

“Watch The Water” Interview

April 21, 2022

Concerning the recent “Watch The Water” video, this is an online interview of Dr. Richard Fleming, a cardiology physician who rebukes the Snake Venom theory. He makes the point that bad things did happen with Covid 19. However, snake venom was not the source of the problem, as all snake venom is rendered neutral in the digestive track. It's a little difficult to read, but we have the transcript of the interview for you.

For those interested in more information about where Dr. Fleming stands, please watch these two short video clips [<https://www.flemingmethod.com/crimesagainsthumanity>]. There are additional videos on Covid 19 here: <https://galleries.vidflow.co/awitness>

DR RICHARD FLEMING PROVIDES EVIDENCE DISCREDITING THE 'MISINFORMATION' OF THE SNAKE VENOM THEORY

Jones:

Where do you want to go, Doctor?

Fleming:

There are really two topics that I want to discuss today:

The Crimes Against Humanity Tour that will begin on the 23rd of this month... [April 2022] ...in Ft. Myers, Florida, where Judy Mikovits, Patrick Wood, Reiner Fuellmich and I will be giving presentations to the general public talking about this virus, talking about things that we consider important.

My specific presentation is going to be the last one, is looking at the use of biological weapons, how they've been used over thousands of years to harm people, looking at the Gain of Function research that went into the development of this biological weapon, looking at the actual crimes that are have been committed. Then taking people forward to show them exactly how they can help us as we get actual criminal indictments with real grand juries using the state attorney generals around the country, which we've already started the process of working on.

But before I get to all of that, I think it's important to cover this recent news with the snake venom material that has hit the news over the last week, particularly since this Monday. And I want to begin by pointing out that this is not me looking at the individual who has been presenting it. The individual who has been presenting it, I've met him. He's a good individual. He is attempting to handle information that is well beyond what his training provided. In four months he's tried to come up to speed on information. What I need to do basically is to, as I've always tried to do, is to set the record straight scientifically so that your viewers and other viewers and programs depend upon you to get the real information to them. Know what the truth is about what's happened.

I sent some documents to you if we could just show and just kind of walk people through them. I've numbered these from 1-14, so if your viewers can see:

Document #1—Cross-species transmission of the newly identified Coronavirus 2019-nCoV

This is the document that the given individual... I'm not going to mention his name because that's not what this is about. Except that I want this gentleman to understand that he is well recognized in the community as someone who cares about people, cares about what's being told to individuals.

I think he's received some bad information from people encouraging him to go ahead, and I would ask that he maybe pull back a little bit, listen to this presentation, and talk with the people that are out there worried about him. Pull back and distance himself from the individuals that encouraged him to come out with this misinformation that's clearly misinformation.

This is one of his primary articles that he goes to, and in this paper the researchers are really trying to build a story that says that this virus is naturally occurring!

To do that, they're trying to show that there are some similarities between this virus and angilens [sp?] and other animals, including snakes. To do that they actually worked through the process that is called, to use their terms, it is Relative Synonymous Codon use Analysis. What this really is researchers saying how many codons from a snake or something else matches this Corona Virus. (Codon Def Pg 9)

There are only four nuclear type basis that exists. I know that this gentleman is over his head because he keeps talking about nucleic acids vs nucleotide bases and keeps mispronouncing Genentech and other words. So, I know he's trying to come up to speed, but he's out of his league here. He needs some help and there are lots of us out there that want to help him with this. (Nucleotide Pg 9)

This paper looks at these nucleotide bases and when you put three of them together they form what's called a codon, and that's what your cell is used to tell you what type amino acid is put together in a sequence to make a protein.

The reality is that this paper and the next three—so just pop up #2 and then #3 and #4 at your leisure so that people can see them and go look at them.

Document #2—The 2019-new Coronavirus epidemic: Evidence for virus evolution

Following publication of this first paper, three different sets of researchers who know what they're talking about—this being one of them—came back and said that the methods that were used to say that the snakes were relatively similar had some similarities to Corona viruses that wasn't really a valid method. And that the interpretations were incorrect.

