To you it has been given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God; but to the rest it is given in parables, so that in seeing they may not see, and in hearing they may not understand.

11. Now this is the parable: The seed is the Word of God;

12. And those that fell by the road are the ones who hear, but the devil comes and takes away the Word from their heart, lest they should believe and be saved.

13. And those that fell upon the rock are the ones who, when they hear, receive the Word with joy; but these do not have any root, who believe only for a while, and in time of trial fall away.
14. And those that fell into the thorns are the ones who have heard, but are choked while pursuing the cares and riches and pleasures of life, and do not bring any fruit to maturity.
15. And those that fell on the good ground are the ones who, in a right and good heart, hear the Word and keep it, and bring forth fruit with endurance.
16. Now no one after lighting a lamp covers it with a vessel, or puts it under a couch, but puts it on a lampstand, so that those who are entering may see the light.
17. For there is nothing hidden that shall not be made manifest, nor any secret that shall not be known and come to light.
18. Therefore, take heed how you hear. For whoever has, to him shall be given; but whoever does not have, even what he seems to have shall be taken from him.”
19. Then His mother and His brothers came to Him, but were not able to get to Him because of the multitude.
20. And it was told Him, saying, “Your mother and Your brothers are standing outside, desiring to see You.”
21. But He answered and said to them, “My mother and My brothers are those who are hearing the Word of God and are doing it.”
22. Now it came to pass on one of those days that He and His disciples went into a ship; and He said to them, “Let us go over to the other side of the lake.” And they put off from the shore.
23. And as they sailed, He fell asleep; and a windstorm came down on the lake, and they were being filled with water, and were in danger.
24. Then they came to Him and awoke Him, saying, “Master, Master, we are perishing!” And He arose and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water; and they ceased, and there was a calm.
25. And He said to them, “Where is your faith?” But they were afraid, and wondered, saying to one another, “Who then is this that He commands even the winds and the water, and they obey Him?”
26. Then they sailed down to the country of the Gadarenes, which is across from Galilee.
27. And when He went out on the land, there met Him a certain man from the city who had been possessed by demons for a long time; and he was not wearing any clothes, and did not dwell in a house, but in the tombs.
28. Now when he saw Jesus, he cried out and fell down in front of Him, and said with a loud voice, “What do You have to do with me, Jesus, Son of God the Most High? I beseech You, do not torment me.”
29. For He had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For many times it had seized him, and each time he was restrained, being bound with chains and fetters; but after breaking the bonds, he was driven by the demon into the desert.
30. And Jesus asked it, saying, “What is your name?” And it said, “Legion,” because many demons had entered into him.
31. Then it begged Him that He would not command them to go away into the abyss.
32. Now there was a herd of many swine feeding there on the mountain, and they begged Him that He would allow them to enter into the swine; and He gave them permission.
33. And the demons went out of the man and entered into the swine, and the whole herd rushed headlong into the lake and were drowned.
34. Now when those who were feeding the swine saw what had taken place, they fled; and they went and reported it to the city and to the country.
35. And those who heard went out to see what had taken place; and they came to Jesus, and found the man from whom the demons had gone out, clothed and of a sound mind, seated at Jesus’ feet. And they were afraid.
36. And those who had seen it related to them how the one who had been possessed by demons was healed.
37. Then all the multitude of the Gadarenes from the country around asked Him to depart from them; for they were filled with great fear. And He went into the ship to return.
38. And the man from whom the demons had gone out begged to be taken with Him. But Jesus sent him away, saying,
39. “Return to your own house and declare all that God has done for you.” And he went throughout the whole city, proclaiming all that Jesus had done for him.
40. Now it came to pass that when Jesus returned, the multitude gladly received Him; for they had all been looking for Him.
41. And behold, a man came whose name was Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue; and after falling at Jesus' feet, he begged Him to come to his house.

42. Because his only daughter, about twelve years old, was dying. And as He went, the multitudes were thronging Him.

43. And a woman who had been afflicted with a flow of blood for twelve years, and had spent her whole living on physicians, but could not be cured by anyone, came behind Him and touched the border of His garment; and immediately the flow of her blood stopped.

44. And Jesus said, "Who touched Me?" And as everyone began to deny it, Peter and those with Him said, "Master, the multitudes are thronging and pressing You, and You ask, 'Who touched Me?'"

45. But Jesus said, "Someone touched Me, because I know that power went out from Me."

46. Then the woman, seeing that her act was not concealed, came trembling; and after falling down in front of Him before all the people, she declared for what cause she had touched Him, and how she had immediately been healed.

47. And He said to her, "Be of good courage, daughter; your faith has healed you. Go in peace."

48. While He was yet speaking, one came from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying to him, "Your daughter has died. Do not trouble the Master."

49. But hearing this, Jesus answered him, saying, "Do not be afraid. Only believe, and she shall be restored."

50. And when He went into the house, He did not allow anyone to go in with Him except Peter and James and John, and the father and the mother of the child.

51. And when He went into the house, He did not allow anyone to enter except Peter and James and John, and the father and the mother of the child.

52. And they were all weeping and bewailing her. But He said, "Do not weep. She is not dead, but is sleeping."

53. Then they laughed at Him, knowing that she was dead.

54. But after putting everyone outside, He took hold of her hand and called out, saying, "Child, arise."

55. And her spirit returned, and she immediately arose; and He directed that something to eat should be given to her.

56. And her parents were amazed, but He charged them not to tell anyone what had happened.

CHAPTER NINE

1. Then He called His twelve disciples together and gave them power and authority over all the demons, and to heal diseases;

2. And He sent them to proclaim the kingdom of God, and to heal those who were sick.

3. And He said to them, "Take nothing for the journey—neither staffs, nor provision bag, nor bread, nor money, nor two coats apiece.

4. And whatever house you may enter, lodge there and go forth from there.

5. But whoever will not receive you, as you are departing from that city, shake off even the dust from your feet for a testimony against them."

6. Then they went out and passed through the villages, preaching the gospel and healing everywhere.

7. Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all the things that were being done by Him; and he was perplexed because it was said by some that John had been raised from the dead.

8. And by some that Elijah had appeared, and by others that one of the ancient prophets had arisen.

9. And Herod said, "I beheaded John, but Who is this about Whom I hear such things?" And he desired to see Him.

10. Now when they returned, the apostles related to Him everything they had done. Then He took them and withdrew privately into a desert place of a city called Bethsaida.

11. And when the multitudes knew it, they followed Him; and He received them and spoke to them about the kingdom of God, and He healed those who had need of healing.

12. But when the day began to decline, the twelve came to Him and said, "Dismiss the multitude, so that they may go into the villages and the country round about, and may find lodging and provis-

13. Then He said to them, "You give them something to eat." But they said, "There is nothing more than five loaves and two fish with us, unless we go and buy food for all the people."

14. For there were about five thousand men. Then He said to His disciples, "Make them sit in companies by fifties."
15. And they did so, and made everyone sit down.
16. Then He took the five loaves and the two fish; and looking up into heaven, He blessed them and broke them, and gave them to the disciples to set before the multitude.
17. And they ate, and everyone was satisfied; and that which was left by them was taken up, twelve baskets full.
18. Now it came to pass as He was praying alone, and the twelve disciples were with Him, that He questioned them, saying, “Who do the multitudes declare Me to be?”
19. And they answered, “Some say John the Baptist; and others, Elijah; and others, that some prophet from ancient times has risen from the dead.”
20. Then He said to them, “But Who do you declare Me to be?” And Peter answered and said, “The Christ of God.”
21. And He charged them, strictly forbidding them to tell this to anyone,
22. Saying, “It is necessary for the Son of man to suffer many things, and to be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes, and to be killed, and to be raised the third day.”
23. Then He said to all, “If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and let him take up his cross daily, and let him follow Me;
24. For whoever desires to save his life shall lose it; but whoever will lose his life for My sake shall save it.
25. For what is a man profited by gaining the whole world, if he himself is lost or destroyed?
26. For whoever shall be ashamed of Me and My words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed when He comes in His own glory, and in the glory of the Father and of the holy angels.
27. But I tell you in truth, there are some of those standing here who shall not taste death until they have seen the kingdom of God.”
28. Now it came to pass about eight days after these words, that He took Peter and John and James and went up into the mountain to pray.
29. And it came to pass that as He prayed, the appearance of His face was changed, and His clothing became radiantly white.
30. And suddenly two men appeared, talking with Him; they were Moses and Elijah.
31. Who appeared in glory and spoke of His departure, which He was about to accomplish in Jerusalem.
32. But Peter and those with him were heavy with sleep; and when they were fully awake, they saw His glory, and the two men who were standing with Him.
33. And it came to pass that, as these were departing from Him, Peter said to Jesus, “Master, it is good for us to be here; now let us make three tabernacles, one for You, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah”—not realizing what he was saying.
34. But as he was saying these things, a cloud came and overshadowed them, and they feared as those three entered into the cloud.
35. Then a voice came out of the cloud, saying, “This is My Son, the Beloved. Listen to Him!”
36. And as the voice ended, Jesus was found alone. And they kept silent, and told no one in those days of anything that they had seen.
37. Now it came to pass that on the next day, when they had come down from the mountain, a great multitude met Him.
38. And a man in the crowd immediately cried out, saying, “Master, I beseech You, look upon my son, because he is my only child;
39. And a spirit takes him, and he suddenly cries out; and it throws him into convulsions with foaming, and then departs from him with difficulty, leaving him bruised.
40. And I besought Your disciples, that they might cast it out; but they were not able.”
41. Then Jesus answered and said, “O faithless and perverted generation, how long shall I be with you, and bear with you? Bring your son here.”
42. And as he was approaching, the demon flung him down and threw him into convulsions. But Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and gave him back to his father.
43. And all were astonished at the majesty of God. And while everyone was wondering about all the things that Jesus had done, He said to His disciples.
44. “Let these words sink deep into your ears, for the Son of man is about to be delivered into the hands of men.”
45. But they did not understand this saying; for it was concealed from them, so that they would not perceive it. And they were afraid to ask Him about this saying.

46. Then an argument arose among them which was this: who would be the greatest among them.

47. And when Jesus perceived the thoughts of their hearts, He took hold of a little child and set it by Him, and said, "You do not understand of what spirit you are.

48. But He turned and said fire to come down from heaven and consume them, as Elijah did?"

49. Then John answered and said, "Master, we saw someone casting out demons in Your name, and we forbad him because he does not follow with us."

50. But Jesus said to him, "Do not forbid him, because everyone who is not against us is for us."

51. Now it came to pass, when the days were being fulfilled that He should be received up, that He steadfastly set His face to go to Jerusalem.

52. And He sent messengers before His face. And as they went, they came to a village of Samaritans to prepare for Him; but they did not receive Him, because His face was as if He were going to Jerusalem.

53. But and seeing this, His disciples James and John said, "Lord, will You have us call fire to come down from heaven and consume them, as Elijah did?"

54. But He turned and rebuked them, and said, "You do not understand of what spirit you are.

55. For the Son of man did not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them." And they went to another village.

56. Now it came to pass that as they were going along the road, someone said to Him, "I will follow You wherever You may go, Lord."

57. But Jesus said to him, "The foxes have holes, and the birds of heaven have nests; but the Son of man does not have any place to lay His head."

58. Then He said to another, "Follow Me." And he said, "Lord, allow me first to bid farewell to those who are at my house."

59. And another also said, "I will follow You, Lord, but allow me first to bid farewell to those who are at my house."

60. But Jesus said to him, "No one who sets his hand to the plow, and looks back at the things behind, is fit for the kingdom of God."

CHAPTER TEN

1. Now after these things, the Lord appointed seventy others and sent them two by two before His face, into every city and place where He Himself was about to come.

2. And so He said to them, "The harvest is indeed great, but the workmen are few. Therefore, beseech the Lord of the harvest that He may send out workmen into His harvest.

3. Go forth! Behold, I am sending you out as lambs in the midst of wolves.

4. Carry no purse, nor provision bag, nor sandals, and do not salute anyone on the way.

5. But whatever house you may enter, first say, 'Peace be to this house.'

6. And if indeed a son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it; but if, on the other hand, it be not so, your peace shall return to you.

7. And lodge in the same house, eating and drinking that which is supplied by them; for the workman is worthy of his hire. Do not move from house to house.

8. And whatever city you may enter, and they receive you, eat the things set before you.

9. And heal the sick in it, and say to them, 'The kingdom of God has drawn near to you.'

10. But whatever city you may enter, and they do not receive you, go into the streets and say,

11. 'Even the dust of your city, which clings to us, we wipe off against you; yet know this, that the kingdom of God has drawn near to you.'

12. For I tell you, it shall be more tolerable for Sodom in that day than for that city.

13. Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works which have been taking place in you had taken place in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14. But it will be more tolerable for Tyre..."
and Sidon in the judgment than for you.
15. And you, Capernaum, who have been lifted up to heaven, shall be brought down to the grave.
16. The one who hears you hears Me; and the one who rejects you rejects Me; and the one who rejects Me rejects Him Who sent Me.”
17. Then the seventy returned with joy, saying, “Lord, even the demons are subject to us through Your name.”
18. And He said to them, “I was rejoicing when Satan fell from heaven like lightning.
19. Behold, I give you authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and upon all the power of the enemy, and nothing shall injure you in any way.
20. Yet do not rejoice in this, that the spirits are subject to you; but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.”
21. In the same hour Jesus rejoiced in the Spirit, and said, “I praise You, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that You did hide these things from the wise and intelligent, and did reveal them to babes. Yes, Father, for it was well pleasing in Your sight to do so.”
22. Then He turned to the disciples and said, “All things were delivered to Me by My Father; and no one knows Who the Son is, except the Father; and Who the Father is, except the Son, and the one to whom the Son personally chooses to reveal Him.”
23. And He turned to His disciples and said privately, “Blessed are the eyes that have seen the things that you see.
24. For I tell you, many prophets and kings have desired to see the things that you see, and have not seen them; and to hear the things that you hear, and have not heard them.”
25. Now a certain doctor of the law suddenly stood up, tempting Him and saying, “Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?”
26. And He said to him, “What is written in the law? How do you read it?”
27. Then he answered and said, “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your strength, and with all your mind; and your neighbor as yourself.”
28. And He said to him, “You have answered correctly. Do this, and you shall live.”
29. But he, desiring to justify himself, said to Jesus, “And who is my neighbor?”
30. And taking it up, Jesus said, “A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and was encircled by thieves; and after they had stripped him of his goods and inflicted him with wounds, they went away, leaving him half dead.
31. Now by coincidence, a certain priest went down that road; and when he saw him, he passed by on the opposite side.
32. And in like manner also, a Levite, when he was at the place, came and saw him, and passed by on the opposite side.
33. But a certain Samaritan, as he was journeying, came to him; and when he saw him, he was moved with compassion.
34. And he went to him and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine; then he put him on his own beast and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.
35. And when he left on the next day, he took out two silver coins and gave them to the innkeeper, and said to him, ‘Take care of him, and whatever you may expend above this, I will repay you when I come back.’
36. Therefore, which of these three seems to you to have been a neighbor of him who fell among the thieves?”
37. And he said, “The one who showed compassion toward him.” Then Jesus said to him, “You go and do likewise.”
38. Now it came to pass as they were going that He came into a certain village; and a certain woman named Martha received Him into her house.
39. And she had a sister called Mary, who sat down at Jesus’ feet and was listening to His message.
40. But Martha was distracted because of much serving; and she came to Jesus and said, “Lord, is it of no concern to You that my sister has left me to serve alone? Now then, speak to her, so that she will help me.”
41. Then Jesus answered and said to her, “Martha, Martha, you are full of care and troubled about many things;
42. But there is one need above all else; and Mary has chosen the good part, which shall not be taken from her.”