Document #3—Comments on “Cross-species transmission of the newly identified Coronavirus 2019-nCoV

Document #4—Codon bias analysis may be insufficient for identifying host(s) of a novel virus

This paper and the next one—#3—talking about cross-species transmission—and then #4, which is the title and codon biases—so this one and the next one—emphasizes the same problems that the paper that this individual was using to try to find similarities, because he thought that snakes were somehow involved in this, these three following papers—#s 2-4; and you're looking at #3 right now—all comment on the fact that the original paper was flawed. That is really was not a good paper; that it didn't do what it was designed to do. The purpose of the original paper was to try to find an animal model!

The snakes, the pangolins, all the animals where SARS CoV-2 was first released in Wuhan, China, none of those animal models have shown any consistency with the Corona virus, and that was Fauci's perspective. The paper that was published in Lancet, and Peter Daszak and the rest of them trying to say, “Oh no, we didn't divulge it.”

Jones:

Because they were always trying to say it was a natural occurrence, so they didn't study trying to compare the virus to naturally occurring proteins is what your point is. I'm not a doctor, but there is basic proteins in all of us. So, just because the protein in the virus has some similarity to something else, that's like saying that a Ferrari has some of the same aluminum in it that a Volkswagen has, it doesn't mean it's the same car.

Fleming:

That's perfect! In fact, that's one of the examples I use: if you see the same tires on Chevy and a Lexus, does that make a Chevy a Lexus? Or a Lexus a Chevy? No! they may have the same four tires, but that doesn't make them the same thing.

So, these four papers mislead people into trying to build this idea that this is zoonotic or naturally occurring.

This gentlemen, a doctor, a chiropractor—a well-intentioned gentleman—took this ‘hook, line and sinker’—but the sad part is that somebody else told him to look at this and go forward with it. He had friends and colleagues—I've spoken with him...

Jones:

You're saying that this is the zoological view, which the system wants.

Fleming:

Exactly! Exactly! So, he essentially got played! He's a good person, he's just over his head and this is beyond what his training is. He's a good person, and anybody reporting on this, trying to say, “Wait a minute, maybe there's some importance in this.”

I've recognized the fact that mainstream media isn't covering it, so it leaves everybody else to try and pick up the pieces when there might be a story. But this is not a story, this is misinformation, misdirection that...

Jones:

You're saying that the Wuhan Virus is clearly chimera made in the lab and they've been caught red-handed, and now desperately somebody is putting out info that it comes from snakes, which takes us back to the Wet Market.

Fleming:

Exactly! Exactly! You're spot on!

(break in audio)

Jones:

We're going through these documents and studies that Dr. Fleming is talking about, and before he leaves us at the end of the hour, I'm going to get Vanguard, which is the twin-headed hydra of the globalists with BlackRock who is trying to now buy Twitter so Elon Musk can't do it. What an incredible time to be alive.

Dr. Fleming continuing here with this big viral story that everybody is asking about, so we're going to vet it and look at it, of snake venom in the water. Snake venom! But snake venom doesn't replicate, so please continue.

Fleming:

Document #5—Phospholipase enzymes as potential biomarker for SARS CoV-2 virus

Yes, exactly right! The next paper is—and we’re just going to do it with this final set of papers—one of the arguments that this individual used, which is in document #5—starts with phospholipase enzymes as potential biomarkers of SARS CoV-2 virus.

That paper along with the next one—which we’ll show in just a second—is what was used by this gentleman to believe that he had found something that indicated that the snake venom was somehow in the Remdesivir, somehow in the water and somehow was SARS CoV-2.

The justification was that if you looked at people who did poorly with this virus and people who might have been hospitalized, you saw a large amount of what’s called phospholipase A-2.

Document #6—Group 11A secreted Phospholipase A-2 is associated with the pathobiology leading to Covid-19 mortality

This is an enzyme system. So, if we look at that paper and then we look at the one you have up there, #6, these were the two papers that really said that the more of this enzyme you see, the more of this phospholipase A-2 you see the worse they did.