CHAPTER ELEVEN

1. Now it came to pass that as He was prying in a certain place, when He finished, one of His disciples said to Him, “Lord, teach us how to pray, as John also taught his disciples.”

2. And He said to them, “When you pray, say, ‘Our Father Who is in heaven, hallowed be Your name; Your kingdom come; Your will be done, as in heaven, so also upon the earth.

3. Give us our bread as needed day by day;

4. And forgive us our sins, as we ourselves also forgive everyone who is indebted to us; and lead us not into temptation, but rescue us from the evil one.’ ”

5. Then He said to them, “Who among you has a friend that he shall go to at midnight, and say to him, ‘ Friend, lend me three loaves;’

6. For a friend of mine has come to me on a journey, and I do not have anything to set before him; Your will be done, as in heaven, so also upon the earth.

7. And from within he shall answer, saying, ‘Do not disturb me. The door has already been shut, and my children are in bed with me. I cannot get up to give to you.’

8. I say to you, even if he will not rise to give to him on account of being his friend, yet because of his importunity he give to him three loaves;

9. And I say to you, ask, and it shall be given to you; seek, and you shall find; knock, and it shall be opened to you.

10. For everyone who asks receives; and the one who seeks finds; and to the one who knocks, it shall be opened.

11. But which of you who knocks, it shall be opened.

12. Or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent instead of a fish? Or if he shall ask for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he shall ask for an egg, will give him a scorpion?

13. Therefore if you, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more shall your Father Who is in heaven give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him?”

14. Now He was casting out a demon, and it was dumb; but it came to pass that when the demon had gone out, the one who had been dumb spoke. And the multitudes were amazed.

15. But some of them said, “He is casting out demons by the power of Beelzebub, prince of the demons.”

16. And others, tempting Him, were seeking a sign from heaven.

17. But He, knowing their thoughts, said to them, “Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falls.

18. And if Satan also is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? Consider now, because you are saying that I cast out demons by Beelzebub.

19. And if I by Beelzebub cast out demons, by whom do your sons cast them out? Because of this, they shall be your judges.

20. But if I by the finger of God cast out demons, then the kingdom of God has come upon you.

21. When a strong man who is armed guards his own dwelling, his goods are safe.

22. But when a stronger man than he comes upon him, he overcomes him, and takes away his armor in which he trusted, and divides his spoil.

23. The one who is not with Me is against Me, and the one who does not gather with Me scatters.

24. When the unclean spirit has gone out of a man, it goes through waterless places, seeking rest; and when it does not find any, it says, ‘I will return to the house from which I came out.’

25. And when it comes, it finds it swept and adorned.

26. Then it goes and takes seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they enter in and dwell there; and the last state of that man is worse than the first.”

27. And it came to pass that as He spoke these things, a certain woman lifted up her voice from the multitude and said to Him, “Blessed is the womb that bore You, and the breasts that You sucked.”

28. And He said, “Yes, rather, blessed are those who hear the Word of God and keep it.”

29. Now when the multitudes had crowded around even more, He began to say, “This is an evil generation, seeking after a sign; but no sign shall be given to it except the sign of Jonah the prophet.

30. For as Jonah was a sign to the Ninevites, in the same way also shall the Son of man be a sign to this generation.

31. The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them, for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

32. The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it, because they repented at Jonah's proclamation; and behold, a greater than Jonah is here.

33. Now no one who lights a lamp sets it in a secret place or under a bushelbasket, but on a lampstand, so that those who are entering may see the light.

34. The light of the body is the eye. Therefore, when your eye is without guile, your whole body is light; but when your eye is evil, your body also is dark.

35. Therefore, beware that the light that is in you is not darkness.

36. Now then, if your whole body is light, not having any part dark, it shall be full of light, as when a lamp shining brightly gives you light.”

37. Now while He was speaking, a certain Pharisee asked Him to dine with him; and He went in and sat down.

38. But the Pharisee, seeing this, wondered why He had not first washed before dinner.

39. Then the Lord said to him, “Now, you Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and the dish, but inside you are full of greediness and wickedness.

40. Fools, did not He Who made the outside also make the inside?

41. Rather, give alms from the things that are within; and behold, all things are clean to you.

42. But woe to you, Pharisees! For you pay tithes of mint and rue and every herb, but you pass over the judgment and the love of God. It is obligatory for you to do these things, and not to set aside those lesser things.

43. Woe to you, Pharisees! For you love the chief seat in the synagogues and the salutations in the marketplaces.

44. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are as unseen tombs, and men who walk over them do not know it.”

45. And one of the doctors of the law answered and said to Him, “Teacher, by saying these things You are also insulting us.”

46. And He said, “Woe to you also, doctors of the law! For you weigh men down with burdens heavy to bear, but you yourselves do not touch the burdens with one of your fingers.

47. Woe to you! For you build the tombs of the prophets, whom your fathers killed.

48. Therefore, you are bearing witness and consenting to the works of your fathers; for they indeed killed them, and you build their tombs.

49. Because of this, the wisdom of God also said, ‘I will send prophets and apostles to them; and some of them they shall kill, and others they shall drive out.

50. So that the blood of all the prophets, poured out from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation.

51. From the blood of Abel to the blood of Zacharias, who perished between the altar and the house of God.’ Yes, I tell you, it shall be required of this generation.

52. Woe to you, doctors of the law! For you have taken away the key of knowledge; you yourselves did not enter, and you prevented those who were entering.

53. And as He was saying these things to them, the scribes and the Pharisees began vehemently to press and provoke Him to speak about many things.

54. While they kept a close watch on Him, seeking to catch something out of His mouth so that they might accuse Him.

CHAPTER TWELVE

1. During this time, an innumerable multitude was gathering, crowding so close together that they were stepping on one another. First of all He began to speak to His disciples, saying, “Guard yourselves from the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy;

2. For there is nothing covered that shall not be uncovered, nor hidden that shall not be known.

3. Therefore, whatever you have spoken in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and what you have spoken in the ear in closed rooms shall be proclaimed on the housetops.

4. But I tell you, My friends, you should not be afraid of those who kill the body, and after that are not able to do anything more.

5. But I will show you Whom you should fear. Fear Him Who, after He has killed, has authority to cast into the fire of Gehenna. Yes, I tell you, fear Him!
Luke 12

6. Are not five sparrows sold for two coins? And not one of them is forgotten before God.

7. But even the hairs of your head have all been numbered. Therefore, do not be afraid; you are of greater value than many sparrows.

8. And I tell you, everyone who shall confess Me before men shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God;

9. But the one who has denied Me before men shall be denied before the angels of God.

10. And everyone who shall say a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him; but the one who has blasphemed against the Holy Spirit shall not be forgiven.

11. But when they bring you before the synagogues and the rulers and the authorities, do not be anxious about how or what you should reply in defense, or what you should say;

12. For the Holy Spirit shall teach you in that same hour what needs to be said.”

13. Then one from the multitude said to Him, “Master, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me.”

14. But He said to him, “Man, who has appointed Me a judge or a divider over you?”

15. And He said to them, “Watch out, and keep yourselves from covetousness, for no one’s life is in the abundance of the things that he possesses.”

16. Then He spoke a parable to them, saying, “The ground of a certain rich man brought forth abundantly.

17. And he was reasoning within himself, saying, ‘What shall I do, for I have nowhere to lay up my fruit?’

18. And he said, ‘I will do this: I will tear down my granaries and build greater ones, and there will I lay up all my produce and my good things.

19. Then I will say to my soul, ‘Soul, you have many good things laid up for many years; take your rest, eat, drink, and be merry.’”

20. But God said to him, ‘Fool, this night your soul shall be required of you; and to whom will you leave what you have prepared for yourself?’

21. So shall it be to the one who lays up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.”

22. And He said to His disciples, “Because of this, I tell you, do not be anxious about your life, what you shall eat; nor about your body, what you shall put on.

23. The life is more than food, and the body is more than clothing.

24. Consider the raven; for they do not sow, nor reap; neither have they a storehouse or granary; but God feeds them. Of how much greater value are you than the birds?

25. And which one of you, by taking careful thought, has the power to add one cubit to his stature?

26. Therefore, if you do not have the power to do even the least, why are you anxious about the rest?

27. Consider the lilies, how they grow; they do not labor, nor do they spin; but I tell you, not even Solomon in all his glory was adorned like one of these.

28. But if God so adorns the grass that today is in the field, and tomorrow is cast into an oven, how much more shall He clothe you, O you of little faith?

29. Then do not be seeking what you shall eat or what you shall drink, and do not be anxious.

30. For all the nations of the world seek after these things; and your Father knows that you have need of these things.

31. But seek the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added to you.

32. Do not be afraid, little flock, for your Father delights in giving you the kingdom.

33. Sell your possessions, and give alms. Make for yourselves purses that do not grow old, an unfailing treasure in heaven, where no thief can come near, and no moth can destroy.

34. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35. Let your loins be girded about and your lamps burning.

36. And you yourselves be like men who are waiting for their lord, whenever he shall return from the wedding feast; so that when he comes and knocks, they may immediately open to him.

37. Blessed are those servants whom the lord, when he comes, shall find watching. Truly I say to you, he will gird himself, and will make them sit down, and will come and serve them.
38. And if he comes in the second watch, or comes in the third watch, and finds them watching, blessed are those servants.
39. But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have allowed his house to be broken into.
40. Now you, therefore, be ready; for the Son of man is coming in an hour that you do not think.”
41. Then Peter said to Him, “Lord, are You speaking this parable to us only, or also to all?”
42. And the Lord said, “Who then is the wise and faithful steward, whom the lord shall put in charge of his household, to give to each one the portion of food in season?
43. Blessed is that servant whom the lord, when he comes, shall find so doing.
44. Of a truth, I tell you, he will set him lord, when he comes, shall find so doing.
45. But if that servant shall say in his heart, ‘My lord delays his coming,’ and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidservants, and to be drunken and become drunk.
46. The lord of that servant will come in a day that he does not expect, and in an hour that he does not know, and will cut him asunder, and will appoint his portion with the unbelievers.
47. And that servant who knew the will of his lord, but did not prepare, nor did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes;
48. But the one who did not know, and did things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few. For to whomever much has been given, from him shall much be required; and to whom much has been committed, from him they will demand the more.
49. I came to cast fire into the earth, and what will I, if it already be kindled?
50. For I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how burdened I am until it be accomplished!
51. Do you think that I came to bring peace on the earth? No, I tell you, but rather division;
52. Because from this time forward there shall be five in one house divided, three against two and two against three.
53. Father shall be divided against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against mother; mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law, and daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.”
54. Then He also said to the multitudes, “When you see a cloud rising up from the west, immediately you say, ‘A rainstorm is coming.’ And so it happens.
55. And when a south wind is blowing, you say, ‘It will be hot.’ And it happens.
56. Hypocrites! You know how to discern the appearance of the earth and the sky; how then do you not discern this time?
57. And why even among yourselves do you not judge what is right?
58. For as you are going with your adversary before the magistrate, be diligent to settle with him while you are on the way; lest he drag you off to the judge, and the judge deliver you to the officer, and the officer cast you into prison.
59. I tell you, there is no way that you shall come out of there until you have paid the very last coin.”

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

1. Now at the same time, there were present some who were telling Him about the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.
2. And Jesus answered and said to them, “Do you suppose that these Galileans were sinners above all Galileans, because they suffered such things?
3. No, I tell you; but if you do not repent, you shall all likewise perish.
4. Or those eighteen on whom the tower in Siloam fell, and killed them, do you suppose that these were debtors above all men who dwelt in Jerusalem?
5. No, I tell you; but if you do not repent, you shall all likewise perish.”
6. And He spoke this parable: “A certain man had planted a fig tree in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit on it, but he did not find any.
7. Then He said to the vinedresser, ‘Look here! For three years I have come seeking fruit on this fig tree and have not found any. Cut it down. Why should it continue to waste space in the ground?’
8. But he answered and said to him, ‘Sir, let it alone this year also, until I dig about it and put in manure,
9. And see if in fact it will bear fruit; but if not, after that you shall cut it down.'
10. Now He was teaching in one of the synagogues on one of the Sabbaths;
11. And lo, there was a woman who had been afflicted with a spirit of infirmity for eighteen years, and she was bent over and unable to straighten herself up.
12. And when He saw her, Jesus called her to Him and said to her, "Woman, you have been loosed from your infirmity."
13. Then He laid His hands on her; and immediately she was made straight, and she glorified God.
14. But the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, and said to the people, "There are six days in which men are obligated to work; therefore, during those days come and be healed, but not on the Sabbath day."
15. Therefore, the Lord answered him and said, "Hypocrite! Does not each one of you on the Sabbath loose his ox or his donkey from the manger and lead it away to drink?
16. And is it not just as necessary for this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan has bound, lo, eighteen years, to be loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day?"
17. And after He said these things, all those who opposed Him were ashamed; and all the people rejoiced at all the glorious things that were being done by Him.
18. Then He said, "What is the kingdom of God like? And to what shall I compare it?
19. It is like a tiny mustard seed, which a man took and cast into his garden; and it grew and developed into a great tree, and the birds of heaven roosted in its branches.
20. And again He said, "To what shall I compare the kingdom of God?
21. It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of flour until all was leavened."
22. Now He was going through the cities and villages teaching, while making progress toward Jerusalem.
23. And one said to Him, "Lord, are those who are being saved few?" Then He said to them,
24. "Strive with your whole being to enter in through the narrow gate; for many, I say to you, will seek to enter in, but shall not be able.
25. Once the Master of the house has risen up and has shut the door, and you begin to stand outside the door and knock, saying, 'Lord, Lord, open to us'; then shall He answer and say to you, 'I do not know you or where you are from.'
26. And you shall begin to say, 'We ate and drank in Your presence, and You have taught in our streets.'
27. And He shall say, 'I tell you, I do not know you or where you are from. Depart from Me, all you workers of unrighteousness.'
28. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, but you yourselves are cast out.
29. Then they shall come from the east and the west, and from the north and the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God.
30. And behold, there are the last who shall be first, and the first who shall be last."
31. On the same day certain Pharisees came to Him, saying, "Go out and depart from this place because Herod desires to kill You."
32. And He said to them, "Go and say to that fox, 'Behold, I cast out demons and complete healings today and tomorrow, and the third day I shall be perfected;
33. But it is necessary for Me to proceed today and tomorrow and the following day; because it is not possible for a prophet to perish outside of Jerusalem.'
34. Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you who kill the prophets and stone those who have been sent to you; how often would I have gathered your children, as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, but you refused!
35. Behold, your house is left to you desolate. And truly I say to you, you shall not see Me at all until the time comes that you say, 'Blessed is He Who comes in the name of the Lord.'"

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

1. Now it came to pass, when He went into a house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on the Sabbath to eat bread, that they were watching Him.
2. And behold, there was a certain man who had dropsy standing in front of Him.
3. Then Jesus answered and spoke to the doctors of the law and to the Pharisees, saying, “Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?”