Document #7—The Pathogenesis of Vascular Disease

Well, guess what? Document #7 is the theory that we keep talking about that I wrote and presented first at the American Heart Association meetings in 1994. Presented again in 1995, and what you’re seeing there is the chapter in the Critical Care textbook that was published in 1999 that explained to people that what happens that causes this inflammation and blood clotting leading to heart disease, diabetes, high blood pressure and strokes begins with the breakdown of cells in the body.

Document #8—map/diagram

So, if we go to figure #8, you’re going to see a very complicated looking diagram. I recognize that. I wrote it and put it together and it explains everything. If you look where that big black line is going across there, about where that big black line, almost where that arrowhead is at, if you look just to the right of it, you’re going to see something called Arachidonic Acid. That is ARA as it shows in abbreviation, and that is the breakdown of the cell walls that are damaged, whether it’s by a virus—could be by cobra venom, could be by somebody going in with a balloon and trying to angioplasty opening an artery, it could be by bacteria—it could be by all the things that I said cause heart disease and begins with the breakdown of cell walls and the release of this phospholipase A-2, which you can see at the bottom of the screen.

That sets into motion inflammation and blood clotting. That is exactly what’s happening when this virus, once it infects people and makes them so sick that they become hospitalized, that they are now diagnosed with a disease called Corona Virus disease from 2019. That means that that damage has gotten so severe that their lungs are filling up.

We posted on the website something I didn’t send to you—I didn’t try to send everything—documents that showed early on that this progresses quite rapidly, and the brain is fooled by people not thinking that they have a severe problem, because when this reaction occurs in Covid-19 it happens very rapidly and people were caught off guard. They didn’t realize that people were that sick, and then they put them on ventilators using the wrong settings stretching the lungs and causing more damage, releasing more Arachidonic Acid, so they didn’t need Remdesivir or anything else into their body. They were simply people who weren’t being treated for inflammation and blood clotting, put on ventilators at too high a setting and it caused more damage.

This is not an ad for Remdesivir, because as I’ve said before, we looked at it and it will only work 28% of the time, which is less than chance, which would be 33-1/3%.

If that Arachidonic Acid isn’t the result of something special with snake venom, that is what happens when cells inside your body become damaged and die, they release that chemical to cause inflammation and blood clotting. It’s the response for everything that goes on inside the human body!

Jones:

So, it’s a trauma response. So, to say that the virus is the same thing as a snake, well, both things are causing trauma.

Fleming:

Exactly! Exactly! So, if you really want to throw people off track, all you need to do is take a very good-hearted individual; and again, I’m going to emphasize that I think this man is a good-hearted individual. I’ve been on stage with him, I have met him and I know people that are concerned about him. He is trying to do the very best.

But you take somebody who is good-hearted and throw something at him like this and say, “Go get this out there, it’s important,” and he does their work for them!

Again, I encourage him to just stop presenting this information. I know it's not what he's familiar with. Come back, there's a lot of people that are trying to help explain this to him, and distance himself from the people that have been encouraging him.

Jones:

This is the whole point of a bio-weapon, is that it replicates itself so you only have to hit a target and then it spreads like a chemical weapon. That's the whole point; that it replicates. But snake venom doesn't replicate. You can technically say it's a poison, but it's not a replicating bio-weapon. Correct?

Fleming:

Exactly! Exactly! It's a protein, a series of proteins, and proteins don't replicate. Genetic sequences RNA and DNA replicate. They will eventually make proteins, but proteins don't go into the cell and turn themselves into RNA that can then go into DNA.

So, complete misdirection. Document #9 shows not only did I come up with this—the InflammoThrombotic Response Theory back in 1994 and published in 1999 and all the rest of the history we talked about.

Document #9—sPLA-IIa is an inflammatory mediator when the ocular surface is compromised

But this paper shows how the ophthalmology community recognized the importance of these same things going on causing damage to the eye. So, this was just a nice example of somebody else independently saying, "Wait a minute, eye problems in an inflammation due to the breakdown of these phospholipase lipids and Arachidonic Acid."