4. But they were silent. And after taking hold of him, He healed him and then let him go.

5. And He answered and said to them, “Who among you shall have a donkey or an ox fall into a pit, and will not immediately pull it out on the Sabbath day?”

6. But again, they were not able to answer Him concerning these things.

7. Then, observing how those who were invited were choosing out the chief places, He spoke a parable to them, saying,”When you are invited by anyone to a wedding feast, do not sit in the chief place, lest someone more honorable than you has been invited by him.

8. “When you are invited by anyone to a wedding feast, do not sit in the chief place, lest someone more honorable than you has been invited by him. For the one who invited you and him shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.”

9. For the one who invited you and him shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.

10. But when you are invited, go and sit down in the last place, so that when the one who invited you comes, he may say to you, ‘Friend, come up higher.’ Then shall you have honor in the presence of those who are sitting at the table with you.

11. For everyone who exalts himself shall be humbled, and the one who humbles himself shall be exalted.”

12. And He also said to him who had invited Him, “When you make a dinner or supper, do not call your friends, nor your brethren, nor your relatives, nor rich neighbors, lest they also invite you in return, and a recompense be made to you.

13. But when you make a feast, call the poor, the crippled, the lame, and the blind;

14. And you shall be blessed, for they do not have the means to repay you. But you shall be recompensed at the resurrection of the just.”

15. Then one of those who sat at the table with Him, after hearing these things, said to Him, “Blessed is the one who shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.”

16. But He said to him, “A certain man made a great supper, and invited many.

17. And he sent his servants at supper time to say to those who had been invited, ‘Come, for everything is now ready.’

18. But everyone with one consent began to excuse himself. The first said to him, ‘I have bought a field, and I need to go out to see it; I beg you to have me excused.’

19. And another said, ‘I have bought five pairs of oxen, and I am going to try them out; I beg you to have me excused.’

20. And another said, ‘I have married a wife, and because of this I am unable to come.’

21. And that servant came and reported these things to his lord. Then the master of the house was angry; and he said to his servant, ‘Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in here the poor, the crippled, the lame and the blind.’

22. And the servant said, ‘Sir, it has been done as you commanded, and there is still room.’

23. Then the lord said to the servant, ‘Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, so that my house may be filled.

24. For I tell you, not one of those men who were invited shall taste of my supper.’

25. And great multitudes were going with Him; and He turned and said to them,

26. “If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brothers and sisters, and, in addition, his own life also, he cannot be My disciple.

27. And whoever does not carry his cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple;

28. For which one of you, desiring to build a tower, does not first sit down and count the cost, whether he has sufficient for its completion;

29. Lest perhaps, after he has laid its foundation and is not able to finish, all who see it begin to mock him,

30. Saying, ‘This man began to build, and was not able to finish’?

31. Or what king, when he goes out to engage another king in war, does not first sit down and take counsel, whether he will be able with ten thousand to meet him who is coming against him with twenty thousand?

32. But if not, while his enemy is still far off, he sends ambassadors and desires the terms for peace.
33. In the same way also, each one of you who does not forsake all that he possesses cannot be My disciple.
34. Salt is good; but if the salt becomes tasteless, with what shall it be seasoned?
35. It is fit neither for the land, nor for the manure; but they cast it out. The one who has ears to hear, let him hear.”

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

1. Now all the tax collectors and the sinners were drawing near to hear Him;
2. And the Pharisees and the scribes criticized Him, saying, “This Man welcomes sinners and eats with them.”
3. Then He spoke this parable to them, saying,

4. “Which man of you who has a hundred sheep, and has lost one of them, does not leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness and go after the one that is lost, searching until he finds it?
5. And when he finds it, he lays it on his shoulders, rejoicing;
6. And after coming to his house, he calls together his friends and neighbors, saying to them, ‘Rejoice with me, for I have found my sheep that was lost.’
7. I tell you that likewise, there shall be joy in heaven over one sinner who repents, more than over ninety-nine righteous ones who have no need of repentance.
8. Or what woman who has ten coins, if she should lose one, does not light a lamp and sweep the house, and search diligently until she finds it?
9. And after finding it, she calls together her friends and neighbors, saying, ‘Rejoice with me, for I have found the coin that I lost.’
10. I tell you that in like manner, there is joy in heaven over one sinner who repents; more than over ninety-nine righteous ones who have no need of repentance.

11. Then He said, “A certain man had two sons:
12. And the younger of them said to his father, ‘Father, give me that portion of the property which falls to me.’ And he divided to them his living.
13. And not many days after, the younger son gathered everything together and departed into a distant country. And there he wasted all his substance, living in debauchery.
14. But after he had spent everything, there arose a severe famine throughout that country, and he began to be in need.
15. Then he went and hired himself out to one of the citizens of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.
16. And he was longing to fill his stomach with the husks that the swine were eating, but no one gave anything to him.
17. And when he came to himself, he said, ‘How many of my father’s hired servants have an abundance of bread, and I am dying of hunger? I will arise and go to my father, and I will say to him, “Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you; and I am no longer worthy to be called your son; make me as one of your hired servants.”’
20. And he arose and went to his father. But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and was moved with compassion, and ran and embraced him, and ardently kissed him.
21. And his son said to him, ‘Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you, and I am no longer worthy to be called your son.’
22. But the father said to his servant, ‘Bring out a robe, the best robe, and clothe him, and give him a ring for his hand and sandals for his feet;’
23. And bring the fattened calf and kill it, and let us eat and be merry.
24. For this my son was dead, but is alive again; and he was lost, but is found.’ And they began to be merry.
25. But his elder son was in a field; and when he was coming back, and approached the house, he heard music and dancing.
26. And after calling one of the servants nearby, he inquired what these things might be.
27. And he answered and said to his father, ‘Bring out a robe, the best robe, and clothe him, and give him a ring for his hand and sandals for his feet;’
23. And bring the fattened calf and kill it, and let us eat and be merry.
24. For this my son was dead, but is alive again; and he was lost, but is found.’ And they began to be merry.
26. But his elder son was in a field; and when he was coming back, and approached the house, he heard music and dancing.
29. But he answered and said to his father, ‘Bring out a robe, the best robe, and clothe him, and give him a ring for his hand and sandals for his feet;’
30. And bring the fattened calf and kill it, and let us eat and be merry.
32. And he answered and said to his father, ‘Bring out a robe, the best robe, and clothe him, and give him a ring for his hand and sandals for his feet;’
33. And bring the fattened calf and kill it, and let us eat and be merry.”

1040
30. But when this son of yours came, who has devoted your living with harlots, you killed the fattened calf for him.'

31. Then he said to him, 'Son, you are always with me, and all that is mine is yours.

32. But it was fitting to make merry and rejoice because your brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, but is found.' ”

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

1. And He also said to His disciples, “There was a certain rich man who had a steward, and he was accused of wasting his master’s goods.

2. And after calling him, he said to him, ‘What is this I hear concerning you? Render an account of your stewardship, for you can no longer be steward.’

3. Then to another he said, ‘And how much do you owe?’ And he said, ‘A hundred baths of oil.’

4. I know what I will do, that, when I have been removed from the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.’

5. And after calling each one of his lord’s debtors to him, he said to the first, ‘How much do you owe my lord?’

6. And he said, ‘A hundred baths of oil.’ And he said to him, ‘Take your bill, and sit down immediately and write fifty.’

7. Then to another he said, ‘And how much do you owe?’ And he said, ‘A hundred measures of wheat.’ And he said to him, ‘Take your bill and write eighty.’

8. And the lord praised the unrighteous steward, because he had acted prudently. For the children of this world are more prudent in their own generation than the children of light.

9. And I tell you, make friends for yourselves by means of the mammon of unrighteousness; so that, when you fail, they may receive you into the age-lasting dwellings.

10. The one who is faithful in the things that are least is also faithful in much; and the one who is unrighteous in the things that are least is also unrighteous in much.

11. Therefore, if you have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will entrust to you the true riches?

12. And if you have not been faithful in that which is another’s, who will give to you your own?

13. No servant is able to serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and he will love the other; or he will hold to the one and will despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.”

14. Now the Pharisees who were also covetous, heard all these things; and they ridiculed Him.

15. And He said to them, “You are those who justify yourselves before men, but God knows your hearts; for that which is highly esteemed among men is an abomination before God.

16. The Law and the Prophets were until John; from that time the kingdom of God is preached, and everyone zealously strives to enter it.

17. But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one tittle of the law to fail.

18. Everyone who divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery; and everyone who marries a woman who is divorced from her husband commits adultery.

19. Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, and daily indulged himself in luxury.

20. And there was a certain poor man named Lazarus, who was laid at his porch, full of sores.

21. And he longed to be nourished with the crumbs that fell from the rich man’s table; and the dogs even came and licked his sores.

22. Now it came to pass that the poor man died, and he was carried away by the angels into Abraham’s bosom. And the rich man also died and was buried.

23. And in the grave he lifted up his eyes and was in torment, for he saw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

24. And he cried out and said, ‘Father Abraham, have compassion on me and send Lazarus, so that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue; for I am suffering because of this flame.’

25. Then Abraham said, ‘Child, remember that in your lifetime you received good things to the full, and likewise Lazarus evil things. But now he is comforted, and you are suffering.”
26. And besides all these things, between us and you a great chasm has been fixed; so that those who desire to pass from here to you are not able, nor can those from there pass to us.'

27. And he said, 'I beseech you then, father, that you would send him to my father's house,

28. For I have five brothers; so that he may earnestly testify to them, in order that they also may not come to this place of torment.'

29. Abraham said to him, 'They have Moses and the prophets. Let them hear them.'

30. But he said, 'No, Father Abraham, but if one from the dead would go to them, they would repent.'

31. And he said to him, 'If they will not hear Moses and the prophets, they would not be persuaded even if one rose from the dead.' "

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

1. Then He said to the disciples, "It is impossible that no offenses will come, but woe to the one by whom they come!

2. It is better for him that a millstone be put around his neck and he be cast into the sea, than that he should cause one of these little ones to offend.

3. Watch yourselves; and if your brother commits a sin against you, rebuke him; and if he repents, forgive him.

4. And if he sins against you seven times in a day, and seven times in a day returns to you, saying, 'I repent,' you shall forgive him."

5. Then the apostles said to the Lord, "Increase our faith."

6. But the Lord said, "If you had faith as a tiny mustard seed, you might say to this sycamore tree, 'Be rooted up, and be planted in the sea,' and it would obey you.

7. But which of you having a servant plowing or shepherding will immediately say to him when he comes in from the field, 'Come and sit down and eat'?"

8. Rather, will he not say to him, 'Prepare what I may eat, and gird yourself, and serve me while I eat and drink; and afterwards you may eat and drink'?"

9. Is he thankful to that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I think not.

10. Likewise you also, when you have done all the things that are commanded you, say, 'We are unprofitable servants, because we have done that which we were obligated to do.'"

11. Now it came to pass that as He was going up to Jerusalem, He passed through the middle of Samaria and Galilee.

12. And as He went into a certain village, He was met by ten leprous men, who stood at a distance.

13. And they lifted up their voices, saying, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us!"

14. And when He saw them, He said to them, "Go show yourselves to the priests." And it came to pass that while they were going, they were cleansed.

15. Then one of them, seeing that he was healed, turned back, glorifying God with a loud voice;

16. And he fell on his face at His feet, giving thanks to Him; and he was a Samaritan.

17. And answering, Jesus said, "Were not ten cleansed? But where are the other nine?

18. Are not any found returning to give glory to God except this stranger?"

19. Then He said to him, "Arise and go. Your faith has healed you."

20. Now when the Pharisees demanded of Him when the kingdom of God would come, He answered them and said, "The kingdom of God does not come with observation;

21. Neither shall they say, 'Behold, it is here!' Or, 'Behold, it is there!' For behold, the kingdom of God is standing in the midst of you."

22. Then He said to the disciples, "The days will come when you shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and shall not see it.

23. And they shall say to you, 'Look here,' or, 'Look there.' Do not go, neither follow them.

24. For as the light of day, whose light shines from one end under heaven to the other end under heaven, so also shall the Son of man be in His day.

25. But first it is necessary for Him to suffer many things and to be rejected by this generation.

26. Now as it was in the days of Noah, so also shall it be in the days of the Son of man.
27. They were eating, they were drinking, they were marrying, they were being given in marriage, until the day that Noah went into the ark, and the Flood came and destroyed them all.

28. And it was the same way in the days of Lot: they were eating, they were drinking, they were buying, they were selling, they were planting, they were building;

29. But on the day that Lot went out from Sodom, it rained fire and sulphur from heaven and destroyed them all.

30. This is how it shall be in the day that the Son of man is revealed.

31. In that day, let not the one who is on the housetop, and his goods in the house, come down to take them away; and likewise, let not the one who is in the field return to the things behind.

32. Remember Lot’s wife.

33. Whoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whoever shall lose his life shall preserve it.

34. I tell you, in that night there shall be two in one bed; one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.

35. Two women shall be grinding together; one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.

36. Two men shall be in the field; one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.

37. And they answered, saying to Him, “Where is the body?” And He said to them, “Where the body is, there will the eagles be gathered together.”

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

1. And He also spoke a parable to them to show that it is necessary to pray always, and not to give up.

2. Saying, “There was in a certain city a certain judge who neither feared God nor respected man.

3. And there was a widow in that city; and she kept coming to him, saying, ‘Avenge me of my adversary.’

4. Now for a time he would not; but afterwards he said within himself, ‘Although I do not fear God and do not respect man,

5. Yet because this widow is causing me trouble, I will avenge her, lest she wear me out by her continual coming.’

6. Then the Lord said, “Hear what the unrighteous judge says.

7. And shall not God execute vengeance for His elect, who cry out to Him day and night, and patiently watch over them?

8. I tell you that He will execute vengeance for them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of man comes, shall He find the true faith on the earth?”

9. And to some who trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others, He also spoke this parable:

10. “Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one was a Pharisee and the other a tax collector.

11. The Pharisee stood and prayed with himself in this manner: ‘God, I thank You that I am not like other men—extortioners, unrighteous, adulterers—or even as this tax collector.

12. I fast twice in the week, and I give a tithe of everything that I gain.’

13. And the tax collector, standing afar off, would not even lift up his eyes to heaven, but beat himself on the chest, saying, ‘God, be merciful to me, a sinner.’

14. I tell you, this man went down to his house justified, rather than the other. For everyone who exalts himself shall be humbled; and the one who humbles himself shall be exalted.”

15. Then they brought to Him infants also, so that He might touch them; but when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

16. But Jesus called them to Him and said, “Permit the little children to come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the kingdom of God.

17. Truly I say to you, whoever shall not receive the kingdom of God like a little child shall in no way enter into it.”

18. And a certain ruler asked Him, saying, “Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?”

19. Then Jesus said to him, “Why do you call Me good? No one is good except One—God.

21. And he said, “I have kept all these commandments from my youth.”

22. And after hearing these things, Jesus said to him, “You still lack one thing; sell everything that you have, and distribute to the poor, and you shall have treasure in heaven; and come and follow Me."

23. But when he heard these things, he became very sorrowful; for he was quite rich.

24. Now when Jesus saw him become so sorrowful, He said, "How difficult it is for those who have riches to enter into the kingdom of God!