Clearly in 2009 we weren't talking about snake venom doing that, or anything else. So, just a nice example of that.

Now, how do we know it's inflammation and blood clotting that's causing these diseases and prion diseases by this spike protein. Let's take a look at the next few papers:

Document #10—Fatal neuroinvasion and SARS-CoV-2 tropism in K18-hACE2 mice is partially independent on hACE2 expression

Number 10 is a paper that was published looking at humanized mice over a year and a half ago. What the author showed is that if they took mice and they changed the cells of the mice to have an ace-two receptor, like people have, then they introduce this virus to it, these mice all developed prion brain diseases.

People can scroll through that article; I'm going to show you an image of it here in just a second.

Jones:

WOW! So, you're saying this is saying this is going to give us prion?

Fleming:

Absolutely! Prion diseases—and we're going to look in just a second that the CDC has confirmed this for us for just...

(break in audio)

Jones:

I want to get your view on the other big developments that are taking place.

Fleming:

Absolutely! So, that last document we looked at, we looked at the humanized mice.

Document #11—SARS-CoV-2 causes brain inflammation and induces Lewy body formation in macaques

This looks at the Rhesus Macaques Models where that's the closest things to humans when you're looking for it.

This paper also showed the same types of Prion Diseases occurring in these Rhesus Macaques

Document #12—In Addition to HIV gp120 Insertion, Insertions 1 & 2 Produces Another Prion-like Domain (PLD on the Spike Protein)

If we go to #12 on the sheet, what you're going to see are the results of both of those studied put together. This is one of the slides you're going to see at the Crimes Against Humanity Tour.

If you haven't seen it before, you're going to see the actual damage done to the brains of these animals of these mice in the areas that are circled in red, and the blue ones are the Rhesus Macaques animals where these prion diseases—mad-cow disease or Alzheimer's disease—were caused in these animals when the spike proteins were allowed to enter the brain.

This is not the result of a venom; this is spike protein that is a prion, which is that it's protein that when it comes into contact with other proteins, changes the structure to make it abnormal so that it doesn't function.

Document #13—Absolute Numbers, These Excess Deaths are Mostly in People over 45-years of Age and Caucasian. These Deaths are from InflammoThrombotic & Prion Diseases

In #13 is the actual CDC data that people haven't really looked at, yet. The CDC is doing a great job of showing us why the excess deaths are occurring in Americans. When you look at this, you'll look at the very top where it says Respiratory Diseases.

This is a virus that tends to hit the lungs. Viruses hit lots of areas of the body, so the belief that it just stays in the lungs and doesn't move around and doesn't cause disease elsewhere is a major misconception.

But if you look at the Respiratory Diseases, these are the actual numbers of excess deaths on the right. That percentage can easily fool people. These are the actual numbers. If you look at the respiratory deaths, these are small numbers compared to what we see afterward.

The circulatory disease, which is inflammoThrombotic disease, that I've talked about already multiple times. Look at the tens of thousands of people... the cancers, neoplasms and inflammoThrombotic disease that's going on. Alzheimers and dementia, the prion diseases and other diseases that are inflammoThrombotic diseases affecting the other organs of the body: the pancreas and the kidneys—you can see that the CDC is confirming for us that, in fact, the excess deaths that are occurring are occurring due to inflammation and blood clotting, and prion diseases. They've given us the data!

The last slide—Crimes Against Humanity Tour USA—crimesagainsthumanitytour.com is simply to point out that we're going to present all of this—Judy Mikovits, Patrick Wood, Reiner Fuellmich and I—starting April 23rd—we're going to start in Ft. Myers, Florida.

It's interesting that the two states that we're going to present twice in are Florida and Texas. But we're going to LA, Chicago, Phoenix, Houston, Minneapolis, Atlantic City and end in Dallas and Tampa. So, my home town...

Jones:

Everybody should be there.. Let me ask you this question: You deal with the science, Doctor, because you're a scientist. But politically, if you give your opinion, clearly a depopulation operation, clearly a breakdown of society operation, testing to see if they can kill us and get away with it. This is insane!

Fleming:

I have repeatedly told people that the best biological weapon, or the best weapon, isn't designed to just kill people and be done with it. It is designed to dehumanize, to demoralize, to traumatize and to take away from people the very reason that they think that they're there to live.

Jones:

So, it saps your family and everybody, and slowly kills you.

Fleming:

Absolutely! Absolutely! It has effectively done that! I mean, we have had people that have turned against each other. We have friends, family, relatives, society, states, it is...

Jones:

It is designed to bring down civilization opposed to the natural world.

Fleming:

And it's doing a great job, isn't it?

Jones:

We have a Davos group, Harari and Schwab saying "Covid is good, it brings down civilization. It brings about control, oh, it's so good. They accept the bio-metric takeover so there will be no more humans."

I play these clips and they actually saying this! Obviously, they're the villains! My---

Fleming:

And what has clearly happened here, this whole snake venom thing is that they have taken somebody who is a good man, who clearly cares about what's going on. They have....

Jones:

To me it sounds like the new "Q" thing! It's every time we're exposing something, some wild things come out, then they attach to all of us. I'm not knocking him, I had him on earlier. I'm just saying that snake venom doesn't replicate! You don't dump it in the water, obviously.

Fleming:

This is not snake venom, that's not what's going on. He's a good human being. This is not the time to get splintered!

You're running ads about products that help with immune support. These are the types of things that should be used in people prophylactically! Not medications of any sort, but the types of things to improve your immune system.

For people to recognize the truth and realize when they're being led down wrong pathways that are going nothing more than diverting their attention!

We see this all the time! This used to be a common understanding:

If you hear a news story that seems too good to be true, and it causes you to quit paying attention to what you've been paying attention to, it's probably designed to divert your attention from what you really should be thinking about!

Jones:

That's right! So, shifting gears: How is it going with the globalists overall? With their rollout? With their numbers? With the Pfizer documents? I mean, it seems like it's not going well for them.

Fleming:

Yeah! I think the reality is that this has been going on so long that there's been an opportunity to begin to expose some of what they're doing.

We're going to do that. I mean, this Crimes Against Humanity Tour is designed to point blank show you the evidence of what's been going on! Because what they're not expecting is for people to have the information and to look at the evidence and to say, "Wait a minute! Anybody can put this together!" Here's the history of it, here's the information that shows that they tried to hide this and cover it up. Here's the information that showed that they tried to fool people by diverting the attention to something else.

That's the documentary that Bobby Kennedy is going to have on his website pretty soon, and it walks through people. That video was taken under oath by a Texas court reporter. The attorney who asked me the questions—who is a real attorney in Texas and California—who has argued before and won before the Supreme Court of the United States.

Jones:

Here's the bottom line! The system is in panic mode, as the evidence comes out. What are they going to pull next, though, because they're not just going to back down in my view. Fauci is already on TV saying "lockdowns are good" and we need new ones.

So, just as a citizen, not as a scientist, what do you think they're going to pull politically?

Fleming:

They will pull something to try to cause sheer panic and chaos. The answer to letting them do that came out of the Johns Hopkins Report, just like the 2007 National Science Foundation Study. It showed that the cessation of spreading this infectious disease and people dying had to do with two things:

1. people voluntarily deciding that if they were ill staying away from other people
2. good hand washing

Those were the two things that accounted for 90% of the benefit. They will do whatever it takes, that they are allowed to get by with, as long as everyday citizens don't have the knowledge and don't stand up to do something!

The way to break the back of this is to indict these people with a real Grand Jury. I'm tired of seeing all the "pretend play grand juries" that aren't real Grand Juries. This is a matter of the citizens getting to their governors and their attorney generals and stating: We want these people indicted!

Jones:

Imagine if DeSantis got the Grand Juries impaneled and started (inaudible) it needs to happen!