25. For it is easier for a camel to go through an eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."

26. And those who heard this said, "Who then is able to be saved?"

27. But He said, "The things that are impossible with men are possible with God."

28. Then Peter said, "Behold, we have left everything and have followed You."

29. And He said to them, "Truly I say to you, there is no one who has left house, or parents, or brothers, or wife, or children, for the sake of the kingdom of God,

30. Who shall not receive manifold in this time, and in the age that is coming—eternal life."

31. And after taking the twelve aside to Himself, He said to them, "Behold, we are going up to Jerusalem, and all things that have been written about the Son of man by the prophets shall be fulfilled.

32. For He shall be delivered up to the Gentiles, and shall be mocked and insulted and spit upon.

33. And after scourging Him, they shall kill Him; but on the third day, He shall rise again."

34. But they understood none of these things, and this saying was hidden from them, and they did not comprehend what was said.

35. Now it came to pass that as He drew near to Jericho, there was a certain blind man who sat begging beside the road.

36. And hearing a multitude passing by him, he asked what this might be.

37. And they told him, "Jesus the Nazarene is passing by."

38. Then he called out, saying, "Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me."

39. And those who were going in front rebuked him, so that he would be silent; but he cried out all the more, "Son of David, have mercy on me."

40. Then Jesus stopped and commanded him to be brought to Him. And when he came near, He asked him,

41. Saying, "What do you desire to have Me do for you?" And he said, "Lord, that I may receive sight."

42. Then Jesus said to him, "Receive your sight. Your faith has healed you."

43. And immediately he received sight; and he followed Him, glorifying God. Now after seeing this, all the people gave praise to God.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

1. Then Jesus entered Jericho and was passing through.

2. And behold, a man named Zaccheus was there. Now he was a chief tax collector, and he was rich.

3. And he was seeking to see Jesus, Who He was; but he was not able because of the multitude, for he was a man of small stature.

4. But after running ahead, in front of the multitude, he climbed up into a sycamore tree so that he might see Him; for He was about to pass that way.

5. And when He came to the place, Jesus looked up and saw him, and said to him, "Zaccheus, make haste to come down, for today it is necessary for Me to stay at your house."

6. And he came down in haste and received Him joyfully.

7. But after seeing this, everyone began to criticize, saying, "He has gone in to lodge with a sinful man."

8. Then Zaccheus stood and said to the Lord, "Behold, the half of my possessions, Lord, I give to the poor; and if I have taken anything from anyone by false accusation, I return fourfold."

9. And Jesus said to him, "Today, salvation has come to this house, inasmuch as he also is a son of Abraham.

10. For the Son of man has come to seek and to save that which is lost."

11. Now as they were listening to these things, He went on to speak a parable, because He was near Jerusalem, and they thought that the kingdom of God was going to appear immediately.

12. Therefore, He said, "A certain nobleman set out to a distant country to receive a kingdom for himself, and to return.

13. And after calling ten of his servants, he gave to them ten pounds, and said to them, 'Trade until I come back.'
14. But his citizens hated him and sent an ambassador after him, saying, 'We are not willing to have this man reign over us.'
15. And it came to pass that when he returned after receiving the kingdom, he directed that those servants to whom he had given the money be called to him, in order that he might know what each one had gained by trading.
16. And the first one came up, saying,
'Lord, your pound has produced ten pounds.'
17. Then he said to him, 'Well done, good servant; because you were faithful in a very little, you shall have authority over five cities.'
18. And the second one came, saying,
'Lord, your pound has made five pounds.'
19. Then he also said to this one, 'And you be over five cities.'
20. But another came, saying, 'Lord, behold your pound, which I kept laid up in a handkerchief.
21. For I was afraid of you, because you are a harsh man. You take up what you did not lay down, and you reap what you did not sow.'
22. Then he said to him, 'Out of your own mouth I will judge you, you wicked servant! You knew that I am a harsh man, taking up what I did not lay down and reaping what I did not sow.
23. Then why didn't you deposit my money in the bank, so that at my coming
I might have received it with interest?'
24. And he said to those who were standing by, 'Take the pound from him, and give it to the one who has ten pounds.'
25. (And they said to him, 'Lord, he has ten pounds.')</n26. For I tell you that to everyone who has, more shall be given; but the one who does not have, even what he has shall be taken from him.
27. Moreover, bring my enemies, those who were not willing for me to reign over them, and slay them here before me.'
28. And after saying these things, He went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem.
29. Now it came to pass that as He approached Bethphage and Bethany, toward the mountain called the Mount of Olives, He sent two of His disciples, 30. Saying, "Go into the village across from you. Upon entering it, you shall find a colt tied, on which no one has ever yet sat; loose it, and bring it to Me.
31. And if anyone asks you why you are loosing it, this is what you shall say to him: 'Because the Lord has need of it.'" 32. And those who had been sent went and found it exactly as He had said to them.
33. And as they were loosing the colt, the owners of it said to them, "Why are you loosing the colt?"
34. Then they said, "The Lord has need of it."
35. And they led it to Jesus; and after laying their garments on the colt, they put Jesus on it.
36. Now as He went along, they spread their garments in the road.
37. And as He drew near to the city, already being at the descent of the Mount of Olives, all the multitude of the disciiples began to rejoice and to praise God with a loud voice for all the works of power that they had seen, 38. Saying, "Blessed be the King, Who comes in the name of the Lord. Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!"
39. And some of the Pharisees in the multitude said to Him, "Master, rebuke
Your disciples."
40. But He answered and said to them, "I tell you that if these were silent, the stones would cry out."
41. And when He came near and saw the city, He wept over it, 42. Saying, "If you had known, even you, at least in this your day, the things for your peace; but now they are hidden from your eyes.
43. For the days shall come upon you that your enemies shall cast a rampart about you, and shall enclose you around and keep you in on every side, 44. And shall level you to the ground, and your children within you; and they shall not leave in you a stone upon a stone, because you did not know the season of your visitation."
45. Then He went into the temple and began to cast out those who were selling and those who were buying in it, 46. Saying to them, "It is written, 'My house is a house of prayer'; but you have made it a den of robbers."
47. Now He was teaching day by day in the temple; and the chief priests and the scribes and the chief of the people were seeking to destroy Him.

48. But could not find what they might do; for all the people were listening intently, hanging on His every word.

CHAPTER TWENTY

1. Now it came to pass on one of those days, as He was teaching the people in the temple and proclaiming the gospel, that the chief priests and the scribes came up with the elders,

2. And spoke to Him, saying, “Tell us by what authority You do these things, and who gave You this authority?”

3. And He answered and said to them, “I also will ask you one thing, and you tell Me:

4. The baptism of John, was it from heaven or from men?”

5. And they reasoned among themselves, saying, “If we say, ‘From heaven,’ He will say, ‘Why then did you not believe him?’

6. But if we say, ‘From men,’ all the people will stone us, for they are persuaded that John was a prophet.”

7. And they replied that they did not know where it was from.

8. Then Jesus said to them, “Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.”

9. And He began to speak this parable to the people: “A certain man planted a vineyard, and leased it out to husbandmen, so that they might give him some of the fruit from the vineyard; but the husbandmen beat him and sent him away empty.

10. And after that he sent another servant; but they also beat him and scorned him and sent him away empty.

11. And after that he sent another servant; but they also beat him and cast him out.

12. And after that he sent a third servant: but they also wounded him and cast him out.

13. Then the lord of the vineyard said, ‘What shall I do? I will send my beloved son; perhaps when they see him, they will respect him.’

14. But when they saw him, the husbandmen reasoned among themselves, saying, ‘This is the heir. Come, let us kill him, so that the inheritance may be ours.’

15. And they cast him outside the vineyard and killed him. Therefore, what will the lord of the vineyard do to them?

16. He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will give the vineyard to others.” Now after hearing this, they said, “MAY IT NEVER BE!”

17. But He looked at them and said, “What then is this that is written: ‘The Stone that the builders rejected, this one has become the head of the corner?’

18. Everyone who falls on that Stone shall be broken; but on whomever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.’ ”

19. And the chief priests and the scribes sought to lay hands on Him in that hour, because they knew that He had spoken this parable against them; but they feared the people.

20. And they kept Him under surveillance, and sent out secret agents who pretended that they were righteous, so that they might catch Him in His words, in order to deliver Him up to the power and authority of the governor.

21. And they questioned Him, saying, “Master, we realize that You speak and teach rightly, and do not receive any man’s person, but teach the way of God in truth.

22. Is it lawful for us to give tribute to Caesar, or not?”

23. But perceiving their craftiness, He said to them, “Why do you tempt Me?

24. Show Me a silver coin. Whose image and inscription does it have?” And they answered and said, “Caesar’s.”

25. Then He said to them, “Render therefore the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God.”

26. And they were not able to catch Him in His speech in the presence of the people. But being filled with amazement by His answer, they were silent.

27. Then some of the Sadducees, who do not believe there is a resurrection, came and questioned Him,

28. Saying, “Master. Moses wrote to us that if anyone’s brother who had a wife should die, and he should die childless, his brother should take his dead brother’s wife and raise up seed for his brother.

29. Therefore, there were seven brothers; and the first one, after taking a wife, died childless;

30. And the second one took the woman, and he died childless;
31. And the third one took her, and like-wise the rest of the seven, and died, and did not leave children;
32. And last of all, the woman died also.
33. Therefore, in the resurrection, of which of them shall she be wife? For all seven had her as wife.
34. And Jesus answered and said to them, “The children of this age marry and are given in marriage;
35. But those who are accounted worthy to obtain that age, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry nor are given in marriage;
36. And neither can they die any more, for they are as the angels, and are the children of God, being children of the resurrection.
37. But that the dead are raised, even Moses showed by his words at the burning bush, when he called the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob;
38. For He is not the God of the dead, but of the living; for all live unto Him.”
39. And some of the scribes answered and said, “Master, You have spoken well.”
40. And after that they did not dare to ask Him any more questions.
41. Then He said to them, “Why do they say that the Christ is the Son of David?”
42. Even David himself says in the book of Psalms, ‘The Lord said to my Lord, “Sit at My right hand
43. Until I make Your enemies a foot-stool for Your feet.”’
44. Therefore, since David calls Him Lord, how is He his Son?”
45. And as all the people were listening, He said to His disciples,
46. “Beware of the scribes, who like to walk in robes, and love salutations in the marketplaces, and the chief seats in the synagogues, and the chief places at the suppers;
47. Who devour the houses of widows, and as a pretext pray at great length. These shall receive the greater judgment.”

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE
1. When He looked up, He saw the rich men casting their offerings into the treasury.
2. Then He also saw a certain poor widow drop in two small coins.
3. And He said, “Of a truth, I tell you, this poor widow has put in more than all of them;
4. For all these have from their abundance cast into the offerings to God; but she, out of her poverty, did put in all the livelihood that she had.”
5. And while some were speaking about the temple, how it was adorned with beautiful stones and consecrated gifts, He said,
6. “As for these things that you now see, the days will come in which there shall not be left one stone upon another that shall not be thrown down.”
7. And they asked Him, saying, “Master, when shall these things be? And what shall be the sign that these things are about to take place?”
8. And He said, “Beware that you be not deceived; for many shall come in My name, saying, ‘I am Christ’; and, ‘The time has drawn near.’ Therefore, do not go after them.
9. And when you hear of wars and revolutions, do not be terrified; for it is necessary that these things take place first, but the end will not come immediately.”
10. Then He said to them, “Nation shall rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom;
11. There shall also be great earthquakes in different places, and famines and pestilences; and there shall be fearful sights and great signs from heaven.
12. But before all these things, they shall lay their hands on you and shall persecute you, delivering you up to synagogues and prisons, and bringing you before kings and governors, for My name’s sake.
13. But it shall turn to you for a testimony.
14. Settle therefore in your hearts not to premeditate what you shall answer.
15. For I will give you a mouth and wisdom that all those who are opposing you shall not be able to reply to nor resist.
16. But you shall be delivered up even by parents and brothers and relatives and friends, and they shall put some of you to death;
17. And you shall be hated by all because of My name.
18. But not a hair of your head shall by any means perish.
20. But when you see Jerusalem being surrounded by armies, then know that her desolation has drawn near.
21. Then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains, and let those within her go out, and let not those in the countries come into her; for these are the days of vengeance, so that all things that have been written may be accomplished.
22. But woe to those who are with child and those who are giving suck in those days! For there shall be great distress upon the land and wrath upon this people.
23. And they shall fall by the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations; and Jerusalem shall be trodden down by the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.
24. And there shall be signs in the sun and moon and stars, and on the earth distress and anxiety among the nations, the seas roaring with rolling surges;
25. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with great power and glory.
26. Men dying of heart attacks from fear and dread of the things that are coming to pass, knowledge of the whole world; for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.
27. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with great power and glory.
28. But when these things begin to take place, look up, and lift up your heads, because your redemption is drawing near.”
29. Then He spoke a parable to them: “Observe the fig tree, and all the trees.
30. When they have already begun to bud, and you look at them, you yourselves know that summer is near.
31. In the same way also, when you see these things coming to pass, know that the kingdom of God is near.
32. Truly I say to you, there is no way that this generation shall pass away until all these things have taken place.
33. Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall never pass away.
34. Watch yourselves, lest your hearts be preoccupied with high living and drinking and the cares of this life, and that day come upon you suddenly.
35. For as a snare it shall come upon all those who dwell on the face of the earth.
36. Watch therefore, and pray at all times that you may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.”
37. And during the day He was in the temple teaching, and at night He went out and lodged on the mountain called the Mount of Olives.
38. And all the people came to Him in the temple early in the morning to hear Him.

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO

1. Now the feast of unleavened bread, which is called Passover, was approaching;
2. And the chief priests and the scribes were speculating as to how they might put Him to death, for they feared the people.
3. Then Satan entered into Judas, who was surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve.
4. And he went away, and spoke with the chief priests and the captains about a way by which he might betray Him to them.
5. And they rejoiced, and agreed to give him money.
6. And he promised, and sought an opportunity to betray Him to them away from the multitude.
7. Then came the day of the unleavened bread in which it was obligatory to kill the Passover lambs.
8. And He sent Peter and John, saying, “Go and prepare the Passover for us that we may eat.”
9. But they said to Him, “Where do You desire that we prepare it?”
10. And He said to them, “Watch, and when you come into the city, you will meet a man carrying a pitcher of water; follow him into the house that he enters;
11. And you shall say to the master of the house, ‘The Teacher says to you, “Where is the guest chamber, where I may eat the Passover with My disciples?” ’
12. And he shall show you a large upper room furnished; there prepare.”
13. Then they went and found everything exactly as He had said to them; and they prepared the Passover.
14. Now when the hour had come, He sat down, and the twelve apostles with Him.
15. And He said to them, “With earnest desire I have desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer.
16. For I tell you that I will not eat of it again until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.”
17. And He took a cup; and after giving thanks, He said, “Take this, and divide it among yourselves.
18. For I say to you, I will not drink at all of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God has come.”
19. And He took bread; and after giving thanks, He broke it and gave it to them, saying, “This is My body, which is given for you. This do in the remembrance of Me.”
20. In like manner also, He took the cup after supper, saying, “This cup is the New Covenant in My blood, which is poured out for you.
21. Behold, even now the hand of him who is betraying Me is with Me at the table;
22. And the Son of man indeed goes, according as it has been appointed, but woe to that man by whom He is betrayed!”