Fleming:

I have asked DeSantis to go the conference; he will be my guest. I have asked for the Attorney General of Florida to join to be my guest.

Jones:

The Attorney General of Florida seems to be dialed in.

Fleming:

Let's get him there! The reality is that once they see this, once they see the people's response, they will know that they have to act and this is....

Jones:

There's no doubt that we have to act! There's no doubt this is happening!

(break in audio)

Jones:

We live in a victim society, where people wear their victimhood like sergeant stripes on their shoulders!

I am not a victim! I'm an overcomer! But I want to be honest with listeners who are patriots, who are conservative, who are Christian, who are just populists, who are ignoring the attacks you're under. And realizing that in this case you can't be like we are. We've got to realize that we are all, every person on earth, is a veteran of a biological war!

My father almost died, my mother got the sickest she ever was. I thought like there was a gorilla was on my chest for two weeks. I lost friends and family. I saw people I've known age ten years with Covid. I've seen the genetic scans confirmed that it's a bio-weapon made in a lab! So, let's admit it! I survived the bio-weapon attack of 2020! I survived Covid!

We need to make a big deal about this, and not just let them hit us and then we move on! Because the very same people that did this are planning something else big! That's why they saw political opposition worldwide build with millions marching in Germany and hundreds of thousands in D.C., New York, LA and London, in Australia and everywhere else.

They backed off for now, but they admit that they're about to come back with it. So, their whole gamut, their whole attack is about bio-medical tyranny! That's why people like Dr. Fleming are generals on the frontlines exposing this. Joe Rogan and all you listeners, all of us together, but these are precious, precious people.

I've told Joe that we think we've won this battle. That was just a part of it, we haven't won the war, yet. We've got to continue to hammer Covid, because they still have people on lockdown around the world.

What is your view on this, Dr. Fleming, and what else should people know about?

Fleming:

Well the reality is, if anybody thinks that this was all that they were working on at the time, they're sadly mistaken!

Nobody just works, no researcher just works on a single project. They are accumulating information...

Jones:

They've got a deck of cards, don't they? They've got a whole laundry list of bad stuff!

Fleming:

Most definitely! They've got Crispr technology and other things that they're rolling through here. There are patents that are out there right now that talk about being used for gene therapy, that will make Glycoprotein 120, which is part of HIV to make human cells make Glycoprotein 120, which is a prion to cause more prion diseases.

So, they have learned...

Jones:

Why is that? Is prion the perfect (inaudible) they're obsessed with it?

Fleming:

Yeah! Prion is right now the most outstanding weapon that you can make, because there really haven't been good treatments now...

Jones:

And it's self-replicating in the body, exactly! That's what prion is for those who don't know.

Fleming:

Right! So, a prion is that you have to have the genetic code to make it, so you can either get it by the virus or by the vaccinations to get it in there.

But a prion is an abnormal protein that when it comes into contact with a normal protein it changes that normal protein so that it no longer is normal and no longer works and no longer will become normal.

Jones:

So, it takes over other proteins and grows crystals that are very disruptive to the body!

Fleming:

Exactly! And we looked at blood work; we've done blood work where we've added the vaccines to it and actually saw that the red blood cells just turned pale gray once the vaccines hit the red blood cells. The reason behind that, we believe, is that red blood cells don't have nuclei to make, replace themselves, so they're not geared up to respond to RNA or DNA in these vaccines.

We know—we published on the website—when DNA or RNA is outside of your cell, it too, is a prion. It's supposed to be inside your cells just helping your cells make...

Jones:

Blood is made in the bone and is dumped out, not replicating. So, when it's hit with this, it doesn't know what to do.

Fleming:

Exactly! All it can do is that the hemoglobin that's inside those cells comes into contact with the prion and as a result the hemoglobin changes and it cancels the oxygen and turns pale!

Jones:

So, it self-destructs, basically!

Fleming:

It does! It does! It can't...

Jones:

How are these studies.... These are really messing with our whole family of white blood cells; what's happening there?

Fleming:

One of the things that we know about this is that these liquid cells are critically associated with cancer. We know that the SARS CoV-2 virus has an ability to interfere with what's called the P-53 Enzyme System, which is a system that protects you from developing cancers.

So, if you knock that out, your cells are left to just simply pick up a cancer and develop cancer without any self-control mechanism at all.

So, it effectively just depletes your ability to protect your cells!

Jones:

So, it lowers your chances and the cancer gets you!

Fleming:

Yep! And it's also been shown that these vaccines lower your ability to defend your body by decreasing T-Helper 2 Cells and Interferon and I understand that people may not know what those are, but they are involved in your body's immune response to protect yourself!

Jones:

So, this is really the perfect weapon, isn't it?

Fleming:

It is! I'm sure they're patting themselves on the back, but trust me, this is not the last thing they're working on. It wouldn't be the last thing I would be working on if I were running the program. They're not going to back down unless they're forced to back down!

The only way you back them down is to indict them, take them court, hold them criminally accountable and stop the Gain Of Function Research Project that's going on. Also, quit allowing people to take away your freedoms.

The fact that we're dealing with reversing mandates... There's no legal justification in the U.S. Constitution for these mandates to exist!

Jones:

They don't protect you, in fact, none of them are healthy. Let me ask you this: There are two schools of thought:

1. don't study your enemy, just defeat them
I disagree with that school!
2. know why they're doing it

Why does Bill Gates and the globalists want to kill everybody? Are they just psychotics? Do they think they're saving the earth? Or super, hyper-aggressive? What is their problem? Why the h--- do they want to kill everybody? What is their problem?

Fleming:

I think they have the same rationale. What was the argument by the Nazi-German physicians in WWII? *They were doing research to make humanity better!

If you ask Bill Gates, I'm pretty certain that he would tell you, "We are doing research to make humanity better."

Jones:

To do that we've got to get rid of the inferiors.

Fleming:

They have both decided that they know what a 'better humanity' is and they are going to take action, because they are playing 'God' and they believe they know what makes humanity better, and they're bent on doing that!

Jones:

Absolutely! I was going to say that! They want to play 'God'—exactly!

Fleming:

Look! They have the perfect tool to do it! This is Jurassic Park! I don't know if you remember that movie, but the reality was that the scientists in Jurassic Park were playing with something they didn't have the knowledge base to do!

There were people that were smarter than them that started it. Then on the shoulders of the individuals charged with (inaudible) and learning things. Everything about this smacked me in the face of somebody who didn't exactly know what they're doing, but they're on a learning curve.

The longer we give them to learn the more dangerous they're going to become!

Jones:

Exactly, powerful corporations given unlimited bio-knowledge and they're playing with it and getting more wild!

Fleming:

Yeah, and all of these stories have the same phenomom: the scientist in the background saying, "You shouldn't be doing this. You don't have all your ducks lined up. You don't know everything you need to be controlling. And nature has a way of overcoming what mankind wants to play with. Nature always, always wins!”

Jones:

You’re right! So, it goes back to Atlantis, whether you believe in Atlantis or not, they get god-like power and they blow themselves up.

I mean, are we not approaching that point, Dr. Fleming? We have so much power, so much understanding, but we’re still the old cavemen we were. How do we not blow ourselves up?

Fleming:

We’re going to begin my part of the presentation by pointing out to people that thanks to the Ukraine, I no longer have to convince people that the U.S. builds biological laboratories. We know that the Ukraine has 15 labs that were built during the time that Obama said to stop the Gain of Function Research.

What did we do? We went over to the Ukraine. Eight of those labs are run completely by the United States Dept. of Defense! The U.S. Dept. of Defense is running biological weapons laboratories in another country.

Jones:

And then censoring everything you talk about.

Fleming:

Exactly! Exactly! Why do you think... I’m not Putin fan, but why do you think this man... I mean, it’s a justification, if I were him, and I was sitting...

Jones:

The globalists did everything they could to manipulate the Russians into invading! Absolutely!

Dr. Fleming, always impressive:
